Utilization of the U.S. federal and state net operating loss carryforwards and research and development tax credit carryforwards may be subject to an annual limitation under Section 382 and Section 383 of the Code, and corresponding provisions of state law, due to ownership changes that may have occurred previously or that could occur in the future. These ownership changes may limit the amount of carryforwards that can be utilized annually to offset future taxable income and tax liabilities. In general, an ownership change, as defined by Section 382 of the Code, results from transactions increasing the ownership of certain stockholders or public groups in the stock of a corporation by more than 5% over a three-year period.

The Company completed a Section 382 study and concluded that it underwent an ownership change as defined by the Code during the year ended December 31, 2021. The Company does not currently believe that the annual limitation will result in the expiration of any net operating losses or research and development tax credit carryforwards before utilization. Additional ownership changes which may have occurred after December 31, 2021 and any future ownership changes may limit our ability to utilize remaining tax attributes. Any carryforwards that will expire prior to utilization as a result of such additional limitations will be removed from deferred tax assets, with a corresponding reduction of the valuation allowance. Due to the existence of the valuation allowance, limitations created by future ownership changes, if any, will not impact the Company's effective tax rate.

ASC 740 addresses the determination of whether tax benefits claimed or expected to be claimed on a tax return should be recorded in the financial statements. Under ASC 740, the Company may recognize the tax benefit from an uncertain tax position only if it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained on examination by the taxing authorities, based on the technical merits of the position. The Company has no material uncertain tax positions that qualify for either recognition or disclosure in consolidated financial statements.

9. INVESTMENT IN JOINT VENTURE

In July 2025, the Company entered into the ENPP1 Purchase Agreement to sell its interest in REV102, an ENPP1 inhibitor in preclinical development for the treatment of patients with HPP, to Buyer (a subsidiary of its joint venture partner Recursion). In connection with the JV Sale, the Company received compensation in the form of Recursion common stock (which is a non-cash investing activity). The Company subsequently sold the Recursion common stock for cash proceeds of $20.0 million in the third quarter of 2025 which included $7.5 million from an upfront payment and $12.5 million from a milestone payment related to the initiation of additional preclinical studies. The Company is eligible to receive a $5.0 million milestone cash payment in connection with the initiation of dosing in a Phase 1 clinical study, as defined in the ENPP1 Purchase Agreement and low single-digit royalties on all future net sales by Recursion of products comprising or incorporating certain compounds developed by REV-I. The Company may also be eligible to receive certain payments in the event of Recursion's sale of the REV102 program.

The Company evaluated the JV Sale under ASC 860, Transfers and Servicing of Financial Assets ("ASC 860"). Based on the Company's evaluation of the JV Sale under ASC 860, the Company recognized a gain from the sale of its equity interests in REV102 of $22.4 million, based on the excess of the total net consideration allocated to the sale of the Company's equity interests (based on relative fair value) of $23.0 million over the carrying value of the equity interests sold of $0.6 million. The total net consideration of $23.0 million included cash received of $20.0 million, plus an estimated $3.0 million representing the fair value of the future milestone payments and future royalties (which is a non-cash investing activity).

The contingent consideration was initially measured at fair value using a probability based present value model of the risk-adjusted estimated cash flows, with a discount rate of 15.4%. This valuation model relied on significant unobservable inputs (level 3 inputs) based on management's estimates, which were informed by external data, judgment, and forecasts. Key assumptions included the probability of achieving the milestone and royalties, timing of cash flows, discount rate, and forecasted net revenues. The fair value of the contingent consideration is a non-recurring fair value measurement and is recorded as other assets and other assets, non-current on the Company's consolidated balance sheets and as gain on sale of joint venture and other income within the Company's consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss.

Prior to the JV Sale, the Company, through one of its wholly owned subsidiaries, had a 50% interest of the joint venture entity, REV-I. For the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024 the Company funded $1.5 million and $2.0 million, respectively, associated with the Company's commitment and its share of REV-I development costs. The Company did not provide any additional financial support outside of capital contributions to REV-I during the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024. However, in connection with the joint venture, the Company provided certain scientific and finance and accounting related support which was reimbursed by REV-I to the Company and included in other income on the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. For the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Company recorded $0.3 million and $0.7 million, respectively, related to such support. Prior to the JV Sale, the Company held a 50% interest in the joint venture and based on management's analysis, the Company was not the primary beneficiary of REV-I and accordingly, the entity was not consolidated in the Company's consolidated financial statements.

For the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Company recorded its allocable share of REV-I's losses, which totaled $0.9 million and $2.2 million, respectively, as a loss on investment in joint venture in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. After recognition of its share of losses for the period, the carrying value and maximum exposure to risk of the REV-I investment there was no carrying value remaining on the REV-I investment as of December 31, 2025 or 2024.

10. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Purchase Commitments—The Company enters contracts in the normal course of business with contract research organizations ("CROs") and other third-party vendors for clinical trials and testing and manufacturing services. These contracts generally do not contain minimum purchase commitments and are cancellable by us upon written notice. Payments that may be due upon cancellation consist of payments for services provided or expenses incurred prior to cancellation. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024 there were no amounts accrued related to termination charges.

11. NET LOSS PER COMMON SHARE

Basic and diluted loss per common share were calculated as follows:

	FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31,
	2025	2024
(in thousands except share and per share amounts)
Net loss	$ (8,978)	$ (57,775)

Net loss per common share, basic and diluted	$ (1.59)	$ (10.61)

Basic net loss per share of common stock is based on the weighted-average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the period. Pre-funded warrants to purchase 416,673 shares of common stock that were issued in connection with the November 2022 follow-on offering were included in the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively. The weighted-average number of common shares outstanding diluted for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024 both exclude approximately $0.7 million stock options and nonvested restricted stock awards and units, which were not dilutive.

12. SEGMENTS

The Company defines its segments on the basis of the way in which internally reported financial information is regularly reviewed by the CODM to analyze financial performance, make decisions, and allocate resources. The Company's CODM consists of its Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer and Chief Medical Officer. The Company manages its operations as a single operating and reportable segment and the measure of segment profit or loss is net loss. The CODM uses net loss in the budget and forecasting process and considers budget-to-actual variances on a quarterly basis when making decisions about the allocation of operating and capital resources.

The following table summarizes the information about reported segment revenues and significant segment expenses presented on the Company's consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024:

13. RESTRUCTURING

On May 2, 2025, the Company approved a workforce reduction to focus resources on the Company's lead program, RLYB116 and its preclinical development programs.

As part of this effort, the Company eliminated approximately 40% of its positions. As a result of these actions, the Company incurred charges of approximately $1.7 million of which $1.2 million was included in research and development expenses and $0.5 million was included in general and administrative expenses, with such amounts reflected in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. The charges related to the workforce reduction were cash-based expenditures related primarily to severance and benefit payments. The Company recognized all such charges during the second quarter of 2025, with such amounts reflected in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. The accrued restructuring liability is included in accrued expenses in the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2025.

In February, 2024, the Company announced a prioritization of its portfolio and a workforce reduction to focus resources primarily on the continued development of RLYB212.

As part of this effort, the Company eliminated approximately 45% of its positions. As a result of these actions, the Company incurred charges of approximately $3.3 million of which $2.0 million was included in research and development expenses and $1.3 million was included in general and administrative expenses, with such amounts reflected in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. The charges related to the workforce reduction are cash-based expenditures related primarily to severance and benefit payments. The Company recognized all such charges in the first quarter of 2024, with such amounts reflected in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss.

Substantially all restructuring payments are expected to be completed by August 2026.

The following table summarizes the restructuring accrued expense activity as of December 31, 2025:

(in thousands)	DECEMBER 31, 2025
Beginning accrued severance	$ 203
Severance incurred during the period	1,706
Severance paid and adjustments made during the period	(1,386)
Ending accrued severance	$ 523

14. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Share Price and Reverse Split

On February 24, 2025, the Company received a notification letter from The Nasdaq Stock Market LLC ("Nasdaq") Listing Qualifications Department notifying the Company that the closing bid price of the Company's shares of common stock was below the minimum closing bid price of $1.00 per share during the prior 30 consecutive business days (the "Notice"), as required for continued listing on the Nasdaq. Pursuant to Nasdaq's Listing Rules, the Company had until August 25, 2025 (the "Initial Compliance Date") to regain compliance with the minimum closing bid price requirement. As of the Initial Compliance Date, the Company had not regained compliance with the minimum closing bid price requirement.

On August 26, 2025, Nasdaq notified the Company that it had approved the Company's application to transfer its listing to the Nasdaq Capital Market and that the Company is eligible for an additional 180 calendar day period, or until February 23, 2026 (the "Second Compliance Date"), to regain compliance with the minimum closing bid price requirement. At the opening of business on August 29, 2025, the Company's common stock was transferred to the Nasdaq Capital Market, which operates in substantially the same manner as the Nasdaq Global Select Market, where it will continue to trade under the symbol "RLYB."

On January 26, 2026, the Company's stockholders approved a proposal to amend its Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation (the "Certificate of Incorporation") with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware to effect a reverse stock split of the Company's issued and outstanding common stock, par value $0.0001 at a ratio of 1-for-8. Pursuant to the Certificate of Amendment, the Reverse Stock Split became effective at 12:01 a.m., Eastern Time, on February 6, 2026 and began trading on a post-split basis under CUSIP number 75120L 209.

All common share, per share and related information included in the accompanying financial statements and footnote disclosures have been adjusted retroactively, where applicable, to reflect the Reverse Stock Split.

On February 24, 2026, Rallybio received a letter from Nasdaq notifying the Company it had regained compliance with the Nasdaq's Listing Rules and that it complies with the requirements for continued listing.

Proposed Merger with Candid Therapeutics

On March 1, 2026, Rallybio entered into the Merger Agreement with Candid, a clinical-stage biotechnology company advancing a leading portfolio of TCE therapeutics for autoimmune diseases, and the Merger Sub. Upon the terms and subject to the satisfaction of the conditions described in the Merger Agreement, Merger Sub will be merged with and into Candid, with Candid surviving as a wholly owned subsidiary of the Merger. The Merger is intended to qualify as a tax-free reorganization for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Subject to the terms and conditions of the Merger Agreement, at the Effective Time, (a) each then-outstanding share of common stock or preferred stock of Candid Share (excluding any share described in clauses (b) or (c) below and Candid Shares held by stockholders who have exercised and perfected appraisal rights for such shares) will be converted into the right to receive a number of shares of Rallybio Common Stock, par value $0.0001 per share, calculated in accordance with the Exchange Ratio, (b) each Candid Share issued in the Concurrent Financing will be converted into the right to receive a number of shares of Rallybio Common Stock calculated in accordance with the Concurrent Financing Exchange Ratio, (c) any Candid Shares held as treasury shares or held or owned by Rallybio, Merger Sub or any subsidiary of Rallybio or Candid immediately prior to the Effective Time will be canceled and shall cease to exist, and no consideration shall be delivered in exchange therefor. Each then-outstanding option to purchase Candid Shares will be converted into an option to purchase Rallybio Common Stock, subject to adjustment as set forth in the Merger Agreement.

Concurrently with the execution and delivery of the Merger Agreement, certain investors entered into a subscription agreement with Candid, pursuant to which such investors have agreed to purchase, immediately prior to the Merger, shares of Candid common stock representing an aggregate commitment of approximately $505.5 million in the Concurrent Financing. The shares of Candid common stock that are issued in the Concurrent Financing will be or will have the right to be, respectively, converted into shares of Rallybio common stock in the Merger.

Under the Exchange Ratio and Concurrent Financing Exchange Ratio formulas in the Merger Agreement, immediately after the Closing, on a pro forma basis and based upon the number of shares of Rallybio Common Stock expected to be issued in connection with the Merger, pre-Merger equityholders of Candid (other than investors in the Concurrent Financing) are expected to own approximately 57.55% of the combined company, pre-Merger equityholders of Rallybio are expected to own approximately 3.65% of the combined company and the Investors in the Concurrent Financing are expected to own approximately 38.80% of the combined company (assuming proceeds from the Concurrent Financing of $505.5 million), in each case, calculated on a fully diluted basis, using the treasury stock method, and subject to certain assumptions, including (i) a valuation for Rallybio of $47.5 million (assuming Rallybio has net cash ("Rallybio Net Cash") of $37.5 million as of the closing of the Merger (the "Closing" and such date, the "Closing Date")), (ii) a fixed valuation for Candid of $750.0 million, and (iii) the relative capitalization of Rallybio and Candid. The percentage of the combined company that each party's equity holders will own following the Closing is subject to certain adjustments as described in the Merger Agreement, including the amount of the final Rallybio Net Cash at Closing.

Immediately prior to the Effective Time, Rallybio and a rights agent are expected to enter into the CVR Agreement, pursuant to which holders of record of certain Rallybio securities as of the close of business on the last business day prior to the day on which the Effective Time occurs will receive one contingent value right (each, a "CVR") for each outstanding share of Rallybio Common Stock, prefunded warrant, Rallybio restricted stock unit or In the Money Parent Option (as defined in the CVR Agreement) held as of such date. Pursuant to the CVR Agreement, each CVR holder will be entitled to receive their pro rata share of (i) all of the net proceeds (including cash the value of stock to the extent listed on a national exchange, at the time of disposition), if any, received by Rallybio as a result of payments made to Rallybio of any upfront, milestone, royalty and other payments received under any disposition agreement related to Rallybio's Legacy Assets, and (ii) all of the cash proceeds, if any, received from Recursion under the Membership Interest Purchase Agreement, dated July 8, 2025, by and among Recursion, Exscientia Ventures I, Inc., Rallybio Corporation and Rallybio IPB, LLC. For a period of one year after the Closing Date, Rallybio will use commercially reasonable efforts to effect the disposition of the Legacy Assets. Such net proceeds will be subject to certain permitted deductions, including for applicable tax payments, certain expenses incurred or other liabilities borne by Rallybio or its affiliates in respect of the Legacy Assets, and losses incurred by Rallybio or its affiliates due to a third-party proceeding in connection with such disposition.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the stockholders and the Board of Directors of Candid Therapeutics, Inc.

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Candid Therapeutics, Inc. and subsidiaries (the "Company") as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the related consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss, convertible preferred stock and stockholders' deficit, and cash flows, for the year ended December 31, 2025, and the period from May 1, 2024 (inception) to December 31, 2024, and the related notes (collectively referred to as the "financial statements"). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2025, and period from May 1, 2024 (inception) to December 31, 2024, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB and in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. As part of our audits, we are required to obtain an understanding of internal control over financial reporting but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion.

Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Candid Therapeutics, Inc.
Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

1. Organization and Basis of PresentationDescription of Business

Candid Therapeutics, Inc. (including its subsidiaries, the "Company") was incorporated in the State of Delaware on May 1, 2024 and is based in San Diego, California. The Company is a global clinical-stage biotechnology company focused on building the leading portfolio of T cell engager therapeutics to treat autoimmune diseases.

Forward Stock Split

On August 19, 2024, the Company effected a 55.1-for-1 forward split of shares of the Company's common stock (the "Forward Stock Split"). The par value of the common stock was not adjusted as a result of the Forward Stock Split. The accompanying financial statements and notes to the financial statements give retroactive effect to the Forward Stock Split for the periods presented.

Basis of Presentation

On August 19, 2024, the Company entered into an agreement and plan of merger and reorganization (the "2024 Merger") (See Note 5) whereby Vignette Bio, Inc. ("Vignette") and TRC 2004, Inc. ("TRC") became wholly owned subsidiaries of Candid Therapeutics, Inc. until Vignette and TRC were merged into Candid Therapeutics, Inc. on December 27, 2024. On January 22, 2025, Candid Therapeutics, Inc. established Shanghai Tandi Biotechnology Co., Ltd. ("Tandi"), a Shanghai Limited Liability Company, as a wholly owned foreign subsidiary located in Shanghai, China, formed for the primary purpose of conducting clinical trials in China. The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Candid Therapeutics, Inc. for the periods presented, the accounts of Vignette and TRC from August 19, 2024 through December 27, 2024, and the accounts of Tandi from formation through December 31, 2025. All intercompany balances were eliminated in consolidation.

Transactions with Related Parties

At the time of the 2024 Merger, Ken Song, M.D., the Company's President and Chief Executive Officer, was a member of the board of directors of Vignette. In addition, each of Vignette and TRC had a board member in common with the Company. As a result, the 2024 Merger and related in-process research and development ("IPR&D") expense of $153.5 million are related party transactions (See Note 5). In June 2024, the Company issued a $0.2 million convertible promissory note (the "Song Note") to a trust for which Ken Song, M.D. is a trustee (See Note 7) and issued a $3.0 million promissory note (the "Foresite Note") to Foresite Capital Fund VI, L.P., who, along with its affiliates (together "Foresite"), were principal owners of the Company at the time of repayment of the Foresite Note (See Note 7).

Liquidity and Capital Resources

From its inception to December 31, 2025, the Company has devoted substantially all its resources and efforts to organizing and staffing the Company, business planning, raising capital, identifying assets, engaging in strategic transactions and licensing agreements, establishing and protecting its intellectual property portfolio, preparing for and conducting its ongoing and planned preclinical studies and preparing for and conducting its ongoing and planned clinical trials, advancing arrangements with third parties for the manufacture of its drug candidates and component materials, and providing general and administrative support for these operations. The Company has incurred net losses since inception and had an accumulated deficit of $266.5 million as of December 31, 2025. From inception to December 31, 2025, the Company has funded its operations primarily with the net proceeds from the issuance of shares of its convertible preferred stock, the issuance of its capital stock in connection with the 2024 Merger and income from investment securities. The Company expects to incur substantial operating losses for the foreseeable future and will need to obtain additional financing in order to initiate and complete clinical trials and launch and commercialize any drug candidates for which it receives regulatory approval. The Company plans to finance its cash needs through public or private equity or debt financings or other sources. If the Company is not able to secure adequate additional funding, the Company may be forced to make reductions in spending, extend payment terms with suppliers, liquidate assets where possible, or suspend or curtail planned programs. Any of these actions could materially harm the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. There can be no assurance that such financing will be available or will be at terms acceptable to the Company.

As of December 31, 2025, the Company had cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments of $223.3 million which it believes will be sufficient to fund its planned operations for a period of at least 12 months from the date of issuance of these consolidated financial statements.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting PoliciesUse of Estimates

The Company's financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). The preparation of the Company's financial statements requires it to make estimates and assumptions that impact the reported amounts of assets, liabilities and expenses and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities in the Company's consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes. The most significant estimates in the Company's consolidated financial statements relate to accruals for research and development expenses, stock-based compensation and the determination of the fair value of the Company's common and preferred stock (See "Fair Value Measurements" below). These estimates and assumptions are based on current facts, historical experience and various other factors believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities and the recording of expenses that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ materially and adversely from these estimates. To the extent there are material differences between the estimates and actual results, the Company's future results of operations will be affected.

Fair Value Measurements

The accounting guidance defines fair value, establishes a consistent framework for measuring fair value and expands disclosure for each major asset and liability category measured at fair value on either a recurring or non-recurring basis. Fair value is defined as an exit price, representing the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants. As such, fair value is a market-based measurement that should be determined based on assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability. As a basis for considering such assumptions, the accounting guidance establishes a three-tier fair value hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs used in measuring fair value as follows:

- Level 1: Observable inputs such as quoted prices in active markets.
- Level 2: Inputs, other than the quoted prices in active markets that are observable either directly or indirectly.
- Level 3: Unobservable inputs in which there is little or no market data, which require the reporting entity to develop its own assumptions.

The carrying value of the Company's financial instruments, including cash, restricted cash, prepaid and other current assets, accounts payable and accrued expenses and other current liabilities are considered to be representative of their respective fair values due to the short-term nature of those instruments.

Financial assets measured at fair value on a recurring basis consist of marketable securities. The fair value of marketable securities is based upon market prices quoted on the last day of the fiscal period or other observable market inputs. The Company obtains pricing information from its investment manager and generally determines the fair value of investment securities using standard observable inputs, including reported trades, broker/dealer quotes, bids and/or offers.

As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Company had no financial liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis. None of the Company's non-financial assets or liabilities are recorded at fair value on a non-recurring basis. No transfers between levels have occurred during the periods presented.

The following tables summarize the Company's financial assets measured at fair value on a recurring basis (in thousands):

As further described in Note 7, the Company issued the Song Note in June 2024. The Company elected the fair value option for the Song Note. The initial fair value was estimated using probability-weighted scenarios considering the possibility of conversion upon a qualified financing event, repayment at maturity, and a dissolution scenario. Outstanding principal and interest on the Song Note was converted into 339,105 shares of the Company's Series B convertible preferred stock on August 19, 2024, which had a fair value of $0.4 million at the time of conversion. As a result, during 2024, the Company recognized a change in fair value of convertible promissory note—related party of $0.2 million in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss related to the change in fair value from the issuance date to its settlement in August 2024. The fair value of the Song Note upon settlement was based on the fair value of the Series B convertible preferred stock issued to the noteholder.

In August 2024, in connection with the 2024 Merger described in Note 5, the Company issued capital stock as consideration in the transaction. The Company estimated the fair value of its capital stock using methodologies, approaches and assumptions consistent with the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Accounting and Valuation Guide: Valuation of Privately Held Company Equity Securities Issued as Compensation (the "Practice Aid"). The Practice Aid prescribes several valuation approaches for setting the value of an enterprise, such as the cost, income and market approaches, and various methodologies for allocating the value of an enterprise to its capital stock. After giving consideration to its Series B preferred stock financing in August 2024 with new investors, and a potential initial public offering ("IPO"), the Company concluded a hybrid method utilizing both IPO and alternative exit scenarios was most appropriate. The hybrid method is useful when certain discrete future outcomes can be predicted, but also accounts for uncertainty regarding the timing or likelihood of specific alternative exit events. The equity value in the IPO scenario was determined using the fully diluted backsolve method, which assumes that all shares in the Company are equal to the most recent round of financing on a fully diluted basis. The equity value in the alternative exit scenario was determined using the backsolve method that considers the rights and preferences of each class of equity and solving for the total market value of invested capital that is consistent with a recent transaction in the Company's own securities. The equity value in the alternative exit scenario was allocated using the option pricing method, whereby shares are valued by creating a series of call options with exercise prices based on the liquidation preferences and conversion terms of each equity class. The values of the preferred and common stock are inferred by analyzing these options.

There are significant judgments, assumptions and estimates inherent in the determination of the fair value of the Company's capital stock. These include determination of a valuation method and selection of the possible outcomes available to the Company, including the determination of timing and expected future investment returns for such scenarios. The related judgments, assumptions and estimates are highly interrelated and changes in any one assumption could necessitate changes in another. In particular, any changes in the probability of a particular outcome would require a related change to the probability of another outcome.

The following table provides a reconciliation of all liabilities measured at fair value using Level 3 significant unobservable inputs (in thousands):

	Convertible Promissory Note—Related Party
Balance at May 1, 2024 (inception)	$ —
Issuance of convertible promissory note	200
Change in fair value	207
Settlement of convertible promissory note	(407)
Balance at December 31, 2024	$ —

The Company had no liabilities measured at fair value using Level 3 significant unobservable inputs during the year ended December 31, 2025.

Cash, Cash Equivalents and Restricted Cash

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. Cash and cash equivalents include cash in readily available checking accounts and money market funds.

As of December 31, 2025, the Company had no restricted cash. As of December 31, 2024, restricted cash consisted of a money market account held as collateral in connection with the Company's corporate credit cards. Cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash presented in the accompanying consolidated statements of cash flows consisted of the following (in thousands):

Cash and cash equivalents	$20,876	$75,289
Restricted cash included in prepaid and other current assets	—	103
Cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash	$20,876	$75,392

Marketable Securities

The Company's marketable securities primarily consist of money market funds, corporate debt securities and U.S. treasury securities classified within cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments depending on their maturity at the time of purchase. Short-term investments are marketable securities with maturities greater than three months from the date of purchase. The Company classifies marketable securities as available-for-sale, as the sale of such investments may be required prior to maturity to implement management strategies, and therefore has classified all marketable securities with maturity dates beyond three months at the date of purchase as current assets in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.

Candid Therapeutics, Inc.

Marketable securities classified as available-for-sale securities are carried in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets at fair value with the unrealized gains and losses, net of tax, if any, included in accumulated other comprehensive loss as a component of stockholders' deficit until realized. The cost of marketable securities is adjusted for amortization of premiums or accretion of discounts to maturity, and such amortization or accretion is included in interest income as an adjustment to yield over the life of the instrument. Interest income is recognized in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss when earned. Realized gains and losses from the sale of marketable securities are determined on a specific identification basis and included in interest income in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss.

The following tables summarize available-for-sale securities (in thousands):

As of December 31, 2025

The amortized cost and estimated fair value in the tables above excludes $1.0 million of accrued interest receivable included in prepaid expenses and other current assets in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets as of each December 31, 2025 and 2024.

For available-for-sale securities in an unrealized loss position, the Company first assesses whether it intends to sell, or if it is more likely than not that it will be required to sell, the security before recovery of its amortized cost basis. If either of the criteria regarding intent or requirement to sell is met, the security's amortized cost basis is written down to fair value through earnings. For available-for-sale securities that do not meet the aforementioned criteria, the Company evaluates whether the decline in fair value has resulted from credit losses or other factors. In making this assessment, the Company considers the severity of the impairment, any changes in interest rates, market conditions, changes to the underlying credit ratings and forecasted recovery, among other factors. The credit-related portion of unrealized losses, and any subsequent improvements, are recorded in interest income through an allowance account. Any impairment that has not been recorded through an allowance for credit losses is included in other comprehensive loss in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. For the year ended December 31, 2025 and the period from May 1, 2024 (inception) to December 31, 2024, the Company did not recognize any impairment or realized gains or losses on sales of investments, and the Company did not record an allowance for, or recognize, any expected credit losses.

As of December 31, 2025, the Company had no available-for-sale debt securities in a gross unrealized loss position. As of December 31, 2024, the Company had available-for-sale debt securities with a fair market value of $118.6 million in a gross unrealized loss position of $0.2 million. None of these securities had been in a continuous loss position for greater than 12 months.

Concentrations of Credit Risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to significant concentrations of credit risk consist primarily of cash, cash equivalents, and short-term investments. The Company maintains deposits in federally insured financial institutions in excess of federally insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts and management believes that the Company is not exposed to significant credit risk due to the financial position of the depository institutions in which those deposits are held.

Risks and Uncertainties

The Company is subject to a number of risks similar to other biopharmaceutical companies, including but not limited to, dependency on the clinical and commercial success of its drug candidates, ability to obtain regulatory approval of its drug candidates, uncertainty of broad adoption of its approved drugs, if any, by physicians and patients, manufacturing, the need to obtain adequate additional funding, significant competition, and protection of its intellectual property portfolio.

Property and Equipment, Net

Property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation and amortization are calculated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of the related assets, generally three to five years. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the shorter of the estimated useful life of the assets or the remaining lease term. Repairs and maintenance costs are charged to expense as incurred.

Leases

At the inception of a contractual arrangement, the Company determines whether the contract contains a lease by assessing whether there is an identified asset and whether the contract conveys the right to control the use of the identified asset in exchange for consideration over a period of time. Lease terms are determined at the commencement date by considering whether renewal options and termination options are reasonably assured of exercise. For its long-term operating leases, the Company recognizes a lease liability and a right-of-use ("ROU") asset on its consolidated balance sheets and recognizes lease expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term. The lease liability is determined as the present value of future lease payments using the discount rate implicit in the lease or, if the implicit rate is not readily determinable, an estimate of the Company's incremental borrowing rate. The ROU asset is based on the lease liability, adjusted for any prepaid or deferred rent. The Company aggregates all lease and non-lease components for each class of underlying assets into a single lease component and variable charges for common area maintenance and other variable costs are recognized as expense as incurred. The Company has elected to not recognize a lease liability or ROU asset in connection with short-term operating leases and recognizes lease expense for short-term operating leases on a straight-line basis over the lease term. The Company did not have any financing leases from inception to December 31, 2025.

Candid Therapeutics, Inc.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

The Company reviews long-lived assets, such as property and equipment, for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset to the future undiscounted net cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured as the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the fair value of the assets. Fair value would be assessed using discounted cash flows or other appropriate measures of fair value. The Company has not recognized any impairment losses for the period from inception to December 31, 2025.

Deferred Offering Costs

During 2025 and 2024, the Company incurred deferred offering costs consisting of legal, accounting and other fees and costs directly attributable to its planned IPO. During the year ended December 31, 2025, the Company expensed $1.6 million of previously deferred IPO costs, included as a component of general and administrative expense.

Business Combinations and Asset Acquisitions

In accordance with Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 805, Business Combinations ("ASC 805"), upon an acquisition, the Company performs an initial test to determine whether substantially all of the fair value of the gross assets transferred is concentrated in a single identifiable asset or a group of similar identifiable assets, such that the acquisition would represent an asset acquisition rather than a business combination. If that test indicates that the set of assets and activities is a business, the Company then performs a second test to evaluate whether the assets and activities transferred include inputs and substantive processes that together, significantly contribute to the ability to create outputs, which would constitute a business. If the result of the second test suggests that the acquired assets and activities constitute a business, the Company accounts for the transaction as a business combination.

For transactions accounted for as business combinations, the Company allocates the fair value of acquisition consideration to the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their estimated fair values. The excess of the fair value of acquisition consideration over the fair value of acquired identifiable assets and liabilities assumed is recognized as goodwill. During the measurement period of a business combination, which is not to exceed one year, if new information is obtained about facts and circumstances that existed as of the acquisition date, changes in the estimated fair values of the net assets recorded may change the amount of the purchase price allocable to the excess over the fair value of assets acquired. Upon the conclusion of the measurement period, any subsequent adjustments are recorded to earnings. Acquisition-related costs in a business combination are expensed as incurred.

Acquisitions of assets or a group of assets that do not meet the definition of a business are accounted for as asset acquisitions, with a cost accumulation model used to determine the cost of the acquisition. For an asset acquisition, the fair value of acquisition consideration is allocated to the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed at cost on a relative fair value basis. If a single asset is acquired, the entire cost is attributed to the acquired asset. In addition, for such asset acquisitions, no goodwill is recognized, acquisition-related costs are capitalized, and any associated contingent consideration is recorded when the underlying contingencies have been resolved. Common stock and convertible preferred stock issued as consideration in an acquisition of assets are measured based on the acquisition date fair value of the equity interests. Intangible assets that are acquired in an asset acquisition for use in research and development activities that have an alternative future use are capitalized as IPR&D. Acquired IPR&D that has no alternative future use is expensed immediately. Cash payments for the acquisition of IPR&D are reported as cash outflows for investing activities in the statements of cash flows.

Convertible Preferred Stock

The Company has classified its convertible preferred stock outside of stockholders' deficit on the accompanying consolidated balance sheets in accordance with authoritative guidance for the classification and measurement of potentially redeemable securities whose redemption is based upon certain change in control events outside of the Company's control, including liquidation, sale or transfer of the Company. For convertible preferred stock issued in exchange for cash proceeds, the Company records the convertible preferred stock at the issuance price, net of related issuance costs, discounts, and proceeds allocated to other instruments issued together with the convertible preferred stock. The Company subsequently measures convertible preferred stock that is currently redeemable or probable of becoming redeemable in the future by accreting changes in the redemption value using the interest method from the date of issuance to the earliest date the redemption feature can be exercised. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, no classes of convertible preferred stock were redeemable or probable of becoming redeemable. See Note 8 for further information.

Term Debt

Non-convertible term debt instruments are initially recognized at cash proceeds received, net of issuance costs, and are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense is recognized based on the effective interest rate of the respective instruments in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss over the term of the debt. See Note 7.

Convertible Debt

The Company has elected the fair value option for accounting for its convertible debt instruments pursuant to ASC 825, Financial Instruments. Under the fair value option, convertible debt is initially recognized at fair value, with issuance costs expensed as incurred. Subsequent changes in the fair value of the convertible debt are recognized in other comprehensive income (loss) or nonoperating income (loss) depending on whether the change is related to instrument specific credit risk or base market risk, respectively. See Note 7.

Research and Development Costs

All costs of research and development are expensed in the period incurred. Research and development costs primarily consist of salaries and related expenses for personnel, stock-based compensation, outside service providers, facilities costs, fees paid to consultants and other professional services, external research and development costs incurred under agreements with contract research, development and manufacturing organizations, supplies used in research and development and facilities, depreciation and other allocated expenses. Payments made prior to the receipt of goods or services to be used in research and development are capitalized until the related goods are delivered or services performed.

The Company has entered into various research and development contracts with research organizations and other companies. Payments for these activities are based on the terms of the individual agreements, which may differ from the pattern of costs incurred, and payments made in advance of performance are presented in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets as prepaid expenses. The Company records accruals for estimated costs incurred for ongoing research and development activities. When evaluating the adequacy of the accrued liabilities, the Company analyzes progress of the services, including the phase or completion of events, invoices received and contracted costs. Significant judgments and estimates may be made in determining the prepaid or accrued balances at the end of any reporting period. Actual results could differ from the Company's estimates. Historically, there have been no material differences between the Company's estimates and the amounts actually incurred.

Patent Costs

Costs related to filing and pursuing patent applications are recorded as general and administrative expenses and expensed as incurred since recoverability of such expenditures is uncertain.

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company measures its stock-based awards based on the estimated grant date fair value of the awards. For stock-based awards with only service conditions, compensation expense is recognized over the requisite service period using the straight-line method. For stock-based awards that include performance conditions, compensation expense is not recognized until the performance condition is probable to occur. The Company estimates the fair value of restricted common stock based on the fair value of the underlying common stock and the fair value of stock options using the Black-Scholes option pricing model. The Company accounts for forfeitures of stock-based awards as they occur.

Candid Therapeutics, Inc.Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements - (Continued)*Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes under the asset and liability method, which requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been included in the consolidated financial statements. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined on the basis of the differences between the consolidated financial statements and tax basis of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates in effect for the year in which the differences are expected to reverse. The effect of a change in tax rates on deferred tax assets and liabilities is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date.

The Company recognizes net deferred tax assets to the extent that the Company believes these assets are more likely than not to be realized. In making such a determination, management considers all available positive and negative evidence, including future reversals of existing taxable temporary differences, projected future taxable income, tax-planning strategies, and results of recent operations. If management determines that the Company would be able to realize its deferred tax assets in the future in excess of their net recorded amount, management would make an adjustment to the deferred tax asset valuation allowance, which would reduce the provision for income taxes.

The Company records uncertain tax positions on the basis of a two-step process whereby (i) management determines whether it is more likely than not that the tax positions will be sustained on the basis of the technical merits of the position and (ii) for those tax positions that meet the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold, management recognizes the largest amount of tax benefit that is more than 50 percent likely to be realized upon ultimate settlement with the related tax authority.

Comprehensive Loss

Comprehensive loss is defined as a change in equity during a period from transactions and other events and circumstances from non-owner sources. The only component of other comprehensive loss is unrealized losses on investment securities. Comprehensive losses have been reflected in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss and as a separate component in the consolidated statements of convertible preferred stock and stockholders' deficit.

Segment Reporting

Operating segments are identified as components of an enterprise about which separate discrete financial information is available for evaluation by the chief operating decision-maker ("CODM") in making decisions regarding resource allocation and assessing performance. The Company operates and manages its business as a single operating segment and reportable segment, which is engaged in the research and development of novel therapies for autoimmune diseases. The Company's CODM is its President and Chief Executive Officer and the CODM reviews financial information on a consolidated basis for purposes of allocating resources and evaluating financial performance. See Note 10 for additional information.

Net Loss Per Share

Basic net loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss by the weighted-average number of the Company's common shares outstanding for the period, without consideration for potentially dilutive securities. The Company has excluded 56,011,955 and 70,624,729 weighted-average unvested shares from the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding for the year ended December 31, 2025 and the period from May 1, 2024 (inception) to December 31, 2024, respectively. Diluted net loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss attributable to common stockholders by the weighted-average number of common shares and dilutive common stock equivalents outstanding for the period determined using the treasury-stock and if-converted methods. Dilutive common stock equivalents are comprised of convertible preferred stock, unvested restricted common stock subject to repurchase and options outstanding under the Company's equity incentive plan. For all periods presented, there is no difference in the number of shares used to calculate basic and diluted shares outstanding as inclusion of the potentially dilutive securities would be anti-dilutive.

Candid Therapeutics, Inc.

Potentially dilutive securities not included in the calculation of diluted net loss per share, because to do so would be anti-dilutive, were as follows (in common stock equivalent shares):

	December 31,
Convertible preferred stock outstanding	367,005,749	367,005,749
Common stock options	33,791,041	26,033,750
Unvested restricted common stock	42,097,225	74,975,609

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU No. 2023-09, Income Taxes (Topics 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures ("ASU No. 2023-09"), which requires disaggregated information about a reporting entity's effective tax rate reconciliation as well as information on income taxes paid. The Company early adopted this standard prospectively for the period ended December 31, 2025. The adoption impacted the Company's income tax disclosures only and did not otherwise impact the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In November 2024, the FASB issued ASU No. 2024-03, Income Statement - Reporting Comprehensive Income Expense Disaggregation Disclosures (Subtopic 220-40): Disaggregation of Income Statement Expenses ("ASU No. 2024-03") which requires disaggregated disclosure of income statement expenses for public business entities. The ASU does not change the expense captions an entity presents on the face of the income statement; rather, it requires disaggregation of certain expense captions into specified categories in disclosures within the footnotes to the financial statements. Entities are required to apply the guidance prospectively and may apply it retrospectively. ASU No. 2024-03 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2027, with early adoption permitted. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of ASU No. 2024-03 on its consolidated financial statements and related disclosures.

In May 2025, the FASB issued ASU No. 2025-03, Business Combinations (Topic 805) and Consolidation (Topic 810): Determining the Accounting Acquirer in the Acquisition of a Variable Interest Entity ("ASU No. 2025-03"), which revises current guidance for determining the accounting acquirer for a transaction effected primarily by exchanging equity interests in which the legal acquiree is a variable interest entity that meets the definition of a business. The amendments require that an entity consider the same factors that are currently required for determining which entity is the accounting acquirer in other acquisition transactions. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of ASU No. 2025-03 and intends to adopt this ASU on a prospective basis as of January 1, 2026.

The Company does not believe that any other recently issued, but not yet effective accounting pronouncements, if adopted, would have a material effect on its consolidated financial statements.

Operating Leases

In June 2024, the Company entered into a noncancelable operating lease for office space for its headquarters in San Diego, California. The lease commenced in July 2024 and expires in September 2028, with a Company option to extend the lease for an additional two years. The option to extend was not considered in the determination of the right-of-use asset or lease liability as the Company did not consider it reasonably certain that it would exercise such option. The lease requires a security deposit and has certain rent escalations and additional charges for common area maintenance and other costs.

In March 2025, the Company entered into a noncancelable operating lease for office space in Shanghai, China. The lease commenced in March 2025 and expires in April 2028. The lease requires a security deposit and has certain rent escalations and additional charges for common area maintenance and other costs.

5. Merger with Related Parties

On August 19, 2024, the Company, TRC and Vignette (TRC and Vignette together the "Acquirees") executed an Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization (the "2024 Merger Agreement"), pursuant to which the Company acquired each of the Acquirees (the "Acquisitions"). The total consideration transferred in the Acquisitions consisted entirely of shares of the Company as follows:

- TRC: 89,999,985 shares of Series A-2 convertible preferred stock and 54,999,985 shares of common stock, with an aggregate fair value of $140.5 million.
- Vignette: 105,000,000 shares of Series A-1 convertible preferred stock and 15,000,000 shares of common stock, with an aggregate fair value of $130.0 million.

The Company accounted for the Acquisitions as asset acquisitions. The Company incurred transaction costs of $0.7 million related to the Acquisitions, $0.3 million of which was settled in shares of the Company's common stock.

The consideration allocated to IPR&D was expensed in the Company's consolidated statement of operations and comprehensive loss for the period from May 1, 2024 (inception) to December 31, 2024 as the acquired IPR&D has no alternative future use.

As part of the Acquisitions, the Company became party to certain license and collaboration agreements previously entered into by the Acquirees that may require future payments to the intellectual property owners upon the achievement of certain development, regulatory, and commercial milestone events. Any potential future milestone payments will be accrued when the related contingency is resolved, and the milestone consideration becomes payable. Refer to Note 6 for further disclosure and information regarding the license and collaboration agreements.

6. License and Collaboration Agreements

License and Collaboration Agreement with Shanghai EpimAb Biotherapeutics Co., Ltd.

In August 2024, in connection with the 2024 Merger, the Company became party to a license and collaboration agreement (the "EpimAb License Agreement") with Shanghai EpimAb Biotherapeutics Co., Ltd. ("EpimAb").

Under the EpimAb License Agreement, the Company has a royalty-bearing, sublicensable license, under certain know-how and patent rights controlled by EpimAb relating to BCMA/CD3 bi-specific antibodies, to research, develop, manufacture, use, sell, offer for sale, import and otherwise commercialize cizutamig and certain derivatives of cizutamig that are also BCMAxCD3 bispecific antibodies, and products containing cizutamig or such derivatives ("Cizutamig Licensed Products") everywhere in the world except for Greater China (which includes Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan) (the "Cizutamig Licensed Territory") for the diagnosis, treatment or prevention of all human and non-human diseases (the "Cizutamig Field"). The Company's license is exclusive with respect to certain licensed patents and claims of certain other licensed patents that specifically cover any BCMAxCD3 bispecific antibody as a whole or that cover certain binding sequences and licensed know-how that is related to such licensed patents or licensed patent claims; it is non-exclusive with respect to all other licensed patent claims and licensed know-how. The Company also has a non-exclusive license from EpimAb (a) to manufacture cizutamig and Cizutamig Licensed Products in Greater China (including Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan) (the "EpimAb Territory") solely for use in the Cizutamig Licensed Territory and (b) to research and develop Cizutamig Licensed Products in the Cizutamig Field in the EpimAb Territory solely for the purpose of obtaining regulatory approval of Cizutamig Licensed Products in the Cizutamig Licensed Territory.

The Company is responsible, at its own cost, for the development, manufacture and commercialization of Cizutamig Licensed Products in the Cizutamig Field in the Cizutamig Licensed Territory. The Company is obligated to use commercially reasonable efforts to develop at least one Cizutamig Licensed Product in the Cizutamig Field in the

Cizutamig Licensed Territory; provided, however, that this obligation will expire upon achievement of a certain development milestone, or upon the Company's election to make a certain milestone payment early.

The Company is obligated to pay EpimAb up to $95.0 million in development and regulatory milestone payments, up to $480.0 million in commercial milestone payments, and tiered single-digit royalties on net sales of Cizutamig Licensed Products, none of which were due and payable as of December 31, 2025. The royalty payments are subject to reduction under certain customary circumstances. On a Cizutamig Licensed Product-by-Cizutamig Licensed Product and country-by-country basis, the Company's obligation to pay EpimAb royalties commences on the first commercial sale of such Cizutamig Licensed Product in the applicable country until the latest to occur of (a) the last-to-expire valid claim within the licensed patents covering such Cizutamig Licensed Product in the applicable country, (b) the expiration of the last-to-expire regulatory exclusivity for such Cizutamig Licensed Product in the applicable country and (c) twelve (12) years after the first commercial sale of such Cizutamig Licensed Product in the applicable country.

The EpimAb License Agreement will remain in effect on a Cizutamig Licensed Product-by-Cizutamig Licensed Product and country-by-country basis until expiration of all royalty payment obligations, unless it is earlier terminated. Following expiration of the EpimAb License Agreement, the licenses granted to the Company become non-exclusive, perpetual, irrevocable and fully paid-up. The Company may terminate the EpimAb License Agreement for convenience upon advance written notice to EpimAb. Either party may terminate the EpimAb License Agreement for the other party's uncured material breach; provided, however, that this termination right will not be available to either party after achievement of a certain development milestone, or upon the Company's election to make a certain milestone payment early. Either party may terminate the EpimAb License Agreement in connection with the insolvency of the other party. EpimAb may terminate the EpimAb License Agreement if the Company challenges a licensed patent, subject to a specified notice and cure period. Upon termination of the EpimAb License Agreement, the Company is subject to certain post-termination obligations to enable EpimAb to be able to exploit Cizutamig Licensed Products in the Cizutamig Field on a worldwide basis.

License Agreement with Genor Biopharma Co. Ltd.

In August 2024, in connection with the 2024 Merger, and as amended in March 2025, the Company became party to a license agreement (the "Genor License Agreement") with Genor Biopharma Co Ltd. ("Genor").

Under the Genor License Agreement, the Company has an exclusive, royalty-bearing, sublicensable license under certain know-how and patent rights controlled by Genor (including certain intellectual property in-licensed by Genor) relating to bispecific antibodies and heteromultimeric proteins ("Licensed IP") to develop, use, manufacture, commercialize and otherwise exploit CND261 (formerly known as GB261), certain derivatives of CND261 that are also CD20xCD3 bispecific antibodies, and products containing CND261 or such derivatives ("CND261 Licensed Products") everywhere in the world except for Mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan (the "CND261 Licensed Territory") for the diagnosis, treatment or prevention of disease in humans and animals (the "CND261 Field"). The Company also received a non-exclusive, sublicensable license under the Licensed IP in Mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan (the "Genor Territory") to manufacture CND261 Licensed Products in the Genor Territory and to conduct non-clinical and certain clinical development of CND261 Licensed Products in the Genor Territory in the CND261 Field, solely for the purposes of supporting exploitation of CND261 Licensed Products in the CND261 Field in the CND261 Licensed Territory. In addition, the Company has a right of first negotiation if Genor decides to commence negotiations with one or more third parties to grant a license to develop, use, manufacture, commercialize or otherwise exploit CND261 Licensed Products in the CND261 Field in the Genor Territory.

The Company is responsible, at its own cost, for the development, manufacture and commercialization of CND261 Licensed Products in the CND261 Field in the CND261 Licensed Territory. The Company is obligated to use commercially reasonable efforts to develop and obtain regulatory approval for at least one CND261 Licensed Product in the CND261 Field in the United States and in at least one of Canada, the United Kingdom, France, Germany, Spain or Italy ("Major Market Countries). The Company is also obligated to use commercially reasonable efforts to commercialize at least one CND261 Licensed Product in the United States or any Major Market Country, in which regulatory approval has been obtained for such product. The Company is also obligated to use commercially reasonable efforts to conduct investigator-initiated trial(s) and Phase I clinical trial(s) of a CND261 Licensed Product in the Genor Territory for the indication of autoimmune and inflammatory diseases.

During 2025 and 2024, the Company paid Genor $4.5 million and $2.0 million, respectively, upon achievement of certain milestones specified in the Genor License Agreement, and expensed such amounts as IPR&D as there is no alternative future use for the Licensed IP.

