Award recognizes Rallybio as being among “the most promising private biotech startups”

FARMINGTON, Conn., October 2, 2018 – Rallybio, LLC, a development stage biotechnology company, today announced that it has been named by FierceBiotech as one of 2018’s Fierce 15 biotechnology companies, designating it as one of the most promising private biotechnology companies in the industry.

Rallybio was co-founded in January 2018 by Martin Mackay, PhD, Stephen Uden, MD, and Jeffrey Fryer, CPA, recognized leaders from the biopharma industry. In April, the company announced that it had secured $37.0 million in Series A funding. Rallybio’s focus is on antibodies, small molecules and engineered proteins that have strong biological rationales for addressing specific disease mechanisms.

“We are very pleased to receive the Fierce 15 award as we look to develop highly innovative therapies to address the needs of patients with severe and rare disorders,” said Dr. Mackay. “Our ongoing commitment is to focus on transformative medical breakthroughs for patients who are currently suffering without effective treatment options.”

The Fierce 15 celebrates the spirit of being “fierce” – championing innovation and creativity, even in the face of intense competition. This is FierceBiotech’s 16th annual Fierce 15 selection.