As of December 31, 2025, the Company is also obligated to pay Genor up to $138.5 million in development and regulatory milestone payments, up to $300.0 million in commercial milestone payments, tiered mid single-digit to low double-digit percentage royalties on net sales of CND261 Licensed Products, and mid single-digit to low double-digit percentage of income that the Company receives from its sublicensees if the Company sublicense its rights to CND261 Licensed Products, none of which were due and payable as of December 31, 2025. The royalty payments are subject to reduction under certain customary circumstances. On a CND261 Licensed Product-by-CND261 Licensed Product and country-by-country basis, the Company's obligation to pay Genor royalties commences on the first commercial sale of such CND261 Licensed Product in the applicable country until the latest to occur of (a) the last-to-expire valid claim within the patents licensed to the Company by Genor covering such CND261 Licensed Product in the applicable country, (b) the expiration of the last-to-expire regulatory exclusivity for such CND261 Licensed Product in the applicable country and (c) ten (10) years after the first commercial sale of such CND261 Licensed Product in the applicable country.

The Genor License Agreement will remain in effect on a CND261 Licensed Product-by-CND261 Licensed Product and country-by-country basis until expiration of all royalty payment obligations, unless it is earlier terminated. Following expiration of the Genor License Agreement, the licenses granted to the Company become non-exclusive, perpetual, irrevocable and fully paid-up. Either party may terminate the Genor License Agreement for the other party's uncured material breach or insolvency, subject to certain notice and cure periods. Genor may terminate the Genor License Agreement if the Company challenges any of the patents licensed to it, subject to a specified notice and cure period. The Company may terminate the Genor License Agreement in its entirety, or on a country-by-country or CND261 Licensed Product-by-CND261 Licensed Product basis for convenience upon advance written notice to Genor. Upon termination of the Genor License Agreement, the Company is subject to certain post-termination obligations to enable Genor to be able to exploit the CND261 Licensed Products on a worldwide basis, or if the Genor License Agreement is not terminated in its entirety, in the applicable terminated countries.

License Agreement with WuXi Biologics (Shanghai) Co., Ltd.

In January 2025, the Company entered into a license agreement (the "WuXi Biologics License Agreement") with WuXi Biologics (Shanghai) Co., Ltd. ("WuXi Biologics").

Under the WuXi Biologics License Agreement, the Company received an exclusive, royalty-bearing license, with the right to grant sublicenses, under certain know-how and patent rights controlled by WuXi Biologics, to develop, have developed, manufacture, have manufactured, sell, offer for sale, have sold, import and have imported, export and have exported, and otherwise commercialize CND319, certain other CD19xCD20xCD3 trispecific antibodies, and products containing CND319 or such CD19xCD20xCD3 trispecific antibodies ("CND319 Licensed Products") for all human and non-human use, including for all research, diagnostic and therapeutic purposes (the "CND319 Field"), throughout the world.

The Company is responsible, at its cost, for the global development, manufacture and commercialization of CND319 Licensed Products in the CND319 Field. Until completion of the first Phase I clinical trial of a CND319 Licensed Product, the Company is obligated to use commercially reasonable efforts to develop a CND319 Licensed Product in the CND319 Field.

The Company paid WuXi Biologics total upfront cash consideration of $25.0 million, incurred $1.5 million of non-income taxes, and expensed such amounts as IPR&D as there is no alternative future use for the CND319 Licensed Products. As of December 31, 2025, the Company is also obligated to pay WuXi Biologics up to

$150.0 million in development and regulatory milestone payments, up to $750.0 million in commercial milestone payments, and tiered low to mid single-digit percentage royalties on annual net sales of each CND319 Licensed Product. The royalty payments are subject to reduction under certain customary circumstances. On a CND319 Licensed Product-by-CND319 Licensed Product and country-by-country basis, the Company's obligation to pay WuXi Biologics royalties commences on the first commercial sale of such CND319 Licensed Product in the applicable country and continues until the last to occur of (a) twelve (12) years after the first commercial sale of such CND319 Licensed Product in the applicable country, (b) the last-to-expire valid claim within certain patents licensed to the Company by WuXi Biologics covering the composition of matter of such CND319 Licensed Product in a trispecific format in the applicable country, and (c) expiration of regulatory exclusivity for such CND319 Licensed Product in the applicable country. In addition, if the Company sublicenses its rights to CND319 Products, it is obligated to pay to WuXi Biologics a percentage of certain income that it receives from its sublicensees; such percentage will be between a high single-digit to low double-digit, depending upon when the sublicense is granted.

The WuXi Biologics License Agreement will remain in effect on a CND319 Licensed Product-by-CND319 Licensed Product and country-by-country basis until expiration of all royalty payment obligations for such CND319 Licensed Product in the applicable country, unless it is earlier terminated. Following expiration of the WuXi Biologics License Agreement, the license granted to the Company becomes fully paid-up, perpetual, and irrevocable. The Company may terminate the WuXi Biologics License Agreement in its entirety, or on a country-by-country basis, for convenience upon advance written notice to WuXi Biologics. Either party may terminate the WuXi Biologics License Agreement for the other party's uncured material breach or insolvency, subject to certain notice and cure periods. WuXi Biologics may terminate the WuXi Biologics License Agreement if the Company or its sublicensees challenge any of the patents licensed to it, subject to a specified notice and cure period.

Other Agreements

In the fourth quarter of 2024, the Company entered into four early-stage research licenses that were determined to be asset acquisitions and recognized $0.3 million and $6.5 million during 2025 and 2024, respectively, of IPR&D expense related to these agreements. Upon the Company's nomination of an exclusive development candidate under each agreement, the Company will be obligated to pay customary development, regulatory, commercial and/or royalty payments upon achievement to the respective licensor.

7. DebtConvertible Promissory Note with a Related Party

On June 1, 2024, the Company issued the Song Note for proceeds of $0.2 million, with an interest rate of 5.0% per annum. The Song Note had an original maturity date of June 1, 2025. Upon a qualified financing event (as defined in the promissory note), the Song Note would automatically convert into shares issued in that financing event at a 50% discount to the issuance price of the shares. Outstanding principal and interest on the Song Note were converted into 339,105 shares of the Company's Series B convertible preferred stock on August 19, 2024. See Note 2 for further information regarding the fair value at settlement of the Song Note.

Promissory Note with a Related Party

On June 21, 2024, the Company issued the Foresite Note, which was a $3.0 million promissory note, with an interest rate of 5.12% per annum. The unpaid principal and any accrued and unpaid interest were originally due and payable in full on the earlier of (i) the fifth business day following the closing of an equity financing with total proceeds to the Company of not less than $100.0 million, or (ii) December 31, 2024. For the period from May 1, 2024 (inception) to December 31, 2024, the Company recognized $23,000 of interest expense related to the promissory note. The principal and accrued and unpaid interest of the note was fully repaid in cash in August 2024 at which time Foresite was a related party.

Total	367,005,749	367,005,749	367,005,749		$ 401,407	$ 427,735

In August 2024, pursuant to a Series B preferred stock purchase agreement, the Company issued in two closings an aggregate of 172,005,764 shares of its Series B, of which (i) 171,666,659 shares of Series B were issued at a purchase price of $1.20 per share for gross proceeds of approximately $206.0 million, and (ii) 339,105 shares of Series B were issued upon the settlement of the Song Note with a fair value of $0.4 million. The Company incurred $0.8 million of issuance costs in connection with the Series B preferred stock financing.

Description of Securities

Dividends

The holders of then outstanding shares of Series Preferred, in preference to the holders of common stock, are entitled to receive, only when, as and if declared by the board of directors, out of funds that are legally available therefor, non-cumulative dividends of 8% of the applicable original issue price per share.

Liquidation Preferences

Upon any voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Company, or upon the occurrence of a deemed liquidation event, the holders of then outstanding shares of Series Preferred are entitled to receive a liquidation preference at an amount per share equal to the greater of (i) the applicable original issue price, plus any dividends declared but unpaid, if any and (ii) such amount per share as would have been payable had all shares of Series Preferred converted to common stock pursuant to the conversion terms of the Series Preferred. If upon any such liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Company or deemed liquidation event, the assets of the Company available for distribution to its stockholders shall be insufficient to pay the holders of shares of Series Preferred the full amount to which they are entitled, the holders of shares of Series Preferred shall share ratably in any distribution of the assets available for distribution in proportion to the respective amounts which would otherwise be payable. Liquidation payments to the holders of Series Preferred have priority and are made in preference to any payments to the holders of common stock. After full payment of the liquidation preference to the holders of the Series Preferred, the remaining assets, if any, will be distributed ratably to the holders of common stock.

Conversion

Each share of Series Preferred is convertible into one share of common stock, at the option of the holder, subject to certain anti-dilution adjustments. Each share of Series Preferred is automatically converted into one share of common stock, subject to certain anti-dilution adjustments, upon the earliest to occur of, (a) immediately prior to the closing of the sale of shares of common stock to the public in a firm-commitment underwritten public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, resulting in at least $50.0 million of gross proceeds to the Company and in connection with such offering the common stock is listed for trading on the Nasdaq Stock Market, the New York Stock Exchange or another exchange or marketplace approved by the board of directors, and (b) the vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Series Preferred, voting together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis (which majority shall include (i) the holders of a majority of the shares of outstanding Series B, exclusively and as a separate class on an as converted to common stock basis and (ii) the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Series A, together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis) (the "Requisite Holders").

Voting Rights

Each holder of outstanding shares of Series Preferred is entitled to cast one vote for each share of common stock into which their shares of Series Preferred would convert and to vote as one class with the common stockholders on all matters presented to the stockholders of the Company except as provided in the Company's certificate of incorporation or by law. Certain matters require the vote of the Requisite Holders, which matters include material changes to the Company's corporate structure, capitalization and the incurrence of certain corporate obligations, among other matters. In addition, holders of each of Series A-1, Series A-2, Series B and common stock are entitled to separately elect certain members of the Company's board of directors.

Common Stock Issuances

In May and June 2024, the Company issued an aggregate of 73,227,900 shares of its common stock to certain founders and consultants at a price of $0.0000018 per share, the then-current fair value of the Company's common stock. Of these shares, 25,687,620 were issued under the 2024 Plan (defined and described below). At issuance, all such shares were subject to a repurchase option by the Company, under which 25% of the shares will be released from the repurchase option on the first anniversary of the respective issuance date, and 1/48th of the shares will vest and be released from the repurchase option on a monthly basis thereafter, subject to continued services to the Company as of the date of such release. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, 41,065,557 shares and 73,227,900 shares, respectively, were unvested and subject to repurchase by the Company at the lower of the issuance price or the then-current fair market value per share. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the repurchase liability related to the unvested shares was immaterial. For accounting purposes, unvested shares of common stock are not considered outstanding until they vest.

In February 2025, in connection with certain separation agreements, the Company repurchased 5,031,798 founder shares at their original issuance price. The vesting of 979,612 founder shares was modified such that 706,408 shares were immediately vested and 273,204 shares became subject to vesting over a 12 month period. The incremental fair value of vested shares at the modification date of $0.6 million was recognized at the modification date and the remaining incremental fair value of $0.2 million will be recognized over the remaining requisite service period of the awards (generally the vesting period) on a straight-line basis.

On August 19, 2024, the Company issued an aggregate of 69,999,985 shares of its common stock to certain stockholders of the Acquirees in the 2024 Merger (See Note 5).

On August 19, 2024, the Company issued 1,000,000 shares of common stock, at a fair value of $0.6 million, to reimburse an investor for expenses incurred related to their investments in the Company and the 2024 Merger. The fair value of the common shares was derived from the same model that was used to derive the fair value of the 2024 Merger consideration (See Note 5) and $0.3 million of the fair value was allocated to the 2024 Merger and $0.3 million to the Company's Series B preferred stock financing.

Equity Incentive Plan

In May 2024, the Company adopted the Candid Therapeutics, Inc. Equity Incentive Plan (as amended, the "2024 Plan"), which provides for the grant of incentive stock options, nonstatutory stock options, stock appreciation rights, restricted stock awards, restricted stock unit awards, and other awards to its employees, members of its board of directors and consultants. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, there were 60,711,153 shares authorized for issuance under the 2024 Plan, of which 3,988,040 shares and 7,151,033 shares, respectively, remained available for future issuance. Recipients of incentive stock options are eligible to purchase shares of the Company's common stock at an exercise price equal to no less than the estimated fair market value of such stock on the date of grant. The maximum term of options granted under the 2024 Plan is 10 years and, in general, the awards vest at various periods up to four years from the vesting commencement date, and may include performance conditions. The 2024 Plan allows for the early exercise of stock options, which may be subject to repurchase by the Company at the lower of (i) the fair market value of the common stock at the repurchase date or (ii) the original exercise price.

A summary of the Company's unvested shares and unvested stock liability, including unvested common stock issued to founders, is as follows (in thousands, except share data):

	Number of Unvested Shares	Unvested Stock Liability
Balance at May 1, 2024 (inception)	—	$ —

A summary of the Company's stock option activity is as follows (in thousands, except share and per share data):

Vested and expected to vest at December 31, 2025	15,963,541	$ 0.30	9.14	$ 1,080
Exercisable at December 31, 2025	32,198,541	$ 0.33	9.23	$ 1,404

⁽¹⁾ On May 5, 2025, the Company modified certain outstanding stock option awards by reducing the exercise price from $0.70 per share to $0.35 per share. The modification affected 5,595,000 stock options and resulted in incremental compensation cost of approximately $0.3 million, representing the excess fair value of the modified awards over the fair value of the original awards immediately before the modification. As none of the modified awards were vested as of the modification date, the incremental compensation cost will be recognized as stock-based compensation over the remaining requisite service period of the awards. The impact of the modification is reflected in the weighted-average exercise price of the stock options outstanding as of December 31, 2025.

Stock-Based Compensation Expense

The assumptions used in the Black-Scholes option pricing model to determine the fair value of stock option grants were as follows:

	Year Ended December 31, 2025	Period from May 1, 2024 (inception) to December 31, 2024
Risk-free interest rate	4.1%	4.1%
Expected volatility	75.3%	74.5%
Expected term (in years)	6.0	6.0

Risk-free interest rate. The risk-free interest rate is based on the U.S. Treasury yield in effect at the time of grant for zero coupon U.S. Treasury notes with maturities similar to the expected term of the awards.

Expected volatility. Since the Company is not yet a public company and does not have a trading history for its common stock, the expected volatility assumption is based on volatilities of a peer group of similar companies whose share prices are publicly available. The peer group was developed based on companies in the biotechnology industry. The Company will continue to apply this process until a sufficient amount of historical information regarding the volatility of its own stock price becomes available.

Expected term. The expected term represents the period of time that options are expected to be outstanding. Because the Company does not have historical exercise behavior, it determines the expected life assumption using the simplified method, which is an average of the contractual term of the option and its vesting period.

Expected dividend yield. The Company bases the expected dividend yield assumption on the fact that it has never paid cash dividends and has no present intention to pay cash dividends and, therefore, used an expected dividend yield of zero.

Stock-based compensation expense recognized for all equity awards has been reported in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss as follows (in thousands):

	Year Ended December 31, 2025	Period from May 1, 2024 (inception) to December 31, 2024
Research and development expense	$ 2,264	$ 202
General and administrative expense	802	201
Total	$ 3,066	$ 403

The total fair value of shares vested during the year ended December 31, 2025 and the period from May 1, 2024 (inception) to December 31, 2024 was $2.2 million and $0.1 million, respectively. The weighted-average grant date fair value per share of option grants for the year ended December 31, 2025 and the period from May 1, 2024 (inception) to December 31, 2024 was $0.28 and $0.56, respectively. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the outstanding options included 17,827,500 and 17,325,000 performance-based options, respectively, for which the achievement of the performance-based vesting conditions were determined to not be probable. In May 2025, the Company cancelled options to purchase 16,675,000 shares of the Company's common stock with performance-based vesting and reissued 16,720,000 options in substitution therefor. The modification was made to: (i) reduce the exercise price from $0.70 per share to $0.35 per share, which represented the fair market value of the Company's common stock as determined by its board of directors on the modification date, and (ii) modify the performance-based vesting conditions. The performance-based options were not considered probable of vesting as of the modification date and, as such, the original grant date fair value was replaced with the modification date fair value. The aggregate unrecognized stock-based compensation expense for outstanding performance-based options at December 31, 2025 and 2024 was $4.3 million and $9.5 million, respectively. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, total unrecognized stock-based compensation expense (excluding performance-based options) was $6.1 million and $5.7 million, respectively, which is expected to be recognized over a remaining weighted-average period of approximately 2.6 years and 3.4 years, respectively. The total intrinsic value of stock options exercised during the year ended December 31, 2025 and the period from May 1, 2024 (inception) to December 31, 2024 was $0.1 million and $0.9 million, respectively.

Deferred income taxes reflect the tax effects of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for income tax purposes. The components of the Company's net deferred tax assets (liabilities) are as follows (in thousands):

	December 31,

In accordance with FASB ASC 740, Income Taxes, the Company evaluated the realizability of its gross federal and state deferred income tax assets. Deferred income tax assets are required to be reduced by a valuation allowance if it is more likely than not that some or all of the deferred income tax assets will not be realized. As a result of the cumulative losses, the Company has established a valuation allowance against all of its U.S. federal and state deferred tax assets that will not be realized through the reversal of taxable temporary differences. The valuation allowance as of December 31, 2025 and 2024 was $34.4 million and $14.7 million, respectively.

As of December 31, 2025, the Company had federal and state net operating loss ("NOL") carryforwards of $24.9 million and $53.7 million, respectively. The entire amount of the federal NOLs carry forward indefinitely; however, these attributes were generated after 2017 which can generally be used to offset up to 80.0% of future taxable income. The $53.7 million of the state NOLs begin to expire in 2045 unless utilized. As of December 31, 2025, the Company had federal research and development ("R&D") credits of $1.1 million, which begin to expire in 2045 and state R&D credits of $0.7 million, which carry forward indefinitely. The Company recognizes the impact of a tax position in the consolidated financial statements if that position is more likely than not of being sustained on a tax return upon examination by the relevant taxing authority, based on the technical merits of the position.

The following table summarizes the activity related to the Company's gross unrecognized tax benefits (in thousands):

Beginning balance	$ 76	$ —
Increases related to prior year tax positions	460	—
Increases related to current year tax positions	4,437	76
Balance at December 31, 2025	$ 4,973	$ 76

As of December 31, 2025, the Company had gross unrecognized tax benefits of $5.0 million, none of which would affect the effective tax rate if recognized given the Company's valuation allowance position. The Company does not anticipate any significant changes in its unrecognized tax benefits over the next 12 months. The Company's policy is to recognize the interest expense and/or penalties related to income tax matters as a component of income tax expense.

The Company had no accrual for interest or penalties on its consolidated balance sheets at December 31, 2025 and 2024 and has not recognized interest and/or penalties in its statements of operations and comprehensive loss for the year ended December 31, 2025 or the period ended December 31, 2024.

Under Section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended ("Section 382"), the Company's ability to utilize net operating loss carryforwards or other tax attributes such as research tax credits, in any taxable year, may be limited if the Company experiences, or has experienced, an "ownership change." A Section 382 "ownership change" generally occurs if one or more stockholders or groups of stockholders, who own at least 5% of the Company's stock, increase their ownership by more than 50 percentage points over their lowest ownership percentage within a rolling three-year period. Similar rules may apply under state tax laws. The Company has not completed a Section 382 study as of December 31, 2025. The Company may have experienced one or more Section 382 "ownership changes" or may experience one or more in the future. If so, the Company may not be able to utilize a material portion of its net operating loss carryforwards and tax credits, even if the Company achieves profitability.

The Company is subject to taxation in the United States, China, and various state jurisdictions. Due to the presence of net operating loss carryforwards, all income tax years remain open for examination by U.S. federal and various state taxing authorities. The Company began filing in China in 2025. The Company has not been notified that it is under examination in any jurisdiction. As of December 31, 2025, the Company has not paid a material amount of income tax in any jurisdiction.

On July 4, 2025, the One Big Beautiful Bill Act ("OBBBA") was enacted in the United States. The OBBBA includes significant provisions, such as the permanent extension of certain expiring provisions of the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017, modifications to the international tax framework and the restoration of favorable tax treatment for certain business provisions. This new legislation has multiple effective dates, with certain provisions becoming effective in 2025 and others implemented through 2027. The Company has reflected the effect of OBBBA within the provision for income taxes and the deferred taxes as of December 31, 2025.

10. Segment Reporting

In order to allocate resources, the Company's CODM regularly reviews scientific data from clinical and preclinical studies, forecasted cash balances, and monitors budgeted to actual expenditures for clinical and preclinical programs and other projected operational expenses. The CODM assesses performance for the segment based on net loss, which is reported on the consolidated statement of operations and comprehensive loss. Significant segment expenses provided to the CODM are the same as presented on the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss as research and development, in-process research and development, general and administrative expenses, and other income (expense), net. The measure of segment assets is reported on the consolidated balance sheets as total assets. No revenue has been generated since inception and substantially all assets are held in the United States. The accounting policies of this segment are the same as those described in the summary of significant accounting policies.

Information related to the Company's operating segment is as follows (in thousands):

Research and development	$ 62,240	$ 14,095

11. Subsequent Events

The Company has completed an evaluation of all subsequent events through March 16, 2026, the date the consolidated financial statements were issued, to ensure these consolidated financial statements include appropriate disclosure of events both recognized in the consolidated financial statements and events that occurred but were not recognized in the consolidated financial statements. The Company has concluded that no subsequent event has occurred that requires disclosure except as noted below.

On March 1, 2026, the Company, Rallybio Corporation ("Rallybio") and Farmington Merger Sub, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Rallybio ("Merger Sub"), entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization (the "Merger Agreement"), pursuant to which, and subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions set forth in the Merger Agreement, Merger Sub will merge with and into the Company, with the Company surviving as a wholly owned subsidiary of Rallybio (the "Merger"). In addition, on March 1, 2026, the Company entered into a subscription agreement (the "Subscription Agreement") with certain investors, pursuant to which the Company has agreed to sell, and such investors have agreed to purchase, shares of the Company common stock for an aggregate purchase price of $505.5 million, immediately prior to the closing of the Merger (the "Concurrent Financing"). The closing of the Concurrent Financing is conditioned upon the satisfaction or waiver of each of the conditions to the closing of the Merger as well as certain other conditions. The Merger is expected to close in the second quarter of 2026 following the effectiveness of the required registration statement, receipt of approval by the stockholders of each of Rallybio and the Company, and the satisfaction or waiver of the other conditions to the Merger.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the stockholders and the Board of Directors of Candid Therapeutics, Inc.

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying statements of operations and comprehensive loss, convertible preferred stock and stockholders' deficit, and cash flows of Vignette Bio, Inc. (the "Company") for the period from January 1, 2024 through August 19, 2024, and the related notes (collectively referred to as the "financial statements"). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the Company's results of its operations and its cash flows for the period from January 1, 2024 through August 19, 2024, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's financial statements based on our audit. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB and in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. As part of our audit, we are required to obtain an understanding of internal control over financial reporting but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion.

Our audit included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audit also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Vignette Bio, Inc.
Notes to Financial Statements

1. Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization

Vignette Bio, Inc. (the "Company" and formerly FL2024-005, Inc.) was incorporated in the state of Delaware in December 2023. Prior to the merger transaction in August 2024 described below, the Company was a biotechnology company focused on identifying therapies to treat autoimmune diseases. On August 19, 2024, the Company, TRC 2004, Inc. ("TRC") and Candid Therapeutics, Inc. ("Candid") executed an Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization (the "2024 Merger Agreement"), pursuant to which both TRC and the Company became wholly owned subsidiaries of Candid (the "2024 Merger"). Effective upon the completion of the 2024 Merger, (i) each issued and outstanding share of common stock of the Company was cancelled and exchanged for one share of Candid common stock, and (ii) each issued and outstanding share of Series A of the Company was cancelled and exchanged for one share of Candid Series A-1 convertible preferred stock.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

From its inception through August 19, 2024, the Company has devoted substantially all its resources and efforts to raising capital and acquiring the technology that led to the 2024 Merger. The Company has incurred net losses and negative cash flows from operations since inception and had an accumulated deficit as of August 19, 2024. Since inception through August 19, 2024, the Company has funded its operations primarily with the net proceeds from the issuance of its convertible preferred stock.

Use of Estimates

The Company's financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). The preparation of the Company's financial statements requires it to make estimates and assumptions that impact the reported amounts. These estimates and assumptions are based on current facts, historical experience and various other factors believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities and the recording of expenses that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ materially and adversely from these estimates. To the extent there are material differences between the estimates and actual results, the Company's future results of operations will be affected.

Fair Value Measurements

The accounting guidance defines fair value, establishes a consistent framework for measuring fair value and expands disclosure for each major asset and liability category measured at fair value on either a recurring or non-recurring basis. Fair value is defined as an exit price, representing the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants. As such, fair value is a market-based measurement that should be determined based on assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability. As a basis for considering such assumptions, the accounting guidance establishes a three-tier fair value hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs used in measuring fair value as follows:

- Level 1: Observable inputs such as quoted prices in active markets.
- Level 2: Inputs, other than the quoted prices in active markets that are observable either directly or indirectly.
- Level 3: Unobservable inputs in which there is little or no market data, which require the reporting entity to develop its own assumptions.

As further described in Note 2, the Company entered into SAFE agreements (as defined and described below) in June 2024 with certain related parties. The Company elected the fair value option for the SAFE agreements. There was no material difference between the cash proceeds received at issuance in June 2024, the fair value at issuance, and the fair value at settlement in July 2024. Accordingly, no change in fair value was recognized in the statement of operations and comprehensive loss during 2024.

Vignette Bio, Inc.Notes to Financial Statements - (Continued)*Cash

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. The Company had no cash equivalents for the period presented. Cash includes cash in readily available checking accounts and money market accounts.

Convertible Preferred Stock

The Company has classified its convertible preferred stock outside of stockholders' deficit in accordance with authoritative guidance for the classification and measurement of potentially redeemable securities whose redemption is based upon certain change in control events outside of the Company's control, including liquidation, sale or transfer of the Company. For convertible preferred stock issued in exchange for cash proceeds, the Company records the convertible preferred stock at the issuance price, net of related issuance costs, discounts, and proceeds allocated to other instruments issued together with the convertible preferred stock. The Company subsequently measures convertible preferred stock that is currently redeemable or probable of becoming redeemable in the future by accreting changes in the redemption value using the interest method from the date of issuance to the earliest date the redemption feature can be exercised. As of August 19, 2024, no convertible preferred stock was redeemable or probable of becoming redeemable. See Note 4 for further information.

Business Combinations and Asset Acquisitions

In accordance with Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 805, Business Combinations ("ASC 805"), upon an acquisition, the Company performs an initial test to determine whether substantially all of the fair value of the gross assets transferred is concentrated in a single identifiable asset or a group of similar identifiable assets, such that the acquisition would represent an asset acquisition rather than a business combination. If that test indicates that the set of assets and activities is a business, the Company then performs a second test to evaluate whether the assets and activities transferred include inputs and substantive processes that together, significantly contribute to the ability to create outputs, which would constitute a business. If the result of the second test suggests that the acquired assets and activities constitute a business, the Company accounts for the transaction as a business combination.

For transactions accounted for as business combinations, the Company allocates the fair value of acquisition consideration to the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their estimated fair values. The excess of the fair value of acquisition consideration over the fair value of acquired identifiable assets and liabilities assumed is recognized as goodwill. During the measurement period of a business combination, which is not to exceed one year, if new information is obtained about facts and circumstances that existed as of the acquisition date, changes in the estimated fair values of the net assets recorded may change the amount of the purchase price allocable to the excess over the fair value of assets acquired. Upon the conclusion of the measurement period, any subsequent adjustments are recorded to earnings. Acquisition-related costs in a business combination are expensed as incurred.

Acquisitions of assets or a group of assets that do not meet the definition of a business are accounted for as asset acquisitions, with a cost accumulation model used to determine the cost of the acquisition. For an asset acquisition, the fair value of acquisition consideration is allocated to the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed at cost on a relative fair value basis. If a single asset is acquired, the entire cost is attributed to the acquired asset. In addition, for such asset acquisitions, no goodwill is recognized, acquisition-related costs are capitalized, and any associated contingent consideration is recorded when the underlying contingencies have been resolved. Common stock and convertible preferred stock issued as consideration in an acquisition of assets are measured based on the acquisition date fair value of the equity interests. Intangible assets that are acquired in an asset acquisition for use in research and development activities that have an alternative future use are capitalized as in-process research and development ("IPR&D"). Acquired IPR&D that has no alternative future use is expensed immediately. Cash payments for the acquisition of IPR&D are reported as cash outflows for investing activities in the statement of cash flows.

The Company accounts for income taxes under the asset and liability method, which requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been included in the financial statements. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined on the basis of the differences between the financial statements and tax basis of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates in effect for the year in which the differences are expected to reverse. The effect of a change in tax rates on deferred tax assets and liabilities is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date.

The Company recognizes net deferred tax assets to the extent that the Company believes these assets are more likely than not to be realized. In making such a determination, management considers all available positive and negative evidence, including future reversals of existing taxable temporary differences, projected future taxable income, tax-planning strategies, and results of recent operations. If management determines that the Company would be able to realize its deferred tax assets in the future in excess of their net recorded amount, management would make an adjustment to the deferred tax asset valuation allowance, which would reduce the provision for income taxes.

The Company records uncertain tax positions on the basis of a two-step process whereby (1) management determines whether it is more likely than not that the tax positions will be sustained on the basis of the technical merits of the position and (2) for those tax positions that meet the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold, management recognizes the largest amount of tax benefit that is more than 50 percent likely to be realized upon ultimate settlement with the related tax authority. The Company recognizes interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits within income tax expense. Any accrued interest and penalties are included within the related tax liability.

Comprehensive Loss

Comprehensive loss is defined as a change in equity during a period from transactions and other events and circumstances from non-owner sources. The Company's comprehensive loss was the same as its reported net loss for the period presented.

Segment Reporting

Operating segments are identified as components of an enterprise about which separate discrete financial information is available for evaluation by the chief operating decision-maker in making decisions regarding resource allocation and assessing performance. The Company and its chief operating decision-maker view the Company's operations and manage its business in one operating segment. Significant operating expenses include research and development, in-process research and development, and general and administrative expenses, which are each separately presented on the Company's statement of operations and comprehensive loss.

Net Loss Per Share

Basic net loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss by the weighted-average number of the Company's common shares outstanding for the period, without consideration for potentially dilutive securities. The Company has excluded 352,047 weighted-average unvested shares from the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding for the period from January 1, 2024 to August 19, 2024. Diluted net loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss attributable to common stockholders by the weighted-average number of common shares and dilutive common stock equivalents outstanding for the period determined using the treasury-stock and if-converted methods. Potentially dilutive common stock equivalents are comprised of convertible preferred stock. For the period presented, there is no difference in the number of shares used to calculate basic and diluted shares outstanding as inclusion of the potentially dilutive securities would be anti-dilutive.

2. Related Party TransactionsSAFE Agreements with Related Parties

In June 2024, the Company entered into three Simple Agreement for Future Equity ("SAFE") agreements with a principal owner (or its affiliates) ("Foresite") of the Company under which it received aggregate proceeds of $0.3 million (the "Purchase Amount"). The Purchase Amount was converted in July 2024 into an aggregate of 262,500 shares of Series A convertible preferred stock ("Series A") with a fair value of $0.3 million in connection with the Company's Series A preferred stock financing (see Note 4).

Consulting Services Provided by Related Party

In May 2024, the Company entered into a services agreement with Foresite. For the period from December 19, 2023 (inception) to December 31, 2023, prior to entering into the services agreement, the Company recognized $3,000 of expenses for services provided by Foresite. The Company recognized $0.1 million of expenses associated with the services agreement for the period from January 1, 2024 to August 19, 2024.

Payments on Behalf of Related Party

In July 2024, the Company paid $0.7 million for certain research and development expenses on behalf of Candid.

3. License AgreementsLicense and Collaboration Agreement with Shanghai EpimAb Biotherapeutics Co., Ltd.

In August 2024, the Company entered into a license and collaboration agreement (the "EpimAb License Agreement") with Shanghai EpimAb Biotherapeutics Co., Ltd. ("EpimAb").

Under the EpimAb License Agreement, the Company has a royalty-bearing, sublicensable license, under certain know-how and patent rights controlled by EpimAb relating to BCMA/CD3 bi-specific antibodies, to research, develop, manufacture, use, sell, offer for sale, import and otherwise commercialize EMB06 and certain derivatives of EMB06 that are also BCMAxCD3 bispecific antibodies, and products containing EMB06 or such derivatives ("EMB06 Licensed Products") everywhere in the world except for Greater China (which includes Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan) (the "EMB06 Licensed Territory") for the diagnosis, treatment or prevention of all human and non-human diseases (the "EMB06 Field"). The Company's license is exclusive with respect to certain licensed patents and claims of certain other licensed patents that specifically cover any BCMAxCD3 bispecific antibody as a whole or that cover certain binding sequences and licensed know-how that is related to such licensed patents or licensed patent claims; it is non-exclusive with respect to all other licensed patent claims and licensed know-how. The Company also has a non-exclusive license from EpimAb (a) to manufacture EMB06 and EMB06 Licensed Products in Greater China (including Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan) (the "EpimAb Territory") solely for use in the EMB06 Licensed Territory and (b) to research and develop EMB06 Licensed Products in the EMB06 Field in the EpimAb Territory solely for the purpose of obtaining regulatory approval of EMB06 Licensed Products in the EMB06 Licensed Territory.

The Company is responsible, at its own cost, for the development, manufacture and commercialization of EMB06 Licensed Products in the EMB06 Field in the EMB06 Licensed Territory. The Company is obligated to use commercially reasonable efforts to develop at least one EMB06 Licensed Product in the EMB06 Field in the EMB06 Licensed Territory; provided, however, that this obligation will expire upon achievement of a certain development milestone, or upon the Company's election to make a certain milestone payment early.

In August 2024, as partial consideration for the license, the Company paid EpimAb total upfront cash consideration of $30.0 million and issued 30,000,000 shares of its Series A with a fair value of $30.0 million and expensed such amounts as IPR&D as there is no alternative future use for the licensed technology. The Company is obligated to pay EpimAb up to $95.0 million in development and regulatory milestone payments, up to $480.0 million in commercial milestone payments, and tiered single-digit royalties on net sales of EMB06 Licensed Products, none of which were due and payable as of August 19, 2024. The royalty payments are subject to reduction under certain customary circumstances. On a EMB06 Licensed Product-by-EMB06 Licensed Product and country-by-country basis, the Company's obligation to pay EpimAb royalties commences on the first commercial sale of such EMB06 Licensed Product in the applicable country until the latest to occur of (a) the last-to-expire valid claim within the licensed patents covering such EMB06 Licensed Product in the applicable country, (b) the expiration of the last-to-expire regulatory exclusivity for such EMB06 Licensed Product in the applicable country and (c) twelve (12) years after the first commercial sale of such EMB06 Licensed Product in the applicable country.

The EpimAb License Agreement will remain in effect on a EMB06 Licensed Product-by-EMB06 Licensed Product and country-by-country basis until expiration of all royalty payment obligations, unless it is earlier terminated. Following expiration of the EpimAb License Agreement, the licenses granted to the Company become non-exclusive, perpetual, irrevocable and fully paid-up. The Company may terminate the EpimAb License Agreement for convenience upon advance written notice to EpimAb. Either party may terminate the EpimAb License Agreement for the other party's uncured material breach; provided, however, that this termination right will not be available to either party after achievement of a certain development milestone, or upon the Company's election to make a certain milestone payment early. Either party may terminate the EpimAb License Agreement in connection with the insolvency of the other party. EpimAb may terminate the EpimAb License Agreement if the Company challenges a licensed patent, subject to a specified notice and cure period. Upon termination of the EpimAb License Agreement, the Company is subject to certain post-termination obligations to enable EpimAb to be able to exploit EMB06 Licensed Products in the EMB06 Field on a worldwide basis.

4. Convertible Preferred Stock and Stockholders' DeficitConvertible Preferred Stock

In July and August 2024, pursuant to a Series A preferred stock purchase agreement with new and existing investors to the Company, the Company issued an aggregate of 105,000,000 shares of Series A in multiple closings at a purchase price of $1.00 per share. In connection with the Series A preferred stock financing the Company issued: (i) 74,737,500 shares of Series A for gross cash proceeds of $74.7 million, (ii) 30,000,000 shares of Series A in connection with the EpimAb License Agreement and (iii) 262,500 shares of Series A upon the settlement of the SAFE agreements described above. The Company incurred $0.2 million of issuance costs in connection with the Series A financing.

Description of SecuritiesDividends

Holders of Series A, in preference to the holders of common stock, are entitled to receive, but only out of funds that are legally available therefor, cash dividends at the annual per share rate of $0.08. After payment of any preferential preferred stock dividends described above, if any additional dividends are paid or set aside, such dividends shall be paid to the holders of common stock and the holders of Series A as if the shares of Series A had converted to common stock. Such dividends are noncumulative and are payable only when, as and if declared by the Company's board of directors.

Liquidation Preferences

Upon any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Company, the holders of Series A are entitled to receive a liquidation preference at the per share rate of $1.00, plus all declared and unpaid dividends. Liquidation payments to the holders of Series A have priority and are made in preference to any payments to the holders of common stock. After full payment of the liquidation preference to the holders of the Series A, the remaining assets, if any, will be distributed ratably to the holders of common stock. The Series A would be deemed converted to common stock in the event such conversion would result in a liquidation payment greater than its liquidation preference.

Conversion

The shares of Series A are convertible into an equal number of shares of common stock, at the option of the holder, subject to certain anti-dilution adjustments. Each share of Series A is automatically converted into common stock upon, (a) the closing of the sale of shares of common stock to the public in a firm-commitment underwritten public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, resulting in at least $50.0 million of gross proceeds to the Company and certain other conditions, or (b) the vote of the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of Series A, voting together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis.

Voting Rights

The holder of each share of Series A is entitled to one vote for each share of common stock into which it would convert and has protective voting provisions related to certain matters including material changes to the corporate structure, capitalization and the incurrence of certain corporate obligations, among other issues. In addition, the Series A is entitled to elect certain members of the board of directors.

Common Stock Issuances

In May 2024, the Company issued an aggregate of 15,000,000 shares of its common stock to certain founders at a price of $0.0001 per share, the then-current fair value of the Company's common stock. At issuance, 825,000 of such shares were subject to a repurchase option by the Company, under which 25% of the shares will be released from the repurchase option on May 1, 2025, and 1/48th of the shares will vest and be released from the repurchase option on a monthly basis thereafter, subject to continued services to the Company as of the date of such release. As of August 19, 2024, 825,000 shares were unvested and subject to repurchase by the Company and the repurchase liability related to the unvested shares was immaterial. For accounting purposes, unvested shares of common stock are not considered outstanding until they vest.

5. Income Taxes

The Company's pretax net loss for the period from January 1, 2024 to August 19, 2024 was generated solely in the United States. A reconciliation of the income tax expense computed at the U.S. federal statutory income tax rate to the Company's income tax expense is as follows (in thousands):

	Period from January 1, 2024 to August 19, 2024
Tax computed at federal statutory rate	$ (12,729)
Non-deductible license consideration	6,300
Financing costs	30
Change in valuation allowance	6,399
	$ —

The Company is subject to taxation in the United States and various state jurisdictions. The Company has not been notified that it is under examination in any jurisdiction.

6. Subsequent Events

The Company has completed an evaluation of all subsequent events through March 16, 2026, the date the financial statements were issued, to ensure these financial statements include appropriate disclosure of events both recognized in the financial statements and events that occurred but were not recognized in the financial statements. The Company has concluded that no subsequent event has occurred that requires disclosure except as described in Note 1 above.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the stockholders and the Board of Directors of Candid Therapeutics, Inc.

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying statements of operations and comprehensive loss, convertible preferred stock and stockholders' deficit, and cash flows of TRC 2004, Inc. (the "Company") for the period from January 1, 2024 through August 19, 2024, and the related notes (collectively referred to as the "financial statements"). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the Company's results of its operations and its cash flows for the period from January 1, 2024 through August 19, 2024, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's financial statements based on our audit. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB and in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. As part of our audit, we are required to obtain an understanding of internal control over financial reporting but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion.

Our audit included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audit also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

TRC 2004, Inc.
Notes to Financial Statements

1. Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization

TRC 2004, Inc. (the "Company") was incorporated in the state of Delaware in September 2020. Prior to the merger transaction in August 2024 described below, the Company was a biotechnology company focused on identifying therapies to treat autoimmune diseases. On August 19, 2024, the Company, Vignette Bio, Inc. ("Vignette") and Candid Therapeutics, Inc. ("Candid") executed an Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization (the "2024 Merger Agreement"), pursuant to which both Vignette and the Company became wholly-owned subsidiaries of Candid (the "2024 Merger"). Effective upon the completion of the 2024 Merger, (i) each issued and outstanding share of common stock of the Company was cancelled and exchanged for 4.25 shares of Candid common stock, and (ii) each issued and outstanding share of Series A convertible preferred stock of the Company was cancelled and exchanged for 4.25 shares of Candid Series A-2 convertible preferred stock.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

From its inception through August 19, 2024, the Company has devoted substantially all its resources and efforts to raising capital and acquiring the technology that led to the 2024 Merger. The Company has incurred net losses and negative cash flows from operations since inception and had an accumulated deficit as of August 19, 2024. Since inception through August 19, 2024, the Company has funded its operations primarily with the net proceeds from the issuance of its convertible preferred stock, the issuance of common stock and convertible promissory notes.

Use of Estimates

The Company's financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). The preparation of the Company's financial statements requires it to make estimates and assumptions that impact the reported amounts. The most significant estimates in the Company's financial statements relate to the determination of the fair value of the Company's common stock (See "Fair Value Measurements" below). These estimates and assumptions are based on current facts, historical experience and various other factors believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities and the recording of expenses that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ materially and adversely from these estimates. To the extent there are material differences between the estimates and actual results, the Company's future results of operations will be affected.

Fair Value Measurements

The accounting guidance defines fair value, establishes a consistent framework for measuring fair value and expands disclosure for each major asset and liability category measured at fair value on either a recurring or non-recurring basis. Fair value is defined as an exit price, representing the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants. As such, fair value is a market-based measurement that should be determined based on assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability. As a basis for considering such assumptions, the accounting guidance establishes a three-tier fair value hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs used in measuring fair value as follows:

- Level 1: Observable inputs such as quoted prices in active markets.
- Level 2: Inputs, other than the quoted prices in active markets that are observable either directly or indirectly.
- Level 3: Unobservable inputs in which there is little or no market data, which require the reporting entity to develop its own assumptions.

In July and August 2024, the Company issued common stock in connection with a license agreement (see Note 3) and various sales of common stock (see Note 4). The Company estimated the fair value of its common stock using methodologies, approaches and assumptions consistent with the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Accounting and Valuation Guide: Valuation of Privately Held Company Equity Securities Issued as Compensation (the "Practice Aid"). The Practice Aid prescribes several valuation approaches for setting the value of an enterprise, such as the cost, income and market approaches, and various methodologies for allocating the value of an enterprise to its capital stock. After considering its Series A preferred stock financing with new and existing investors in August 2024, and the potential of a merger and acquisition ("M&A") transaction, the Company concluded a hybrid method utilizing both M&A and alternative exit scenarios was most appropriate. The hybrid method is useful when certain discrete future outcomes can be predicted, but also accounts for uncertainty regarding the timing or likelihood of specific alternative exit events. The equity value in the M&A scenario was determined using the fully diluted backsolve method, which assumes the undiscounted fair value of all shares in the Company are equal to the most recent round of financing on a fully diluted basis. The equity value in the alternative exit scenario was determined using the backsolve method that considers the rights and preferences of each class of equity and solving for the total market value of invested capital that is consistent with a recent transaction in the Company's own securities. The equity value in the alternative exit scenario was allocated using the option pricing method, whereby shares are valued by creating a series of call options with exercise prices based on the liquidation preferences and conversion terms of each equity class. The values of the preferred and common stock are inferred by analyzing these options.

There are significant judgments, assumptions and estimates inherent in the determination of the fair value of the Company's capital stock. These include determination of a valuation method and selection of the possible outcomes available to the Company, including the determination of timing and expected future investment returns for such scenarios. The related judgments, assumptions and estimates are highly interrelated and changes in any one assumption could necessitate changes in another. In particular, any changes in the probability of a particular outcome would require a related change to the probability of another outcome.

Cash

The Company considers all highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. The Company had no cash equivalents for the period presented. Cash includes cash in readily available checking accounts and money market accounts.

Convertible Preferred Stock

The Company has classified its convertible preferred stock outside of stockholders' deficit in accordance with authoritative guidance for the classification and measurement of potentially redeemable securities whose redemption is based upon certain change in control events outside of the Company's control, including liquidation, sale or transfer of the Company. For convertible preferred stock issued in exchange for cash proceeds, the Company records the convertible preferred stock at the issuance price, net of related issuance costs, discounts, and proceeds allocated to other instruments issued together with the convertible preferred stock. The Company subsequently measures convertible preferred stock that is currently redeemable or probable of becoming redeemable in the future by accreting changes in the redemption value using the interest method from the date of issuance to the earliest date the redemption feature can be exercised. As of August 19, 2024, no convertible preferred stock was redeemable or probable of becoming redeemable. See Note 4 for further information.

Business Combinations and Asset Acquisitions

In accordance with Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") 805, Business Combinations ("ASC 805"), upon an acquisition, the Company performs an initial test to determine whether substantially all of the fair value of the gross assets transferred is concentrated in a single identifiable asset or a group of similar identifiable assets, such that the acquisition would represent an asset acquisition rather than a business combination. If that test indicates that the set of assets and activities is a business, the Company then performs a second test to evaluate whether the assets and activities transferred include inputs and substantive processes that together, significantly contribute to the ability to create outputs, which would constitute a business. If the result of the second test suggests that the acquired assets and activities constitute a business, the Company accounts for the transaction as a business combination.

For transactions accounted for as business combinations, the Company allocates the fair value of acquisition consideration to the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their estimated fair values. The excess of the fair value of acquisition consideration over the fair value of acquired identifiable assets and liabilities assumed is recognized as goodwill. During the measurement period of a business combination, which is not to exceed one year, if new information is obtained about facts and circumstances that existed as of the acquisition date, changes in the estimated fair values of the net assets recorded may change the amount of the purchase price allocable to the excess over the fair value of assets acquired. Upon the conclusion of the measurement period, any subsequent adjustments are recorded to earnings. Acquisition-related costs in a business combination are expensed as incurred.

Acquisitions of assets or a group of assets that do not meet the definition of a business are accounted for as asset acquisitions, with a cost accumulation model used to determine the cost of the acquisition. For an asset acquisition, the fair value of acquisition consideration is allocated to the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed at cost on a relative fair value basis. If a single asset is acquired, the entire cost is attributed to the acquired asset. In addition, for such asset acquisitions, no goodwill is recognized, acquisition-related costs are capitalized, and any associated contingent consideration is recorded when the underlying contingencies have been resolved. Common stock and convertible preferred stock issued as consideration in an acquisition of assets are measured based on the acquisition date fair value of the equity interests. Intangible assets that are acquired in an asset acquisition for use in research and development activities that have an alternative future use are capitalized as in-process research and development ("IPR&D"). Acquired IPR&D that has no alternative future use is expensed immediately. Cash payments for the acquisition of IPR&D are reported as cash outflows for investing activities in the statement of cash flows.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes under the asset and liability method, which requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been included in the financial statements. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined on the basis of the differences between the financial statements and tax basis of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates in effect for the year in which the differences are expected to reverse. The effect of a change in tax rates on deferred tax assets and liabilities is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date.

The Company recognizes net deferred tax assets to the extent that the Company believes these assets are more likely than not to be realized. In making such a determination, management considers all available positive and negative evidence, including future reversals of existing taxable temporary differences, projected future taxable income, tax-planning strategies, and results of recent operations. If management determines that the Company would be able to realize its deferred tax assets in the future in excess of their net recorded amount, management would make an adjustment to the deferred tax asset valuation allowance, which would reduce the provision for income taxes.

The Company records uncertain tax positions on the basis of a two-step process whereby (1) management determines whether it is more likely than not that the tax positions will be sustained on the basis of the technical merits of the position and (2) for those tax positions that meet the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold, management recognizes the largest amount of tax benefit that is more than 50 percent likely to be realized upon ultimate settlement with the related tax authority. The Company recognizes interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits within income tax expense. Any accrued interest and penalties are included within the related tax liability.

Comprehensive Loss

Comprehensive loss is defined as a change in equity during a period from transactions and other events and circumstances from non-owner sources. The Company's comprehensive loss was the same as its reported net loss for the period presented.

Segment Reporting

Operating segments are identified as components of an enterprise about which separate discrete financial information is available for evaluation by the chief operating decision-maker in making decisions regarding resource allocation and assessing performance. The Company and its chief operating decision-maker view the Company's operations and manage its business in one operating segment. Significant operating expenses include research and development, in-process research and development, and general and administrative expenses, which are each separately presented on the Company's statement of operations and comprehensive loss.

TRC 2004, Inc.Notes to Financial Statements - (Continued)*Net Loss Per Share

Basic net loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss by the weighted-average number of the Company's common shares outstanding for the period, without consideration for potentially dilutive securities. Diluted net loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss attributable to common stockholders by the weighted-average number of common shares and dilutive common stock equivalents outstanding for the period determined using the treasury-stock and if-converted methods. Potentially dilutive common stock equivalents are comprised of convertible preferred stock. For the period presented, there is no difference in the number of shares used to calculate basic and diluted shares outstanding as inclusion of the potentially dilutive securities would be anti-dilutive.

2. Related Party TransactionsPromissory Notes with Related Parties

On June 28, 2024, the Company issued two convertible promissory notes (the "Two River Notes") to affiliates of Two River, LLC ("Two River"), a principal owner of the Company. The principal amount of the Two River Notes was $0.3 million with an interest rate of 5.0% per annum. For the period from January 1, 2024 to August 19, 2024, the Company recognized $1,000 of interest expense related to the Two River Notes. Outstanding principal and interest on the Two River Notes was converted into 59,130 shares of Series A convertible preferred stock in connection with the Company's Series A preferred stock financing (see Note 4).

Consulting Services Provided by Related Party

In June 2024, the Company entered into a letter agreement with Two River related to consulting services provided to the Company by Two River. During the period from January 1, 2024 to August 19, 2024, the Company recognized $0.9 million of general and administrative expense associated with the letter agreement.

Common Stock Issued to Related Parties

In July 2024, the Company issued common stock to certain related party investors (see Note 4).

3. License AgreementsLicense Agreement with Genor Biopharma Co Ltd.

In August 2024, the Company entered into a license agreement (the "Genor License Agreement") with Genor Biopharma Co Ltd. ("Genor"). Under the Genor License Agreement, the Company has an exclusive, royalty-bearing, sublicensable license under certain know-how and patent rights controlled by Genor (including certain intellectual property in-licensed by Genor) relating to bispecific antibodies and heteromultimeric proteins ("Licensed IP") to develop, use, manufacture, commercialize and otherwise exploit GB261, certain derivatives of GB261 that are also CD20xCD3 bispecific antibodies, and products containing GB261 or such derivatives ("GB261 Licensed Products") everywhere in the world except for Mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan (the "GB261 Licensed Territory") for the diagnosis, treatment or prevention of disease in humans and animals (the "GB261 Field"). The Company also received a non-exclusive, sublicensable license under the Licensed IP in Mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan (the "Genor Territory") to manufacture GB261 Licensed Products in the Genor Territory and to conduct non-clinical and certain clinical development of GB261 Licensed Products in the Genor Territory in the GB261 Field, solely for the purposes of supporting exploitation of GB261 Licensed Products in the GB261 Field in the GB261 Licensed Territory. In addition, the Company has a right of first negotiation if Genor decides to commence negotiations with one or more third parties to grant a license to develop, use, manufacture, commercialize or otherwise exploit GB261 Licensed Products in the GB261 Field in the Genor Territory.

The Company is responsible, at its own cost, for the development, manufacture and commercialization of GB261 Licensed Products in the GB261 Field in the GB261 Licensed Territory. The Company is obligated to use commercially reasonable efforts to develop and obtain regulatory approval for at least one GB261 Licensed Product in the GB261 Field in the United States and in at least one of Canada, the United Kingdom, France, Germany, Spain or Italy ("Major Market Countries"). The Company is also obligated to use commercially reasonable efforts to commercialize at least one GB261 Licensed Product in the United States or any Major Market Country, in which regulatory approval has been obtained for such product.

In August 2024, the Company paid Genor total upfront cash consideration of $16.0 million. In addition, in August 2024, the Company issued an aggregate of 2,941,176 shares of its common stock to an affiliate of Genor pursuant to a stock purchase agreement containing certain anti-dilution rights. Under the terms of the stock purchase agreement, the purchaser paid $1.0 million for 1,111,111 shares of the Company's common stock and was issued an additional 1,830,065 shares of the Company's common stock based on its anti-dilution rights. The Company determined that the aggregate fair value of the consideration paid to under the Genor License Agreement was $23.5 million and consisted of: (i) the $16.0 million of upfront cash consideration, (ii) the $2.2 million discount on the sale of common stock to an affiliate of Genor and (iii) the $5.3 million fair value of shares of common stock issued in connection with anti-dilution rights, and expensed such amount as IPR&D as there is no alternative future use for the Licensed IP. The Company is also obligated to pay Genor up to $145.0 million in upfront and development and regulatory milestone payments, up to $300.0 million in commercial milestone payments, tiered mid single-digit to low double-digit percentage royalties on net sales of GB261 Licensed Products, and mid single-digit to low double-digit percentage of income that the Company receives from its sublicensees if the Company sublicense its rights to GB261 Licensed Products, none of which were due and payable as of August 19, 2024. The royalty payments are subject to reduction under certain customary circumstances. On a GB261 Licensed Product-by-GB261 Licensed Product and country-by-country basis, the Company's obligation to pay Genor royalties commences on the first commercial sale of such GB261 Licensed Product in the applicable country until the latest to occur of (a) the last-to-expire valid claim within the patents licensed to the Company by Genor covering such GB261 Licensed Product in the applicable country, (b) the expiration of the last-to-expire regulatory exclusivity for such GB261 Licensed Product in the applicable country and (c) ten (10) years after the first commercial sale of such GB261 Licensed Product in the applicable country.

The Genor License Agreement will remain in effect on a GB261 Licensed Product-by- GB261 Licensed Product and country-by-country basis until expiration of all royalty payment obligations, unless it is earlier terminated. Following expiration of the Genor License Agreement, the licenses granted to the Company become non-exclusive, perpetual, irrevocable and fully paid-up. Either party may terminate the Genor License Agreement for the other party's uncured material breach or insolvency, subject to certain notice and cure periods. Genor may terminate the Genor License Agreement if the Company challenges any of the patents licensed to it, subject to a specified notice and cure period. The Company may terminate the Genor License Agreement in its entirety, or on a country-by-country or GB261 Licensed Product-by-GB261 Licensed Product basis for convenience upon advance written notice to Genor. Upon termination of the Genor License Agreement, the Company is subject to certain post-termination obligations to enable Genor to be able to exploit the GB261 Licensed Products on a worldwide basis, or if the Genor License Agreement is not terminated in its entirety, in the applicable terminated countries.

4. Convertible Preferred Stock and Stockholders' DeficitConvertible Preferred Stock

In August 2024, pursuant to a Series A preferred stock purchase agreement, the Company issued in two closings an aggregate of 21,117,340 shares of its Series A convertible preferred stock ("Series A") at a purchase price of $4.25 per share, and received gross cash proceeds of approximately $89.7 million. As described above, the Company issued an additional 59,130 shares of Series A convertible preferred stock upon the settlement of convertible promissory notes with a fair value of $0.3 million. The Company incurred $0.1 million of issuance costs in connection with the Series A financing.

Description of SecuritiesDividends

Holders of Series A, in preference to the holders of common stock, are entitled to receive, but only out of funds that are legally available therefor, cash dividends at the annual per share rate of $0.34. After payment of any preferential preferred stock dividends described above, if any additional dividends are paid or set aside, such dividends shall be paid to the holders of common stock and the holders of Series A as if the shares of Series A had converted to common stock. Such dividends are noncumulative and are payable only when, as and if declared by the Company's board of directors.

TRC 2004, Inc.

Liquidation Preferences

Upon any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Company, the holders of Series A are entitled to receive a liquidation preference at the per share rate of $4.25, plus all declared and unpaid dividends. Liquidation payments to the holders of Series A have priority and are made in preference to any payments to the holders of common stock. After full payment of the liquidation preference to the holders of the Series A, the remaining assets, if any, will be distributed ratably to the holders of common stock. The Series A would be deemed converted to common stock in the event such conversion would result in a liquidation payment greater than its liquidation preference.

Conversion

The shares of Series A are convertible into an equal number of shares of common stock, at the option of the holder, subject to certain anti-dilution adjustments. Each share of Series A is automatically converted into common stock upon, (a) the closing of the sale of shares of common stock to the public in a firm-commitment underwritten public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, resulting in at least $50.0 million of gross proceeds to the Company, after deducting the underwriting discounts and commissions, and certain other conditions, or (b) the vote of the holders of at least 60% of the outstanding shares of Series A, voting together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis.

Voting Rights

The holder of each share of Series A is entitled to one vote for each share of common stock into which it would convert and has protective voting provisions related to certain matters including material changes to the corporate structure, capitalization and the incurrence of certain corporate obligations, among other issues. In addition, the Series A is entitled to elect certain members of the board of directors.

Common Stock Issuances

In July 2024, the Company issued 5,000,000 shares of common stock to related party investors for cash proceeds of $5,000. The Company concluded the issuance date fair value of the common stock was $14.5 million and recognized the $14.5 million discount as other income (expense) in the accompanying statement of operations and comprehensive loss. No other goods or services were exchanged in this transaction.

5. Income Taxes

The Company's pretax net loss for the period from January 1, 2024 to August 19, 2024 was generated solely in the United States. A reconciliation of the income tax expense computed at the U.S. federal statutory income tax rate to the Company's income tax expense is as follows (in thousands):

	Period from January 1, 2024 to August 19, 2024
Tax computed at federal statutory rate	$ (8,291)
Non-deductible stock charges	4,625
Financing costs	41
Change in valuation allowance	3,625
	$ —

The Company is subject to taxation in the United States and various state jurisdictions. The Company has not been notified that it is under examination in any jurisdiction.

6. Subsequent Events

The Company has completed an evaluation of all subsequent events through March 16, 2026, the date the financial statements were issued, to ensure these financial statements include appropriate disclosure of events both recognized in the financial statements and events that occurred but were not recognized in the financial statements. The Company has concluded that no subsequent event has occurred that requires disclosure except as described in Note 1 above.

AGREEMENT AND PLAN OF MERGER AND REORGANIZATION

THIS AGREEMENT AND PLAN OF MERGER AND REORGANIZATION (this “Agreement”) is made and entered into as of March 1, 2026, by and among RALLYBIO CORPORATION, a Delaware corporation (“Parent”), FARMINGTON MERGER SUB, INC., a Delaware corporation and wholly-owned subsidiary of Parent (“Merger Sub”), and CANDID THERAPEUTICS, INC., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”). Certain capitalized terms used in this Agreement are defined in Exhibit A.

RECITALS

A. Parent and the Company intend to effect a merger of Merger Sub with and into the Company (the “Merger”) in accordance with this Agreement and the DGCL. Upon consummation of the Merger, Merger Sub will cease to exist and the Company will become a wholly-owned subsidiary of Parent.

B. The Parties intend that the Merger qualify as a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code, and by executing this Agreement, the Parties hereby adopt a “plan of reorganization” within the meaning of Treasury Regulations Sections 1.368-2(g) and 1.368-3(a).

C. The Parent Board has unanimously (i) determined that the Contemplated Transactions are fair to, advisable and in the best interests of Parent and its stockholders, (ii) authorized, approved and declared advisable this Agreement and the Contemplated Transactions, including the issuance of shares of Parent Common Stock to the stockholders of the Company pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, the change of control of Parent and other actions contemplated by this Agreement, and (iii) determined to recommend, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, that the stockholders of Parent vote to approve the Parent Stockholder Matters.

D. The Merger Sub Board has unanimously (i) determined that the Contemplated Transactions are fair to, advisable, and in the best interests of Merger Sub and its sole stockholder, (ii) authorized, approved and declared advisable this Agreement and the Contemplated Transactions, and (iii) determined to recommend, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, that Parent, as the sole stockholder of Merger Sub, votes to adopt this Agreement and thereby approve the Contemplated Transactions.

E. The Company Board has unanimously (i) determined that the Contemplated Transactions are fair to, advisable and in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders, (ii) authorized, approved and declared advisable this Agreement and the Contemplated Transactions, and (iii) determined to recommend, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, that the stockholders of the Company vote to approve the Company Stockholder Matters.

F. Concurrently with the execution and delivery of this Agreement and as a condition and inducement to Parent’s willingness to enter into this Agreement, (a) the Company Signatories (solely in their capacity as stockholders of the Company), which represent the Required Company Stockholder Vote, are executing support agreements in favor of Parent in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit B-1 (the “Company Stockholder Support Agreement”), and (b) the officers, directors and stockholders of the Company listed in Section A-1 of the Company Disclosure Schedule (the “Company Lock-Up Signatories”) (solely in their capacity as stockholders of the Company) are executing lock-up agreements in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit C (the “Company Lock-Up Agreement”).

G. Concurrently with the execution and delivery of this Agreement and as a condition and inducement to the Company’s willingness to enter into this Agreement, the officers, directors and certain stockholders of Parent listed in Section A-1 of the Parent Disclosure Schedule (solely in their capacity as stockholders of Parent) are executing support agreements in favor of the Company in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit B-2 (the “Parent Stockholder Support Agreement”).

H. It is expected that, subject to Section 4.5, within seven (7) Business Days after the Registration Statement is declared effective by the SEC, stockholders of the Company holding no less than the Required Company Stockholder Vote will execute and deliver an action by written consent in a form to be mutually agreed by Parent and the Company (each, a “Company Stockholder Written Consent” and collectively, the “Company Stockholder Written Consents”).

I. Concurrently with the execution and delivery of this Agreement, certain investors have executed a Subscription Agreement by and among the Company and the Persons named therein (representing an aggregate commitment no less than the Concurrent Investment Amount), pursuant to which such Persons have agreed to purchase the number of shares of Company Common Stock set forth therein immediately prior to the Effective Time in connection with the Concurrent Financing (the “Subscription Agreement”).

AGREEMENT

The Parties, intending to be legally bound, agree as follows:

Section 1. DESCRIPTION OF TRANSACTION

1.1 The Merger. Upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, at the Effective Time, Merger Sub shall be merged with and into the Company, and the separate existence of Merger Sub shall cease. The Company will continue as the surviving corporation in the Merger (the “Surviving Corporation”).

1.2 Effects of the Merger. The Merger shall have the effects set forth in this Agreement, the Certificate of Merger and in the applicable provisions of the DGCL. As a result of the Merger, the Company will become a wholly-owned subsidiary of Parent.

1.3 Closing; Effective Time. Unless this Agreement is earlier terminated pursuant to the provisions of Section 9.1, the consummation of the Merger (the “Closing”) shall take place remotely on the second (2nd) Business Day following the satisfaction or waiver of the last to be satisfied or waived of the conditions set forth in Sections 6, 7 and 8 (other than those conditions that by their nature are to be satisfied at or immediately prior to the Closing, but subject to the satisfaction or waiver of each of such conditions), or at such other time, date and place as Parent and the Company may mutually agree in writing. The date on which the Closing actually takes place is referred to as the “Closing Date.” At the Closing, the Parties shall cause the Merger to be consummated by executing and filing with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware a certificate of merger with respect to the Merger, satisfying the applicable requirements of the DGCL and in a form reasonably acceptable to Parent and the Company (the “Certificate of Merger”). The Merger shall become effective at the time of the filing of such Certificate of Merger with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware or at such later time as may be specified in such Certificate of Merger with the consent of Parent and the Company (the time as of which the Merger becomes effective being referred to as the “Effective Time”).

1.4 Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws; Directors and Officers. At the Effective Time:

(a) the certificate of incorporation of the Surviving Corporation shall be amended and restated in its entirety to read identically to the certificate of incorporation of Merger Sub as in effect immediately prior to the Effective Time, until thereafter amended as provided by the DGCL and such certificate of incorporation; provided, however, that at or immediately prior to the Effective Time, the Surviving Corporation shall file an amendment to its certificate of incorporation to change the name of the Surviving Corporation to Candid Operating Company, Inc., or such other name as shall be mutually agreed upon by Parent and the Company prior to filing such amendment;

(b) the certificate of incorporation of Parent shall be identical to the certificate of incorporation of Parent immediately prior to the Effective Time, until thereafter amended as provided by the DGCL and such certificate of incorporation; provided, however, that at or immediately prior to the Effective Time, Parent shall file an amendment to its certificate of incorporation (the “Parent Charter Amendment”) to (i) change the name of Parent to “Candid Therapeutics, Inc.”; (ii) effect the Nasdaq Reverse Split (the “Reverse Stock Split Proposal”); (iii) subject to the approval of the Authorized Share Increase Proposal, effect the Authorized Share Increase; and (iv) make such other changes as shall be mutually agreed upon by Parent and the Company prior to filing such amendment;

(c) the bylaws of the Surviving Corporation shall be amended and restated in their entirety to read identically to the bylaws of Merger Sub as in effect immediately prior to the Effective Time (except that the name of the Surviving Corporation in such bylaws shall reflect the name identified in Section 1.4\(a\)), until thereafter amended as provided by the DGCL and such bylaws;

(d) the Parties shall act in compliance with Section 5.11 (including, to the extent necessary, procuring the resignation or removal of any directors or officers of Parent immediately prior to the Effective Time) so that, as of the Effective Time, the directors and officers of Parent, each to hold office in accordance with the certificate of incorporation and bylaws of Parent, shall consist of the Persons set forth in Section 5.11 after giving effect to the provisions of Section 5.11, or such other Persons as shall be designated by the Company in its sole discretion; and

(e) the directors and officers of the Surviving Corporation, each to hold office in accordance with the certificate of incorporation and bylaws of the Surviving Corporation, shall be the directors and officers of Merger Sub.

1.5 Conversion of Shares.

(a) At the Effective Time, by virtue of the Merger and without any further action on the part of Parent, Merger Sub, the Company or any stockholder of the Company or Parent:

(i) any shares of Company Capital Stock held as treasury stock by the Company or held or owned by Parent, Merger Sub or any Subsidiary of Parent or the Company immediately prior to the Effective Time shall be canceled and retired and shall cease to exist, and no consideration shall be delivered in exchange therefor;

(ii) subject to Section 1.5\(c\), each share of Company Capital Stock outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time (excluding shares of Company Capital Stock to be canceled pursuant to Section 1.5\(a\)\(i\), shares of Company Common Stock issued in the Concurrent Financing to be converted pursuant to Section 1.5\(a\)\(iii\) and Dissenting Shares), shall be automatically converted solely into the right to receive a number of shares of Parent Common Stock equal to the Exchange Ratio; and

(iii) subject to Section 1.5\(c\), the Company Common Stock issued in the Concurrent Financing shall be converted solely into the right to receive a number of shares of Parent Common Stock equal to the amount of Concurrent Financing Merger Shares multiplied by the percentage of the Concurrent Financing Proceeds represented by the applicable stockholder’s investment in the Concurrent Financing, as set forth on the Allocation Certificate.

(b) If any shares of Company Capital Stock outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time are unvested or are subject to a repurchase option or a risk of forfeiture under any applicable restricted stock purchase agreement or other similar agreement with the Company, then the shares of Parent Common Stock issued in exchange for such shares of Company Capital Stock at the Effective Time will to the same extent be unvested and subject to the same repurchase option or risk of forfeiture, and such shares of Parent Common Stock shall accordingly be marked with appropriate legends. The Company shall take all actions that may be necessary to ensure that, from and after the Effective Time, Parent is entitled to exercise any such repurchase option or other right set forth in any such restricted stock purchase agreement or other agreement in accordance with its terms.

(c) No fractional shares of Parent Common Stock shall be issued in connection with the Merger, and no certificates or scrip for any such fractional shares shall be issued. Any holder of Company Capital Stock who would otherwise be entitled to receive a fraction of a share of Parent Common Stock (after aggregating all fractional shares of Parent Common Stock issuable to such holder) shall receive from Parent, in lieu of such fractional share: (i) one share of Parent Common Stock if the aggregate amount of fractional shares of Parent Common Stock such holder of Company Capital Stock would otherwise be entitled to is equal to or exceeds 0.50; or (ii) no shares of Parent Common Stock if the aggregate amount of fractional shares of Parent Common Stock such holder of Company Capital Stock would otherwise be entitled to is less than 0.50, with no cash being paid for any fractional share eliminated by such rounding.

(d) All Company Options outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time under the Company Benefit Plan shall be treated in accordance with Section 5.5\(a\).

(e) Each share of common stock, $0.0001 par value per share, of Merger Sub issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall be converted into and exchanged for one validly-issued, fully-paid and nonassessable share of common stock, $0.0001 par value per share, of the Surviving Corporation. Each stock certificate or book-entry share of Merger Sub evidencing ownership of any such shares shall, as of the Effective Time, evidence ownership of such shares of common stock of the Surviving Corporation.

(f) If, between the time of calculating the Exchange Ratio and the Effective Time, the outstanding shares of Company Capital Stock or Parent Common Stock shall have been changed into, or exchanged for, a different number of shares or a different class, by reason of any stock dividend, subdivision, reclassification, recapitalization, split (including the Nasdaq Reverse Split to the extent such split has not been previously taken into account in calculating the Exchange Ratio), combination or exchange of shares or other like change, the Exchange Ratio shall, to the extent necessary, be equitably adjusted to reflect such change to the extent necessary to provide the holders of Company Capital Stock, Parent Common Stock and Company Options with the same economic effect as contemplated by this Agreement prior to such stock dividend, subdivision, reclassification, recapitalization, split (including the Nasdaq Reverse Split), combination or exchange of shares or other like change; provided, however, that nothing herein will be construed to permit the Company or Parent to take any action with respect to Company Capital Stock or Parent Common Stock, respectively, that is prohibited or not expressly permitted by the terms of this Agreement.

1.6 Calculation of Parent Net Cash.

(a) For the purposes of this Agreement, the “Anticipated Closing Date” shall be the date, as agreed upon by Parent and the Company at least fifteen (15) calendar days prior to the Parent Stockholders’ Meeting, to be the anticipated date for Closing. At least five (5) Business Days prior to the Parent Stockholders’ Meeting, Parent shall deliver to the Company a schedule (the “Net Cash Schedule”) setting forth Parent’s estimated calculation of Parent Net Cash, including each component thereof (the “Net Cash Calculation”) as of the Anticipated Closing Date prepared and certified by Parent’s Chief Financial Officer (or if there is no Chief Financial Officer, the principal accounting officer of Parent). Parent shall make available to the Company the work papers and back-up materials used or useful in preparing the Net Cash Schedule (including, with respect to Transaction Expenses, estimated final invoices and current accounts receivable from each advisor to Parent) and, as reasonably requested by the Company, Parent’s accountants and counsel at reasonable times and upon reasonable notice.

(b) Within three (3) Business Days after delivery of the Net Cash Schedule (the “Response Date”), the Company will have the right to dispute any part of the Net Cash Schedule by delivering a written notice to that effect to Parent (a “Dispute Notice”). Any Dispute Notice shall identify in reasonable detail the nature of any proposed revisions to the Net Cash Calculation.

(c) If on or prior to the Response Date, the Company (i) notifies Parent in writing that it has no objections to the Net Cash Calculation or (ii) fails to deliver a Dispute Notice as provided in Section 1.6\(h\), then the Net Cash Calculation as set forth in the Net Cash Schedule shall be deemed to have been finally determined for purposes of this Agreement and to represent Parent Net Cash as of the Anticipated Closing Date for purposes of this Agreement.

(d) If the Company delivers a Dispute Notice on or prior to the Response Date, then Representatives of both Parties shall promptly meet and attempt in good faith to resolve the disputed item(s) and negotiate an agreed-upon determination of Parent Net Cash, which agreed upon Parent Net Cash amount shall be deemed to have been finally determined for purposes of this Agreement and to represent Parent Net Cash as of the Anticipated Closing Date for purposes of this Agreement.

(e) If Parent and the Company are unable to negotiate an agreed-upon determination of Parent Net Cash as of the Anticipated Closing Date pursuant to Section 1.6\(d\) within three (3) calendar days after delivery of the Dispute Notice (or such other period as Parent and the Company may mutually agree upon), then Parent and the Company shall jointly select an independent auditor of recognized national standing (the “Accounting Firm”) to resolve any remaining disagreements as to the Net Cash Calculation. Parent shall promptly deliver to the Accounting Firm the work papers and back-up materials used in preparing the Net Cash Schedule, and Parent and the Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the Accounting Firm to make its determination within ten (10) calendar days of accepting its selection. The Company and Parent shall be afforded the opportunity to present to the Accounting Firm any material related to the unresolved disputes and to discuss the issues with the Accounting Firm; provided, however, that no such presentation or discussion shall occur without the presence of a Representative of each of the Company and Parent. The determination of the Accounting Firm shall be limited to the disagreements submitted to the Accounting Firm. The determination of the amount of Parent Net Cash made by the Accounting Firm shall be final and binding upon the Parties and shall be deemed to have been finally determined for purposes of this Agreement and to represent Parent Net Cash as of the Anticipated Closing Date for purposes of this Agreement, and the Parties shall delay the Closing until the resolution of the matters described in this Section 1.6\(e\). The fees and expenses of the Accounting Firm shall be allocated between Parent and the Company in the same proportion that the disputed amount of Parent Net Cash that was unsuccessfully disputed by such Party (as finally determined by the Accounting Firm) bears to the total disputed amount of Parent Net Cash. If this Section 1.6\(e\) applies as to the determination of Parent Net Cash as of the Anticipated Closing Date described in Section 1.6\(a\), upon resolution of the matter in accordance with this Section 1.6\(e\), the Parties shall not be required to determine Parent Net Cash again even though the Closing Date may occur later than the Anticipated Closing Date, except that either Party may request a re-determination of Parent Net Cash if the Closing Date is more than five (5) Business Days after the Anticipated Closing Date.

1.7 Contingent Value Right. Prior to the Effective Time, Parent shall declare a distribution (the “Pre-Closing Distribution”) to holders of (a) Parent Common Stock, (b) Pre-Funded Warrants (c) Parent restricted stock units and (d) In the Money Parent Options of one contingent value right (each, a “CVR”) for each outstanding (i) share of Parent Common Stock, (ii) Pre-Funded Warrant, (iii) Parent restricted stock units and (iv) In the Money Parent Option held by such holder as of the close of business on the record date described below, each representing the right to receive contingent payments upon the occurrence of certain events set forth in, and subject to and in accordance with the terms and conditions of, the Contingent Value Rights Agreement in the form attached hereto as Exhibit D, to be entered into between Parent and Computershare Trust Company, N.A. (the “Rights Agent”), with such revisions thereto requested by the Rights Agent that are not, individually or in the aggregate, materially detrimental to the holders of CVRs and reasonably acceptable to the Company and Parent (the “CVR Agreement”). The record date for the Pre-Closing Distribution shall be the last Business Day prior to the day on which the Effective Time occurs; provided that the Pre-Closing Distribution may be conditioned upon the occurrence of the Effective Time. In connection with the Pre-Closing Distribution, Parent shall cause the CVR Agreement to be duly authorized, executed and delivered by Parent and the Rights Agent.

1.8 Closing of the Company’s Transfer Books. At the Effective Time: (a) all shares of Company Capital Stock outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall be treated in accordance with Section 1.5(a), and all holders of certificates or book-entry shares representing shares of Company Capital Stock that were outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall cease to have any rights as stockholders of the Company; and (b) the stock transfer books of the Company shall be closed with respect to all shares of Company Capital Stock outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time. No further transfer of any such shares of Company Capital Stock shall be made on such stock transfer books after the Effective Time. If, after the Effective Time, a valid certificate previously representing any shares of Company Capital Stock outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time (a “Company Stock Certificate”) is presented to the Exchange Agent or to the Surviving Corporation, such Company Stock Certificate shall be canceled and shall be exchanged as provided in Sections 1.5 and 1.9.

1.9 Surrender of Certificates.

(a) Prior to the Closing Date, Parent and the Company shall enter into an exchange agent agreement with Computershare Trust Company, N.A. (the “Exchange Agent”), in a form reasonably acceptable to the Company. At the Effective Time, Parent shall deposit with the Exchange Agent: (i) evidence of book-entry shares representing the Parent Common Stock issuable pursuant to Section 1.5(a); and (ii) cash sufficient to make payments in lieu of fractional shares in accordance with Section 1.5(c). The Parent Common Stock and cash amounts so deposited with the Exchange Agent, together with any dividends or distributions received by the Exchange Agent with respect to such shares, are referred to collectively as the “Exchange Fund.”

(b) Promptly after the Effective Time, the Parties shall cause the Exchange Agent to deliver to the Persons who were record holders of shares of Company Capital Stock that were converted into the right to receive the Merger Consideration instructions for effecting the surrender of any Company Stock Certificates, or uncertificated shares of Company Capital Stock, in exchange for shares of Parent Common Stock. Upon surrender of a Company Stock Certificate or other reasonable evidence of the ownership of uncertificated Company Capital Stock to the Exchange Agent for exchange, together with such other documents as may be reasonably required by the Exchange Agent or Parent (including a properly completed IRS Form W-9 or the appropriate version of IRS Form W-8, as applicable): (A) the holder of such Company Capital Stock shall be entitled to receive in exchange therefor book-entry shares representing the Merger Consideration (in a number of whole shares of Parent Common Stock) that such holder has the right to receive pursuant to the provisions of Section 1.5(a) (and cash in lieu of any fractional share of Parent Common Stock pursuant to the provisions of Section 1.5(c)); and (B) such Company Stock Certificate so surrendered shall be canceled. Until surrendered as contemplated by this Section 1.9(b), each Company Stock Certificate shall be deemed, from and after the Effective Time, to represent only the right to receive book-entry shares of Parent Common Stock representing the Merger Consideration (and cash in lieu of any fractional share of Parent Common Stock). If any Company Stock Certificate shall have been lost, stolen or destroyed, Parent may, in its discretion and as a condition precedent to the delivery of any shares of Parent Common Stock, require the owner of such lost, stolen or destroyed Company Stock Certificate to provide an applicable affidavit with respect to such Company Stock Certificate and post a bond indemnifying Parent against any claim suffered by Parent related to the lost, stolen or destroyed Company Stock Certificate as Parent may reasonably request. In the event of a transfer of ownership of a Company Stock Certificate that is not registered in the transfer records of the Company, payment of the Merger Consideration may be made to a Person other than the Person in whose name such Company Stock Certificate so surrendered is registered if such Company Stock Certificate shall be properly endorsed or otherwise be in proper form for transfer and the Person requesting such payment shall pay any transfer or other Taxes required by reason of the transfer or establish to the reasonable satisfaction of Parent that such Taxes have been paid or are not applicable. The Merger Consideration and any dividends or other distributions as are payable pursuant to Section 1.9(c) shall be deemed to have been in full satisfaction of all rights pertaining to Company Capital Stock formerly represented by such Company Stock Certificates.

(c) No dividends or other distributions declared or made with respect to Parent Common Stock with a record date on or after the Effective Time shall be paid to the holder of any unsurrendered Company Stock Certificate with respect to the shares of Parent Common Stock that such holder has the right to receive in the Merger until such holder surrenders such Company Stock Certificate or provides an affidavit of loss, theft or destruction in lieu thereof in accordance with this Section 1.9 together with such other documents as may be reasonably required by the Exchange Agent or Parent (at which time (or, if later, on the applicable payment date) such holder shall be entitled, subject to the effect of applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar Laws, to receive all such dividends and distributions, without interest).

(d) Any portion of the Exchange Fund that remains undistributed to holders of Company Capital Stock as of the date that is one (1) year after the Closing Date shall be delivered to Parent upon demand, and any holders of Company Stock Certificates who have not theretofore surrendered their Company Stock Certificates in accordance with this Section 1.9 shall thereafter look only to Parent for satisfaction of their claims for Parent Common Stock, cash in lieu of fractional shares of Parent Common Stock and any dividends or distributions with respect to shares of Parent Common Stock.

(e) No Party to this Agreement shall be liable to any holder of any Company Capital Stock or to any other Person with respect to any shares of Parent Common Stock (or dividends or distributions with respect thereto) or for any cash amounts delivered to any public official pursuant to any applicable abandoned property Law, escheat Law or similar Law.

1.10 Appraisal Rights.

(a) Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary, shares of Company Capital Stock that are outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time and which are held by stockholders who have exercised and perfected appraisal rights for such shares of Company Capital Stock in accordance with the DGCL (collectively, the “Dissenting Shares”) shall not be converted into or represent the right to receive the Merger Consideration described in Section 1.5 attributable to such Dissenting Shares. Such stockholders shall be entitled to receive payment of the appraised value of such shares of Company Capital Stock held by them in accordance with the DGCL, unless and until such stockholders fail to perfect or effectively withdraw or otherwise lose their appraisal rights under the DGCL. All Dissenting Shares held by stockholders who shall have failed to perfect or shall have effectively withdrawn or lost their right to appraisal of such shares of Company Capital Stock under the DGCL (whether occurring before, at or after the Effective Time) shall thereupon be deemed to be converted into and to have become exchangeable for, as of the Effective Time, the right to receive the Merger Consideration, without interest, attributable to such Dissenting Shares upon their surrender in the manner provided in Sections 1.5 and 1.9.

(b) The Company shall give Parent prompt written notice of any demands by dissenting stockholders received by the Company, withdrawals of such demands and any other instruments served on the Company and any material correspondence received by the Company in connection with such demands, and Parent shall have the right to participate in all negotiations and proceedings with respect to such demands. The Company shall not, except with Parent’s prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), make any payment with respect to, or settle or offer to settle, any such demands, or approve any withdrawal of any such demands or agree to do any of the foregoing.

1.11 Further Action. If, at any time after the Effective Time, any further action is determined by the Surviving Corporation to be necessary or desirable to carry out the purposes of this Agreement or to vest the Surviving Corporation with full right, title and possession of and to all rights and property of the Company, then the officers and directors of the Surviving Corporation shall be fully authorized, and shall use their and its commercially reasonable efforts (in the name of the Company, in the name of Merger Sub, in the name of the Surviving Corporation and otherwise) to take such action.

1.12 Withholding. The Parties and the Exchange Agent shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from the consideration otherwise payable pursuant to this Agreement to any holder of Company Capital Stock or any other Person such amounts as such Party or the Exchange Agent reasonably determines it is required to deduct and withhold under the Code or any other Law with respect to the making of such payment. To the extent that amounts are so deducted and withheld and paid to the appropriate Governmental Body, such deducted and withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes of this Agreement as having been paid to the Person in respect of whom such deduction and withholding were made.

Section 2. REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF THE COMPANY

Except as set forth in the corresponding section or subsection of the disclosure letter delivered by the Company to Parent (the “Company Disclosure Schedule”) (it being agreed that (i) the disclosure of any information in a particular section or subsection of the Company Disclosure Schedule shall be deemed disclosure of such information with respect to any other section or subsection of this Agreement to which the relevance of such information is readily apparent on its face and (ii) where applicable, references to the Company in this Section 2 shall include the Company’s Subsidiaries), the Company represents and warrants to Parent and Merger Sub as follows:

2.1 Organization, Standing and Power

(a) The Company (i) is a corporation duly incorporated, validly existing and in good standing under the Laws of Delaware, (ii) has all requisite corporate or similar power and authority to own, lease and operate its properties and to carry on its business as now being conducted and (iii) is duly qualified or licensed to do business and is in good standing in each jurisdiction in which the nature of its business or the ownership, leasing or operation of its properties makes such qualification or licensing necessary, except in the case of clause (iii), where the failure to be so qualified or licensed or in good standing, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Company Material Adverse Effect.

(b) The Company has previously made available to Parent true and complete copies of the Company’s Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation (the “Company Charter”) and Bylaws (the “Company Bylaws”), in each case as amended to the date of this Agreement, and each as so delivered is in full force and effect. The Company is not in violation in any material respects of any provision of the Company Charter or Company Bylaws.

2.2 Capital Stock

(a) The authorized capital stock of the Company as of the date of this Agreement consists of (i) 574,000,000 shares of Company Common Stock, 141,521,816 of which have been issued and are outstanding as of the date hereof, and (ii) 367,005,749 shares of Company Preferred Stock, of which 105,000,000 shares are designated as Series A-1 Preferred Stock, all of which are issued and outstanding, 89,999,985 shares are designated as Series A-2 Preferred Stock, all of which are issued and outstanding, and 172,005,764 shares are designated as Company Series B Preferred Stock, all of which are issued and outstanding as of the date hereof. As of the date hereof, no shares of Company Common Stock were held by the Company in its treasury. All outstanding shares of capital stock of the Company are, and all shares reserved for issuance will be, when issued, duly authorized, validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and not subject to any preemptive rights. The Company does not have outstanding any bonds, debentures, notes or other obligations having the right to vote (or convertible into, or exchangeable or exercisable for, securities having the right to vote) with the stockholders of the Company on any matter. Except as set forth above in this Section 2.2(a), as of the date hereof, there are no outstanding (A) shares of capital stock or other voting securities or equity interests of the Company, (B) securities of the Company convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for shares of capital stock of the Company or other voting securities or equity interests of the Company, (C) stock appreciation rights, “phantom” stock rights, performance units, interests in or rights to the ownership or earnings of the Company or other equity equivalent or equity-based awards or rights, (D) subscriptions, options, warrants, calls, commitments, Contracts or other rights to acquire from the Company, or obligations of the Company to issue, any shares of capital stock of the Company, voting securities, equity interests or securities convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for capital stock or other voting securities or equity interests of the Company or rights or interests described in the preceding clause (C), or (E) obligations of the Company to repurchase, redeem or otherwise acquire any such securities or to issue, grant, deliver or sell, or cause to be issued, granted, delivered or sold, any such securities. There are no stockholder agreements, voting trusts or other agreements or understandings to which the Company is a party or of which the Company has knowledge with respect to the holding, voting, registration, redemption, repurchase or disposition of, or that restrict the transfer of, any capital stock or other voting securities or equity interests of the Company.

(b) Section 2.2(b) of the Company Disclosure Schedule sets forth a true and complete list, as of the date hereof, of all holders of rights to purchase or receive shares of Company Common Stock or similar rights (collectively, “Company Stock Awards”), indicating as applicable, with respect to each Company Stock Award then outstanding, the type of award (e.g., incentive stock option, non-statutory stock option, restricted stock unit, etc.), the number of shares of Company Common Stock subject to such Company Stock Award, the name of the plan under which such Company Stock Award was granted, the date of grant, exercise or purchase price, vesting schedule, payment schedule (if different from the vesting schedule) and expiration thereof. Each Company Option was granted with a per share exercise price that was not less than the fair market value of a share of Company Common Stock on the date such Company Option was granted and is exempt from the requirements of Section 409A of the Code. The Company has made available to Parent a true and complete copy of the forms of all award agreements evidencing outstanding Company Stock Awards. The Company does not sponsor, maintain or administer any employee or director stock option, stock purchase or equity compensation plan or arrangement other than the Company Benefit Plans. As of the date hereof, the Company is under no obligation to issue shares of Company Common Stock pursuant to any employee or director stock option, stock purchase or equity compensation plan or arrangement, other than in connection with the exercise of outstanding Company Stock Awards.

2.3 Subsidiaries. Section 2.3 of the Company Disclosure Schedule sets forth a true and complete list of each Subsidiary of the Company, including its jurisdiction of incorporation or formation. Each of the Company’s Subsidiaries (a) is an entity duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the Laws of the jurisdiction of its organization, (b) has all requisite corporate or similar power and authority to own, lease and operate its properties and to carry on its business as now being conducted and (c) is duly qualified or licensed to do business and is in good standing in each jurisdiction in which the nature of its business or the ownership, leasing or operation of its properties makes such qualification or licensing necessary, except in the case of clause (c), where the failure to be so qualified or licensed or in good standing, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Company Material Adverse Effect. All outstanding shares of capital stock and other voting securities or equity interests of each such Subsidiary are owned, directly or indirectly, by the Company, free and clear of all Encumbrances other than Permitted Encumbrances of the Company and its Subsidiaries. Except for the capital stock of, or other equity or voting interests in, its Subsidiaries, the Company does not own, directly or indirectly, any equity, membership interest, partnership interest, joint venture interest, or other equity or voting interest in, or any interest convertible into, exercisable or exchangeable for any of the foregoing, nor is it under any current or prospective obligation to form or participate in, provide funds to, make any loan, capital contribution, guarantee, credit enhancement or other investment in any Person. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has, at any time, been a general partner of, or has otherwise been liable for any of the debts or other obligations of, any general partnership, limited partnership or other Entity.

2.4 Authority.

(a) The Company has all necessary corporate power and authority to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement and, subject to the receipt of the Required Company Stockholder Vote, to consummate the Contemplated Transactions. The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by the Company and the consummation by the Company of the Contemplated Transactions have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of the Company and no other corporate proceedings on the part of the Company are necessary to approve this Agreement or to consummate the Merger and the other Contemplated Transactions, subject, in the case of the consummation of the Merger, to the receipt of the Required Company Stockholder Vote. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Company and, assuming the due authorization, execution and delivery by Parent and Merger Sub, constitutes a valid and binding obligation of the Company, enforceable against the Company in accordance with its terms (subject to the Enforceability Exceptions).

(b) The Company Board, by unanimous written consent duly adopted resolutions (i) determining that the terms of this Agreement, the Merger and the other Contemplated Transactions are fair to and in the best interests of the Company's stockholders, (ii) approving and declaring advisable this Agreement and the Contemplated Transactions, including the Merger, (iii) directing that this Agreement be submitted to the stockholders of the Company for adoption, and (iv) resolving to recommend that the Company's stockholders vote in favor of the adoption of this Agreement and the Contemplated Transactions, including the Merger, which resolutions have not been subsequently rescinded, modified or withdrawn in any way.

(c) The affirmative vote (or written consent) of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of (i) Company Preferred Stock, voting together as a single class on an as-converted to Company Common Stock basis (which majority shall include (A) the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Company Series B Preferred Stock, exclusively and as a separate class on an as-converted to Company Common Stock basis and (B) the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Company Series A Preferred Stock, together as a single class on an as-converted to Company Common Stock basis), (ii) Company Common Stock, voting together as a single class, and (iii) Company Capital Stock, voting as a single class on an as converted to Company Common Stock basis (the "Required Company Stockholder Vote") and the Investor Agreement Termination Consent, are the only votes of the holders of any class or series of the Company Capital Stock or other Company securities required in connection with the consummation of the Merger and the other Contemplated Transactions (except with respect to the Concurrent Financing). Other than the Required Company Stockholder Vote and the Investor Agreement Termination Consent (and except with respect to the Concurrent Financing), no vote of the holders of any class or series of the Company's capital stock or other securities is required in connection with the consummation of any of the Contemplated Transactions to be consummated by the Company.

2.5 No Conflict: Consents and Approvals

(a) Subject to obtaining the Required Company Stockholder Vote, the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by the Company does not, and the consummation of the Merger and the other Contemplated Transactions and compliance by the Company with the provisions hereof will not, contravene, conflict with, or result in any violation or breach of, or default (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) under, or give rise to a right of, or result in, termination, cancellation, modification or acceleration of any obligation or to the loss of a benefit under, or result in the creation of any pledge, claim, lien, charge, option, right of first refusal, encumbrance or security interest of any kind or nature whatsoever (including any limitation on voting, sale, transfer or other disposition or exercise of any other attribute of ownership) (collectively, "Encumbrances") in or upon any of the properties, assets or rights of the Company under, or give rise to any increased, additional, accelerated or guaranteed rights or entitlements under, or require any consent, waiver or approval of any Person pursuant to, any provision of (i) the Company Charter or Company Bylaws, (ii) any Company Material Contract to which the Company is a party or by which the Company or any of its properties or assets may be bound or (iii) subject to the governmental filings and other matters referred to in Section 2.5(b), any material Law applicable to the Company or by which the Company or any of its properties or assets may be bound, except as, in the case of clauses (ii) and (iii), as individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Company Material Adverse Effect.

(b) No consent, approval, order or authorization of, or registration, declaration, filing with or notice to, any Governmental Body is required by or with respect to the Company in connection with the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by the Company or the consummation by the Company of the Merger and the other Contemplated Transactions or compliance with the provisions hereof, except for (i) the filing with the SEC of such reports under Section 13(a) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, as may be required in connection with this Agreement and the Contemplated Transactions, (ii) such other filings and reports as may be required pursuant to the applicable requirements of the Securities Act, the Exchange Act and any other applicable state or federal securities, takeover and “blue sky” laws or Nasdaq, (iii) the filing of the Certificate of Merger with the Delaware Secretary of State as required by the DGCL, (iv) as may be required under applicable Antitrust Laws and (v) such other consents, approvals, orders, authorizations, registrations, declarations, filings or notices the failure of which to be obtained or made, individual or in the aggregate, have not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Company Material Adverse Effect.

2.6 Financial Statements.

(a) The Company has made available to Parent true and complete copies of (i) the audited financial statements of the Company as of December 31, 2024 and (ii) the unaudited financial statements of the Company as of September 30, 2025 (the “Company Financial Statements”). The Company Financial Statements (i) are correct and complete in all material respects and have been prepared in accordance with the books and records of the Company, (ii) have been prepared in accordance with GAAP (except for, in the case of unaudited statements, the absence of related notes) and (iii) fairly present, in all material respects, the financial position, of the Company as at the dates thereof and the Company’s respective consolidated results of operations and cash flows for the periods then ended, except as otherwise noted therein and subject, in the case of any unaudited financial statements, to normal and recurring year-end adjustments that will not, individually or in the aggregate, be material.

(b) The books of account and financial records of the Company are maintained in accordance with sound accounting practice.

(c) The Company maintains a system of internal accounting controls consistent with the practices of similarly situated private companies designed to provide reasonable assurance that: (i) transactions are executed in accordance with management’s general or specific authorizations, (ii) transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of the financial statements of the Company in conformity with GAAP and to maintain accountability of the Company’s assets, (iii) access to the Company’s assets is permitted only in accordance with management’s general or specific authorization, and (iv) the recorded accountability for the Company’s assets is compared with the existing assets at regular intervals and appropriate action is taken with respect to any differences. The Company maintains internal control over financial reporting that provides reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with GAAP.

(d) Since the Company’s inception, the Company has not identified (i) any significant deficiency or material weakness in the design or operation of the system of internal accounting controls utilized by the Company, (ii) any fraud, whether or not material, that involves the Company, the Company’s management, other employees or advisors who have a role in the preparation of financial statements or the internal accounting controls utilized by the Company or (iii) any claim or allegation regarding any of the foregoing.

2.7 No Undisclosed Liabilities. As of the date hereof, the Company does not have any liabilities or obligations of any nature, whether accrued, absolute, contingent or otherwise, known or unknown, whether due or to become due and whether or not required to be recorded or reflected on a balance sheet under GAAP, except (a) to the extent accrued or reserved against in the balance sheet of the Company as of September 30, 2025 (the “Company Balance Sheet”), (b) for liabilities and obligations incurred by the Company in the Ordinary Course of Business since the date of the Company Balance Sheet, (c) liabilities and obligations related to the performance of obligations of the Company under Company Material Contracts, (d) liabilities and obligations incurred in connection with the Contemplated Transactions and (e) liabilities and obligations that are not material to the Company.

2.8 Absence of Certain Changes or Events. From the date of the Company Balance Sheet to the date hereof, except in connection with the execution of this Agreement and the consummation of the Contemplated Transactions, (x) the Company has conducted its business only in the Ordinary Course of Business; (y) there has not been any change, event or development or prospective change, event or development that, individually or in the aggregate, has had or would reasonably be expected to have a Company Material Adverse Effect; and (z) the Company has not:

(a) (i) declared, set aside or paid any dividends on, or made any other distributions (whether in cash, stock or property) in respect of any of its capital stock or other equity interests, (ii) purchased, redeemed or otherwise acquired shares of capital stock or other equity interests of the Company or any options, warrants, or rights to acquire any such shares or other equity interests, or (iii) split, combined, reclassified or otherwise amended the terms of any of its capital stock or other equity interests or issued or authorized the issuance of any other securities in respect of, in lieu of or in substitution for shares of its capital stock or other equity interests;

(b) amended or otherwise changed, or authorized or proposed to amend or otherwise change, its certificate of incorporation or by-laws (or similar organizational documents) except as required to give effect to the Contemplated Transactions;

(c) adopted or entered into a plan of complete or partial liquidation, dissolution, restructuring, recapitalization or reorganization or effected or been a party to any merger, consolidation, share exchange, business combination, recapitalization, reclassification of shares, stock split, reverse stock split or similar transaction except, for the avoidance of doubt, the Contemplated Transactions;

(d) entered into any material transaction in connection with the Contemplated Transactions;

(e) acquired any material asset or sold, leased or otherwise irrevocably disposed of any of its material assets or properties, or granted any Encumbrance (other than Permitted Encumbrances) with respect to such assets or properties;

(f) sold, assigned, transferred, licensed, sublicensed or otherwise disposed of any material Intellectual Property owned or purported to be owned by, assigned to, or exclusively licensed by, the Company, except for the grant of non-exclusive licenses to such Intellectual Property in the Ordinary Course of Business;

(g) changed its financial or Tax accounting methods, principles or practices, except insofar as may have been required by a change in GAAP or applicable Law, or revalued any of its material assets; or

(h) agreed, resolved or committed to do any of the foregoing.

2.9 Litigation. As of the date hereof, there is no Legal Proceeding (or basis therefor) pending or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened against the Company, its properties or assets, or any present or former officer, director or employee of the Company in such individual's capacity as such, other than any Legal Proceeding that (a) does not involve an amount in controversy in excess of $1,000,000 and (b) does not seek material injunctive or other nonmonetary relief. Neither the Company nor any of its properties or assets is subject to any outstanding judgment, order, injunction, rule or decree of any Governmental Body. There is no Legal Proceeding pending or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened seeking to prevent, hinder, modify, delay or challenge the Merger or any of the other Contemplated Transactions.

2.10 Compliance with Laws. The Company is, and since July 1, 2024 has been, in compliance in all material respects with all Laws applicable to its businesses, operations, properties or assets. The Company has not received, since July 1, 2024, a notice or other written communication alleging or relating to a possible material violation of any Law applicable to its businesses, operations, properties, assets or Company Products (as defined below). The Company has in effect all material permits, licenses, variances, exemptions, applications, approvals, clearances, authorizations, registrations, formulary listings, consents, operating certificates, franchises, orders and approvals (collectively, “Permits”) of all Governmental Bodies necessary for it to own, lease or operate its properties and assets and to carry on its businesses and operations as now conducted, and there has occurred no material violation of, material default (with or without notice or lapse of time or both) or other event that would give others any right of revocation, non-renewal, adverse modification or cancellation of, with or without notice or lapse of time or both, any such Permit, nor would any such revocation, non-renewal, adverse modification or cancellation result from the consummation of the Contemplated Transactions.

2.11 Health Care Regulatory Matters.

(a) The Company, and to the knowledge of the Company, each of its directors, officers, employees, agents (while acting in such capacity), contract manufacturers, contract research organizations and clinical investigators is, and since July 1, 2024 has been, in material compliance with all health care Laws to the extent applicable to the Company or any of its product candidates or activities, including, but not limited to the following: (i) the Federal Food, Drug & Cosmetic Act; (ii) the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. § 201 et seq.); (iii) fraud and abuse Laws such as the federal Anti-Kickback Statute (42 U.S.C. § 1320a-7b(b)); the civil monetary penalties law (42 U.S.C. § 1320a-7a); the civil False Claims Act (31 U.S.C. § 3729 et seq.); the administrative False Claims Law (42 U.S.C. § 1320a-7b(a)); the Criminal Health Care Fraud Statute (18 U.S.C. § 1347); (iv) the exclusion laws (42 U.S.C. § 1320a-7); and (v) any Laws regulating the ownership, testing, research, development, manufacture, quality, safety, accreditation, packaging, storage, use, distribution, labeling, promotion, sale, offer for sale, import, export or disposal of pharmaceutical products, including licensure required for any such activities (“Health Care Laws”). The Company has not engaged in any voluntary disclosure or self-disclosure to any Governmental Body concerning any alleged, potential or actual non-compliance with any applicable Health Care Laws, and to the Company’s knowledge no such self-disclosure to any Governmental Body is warranted. To the knowledge of the Company, there are no other facts or circumstances that reasonably would be expected to give rise to any material liability under any Health Care Laws.

(b) The Company is not party to any corporate integrity agreements, monitoring agreements, consent decrees, settlement orders, or similar agreements with or imposed by any Governmental Body.

(c) All applications, notifications, submissions, information and reports submitted in connection with any and all requests for a Permit from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (“FDA”) or other Governmental Body relating to products that are regulated as drugs, biologics, or other medical products under Health Care Laws, including the drug and biological candidates, compounds or products being researched, tested, stored, developed, labeled, manufactured, packed and/or distributed by the Company (“Company Products”), including, without limitation, investigational new drug applications, when submitted to the FDA or other Governmental Body were true, complete and correct in all material respects as of the date of submission and any necessary or required updates, changes, corrections or modification to such applications, submissions, information and data have been submitted to the FDA or other Governmental Body. The Company does not have knowledge of any facts or circumstances that would be reasonably likely to lead to the revocation, suspension, limitation, or cancellation of a material Permit required under Health Care Laws.

(d) All preclinical studies and clinical trials conducted by or, to the knowledge of the Company, on behalf of the Company have been since July 1, 2024, and if still pending are being, conducted in material compliance with research protocols and all applicable Health Care Laws. To the Company’s knowledge, no clinical trial conducted by or on behalf of the Company has been conducted using any clinical investigators who have been disqualified, debarred or excluded from healthcare programs. Since July 1, 2024, no clinical trial conducted by or on behalf of the Company has been terminated or suspended prior to completion, and no clinical investigator who has participated or is participating in, or institutional review board that has or has had jurisdiction over, a clinical trial conducted by or on behalf of the Company has placed a partial or full clinical hold order on, or otherwise terminated, delayed or suspended, such a clinical trial at a clinical research site based on an actual or alleged lack of safety or efficacy of any Company Product or a failure to conduct such clinical trial in compliance with applicable Health Care Laws.

(e) All manufacturing operations conducted by or, to the knowledge of the Company, for the benefit of the Company have been and are being conducted in material compliance with all Permits and all applicable Health Care Laws.

(f) The Company has not received any written communication from any Governmental Body that relates to an alleged material violation of any Health Care Laws, including any notification of any pending or threatened claim, suit, proceeding, hearing, enforcement, investigation, arbitration, import detention or refusal, FDA Warning Letter or Untitled Letter, or any similar action by a Governmental Body relating to any Health Care Laws.

(g) There have been no seizures, withdrawals, recalls, detentions, or suspensions of manufacturing, testing, or distribution relating to the Company Products required or requested by a Governmental Body, or other notice of action relating to an alleged lack of safety, efficacy, or regulatory compliance of the Company Products, or any adverse experiences relating to the Company Products that have been reported to FDA or another Governmental Body ("Company Safety Notices"), and, to the knowledge of the Company, there are no facts or circumstances that reasonably would be expected to give rise to a Company Safety Notice.

(h) Neither the Company, nor, to the knowledge of the Company, any officer, employee or agent of the Company has made an untrue statement of a material fact or fraudulent or misleading statement to a Governmental Body, failed to disclose a material fact required to be disclosed to a Governmental Body, or committed an act, made a statement, or failed to make a statement that would reasonably be expected to provide a basis for the FDA to invoke its policy respecting the "Fraud, Untrue Statements of Material Facts, Bribery, and Illegal Gratuities" Final Policy set forth in 56 Fed. Reg. 46191 (September 10, 1991) and any amendments thereto (the "FDA Ethics Policy"). Neither the Company, nor, to the knowledge of the Company, any officer, employee or agent of the Company is or has been under investigation resulting from any allegedly untrue, fraudulent, misleading, or false statement or omission, including data fraud, or had any action pending or threatened relating to the FDA Ethics Policy.

(i) All reports, documents, claims, Permits and notices required to be filed, maintained or furnished to the FDA or any Governmental Body by the Company have been so filed, maintained or furnished, except where failure to file, maintain or furnish such reports, documents, claims, Permits or notices has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Company Material Adverse Effect. All such reports, documents, claims, Permits and notices were true and complete in all material respects on the date filed (or were corrected in or supplemented by a subsequent filing).

(j) Neither the Company nor, to the knowledge of the Company, any officer, employee, or agent of the Company has been convicted of any crime or engaged in any conduct that has resulted, or would reasonably be expected to result, in listing on the General Services Administrative System for Award Management or other published list of parties excluded from federal procurement programs and non-procurement programs or in debarment under applicable Law or, including, without limitation, 21 U.S.C. § 335a, or exclusion under 42 U.S.C. § 1320a-7, or any other statutory provision or similar law applicable in other jurisdictions in which the Company Products are sold or intended to be sold. Neither the Company nor, to the knowledge of the Company, any officer, employee or agent of the Company, has been excluded from participation in any federal health care program or convicted of any crime or engaged in any conduct for which such Person could be excluded from participating in any federal health care program under Section 1128 of the Social Security Act of 1935, or any similar Health Care Law or program.

(k) The Company is not, and has not been, a "business associate," "covered entity," or "subcontractor" under Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (42 U.S.C. § 1320d et seq.), as amended by the Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act (42 U.S.C. § 17921 et seq.) (“HIPAA”) as those terms are defined in 42 C.F.R. § 160.103 and, since July 1, 2024, has been in material compliance with any Privacy Laws applicable to health information, including HIPAA, in the Company’s possession to the extent applicable to the Company.

2.12 Benefit Plans.

(a) Section 2.12(a) of the Company Disclosure Schedule contains a true and complete list of each material Company Benefit Plan (other than (i) form equity award agreements and awards made pursuant to such form(s), (ii) offer letters, employment agreements or contracts that may be terminated by the Company without notice and do not contain any severance, change in control, retention bonus, or vesting acceleration provisions, and (iii) consultant contracts or arrangements that may be terminated by the Company with no more than 30 days’ notice without penalty). For purposes of this Agreement, “Company Benefit Plan” means each “employee benefit plan” (within the meaning of section 3(3) of ERISA, whether or not subject to ERISA), and each stock purchase, stock option, phantom stock or other equity-based plan or award, severance, employment, change-in-control, fringe benefit, bonus, incentive, deferred compensation, supplemental retirement, health, life, or disability insurance, dependent care and each other employee benefit and compensation plan, agreement, program, policy or other arrangement, whether or not subject to ERISA, whether formal or informal, written or oral, legally binding or not, under which any current or former employee, director or individual consultant of the Company (or any of their dependents) has any present or future right to compensation or benefits or the Company sponsors or maintains, is making contributions to or has any present or future liability or obligation (contingent or otherwise) or with respect to which it is otherwise bound. The Company has provided or made available to Parent a current, accurate and complete copy of each material Company Benefit Plan, or if such Company Benefit Plan is not in written form, a written summary of all of the material terms of such Company Benefit Plan.

(b) Neither the Company nor any member of its Controlled Group (defined as any organization which is, or was at the applicable time, a member of a controlled, affiliated or otherwise related group of entities within the meaning of Code Section 414(b), (c), (m) or (o)) has ever sponsored, maintained, contributed to or been required to contribute to or incurred any liability (contingent or otherwise) with respect to: (i) a “multiemployer plan” (within the meaning of ERISA section 3(37)), (ii) an “employee pension benefit plan,” within the meaning of Section 3(2) of ERISA (“Pension Plan”) that is subject to Title IV of ERISA or Section 412 of the Code, or (iii) a Pension Plan which is a “multiple employer plan” as defined in Section 413 of the Code.

(c) With respect to the Company Benefit Plans:

(i) each Company Benefit Plan complies in all material respects with its terms and with the applicable provisions of ERISA and the Code and all other applicable legal requirements;

(ii) each Company Benefit Plan intended to be qualified under Section 401(a) of the Code is so qualified and has received a favorable determination, advisory and/or opinion letter, as applicable, from the IRS that it is so qualified and nothing has occurred to the knowledge of the Company since the date of such letter that would reasonably be expected to result in the loss of the sponsor’s ability to rely upon such letter or of the qualified status of such Company Benefit Plan;

(iii) there is no material Legal Proceeding (including any investigation, audit or other administrative proceeding) by the Department of Labor, the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (the “PBGC”), the IRS or any other Governmental Body or by any plan participant or beneficiary pending, or to the knowledge of the Company, threatened, relating to the Company Benefit Plans (other than routine claims for benefits);

(iv) none of the Company Benefit Plans currently provides or represents any liability to provide post-termination or retiree welfare benefits to any person for any reason, except as may be required by

Section 601 et seq. of ERISA and Section 4980B(b) of the Code or other applicable similar law regarding health care coverage continuation (collectively, “COBRA”), and none of the Company or any members of its Controlled Group has any liability to provide post-termination or retiree welfare benefits to any person or ever represented, promised or contracted to any employee or former employee of the Company (either individually or to Company employees as a group) or any other person that such employee(s) or other person would be provided with post-termination or retiree welfare benefits, except to the extent required by statute or except with respect to a contractual obligation to reimburse any premiums such person may pay in order to obtain health coverage under COBRA;

(v) each Company Benefit Plan is subject exclusively to United States Law; and

(vi) the execution and delivery of this Agreement and the consummation of the Merger will not, either alone or in combination with any other event, (A) entitle any current or former employee, officer, director or individual consultant of the Company to severance pay or any other termination payment or other compensation or benefits (B) accelerate the time of payment or vesting, or increase the amount of or otherwise enhance any benefit due to any such employee, officer, director or consultant or (C) result in a requirement to fund or set aside assets with respect to any Company Benefit Plan.

(d) The Company is not a party to any agreement, Contract, arrangement or plan (including any Company Benefit Plan) that may reasonably be expected to result, separately or in the aggregate, in connection with the Contemplated Transactions (either alone or in combination with any other events), in the payment of any “parachute payments” within the meaning of Section 280G of the Code. There is no agreement, plan or other arrangement to which the Company is a party or by which the Company is otherwise bound to compensate any person in respect of Taxes or other liabilities incurred with respect to Section 409A or 4999 of the Code.

2.13 Labor and Employment Matters.

(a) The Company is and, since July 1, 2024, has been, in compliance in all material respects with all applicable Laws relating to labor and employment, including those relating to employment practices, terms and conditions of employment, collective bargaining, disability, immigration, health and safety, wages, hours and benefits, non-discrimination in employment, workers’ compensation, unemployment compensation, equal employment opportunity, discrimination, harassment, employee and contractor classification, and continuation coverage with respect to group health plans. Since July 1, 2024, there has not been, and as of the date of this Agreement there is not pending or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened, any labor dispute, work stoppage, labor strike or lockout against the Company by employees.

(b) No employee of the Company is covered by an effective or pending collective bargaining agreement or similar labor agreement. To the knowledge of the Company, there has not been any activity on behalf of any labor union, labor organization or similar employee group to organize any employees of the Company. There are no (i) unfair labor practice charges or complaints against the Company pending before the National Labor Relations Board or any other labor relations tribunal or authority and, to the knowledge of the Company, no such representations, claims or petitions are threatened, (ii) representation claims or petitions pending before the National Labor Relations Board or any other labor relations tribunal or authority or (iii) grievances or pending arbitration proceedings against the Company that arose out of or under any collective bargaining agreement.

(c) To the knowledge of the Company, as of the date hereof, no current officer of the Company intends to, terminate his or her employment relationship with the Company in connection with or as a result of the Merger.

(d) Since the Company’s inception, (i) the Company has not effectuated a “plant closing” (as defined in the Worker Adjustment Retraining and Notification Act of 1988 (the “WARN Act”)) affecting any site of employment or one or more facilities or operating units within any site of employment or facility, (ii) there has not occurred a “mass layoff” (as defined in the WARN Act) in connection with the Company affecting any site of employment or one or more facilities or operating units within any site of employment or facility and (iii) the Company has not engaged in layoffs or employment terminations sufficient in number to trigger application of any similar state, local or foreign law. The Company currently properly classifies and since its inception has classified its employees as exempt or nonexempt in accordance with applicable overtime laws, and no person treated as an independent contractor or consultant by the Company since its inception should have been classified as an employee under applicable Law, except where such action would not, individually or in the aggregate, result in the Company incurring a material liability.

(e) With respect to any current or former employee, officer, consultant or other service provider of the Company, there are no Legal Proceedings against the Company pending, or to the Company’s knowledge, threatened to be brought or filed, in connection with the employment or engagement of any current or former employee, officer, consultant or other service provider of the Company, including, without limitation, any claim relating to employment discrimination, harassment, retaliation, equal pay, employment classification or any other employment-related matter arising under applicable Laws, except where such action would not, individually or in the aggregate, result in the Company incurring a material liability.

(f) Except with respect to any Company Benefit Plan (which subject is addressed in Section 2.12 above), the execution of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions set forth in or contemplated by this Agreement will not result in any breach or violation of, or cause any payment to be made under, any applicable Laws respecting labor and employment or any collective bargaining agreement to which the Company is a party.

(g) Since July 1, 2024, (i) no allegations of workplace sexual harassment, discrimination or other material misconduct have been made, initiated, filed or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened against the Company or any of its respective current or former directors, officers or senior-level management employees, (ii) to the knowledge of the Company, no incidents of any such workplace sexual harassment, discrimination or other material misconduct have occurred, and (iii) the Company has not entered into any settlement agreement related to allegations of sexual harassment, discrimination or other material misconduct by any of its directors, officers or employees described in clause (i).

2.14 Environmental Matters.

(a) Except as, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Company Material Adverse Effect, (i) the Company has conducted its businesses in compliance with all, and has not violated any, applicable Environmental Laws; (ii) the Company has obtained all Permits of all Governmental Bodies and any other Person that are required under any Environmental Law; (iii) there has been no release of any Hazardous Substance by the Company or any other Person in any manner that has given or would reasonably be expected to give rise to any remedial or investigative obligation, corrective action requirement or liability of the Company under applicable Environmental Laws; (iv) the Company has not received any claims, notices, demand letters or requests for information (except for such claims, notices, demand letters or requests for information the subject matter of which has been resolved prior to the date of this Agreement) from any federal, state, local, foreign or provincial Governmental Body or any other Person asserting that the Company is in violation of, or liable under, any Environmental Law; (v) no Hazardous Substance has been disposed of, arranged to be disposed of, released or transported in violation of any applicable Environmental Law, or in a manner that has given rise to, or that would reasonably be expected to give rise to, any liability under any Environmental Law, in each case, on, at, under or from any current or former properties or facilities owned or operated by the Company or as a result of any operations or activities of the Company at any location and, to the knowledge of the Company, Hazardous Substances are not otherwise present at or about any such properties or facilities in amount or condition that has resulted in or would reasonably be expected to result in liability to the Company under any Environmental Law; and (vi) neither the Company nor any of its respective properties or facilities are subject to, or are threatened to become subject to, any liabilities relating to any suit, settlement, court order, administrative order, regulatory requirement, judgment or claim asserted or arising under any Environmental Law or any agreement relating to environmental liabilities.

(b) As used herein, “Environmental Law” means any Law relating to (i) the protection, preservation or restoration of the environment (including air, surface water, groundwater, drinking water supply, surface and subsurface soils and strata, wetlands, plant and animal life or any other natural resource) or (ii) the exposure to, or the use, storage, recycling, treatment, generation, transportation, processing, handling, labeling, production, release or disposal of Hazardous Substances.

(c) As used herein, “Hazardous Substance” means any substance listed, defined, designated, classified or regulated as a waste, pollutant or contaminant or as hazardous, toxic, radioactive or dangerous or any other term of similar import under any Environmental Law, including but not limited to petroleum.

2.15 Taxes.

(a) The Company and each of its Subsidiaries has (i) timely filed all income and other material Tax Returns required to be filed by or on behalf of it (taking into account any applicable extensions thereof) and all such Tax Returns are true, accurate and complete in all material respects; and (ii) timely paid in full (or caused to be timely paid in full) all material Taxes that are due and payable, whether or not such Taxes were shown as due on such Tax Returns.

(b) All material Taxes not yet due and payable by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries as of the date of the Company Balance Sheet have been, in all material respects, properly accrued in accordance with GAAP on the Company Balance Sheet, and such Company Balance Sheet reflects an adequate reserve (in accordance with GAAP) for all material Taxes accrued but unpaid by the Company and each of its Subsidiaries through the date of the Company Balance Sheet. Since the date of the Company Balance Sheet, neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has incurred, individually or in the aggregate, any liability for Taxes outside the Ordinary Course of Business.

(c) Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has executed any waiver of any statute of limitations on, or extended the period for the assessment or collection of, any material amount of Tax, in each case that has not since expired.

(d) No material audits or other investigations, proceedings, claims, assessments or examinations by any Governmental Body (each, a “Tax Action”) with respect to Taxes or any Tax Return of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries are presently in progress or have been asserted, threatened or proposed in writing, other than any such assertion, threat or proposal that has been settled or withdrawn. No deficiencies or claims for a material amount of Taxes have been claimed, proposed, assessed or asserted in writing against the Company or any of its Subsidiaries by a Governmental Body, other than any such claim, proposal, assessment or assertion that has been satisfied by payment in full, settled or withdrawn.

(e) The Company and each of its Subsidiaries have timely withheld or deducted all material Taxes required to have been withheld or deducted from payments made (or deemed made) to their employees, independent contractors, creditors, shareholders and other third parties and, to the extent required, such material Taxes have been timely paid to the relevant Governmental Body.

(f) Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has engaged in a “listed transaction” as set forth in Treasury Regulations §1.6011-4(b).

(g) Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries (i) is a party to or bound by, nor has any liability pursuant to, any Tax sharing, allocation, indemnification or similar agreement or obligation, other than any such agreement or obligation which is a customary commercial agreement or obligation entered into in the Ordinary Course of Business with vendors, lessors, lenders or the like the primary purpose of which is not Taxes (each, an “Ordinary Course Agreement”); (ii) is or has ever been a member of a group (other than a group the common parent of which is the Company) filing a consolidated, combined, affiliated, unitary or similar income Tax Return; (iii) has any liability for the Taxes of any Person (other than the Company and its Subsidiaries) pursuant to Treasury Regulations § 1.1502-6 (or any similar provision of state, local or non-U.S. Law) as a transferee or successor, by Contract (other than Ordinary Course Agreements) or otherwise by operation of Law; and (iv) is or has ever been treated as a resident for any income Tax purpose, or as subject to Tax by virtue of having a permanent establishment, an office or fixed place of business, in any country other than the country in which it was or is organized.

(h) No private-letter rulings, technical advice memoranda, or similar material agreements or rulings related to Taxes have been requested in writing, entered into or issued by any taxing authority with respect to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries which rulings remain in effect.

(i) Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries will be required to include any material item of income in, or exclude any material item of deduction from, taxable income for any taxable period (or portion thereof) ending after the Closing Date as a result of (i) a change in method of accounting requested or initiated, or use of improper method of accounting, on or prior to the Closing Date, (ii) a “closing agreement” as described in Section 7121 of the Code (or any similar provision of state, local or foreign Tax Law) executed on or prior to the Closing Date, (iii) an installment sale or open-transaction disposition made on or prior to the Closing Date, (iv) any deferred intercompany gain or excess-loss account described in Treasury Regulations under Section 1502 of the Code (or any corresponding or similar provision of state, local or foreign income Tax Law), (v) an election under Section 965 of the Code, or (vi) the application of Section 951 or 951A of the Code with respect to income earned or recognized or payments received prior to the Closing.

(j) There are no Encumbrances for Taxes upon any of the assets of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries other than Encumbrances described in clause (i) of the definition of Permitted Encumbrances.

(k) Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has distributed stock of another Person or has had its stock distributed by another Person, in a transaction (or series of transactions) that was purported or intended to be governed in whole or in part by Section 355 or 361 of the Code.

(l) Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has been a United States real property holding corporation, as defined in Section 897(c)(2) of the Code, during the applicable period specified in Section 897(c)(1)(A)(ii) of the Code.

(m) No material claim has been made in writing by any Governmental Body in a jurisdiction where the Company or any of its Subsidiaries has not paid a specific Tax or filed a specific Tax Return that the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is or may be required to pay such Tax or file such Tax Return by such jurisdiction.

(n) Section 2.15(n) of the Company Disclosure Schedule sets forth the entity classification of the Company and each of its Subsidiaries for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has made an election or taken any other action to change its federal and state income tax classification from such classification.

(o) To the Company’s knowledge, the Company has not been, is not, and immediately prior to the Effective Time will not be, treated as an “investment company” within the meaning of Section 368(a)(2)(F) of the Code.

(p) Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has taken any action (or agreed to take any action) nor does it know of any fact or circumstance that would reasonably be expected to prevent or impede the Merger from qualifying for the Intended Tax Treatment.

2.16 Contracts.

(a) Section 2.16(a) of the Company Disclosure Schedule lists the following Contracts (other than Company Benefit Plans and Excepted Contracts) (a) to which the Company is a party; (b) by which the Company or any Intellectual Property owned or purported to be owned by, assigned to, or exclusively licensed by, the Company or any other asset of the Company is or may become bound or under which the Company has, or may become subject to, any obligation; or (c) under which the Company has or may acquire any right or interest, in effect as of the date of this Agreement (all such Contracts, “Company Material Contracts”):

(i) each Contract relating to the disposition or acquisition of material assets or any ownership interest in any entity, except as contemplated hereby, in each case, involving payments in excess of $1,000,000 after the date of this Agreement;

(ii) each Contract relating to any mortgages, indentures, loans, notes or credit agreements, security agreements or other agreements or instruments relating to the borrowing of money or extension of credit in excess of $1,000,000 or creating any material Encumbrances with respect to any assets of the Company or any loans or debt obligations with officers or directors of the Company;

(iii) each Contract requiring payment by or to the Company after the date of this Agreement in excess of $1,000,000 in the aggregate in the current calendar year or any future calendar year pursuant to its express terms relating to: (A) any agreement under which a third party is granted rights related to the sale or distribution of any Company Product (identifying any that contain exclusivity provisions); (B) any agreement (other than a Company Benefit Plan) involving provision of services with respect to any pre-clinical or clinical development activities of the Company; (C) any dealer, distributor, joint marketing, alliance, joint venture, cooperation, or other agreement currently in force under which the Company has continuing obligations to develop or market any product, technology or service, or any agreement pursuant to which the Company has continuing obligations to develop any Intellectual Property that will not be owned, in whole or in part, by the Company; or (D) any Contract under which any third party provides any services relating to the manufacture (in whole or in part) of any Company Product, in each case, except for Contracts entered into in the Ordinary Course of Business;

(iv) each Company In-bound License;

(v) each Company Out-bound License;

(vi) each Contract requiring the payment of any royalty, dividend or similar arrangement based on the revenues or profits of the Company;

(vii) any other Contract that is not terminable at will (with no explicit termination penalty) by the Company and which involves payment or receipt by the Company after the date of this Agreement under any such Contract of more than $1,000,000 in the aggregate, or obligations after the date of this Agreement in excess of $1,000,000 in the aggregate; and

(viii) other than any Contract identified in Section 2.16(a)(i)-(vii), each Contract that would constitute a “material contract” (as such term is defined in Item 601(b)(10) of Regulation S-K under the Securities Act), with respect to the Company (assuming the Company was subject to the requirements of the Exchange Act).

(b) (i) Each Company Material Contract is valid and binding on the Company and to the knowledge of the Company, each other party thereto, and is in full force and effect and enforceable in accordance with its terms; (ii) the Company, and, to the knowledge of the Company, each other party thereto, has performed all material obligations required to be performed by it under each Company Material Contract; and (iii) there is no material default under any Company Material Contract by the Company or, to the knowledge of the Company, any other party thereto, and no event or condition has occurred that constitutes, or, after notice or lapse of time or both, would constitute, a material default on the part of the Company or, to the knowledge of the Company, any other party thereto under any such Company Material Contract, nor has the Company received written notice of any such material default, event or condition. The Company has made available to Parent true and complete copies of all Company Material Contracts, including all amendments thereto.

2.17 Insurance. The Company is covered by valid and currently effective insurance policies issued in favor of the Company that are customary and adequate for companies of similar size in the industries and locations in which the Company operates. Section 2.17 of the Company Disclosure Schedule sets forth, as of the date hereof, a true and complete list of all material insurance policies issued in favor of the Company, or pursuant to which the Company is a named insured or otherwise a beneficiary, as well as any historic incurrence-based policies still in force. With respect to each such insurance policy, (a) such policy is in full force and effect and all premiums due thereon have been paid, (b) the Company is not in breach or default, and has not taken any action or failed to take any action which (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) would constitute such a breach or default, or would permit termination or modification of, any such policy and (c) to the knowledge of the Company, no insurer issuing any such policy has been declared insolvent or placed in receivership, conservatorship or liquidation. No notice of cancellation or termination has been received with respect to any such policy, nor, to the knowledge of the Company, will any such cancellation or termination result from the consummation of the Contemplated Transactions.

2.18 Properties.

(a) The Company has good and valid title to, or in the case of leased property and leased tangible assets, a valid leasehold interest in, all of its real properties and tangible assets that are necessary for the Company to conduct its business as currently conducted, free and clear of all Encumbrances other than (i) Encumbrances for current Taxes and assessments not yet past due or the amount or validity of which is being contested in good faith by appropriate proceedings, (ii) minor liens that have arisen in the Ordinary Course of Business and that do not (in any case or in the aggregate) materially detract from the value of the assets or properties subject thereto or materially impair the operations of the Company; (iii) statutory liens to secure obligations to landlords, lessors or renters under leases or rental agreements; (iv) deposits or pledges made in connection with, or to secure payment of, workers' compensation, unemployment insurance or similar programs mandated by Law; (v) mechanics', workmen's, repairmen's, warehousemen's and carriers' Encumbrances arising in the Ordinary Course of Business, (vi) non-exclusive licenses of rights to Intellectual Property granted in the Ordinary Course of Business, which do not (in any case or in the aggregate) materially detract from the value of the rights to Intellectual Property subject thereto, and (vii) any such matters of record, Encumbrances and other imperfections of title that do not, individually or in the aggregate, materially impair the continued ownership, use and operation of the assets to which they relate in the business of the Company as currently conducted ("Permitted Encumbrances"). Except as has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Company Material Adverse Effect on the Company, the tangible personal property currently used in the operation of the business of the Company is in good working order (reasonable wear and tear excepted).

(b) The Company has complied with the terms of all leases to which it is a party, and all such leases are in full force and effect, except for any such noncompliance or failure to be in full force and effect that, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Company Material Adverse Effect. The Company enjoys peaceful and undisturbed possession under all such leases, except for any such failure to do so that, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Company Material Adverse Effect.

(c) Section 2.18(c) of the Company Disclosure Schedule sets forth a true and complete list of (i) all real property owned by the Company and (ii) all real property leased for the benefit of the Company.

(d) This Section 2.18 does not relate to intellectual property, which is the subject of Section 2.19.

2.19 Intellectual Property.

(a) Section 2.19\(a\) of the Company Disclosure Schedule sets forth a true and complete list of all (i) material patents and patent applications; (ii) material trademark registrations and applications; and (iii) material copyright registrations and applications, in each case owned by the Company (collectively, “Company Registered IP”), and a true and complete list of all domain names owned or exclusively licensed by the Company. Except as, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Company Material Adverse Effect (A) all of the Company Registered IP is subsisting and, in the case of any Company Registered IP that is registered or issued and to the knowledge of the Company, valid and enforceable, (B) no Company Registered IP is involved in any interference, reissue, derivation, reexamination, opposition, cancellation or similar proceeding and, to the knowledge of the Company, no such action is threatened with respect to any of the Company Registered IP and (C) the Company owns exclusively, free and clear of any and all Encumbrances (other than Permitted Encumbrances), all Company Owned IP, including all Intellectual Property created on behalf of the Company by its employees or independent contractors.

(b) Section 2.19\(b\) of the Company Disclosure Schedule accurately identifies all Contracts pursuant to which any material Intellectual Property is licensed to the Company by any third party or any third party has granted to the Company a covenant not to sue with respect to any material Intellectual Property (other than (i) any non-customized software that (A) is so licensed solely in executable or object code form pursuant to a nonexclusive, internal-use software license and other Intellectual Property associated with such software and (B) is not incorporated into any of the Company’s products, (ii) any Intellectual Property licensed on a nonexclusive basis where the license is incidental to the primary purpose of the relevant Contract or the provision of services to the Company, (iii) any material transfer agreements, research agreements, clinical trial agreements, services agreements, non-disclosure agreements or confidentiality agreements, or off the-shelf software licenses or generally-available patent license agreements and (iv) agreements between Company and its employees in Company’s standard form thereof) (each a “Company In-bound License,” and the underlying Intellectual Property, the “Company Licensed IP”).

(c) Section 2.19\(c\) of the Company Disclosure Schedule accurately identifies each Contract pursuant to which any Person has been granted any license or covenant not to sue under, any Company Owned IP or Company Licensed IP (other than (i) any material transfer agreements, research agreements, clinical trial agreements, services agreements, non-disclosure agreements or confidentiality agreements and (ii) any Company Owned IP or Company Licensed IP nonexclusively licensed in the Ordinary Course of Business and that does not grant any commercial rights to any Company Product) (each a “Company Out-bound License”).

(d) To the knowledge of Company, the Company Owned IP and the Company Licensed IP constitutes all Intellectual Property necessary for Company to conduct its business as currently conducted; provided, however, that the foregoing representation is not a representation with respect to non-infringement of Intellectual Property.

(e) The Company has taken commercially reasonable measures to maintain the confidentiality of all information that constitutes or constitute a material trade secret of the Company, including requiring all Persons having access thereto to execute written non-disclosure agreements or assume other binding obligations to maintain confidentiality of such information.

(f) Except as, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Company Material Adverse Effect, (i) to the knowledge of the Company, the conduct of the businesses of the Company, including the manufacture, marketing, offering for sale, sale, importation, use or intended use (as currently contemplated) or other disposal of any product as currently sold or under development by the Company, has not infringed, misappropriated or diluted, and does not infringe, misappropriate or dilute, any Intellectual Property of any Person, (ii) the Company has not received any written notice or claim asserting or suggesting that any such infringement, misappropriation, or dilution is or may be occurring or has or may have occurred and (iii) to the knowledge of the Company, no Person is infringing, misappropriating, or diluting in any material respect any Company Registered IP or Company Licensed IP.

(g) Except as, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Company Material Adverse Effect, (i) the Company has taken commercially reasonable steps to protect the confidentiality and security of the computer and information technology systems owned, licensed and used by the Company (the “IT Systems”) and the information and transactions stored or contained therein or transmitted thereby, (ii) to the knowledge of the Company, since July 1, 2024, there has been no unauthorized use, loss, access, transmittal, modification or corruption of any such IT Systems and (iii) since July 1, 2024, there have been no material failures, crashes, viruses, or security breaches (including any unauthorized access to any personally identifiable information) affecting the IT Systems.

(h) Except as, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Company Material Adverse Effect, (i) to the knowledge of the Company, the Company has at all times since July 1, 2024, complied in all material respects with all applicable Laws governing privacy, data protection, and the collection, retention, protection, and use of Personal Information (collectively, “Privacy Laws”) collected, used, or held for use by the Company, (ii) since July 1, 2024, no claims have been received by the Company or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened in writing against the Company alleging the Company violated any applicable Privacy Laws, (iii) neither the Company’s performance of this Agreement nor the Company’s consummation of the Contemplated Transactions will breach or otherwise violate any applicable Privacy Laws and (iv) the Company has taken commercially reasonable steps to protect the Personal Information collected, used or held for use by the Company against unauthorized loss, access, use, modification, disclosure or other misuse.

(i) To the knowledge of the Company, no government funding, facilities or resources of a university, college, other educational institution or research center or funding from third parties was used in the development of the Company Owned IP or, to the knowledge of the Company, Company Licensed IP exclusively licensed to the Company, and no Governmental Body, university, college, other educational institution or research center has, to the knowledge of the Company, any claim or right in or to such Intellectual Property.

(j) The execution, delivery and performance by the Company of this Agreement, and the consummation of the Contemplated Transactions, will not result in the loss of, or give rise to any right of any third party to terminate or modify any of the Company’s rights or obligations under any Company In-bound License or Company Out-bound License.

2.20 State Takeover Statutes. As of the date hereof and at all times on or prior to the Effective Time, the Company Board has taken all actions so that the restrictions applicable to business combinations contained in Section 203 of the DGCL are, and will be, inapplicable to the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the timely consummation of the Merger and the other Contemplated Transactions and will not restrict, impair or delay the ability of Parent or Merger Sub, after the Effective Time, to vote or otherwise exercise all rights as a stockholder of the Company. No other Takeover Statute or any similar anti-takeover provision in the Company Charter or Company Bylaws is, or at the Effective Time will be, applicable to this Agreement, the Merger or any of the other Contemplated Transactions.

2.21 No Rights Plan. There is no stockholder rights plan, “poison pill” anti-takeover plan or other similar device in effect to which the Company is a party or is otherwise bound.

2.22 Related Party Transactions. Since July 1, 2024 through the date of this Agreement, there have been no transactions, agreements, arrangements or understandings between the Company, on the one hand, and the affiliates of the Company, on the other hand, that would be required to be disclosed under Item 404 of Regulation S-K under the Securities Act (assuming the Company was subject to the requirements of the Exchange Act).

2.23 Certain Payments. Neither the Company nor any of its respective directors, officers, employees or, to the Company's knowledge, agents or any other Person acting on its behalf has, directly or indirectly, made any bribes, rebates, payoffs, influence payments, kickbacks, illegal payments, illegal political contributions, or other payments, in the form of cash, gifts, or otherwise, or taken any other action, in violation of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act of 1977, the UK Bribery Act of 2010 or any other anti-bribery or anti-corruption Law (collectively, the "Anti-Bribery Laws"). The Company is not, nor has it been the subject of any investigation or inquiry by any Governmental Body with respect to potential violations of Anti-Bribery Laws.

2.24 Brokers. No broker, investment banker, financial advisor or other Person, other than as set forth on Section 2.24 of the Company Disclosure Schedule, the fees and expenses of which will be paid by the Company or, following the Effective Time, Parent, is entitled to any broker's, finder's, financial advisor's or other similar fee or commission in connection with the Contemplated Transactions based upon arrangements made by or on behalf of the Company or any of its Affiliates.

2.25 Concurrent Financing Compliance.

(a) The Company has delivered to Parent true, correct and complete copies of all definitive agreements related to the Concurrent Financing, including the Subscription Agreement, pursuant to which the Purchasers (as defined in the Subscription Agreement) party thereto (collectively, the "Purchasers") have agreed, subject to the terms and conditions set forth therein, to purchase the number of shares of Company Common Stock set forth therein in connection with the Contemplated Transactions. The Subscription Agreement has not been amended or modified prior to the date of this Agreement and as of the date hereof, no such amendment or modification is contemplated (other than amendments or modifications that are permitted by Section 5.23), and as of the date hereof, the respective obligations and commitments contained in the Subscription Agreement have not been withdrawn or rescinded in any respect.

(b) As of the date hereof, the Subscription Agreement is in full force and effect and is the legal, valid, binding and enforceable obligation of the Company, and, to the knowledge of the Company, each of the Purchasers. There are no conditions precedent or other contingencies related to the funding of the full amount of the Concurrent Financing, other than as expressly set forth in the Subscription Agreement. As of the date hereof, no event has occurred which, with or without notice, lapse of time or both, would reasonably be expected to constitute a default or breach on the part of the Company or, to the knowledge of the Company, any Purchaser under the Subscription Agreement. As of the date hereof, the Company has no reason to believe that any of the conditions to the Concurrent Financing as contemplated by the Subscription Agreement will not be satisfied.

2.26 No Other Representations or Warranties. Except for the representations and warranties contained in Section 3, the Company acknowledges and agrees that none of Parent, Merger Sub or any other Person on behalf of Parent or Merger Sub makes any other express or implied representation or warranty whatsoever, and specifically (but without limiting the generality of the foregoing) that none of Parent, its Subsidiaries or any other Person on behalf of Parent or Merger Sub makes any representation or warranty with respect to any projections or forecasts delivered or made available to the Company or any of its Representatives of future revenues, results of operations (or any component thereof), cash flows or financial condition (or any component thereof) of Parent (including any such projections or forecasts made available to the Company and Representatives in certain "data rooms" or management presentations in expectation of the Contemplated Transactions), and the Company has not relied on any such information or any representation or warranty not set forth in Section 3.

Section 3. REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF PARENT AND MERGER SUB

Except (a) as disclosed in the Parent SEC Documents at least three Business Days prior to the date of this Agreement and that is reasonably apparent on the face of such disclosure to be applicable to the representation and warranty set forth herein (other than any disclosures contained or referenced therein under the captions “Risk Factors,” “Forward-Looking Statements,” “Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk,” and any other disclosures contained or referenced therein of information, factors, or risks that are predictive, cautionary, or forward-looking in nature); or (b) as set forth in the corresponding section or subsection of the disclosure schedule delivered by Parent to the Company immediately prior to the execution of this Agreement (the “Parent Disclosure Schedule”) (it being agreed that (i) the disclosure of any information in a particular section or subsection of the Parent Disclosure Schedule shall be deemed disclosure of such information with respect to any other section or subsection of this Agreement to which the relevance of such information is readily apparent on its face and (ii) where applicable, references to Parent in this Section 3 shall include Parent’s Subsidiaries), each of Parent and the Merger Sub represents and warrants to the Company as follows:

3.1 Organization, Standing and Power.

(a) Each of Parent and Merger Sub is a corporation duly incorporated, validly existing and in good standing under the Laws of Delaware. Each of Parent and Merger Sub (i) has all requisite corporate power and authority to own, lease and operate its properties and to carry on its business as now being conducted and (ii) is duly qualified or licensed to do business and is in good standing in each jurisdiction in which the nature of its business or the ownership, leasing or operation of its properties makes such qualification or licensing necessary, except in the case of clause (ii), where the failure to be so qualified or licensed or in good standing, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect. Since the date of its incorporation, Merger Sub has not engaged in any activities other than activities incident to its formation or in connection with or as contemplated by this Agreement.

(b) Parent has previously made available to the Company true and complete copies of the Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws (or comparable organizational documents) of each of Parent and Merger Sub, and the Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws (or comparable organizational documents) of each other Subsidiary of Parent, in each case, as amended to the date of this Agreement, and each as so delivered is in full force and effect. None of Parent or Merger Sub is in violation in any material respects of any provision of its respective Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws (or comparable organizational documents).

3.2 Capital Stock.

(a) The authorized capital stock of Parent consists of (i) 200,000,000 shares of Parent Common Stock and (ii) 50,000,000 shares of Parent Preferred Stock. As of the close of business on the Reference Date, (i) 5,289,675 shares of Parent Common Stock (excluding treasury shares) were issued and outstanding, (ii) no shares of Parent Common Stock were held by Parent in its treasury, (iii) no shares of Parent Preferred Stock were issued and outstanding, (iv) 1,515,385 shares of Parent Common Stock were reserved for issuance pursuant to Parent’s 2021 Equity Incentive Plan (of which (x) 647,955 shares were subject to outstanding options to purchase shares of Parent Common Stock, (y) no shares were subject to outstanding restricted stock awards of Parent and (z) 33,099 shares were subject to outstanding restricted stock units of Parent), (v) 94,281 shares of Parent Common Stock were reserved for issuance pursuant to Parent’s 2021 Employee Stock Purchase Plan and (vi) 416,673 shares of Parent Common Stock were reserved for issuance upon the exercise of the Pre-Funded Warrants. Except as set forth above in this Section 3.2\(a\), neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries has outstanding any bonds, debentures, notes or other obligations having the right to vote (or convertible into, or exchangeable or exercisable for, securities having the right to vote) with the stockholders of Parent or such Subsidiary on any matter. Except as set forth above in this Section 3.2\(a\) and except for changes since the close of business on the Reference Date resulting from the exercise of any options as described above, as of the Reference Date, there are no outstanding (A) shares of capital stock or other voting securities or equity interests of Parent, (B) securities of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for shares of capital stock of Parent or other voting securities or equity interests of Parent or its Subsidiaries, (C) stock appreciation rights, “phantom” stock rights, performance units, interests in or rights to the ownership or earnings of Parent or its Subsidiaries or other equity-equivalent or equity-based awards or rights, (D) subscriptions, options, warrants, calls, commitments, Contracts or other rights to acquire from Parent or its Subsidiaries, or obligations of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries to issue, any shares of capital stock of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries, voting securities, equity interests or securities convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for capital stock or other voting securities or equity interests of Parent or its Subsidiaries or rights or interests described in the preceding clause (C), or (E) obligations of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries to repurchase, redeem or otherwise acquire any such securities or to issue, grant, deliver or sell, or cause to be issued, granted, delivered or sold, any such securities.

(b) Section 3.2(b) of the Parent Disclosure Schedule sets forth a true and complete list, as of the date hereof, of all holders of rights to purchase or receive shares of Parent Common Stock or similar rights (collectively, “Parent Stock Awards”), indicating as applicable, with respect to each Parent Stock Award then outstanding, the type of award (e.g., incentive stock option, non-statutory stock option, restricted stock unit, etc.), the number of shares of Parent Common Stock subject to such Parent Stock Award, the name of the plan under which such Parent Stock Award was granted, the date of grant, exercise or purchase price, vesting schedule, payment schedule (if different from the vesting schedule) and expiration thereof. Parent has made available to the Company a true and complete copy of the forms of all award agreements evidencing outstanding Parent Stock Awards. Parent does not sponsor, maintain or administer any employee or director stock option, stock purchase or equity compensation plan or arrangement other than the Parent Benefit Plans. Parent is under no obligation to issue shares of Parent Common Stock pursuant to any employee or director stock option, stock purchase or equity compensation plan or arrangement.

(c) The authorized capital stock of Merger Sub consists of 1,000 shares of common stock, par value $0.001 per share, of which 100 shares are issued and outstanding, all of which shares are beneficially owned by Parent.

(d) The shares of Parent Common Stock to be issued pursuant to the Merger will be duly authorized, validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and not subject to any preemptive rights.

(e) To the knowledge of Parent as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing, no “bad actor” disqualifying event described in Rule 506(d)(1)(i)-(viii) of the Securities Act (a “Disqualifying Event”) is applicable to Parent or, to Parent’s knowledge, any Covered Person, except for a Disqualifying Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii-iv) or (d)(3) of the Securities Act is applicable. “Covered Person” means, with respect to Parent as an “issuer” for purposes of Rule 506 promulgated under the Securities Act, any person listed in the first paragraph of Rule 506(d)(1).

3.3 Subsidiaries. Section 3.3 of the Parent Disclosure Schedule sets forth a true and complete list of each Subsidiary of Parent, including its jurisdiction of incorporation or formation. Each of Parent’s Subsidiaries (a) is an entity duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the Laws of the jurisdiction of its organization, (b) has all requisite corporate or similar power and authority to own, lease and operate its properties and to carry on its business as now being conducted and (c) is duly qualified or licensed to do business and is in good standing in each jurisdiction in which the nature of its business or the ownership, leasing or operation of its properties makes such qualification or licensing necessary, except in the case of clause (c), where the failure to be so qualified or licensed or in good standing, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect. All outstanding shares of capital stock and other voting securities or equity interests of each such Subsidiary are owned, directly or indirectly, by Parent, free and clear of all Encumbrances other than Permitted Encumbrances of Parent and its Subsidiaries. Except for the capital stock of, or other equity or voting interests in, its Subsidiaries, Parent does not own, directly or indirectly, any equity, membership interest, partnership interest, joint venture interest, or other equity or voting interest in, or any interest convertible into, exercisable or exchangeable for any of the foregoing, nor is it under any current or prospective obligation to form or participate in, provide funds to, make any loan, capital contribution, guarantee, credit enhancement or other investment in, or assume any liability or obligation of, any Person. Neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries has, at any time, been a general partner of, or has otherwise been liable for any of the debts or other obligations of, any general partnership, limited partnership or other Entity.

3.4 Authority.

(a) Each of Parent and Merger Sub has all necessary corporate power and authority to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement and, subject to the receipt of the Required Parent Stockholder Vote, to consummate the Merger and the other Contemplated Transactions. The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by Parent and Merger Sub and the consummation by Parent and Merger Sub of the Merger and the other Contemplated Transactions have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of Parent and Merger Sub and no other corporate proceedings on the part of Parent or Merger Sub are necessary to approve this Agreement or to consummate the Merger and the other Contemplated Transactions subject to (i) with respect to Parent, receipt of the Required Parent Stockholder Vote and (ii) with respect to Merger Sub, the adoption of this Agreement by Parent in its capacity as sole stockholder of Merger Sub. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by Parent and Merger Sub and, assuming the due authorization, execution and delivery by the Company, constitutes a valid and binding obligation of each of Parent and Merger Sub, enforceable against each of Parent and Merger Sub in accordance with its terms (subject to the Enforceability Exceptions).

(b) The Parent Board, at a meeting duly called and held at which all directors of Parent were present, duly adopted resolutions (i) determining that the terms of this Agreement, the Merger and the other Contemplated Transactions and thereby are fair to, advisable and in the best interests of Parent and its stockholders, (ii) approving and declaring advisable this Agreement and the Contemplated Transactions, including the Merger and the issuance of shares of Parent Common Stock to the stockholders of the Company pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, and (iii) determining to recommend, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, that the stockholders of Parent vote to approve the Parent Stockholder Matters, which resolutions have not been subsequently rescinded, modified or withdrawn in any way. The Merger Sub Board (by unanimous written consent) has: (x) determined that the Contemplated Transactions are fair to, advisable and in the best interests of Merger Sub and its sole stockholder, (y) deemed advisable and approved this Agreement and the Contemplated Transactions and (z) determined to recommend, upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, that the stockholder of Merger Sub vote to adopt this Agreement and thereby approve the Contemplated Transactions.

(c) The affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast is the only vote of the holders of any class or series of Parent Capital Stock necessary to approve the Parent Stockholder Matters (the “Required Parent Stockholder Vote”).

3.5 No Conflict: Consents and Approvals.

(a) Subject to obtaining the Required Parent Stockholder Vote, the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by each of Parent and Merger Sub does not, and the consummation of the Merger and the other Contemplated Transactions and compliance by each of Parent and Merger Sub with the provisions hereof will not, contravene, conflict with, or result in any violation or breach of, or default (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) under, or give rise to a right of, or result in, termination, cancellation, modification or acceleration of any obligation or to the loss of a benefit under, or result in the creation of any Encumbrance in or upon any of the properties, assets or rights of Parent or Merger Sub under, or give rise to any increased, additional, accelerated or guaranteed rights or entitlements under, or require any consent, waiver or approval of any Person pursuant to, any provision of (i) the Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws of Parent or Merger Sub and (ii) any Parent Material Contract to which Parent or Merger Sub is a party by which Parent, Merger Sub or any of their respective properties or assets may be bound, or (iii) subject to the governmental filings and other matters referred to in Section 3.5\(b\), any material Law or any rule or regulation of Nasdaq applicable to Parent or Merger Sub or by which Parent, Merger Sub or any of their respective properties or assets may be bound, except as, in the case of clauses (ii) and (iii), as individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect.

(b) No consent, approval, order or authorization of, or registration, declaration, filing with or notice to, any Governmental Body is required by or with respect to Parent or Merger Sub in connection with the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by Parent or Merger Sub or the consummation by Parent or Merger Sub of the Merger and the other Contemplated Transactions or compliance with the provisions hereof, except for (i) the filing with the SEC of such reports under Section 13(a) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, as may be required in connection with this Agreement and the Contemplated Transactions, (ii) such other filings and reports as may be required pursuant to the applicable requirements of the Securities Act, the Exchange Act and any other applicable state or federal securities, takeover and “blue sky” laws or Nasdaq, (iii) the filing of the Certificate of Merger with the Delaware Secretary of State as required by the DGCL, (iv) as may be required under applicable Antitrust Laws and (v) such other consents, approvals, orders, authorizations, registrations, declarations, filings or notices, the failure of which to be obtained or made, individual or in the aggregate, have not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect.

(c) The Parent Board and the Merger Sub board have taken and will take all actions necessary to ensure that the restrictions applicable to business combinations contained in Section 203 of the DGCL are, and will be, inapplicable to the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and to the consummation of the Contemplated Transactions. No other state takeover statute or similar Law applies or purports to apply to the Merger, this Agreement or any of the other Contemplated Transactions.

3.6 SEC Reports; Financial Statements.

(a) Parent has filed with or furnished to the SEC on a timely basis true and complete copies of all forms, reports, schedules, statements and other documents required to be filed with or furnished to the SEC by Parent since January 1, 2023 (all such documents, together with all exhibits and schedules to the foregoing materials and all information incorporated therein by reference, the “Parent SEC Documents”). As of their respective filing dates (or, if amended or superseded by a filing prior to the date of this Agreement, then on the date of such filing), the Parent SEC Documents complied in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Securities Act, the Exchange Act and the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, as the case may be, including, in each case, the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, and none of the Parent SEC Documents contained any untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading. The certifications and statements required by (i) Rule 13a-14 under the Exchange Act and (ii) 18 U.S.C. §1350 (Section 906 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act) relating to the Parent SEC Documents (collectively, the “Certifications”) are accurate and complete and comply as to form and content with all applicable Laws. As used in this Section 3.6, the term “file” and variations thereof shall be broadly construed to include any manner in which a document or information is furnished, supplied or otherwise made available to the SEC.

(b) The financial statements (including the related notes and schedules thereto) included (or incorporated by reference) in the Parent SEC Documents (i) were prepared in a manner consistent with the books and records of Parent and its Subsidiary, (ii) were prepared in accordance with GAAP (except, in the case of unaudited statements, as permitted by Form 10-Q of the SEC) applied on a consistent basis during the periods involved (except as may be indicated in the notes thereto), (iii) complied as to form in all material respects with applicable accounting requirements and the published rules and regulations of the SEC with respect thereto and (iv) fairly present in all material respects the consolidated financial position of Parent and its Subsidiaries as of the dates thereof and their respective consolidated results of operations and cash flows for the periods then ended (subject, in the case of unaudited statements, to normal and recurring year-end audit adjustments that were not, or are not expected to be, material in amount), all in accordance with GAAP and the applicable rules and regulations promulgated by the SEC. Since January 1, 2023, Parent has not made any change in the accounting practices or policies applied in the preparation of its financial statements, except as required by GAAP, SEC rule or policy or applicable Law. The books and records of Parent and its Subsidiaries have been, and are being, maintained in all material respects in accordance with GAAP (to the extent applicable) and any other applicable legal and accounting requirements and reflect only actual transactions.

(c) Parent has established and maintains disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act). Such disclosure controls and procedures are designed to ensure that information relating to Parent, including its consolidated Subsidiaries, required to be disclosed in Parent's periodic and current reports under the Exchange Act, is made known to Parent's chief executive officer and its chief financial officer by others within those entities to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosures as required under the Exchange Act. The chief executive officer and chief financial officer of Parent have evaluated the effectiveness of Parent's disclosure controls and procedures and, to the extent required by applicable Law, presented in any applicable Parent SEC Document that is a report on Form 10-K or Form 10-Q, or any amendment thereto, its conclusions about the effectiveness of the disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by such report or amendment based on such evaluation.

(d) Parent and its Subsidiaries have established and maintain a system of internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f) under the Exchange Act) which is effective in providing reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of Parent's financial reporting and the preparation of Parent's financial statements for external purposes in accordance with GAAP. Parent has disclosed, based on its most recent evaluation of Parent's internal control over financial reporting prior to the date hereof, to Parent's auditors and audit committee (i) any significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in the design or operation of Parent's internal control over financial reporting which are reasonably likely to adversely affect Parent's ability to record, process, summarize and report financial information and (ii) any fraud, whether or not material, that involves management or other employees who have a significant role in Parent's internal control over financial reporting. A true, correct and complete summary of any such disclosures made by management to Parent's auditors and audit committee is set forth as Section 3.6(d) of Parent Disclosure Schedule. Parent's internal control over financial reporting is effective at the reasonable assurance level and Parent has not identified any material weaknesses in the design or operation of Parent's internal control over financial reporting.

(e) Since January 1, 2023 through the date of this Agreement, (i) neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries nor, to the knowledge of Parent, any director, officer, employee, auditor, accountant or representative of the Parent or any of its Subsidiaries has received or otherwise had or obtained knowledge of any material complaint, allegation, assertion or claim, whether written or oral, regarding the accounting or auditing practices, procedures, methodologies or methods of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries or their respective internal accounting controls, including any material complaint, allegation, assertion or claim that Parent or any of its Subsidiaries has engaged in questionable accounting or auditing practices and (ii) no attorney representing Parent or any of its Subsidiaries, whether or not employed by Parent or any of its Subsidiaries, has reported evidence of a material violation of securities Laws, breach of fiduciary duty or similar violation by Parent or any of its Subsidiaries or any of their respective officers, directors, employees or agents to the Parent Board or any committee thereof or to any director or officer of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries.

(f) As of the date of this Agreement, there are no outstanding or unresolved comments in the comment letters received from the SEC staff with respect to the Parent SEC Documents. To the knowledge of Parent, as of the date of this Agreement, none of the Parent SEC Documents is subject to ongoing review or outstanding SEC comment or investigation. As of the date of this Agreement, Parent has not received any comment letter from the SEC or the staff thereof or any correspondence from Nasdaq or the staff thereof relating to the delisting or maintenance of listing of the Parent Common Stock on Nasdaq that has not previously been disclosed in the Parent SEC Documents.

(g) Neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries is a party to, or has any commitment to become a party to, any joint venture, off-balance sheet partnership or any similar Contract (including any Contract or arrangement relating to any transaction or relationship between or among Parent and any of its Subsidiaries, on the one hand, and any unconsolidated Affiliate, including any structured finance, special-purpose or limited-purpose entity or Person, on the other hand, or any “off balance sheet arrangements” (as defined in Item 303(a) of Regulation S-K under the Exchange Act)), where the result, purpose or intended effect of such Contract is to avoid disclosure of any material transaction involving, or material liabilities of, Parent or any of its Subsidiaries in Parent’s or such Subsidiary’s published financial statements or other Parent SEC Documents.

(h) Parent is in compliance in all material respects with (i) the provisions of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and (ii) the rules and regulations of Nasdaq, in each case, that are applicable to Parent.

(i) No Subsidiary of Parent is required to file any form, report, schedule, statement or other document with the SEC.

(j) Parent has not been and is not currently a “shell company” as defined under Section 12b-2 of the Exchange Act.

(k) Parent is, and since its first date of listing on Nasdaq has been, in compliance in all material respects with the applicable current listing and governance rules and regulations of Nasdaq.

(l) Parent’s auditor has at all times since the date of enactment of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act been: (i) a registered public accounting firm (as defined in Section 2(a)(12) of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act), (ii) to the knowledge of Parent, “independent” with respect to Parent within the meaning of Regulation S-X under the Exchange Act and (iii) to the knowledge of Parent, in compliance with subsections (g) through (l) of Section 10A of the Exchange Act and the rules and regulations promulgated by the SEC and the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board thereunder.

3.7 No Undisclosed Liabilities. As of the date hereof, neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries has any liabilities or obligations of any nature, whether accrued, absolute, contingent or otherwise, known or unknown, whether due or to become due and whether or not required to be recorded or reflected on a balance sheet under GAAP, except (a) to the extent accrued or reserved against in the audited consolidated balance sheet of Parent and its Subsidiaries as at December 31, 2024 included in the Annual Report on Form 10-K filed by Parent with the SEC on March 13, 2025 (without giving effect to any amendment thereto filed on or after the date hereof) (b) for liabilities and obligations incurred by Parent or its Subsidiaries in the Ordinary Course of Business since the date of the Parent Balance Sheet, (c) liabilities and obligations related to the performance of obligations of Parent under Parent Material Contracts, (d) liabilities and obligations incurred in connection with the Contemplated Transactions and (e) liabilities and obligations that are not material to Parent and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole. Parent has no outstanding or accrued financial liability of any kind arising from or in connection with the Contracts set forth on Section 5.12(b) of the Parent Disclosure Schedule.

3.8 Absence of Certain Changes or Events. From September 30, 2025 to the date hereof, except in connection with the execution of this Agreement and the consummation of the Contemplated Transactions, (x) Parent and its Subsidiaries have conducted their business only in the Ordinary Course of Business; (y) there has not been any change, event or development or prospective change, event or development that, individually or in the aggregate, has had or would reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect; and (z) neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries have:

(a) (i) declared, set aside or paid any dividends on, or made any other distributions (whether in cash, stock or property) in respect of, any of its capital stock or other equity interests, except for dividends by a wholly-owned Subsidiary of Parent to its parent, (ii) purchased, redeemed or otherwise acquired shares of capital stock or other equity interests of Parent or its Subsidiary or any options, warrants, or rights to acquire any such shares or other equity interests, or (iii) split, combined, reclassified or otherwise amended the terms of any of its capital stock or other equity interests or issued or authorized the issuance of any other securities in respect of, in lieu of or in substitution for shares of its capital stock or other equity interests;

(b) amended or otherwise changed, or authorized or proposed to amend or otherwise change, its certificate of incorporation or by-laws (or similar organizational documents) except as required to give effect to Contemplated Transactions;

(c) adopted or entered into a plan of complete or partial liquidation, dissolution, restructuring, recapitalization or reorganization or effected or been a party to any merger, consolidation, share exchange, business combination, recapitalization, reclassification of shares, stock split, reverse stock split or similar transaction except, for the avoidance of doubt, the Contemplated Transactions;

(d) formed any Subsidiary or acquired any equity interest or other interest in any other entity or entered into a joint venture with any other entity;

(e) (i) lent money to any Person (other than advances of reasonable business expenses to cover employees and service providers in the Ordinary Course of Business), (ii) incurred or guaranteed any indebtedness for borrowed money, or (iii) guaranteed any debt securities of others;

(f) Other than as required by applicable Law or the terms of any Parent Benefit Plan as in effect on the date of this Agreement: (A) adopted, terminated, established or entered into any Parent Benefit Plan; (B) caused or permitted any Parent Benefit Plan to be amended in any material respect; (C) paid any material bonus or distributed any profit-sharing account balances or similar payment to, or increased the amount of the wages, salary, commissions, benefits or other compensation or remuneration payable to, any of its directors, officers, employees, consultants or independent contractors; (D) awarded any new or increased or amended any existing severance, retention or change-of-control benefits offered to any current, former or new employees, directors, consultants or other Persons or (E) hired, terminated or gave notice of termination (other than for cause) to, any officer, employee, consultant or independent contractor;

(g) entered into any material transaction in connection with the Contemplated Transactions;

(h) acquired any material asset or sold, leased or otherwise irrevocably disposed of any of its material assets or properties, or granted any Encumbrance (other than Permitted Encumbrances) with respect to such assets or properties;

(i) engaged in, or taken active steps to prepare for, manufacturing or commercial operations with respect to any product or product candidate;

(j) sold, assigned, transferred, licensed, sublicensed or otherwise disposed of any material Intellectual Property owned or purported to be owned by, assigned to, or exclusively licensed by, Parent or its Subsidiaries, except for the grant of non-exclusive licenses to such Intellectual Property in the Ordinary Course of Business;

(k) other than as required by Law or GAAP, taken any action to change accounting policies or procedures;

(l) changed its financial or Tax accounting methods, principles or practices, except insofar as may have been required by a change in GAAP or applicable Law, or revalued any of its material assets; or

(m) agreed, resolved or committed to do any of the foregoing.

3.9 Litigation. As of the date hereof, there is no Legal Proceeding (or basis therefor) pending or, to the knowledge of Parent, threatened against Parent or any of its Subsidiaries, any of their respective properties or assets, or any present or former officer, director or employee of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries in such individual's capacity as such. Neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries nor any of their respective properties or assets is subject to any outstanding judgment, order, injunction, rule or decree of any Governmental Body. There is no Legal Proceeding pending or, to the knowledge of Parent, threatened seeking to prevent, hinder, modify, delay or challenge the Merger or any of the other Contemplated Transactions.

3.10 Compliance with Laws. Parent and each of its Subsidiaries are, and since January 1, 2023 have been, in compliance in all material respects with all Laws applicable to their businesses, operations, properties or assets. None of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries has received, since January 1, 2023, a notice or other written communication alleging or relating to a possible material violation of any Law applicable to their businesses, operations, properties, assets or Parent Products (as defined below). Parent and each of its Subsidiaries have in effect all material Permits of all Governmental Bodies necessary for them to own, lease or operate their properties and assets and to carry on their businesses and operations as now conducted, and there has occurred no material violation of, material default (with or without notice or lapse of time or both) or other event that would give others any right of revocation, non-renewal, adverse modification or cancellation of, with or without notice or lapse of time or both, any such Permit, nor would any such revocation, non-renewal, adverse modification or cancellation result from the consummation of the Contemplated Transactions.

3.11 Health Care Regulatory Matters.

(a) Parent and, to the knowledge of Parent, each of its directors, officers, employees, agents (while acting in such capacity), contract manufacturers, contract research organizations and clinical investigators is and, since January 1, 2023 has been, in material compliance with all Health Care Laws to the extent applicable to Parent or any of its products or activities. Parent has not engaged in any voluntary disclosure or self-disclosure to any Governmental Body concerning any alleged, potential or actual non-compliance with any applicable Health Care Laws, and to the Parent's knowledge no such self-disclosure to any Governmental Body is warranted. To the knowledge of Parent, there are no other facts or circumstances that reasonably would be expected to give rise to any material liability under any Health Care Laws.

(b) Parent is not party to any corporate integrity agreements, monitoring agreements, consent decrees, settlement orders, or similar agreements with or imposed by any Governmental Body.

(c) All applications, notifications, submissions, information, claims and reports submitted in connection with any and all requests for a Permit from the FDA or other Governmental Body relating to products that are regulated as drugs, biologics, or other medical products under Health Care Laws, including the drug and biological candidates, compounds or products being researched, tested, stored, developed, labeled, manufactured, packed and/or distributed by Parent or any of its Subsidiaries ("Parent Products"), including, without limitation, investigational new drug applications, when submitted to the FDA or other Governmental Body were true, complete and correct in all material respects as of the date of submission and any necessary or required updates, changes, corrections or modification to such applications, submissions, information and data have been submitted to the FDA or other Governmental Body. Parent does not have knowledge of any facts or circumstances that would be reasonably likely to lead to the revocation, suspension, limitation, or cancellation of a material Permit required under Health Care Laws.

(d) All preclinical studies and clinical trials conducted by or, to the knowledge of Parent, on behalf of Parent have been since January 1, 2023, and if still pending are being, conducted in material compliance with research protocols and all applicable Health Care Laws. To Parent's knowledge, no clinical trial conducted by or on behalf of Parent has been conducted using any clinical investigators who have been disqualified, debarred or excluded from healthcare programs. Since January 1, 2023, no clinical trial conducted by or on behalf of Parent or its Subsidiaries have been terminated or suspended prior to completion, and no clinical investigator who has participated or is participating in, or institutional review board that has or has had jurisdiction over, a clinical trial conducted by or on behalf of Parent has placed a partial or full clinical hold order on, or otherwise terminated, delayed or suspended, such a clinical trial at a clinical research site based on an actual or alleged lack of safety or efficacy of any Parent Product or a failure to conduct such clinical trial in compliance with applicable Health Care Laws.

(e) All manufacturing operations conducted by or, to the knowledge of Parent, for the benefit of Parent have been and are being conducted in material compliance with all Permits and all applicable Health Care Laws.

(f) Parent has not received from any Governmental Body any written communication that relates to an alleged material violation of any Health Care Laws, including any notification of any pending or threatened claim, suit, proceeding, hearing, enforcement, investigation, arbitration, import detention or refusal, FDA Warning Letter or Untitled Letter, or any similar action by a Governmental Body relating to any Health Care Laws.

(g) There have been no seizures, withdrawals, recalls, detentions, or suspensions of manufacturing, testing, or distribution relating to the Parent Products required or requested by a Governmental Body, or other notice of action relating to an alleged lack of safety, efficacy, or regulatory compliance of the Parent Products, or any adverse experiences relating to the Parent Products that have been reported to FDA or another Governmental Body (“Parent Safety Notices”), and, to the knowledge of Parent, there are no facts or circumstances that reasonably would be expected to give rise to a Parent Safety Notice.

(h) Neither Parent, nor, to the knowledge of Parent, any officer, employee or agent of Parent has made an untrue statement of a material fact or fraudulent or misleading statement to a Governmental Body, failed to disclose a material fact required to be disclosed to a Governmental Body, or committed an act, made a statement, or failed to make a statement that would reasonably be expected to provide a basis for the FDA to invoke its FDA Ethics Policy. Neither the Parent, nor, to the knowledge of the Parent, any officer, employee or agent of the Parent is or has been under investigation resulting from any allegedly untrue, fraudulent, misleading, or false statement or omission, including data fraud, or had any action pending or threatened relating to the FDA Ethics Policy.

(i) All reports, documents, claims, Permits and notices required to be filed, maintained or furnished to the FDA or any Governmental Body by Parent have been so filed, maintained or furnished, except where failure to file, maintain or furnish such reports, documents, claims, Permits or notices has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Parent Material Adverse Effect. All such reports, documents, claims, Permits and notices were true and complete in all material respects on the date filed (or were corrected in or supplemented by a subsequent filing).

(j) Neither Parent nor, to the knowledge of Parent, any officer, employee or agent of Parent has been convicted of any crime or engaged in any conduct that has resulted, or would reasonably be expected to result, in listing on the General Services Administrative System for Award Management or other published list of parties excluded from federal procurement programs and non-procurement programs or in debarment under applicable Law, or including, without limitation, 21 U.S.C. § 335a, or exclusion under 42 U.S.C. § 1320a-7, or any other statutory provision or similar law applicable in other jurisdictions in which the Parent Products are sold or intended to be sold. Neither Parent nor, to the knowledge of Parent, any officer, employee or agent of Parent, has been excluded from participation in any federal health care program or convicted of any crime or engaged in any conduct for which such Person could be excluded from participating in any federal health care program under Section 1128 of the Social Security Act of 1935, or any similar Health Care Law or program.

(k) Parent is not, and has not been, a “business associate,” “covered entity,” or “subcontractor” under HIPAA as those terms are defined in 42 C.F.R. § 160.103 and, since January 1, 2023, has been in material compliance with any Privacy Laws applicable to health information, including HIPAA, in Parent’s possession to the extent applicable to Parent.

3.12 Benefit Plans.

(a) Section 3.12(a) of the Parent Disclosure Schedule contains a true and complete list of each Parent Benefit Plan (other than form equity award agreements and awards made pursuant to such form(s), which form(s) shall have been provided to the Company). For purposes of this Agreement, “Parent Benefit Plan” means each “employee benefit plan” (within the meaning of section 3(3) of ERISA, whether or not subject to ERISA), and each stock purchase, stock option, phantom stock or other equity-based plan or award, severance, employment, change-in-control, fringe benefit, bonus, incentive, deferred compensation, supplemental retirement, health, life, or disability insurance, dependent care and each other employee benefit and compensation plan, agreement, program, policy or other arrangement, whether or not subject to ERISA, whether formal or informal, written or oral, legally binding or not, under which any current or former employee, director or individual consultant of Parent or its Subsidiaries (or any of their dependents) has any present or future right to compensation or benefits or Parent or any of its Subsidiaries sponsors or maintains, is making contributions to or has any present or future liability or obligation (contingent or otherwise) or with respect to which it is otherwise bound. Parent has provided or made available to the Company a current, accurate and complete copy of each Parent Benefit Plan, or if such Parent Benefit Plan is not in written form, a written summary of all of the material terms of such Parent Benefit Plan.

(b) Neither Parent, its Subsidiaries or any member of their Controlled Group (defined as any organization which is, or was at the applicable time, a member of a controlled, affiliated or otherwise related group of entities within the meaning of Code Section 414(b), (c), (m) or (o)) has ever sponsored, maintained, contributed to or been required to contribute to or incurred any liability (contingent or otherwise) with respect to: (i) a “multiemployer plan” (within the meaning of ERISA section 3(37)), (ii) a Pension Plan that is subject to Title IV of ERISA or Section 412 of the Code, or (iii) a Pension Plan which is a “multiple employer plan” as defined in Section 413 of the Code.

(c) With respect to the Parent Benefit Plans:

(i) each Parent Benefit Plan complies in all material respects with its terms and with the applicable provisions of ERISA and the Code and all other applicable legal requirements;

(ii) each Parent Benefit Plan intended to be qualified under Section 401(a) of the Code has received a favorable determination, advisory and/or opinion letter, as applicable, from the IRS that it is so qualified and nothing has occurred to the knowledge of the Parent since the date of such letter that would reasonably be expected to result in the loss of the sponsor’s ability to rely upon such letter or of the qualified status of such Parent Benefit Plan;

(iii) there is no material Legal Proceeding (including any investigation, audit or other administrative proceeding) by the Department of Labor, the PBGC, the IRS or any other Governmental Body or by any plan participant or beneficiary pending, or to the knowledge of Parent, threatened, relating to the Parent Benefit Plans (other than routine claims for benefits);

(iv) none of the Parent Benefit Plans currently provides or represents any liability to provide post-termination or retiree welfare benefits to any person for any reason, except as may be required by COBRA, and none of Parent, its Subsidiaries or any members of its Controlled Group has any liability to provide post-termination or retiree welfare benefits to any person or ever represented, promised or contracted to any employee or former employee of Parent (either individually or to Parent employees as a group) or any other person that such employee(s) or other person would be provided with post-termination or retiree welfare benefits, except to the extent required by statute or except with respect to a contractual obligation to reimburse any premiums such person may pay in order to obtain health coverage under COBRA;

(v) each Parent Benefit Plan is subject exclusively to United States Law; and

or other compensation or benefits (B) accelerate the time of payment or vesting, or increase the amount of or otherwise enhance any benefit due to any such employee, officer, director or consultant (C) result in a requirement to fund or set aside assets with respect to any Parent Benefit Plan or (D) restrict any rights of Parent to amend or terminate any Parent Benefit Plan.

(d) Neither Parent nor any Subsidiary is a party to any agreement, Contract, arrangement or plan (including any Parent Benefit Plan) that may reasonably be expected to result, separately or in the aggregate, in connection with the Contemplated Transactions (either alone or in combination with any other events), in the payment of any “parachute payments” within the meaning of Section 280G of the Code. There is no agreement, plan or other arrangement to which any of Parent or any Subsidiary is a party or by which any of them is otherwise bound to compensate any person in respect of Taxes or other liabilities incurred with respect to Section 409A or 4999 of the Code.

3.13 Labor and Employment Matters

(a) Parent and its Subsidiaries are and since January 1, 2023, have been in compliance in all material respects with all applicable Laws relating to labor and employment, including those relating to employment practices, terms and conditions of employment, collective bargaining, disability, immigration, health and safety, wages, hours and benefits, non-discrimination in employment, workers’ compensation, unemployment compensation, equal employment opportunity, discrimination, harassment, employee and contractor classification, information privacy and security, and continuation coverage with respect to group health plans. During the preceding three years, there has not been, and as of the date of this Agreement there is not pending or, to the knowledge of Parent, threatened, any labor dispute, work stoppage, labor strike or lockout against Parent or any of its Subsidiaries by employees.

(b) No employee of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries is covered by an effective or pending collective bargaining agreement or similar labor agreement. To the knowledge of Parent, there has not been any activity on behalf of any labor union, labor organization or similar employee group to organize any employees of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries. There are no (i) unfair labor practice charges or complaints against Parent or any of its Subsidiaries pending before the National Labor Relations Board or any other labor relations tribunal or authority and, to the knowledge of Parent, no such representations, claims or petitions are threatened, (ii) representation claims or petitions pending before the National Labor Relations Board or any other labor relations tribunal or authority or (iii) grievances or pending arbitration proceedings against Parent or any of its Subsidiaries that arose out of or under any collective bargaining agreement.

(c) During the preceding three years, (i) neither Parent nor any Subsidiary has effectuated a “plant closing” (as defined in the WARN Act) affecting any site of employment or one or more facilities or operating units within any site of employment or facility, (ii) there has not occurred a “mass layoff” (as defined in the WARN Act) in connection with Parent or any Subsidiary affecting any site of employment or one or more facilities or operating units within any site of employment or facility and (iii) neither Parent nor any Subsidiary has engaged in layoffs or employment terminations sufficient in number to trigger application of any similar state, local or foreign law. The Parent and its Subsidiaries currently properly classify and for the past three (3) years have classified its and their employees as exempt or nonexempt in accordance with applicable overtime laws, and no person treated as an independent contractor or consultant by Parent or any Subsidiary within the past three (3) years should have been classified as an employee under applicable Law, except where such action would not, individually or in the aggregate, result in Parent incurring a material liability.

(d) With respect to any current or former employee, officer, consultant or other service provider of Parent, there are no Legal Proceedings against Parent or any of its Subsidiaries pending, or to Parent’s knowledge, threatened to be brought or filed, in connection with the employment or engagement of any current or former employee, officer, consultant or other service provider of Parent, including, without limitation, any claim relating to employment discrimination, harassment, retaliation, equal pay, employment classification or any other employment-related matter arising under applicable Laws, except where such action would not, individually or in the aggregate, result in Parent incurring a material liability.

(e) Except with respect to any Parent Benefit Plan (which subject is addressed in Section 3.12 above), the execution of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions set forth in or contemplated by this Agreement will not result in any breach or violation of, or cause any payment to be made under, any applicable Laws respecting labor and employment or any collective bargaining agreement to which Parent or any of its Subsidiaries is a party.

(f) Since January 1, 2023, (i) no allegations of workplace sexual harassment, discrimination or other material misconduct have been made, initiated, filed or, to the knowledge of Parent, threatened against Parent, any of its Subsidiaries or any of their respective current or former directors, officers or senior-level management employees, (ii) to the knowledge of Parent, no incidents of any such workplace sexual harassment, discrimination or other material misconduct have occurred, and (iii) Parent has not entered into any settlement agreement related to allegations of sexual harassment, discrimination or other material misconduct by any of its directors, officers or employees described in clause (i).

3.14 Environmental Matters. Except as, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect, (i) Parent and each of its Subsidiaries have conducted their respective businesses in compliance with all, and have not violated any, applicable Environmental Laws; (ii) Parent and its Subsidiaries have obtained all Permits of all Governmental Bodies and any other Person that are required under any Environmental Law; (iii) there has been no release of any Hazardous Substance by Parent or any of its Subsidiaries or any other Person in any manner that has given or would reasonably be expected to give rise to any remedial or investigative obligation, corrective action requirement or liability of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries under applicable Environmental Laws; (iv) neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries has received any claims, notices, demand letters or requests for information (except for such claims, notices, demand letters or requests for information the subject matter of which has been resolved prior to the date of this Agreement) from any federal, state, local, foreign or provincial Governmental Body or any other Person asserting that Parent or any of its Subsidiaries is in violation of, or liable under, any Environmental Law; (v) no Hazardous Substance has been disposed of, arranged to be disposed of, released or transported in violation of any applicable Environmental Law, or in a manner that has given rise to, or that would reasonably be expected to give rise to, any liability under any Environmental Law, in each case, on, at, under or from any current or former properties or facilities owned or operated by Parent or any of its Subsidiaries or as a result of any operations or activities of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries at any location and, to the knowledge of Parent, Hazardous Substances are not otherwise present at or about any such properties or facilities in amount or condition that has resulted in or would reasonably be expected to result in liability to Parent or any of its Subsidiaries under any Environmental Law; and (vi) neither Parent, its Subsidiaries nor any of their respective properties or facilities are subject to, or are threatened to become subject to, any liabilities relating to any suit, settlement, court order, administrative order, regulatory requirement, judgment or claim asserted or arising under any Environmental Law or any agreement relating to environmental liabilities.

3.15 Taxes.

(a) Parent and each of its Subsidiaries has (i) timely filed all income and other material Tax Returns required to be filed by or on behalf of them (taking into account any applicable extensions thereof) and all such Tax Returns are true, accurate and complete in all material respects; and (ii) timely paid in full (or caused to be timely paid in full) all material Taxes that are due and payable, whether or not such Taxes were shown as due on such Tax Returns.

(b) All material Taxes not yet due and payable by Parent or any of its Subsidiaries as of the date of the Parent Balance Sheet have been, in all material respects, properly accrued in accordance with GAAP on the financial statements (including the related notes and schedules thereto) included (or incorporated by reference) in the Parent SEC Documents, and such financial statements (including the related notes and schedules thereto) included (or incorporated by reference) in the Parent SEC Documents reflect an adequate reserve (in accordance with GAAP) for all material Taxes accrued but unpaid by Parent and each of its Subsidiaries through the date of such financial statements. Since the date of the Parent Balance Sheet, neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries has incurred, individually or in the aggregate, any liability for Taxes outside the Ordinary Course of Business.

(c) Neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries has executed any waiver of any statute of limitations on, or extended the period for the assessment or collection of, any material amount of Tax, in each case that has not since expired.

(d) No material Tax Actions with respect to Taxes or any Tax Return of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries are presently in progress or have been asserted, threatened or proposed in writing, other than any such assertion, threat or proposal that has been settled or withdrawn. No deficiencies or claims for a material amount of Taxes have been claimed, proposed, assessed or asserted in writing against Parent or any of its Subsidiaries by a Governmental Body, other than any such claim, proposal, assessment or assertion that has been satisfied by payment in full, settled or withdrawn.

(e) Parent and each of its Subsidiaries have timely withheld or deducted all material Taxes required to have been withheld or deducted from payments made (or deemed made) to their employees, independent contractors, creditors, shareholders and other third parties and, to the extent required, such material Taxes have been timely paid to the relevant Governmental Body.

(f) Neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries has engaged in a “listed transaction” as set forth in Treasury Regulations § 1.6011-4(b).

(g) Neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries (i) is a party to or bound by, nor has any liability pursuant to, any Tax sharing, allocation, indemnification or similar agreement or obligation other than any Ordinary Course Agreement; (ii) is or has ever been a member of a group (other than a group the common parent of which is Parent) filing a consolidated, combined, affiliated, unitary or similar income Tax Return; (iii) has any liability for the Taxes of any Person (other than Parent and its Subsidiaries) pursuant to Treasury Regulations § 1.1502-6 (or any similar provision of state, local or non-U.S. Law) as a transferee or successor, by Contract (other than Ordinary Course Agreements), or otherwise by operation of Law; and (iv) is or has ever been treated as a resident for any income Tax purpose, or as subject to Tax by virtue of having a permanent establishment, an office or fixed place of business, in any country other than the country in which it was or is organized.

(h) No private-letter rulings, technical advice memoranda, or similar material agreements or rulings related to Taxes have been requested in writing, entered into or issued by any taxing authority with respect to Parent or any of its Subsidiaries which rulings remain in effect.

(i) Neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries will be required to include any material item of income in, or exclude any material item of deduction from, taxable income for any taxable period (or portion thereof) ending after the Closing Date as a result of (i) a change in method of accounting requested or initiated, or use of improper method of accounting, on or prior to the Closing Date, (ii) a “closing agreement” as described in Section 7121 of the Code (or any similar provision of state, local or foreign Tax Law) executed on or prior to the Closing Date, (iii) an installment sale or open-transaction disposition made on or prior to the Closing Date, (iv) any deferred intercompany gain or excess-loss account described in Treasury Regulations under Section 1502 of the Code (or any corresponding or similar provision of state, local or foreign income Tax Law), (v) an election under Section 965 of the Code, or (vi) the application of Section 951 or 951A of the Code with respect to income earned or recognized or payments received prior to the Closing.

(j) There are no Encumbrances for Taxes upon any of the assets of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries other than Encumbrances described in clause (i) of the definition of Permitted Encumbrances.

(k) Neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries has distributed stock of another Person or has had its stock distributed by another Person, in a transaction (or series of transactions) that was purported or intended to be governed in whole or in part by Section 355 or 361 of the Code.

(l) Neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries has been a United States real property holding corporation, as defined in Section 897(c)(2) of the Code, during the applicable period specified in Section 897(c)(1)(A)(ii) of the Code.

(m) No material claim has been made in writing by any Governmental Body in a jurisdiction where Parent or any of its Subsidiaries has not paid a specific Tax or filed a specific Tax Return that Parent or any of its Subsidiaries is or may be required to pay such Tax or file such Tax Return by such jurisdiction.

(n) Section 3.15(n) of the Parent Disclosure Schedule sets forth the entity classification of Parent and each of its Subsidiaries for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries has made an election or taken any other action to change its federal and state income tax classification from such classification.

(o) To Parent's knowledge, neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries has been, is, or immediately prior to the Effective Time will be, treated as an "investment company" within the meaning of Section 368(a)(2)(F) of the Code.

(p) Neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries has taken any action (or agreed to take any action) nor does it know of any fact or circumstance that would reasonably be expected to prevent or impede the Merger from qualifying for the Intended Tax Treatment.

3.16 Contracts.

(a) Section 3.16(a) of the Parent Disclosure Schedule lists the following Contracts (other than Parent Benefit Plans) (a) to which Parent or any of its Subsidiaries is a party; (b) by which Parent or its Subsidiaries or any Intellectual Property owned or purported to be owned by, assigned to, or exclusively licensed by, Parent or its Subsidiaries or any other asset of Parent or its Subsidiaries are or may become bound or under which Parent or its Subsidiaries have, or may become subject to, any obligation; or (c) under which Parent or its Subsidiaries have or may acquire any right or interest, in effect as of the date of this Agreement (all such Contracts, "Parent Material Contracts"):

(i) each Contract relating to the disposition or acquisition of material assets or any ownership interest in any entity, except as contemplated hereby;

(ii) each Contract relating to any mortgages, indentures, loans, notes or credit agreements, security agreements or other agreements or instruments relating to the borrowing of money or extension of credit or creating any material Encumbrances with respect to any assets of Parent or its Subsidiaries or any loans or debt obligations with officers or directors of Parent or its Subsidiaries;

(iii) each Contract requiring payment by or to Parent or its Subsidiaries after the date of this Agreement in excess of $125,000 in the aggregate in the current calendar year or any future calendar year pursuant to its express terms relating to: (A) any agreement under which a third party is granted rights related to the sale or distribution of any product of Parent or its Subsidiaries (identifying any that contain exclusivity provisions); (B) any agreement (other than a Parent Benefit Plan) involving provision of services with respect to any pre-clinical or clinical development activities of Parent or its Subsidiaries; (C) any dealer, distributor, joint marketing, alliance, joint venture, cooperation, development or other agreement currently in force under which Parent or its Subsidiaries have continuing obligations to develop or market any product, technology or service, or any agreement pursuant to which Parent or its Subsidiaries have continuing obligations to develop any

Intellectual Property that will not be owned, in whole or in part, by Parent or its Subsidiaries; or (D) any Contract under which any third party provides any services relating to the manufacture (in whole or in part) of any product of Parent or its Subsidiaries;

(iv) each Contract containing (A) a covenant limiting the freedom of Parent or any Subsidiary to engage in any line of business or compete with any Person, or limiting the development, manufacture or distribution of the Parent's products or services, (B) any most-favored pricing arrangement, (C) any exclusivity provision, (D) any agreement to purchase minimum quantity of goods or services or (E) any non-solicitation provision;

(v) each Parent In-bound License;

(vi) each Parent Out-bound License;

(vii) each Contract requiring the payment of any royalty, dividend or similar arrangement based on the revenues or profits of Parent or its Subsidiaries;

(viii) each Contract, offer letter, employment agreement, consulting or independent contractor agreement with any employee, independent contractor, consultant or other natural person service provider that (A) is not immediately terminable at will by the Parent or its Subsidiaries without notice, severance or other cost or payment, except as required under applicable Law, or (B) provides for retention payments, change of control payments, severance, accelerated vesting, or any similar payment or benefit that may or will become due as a result of the Merger; and

(ix) any other Contract that is not terminable at will (with no penalty or payment or requirement for more than 30 days' prior notice, except as required by applicable law) by Parent or its Subsidiaries and which involves payment or receipt by Parent or its Subsidiaries after the date of this Agreement under any such Contract of more than $125,000 in the aggregate, or obligations after the date of this Agreement in excess of $125,000 in the aggregate.

(b) Except as set forth in the Parent SEC Documents publicly available prior to the date of this Agreement, neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries is a party to or is bound by any "material contract" (as such term is defined in Item 601(b)(10) of Regulation S-K under the Securities Act, excluding, however, any Parent Benefit Plans).

(c) (i) Each Parent Material Contract is valid and binding on Parent and any of its Subsidiaries to the extent such Subsidiary is a party thereto, as applicable, and to the knowledge of Parent, each other party thereto, and is in full force and effect and enforceable in accordance with its terms; (ii) Parent and each of its Subsidiaries, and, to the knowledge of Parent, each other party thereto, has performed all material obligations required to be performed by themselves under each Parent Material Contract; and (iii) there is no material default under any Parent Material Contract by Parent or any of its Subsidiaries or, to the knowledge of Parent, any other party thereto, and no event or condition has occurred that constitutes, or, after notice or lapse of time or both, would constitute, a material default on the part of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries or, to the knowledge of Parent, any other party thereto under any such Parent Material Contract, nor has Parent or any of its Subsidiaries received written notice of any such material default, event or condition. Parent has made available to the Company true and complete copies of all Parent Material Contracts, including all amendments there.

3.17 Insurance. Each of Parent and its Subsidiaries is covered by valid and currently effective insurance policies issued in favor of Parent or one or more of its Subsidiaries that are customary and adequate for companies of similar size in the industries and locations in which Parent operates. Section 3.17 of the Parent Disclosure Schedule sets forth, as of the date hereof, a true and complete list of all material insurance policies issued in favor of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries, or pursuant to which Parent or any of its Subsidiaries is a named insured or otherwise a beneficiary, as well as any historic incurrence-based policies still in force. With respect to each such insurance policy, (a) such policy is in full force and effect and all premiums due thereon have been paid, (b) neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries is in breach or default, and has not taken any action or failed to take any action which (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) would constitute such a breach or default, or would permit termination or modification of, any such policy and (c) to the knowledge of Parent, no insurer issuing any such policy has been declared insolvent or placed in receivership, conservatorship or liquidation. No notice of cancellation or termination has been received with respect to any such policy, nor, to the knowledge of Parent, will any such cancellation or termination result from the consummation of the Contemplated Transactions.

3.18 Properties.

(a) Parent or one of its Subsidiaries has good and valid title to, or in the case of leased property and leased tangible assets, a valid leasehold interest in, all of its real properties and tangible assets that are necessary for Parent and its Subsidiaries to conduct their respective businesses as currently conducted, free and clear of all Encumbrances other than Permitted Encumbrances. Except as has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Parent Material Adverse Effect, the tangible personal property currently used in the operation of the business of Parent and its Subsidiaries is in good working order (reasonable wear and tear excepted).

(b) Each of Parent and its Subsidiaries has complied with the terms of all leases to which it is a party, and all such leases are in full force and effect, except for any such noncompliance or failure to be in full force and effect that, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect. Each of Parent and its Subsidiaries enjoys peaceful and undisturbed possession under all such leases, except for any such failure to do so that, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect.

(c) Section 3.18(c) of the Parent Disclosure Schedule sets forth a true and complete list of (i) all real property owned by Parent or any of its Subsidiaries and (ii) all real property leased for the benefit of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries.

(d) This Section 3.18 does not relate to intellectual property, which is the subject of Section 3.19.

3.19 Intellectual Property.

(a) Section 3.19(a) of the Parent Disclosure Schedule sets forth a true and complete list of all (i) material patents and patent applications; (ii) material trademark registrations and applications; and (iii) material copyright registrations and applications, in each case not related solely to RLYB212 and owned by Parent and its Subsidiaries (collectively, “Parent Registered IP”) and a true and complete list of all domain names owned or exclusively licensed by Parent and its Subsidiaries. Except as, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect (A) all of the Parent Registered IP is subsisting and, in the case of any Parent Registered IP that is registered or issued to the knowledge of Parent, valid and enforceable, (B) no Parent Registered IP is involved in any interference, reissue, derivation, reexamination, opposition, cancellation or similar proceeding and, to the knowledge of Parent, no such action is threatened with respect to any of the Parent Registered IP and (C) Parent or its Subsidiaries own exclusively, free and clear of any and all Encumbrances (other than Permitted Encumbrances), all Parent Owned IP, including all Intellectual Property created on behalf of Parent or its Subsidiaries by its employees or independent contractors.

(b) Section 3.19(b) of the Parent Disclosure Schedule accurately identifies all Contracts pursuant to which any material Intellectual Property is licensed to Parent or its Subsidiaries (other than (i) any non-customized software that (A) is so licensed solely in executable or object code form pursuant to a nonexclusive, internal-use software license and other Intellectual Property associated with such software and (B) is not incorporated into any of Parent's or its Subsidiaries' products, (ii) any Intellectual Property licensed on a nonexclusive basis where the license is incidental to the primary purpose of the relevant Contract or the provision of services to Parent, (iii) any material transfer agreements, non-disclosure agreements, research agreements, clinical trial agreements, services agreements, off-the-shelf software licenses and generally-available patent license agreements and (iv) agreements between Parent and any of its Subsidiaries and their employees in Parent's standard form thereof) (each a "Parent In-bound License", and the underlying Intellectual Property, the "Parent Licensed IP").

(c) Section 3.19(c) of the Parent Disclosure Schedule accurately identifies each Contract pursuant to which any Person has been granted any license or covenant not to sue under any Parent Owned IP or Parent Licensed IP (other than (i) any material transfer agreements, non-disclosure agreements, research agreements, clinical trial agreements and services agreements and (ii) any Parent Owned IP or Parent Licensed IP nonexclusively licensed in the Ordinary Course of Business and that does not grant any commercial rights to any product of Parent or its Subsidiaries) (each a "Parent Out-bound License").

(d) To the knowledge of Parent, the Parent Owned IP and the Parent Licensed IP constitutes all Intellectual Property necessary for Parent and its Subsidiaries to conduct their business as currently conducted; provided, however, that the foregoing representation is not a representation with respect to non-infringement of Intellectual Property.

(e) Parent and its Subsidiaries have taken commercially reasonable measures to maintain the confidentiality of all information that constitutes a material trade secret of Parent or its Subsidiaries, including requiring all Persons having access thereto to execute written non-disclosure agreements or other binding obligations to maintain confidentiality of such information.

(f) Except as, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect, (i) to the knowledge of Parent, the conduct of the businesses of Parent and its Subsidiaries, including the manufacture, marketing, offering for sale, sale, importation, use or intended use (as currently contemplated) or other disposal of any product as currently sold or under development by Parent or its Subsidiaries, has not infringed, misappropriated or diluted, and does not infringe, misappropriate or dilute, any Intellectual Property of any Person, (ii) neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries has received any written notice or claim asserting or suggesting that any such infringement, misappropriation, or dilution is or may be occurring or has or may have occurred and (iii) to the knowledge of Parent, no Person is infringing, misappropriating, or diluting in any material respect any Parent Registered IP or Parent Licensed IP.

(g) Except as, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect, (i) Parent and its Subsidiaries have taken commercially reasonable steps to protect the confidentiality and security of the computer and information technology systems owned, licensed and used by Parent and its Subsidiaries (the "Parent IT Systems") and the information and transactions stored or contained therein or transmitted thereby, (ii) to the knowledge of Parent, since January 1, 2023, there has been no unauthorized or improper use, loss, access, transmittal, modification or corruption of any such Parent IT Systems, and (iii) since January 1, 2023, there have been no material failures, crashes, viruses, or security breaches (including any unauthorized access to any personally identifiable information), affecting the Parent IT Systems.

(h) Except as, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect, (i) to the knowledge of Parent, Parent and its Subsidiaries have at all times since January 1, 2023, complied in all material respects with all applicable Privacy Laws, (ii) since January 1, 2023, no claims have been received by Parent or, to the knowledge of Parent, threatened in writing against Parent alleging Parent a violated any applicable Privacy Law, (iii) neither Parent's performance of this Agreement nor Parent's consummation of the Contemplated Transactions will breach or otherwise violate any applicable Privacy Laws and (iv) Parent and its Subsidiaries have taken commercially reasonable steps to protect the Personal Information collected, used or held for use by Parent or its subsidiaries against unauthorized loss, access, use, modification, disclosure or other misuse.

(i) To the knowledge of Parent, no government funding, facilities or resources of a university, college, other educational institution or research center or funding from third parties was used in the development of the Parent Owned IP or, to the knowledge of Parent, Parent Licensed IP exclusively licensed to Parent, and no Governmental Body, university, college, other educational institution or research center has, to the knowledge of Parent, any claim or right in or to the Parent Owned IP.

(j) The execution, delivery and performance by Parent of this Agreement, and the consummation of the Contemplated Transactions, will not result in the loss of, or give rise to any right of any third party to terminate or modify any of Parent's or any Subsidiaries' rights or obligations under any Parent Out-bound License or Parent In-bound License.

3.20 Related Party Transactions. Since January 1, 2023 through the date of this Agreement, there have been no transactions, agreements, arrangements or understandings between Parent or any of its Subsidiaries, on the one hand, and the affiliates of Parent, on the other hand (other than Parent's Subsidiaries), that would be required to be disclosed under Item 404 of Regulation S-K under the Securities Act and that have not been so disclosed in the Parent SEC Documents.

3.21 Certain Payments. Neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries (nor, to the knowledge of Parent, any of their respective directors, executives, representatives, agents or employees) has, directly or indirectly, made any bribes, rebates, payoffs, influence payments, kickbacks, illegal payments, illegal political contributions, or other payments, in the form of cash, gifts, or otherwise, or taken any other action, in violation of the Anti-Bribery Laws. Parent is not, nor has it been the subject of any investigation or inquiry by any Governmental Body with respect to potential violations of Anti-Bribery Laws.

3.22 Brokers. No broker, investment banker, financial advisor or other Person, other than Evercore Group, L.L.C. and Citizens JMP Securities, LLC, the fees and expenses of which will be paid by Parent, is entitled to any broker's, finder's, financial advisor's or other similar fee or commission in connection with the Contemplated Transactions based upon arrangements made by or on behalf of Parent.

3.23 Opinion of Financial Advisor. The Parent Board has received the opinion of Citizens JMP Securities, LLC, dated the date of this Agreement, to the effect that, as of such date and based upon and subject to the qualifications, limitations, assumptions and other matters set forth therein, the Exchange Ratio is fair, from a financial point of view, to Parent, a signed true and complete copy of which opinion has been or will promptly be provided to the Company.

3.24 Merger Sub. Merger Sub was formed solely for the purpose of engaging in the Merger and the other Contemplated Transactions and has engaged in no business other than in connection with the Contemplated Transactions.

3.25 State Takeover Statutes. No Takeover Statute or any similar anti-takeover provision in the Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws of Parent applicable to Parent is, or at the Effective Time will be, applicable to this Agreement, the Merger, or any of the other Contemplated Transactions.

3.26 No Other Representations or Warranties. Except for the representations and warranties contained in Section 2, each of Parent and Merger Sub acknowledges and agrees that none of the Company or any other Person on behalf of the Company makes any other express or implied representation or warranty whatsoever, and specifically (but without limiting the generality of the foregoing) that none of the Company or any other Person on behalf of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries makes any representation or warranty with respect to any projections or forecasts delivered or made available to Parent, Merger Sub or any of their respective Subsidiaries or Representatives of future revenues, results of operations (or any component thereof), cash flows or financial condition (or any component thereof) of the Company (including any such projections or forecasts made available to Parent, Merger Sub or any of their respective Subsidiaries or Representatives in certain “data rooms” or management presentations in expectation of the Contemplated Transactions), and none of Parent or Merger Sub has relied on any such information or any representation or warranty not set forth in Section 2.

Section 4. CERTAIN COVENANTS OF THE PARTIES

4.1 Operation of Parent’s Business.

(a) Except (i) as set forth on Section 4.1\(a\) of the Parent Disclosure Schedule, (ii) as expressly permitted by or required in accordance with this Agreement, including in connection with the Asset Dispositions pursuant to Section 4.7, (iii) as required by applicable Law, or (iv) as may be consented to in writing by the Company (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), during the period commencing on the date of this Agreement and continuing until the earlier to occur of the termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 9 and the Effective Time (the “Pre-Closing Period”), each of Parent and its Subsidiaries shall (A) conduct its business and operations in the Ordinary Course of Business and in compliance in all material respects with all applicable Laws and the requirements of all Contracts that constitute Parent Material Contracts, and (B) continue to pay material outstanding accounts payable and other material current liabilities (including payroll) in the Ordinary Course of Business.

(b) Except (i) as expressly permitted by this Agreement, (ii) as set forth on Section 4.1\(b\) of the Parent Disclosure Schedule, (iii) as required by applicable Law, (iv) in connection with the Asset Dispositions pursuant to Section 4.7 or the winding down of Parent’s pre-clinical, CMC and clinical activities (including the termination of ongoing contractual obligations related to parent’s current products or product candidates) pursuant to Section 5.22, or (v) with the prior written consent of the Company (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), at all times during the Pre-Closing Period, Parent shall not, nor shall it cause or permit any of its Subsidiaries to, do any of the following:

(i) declare, accrue, set aside or pay any dividend or make any other distribution in respect of any shares of its capital stock or repurchase, redeem or otherwise reacquire any shares of its capital stock or other securities (except repurchases from terminated employees, directors or consultants of Parent or in connection with the payment of the exercise price or withholding Taxes incurred upon the exercise, settlement or vesting of any award or purchase rights granted under any Parent equity incentive plan in accordance with the terms of such award in effect on the date of this Agreement);

(ii) sell, issue, grant, pledge or otherwise dispose of or encumber or authorize any of the foregoing with respect to: (A) any capital stock or other security of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries (except for shares of Parent Common Stock issued upon the valid exercise or settlement of Parent Stock Awards); (B) any option, warrant or right to acquire any capital stock or any other security; or (C) any instrument convertible into or exchangeable for any capital stock or other security of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries;

(iii) amend the terms of any outstanding Parent Options;

(iv) except as required to give effect to anything in contemplation of the Closing, amend any of its or its Subsidiaries’ certificate of incorporation and bylaws (or comparable organizational documents), or effect or be a party to any merger, consolidation, share exchange, business combination, recapitalization, reclassification of shares, stock split, reverse stock split or similar transaction except, for the avoidance of doubt, the Contemplated Transactions;

(v) form any Subsidiary or acquire any equity interest or other interest in any other Entity or enter into a joint venture with any other Entity;

(vi) (A) lend money to any Person (except for the advancement of reasonable and customary expenses to employees, directors and consultants in the Ordinary Course of Business), (B) incur or guarantee any indebtedness for borrowed money, (C) guarantee any debt securities of others, (D) other than the incurrence or payment of Transaction Expenses, make any capital expenditure in excess of $50,000, or (E) forgive any loans to any Persons, including Parent's employees, officers, directors or Affiliates;

(vii) other than as required by applicable Law or the terms of any Parent Benefit Plan as in effect on the date of this Agreement: (A) adopt, terminate, establish or enter into any Parent Benefit Plan or any plan or agreement that would be a Parent Benefit Plan if in effect on the date hereof; (B) cause or permit any Parent Benefit Plan to be amended; (C) pay any bonus or make any profit-sharing or similar payment to, or increase the amount of the wages, salary, fringe benefits, commissions, bonus or other compensation or benefits payable to any of its directors, officers, consultants, independent contractors or employees; (D) hire any officer, employee, consultant or independent contractor; (E) modify the terms of any severance, retention or change-of-control benefits offered to any current, former or new employees, directors or consultants (other than acceleration of Parent Stock Awards as contemplated by this Agreement), or (F) grant any new, or modify any existing, severance, retention benefits, change in control award, or similar compensation or benefit to any Person;

(viii) recognize any labor union or labor organization;

(ix) acquire any material asset or sell, lease or otherwise irrevocably dispose of any of its material assets or properties, or grant any Encumbrance with respect to such material assets or properties;

(x) sell, assign, transfer, license, sublicense or otherwise dispose of any Parent Owned IP or any Parent In-bound License;

(xi) make, change or revoke any material Tax election, fail to pay any income or other material Tax as such Tax becomes due and payable (taking into account extensions of time to file any Tax Return granted in the Ordinary Course of Business of not more than seven (7) months), file any amendment making any material change to any Tax Return, settle or compromise any income or other material Tax liability or submit any voluntary disclosure application, enter into any Tax allocation, sharing, indemnification or other similar agreement or arrangement (other than customary commercial contracts entered into in the Ordinary Course of Business the principal subject matter of which is not Taxes), request or consent to any extension or waiver of any limitation period with respect to any claim or assessment for any income or other material Taxes (other than pursuant to an extension of time to file any Tax Return granted in the Ordinary Course of Business of not more than seven (7) months), or adopt or change any material accounting method in respect of Taxes;

(xii) enter into, materially amend or terminate any Parent Material Contract or Contract that would be deemed a Parent Material Contract if entered into prior to the date hereof;

(xiii) other than as required by Law or GAAP, take any action to change accounting policies or procedures;

(xiv) initiate or settle any Legal Proceeding;

(xv) (A) fail to maintain any material insurance policies in full force and effect prior to the renewal period of any such material insurance policies or (B) fail to exercise renewal rights for any such material insurance policies following the applicable expiration or acquire substantially similar insurance policies;

(xvi) enter into or amend a Contract that would reasonably be expected to prevent or materially impede, interfere with, hinder or delay the consummation of the Contemplated Transactions;

(xvii) enter into a new line of business or start to conduct a line of business; or

(xviii) agree, resolve or commit to do any of the foregoing.

(c) Nothing contained in this Agreement shall give the Company, directly or indirectly, the right to control or direct the operations of Parent prior to the Effective Time. Prior to the Effective Time, Parent shall exercise, consistent with the terms and conditions of this Agreement, complete unilateral control and supervision over its business operations.

4.2 Operation of the Company's Business.

(a) Except (i) as set forth on Schedule 4.2(a) of the Company Disclosure Schedule, (ii) as expressly permitted by or required in accordance this Agreement including in connection with the Concurrent Financing pursuant to Section 5.23, (iii) as required by applicable Law, or (iv) as may be consented to in writing by Parent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), during the Pre-Closing Period, the Company shall (A) conduct its business and operations in the Ordinary Course of Business and in compliance in all material respects with all applicable Laws and the requirements of all Contracts that constitute Company Material Contracts, and (B) continue to pay material outstanding accounts payable and other material current liabilities (including payroll) in the Ordinary Course of Business.

(b) Except (i) as expressly permitted by this Agreement, (ii) as set forth on Schedule 4.2(b) of the Company Disclosure Schedule, (iii) as required by applicable Law (iv) in connection with the Concurrent Financing pursuant to Section 5.23, or (v) with the prior written consent of Parent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), at all times during the Pre-Closing Period, the Company shall not, nor shall it cause or permit any of its Subsidiaries to, do any of the following:

(i) declare, accrue, set aside or pay any dividend or make any other distribution in respect of any shares of its capital stock or repurchase, redeem or otherwise reacquire any shares of its capital stock or other securities (except repurchases from terminated employees, directors or consultants of the Company or in connection with the payment of the exercise price or withholding Taxes incurred upon the exercise, settlement or vesting of any award granted under the Company Benefit Plan in accordance with the terms of such award in effect on the date of this Agreement);

(ii) sell, issue, grant, pledge or otherwise dispose of or encumber or authorize any of the foregoing with respect to: (A) any capital stock or other security of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (except for shares of Company Common Stock issued upon the valid exercise of Company Options); (B) any option, warrant or right to acquire any capital stock or any other security, other than stock options or restricted stock unit awards granted to employees and service providers in the Ordinary Course of Business which are included in the calculation of the Company Outstanding Shares; or (C) any instrument convertible into or exchangeable for any capital stock or other security of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries;

(iii) except as required to give effect to anything in contemplation of the Closing (including in connection with the Concurrent Financing), amend any of its or its Subsidiaries Organizational Documents, or effect or be a party to any merger, consolidation, share exchange, business combination, recapitalization, reclassification of shares, stock split, reverse stock split or similar transaction except, for the avoidance of doubt, the Contemplated Transactions;

(iv) form any Subsidiary or acquire any equity interest or other interest in any other Entity or enter into a joint venture with any other Entity;

(v) (A) lend money to any Person (except for the advancement of reasonable and customary expenses to employees, directors and consultants in the Ordinary Course of Business), (B) incur or guarantee any indebtedness for borrowed money, (C) guarantee any debt securities of others, (D) other than the incurrence or payment of Transaction Expenses, make any capital expenditure in excess of $1,500,000 of the budgeted capital expenditure amounts set forth in the Company operating budget delivered to Parent concurrently with the execution of this Agreement (the “Company Budget”) or (E) forgive any loans to any Persons, including the Company’s employees, officers, directors or Affiliates;

(vi) recognize any labor union or labor organization;

(vii) acquire any material asset or sell, lease or otherwise irrevocably dispose of any of its material assets or properties, or grant any Encumbrance with respect to such material assets or properties, except in the Ordinary Course of Business;

(viii) dispose of any of its material assets or properties, except in the Ordinary Course of Business;

(ix) sell, assign, transfer, license, sublicense or otherwise dispose of any material Company Owned IP or any material Company Licensed IP, in each case other than pursuant to non-exclusive licenses in the Ordinary Course of Business, the abandonment and refile of patent applications or co-commercialization or partnership transaction, in each case, in the Ordinary Course of Business;

(x) make, change or revoke any material Tax election, fail to pay any income or other material Tax as such Tax becomes due and payable (taking into account extensions of time to file any Tax Return granted in the Ordinary Course of Business of not more than seven (7) months), file any amendment making any material change to any Tax Return, settle or compromise any income or other material Tax liability or submit any voluntary disclosure application, enter into any Tax allocation, sharing, indemnification or other similar agreement or arrangement (other than customary commercial contracts entered into in the Ordinary Course of Business the principal subject matter of which is not Taxes), request or consent to any extension or waiver of any limitation period with respect to any claim or assessment for any income or other material Taxes (other than pursuant to an extension of time to file any Tax Return granted in the Ordinary Course of Business of not more than seven (7) months), or adopt or change any material accounting method in respect of Taxes;

(xi) enter into, materially amend or terminate any Company Material Contract or Contract that would be deemed a Company Material Contract if entered into prior to the date hereof, except in the Ordinary Course of Business;

(xii) except as otherwise consistent with the Company Budget and the incurrence or payment of any Transaction Expenses or other costs or expenses arising as a result of this Agreement and the Contemplated Transactions, make any expenditures or discharge or satisfy any liabilities, in each case, in amounts that exceed the aggregate amount anticipated in the Company Budget by $1,500,000;

(xiii) other than as required by Law or GAAP, take any action to change accounting policies or procedures;

(xiv) initiate or settle any Legal Proceeding;

(xv) (A) fail to maintain any material insurance policies in full force and effect prior to the renewal period of any such material insurance policies or (B) fail to use commercially reasonable efforts to renew any such material insurance policies following the applicable expiration or acquire substantially similar insurance policies;

(xvi) enter into or amend a Contract that would reasonably be expected to prevent or materially impede, interfere with, hinder or delay the consummation of the Contemplated Transactions;

(xvii) enter into a new line of business or start to conduct a line of business; or

(xviii) agree, resolve or commit to do any of the foregoing.

(c) Nothing contained in this Agreement shall give Parent, directly or indirectly, the right to control or direct the operations of the Company prior to the Effective Time. Prior to the Effective Time, the Company shall exercise, consistent with the terms and conditions of this Agreement, complete unilateral control and supervision over its business operations.

4.3 Access and Investigation.

(a) Subject to the terms of the Confidentiality Agreement, which the Parties agree will continue in full force following the date of this Agreement, during the Pre-Closing Period, upon reasonable notice, Parent, on the one hand, and the Company, on the other hand, shall and shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cause such Party's Representatives to: (a) provide the other Party and such other Party's Representatives with reasonable access during normal business hours to such Party's Representatives, personnel, property and assets and to all existing books, records, Tax Returns, work papers and other documents and information relating to such Party and its Subsidiaries; (b) provide the other Party and such other Party's Representatives with such copies of the existing books, records, Tax Returns, work papers, product data, and other documents and information relating to such Party and its Subsidiaries, and with such additional financial, operating and other data and information regarding such Party and its Subsidiaries as the other Party may reasonably request; (c) permit the other Party's officers and other employees to meet, upon reasonable notice and during normal business hours, with the chief financial officer and other officers and managers of such Party responsible for such Party's financial statements and the internal controls of such Party to discuss such matters as the other Party may reasonably deem necessary or appropriate; and (d) make available to the other Party copies of unaudited financial statements, material operating and financial reports prepared for senior management or the board of directors of such Party, and any material notice, report or other document filed with or sent to or received from any Governmental Body in connection with the Contemplated Transactions. Any investigation conducted by either Parent or the Company pursuant to this Section 4.3 shall be conducted in such manner as not to interfere unreasonably with the conduct of the business of the other Party.

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing, any Party may restrict the foregoing access to the extent that any Law applicable to such Party requires such Party to restrict or prohibit access to any such properties or information or may redact any of the foregoing documents or reports to the extent necessary to preserve the attorney-client privilege under any circumstances in which such privilege may be jeopardized by such access or the disclosure of such document or report.

4.4 Parent Non-Solicitation.

(a) Parent agrees that, during the Pre-Closing Period, neither it nor any of its Subsidiaries shall, nor shall it or any of its Subsidiaries, authorize any of their respective Representatives to, directly or indirectly, other than relating to communicating, discussing, negotiating or consummating the Asset Dispositions: (i) solicit, initiate or knowingly encourage, induce or facilitate the communication, making, submission or announcement of any Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry or take any action that could reasonably be expected to lead to an Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry; (ii) furnish any non-public information regarding Parent or any of its Subsidiaries to any Person in connection with or in response to an Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry; (iii) engage in discussions (other than to inform any Person of the existence of the provisions in this Section 4.4) or negotiations with any Person with respect to any Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry; (iv) approve, endorse or recommend any Acquisition Proposal (subject to Section 5.3); (v) execute or enter into any letter of intent or any Contract contemplating or otherwise relating to any Acquisition Transaction (other than a confidentiality agreement permitted under this Section 4.4\(a\)); or (vi) publicly propose to do any of the foregoing; provided, however, that, notwithstanding anything contained in this Section 4.4 and subject to compliance with this Section 4.4, prior to obtaining the Required Parent Stockholder Vote, Parent and its Subsidiaries may furnish non-public information regarding Parent or any of its Subsidiaries to, and enter into discussions or negotiations with, any Person in response to a bona fide Acquisition Proposal by such Person, which the Parent Board determines in good faith, after consultation with Parent's outside financial advisors and outside legal counsel, constitutes, or is reasonably likely to result in, a Superior Offer (and is not withdrawn) if: (A) none of Parent, any of its Subsidiaries or any of their respective Representatives shall have breached this Section 4.4 in any material respect, (B) the Parent Board concludes in good faith based on the advice of outside legal counsel, that the failure to take such action would be inconsistent with the fiduciary duties of the Parent Board under applicable Law; (C) Parent receives from such Person an executed confidentiality agreement containing provisions (including nondisclosure provisions, use restrictions, non-solicitation provisions, no hire and "standstill" provisions), in the aggregate, at least as favorable to Parent as those contained in the Confidentiality Agreement; and (D) substantially contemporaneously with furnishing any such non-public information to such Person, Parent gives the Company notice of Parent's intention to furnish nonpublic information to, or enter into discussions with, such Person and furnishes such non-public information to the Company (to the extent such information has not been previously furnished by Parent to the Company). Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Parent acknowledges and agrees that, in the event any Representative of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries (whether or not such Representative is purporting to act on behalf of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries) takes any action that, if taken by Parent or any of its Subsidiaries, would constitute a breach of this Section 4.4, the taking of such action by such Representative shall be deemed to constitute a breach of this Section 4.4 by Parent for purposes of this Agreement.

(b) If Parent, any of its Subsidiaries or any of their respective Representatives receives an Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry at any time during the Pre-Closing Period, then Parent shall promptly (and in no event later than one (1) Business Day after Parent becomes aware of such Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry) (i) advise the Company orally and in writing of such Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry (including the identity of the Person making or submitting such Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry), (ii) in the case of a written Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry, furnish any written documentation and correspondence to or from Parent, any of its Subsidiaries or any of their respective Representatives, including any subsequent modifications or amendments, and (iii) in the case of an oral Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry, provide a written summary of the terms thereof. Parent shall keep the Company reasonably and promptly informed with respect to the status and material terms of any such Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry, any material modification, amendment or proposed material modification thereto (including any revision in the amount, form or mix of consideration) and of all verbal or written communications related thereto, together with copies of new written documentation and correspondence to or from Parent, any of its Subsidiaries or any of their respective Representatives as well as written summaries of any material oral communications.

(c) Parent shall immediately cease and cause to be terminated any existing discussions, negotiations and communications with any Person that relate to any Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry (other than any Asset Disposition) that has not already been terminated as of the date of this Agreement, immediately terminate access to any non-public information of Parent provided to such Person via an electronic or physical data room and within three (3) Business Days after the date of this Agreement, request the destruction or return of any non-public information of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries provided to such Person as soon as practicable after the date of this Agreement.

4.5 Company Non-Solicitation.

(a) The Company agrees that, during the Pre-Closing Period, neither it nor any of its Subsidiaries shall nor shall it or any of its Subsidiaries authorize any of their respective Representatives to, directly or indirectly: (i) solicit, initiate or knowingly encourage, induce or facilitate the communication, making, submission or announcement of any Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry or take any action that could reasonably be expected to lead to an Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry; (ii) furnish any non-public information regarding the Company or any of its Subsidiaries to any Person in connection with or in response to an Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry; (iii) engage in discussions (other than to inform any Person of the existence of the provisions in this Section 4.5) or negotiations with any Person with respect to any Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry; (iv) approve, endorse or recommend any Acquisition Proposal; (v) execute or enter into any letter of intent or any Contract contemplating or otherwise relating to any Acquisition Transaction; or (vi) publicly propose to do any of the foregoing; provided, however, that, notwithstanding anything contained in this Section 4.5 and subject to compliance with this Section 4.5, prior to obtaining the Required Company Stockholder Vote, the Company and its Subsidiaries may solicit any Acquisition Proposal and furnish non-public information regarding the Company or any of its Subsidiaries to, and enter into discussions or negotiations with, any Person, including any Person not making such Acquisition Proposal, following receipt of a bona fide Acquisition Proposal by any Person, which the Company Board has determined in good faith, after consultation with the Company's outside financial advisors and outside legal counsel, constitutes, or is reasonably likely to result in, a Superior Offer if: (A) none of the Company, any of its Subsidiaries or any of their respective Representatives shall have breached this Section 4.5 in any material respect, (B) the Company Board concludes in good faith based on the advice of outside legal counsel, that the failure to take such action would be inconsistent with the fiduciary duties of the Company Board under applicable Law; and (C) the Company receives from such Person an executed confidentiality agreement containing provisions, in the aggregate, at least as favorable to the Company as those contained in the Confidentiality Agreement. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Company acknowledges and agrees that, in the event any Representative of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (whether or not such Representative is purporting to act on behalf of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries) takes any action that, if taken by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, would constitute a breach of this Section 4.5, the taking of such action by such Representative shall be deemed to constitute a breach of this Section 4.5 by the Company for purposes of this Agreement.

(b) If the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or any of their respective Representatives receives an Acquisition Proposal at any time during the Pre-Closing Period, then the Company shall promptly (and in no event later than one (1) Business Day after the Company becomes aware of such Acquisition Proposal) (i) advise Parent orally and in writing of such Acquisition Proposal (including the identity of the Person making or submitting such Acquisition Proposal), (ii) in the case of a written Acquisition Proposal, furnish any written documentation and correspondence to or from the Company, any of its Subsidiaries or any of their respective Representatives, including any subsequent modifications or amendments, and (iii) in the case of an oral Acquisition Proposal, provide a written summary of the terms thereof. The Company shall keep Parent reasonably and promptly informed with respect to the status and material terms of any such Acquisition Proposal, any material modification, amendment or proposed material modification thereto (including any revision in the amount, form or mix of consideration) and of all verbal or written communications related thereto, together with copies of new written documentation and correspondence to or from the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or any of their respective Representatives as well as written summaries of any material oral communications.

(c) The Company shall immediately cease any existing discussions, negotiations and communications with any Person that relate to any Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry that has not already been terminated as of the date of this Agreement, immediately terminate access to any non-public information of the Company provided to such Person via an electronic or physical data room.

4.6 Notification of Certain Matters.

(a) During the Pre-Closing Period, the Company shall promptly (and in no event later than two (2) Business Days after the Company becomes aware of the same) notify Parent (and, if in writing, furnish copies of any relevant documents) if any of the following occurs: (i) any notice or other communication is received from any Person alleging that the Consent of such Person is or may be required in connection with any of the Contemplated Transactions; (ii) any Legal Proceeding against or involving or otherwise affecting the Company or any of its Subsidiaries is commenced, or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened against the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or, to the knowledge of the Company, any director or officer of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries; (iii) the Company or any of its Subsidiaries becomes aware of any inaccuracy in any representation or warranty made by it in this Agreement; or (iv) the failure of the Company to comply with any covenant or obligation of the Company; in each case of clauses (i) through (iv), that could reasonably be expected to make the timely satisfaction of any of the conditions set forth in Sections 6 or 7, as applicable, impossible or materially less likely. No notification given to Parent pursuant to this Section 4.6(a) shall change, limit or otherwise affect any of the representations, warranties, covenants or obligations of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries contained in this Agreement or the Company Disclosure Schedule for purposes of Sections 6 and 7, as applicable.

(b) During the Pre-Closing Period, Parent shall promptly (and in no event later than two (2) Business Days after Parent becomes aware of the same) notify the Company (and, if in writing, furnish copies of any relevant documents) if any of the following occurs: (i) any notice or other communication is received from any Person alleging that the Consent of such Person is or may be required in connection with any of the Contemplated Transactions; (ii) any Legal Proceeding against or involving or otherwise affecting Parent or any of its Subsidiaries is commenced, or, to the knowledge of Parent, threatened against Parent or any of its Subsidiaries or, to the knowledge of Parent, any director or officer of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries; (iii) Parent becomes aware of any inaccuracy in any representation or warranty made by it in this Agreement; or (iv) the failure of Parent to comply with any covenant or obligation of Parent or Merger Sub; in each case of clauses (i) through (iv), that could reasonably be expected to make the timely satisfaction of any of the conditions set forth in Sections 6 or 8, as applicable, impossible or materially less likely. No notification given to the Company pursuant to this Section 4.6(b) shall change, limit or otherwise affect any of the representations, warranties, covenants or obligations of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries contained in this Agreement or the Parent Disclosure Schedule for purposes of Sections 6 and 8, as applicable.

4.7 Potentially Transferable Assets. Prior to the Closing, Parent will use reasonable best efforts to sell, transfer, license, assign or otherwise divest the Potentially Transferable Assets to one or more third parties in one or a series of transactions immediately following the Closing (each an “Asset Disposition” and collectively, the “Asset Dispositions”). Subject to the provisions of this Section 4.7 and the CVR Agreement, Parent may, in contemplation of the Asset Dispositions, (a) establish one or more Subsidiaries to hold the Potentially Transferable Assets, (b) transfer to any such Subsidiary any or all of the Potentially Transferable Assets and the liabilities and obligations related thereto and (c) take such other steps that are reasonably necessary to prepare for the Asset Dispositions. For clarity, if Parent transfers the Potentially Transferable Assets to one or more Subsidiaries, the terms of this Section 4.7 shall apply to such Subsidiaries in addition to Parent. Each Party further acknowledges that Parent may not be successful in completing the Asset Dispositions. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any such Asset Disposition shall require, to the extent consistent with applicable Laws, the prior written consent of the Company (not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed) if such Asset Disposition would create any post-disposition liabilities or indemnity obligations for Parent following the Closing; provided, however, that the prior written consent of the Company shall not be required in connection with any Asset Disposition if Parent agrees that the maximum aggregate dollar value of any post-disposition liabilities or indemnity obligation shall be considered as a reduction to Parent Net Cash as set forth in this Agreement.

Section 5. ADDITIONAL AGREEMENTS OF THE PARTIES

5.1 Registration Statement; Proxy Statement.

(a) As promptly as practicable after the date of this Agreement, the Parties shall prepare, and Parent shall cause to be filed with the SEC, the Registration Statement, in which the Proxy Statement will be included as a part. Parent covenants and agrees that the Registration Statement (and the letter to stockholders, notice of meeting and form of proxy included therewith) will not, at the time that the Proxy Statement or any amendments or supplements thereto are filed with the SEC, at the time the Proxy Statement or any amendments or supplements thereto are first mailed to Parent’s stockholders and at the time of the Parent Stockholder’s Meeting, contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements made therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading. The Company covenants and agrees that the information provided by or on behalf of the Company or its Representatives to Parent for inclusion in the Registration Statement (including the Company Audited Financial Statements or the Company Interim Financial Statements, as the case may be) will not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make such information not misleading. Parent makes no covenant, representation or warranty with respect to statements made in the Registration Statement (and the letter to stockholders, notice of meeting and form of proxy included therewith), if any, based on information provided by or on behalf of the Company or any of its Representatives for inclusion therein, and the Company makes no covenant, representation or warranty with respect to statements made in the Registration Statement (and the letter to stockholders, notice of meeting and form of proxy included therewith), if any, other than with respect to the information provided by or on behalf of the Company, or any of its Representatives for inclusion therein. The Company and its legal counsel shall be given reasonable opportunity to review and comment on the Registration Statement, including all amendments and supplements thereto, prior to the filing thereof with the SEC, and on the response to any comments of the SEC on the Registration Statement, prior to the filing thereof with the SEC; provided that any such filings shall be subject to the consent of the Company (not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed). Parent shall provide the Company with copies of any written comments, and shall inform the Company of any oral comments, that Parent receives from the SEC or its staff with respect to the Registration Statement promptly after the receipt of such comments. Parent shall use commercially reasonable efforts to respond promptly to any comments of the SEC or its staff and to have the Registration Statement declared effective under the Securities Act as promptly as practicable after it is filed with the SEC; provided that any such response shall be subject to the consent of the Company (not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed). Each of the Parties shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the Proxy Statement to be mailed to Parent's stockholders as promptly as practicable after the Registration Statement is declared effective under the Securities Act. Each Party shall promptly furnish to the other Party all information concerning such Party and such Party's Affiliates and such Party's stockholders that may be required or reasonably requested in connection with any action contemplated by this Section 5.1. If Parent, Merger Sub or the Company become aware of any event or information that, pursuant to the Securities Act or the Exchange Act, should be disclosed in an amendment or supplement to the Registration Statement or Proxy Statement, as the case may be, then such Party, as the case may be, shall promptly inform the other Parties thereof and shall cooperate with such other Parties in filing such amendment or supplement with the SEC and, if appropriate, in mailing such amendment or supplement to Parent's stockholders. The Company and Parent shall each use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the Registration Statement and the Proxy Statement to comply with the applicable rules and regulations promulgated by the SEC and applicable federal and state securities Laws requirements.

(b) The Parties shall reasonably cooperate with each other and provide, and require their respective Representatives to provide, the other Party and its Representatives, with all true, correct and complete information regarding such Party or its Subsidiaries that is required by Law to be included in the Registration Statement and the Proxy Statement or reasonably requested by the other Party to be included in the Registration Statement and the Proxy Statement.

(c) If, in connection with the preparation and filing of the Registration Statement, the SEC requests or requires that a tax opinion be prepared and submitted regarding the Intended Tax Treatment (a "Tax Opinion") (i) each of Parent and the Company shall deliver to Cooley LLP and Ropes & Gray LLP, respectively, customary tax representation letters satisfactory to its counsel, dated and executed as of the date the Registration Statement that shall have been declared effective by the SEC and such other date(s) as determined reasonably necessary by such counsel in connection with the preparation and filing of the Registration Statement, which counsel shall be entitled to rely upon in rendering its Tax Opinion, and (ii) the Company and Parent shall each use its reasonable best efforts to cause Cooley LLP and Ropes & Gray LLP to furnish a Tax Opinion with respect to the Intended Tax Treatment. For the avoidance of doubt, in no event shall any such Tax Opinion be a condition to the Closing.

5.2 Company Information Statement; Stockholder Written Consent.

(a) Promptly after the Registration Statement shall have been declared effective under the Securities Act, and in any event no later than three (3) Business Days thereafter, the Company shall prepare, with the cooperation of Parent, and cause to be delivered to its stockholders an information statement, which shall include a copy of the Proxy Statement (the “Information Statement”), to solicit the approval by written consent from the Company Signatories, including the Company stockholders sufficient for the Required Company Stockholder Vote in lieu of a meeting pursuant to Section 228 of the DGCL, for purposes of: (i) adopting and approving this Agreement and the Contemplated Transactions, (ii) acknowledging that the approval given thereby is irrevocable and that such stockholder is aware of its rights to demand appraisal for its shares of Company Capital Stock pursuant to Section 262 of the DGCL, a true and correct copy of which will be attached thereto, and that such stockholder has received and read a copy of Section 262 of the DGCL, and (iii) acknowledging that by its approval of the Merger it is not entitled to appraisal rights with respect to its shares of Company Capital Stock in connection with the Merger and thereby waives any rights to receive payment of the fair value of its shares of Company Capital Stock under the DGCL (collectively, the “Company Stockholder Matters”). Under no circumstances shall the Company assert that any approval or consent other than the Required Company Stockholder Vote is necessary for its stockholders or otherwise to approve this Agreement and the Contemplated Transactions. All materials (including any amendments thereto) submitted to the stockholders of the Company in accordance with this Section 5.2(a) shall be subject to Parent’s advance review and reasonable approval. The Parties shall reasonably cooperate with each other and provide, and require their respective Representatives to provide, the other Party and its Representatives with all true, correct and complete information regarding such Party or its Subsidiaries that is required by applicable Law to be included in the Information Statement or reasonably requested by the other Party to be included in the Information Statement.

(b) The Company covenants and agrees that the Information Statement, including any pro forma financial statements included therein (and the letter to stockholders and form of Company Stockholder Written Consent included therewith), will not, at the time that the Information Statement or any amendment or supplement thereto is first mailed, distributed or otherwise made available to the stockholders of the Company, at the time of receipt of the Required Company Stockholder Vote and at the Effective Time, contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements made therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company makes no covenant, representation or warranty with respect to statements made in the Information Statement (and the letter to the stockholders and form of Company Stockholder Written Consent included therewith), if any, based on information furnished in writing by Parent or any of its Representatives specifically for inclusion therein. Each of the Parties shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the Information Statement to comply with the applicable rules and regulations promulgated by the SEC and applicable federal and state securities Laws requirements.

(c) Promptly following receipt of the Required Company Stockholder Vote, the Company shall prepare and deliver a notice (the “Stockholder Notice”) to every stockholder of the Company that did not execute the Company Stockholder Written Consent. The Stockholder Notice shall (i) be a statement to the effect that the Company Board determined that the Merger is advisable in accordance with Section 251(b) of the DGCL and in the best interests of the stockholders of the Company and authorized, approved and adopted this Agreement, the Merger and the other Contemplated Transactions, (ii) provide the stockholders of the Company to whom it is sent with notice of the actions taken in the Company Stockholder Written Consent, including the adoption and approval of this Agreement, the Merger and the other Contemplated Transactions in accordance with Section 228(e) of the DGCL and the Organizational Documents of the Company, and (iii) include a description of the appraisal rights of the Company’s stockholders available under the DGCL, along with such other information as is required thereunder and pursuant to applicable Law. All materials (including any amendments thereto) submitted to the stockholders of the Company in accordance with this Section 5.2(c) shall be subject to Parent’s advance review and reasonable approval.

(d) The Company agrees that: (i) the Company Board shall recommend that the Company's stockholders vote to approve the Company Stockholder Matters and shall use reasonable best efforts to solicit such approval from the Company's stockholders within the time set forth in Section 5.2(a) (the recommendation of the Company Board that the Company's stockholders vote to adopt and approve the Company Stockholder Matters being referred to as the "Company Board Recommendation"); and (ii) (1) the Company Board Recommendation shall not be withdrawn or modified, (2) the Company Board shall not publicly propose to withdraw or modify the Company Board Recommendation and (3) no resolution by the Company Board or any committee thereof to withdraw or modify the Company Board Recommendation or to adopt, approve or recommend (or publicly propose to adopt, approve or recommend) any Acquisition Proposal shall be adopted or proposed (the actions set forth in the foregoing clause (ii), if taken, shall constitute, in each case, a "Company Board Adverse Recommendation Change").

(e) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, and subject to compliance with Section 4.5 and this Section 5.2(e), if at any time prior to the approval of the Company Stockholder Matters:

(i) If the Company has received a bona fide Acquisition Proposal (which Acquisition Proposal did not arise out of a material breach of Section 4.5) from any Person that has not been withdrawn and after consultation with outside legal counsel, the Company Board shall have determined, in good faith, that such Acquisition Proposal is a Superior Offer, the Company Board may make a Company Board Adverse Recommendation Change if and only if: (A) the Company Board determines in good faith, after consultation with the Company's outside legal counsel and financial advisor, that the failure to do so would be inconsistent with the fiduciary duties of the Company Board to the Company's stockholders under applicable Law; (B) the Company shall have given Parent prior written notice of its intention to consider making a Company Board Adverse Recommendation Change at least four (4) Business Days prior to making any such Company Board Adverse Recommendation Change (a "Company Determination Notice"; and such period the "Company Notice Period") (which notice shall not constitute a Company Board Adverse Recommendation Change); and (C) (1) the Company shall have provided to Parent a description in reasonable detail of the reasons for such Company Board Adverse Recommendation Change the identity of the party making the Acquisition Proposal, a summary of the material terms and conditions of the Acquisition Proposal and written copies of any relevant proposed transaction documents (including with respect to financing arrangements), in accordance with Section 4.5(b), (2) the Company shall have given Parent the three (3) Business Days after the Company Determination Notice to propose revisions to the terms of this Agreement or make another proposal and shall have made its Representatives reasonably available to negotiate in good faith with Parent (to the extent Parent desires to negotiate) with respect to such proposed revisions or other proposal, if any, and (3) after considering the results of any such negotiations and giving effect to the proposals made by Parent, if any, after consultation with outside legal counsel, the Company Board shall have determined, in good faith, that such Acquisition Proposal is a Superior Offer and that the failure to make the Company Board Adverse Recommendation Change would be inconsistent with the fiduciary duties of the Company Board to the Company's stockholders under applicable Law; provided during any Company Notice Period, Parent shall be entitled to deliver to the Company one or more counterproposals to such Acquisition Proposal and the Company will, and cause its Representatives to, negotiate with Parent in good faith (to the extent Parent desires to negotiate) to enable Parent to propose in writing an offer binding on Parent to effect such adjustments to the terms and conditions of this Agreement so that the applicable Acquisition Proposal ceases to constitute a Superior Offer. For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of this Section 5.2(e)(i) shall also apply to any material change to the facts and circumstances relating to such Acquisition Proposal or any amendment to such Acquisition Proposal (including any revision in the amount, form or mix of consideration), and require a new Company Determination Notice and the Company shall be required to provide Parent with notice of such material change or amendment, except that the references to four (4) Business Days shall be deemed to be two (2) Business Days.

(ii) Other than in connection with an Acquisition Proposal, the Company Board may make a Company Board Adverse Recommendation Change in response to a Company Change in Circumstance, if and only if: (A) the Company Board determines in good faith, after consultation with the Company's outside legal counsel, that the failure to do so would be inconsistent with the fiduciary duties of the Company Board to the Company's stockholders under applicable Law; (B) the Company shall have given Parent a Company Determination Notice at least four (4) Business Days prior to making any such Company Board Adverse Recommendation Change; and (C) (1) the Company shall have specified the Company Change in Circumstance in reasonable detail, including the material facts and circumstances related to the applicable Company Change in Circumstance, (2) the Company shall have given Parent the three (3) Business Days after the Company Determination Notice to propose revisions to the terms of this Agreement or make another proposal, and shall have made its Representatives reasonably available to negotiate in good faith with Parent (to the extent Parent desires to do so) with respect to such proposed revisions or other proposal, if any, and (3) after considering the results of any such negotiations and giving effect to the proposals made by Parent, if any, after consultation with outside legal counsel, the Company Board shall have determined, in good faith, that the failure to make the Company Board Adverse Recommendation Change in response to such Company Change in Circumstance would be inconsistent with the fiduciary duties of the Company Board to the Company's stockholders under applicable Law. For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of this 5.2(e)(ii) shall also apply to any material change to the facts and circumstances relating to such Company Change in Circumstance, and require a new Company Determination Notice and the Company shall be required to provide Parent with notice of such material change, except that the references to four (4) Business Days shall be deemed to be two (2) Business Days.

(f) Unless this Agreement is otherwise terminated pursuant to Section 9.1, the Company's obligation to solicit the consent of its stockholders to sign the Company Stockholder Written Consent in accordance with Section 5.2(a) and Section 5.2(d) shall not be limited or otherwise affected by the commencement, disclosure, announcement or submission of any Superior Offer or other Acquisition Proposal or by any Company Board Adverse Recommendation Change.

5.3 Parent Stockholders' Meeting.

(a) Promptly after the Registration Statement has been declared effective by the SEC under the Securities Act, Parent shall take all action necessary under applicable Law to call, give notice of and hold a meeting of the holders of Parent Common Stock for the purpose of seeking approval of (the "Parent Stockholders' Meeting");

(i) (A) the issuance of Parent Common Stock or other securities of Parent that represent (or are convertible into) more than twenty percent (20%) of the shares of Parent Common Stock outstanding immediately prior to the Merger to the holders of Company Capital Stock and Company Options in connection with the Contemplated Transactions pursuant to the Nasdaq rules and (B) the change of control of Parent resulting from the Merger pursuant to the Nasdaq rules;

(ii) the approval of the Parent Charter Amendment to (A) change the name of Parent to "Candid Therapeutics, Inc.", (B) effect the Nasdaq Reverse Split and (C) effect the Authorized Share Increase (the matters contemplated by Section 5.3(a)(i) and Section 5.3(a)(ii)(A) and (B), the "Parent Stockholder Matters," and the matter contemplated by Section 5.3(a)(ii)(C), the "Authorized Share Increase Proposal");

(iii) the Equity Plan Proposals; and

(iv) any other proposals the Parties deem necessary to consummate the Contemplated Transactions.

(b) The Parent Stockholders' Meeting shall be held as promptly as practicable after the Registration Statement is declared effective under the Securities Act and, in any event, no later than forty-five (45) calendar days after the effective date of the Registration Statement. Parent shall take reasonable measures to ensure that all proxies solicited in connection with the Parent Stockholders' Meeting are solicited in compliance with all applicable Laws. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if on the date of the Parent Stockholders' Meeting, or a date preceding the date on which the Parent Stockholders' Meeting is scheduled, Parent reasonably believes that (i) it will not receive proxies sufficient to obtain the Required Parent Stockholder Vote or the approval of the Authorized Share Increase Proposal, whether or not a quorum would be present, or (ii) it will not have sufficient shares of Parent Common Stock represented (whether in person or by proxy) to constitute a quorum necessary to conduct the business of the Parent Stockholders' Meeting, Parent may postpone or adjourn, or make one or more successive postponements or adjournments of, the Parent Stockholders' Meeting as long as the date of the Parent Stockholders' Meeting is not postponed or adjourned more than an aggregate of thirty (30) calendar days in connection with any postponements or adjournments.

(c) Parent agrees that, subject to Section 5.3\(d\): (i) the Parent Board shall recommend that the holders of Parent Common Stock vote to approve the Parent Stockholder Matters, the Authorized Share Increase Proposal and the Equity Plan Proposals and shall use commercially reasonable efforts to solicit such approval within the timeframe set forth in Section 5.3\(b\) above; (ii) the Proxy Statement shall include a statement to the effect that the Parent Board recommends that Parent's stockholders vote to approve the Parent Stockholder Matters, the Authorized Share Increase Proposal and the Equity Plan Proposals (the recommendation of the Parent Board with respect to the Parent Stockholder Matters being referred to as the "Parent Board Recommendation"); and (iii) (1) the Parent Board Recommendation shall not be withheld, amended, withdrawn or modified, (2) the Parent Board shall not publicly propose to withhold, amend, withdraw or modify the Parent Board Recommendation, (3) no resolution by the Parent Board or any committee thereof to withdraw or modify the Parent Board Recommendation or to adopt, approve or recommend (or publicly propose to adopt, approve or recommend) any Acquisition Proposal shall be adopted or proposed, and (4) the Parent Board shall not publicly announce an intention or resolution to effect any of the foregoing (the actions set forth in the foregoing clause (iii), if taken, shall constitute, in each case, a "Parent Board Adverse Recommendation Change").

(d) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, and subject to compliance with Section 4.4 and this Section 5.3\(d\), if at any time prior to the approval of the Parent Stockholder Matters at the Parent Stockholders' Meeting by the Required Parent Stockholder Vote:

(i) If Parent has received a bona fide Acquisition Proposal (which Acquisition Proposal did not arise out of a material breach of Section 4.4) from any Person that has not been withdrawn and after consultation with outside legal counsel, the Parent Board shall have determined, in good faith, that such Acquisition Proposal is a Superior Offer, the Parent Board may make a Parent Board Adverse Recommendation Change if and only if: (A) the Parent Board determines in good faith, after consultation with Parent's outside legal counsel and financial advisor, that the failure to do so would be inconsistent with the fiduciary duties of the Parent Board to Parent's stockholders under applicable Law; (B) Parent shall have given the Company prior written notice of its intention to consider making a Parent Board Adverse Recommendation Change at least four (4) Business Days prior to making any such Parent Board Adverse Recommendation Change (a "Determination Notice"; and such period the "Parent Notice Period") (which notice shall not constitute a Parent Board Adverse Recommendation Change); and (C) (1) Parent shall have provided to the Company a description in reasonable detail of the reasons for such Parent Board Adverse Recommendation Change, the identity of the party making the Acquisition Proposal, a summary of the material terms and conditions of the Acquisition Proposal and written copies of any relevant proposed transaction documents (including with respect to financing arrangements), in accordance with Section 4.4\(b\), (2) Parent shall have given the Company the three (3) Business Days after the Determination Notice to propose revisions to the terms of this Agreement or make another proposal and shall have made its Representatives reasonably available to negotiate in good faith with the Company (to the extent the Company desires to negotiate) with respect to such proposed revisions or other proposal, if any, and (3) after considering the results of any such negotiations and giving effect to the proposals made by the Company, if any, after consultation with outside legal counsel, the Parent Board shall have determined, in good faith, that such Acquisition Proposal is a Superior Offer and that the failure to make the Parent Board Adverse Recommendation Change would be inconsistent with the fiduciary duties of the Parent Board to Parent's stockholders under applicable Law; provided during any Parent Notice Period, the Company shall be entitled to deliver to Parent one or more counterproposals to such Acquisition Proposal and Parent will, and cause its Representatives to, negotiate with the Company in good faith (to the extent the Company desires to negotiate) to enable the Company to propose in writing an offer binding on the Company to effect such adjustments to the terms and conditions of this Agreement so that the applicable Acquisition Proposal ceases to constitute a Superior Offer. For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of this Section 5.3\(d\)\(i\) shall also apply to any material change to the facts and circumstances relating to such Acquisition Proposal or any amendment to such Acquisition Proposal (including any revision in the amount, form or mix of consideration), and require a new Determination Notice and Parent shall be required to provide the Company with notice of such material change or amendment, except that the references to four (4) Business Days shall be deemed to be two (2) Business Days.

(ii) Other than in connection with an Acquisition Proposal, the Parent Board may make a Parent Board Adverse Recommendation Change in response to a Parent Change in Circumstance, if and only if: (A) the Parent Board determines in good faith, after consultation with Parent's outside legal counsel, that the failure to do so would be inconsistent with the fiduciary duties of the Parent Board to Parent's stockholders under applicable Law; (B) Parent shall have given the Company a Determination Notice at least four (4) Business Days prior to making any such Parent Board Adverse Recommendation Change; and (C) (1) Parent shall have specified the Parent Change in Circumstance in reasonable detail, including the material facts and circumstances related to the applicable Parent Change in Circumstance, (2) Parent shall have given the Company the three (3) Business Days after the Determination Notice to propose revisions to the terms of this Agreement or make another proposal, and shall have made its Representatives reasonably available to negotiate in good faith with the Company (to the extent the Company desires to do so) with respect to such proposed revisions or other proposal, if any, and (3) after considering the results of any such negotiations and giving effect to the proposals made by the Company, if any, after consultation with outside legal counsel, the Parent Board shall have determined, in good faith, that the failure to make the Parent Board Adverse Recommendation Change in response to such Parent Change in Circumstance would be inconsistent with the fiduciary duties of the Parent Board to Parent's stockholders under applicable Law. For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of this Section 5.3\(d\)\(ii\) shall also apply to any material change to the facts and circumstances relating to such Parent Change in Circumstance, and require a new Determination Notice and Parent shall be required to provide the Company with notice of such material change, except that the references to four (4) Business Days shall be deemed to be two (2) Business Days.

(e) Nothing contained in this Agreement shall prohibit Parent or the Parent Board from (i) complying with Rules 14d-9 and 14e-2(a) promulgated under the Exchange Act, (ii) issuing a "stop, look and listen" communication or similar communication of the type contemplated by Section 14d-9(f) under the Exchange Act or (iii) otherwise making any disclosure to Parent's stockholders; provided however, that, in the case of the foregoing clause (iii), the Parent Board determines in good faith, after consultation with its outside legal counsel, that failure to make such disclosure would be inconsistent with applicable Law, including its fiduciary duties under applicable Law.

(f) Unless this Agreement is otherwise terminated pursuant to Section 9.1, Parent's obligation to call, give notice of and hold the Parent Stockholders' Meeting in accordance with Section 5.3\(b\) shall not be limited or otherwise affected by the commencement, disclosure, announcement or submission of any Acquisition Proposal or by any Parent Board Adverse Recommendation Change.

5.4 Regulatory Approvals.

(a) Notwithstanding the generality of Section 5.7, each Party shall, (i) as promptly as practicable, but in any event within ten (10) Business Days following the date of this Agreement, make or cause to be made any filings required by each of them or any of their respective Affiliates under the HSR Act and (ii) use reasonable best efforts to file or otherwise submit as promptly as practicable all applications, notices, reports and other documents required to be filed by such Party with or otherwise submitted by such Party to any Governmental Body with respect to the Contemplated Transactions, and to submit promptly any additional information requested by any such Governmental Body.

(b) Parent and the Company shall consult and cooperate with one another, and consider in good faith the views of one another, in connection with, and provide to the other in advance (to the extent legally permissible), any analyses, presentations, memoranda, briefs, arguments, opinions and proposals made or submitted by or on behalf of any party hereto in connection with proceedings under or relating to the Antitrust Laws. Without limiting the foregoing, the Parties agree (i) to give each other reasonable advance notice of all meetings or substantive communications with any Governmental Body relating to any Antitrust Laws, (ii) to give each other an opportunity to participate in each of such meetings, (iii) to the extent practicable, to give each other reasonable advance notice of all substantive oral communications with any Governmental Body relating to any Antitrust Laws, (iv) if any Governmental Body initiates a substantive oral communication regarding any Antitrust Laws, to promptly notify the other party of the substance of such communication, (v) to provide each other with a reasonable advance opportunity to review and comment upon all written communications (including any analyses, presentations, memoranda, briefs, arguments, opinions and proposals) with a Governmental Body regarding any Antitrust Laws and (vi) to provide each other with copies of all written communications from any Governmental Body relating to any Antitrust Laws. Any such disclosures or provision of copies by one party to the other may be made on an outside counsel basis if appropriate.

(c) Each Party shall bear its own expenses and costs incurred by such Party in connection with any filings and submissions pursuant to Antitrust Laws, except that the Company shall pay the fees related to any filing made pursuant to Section 5.4(a)(i).

(d) In the event that any Legal Proceeding is instituted (or threatened to be instituted) by a Governmental Body challenging the Merger, each of Parent, Merger Sub and the Company shall cooperate in all respects with each other and shall use reasonable best efforts to contest and resist any such Legal Proceeding and to have vacated, lifted, reversed or overturned any decree, judgment, injunction or other order, whether temporary, preliminary or permanent, that is in effect and that prohibits, prevents or restricts consummation of the Merger; provided, however, that the Company may, in its sole discretion, determine to settle such challenge provided that the terms of such settlement do not prevent or unreasonably delay consummation of the Merger.

(e) Neither Party shall, and each Party shall cause its Subsidiaries and Affiliates not to, acquire or agree to acquire any rights, interests, assets, business, Person or division thereof (whether through acquisition, license, joint venture, collaboration or otherwise), or take any other actions, if such acquisition or action would reasonably be expected to (i) prevent, materially delay, or adversely affect in any material respect the ability of the Parties to consummate the any of the Contemplated Transactions, or (ii) result in any Party being required to obtain any clearance, consent, approval, waiver, waiting period expiration or termination, non-action or other authorization under any Laws with respect to any of the Contemplated Transactions.

5.5 Company Options.

(a) At the Effective Time, each Company Option that is outstanding and unexercised immediately prior to the Effective Time under the Company's 2024 Equity Incentive Plan, as may be amended from time to time, (the "Company EIP"), whether or not vested, shall be converted into and become an option to purchase Parent Common Stock, and Parent shall assume the Company EIP and each such Company Option in accordance with the terms (as in effect as of the date of this Agreement) of the Company EIP and the terms of the stock option agreement by which such Company Option is evidenced (but with changes to such documents as Parent in good faith determines are appropriate to reflect the substitution of the Company Options by Parent to purchase shares of Parent Common Stock). All rights with respect to Company Common Stock under Company Options assumed by Parent shall thereupon be converted into rights with respect to Parent Common Stock. Accordingly, from and after the Effective Time: (i) each Company Option assumed by Parent may be exercised solely for shares of Parent Common Stock; (ii) the number of shares of Parent Common Stock subject to each Company

Option assumed by Parent shall be determined by multiplying (A) the number of shares of Company Common Stock that were subject to such Company Option, as in effect immediately prior to the Effective Time, by (B) the Exchange Ratio, and rounding the resulting number down to the nearest whole number of shares of Parent Common Stock; (iii) the per share exercise price for the Parent Common Stock issuable upon exercise of each Company Option assumed by Parent shall be determined by dividing (A) the per share exercise price of Company Common Stock subject to such Company Option, as in effect immediately prior to the Effective Time, by (B) the Exchange Ratio, and rounding the resulting exercise price up to the nearest whole cent; and (iv) any restriction on the exercise of any Company Option assumed by Parent shall continue in full force and effect and the term, exercisability, vesting schedule and other provisions of such Company Option shall otherwise remain unchanged; provided, however, that: (A) to the extent provided under the terms of the respective grant agreements governing the Company Options and the Company EIP, Parent may amend the terms of the Company Options and the Company EIP, in accordance with the terms thereof to reflect Parent's substitution of the Company Options with options to purchase Parent Common Stock (such as by making any change in control or similar definition relate to Parent and having any provision that provides for the adjustment of Company Options upon the occurrence of certain corporate events relate to corporate events that relate to Parent or Parent Common Stock); and (B) the Parent Board or a committee thereof shall succeed to the authority and responsibility of the Company Board or any committee thereof with respect to each Company Option assumed by Parent. Each Company Option so assumed by Parent is intended to qualify following the Effective Time as an incentive stock option as defined in Section 422 of the Code to the extent permitted under Section 422 of the Code and to the extent such Company Option qualified as an incentive stock option prior to the Effective Time, and, further, the assumption of such Company Option pursuant to this Section 5.5\(a\) shall be effected in a manner that satisfies the requirements of Sections 409A and 424(a) of the Code and the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder, and this Section 5.5\(a\) will be construed consistent with this intent.

(b) Parent shall file with the SEC, as soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Time, a registration statement on Form S-8 (or any successor form), if available for use by Parent, relating to the shares of Parent Common Stock that are either (i) issuable with respect to Company Options assumed by Parent in accordance with Section 5.5\(a\) or (ii) reserved for future grants under the Company EIP.

(c) Prior to the Effective Time, the Company shall take all actions that may be necessary (under the Company EIP and otherwise) to effectuate the provisions of this Section 5.5 and to ensure that, from and after the Effective Time, holders of Company Options have no rights with respect thereto other than those specifically provided in this Section 5.5.

5.6 Indemnification of Officers and Directors.

(a) From the Effective Time through the sixth (6th) anniversary of the date on which the Effective Time occurs, each of Parent and the Surviving Corporation, jointly and severally, shall indemnify and hold harmless each person who is now, or has been at any time prior to the date hereof, or who becomes prior to the Effective Time, a director, officer, fiduciary or agent of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries or the Company, respectively (the "D&O Indemnified Parties"), against all claims, losses, liabilities, damages, judgments, fines and reasonable fees, costs and expenses, including attorneys' fees and disbursements, incurred in connection with any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, arising out of or pertaining to the fact that the D&O Indemnified Party is or was a director, officer, fiduciary or agent of Parent or of the Company or their respective Subsidiaries, whether asserted or claimed prior to, at or after the Effective Time, in each case, to the fullest extent permitted by Parent's Organizational Documents or the Company's Organizational Documents, as applicable, or pursuant to indemnification agreements made available to the Company, as applicable. Each D&O Indemnified Party will be entitled to advancement of expenses incurred in the defense of any such claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation from each of Parent and the Surviving Corporation, jointly and severally, upon receipt by Parent or the Surviving Corporation from the D&O Indemnified Party of a request therefor; provided that any such person to whom expenses are advanced provides an undertaking to Parent, to the extent then required by the DGCL, to repay such advances if it is ultimately determined that such person is not entitled to indemnification.

(b) The provisions of the Organizational Documents of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries with respect to indemnification, advancement of expenses and exculpation of present and former directors and officers of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries that are set forth in the Organizational Documents of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries as of the date of this Agreement shall not be amended, modified or repealed for a period of six (6) years from the Effective Time in a manner that would adversely affect the rights thereunder of individuals who, at or prior to the Effective Time, were officers or directors of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries. The Organizational Documents of the Surviving Corporation shall contain, and Parent shall cause the Organizational Documents of the Surviving Corporation to so contain, provisions no less favorable with respect to indemnification, advancement of expenses and exculpation of present and former directors and officers as those set forth in the Organizational Documents of the Company as of the date of this Agreement.

(c) From and after the Effective Time, (i) the Surviving Corporation shall fulfill and honor in all respects the obligations of the Company to its D&O Indemnified Parties as of immediately prior to the Closing pursuant to any indemnification provisions under the Organizational Documents of the Company and pursuant to any indemnification agreements between the Company and such D&O Indemnified Parties, with respect to claims arising out of matters occurring at or prior to the Effective Time and (ii) Parent shall fulfill and honor in all respects the obligations of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries to its D&O Indemnified Parties as of immediately prior to the Closing pursuant to any indemnification provisions under the Organizational Documents of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries and pursuant to any indemnification agreements between Parent or any of its Subsidiaries and such D&O Indemnified Parties, with respect to claims arising out of matters occurring at or prior to the Effective Time.

(d) From and after the Effective Time, Parent shall maintain directors' and officers' liability insurance policies, with an effective date as of the Closing Date, on commercially available terms and conditions and with coverage limits customary for U.S. public companies similarly situated to Parent. In addition, Parent shall purchase, prior to the Effective Time, a six (6)-year prepaid "tail policy" for the non-cancellable extension of the directors' and officers' liability coverage of Parent's and any of its Subsidiaries' existing directors' and officers' insurance policies and Parent's existing fiduciary liability insurance policies (if any), in each case, for a claims reporting or discovery period of at least six (6) years from and after the Effective Time with respect to any claim related to any period of time at or prior to the Effective Time. During the term of the "tail" policy, Parent shall not take any action following the Effective Time to cause such "tail" policy to be cancelled or any provision therein to be amended or waived in any manner that would adversely affect in any material respect the rights of its or any of its Subsidiaries' former and current officers and directors.

(e) From and after the Effective Time, Parent shall pay all expenses, including reasonable attorneys' fees, that are incurred by the persons referred to in this Section 5.6 in connection with their successful enforcement of the rights provided to such persons in this Section 5.6.

(f) All rights to exculpation, indemnification and advancement of expenses for acts or omissions occurring at or prior to the Effective Time, whether asserted or claimed prior to, at or after the Closing, now existing in favor of the current or former directors, officers or employees, as the case may be, of Parent or the Company or any of their respective Subsidiaries as provided in their respective Organizational Documents or in any agreement shall survive the Merger and shall continue in full force and effect. The provisions of this Section 5.6 are intended to be in addition to the rights otherwise available to the current and former officers and directors of Parent and the Company and any of their respective Subsidiaries by Law, charter, statute, bylaw or Contract, and shall operate for the benefit of, and shall be enforceable by, each of the D&O Indemnified Parties, their heirs and their representatives.

(g) From and after the Effective Time, in the event Parent or the Surviving Corporation or any of their respective successors or assigns (i) consolidates with or merges into any other Person and shall not be the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger, or (ii) transfers all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any Person, then, and in each such case, proper provision shall be made so that the successors and assigns of Parent or the Surviving Corporation, as the case may be, shall succeed to the obligations set forth in this Section 5.6. Parent shall cause the Surviving Corporation to perform all of the obligations of the Surviving Corporation under this Section 5.6.

(h) The obligations set forth in this Section 5.6 shall not be terminated, amended or otherwise modified in any manner that adversely affects any D&O Indemnified Party, or any person who is a beneficiary under the policies referred to in this Section 5.6 and their heirs and representatives, without the prior written consent of such affected D&O Indemnified Party or such other beneficiary.

5.7 Additional Agreements. The Parties shall, subject to Section 4.5, (a) use commercially reasonable efforts to cause to be taken all actions necessary to consummate the Contemplated Transactions and (b) reasonably cooperate with the other Parties and provide the other Parties with such assistance as may be reasonably requested for the purpose of facilitating the performance by each Party of its respective obligations under this Agreement and to enable the Surviving Corporation to continue to meet its obligations under this Agreement following the Closing. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, each Party shall use reasonable best efforts to: (i) make all filings and other submissions (if any) and give all notices (if any) required to be made and given by such Party in connection with the Contemplated Transactions, (ii) obtain each Consent (if any) reasonably required to be obtained (pursuant to any applicable Law or Contract, or otherwise) by such Party in connection with the Contemplated Transactions with respect to Contracts set forth in Section 5.7 of the Company Disclosure Schedule to remain in full force and effect, (iii) lift any injunction prohibiting, or any other legal bar to, the Contemplated Transactions and (iv) satisfy the conditions precedent to the consummation of the Merger.

5.8 Public Announcement. The initial press release relating to this Agreement shall be a joint press release issued by the Company and Parent and thereafter Parent and the Company shall consult with each other before issuing any further press release(s) or otherwise making any public statement or making any announcement to Parent Associates or Company Associates (to the extent not previously issued or made in accordance with this Agreement) with respect to the Contemplated Transactions and shall not issue any such press release, public statement or announcement to Parent Associates or Company Associates without the other Party's prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed). Notwithstanding the foregoing: (a) each Party may, without such consultation or prior written consent, make any public statement in response to questions from the press, analysts, investors or those attending industry conferences, make internal announcements to employees and make disclosures in Parent SEC Documents, so long as such statements are consistent with and do not disclose material information not previously disclosed in previous press releases, public disclosures or public statements made jointly by the Parties (or individually, if approved by the other Party); (b) a Party may, without the prior written consent of the other Party but subject to giving advance notice to the other Party of, and consulting with the other Party regarding, the text of such press release, announcement or statement, issue any such press release or make any such public announcement or statement which Parent shall have determined in good faith, upon the advice of legal counsel, is required by any applicable Law; and (c) Parent need not consult with the Company in connection with such portion of any press release, public statement or filing to be issued or made pursuant to Section 5.3\(e\) or with respect to any Acquisition Proposal or Parent Board Adverse Recommendation Change.

5.9 Listing. Parent shall use its commercially reasonable efforts, (a) to maintain its existing listing on Nasdaq until the Closing Date and to obtain approval of the listing of the combined company on Nasdaq; (b) without derogating from the generality of the requirements of the foregoing clause (a) and to the extent required by the rules and regulations of Nasdaq, to prepare and submit to Nasdaq a notification form for the listing of the shares of Parent Common Stock to be issued in connection with the Contemplated Transactions, and to cause such shares to be approved for listing (subject to official notice of issuance), (c) to effect the Nasdaq Reverse Split, and (d) to the extent required by Nasdaq Marketplace Rule 5110, to file an initial listing application for the Parent Common Stock on Nasdaq (the "Nasdaq Listing Application") and to cause such Nasdaq Listing Application to be conditionally approved prior to the Effective Time. The Parties will use commercially reasonable efforts to coordinate with respect to compliance with Nasdaq rules and regulations and will reasonably promptly inform the other Party of all verbal or written communications between Nasdaq and such Party or its representatives. The Company agrees to pay all Nasdaq fees associated with the Nasdaq Listing Application. The Company will cooperate with Parent as reasonably requested by Parent with respect to the Nasdaq Listing Application and promptly furnish to Parent all information concerning the Company and its stockholders that may be required or reasonably requested in connection with any action contemplated by this Section 5.9.

5.10 Tax Matters.

(a) For U.S. federal income Tax purposes, (i) the Parties intend that the Merger qualify as a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code (the “Intended Tax Treatment”), and (ii) this Agreement is intended to be, and is hereby adopted as, a “plan of reorganization” for purposes of Section 354 and 361 of the Code and Treasury Regulations Sections 1.368-2(g) and 1.368-3(a), to which Parent, Merger Sub and the Company are parties under Section 368(b) of the Code.

(b) The Parties shall use their respective reasonable best efforts to cause the Merger to qualify, and will not take (or knowingly fail to take) any action or cause (or knowingly fail to cause) any action to be taken which action would reasonably be expected to prevent the Merger from qualifying, for the Intended Tax Treatment. The Parties shall use commercially reasonable efforts to operate the Surviving Corporation so as to meet the “continuity of business enterprise” requirement and any other requirements pursuant to Section 368(a)(2)(E) of the Code. The Parties shall not file any U.S. federal, state or local Tax Return in a manner that is inconsistent with the treatment of the Merger as a “reorganization” within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code for U.S. federal, state and other relevant Tax purposes, unless otherwise required by a “determination” within the meaning of Section 1313(a) of the Code.

(c) At least ten (10) Business Days prior to Closing, Parent will provide the Company with its determinations regarding the applicability of Section 280G of the Code and reasonable supporting calculations to any employee, officer, director or other service provider of Parent or any of its Subsidiaries that, in connection with the Contemplated Transactions (i) may receive the payment of any “parachute payment” within the meaning of Section 280G of the Code or (ii) may receive a benefit in the form of accelerated vesting, payment, funding or delivery of, or increase the amount or value of, any payment or benefit received.

(d) Each Party shall reasonably cooperate and shall cause its respective Affiliates to reasonably cooperate with each other Party and its agents, including accounting firms and legal counsel, in connection with any Tax Proceeding or the preparation of any Tax Return of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries. Such cooperation shall include each Party making such information and documents in its possession relating to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries reasonably necessary in connection with any Tax Proceeding or such preparation available to the other Party. The Parties shall retain all Tax Returns, schedules, and work papers, and all material records and other documents relating thereto, until the expiration of the applicable statute of limitations (including, to the extent noticed by any Party, any extensions thereof) of the Tax period to which such Tax Returns and other documents and information relate. Each of the Parties shall also make available to the other Party, as reasonably requested and available on a mutually convenient basis, personnel responsible for preparing, maintaining, and interpreting information and documents relevant to Taxes to provide reasonable explanation of any documents or information provided hereunder. Any information or documents provided under this Agreement shall be kept confidential by the Party receiving such information or documents, except as may otherwise be necessary in connection with the filing of Tax Returns or in connection with a Tax Proceeding.

(e) Fifty percent (50%) of any transfer Taxes shall be borne and paid by each of Parent and the Company if and when due. Each of Parent and the Company shall, at its own expense, timely file any Tax Return or other documents with respect to such Taxes.

(f) Parent and its Subsidiaries shall timely file 2025 U.S. federal, state, and foreign income Tax extensions for their applicable Tax Returns. Neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries shall file income Tax Returns or any other income Tax related forms (including but not limited to change in accounting method forms) prior to the close of the Merger unless required to meet due dates required by applicable Law (for which a valid extension cannot be made).

5.11 Directors and Officers. The Parties shall take all necessary action so that immediately after the Effective Time, (a) the Parent Board comprises seven (7) members (provided that the total number of directors to comprise the Parent Board immediately after the Effective Time may be changed by the Company at any time prior to the Closing by written notice to Parent), with each member designated by the Company, (b) the Persons listed on Schedule 5.11 under the heading “Officers” are elected or appointed, as applicable, to the positions of officers of Parent, as set forth therein, to serve in such positions effective as of the Effective Time until successors are duly appointed and qualified in accordance with applicable Law and (c) the Persons listed on Schedule 5.11 under the heading “Directors” are elected or appointed, as applicable, to the positions of directors of Parent, as set forth therein, and to the classes of such director positions as set forth therein, to serve in such positions effective as of the Effective Time until successors are duly appointed and qualified in accordance with applicable Law. If any Person listed on Schedule 5.11 under the heading “Officers” is unable or unwilling to serve as an officer of Parent, as set forth therein, as of the Effective Time, the Company shall designate a successor in its sole discretion. If any Person listed on Schedule 5.11 is unable or unwilling to serve as a director of Parent, as set forth therein, as of the Effective Time, the Company shall designate a successor in its sole discretion. The Persons listed on Schedule 5.11 under the heading “Directors” shall be the Company’s designees pursuant to clause (c) of this Section 5.11 (which initial list may include vacancies and be supplemented or changed by the Company at any time prior to the Closing by written notice to Parent to include different board designees who are reasonably acceptable to Parent).

5.12 Termination of Certain Agreements and Rights. The Company shall cause the Investor Agreements set forth on Section 5.12 of the Company Disclosure Schedule to be terminated immediately prior to the Effective Time, without any liability being imposed on the part of Parent or the Surviving Corporation. Parent shall use reasonable best efforts to cause the Contracts set forth on Section 5.12(a) of the Parent Disclosure Schedule to be terminated immediately prior to the Effective Time, without any liability being imposed on the part of Parent or the Surviving Corporation. During the Pre-Closing Period, Parent shall not initiate any research, development or discovery programs (including the nomination of new targets) under the Contracts set forth on Section 5.12(b) of the Parent Disclosure Schedule. Parent shall use commercially reasonable efforts to prepay any costs or expenses to maintain any Legacy Asset (as defined in the CVR Agreement) through the Disposition Period (as defined in the CVR Agreement) under the Contracts set forth on Section 5.12(c) of the Parent Disclosure Schedule.

5.13 Section 16 Matters. Prior to the Effective Time, Parent and the Company shall take all such steps as may be required (to the extent permitted under applicable Laws) to cause any acquisitions of Parent Common Stock, restricted stock awards to acquire Parent Common Stock and any options to purchase Parent Common Stock in connection with the Contemplated Transactions, by each individual who is reasonably expected to become subject to the reporting requirements of Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act with respect to Parent, to be exempt under Rule 16b-3 promulgated under the Exchange Act. At least ten (10) days prior to the Closing Date, the Company shall furnish the following information to Parent for each individual who, immediately after the Effective Time, will become subject to the reporting requirements of Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act with respect to Parent: (a) the number of shares of Company Capital Stock owned by such individual and expected to be exchanged for shares of Parent Common Stock pursuant to the Merger, and (b) the number of other derivative securities (if any) with respect to Company Capital Stock owned by such individual and expected to be converted into shares of Parent Common Stock, restricted stock awards to acquire Parent Common Stock or derivative securities with respect to Parent Common Stock in connection with the Merger.

5.14 Cooperation. Each Party shall cooperate reasonably with the other Party and shall provide the other Party with such assistance as may be reasonably requested for the purpose of facilitating the performance by each Party of its respective obligations under this Agreement and to enable the combined entity to continue to meet its obligations following the Effective Time.

5.15 Allocation Certificate; Parent Outstanding Shares Certificate.

(a) The Company will prepare and deliver to Parent at least ten (10) Business Days prior to the Closing Date a certificate signed by the Chief Financial Officer of the Company in a form reasonably acceptable to Parent setting forth (as of immediately prior to the Effective Time) (i) each holder of Company Capital Stock and Company Options, (ii) such holder's name and address; (iii) the number and type of Company Capital Stock held or underlying the Company Options as of the immediately prior to the Effective Time for each such holder; (iv) the number of shares of Parent Common Stock to be issued to such holder, or to underlie any Parent Stock Award to be issued to such holder, pursuant to this Agreement in respect of the Company Capital Stock or Company Options held by such holder as of immediately prior to the Effective Time; and (v) each investor in the Concurrent Financing, the total investment to be made by such investor in the Concurrent Financing, the percentage of the Concurrent Financing Proceeds represented by such stockholder's investment in the Concurrent Financing, and the number of shares of Company Common Stock to be issued to such holder pursuant to this Agreement (the "Allocation Certificate").

(b) Parent will prepare and deliver to the Company at least ten (10) Business Days prior to the Closing Date a certificate signed by the Chief Financial Officer of Parent in a form reasonably acceptable to the Company, setting forth, as of immediately prior to the Effective Time (i) the number of shares of Parent Common Stock and (ii) the number of shares of Parent Common Stock held or underlying the Parent Stock Awards (including whether such Parent Stock Awards are In the Money Parent Options) or Pre-Funded Warrants, in each case as of the Effective Time for such holder (the "Parent Outstanding Shares Certificate").

5.16 Company Financial Statements. To the extent required, the Company will (i) furnish to Parent audited financial statements for the fiscal year ended 2025 for inclusion in the Proxy Statement and the Registration Statement (the "Company 2025 Audited Financial Statements") and, collectively with the audited financial statements of the Company as of December 31, 2024, the "Company Audited Financial Statements") and (ii) use commercially reasonable efforts to, no later than May 14, 2026, furnish to Parent unaudited interim financial statements for each interim period completed prior to the Closing that would be required to be included in the Registration Statement or any periodic report due prior to the Closing if the Company were subject to the periodic reporting requirements under the Securities Act or the Exchange Act (the "Company 2026 Interim Financial Statements") and collectively with the Company 2025 Interim Financial Statements, the "Company Interim Financial Statements"). Each of the Company 2025 Audited Financial Statements and the Company 2026 Interim Financial Statements will be suitable for inclusion in the Proxy Statement and the Registration Statement and prepared in accordance with GAAP as applied on a consistent basis during the periods involved (except in each case as described in the notes thereto) and on that basis will present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position and the results of operations, changes in stockholders' equity, and cash flows of the Company as of the dates of and for the periods referred to in the Company 2025 Audited Financial Statements or the Company 2026 Interim Financial Statements, as the case may be.

5.17 Takeover Statutes. If any Takeover Statute is or may become applicable to the Contemplated Transactions, each of the Company, the Company Board, Parent and the Parent Board, as applicable, shall grant such approvals and take such actions as are necessary so that the Contemplated Transactions may be consummated as promptly as practicable on the terms contemplated by this Agreement and otherwise act to eliminate or minimize the effects of such Takeover Statute on the Contemplated Transactions.

5.18 Stockholder Litigation. Until the earlier of the termination of this Agreement in accordance with its terms or the Effective Time, Parent shall (a) promptly advise the Company in writing of any stockholder litigation or investigation against it or its directors relating to this Agreement, the Merger or the Contemplated Transactions and keep the Company fully informed regarding such stockholder litigation and (b) give the Company the opportunity to participate in the defense or settlement of any stockholder litigation or investigation relating to this Agreement or any of the Contemplated Transactions, and not settle any such litigation or investigation without the Company's written consent, which will not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed.

5.19 Equity Plans. Prior to or as of the Effective Time, the Parent Board shall approve, adopt and submit for approval by the stockholders of Parent, and recommend and use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the stockholders of Parent to approve, (a) the 2026 Equity Incentive Plan in a form to be mutually agreed by Parent and the Company (the "2026 Plan") which will provide for new awards for a number of shares of Parent Common Stock not exceeding 15% of the Parent Common Stock issued and expected to be outstanding immediately after the Effective Time, as mutually agreed upon by Parent and the Company, and subject to approval by the Parent Board (for avoidance of doubt, such number of shares shall be in addition to the number of shares of Parent Common Stock subject to outstanding Parent Stock Awards or subject to Company Options assumed by Parent as contemplated by Section 5.5), and which may include an annual increase pursuant to an "evergreen" provision to provide for optional annual increases of up to 5% of the total number of fully diluted shares of capital stock of Parent as of the day prior to such increase; and (b) the 2026 Employee Stock Purchase Plan (the "2026 ESPP"), in a form to be mutually agreed by Parent and the Company with a total pool of shares of Parent Common Stock not exceeding 1% of the Parent Common Stock issued and expected to be outstanding immediately after the Effective Time, and may include an annual increase pursuant to an "evergreen" provision providing for an annual increase of up to 1% of the total number of fully diluted shares of capital stock of Parent outstanding as of the day prior to such increase ((a) and (b), collectively, the "Equity Plan Proposals"). Subject to the approval of the 2026 Plan by the stockholders of Parent, Parent shall file with the SEC, promptly after the Effective Time, a registration statement on Form S-8 (or any successor form), if available for use by Parent, relating to the shares of Parent Common Stock issuable with respect to the 2026 Plan.

5.20 Parent SEC Documents. From the date of this Agreement until the Effective Time, Parent shall use commercially reasonable efforts to timely file with the SEC all Parent SEC Documents. As of its filing date, or if amended after the date of this Agreement, as of the date of the last such amendment, each Parent SEC Document filed by Parent with the SEC shall comply in all material respects with the applicable requirements of the Exchange Act and the Securities Act.

5.21 Parent Options and RSUs. Before the Effective Time, Parent shall take all actions necessary to provide that all Parent Stock Awards shall be fully vested as of the Effective Time and that no option to purchase Parent Common Stock shall be exercised later than ninety (90) days following the termination of service of the holder of such option.

5.22 Parent Operations Wind-Down. During the Pre-Closing Period, Parent and its Subsidiaries shall, except as the Company shall otherwise consent in writing, wind-down all preclinical, CMC and clinical activities as promptly as practicable after the date hereof, with any liabilities with respect thereto to be reflected on the Net Cash Schedule.

5.23 Concurrent Financing.

(a) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the Company shall use reasonable best efforts to obtain the Concurrent Financing on the terms and conditions described in the Subscription Agreement and satisfy the conditions to the Concurrent Financing as described in the Subscription Agreement and shall not permit any termination, amendment or modification to be made to, or any waiver of any provision under, or any replacement of, the Subscription Agreement if such termination, amendment, modification, waiver or replacement (i) reduces the aggregate amount of the Concurrent Financing below the Concurrent Investment Amount or (ii) imposes new or additional conditions or otherwise expands, amends or modifies any of the conditions to the receipt of the Concurrent Financing, or otherwise expands, amends or modifies any other provision of the Subscription Agreement, in a manner that would reasonably be expected to (x) delay or prevent the Closing or the consummation of the Merger or (y) adversely impact the ability of the Company to enforce its rights against other parties to the Subscription Agreement. The Company shall promptly deliver to Parent copies of any such termination, amendment, modification, waiver or replacement.

(b) The Company shall use reasonable best efforts (i) to maintain in effect the Subscription Agreement, (ii) to enforce its rights under the Subscription Agreement and (iii) to comply with its obligations under the Subscription Agreement.

(c) The Company shall give Parent prompt notice (i) of any material breach or default by any party to the Subscription Agreement or definitive agreements related to the Concurrent Financing of which the Company becomes aware, (ii) of the receipt of any written notice or other written communication from any Purchaser with respect to any (x) actual material breach, default, termination or repudiation by any party to the Subscription Agreement or definitive agreements related to the Concurrent Financing of any provisions of the Subscription Agreement or definitive agreements related to the Concurrent Financing or (y) material dispute or disagreement relating to the Concurrent Financing with respect to the obligation to fund the Concurrent Financing at or substantially simultaneously with the Closing, and (iii) if at any time for any reason the Company believes in good faith that it will not be able to obtain all or any portion of the Concurrent Investment Amount on the terms and conditions, in the manner or from the sources contemplated by the Subscription Agreement or definitive agreements related to the Concurrent Financing. The Company shall promptly provide information reasonably requested by Parent relating to the circumstances referred to in clauses (i), (ii) or (iii) of the immediately preceding sentence.

Section 6. CONDITIONS PRECEDENT TO OBLIGATIONS OF EACH PARTY

The obligations of each Party to effect the Merger and otherwise consummate the Contemplated Transactions to be consummated at the Closing are subject to the satisfaction (or, to the extent permitted by applicable Law, written waiver by each of the Parties) of each of the following conditions:

6.1 No Restraints. No temporary restraining order, preliminary or permanent injunction or other order preventing the consummation of the Contemplated Transactions shall have been issued by any court of competent jurisdiction or other Governmental Body of competent jurisdiction and remain in effect and there shall not be any Law which has the effect of making the consummation of the Contemplated Transactions illegal.

6.2 Stockholder Approval. (a) Parent shall have obtained the Required Parent Stockholder Vote and (b) the Company shall have obtained the Required Company Stockholder Vote and such Required Company Stockholder Vote shall remain in full force and effect and shall not have been revoked.

6.3 Parent Charter Amendment. The Parent Charter Amendment shall have been duly filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware.

6.4 Listing. (a) The existing shares of Parent Common Stock shall have been continually listed on Nasdaq as of and from the date of this Agreement through the Closing Date and (b) the shares of Parent Common Stock to be issued in the Merger pursuant to this Agreement shall have been approved for listing (subject to official notice of issuance) on Nasdaq as of the Closing.

6.5 Subscription Agreement. The Subscription Agreement shall be in full force and effect and cash proceeds of not less than the Concurrent Investment Amount shall have been received by the Company, or will be received by the Company substantially simultaneously with the Closing, in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Subscription Agreement.

6.6 Effectiveness of Registration Statement. The Registration Statement shall have become effective in accordance with the provisions of the Securities Act and shall not be subject to any stop order or proceeding (or threatened proceeding by the SEC) seeking a stop order with respect to the Registration Statement that has not been withdrawn.

6.7 Parent Net Cash Determination. Parent Net Cash shall have been finally determined in accordance with Section 1.6.

6.8 HSR Act. All waiting periods (and extensions thereof) applicable to the Merger under the HSR Act shall have expired or otherwise been terminated.

Section 7. ADDITIONAL CONDITIONS PRECEDENT TO OBLIGATIONS OF PARENT AND MERGER SUB

The obligations of Parent and Merger Sub to effect the Merger and otherwise consummate the Contemplated Transactions to be consummated at the Closing are subject to the satisfaction (or, to the extent permitted by applicable Law, written waiver by Parent) of each of the following conditions:

7.1 Accuracy of Representations. (i) The representation and warranty of the Company set forth in clause (y) of Section 2.8 shall have been true and correct in all respects as of the date of this Agreement and shall be true and correct in all respects on and as of the Closing Date with the same force and effect as if made on and as of such date; (ii) the Company Fundamental Representations shall have been true and correct in all material respects as of the date of this Agreement and shall be true and correct in all material respects on and as of the Closing Date with the same force and effect as if made on and as of such date (except to the extent such representations and warranties are specifically made as of a particular date, in which case such representations and warranties shall be true and correct in all material respects as of such date); and (iii) the representations and warranties of the Company contained in this Agreement (other than the Company Fundamental Representations and clause (y) of Section 2.8) shall have been true and correct as of the date of this Agreement and shall be true and correct on and as of the Closing Date with the same force and effect as if made on and as of the Closing Date except (a) in each case, or in the aggregate, where the failure to be so true and correct would not reasonably be expected to have a Company Material Adverse Effect (without giving effect to any references therein to any Company Material Adverse Effect or other materiality qualifications), or (b) for those representations and warranties which address matters only as of a particular date (which representations shall have been true and correct, subject to the qualifications as set forth in the preceding clause (a), as of such particular date) (it being understood that, for purposes of determining the accuracy of such representations and warranties, any update of or modification to the Company Disclosure Schedule made or purported to have been made after the date of this Agreement shall be disregarded).

7.2 Performance of Covenants. The Company shall have performed or complied with in all material respects all agreements and covenants required to be performed or complied with by it under this Agreement at or prior to the Effective Time.

7.3 Documents. Parent shall have received the following documents, each of which shall be in full force and effect:

(a) a certificate executed by the Chief Executive Officer or Chief Financial Officer of the Company certifying (i) that the conditions set forth in Sections 7.1, 7.2, 7.5 and 7.6 have been duly satisfied and (ii) that the information set forth in the Allocation Certificate delivered by the Company in accordance with Section 5.15 is true and accurate in all respects as of the Closing Date; and

(b) the Allocation Certificate.

7.4 FIRPTA Certificate. Parent shall have received (i) an original signed statement from the Company that the Company is not, and has not been at any time during the applicable period specified in Section 897(c)(1)(A)(ii) of the Code, a “United States real property holding corporation,” as defined in Section 897(c)(2) of the Code, conforming to the requirements of Treasury Regulations Sections 1.1445-2(c)(3) and 1.897-2(h), and (ii) an original signed notice to be delivered to the IRS in accordance with the provisions of Treasury Regulations Section 1.897-2(h)(2), together with written authorization for Parent to deliver such notice to the IRS on behalf of the Company following the Closing, each dated as of the Closing Date, duly executed by an authorized officer of the Company, and in form and substance reasonably acceptable to Parent.

7.5 No Company Material Adverse Effect. Since the date of this Agreement, there shall not have occurred any Company Material Adverse Effect that is continuing.

7.6 Termination of Investor Agreements. The Investor Agreements set forth on Section 5.12 of the Company Disclosure Schedule shall have been terminated (or will be terminated as of the Closing).

7.7 Company Lock-Up Agreements. Parent shall have received the Company Lock-Up Agreements duly executed by each of the Company Lock-Up Signatories and each executive officer and director of the Company who is elected or appointed, as applicable, as an executive officer and director of Parent as of immediately following the Closing, each of which shall be in full force and effect as of immediately following the Effective Time.

Section 8. ADDITIONAL CONDITIONS PRECEDENT TO OBLIGATION OF THE COMPANY

The obligation of the Company to effect the Merger and otherwise consummate the Contemplated Transactions to be consummated at the Closing is subject to the satisfaction (or, to the extent permitted by applicable Law, written waiver by the Company) of each of the following conditions:

8.1 Accuracy of Representations. (i) The representations and warranties of Parent and Merger Sub set forth in clause (y) of Section 3.8 shall have been true and correct in all respects as of the date of this Agreement and shall be true and correct in all respects on and as of the Closing Date with the same force and effect as if made on and as of such date; (ii) the Parent Fundamental Representations shall have been true and correct in all material respects as of the date of this Agreement and shall be true and correct in all material respects on and as of the Closing Date with the same force and effect as if made on and as of such date (except to the extent such representations and warranties are specifically made as of a particular date, in which case such representations and warranties shall be true and correct in all material respects as of such date); and (iii) the representations and warranties of Parent and Merger Sub contained in this Agreement (other than the Parent Fundamental Representations and in clause (y) of Section 3.8) shall have been true and correct as of the date of this Agreement and shall be true and correct on and as of the Closing Date with the same force and effect as if made on and as of the Closing Date except (a) in each case, or in the aggregate, where the failure to be so true and correct would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect (without giving effect to any references therein to any Parent Material Adverse Effect or other materiality qualifications), or (b) for those representations and warranties which address matters only as of a particular date (which representations shall have been true and correct, subject to the qualifications as set forth in the preceding clause (a), as of such particular date) (it being understood that, for purposes of determining the accuracy of such representations and warranties, any update of or modification to the Parent Disclosure Schedule made or purported to have been made after the date of this Agreement shall be disregarded).

8.2 Performance of Covenants. Parent and Merger Sub shall have performed or complied with in all material respects all of their agreements and covenants required to be performed or complied with by each of them under this Agreement at or prior to the Effective Time.

8.3 Documents. The Company shall have received the following documents, each of which shall be in full force and effect:

(a) a certificate executed by the Chief Executive Officer or Chief Financial Officer of Parent certifying that the conditions set forth in Sections 8.1, 8.2 and 8.4 have been duly satisfied;

(b) the Parent Outstanding Shares Certificate;

(c) the Parent Closing Financial Certificate, a draft of which shall have been provided at least five (5) Business Days prior to the Closing, which certificate shall be accompanied by such supporting documentation, information and calculations as are reasonably requested by the Company to verify and determine the information contained therein;

(d) a written resignation, in a form reasonably satisfactory to the Company, dated as of the Closing Date and effective as of the Effective Time, executed by each of the directors of Parent who are not to continue as directors of Parent after the Effective Time pursuant to Section 5.11 hereof; and

(e) the executed CVR Agreement.

8.4 No Parent Material Adverse Effect. Since the date of this Agreement, there shall not have occurred any Parent Material Adverse Effect that is continuing.

8.5 Parent Net Cash and Minimum Cash Amount. Parent Net Cash determined in accordance with Section 1.6 shall be greater than or equal to $0. Parent's Cash and Cash Equivalents as of the Anticipated Closing Date determined in accordance with Section 1.6 shall be greater than or equal to $1,000,000.

Section 9. TERMINATION

9.1 Termination. This Agreement may be terminated prior to the Effective Time (whether before or after approval of the Company Stockholder Matters by the Company's stockholders and whether before or after approval of the Parent Stockholder Matters by Parent's stockholders, unless otherwise specified below):

(a) by mutual written consent of Parent and the Company;

(b) by either Parent or the Company if the Contemplated Transactions shall not have been consummated by September 1, 2026 (subject to possible extension as provided in this Section 9.1\(b\), the "End Date"); provided, however, that the right to terminate this Agreement under this Section 9.1\(b\) shall not be available to the Company, on the one hand, or to Parent, on the other hand, if such Party's action or failure to act has been a principal cause of the failure of the Contemplated Transactions to occur on or before the End Date and such action or failure to act constitutes a breach of this Agreement, provided, further, however, that, in the event that (i) the SEC has not declared the Registration Statement effective under the Securities Act or (ii) the waiting periods (and extensions thereof) applicable to the Merger under the HSR Act have not expired or otherwise been terminated by the date which is thirty (30) calendar days prior to the End Date, then either Parent or the Company shall be entitled to extend the End Date for an additional sixty (60) calendar days by written notice to the Company;

(c) by either Parent or the Company if a court of competent jurisdiction or other Governmental Body shall have issued a final and nonappealable order, decree or ruling, or shall have taken any other action, having the effect of permanently restraining, enjoining or otherwise prohibiting the Contemplated Transactions; provided, however, that the right to terminate this Agreement under this Section 9.1\(c\) shall not be available to the Company, on the one hand, or to Parent, on the other hand, if such Party's action or failure to act has been a principal cause of the failure of any such Governmental Body issuing any such order, decree or ruling or taking any such other action;

(d) by Parent if, subject to Section 4.5, the Company Stockholder Written Consent executed by each Company Signatory shall not have been obtained within seven (7) Business Days of the Registration Statement becoming effective in accordance with the provisions of the Securities Act; provided, however, that once the Company Stockholder Written Consent has been obtained, Parent may not terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 9.1\(d\);

(e) by either Parent or the Company if (i) the Parent Stockholders' Meeting (including any adjournments and postponements thereof) shall have been held and completed and Parent's stockholders shall have taken a final vote on the Parent Stockholder Matters and (ii) the Parent Stockholder Matters shall not have been approved at the Parent Stockholders' Meeting (or at any adjournment or postponement thereof) by the Required Parent Stockholder Vote; provided, however, that the right to terminate this Agreement under this Section 9.1\(e\), shall not be available to Parent where the failure to obtain the Required Parent Stockholder Vote shall have been caused by the action or failure to act of Parent and such action or failure to act constitutes a material breach by Parent of this Agreement;

(f) by the Company (at any time prior to the approval of the Parent Stockholder Matters by the Required Parent Stockholder Vote) if a Parent Triggering Event shall have occurred;

(g) by Parent (at any time prior to the Required Company Stockholder Vote being obtained) if a Company Triggering Event shall have occurred;

(h) by the Company (at any time prior to the approval of the Parent Stockholder Matters by the Required Parent Stockholder Vote and following compliance in all material respects with all of the requirements set forth in Section 5.2\(e\)\(i\)) concurrently with entering into a Permitted Alternative Agreement and after having paid to Parent the Parent Termination Fee pursuant to Section 9.3\(c\);

(i) by the Company, upon a breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement set forth in this Agreement by Parent or Merger Sub or if any representation or warranty of Parent or Merger Sub shall have become inaccurate, in either case, such that the conditions set forth in Section 8.1 or Section 8.2 would not be satisfied as of the time of such breach or as of the time such representation or warranty shall have become inaccurate; provided that the Company is not then in material breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement under this Agreement; provided, further, that if such inaccuracy in Parent's or Merger Sub's representations and warranties or breach by Parent or Merger Sub is curable by the End Date by Parent or Merger Sub, then this Agreement shall not terminate pursuant to this Section 9.1\(i\) as a result of such particular breach or inaccuracy until the earlier of (i) the End Date and (ii) the expiration of a thirty (30) calendar day period commencing upon delivery of written notice from the Company to Parent of such breach or inaccuracy and its intention to terminate pursuant to this Section 9.1\(i\) (it being understood that this Agreement shall not terminate pursuant to this Section 9.1\(i\) as a result of such particular breach or inaccuracy if such breach by Parent or Merger Sub is cured prior to such termination becoming effective); or

(j) by Parent, upon a breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement set forth in this Agreement by the Company or if any representation or warranty of the Company shall have become inaccurate, in either case, such that the conditions set forth in Section 7.1 or Section 7.2 would not be satisfied as of the time of such breach or as of the time such representation or warranty shall have become inaccurate; provided that neither Parent nor Merger Sub is then in material breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement under this Agreement; provided, further, that if such inaccuracy in the Company's representations and warranties or breach by the Company is curable by the End Date by the Company then this Agreement shall not terminate pursuant to this Section 9.1\(j\) as a result of such particular breach or inaccuracy until the earlier of (i) the End Date and (ii) the expiration of a thirty (30) calendar day period commencing upon delivery of written notice from Parent to the Company of such breach or inaccuracy and its intention to terminate pursuant to this Section 9.1\(j\) (it being understood that this Agreement shall not terminate pursuant to this Section 9.1\(j\) as a result of such particular breach or inaccuracy if such breach by the Company is cured prior to such termination becoming effective).

The Party desiring to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 9.1, shall give the other Party written notice of such termination, specifying the provisions hereof pursuant to which such termination is made and the basis therefor described in reasonable detail.

9.2 Effect of Termination. In the event of the termination of this Agreement as provided in Section 9.1, this Agreement shall be of no further force or effect; provided, however, that (a) this Section 9.2, Section 5.8, Section 9.3, Section 10 and the definitions of the defined terms in such Sections (including the definitions of such defined terms set forth in Exhibit A) shall survive the termination of this Agreement and shall remain in full force and effect following such termination, and (b) the termination of this Agreement and the provisions of Section 9.3 shall not relieve any Party of any liability for fraud or for any willful and material breach of any representation, warranty, covenant, obligation or other provision contained in this Agreement.

9.3 Expenses; Termination Fees.

(a) Except as set forth in this Section 9.3, Section 1.6\(g\), Section 5.4, Section 5.9 and Section 5.10\(e\), the Transaction Expenses shall be paid by the Party incurring such expenses, whether or not the Merger is consummated; provided that the Company shall bear 60% of all fees and expenses incurred in relation to (i) the printing and filing with the SEC of the Registration Statement and Proxy Statement and any amendments and supplements thereto and paid to a financial printer or the SEC, and (ii) the proxy solicitation firm engaged in connection with the Parent Stockholders' Meeting.

(b) If:

(i) (A) this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 9.1\(b\), Section 9.1\(e\) or Section 9.1\(i\), (B) an Acquisition Proposal with respect to Parent shall have been publicly announced, disclosed or otherwise communicated to Parent or the Parent Board at any time after the date of this Agreement but prior to the termination of this Agreement (which shall not have been withdrawn) and (C) within twelve (12) months after the date of such termination, Parent enters into a definitive agreement with respect to a Subsequent Transaction or consummates a Subsequent Transaction in respect of the Acquisition Proposal referred to in clause (B) or in respect of any other Acquisition Proposal; or

(ii) this Agreement is terminated by the Company pursuant to Section 9.1\(f\) (or, at the time this Agreement is terminated, the Company had the right to terminate this Agreement pursuant to Section 9.1\(f\));

then Parent shall pay to the Company a nonrefundable fee in an amount equal to $1,425,000 (the "Company Termination Fee"), in the case of Section 9.3\(b\)\(i\), upon the consummation of such Subsequent Transaction or, in the case of Section 9.3\(b\)\(ii\), concurrently with the termination of this Agreement plus any amount payable to the Company pursuant to Section 9.3\(f\).

(c) If:

(i) (A) this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 9.1\(b\), Section 9.1\(d\), or Section 9.1\(j\), (B) an Acquisition Proposal with respect to the Company shall have been publicly announced, disclosed or otherwise communicated to the Company or the Company Board at any time after the date of this Agreement but prior to obtaining the Required Company Stockholder Vote (which shall not have been withdrawn, (1) in the case of a termination pursuant to Section 9.1\(b\) or Section 9.1\(j\), at the time the Required Company Stockholder Vote is obtained and (2) in the case of a termination pursuant to Section 9.1\(d\), at the time of such termination) and (C) within twelve (12) months after the date of such termination, the Company enters into a definitive agreement with respect to a Subsequent Transaction or consummates a Subsequent Transaction in respect of the Acquisition Proposal referred to in clause (B) or in respect of any other Acquisition Proposal;

(ii) this Agreement is terminated by Parent pursuant to Section 9.1\(g\) (or, at the time this Agreement is terminated, Parent had the right to terminate this Agreement pursuant to Section 9.1\(g\)); or

(iii) this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 9.1\(h\);

then (A) the Company shall pay to Parent an amount equal to $50,000,000 (the "Parent Termination Fee"), in the case of Section 9.3\(c\)\(i\) in the event this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 9.1\(d\) or Section 9.1\(j\), upon the consummation of such Subsequent Transaction or, in the case of Section 9.3\(c\)\(ii\) and Section 9.3\(c\)\(iii\), concurrently with the termination of this Agreement, plus any amount payable to Parent pursuant to Section 9.3\(f\) and (B) the Company shall pay to Parent an amount equal to $10,000,000 in the case of Section 9.3\(c\)\(i\) in the event this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 9.1\(h\), upon the consummation of such Subsequent Transaction, plus any amount payable to Parent pursuant to Section 9.3\(f\) (the “Parent Termination Fee”).

(d) (i) If this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 9.1\(e\), Section 9.1\(f\) or Section 9.1\(i\) or (ii) in the event of the failure of the Company to consummate the transactions to be contemplated at the Closing solely as a result of a Parent Material Adverse Effect as set forth in Section 8.4 (provided, that at such time all of the other conditions precedent to Parent’s obligation to close set forth in Section 6 and Section 7 have been satisfied by the Company, are capable of being satisfied by the Company or have been waived by Parent), then Parent shall reimburse the Company for all reasonable out-of-pocket fees and expenses incurred by the Company in connection with this Agreement and the Contemplated Transactions (such expenses, collectively, the “Third Party Expenses”), up to a maximum of $500,000, by wire transfer of same-day funds within ten (10) Business Days following the date on which the Company submits to Parent true and correct copies of reasonable documentation supporting such Third Party Expenses; provided, however, that such Third Party Expenses shall not include any amounts for financial advisors to the Company except for reasonably documented out-of-pocket expenses otherwise reimbursable by the Company to such financial advisors pursuant to the terms of the Company’s engagement letter or similar arrangement with such financial advisors. For the avoidance of doubt, to the extent any Third Party Expenses are paid, such amounts shall be credited against any Company Termination Fee which becomes payable thereafter.

(e) (i) If this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 9.1\(d\), Section 9.1\(g\) or Section 9.1\(j\) or (ii) in the event of the failure of Parent to consummate the transactions to be consummated to the Closing solely as a result of a Company Material Adverse Effect as set forth in Section 7.5 provided, that at such time all of the other conditions precedent to the Company’s obligation to close set forth in Section 6 and Section 8 have been satisfied by Parent are capable of being satisfied by Parent or have been waived by the Company, the Company shall reimburse Parent for all Third Party Expenses incurred by Parent up to a maximum of $500,000, by wire transfer of same-day funds within ten (10) Business Days following the date on which Parent submits to the Company true and correct copies of reasonable documentation supporting such Third Party Expenses; provided, however, that such Third Party Expenses shall not include any amounts for financial advisors to Parent except for reasonably documented out-of-pocket expenses otherwise reimbursable by Parent to such financial advisors pursuant to the terms of Parent’s engagement letter or similar arrangement with such financial advisors. For the avoidance of doubt, to the extent any Third Party Expenses are paid, such amounts shall be credited against any Parent Termination Fee which becomes payable thereafter.

(f) Any Company Termination Fee or Parent Termination Fee due under this Section 9.3 shall be paid by wire transfer of same day funds. If a Party fails to pay when due any amount payable by it under this Section 9.3, then (i) such Party shall reimburse the other Party for reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses (including reasonable and out-of-pocket fees and disbursements of counsel) incurred in connection with the collection of such overdue amount and the enforcement by the other Party of its rights under this Section 9.3, and (ii) such Party shall pay to the other Party interest on such overdue amount (for the period commencing as of the date such overdue amount was originally required to be paid and ending on the date such overdue amount is actually paid to the other Party in full) at a rate per annum equal to the “prime rate” (as published in The Wall Street Journal or any successor thereto) in effect on the date such overdue amount was originally required to be paid plus three percent (3%).

(g) The Parties agree that, (i) subject to Section 9.2, payment of the Company Termination Fee shall, in the circumstances in which it is owed in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, constitute the sole and exclusive remedy of the Company following the termination of this Agreement under the circumstances described in Section 9.3\(h\), it being understood that in no event shall Parent be required to pay the amounts payable pursuant to this Section 9.3 on more than one occasion and (ii) following payment of the Company Termination Fee (x) Parent shall have no further liability to the Company in connection with or arising out of this Agreement or the termination thereof, any breach of this Agreement by Parent giving rise to such termination, or the failure of the Contemplated Transactions to be consummated, (y) neither the Company nor any of its Affiliates shall be entitled to bring or maintain any other claim, action or proceeding against Parent or Merger Sub or seek to obtain any recovery, judgment or damages of any kind against such Parties (or any partner, member, stockholder, director, officer, employee, Subsidiary, Affiliate, agent or other Representative of such Parties) in connection with or arising out of this Agreement or the termination thereof, any breach by any such Parties giving rise to such termination or the failure of the Contemplated Transactions to be consummated and (z) the Company and its Affiliates shall be precluded from any other remedy against Parent, Merger Sub and their respective Affiliates, at law or in equity or otherwise, in connection with or arising out of this Agreement or the termination thereof, any breach by such Party giving rise to such termination or the failure of the Contemplated Transactions to be consummated; provided, however, that nothing in this Section 9.3\(g\) shall limit the rights of Parent and Merger Sub under Section 10.11.

(h) The Parties agree that, (i) subject to Section 9.2, payment of the Parent Termination Fee shall, in the circumstances in which it is owed in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, constitute the sole and exclusive remedy of Parent following the termination of this Agreement under the circumstances described in Section 9.3\(c\), it being understood that in no event shall the Company be required to pay the amounts payable pursuant to this Section 9.3 on more than one occasion and (ii) following payment of the Parent Termination Fee (x) the Company shall have no further liability to Parent in connection with or arising out of this Agreement or the termination thereof, any breach of this Agreement by the Company giving rise to such termination, or the failure of the Contemplated Transactions to be consummated, (y) neither Parent nor any of its Affiliates shall be entitled to bring or maintain any other claim, action or proceeding against the Company or seek to obtain any recovery, judgment or damages of any kind against the Company (or any partner, member, stockholder, director, officer, employee, Subsidiary, Affiliate, agent or other Representative of the Company) in connection with or arising out of this Agreement or the termination thereof, any breach by the Company giving rise to such termination or the failure of the Contemplated Transactions to be consummated and (z) Parent and its Affiliates shall be precluded from any other remedy against the Company and its Affiliates, at law or in equity or otherwise, in connection with or arising out of this Agreement or the termination thereof, any breach by such Party giving rise to such termination or the failure of the Contemplated Transactions to be consummated; provided, however, that nothing in this Section 9.3\(h\) shall limit the rights of the Company under Section 10.11.

(i) Each of the Parties acknowledges that (i) the agreements contained in this Section 9.3 are an integral part of the Contemplated Transactions, (ii) without these agreements, the Parties would not enter into this Agreement and (iii) any amount payable pursuant to this Section 9.3 is not a penalty, but rather is liquidated damages in a reasonable amount that will compensate the applicable Party in the circumstances in which such amount is payable.

Section 10. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

10.1 Non-Survival of Representations and Warranties. The representations, warranties and covenants of the Company, Parent and Merger Sub contained in this Agreement or any certificate or instrument delivered pursuant to this Agreement shall terminate at the Effective Time, and only the covenants that by their terms survive the Effective Time and this Section 10 shall survive the Effective Time.

10.2 Amendment. This Agreement may be amended with the approval of the Company, Merger Sub and Parent at any time (whether before or after obtaining the Required Company Stockholder Vote or before or after obtaining the Required Parent Stockholder Vote); provided, however, that after any such approval of this Agreement by a Party's stockholders, no amendment shall be made which by Law requires further approval of such stockholders without the further approval of such stockholders. This Agreement may not be amended except by an instrument in writing signed on behalf of each of the Company, Merger Sub and Parent.

10.3 Waiver.

(a) No failure on the part of any Party to exercise any power, right, privilege or remedy under this Agreement, and no delay on the part of any Party in exercising any power, right, privilege or remedy under this Agreement, shall operate as a waiver of such power, right, privilege or remedy; and no single or partial exercise of any such power, right, privilege or remedy shall preclude any other or further exercise thereof or of any other power, right, privilege or remedy.

(b) No Party shall be deemed to have waived any claim arising out of this Agreement, or any power, right, privilege or remedy under this Agreement, unless the waiver of such claim, power, right, privilege or remedy is expressly set forth in a written instrument duly executed and delivered on behalf of such Party and any such waiver shall not be applicable or have any effect except in the specific instance in which it is given.

10.4 Entire Agreement; Counterparts; Exchanges by Electronic Transmission. This Agreement, the Company Disclosure Schedule, the Parent Disclosure Schedule and the other agreements referred to in this Agreement constitute the entire agreement and supersede all prior agreements and understandings, both written and oral, among or between any of the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and thereof; provided, however, that the Confidentiality Agreement shall not be superseded and shall remain in full force and effect in accordance with its terms. This Agreement may be executed in several counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original and all of which shall constitute one and the same instrument. The exchange of a fully executed Agreement (in counterparts or otherwise) by all Parties by electronic transmission in PDF format shall be sufficient to bind the Parties to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

10.5 Applicable Law; Jurisdiction; WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL. This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the Laws of the State of Delaware, regardless of the Laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of conflicts of laws. In any action or proceeding between any of the Parties arising out of or relating to this Agreement or any of the Contemplated Transactions, each of the Parties: (a) irrevocably and unconditionally consents and submits to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue of the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware or, to the extent such court does not have subject matter jurisdiction, the United States District Court for the District of Delaware or, to the extent that neither of the foregoing courts has jurisdiction, the Superior Court of the State of Delaware; (b) agrees that all claims in respect of such action or proceeding shall be heard and determined exclusively in accordance with clause (a) of this Section 10.5; (c) waives any objection to laying venue in any such action or proceeding in such courts; (d) waives any objection that such courts are an inconvenient forum or do not have jurisdiction over any Party; (e) agrees that service of process upon such Party in any such action or proceeding shall be effective if notice is given in accordance with Section 10.8 of this Agreement; and (f) IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES THE RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY.

10.6 Attorneys' Fees. In any action at law or suit in equity to enforce this Agreement or the rights of any of the Parties, the prevailing Party in such action or suit (as determined by a court of competent jurisdiction) shall be entitled to recover its reasonable out-of-pocket attorneys' fees and all other reasonable costs and expenses incurred in such action or suit.

10.7 Assignability. This Agreement shall be binding upon, and shall be enforceable by and inure solely to the benefit of, the Parties and their respective successors and permitted assigns; provided, however, that neither this Agreement nor any of a Party's rights or obligations hereunder may be assigned or delegated by such Party without the prior written consent of the other Party, and any attempted assignment or delegation of this Agreement or any of such rights or obligations by such Party without the other Party's prior written consent shall be void and of no effect.

10.8 Notices. All notices and other communications hereunder shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly delivered and received hereunder (a) one (1) Business Day after being sent for next Business

Day delivery, fees prepaid, via a reputable international overnight courier service, (b) upon delivery in the case of delivery by hand, or (c) on the date delivered in the place of delivery if sent by email (provided that no bounceback or similar “undeliverable” message is received by such sender) prior to 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time, otherwise on the next succeeding Business Day, in each case to the intended recipient as set forth below:

10.9 Cooperation. Each Party agrees to cooperate fully with the other Party and to execute and deliver such further documents, certificates, agreements and instruments and to take such other actions as may be reasonably requested by the other Party to evidence or reflect the Contemplated Transactions and to carry out the intent and purposes of this Agreement.

10.10 Severability. Any term or provision of this Agreement that is invalid or unenforceable in any situation in any jurisdiction shall not affect the validity or enforceability of the remaining terms and provisions of this Agreement or the validity or enforceability of the offending term or provision in any other situation or in any other jurisdiction. If a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction declares that any term or provision of this Agreement is invalid or unenforceable, the Parties agree that the court making such determination shall have the power to limit such term or provision, to delete specific words or phrases or to replace such term or provision with a term or provision that is valid and enforceable and that comes closest to expressing the intention of the invalid or unenforceable term or provision, and this Agreement shall be valid and enforceable as so modified. In the event such court does not exercise the power granted to it in the prior sentence, the Parties agree to replace such invalid or unenforceable term or provision with a valid and enforceable term or provision that will achieve, to the extent possible, the economic, business and other purposes of such invalid or unenforceable term or provision.

10.11 Other Remedies: Specific Performance. Except as otherwise provided herein, any and all remedies herein expressly conferred upon a Party will be deemed cumulative with and not exclusive of any other remedy conferred hereby, or by law or equity upon such Party, and the exercise by a Party of any one remedy will not preclude the exercise of any other remedy. The Parties agree that irreparable damage for which monetary damages, even if available, would not be an adequate remedy, would occur in the event that any Party does not perform the provisions of this Agreement (including failing to take such actions as are required of it hereunder to consummate this Agreement) in accordance with their specified terms or otherwise breaches such provisions. Accordingly, the Parties acknowledge and agree that the Parties shall be entitled to an injunction, specific performance and other equitable relief to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions hereof in any court of the United States or any state thereof having jurisdiction, in addition to any other remedy to which they are entitled at law or in equity. Each of the Parties agrees that it will not oppose the granting of an injunction, specific performance or other equitable relief on the basis that any other Party has an adequate remedy at law or that any award of specific performance is not an appropriate remedy for any reason at law or in equity. Any Party seeking an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement shall not be required to provide any bond, surety or other security in connection with any such order or injunction.

10.12 No Third Party Beneficiaries. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to or shall confer upon any Person (other than the Parties and the D&O Indemnified Parties to the extent of their respective rights pursuant to Section 5.6) any right, benefit or remedy of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement.

10.13 Construction.

(a) References to “cash,” “dollars” or “$” are to U.S. dollars.

(b) For purposes of this Agreement, whenever the context requires: the singular number shall include the plural, and vice versa; the masculine gender shall include the feminine and neuter genders; the feminine gender shall include the masculine and neuter genders; and the neuter gender shall include masculine and feminine genders.

(c) The Parties have participated jointly in the negotiating and drafting of this Agreement and agree that any rule of construction to the effect that ambiguities are to be resolved against the drafting Party shall not be applied in the construction or interpretation of this Agreement, and no presumption or burden of proof shall arise favoring or disfavoring any Party by virtue of the authorship of any provision of this Agreement.

(d) As used in this Agreement, the words “include” and “including,” and variations thereof, shall not be deemed to be terms of limitation, but rather shall be deemed to be followed by the words “without limitation.”

(e) As used in this Agreement, the word “extent” in the phrase “to the extent” means the degree to which a subject extends and does not simply mean “if.”

(f) As used in this Agreement, the word “or” shall not be exclusive (i.e., “or” shall be deemed to mean “and/or”).

(g) Except as otherwise indicated, all references in this Agreement to “Sections,” “Exhibits” and “Schedules” are intended to refer to Sections of this Agreement and Exhibits and Schedules to this Agreement, respectively.

(h) Any reference to legislation or to any provision of any legislation shall include any modification, amendment, re-enactment thereof, any legislative provision substituted therefore and all rules, regulations, and statutory instruments issued or related to such legislations.

(i) The bold-faced headings and table of contents contained in this Agreement are for convenience of reference only, shall not be deemed to be a part of this Agreement and shall not be referred to in connection with the construction or interpretation of this Agreement.

(j) The Parties agree that each of the Company Disclosure Schedule and the Parent Disclosure Schedule shall be arranged in sections and subsections corresponding to the numbered and lettered sections and subsections contained in this Agreement. The disclosures in any section or subsection of the Company Disclosure Schedule or the Parent Disclosure Schedule shall qualify other sections and subsections in this Agreement to the extent it is readily apparent on its face from a reading of the disclosure that such disclosure is applicable to such other sections and subsections.

(k) Each of “delivered” or “made available” means, with respect to any documentation, that prior to 11:59 p.m. Eastern Time on the date that is two (2) calendar days prior to the date of this Agreement (i) a copy of such material has been posted to and made available by a Party to the other Party and its Representatives in the electronic data room maintained by such disclosing Party or (ii) such material is disclosed in the Parent SEC Documents filed with the SEC prior to the date hereof and publicly made available on the SEC’s Electronic Data Gathering Analysis and Retrieval system.

(l) Whenever the last day for the exercise of any privilege or the discharge of any duty hereunder shall fall upon a Saturday, Sunday, or any date on which banks in New York, New York are authorized or obligated by Law to be closed, the Party having such privilege or duty may exercise such privilege or discharge such duty on the next succeeding day which is a regular Business Day.

(m) Unless otherwise indicated, (i) when calculating the period of time before which, within which or following which any act is to be done or step taken pursuant to this Agreement, the date that is the reference date in calculating such period will be excluded; (ii) if the last day of such period is not a Business Day, then the period in question will end on the next Business Day; (iii) if any action (other than any action described in Section 5.4) must be taken on or by a day that is not a Business Day, then such action may be validly taken on or by the next day that is a Business Day; (iv) the measure of a period of one month or year for purposes of this Agreement will be the day of the following month or year corresponding to the starting date; and (v) if no corresponding date exists, then the end date of such period being measured will be the next actual day of the following month or year (for example, one month following February 18 is March 18 and one month following March 31 is May 1). References to “from” or “through” any date mean, unless otherwise specified, from and including or through and including such date, respectively.

EXHIBIT A CERTAIN DEFINITIONS

For purposes of this Agreement (including this Exhibit A):

“Acquisition Inquiry” means, with respect to a Party, an inquiry, indication of interest or request for information (other than an inquiry, indication of interest or request for information made or submitted by the Company or any of its Affiliates, on the one hand, or Parent or any of its Affiliates, on the other hand, to the other Party) that could reasonably be expected to lead to an Acquisition Proposal; provided, however, that the term “Acquisition Inquiry” shall not include the Merger or the other Contemplated Transactions or any transactions related to the Asset Dispositions or Concurrent Financing.

“Acquisition Proposal” means, with respect to a Party, any offer or proposal, whether written or oral (other than an offer or proposal made or submitted by or on behalf of the Company or any of its Affiliates, on the one hand, or by or on behalf of Parent or any of its Affiliates, on the other hand, to the other Party) contemplating or otherwise relating to any Acquisition Transaction with such Party, other than the Asset Dispositions and the Concurrent Financing.

“Acquisition Transaction” means any transaction or series of related transactions (other than the Asset Dispositions and the Concurrent Financing) involving: any merger, consolidation, amalgamation, share exchange, business combination, issuance of securities, acquisition of securities, reorganization, recapitalization, tender offer, exchange offer or other similar transaction: (i) in which a Party is a constituent entity; (ii) in which a Person or “group” (as defined in the Exchange Act) of Persons directly or indirectly acquires beneficial or record ownership of securities representing more than 20% of the outstanding securities of any class of voting securities of a Party or any of its Subsidiaries; or (iii) in which a Party or any of its Subsidiaries issues securities representing more than 20% of the outstanding securities of any class of voting securities of such Party or any of its Subsidiaries; or (y) any sale, lease, exchange, transfer, license, acquisition or disposition of any business or businesses or assets that constitute or account for 20% or more of the consolidated book value or the fair market value of the assets of a Party and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole.

“Affiliate” means, with respect to a Person, any other Person that directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, such Person. The term “control” (including the corollary terms “controlled by” and “under common control with”) means the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a Person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by Contract or otherwise.

“Agreement” means the Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization to which this Exhibit A is attached, as it may be amended from time to time.

“Antitrust Laws” means the HSR Act or any other applicable U.S. or foreign competition, antitrust, merger control or investment Laws.

“Authorized Share Increase” means an increase in the number of authorized shares of Parent Capital Stock that Parent is authorized to issue to a number determined by the Company in its sole discretion.

“Business Day” means any day other than a Saturday, Sunday or other day on which banks in New York, New York are authorized or obligated by Law to be closed.

“Cash and Cash Equivalents” means cash, currency, and cash equivalents as determined in accordance with GAAP, including (a) all cash and cash equivalents in deposit accounts or other similar accounts, (b) marketable securities with maturities of three (3) months or less, (c) checks, money orders, and other negotiable instruments, (d) cash in transit. Cash and Cash Equivalents shall be net of the amount of any outstanding checks or other payment obligations that have been issued but not yet cleared, and (e) prepaid expenses, including those set forth on Schedule A of the Parent Disclosure Schedule. For the avoidance of doubt, “Cash and Cash Equivalents” excludes any restricted cash, escrowed amounts, or amounts held as collateral for obligations, including letters of credit and performance bonds.

“Code” means the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

“Company Associate” means any current or former employee, independent contractor, officer or director of the Company.

“Company Board” means the board of directors of the Company.

“Company Capital Stock” means the Company Common Stock and the Company Preferred Stock.

“Company Change in Circumstance” means a change in circumstances (other than any such event, development or change to the extent related to (A) any Acquisition Proposal, Acquisition Inquiry or the consequences thereof, or (B) the fact, in and of itself, that the Company meets or exceeds internal budgets, plans or forecasts of its revenues, earnings or other financial performance or results of operations) that affects the business, assets or operations of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries that occurs or arises after the date of this Agreement.

“Company Common Stock” means the Common Stock, $0.0001 par value per share, of the Company.

“Company Fundamental Representations” means the representations and warranties of the Company set forth in Sections 2.1(a) (Organization, Standing and Power), 2.2 (Capital Stock), 2.3 (Subsidiaries), 2.4 (Authority) and 2.24 (Brokers).

“Company Material Adverse Effect” means any Effect that, considered together with all other Effects, has or would reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the business, condition (financial or otherwise), assets, liabilities or results of operations of the Company, taken as a whole; provided, however, that any Effect, individually or together with other Effects, arising or resulting from the following shall not be taken into account in determining whether there has been a Company Material Adverse Effect: (a) general business, political, or economic conditions generally affecting the industry in which the Company operates, including with respect to the imposition of, or adjustments to, tariffs or other trade restrictions; (b) acts of war, the outbreak or escalation of armed hostilities, acts of terrorism, earthquakes, wildfires, hurricanes or other natural disasters, health emergencies, including pandemics and related or associated epidemics, disease outbreaks or quarantine restrictions; (c) changes in financial, banking or securities markets; (d) any change in, or any compliance with or action taken for the purpose of complying with, any Law or GAAP (or interpretations of any Law or GAAP); (e) the announcement of this Agreement or the pendency of the Contemplated Transactions; (f) resulting from the taking of any action expressly required to be taken by this Agreement; or (g) continued losses from operations or decreases in cash balances of the Company; except, with respect to clauses (a) through (d), to the extent such Effect disproportionately affects the Company, taken as a whole, relative to other similarly situated companies in the industries in which the Company operates, in which case, such Effect shall be taken into account to the extent of such disproportionate effect on the Company.

“Company Option” means any option or other right to purchase shares of Company Capital Stock issued by the Company.

“Company Owned IP” means all Intellectual Property owned by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries in whole or in part.

“Company Preferred Stock” means the Company Series A Preferred Stock and the Company Series B Preferred Stock, collectively.

“Company Series A Preferred Stock” means the Series A-1 Preferred Stock, par value $0.0001 per share, and the Series A-2 Preferred Stock, par value $0.0001 per share, of the Company.

“Company Series B Preferred Stock” means the Series B Preferred Stock, par value $0.0001 per share, of the Company.

“Company Signatories” means the officers, directors and stockholders of the Company set forth on Schedule A hereto.

“Company Triggering Event” shall be deemed to have occurred if: (a) the Company Board shall have made a Company Board Adverse Recommendation Change; (b) the Company Board or any committee thereof shall have publicly approved, endorsed or recommended any Acquisition Proposal; or (c) following the date of this Agreement, the Company shall have entered into any letter of intent or similar document or any Contract relating to any Acquisition Proposal.

“Concurrent Financing” means an acquisition of shares of Company Common Stock to be consummated immediately prior to the Effective Time pursuant to the Subscription Agreement with aggregate gross cash proceeds of at least the Concurrent Investment Amount.

PERSONAL AND CONFIDENTIAL

The Board of Directors
Rallybio Corporation
234 Church Street
New Haven, Connecticut 06510

Members of the Board of Directors of Rallybio Corporation:

You have requested our opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to Rallybio Corporation, a Delaware corporation ("Parent"), of the Exchange Ratio (as defined in the Agreement) proposed to be paid by Parent pursuant to the terms of the Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization (the "Agreement") to be entered into by and among Parent, Farmington Merger Sub, Inc., a Delaware corporation ("Merger Sub"), and Candid Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), which provides, among other things, for the merger of Company with and into Merger Sub with the Company as the surviving entity (the "Merger"), as a result of which the Company will become a wholly-owned subsidiary of Parent.

Pursuant to the Agreement, (a) each outstanding share of common stock of the Company, par value $0.0001 per share (the "Company Common Stock") other than (i) shares of Company Common Stock held in treasury, (ii) Dissenting Shares (as defined in the Agreement), and (iii) shares of Company Common Stock owned by Parent or Merger Sub or any stockholder thereof and (iv) shares of Company Common Stock to be issued in the Concurrent Financing (as defined in the Agreement) will be converted into the right to receive a number of shares of common stock of Parent, par value $0.0001 per share (the "Parent Common Stock"), equal to the Exchange Ratio (as defined in the Agreement); (b) the aggregate number of shares of Company Common Stock issued in the Concurrent Financing will be converted into the Concurrent Financing Merger Shares (as defined in the Agreement), which will be allocated pro rata in accordance with each stockholder's investment therein ((a) and (b) together, the "Merger Consideration"); and (c) holders of Parent Common Stock prior to the consummation of the Merger will receive contingent value rights relating to the net proceeds received from any disposition or commercialization of certain legacy assets of the Parent (the "Parent Legacy Assets") occurring within a specified disposition period (the "Parent CVRs"). The terms and conditions of the Merger are more fully set forth in the Agreement.

For purposes of the opinion set forth herein, we have:

- (i) reviewed certain publicly available financial statements and certain other business and financial information relating to Parent;
- (ii) reviewed the historical trading prices and trading activity for the Parent Common Stock;
- (iii) reviewed certain financial and operating data concerning the Company prepared by the management of the Company;
- (iv) reviewed (i) publicly available market capitalization data regarding companies in the biotechnology industry that we believed to be comparable in certain respects to Company; and (ii) publicly available financial terms of certain initial public offerings involving companies in the biotechnology industry that we believed to be comparable in certain respects to the Company;
- (v) participated in discussions with members of the senior management of the Parent and the Company and their respective advisors and representatives;
- (vi) reviewed the Agreement draft, dated as of February 27, 2026, and certain related documents; and
- (vii) performed such other analysis and considered such other factors as we deemed appropriate.

In conducting our review and arriving at our opinion, we have assumed and relied, without independent verification, upon the accuracy and completeness of all information and data that was publicly available or furnished to or otherwise reviewed by or discussed with us. We have further relied upon the assurance of the management of Parent and Company that they are not aware of any facts or circumstances that would make such information inaccurate or misleading. As you are aware, neither Parent's nor Company's management provided us with, and we did not otherwise have access to, financial forecasts regarding Parent's or Company's businesses. Accordingly, we did not perform either discounted cash flow analyses with respect to Parent or Company. In addition, with your consent, we have not made any independent evaluation or appraisal of any of the assets or liabilities (contingent, derivative, off-balance-sheet or otherwise) of Parent or Company, nor have we been furnished with any such evaluation or appraisal, and we have not been asked to conduct, and did not conduct, a physical inspection of the properties or assets of Parent or Company. We have been advised that, given that Parent's assets and liabilities are comprised of cash (net of liabilities) and the Parent Legacy Assets (which currently are contemplated to be disposed) and that Parent is not expected to have any continuing business operations on a standalone basis other than those incidental to Parent's status as a publicly traded company, the management of Parent has not prepared financial forecasts relating to Parent. Accordingly, we have not performed a financial analysis of Parent, Parent Legacy Assets or Parent CVRs, and we have not ascribed any value to the Parent Legacy Assets or Parent CVRs. We have assumed the value of Parent as directed by you.

For purposes of rendering our opinion, we have assumed that the representations and warranties of each party contained in the Agreement are true and correct, that each party will perform all of the covenants and agreements required to be performed by it under the Agreement and that all conditions to the consummation of the Merger will be satisfied without waiver thereof. We have assumed that the final form of the Agreement will not vary materially from the last draft Agreement reviewed by us and that the Merger will be consummated substantially on the terms described in such draft, without any amendment or waiver of material terms or conditions. We have also assumed that all necessary governmental, regulatory and other consents and approvals contemplated by the Agreement will be obtained and that in the course of obtaining those consents and approvals no costs or restrictions will be imposed or waivers made that would have an adverse effect on the contemplated benefits of the Merger. We have relied on the assessments of the Company's management as to, among other things, the Company's product pipeline, future products, technology and intellectual property, including the viability of and risks associated therewith.

We are not legal, tax or regulatory advisors and have relied upon, without independent verification, the assessment of the Parent and the Company and their legal, tax or regulatory advisors with respect to legal, tax or regulatory matters. We are not in the business of appraising tangible assets and have not made any independent valuation or appraisal of any or all of the assets or liabilities (including any contingent, derivative or off-balance-sheet assets or liabilities) of the Parent or the Company, nor have we been furnished with any such valuations or appraisals. In addition, we have not evaluated the solvency of any party to the Agreement under any state or federal laws relating to bankruptcy, insolvency or similar matters. Our opinion is necessarily based on financial, economic, market and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to us as of, the date hereof. Events occurring after the date hereof may affect this opinion and the assumptions used in preparing it, and we do not assume any obligation to update, revise or reaffirm this opinion.

We were not requested to consider, and our opinion does not address, the Parent's underlying business decision to enter into the Agreement and pursue the Merger, or the relative merits of the Merger as compared to any alternative business strategies that might exist for the Parent or the effect of any other transaction in which the Parent might engage. We were not requested to consider, and our opinion does not address, the non-financial terms of the Agreement or the Merger, including, without limitation, the structure or form of the Merger, nor were we asked to address the terms of any related transactions to be entered into by the parties, including, without limitation, the CVRs and the Concurrent Financing, or the fairness of the Merger or any other term or aspect of the Merger to, or any consideration to be received in connection therewith by, or the impact of the Merger on, the holders of any class of securities, creditors or other constituencies of Parent or any other party. This opinion is limited to and addresses only the fairness, from a financial point of view, as of the date hereof, to Parent of the Exchange Ratio to be paid by Parent pursuant to the terms of the Agreement. Furthermore, we express no opinion with respect to the amount or nature of any compensation to be paid to any officers, directors or employees of any party to the Merger, or any class of such persons, relative to the Merger Consideration or otherwise, or with respect to the fairness of any such compensation.

We, as part of our investment banking business, are customarily engaged in the valuation of businesses and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, negotiated underwritings, competitive biddings, secondary distributions of securities, private placements and valuations for estate, corporate and other purposes.

We have acted as financial advisor to the Parent in connection with the Merger and will receive a fee for providing this opinion, no portion of which is contingent upon the completion of the Merger. In addition, the Parent has agreed to indemnify us against certain liabilities arising out of our engagement. We have not otherwise had a material relationship with, nor otherwise received fees from, the Parent or any other party to the Merger during the two years preceding the date hereof, other than our provision of ordinary course equity research coverage of Parent during this period.

Consistent with applicable legal and regulatory requirements, we have adopted policies and procedures to establish and maintain the independence of our research department and personnel. As a result, our research analysts may hold views, make statements or investment recommendations and/or publish research reports with respect to Parent or the proposed Merger and other participants in the Merger that differ from the views of our investment banking personnel.

In the ordinary course of our trading, brokerage, investment management and financing activities, we or our affiliates may at any time hold long or short positions, and may trade or otherwise effect transactions, for our own account or the accounts of customers, in debt or equity securities of parties to the Merger or other companies or any currency that may be involved in the Merger. In the future, we may maintain other relationships with, and provide advisory and other services to the Company, Parent and their respective affiliates, and may receive fees for providing such services.

This opinion is given at the request of, and is intended for the benefit and use of, the Board of Directors of the Parent in connection with its consideration of the Merger, and it is not intended to be and does not constitute a recommendation to any shareholder of the Parent as to how such shareholder should vote or act on any matter relating to the Merger. This opinion shall not be used for any other purpose, and may not be disseminated, reproduced, quoted from or referred to at any time, without our prior written approval; provided, that this opinion may be included in its entirety in any proxy statement, information statement or solicitation/recommendation statement on Schedule 14d-9 required to be delivered to the Parent's stockholders in connection with the Merger, and provided further that we shall have a reasonable opportunity to review, comment on and approve any summary of or reference to this opinion contained in such statements in advance of any such delivery.

The issuance of this opinion was approved by our fairness opinion review committee.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing, we are of the opinion on the date hereof that the Exchange Ratio to be paid by Parent pursuant to the terms of the Agreement is fair, from a financial point of view, to Parent.

Very truly yours,

/s/ Citizens JMP Securities, LLC

SUPPORT AGREEMENT

This SUPPORT AGREEMENT (THIS “AGREEMENT”) is made as of March 1, 2026, by and between CANDID THERAPEUTICS, INC., a Delaware corporation (“Company”), and the Person set forth on Schedule A hereto (the “Stockholder”).

WHEREAS, as of the date hereof, the Stockholder is the holder of the number of shares of common stock, par value $0.0001 per share (“Common Stock”) and preferred stock, par value $0.0001 per share (“Preferred Stock” and collectively with the Common Stock, the “Parent Shares”), of RALLYBIO CORPORATION, a Delaware corporation (the “Parent”), set forth opposite the Stockholder’s name on Schedule A (all Parent Shares owned by the Stockholder, or hereafter issued to or otherwise acquired, whether beneficially or of record, or owned by the Stockholder prior to the termination of this Agreement, as well as shares set forth on Schedule A, being referred to herein as the “Subject Shares”);

WHEREAS, the Company, Parent and FARMINGTON MERGER SUB, INC., a Delaware corporation and wholly owned subsidiary of Parent (“Merger Sub”), propose to enter into an Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization, dated as of the date hereof (the “Merger Agreement”), which provides, among other things, for the merger of Merger Sub with and into the Company, with the Company continuing as the surviving company (the “Merger”), upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Merger Agreement (capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the respective meanings ascribed to such terms in the Merger Agreement); and

WHEREAS, as a condition to its willingness to enter into the Merger Agreement, Parent has required that the Stockholder, and as an inducement and in consideration therefor, the Stockholder (in the Stockholder’s capacity as a holder of the Subject Shares) has agreed to, enter into this Agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and the respective representations, warranties, covenants and agreements set forth below and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto, intending to be legally bound, do hereby agree as follows:

ARTICLE I VOTING AGREEMENT; GRANT OF PROXY

The Stockholder hereby covenants and agrees that:

1.1. Voting of Subject Shares. From and after the date hereof, at every meeting of the holders of Parent Shares (the “Parent Stockholders”), however called, and at every adjournment or postponement thereof (or pursuant to a written consent if the Parent Stockholders act by written consent in lieu of a meeting), the Stockholder shall, or shall cause the holder of record on any applicable record date to, be present (in person or by proxy) and to vote or cause to be voted the Subject Shares (a) in favor of approving the Contemplated Transactions, including the Parent Stockholder Matters, the Authorized Share Increase Proposal and the other actions contemplated by the Merger Agreement, (b) against approval of any proposal made in opposition to, or in competition with, the Merger Agreement or the consummation of the Merger, and (c) against any Acquisition Proposal. Except as permitted under clauses (A) through (K) of Section 1.2 below, the Stockholder shall retain at all times the right to vote the Subject Shares in the Stockholder’s sole discretion and without any other limitation on those matters other than those set forth in this Section 1.1 that are at any time or from time to time presented for consideration to the Parent Stockholders.

1.2. No Inconsistent Arrangements. Except as provided hereunder or under the Merger Agreement, prior to the Effective Time, the Stockholder shall not, directly or indirectly, (a) create any Encumbrance other than restrictions imposed by Law or pursuant to this Agreement on any Subject Shares; (b) transfer, sell, assign, gift or otherwise dispose of (collectively, “Transfer”), or enter into any contract with respect to any Transfer of, the Subject Shares or any interest therein; (c) grant or permit the grant of any proxy, power of attorney or other authorization in or with respect to the Subject Shares; (d) deposit or permit the deposit of the Subject Shares into a voting trust or enter into a voting agreement or arrangement with respect to the Subject Shares; or (e) take any action that, to the knowledge of the Stockholder, would make any representation or warranty of the Stockholder herein untrue or incorrect in any material respect or have the effect of preventing the Stockholder from performing the Stockholder’s obligations hereunder. Any action taken in violation of the foregoing sentence shall be null and void ab initio. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Stockholder may (A) Transfer the Subject Shares as a bona fide charitable contribution, gift or donation; (B) Transfer the Subject Shares to any trust for the direct or indirect benefit of the Stockholder or the immediate family of the Stockholder; (C) Transfer the Subject Shares by will, other testamentary document or intestate succession to the legal representative, heir, beneficiary or a member of the immediate family of the Stockholder; (D) Transfer the Subject Shares to stockholders, direct or indirect affiliates (within the meaning set forth in Rule 405 under the Securities Act), current or former partners (general or limited), members or managers of the Stockholder, as applicable, or to the estates of any such stockholders, affiliates, partners, members or managers, or to another corporation, partnership, limited liability company or other business entity that controls, is controlled by or is under common control with the Stockholder; (E) make Transfers that occur by operation of law pursuant to a qualified domestic relations order or in connection with a divorce settlement; (F) make Transfers not involving a change in beneficial ownership; (G) if the Stockholder is a trust, Transfer Subject Shares to any beneficiary of the Stockholder or the estate of any such beneficiary; (H) exercise an option to purchase Parent Shares or settle an equity award (including a net or cashless exercise of such option); (I) Transfer Parent Shares to the Parent to cover tax withholding obligations of the Stockholder in connection with the vesting, settlement or exercise of any options or other equity awards, as applicable, provided that in each case, the underlying Parent Shares shall continue to be subject to the restrictions on transfer set forth in this Agreement; (J) establish a trading plan pursuant to Rule 10b5-1 under the Exchange Act for the transfer of Parent Shares; and (K) Transfer Parent Shares to the Parent pursuant to arrangements under which the Parent has the option to repurchase such Parent Shares; provided that, with respect to clauses (A) through (G) above, the transferee agrees in writing to be bound by the terms and conditions of this Agreement and either the Stockholder or the transferee provides Company with a copy of such agreement promptly upon consummation of any such Transfer; provided, further that with respect to clauses (A) through (C) and (E) through (G) above, no filing under the Exchange Act or other public announcement shall be required or shall be made voluntarily in connection with such Transfer (other than filings made in respect of involuntary Transfers); provided that reasonable notice shall be provided to Company prior to any such filing and that the underlying Parent Shares shall continue to be subject to the restrictions on Transfer set forth in this Agreement. For purposes of this Agreement, “immediate family” shall mean any relationship by blood, marriage or adoption, not more remote than first cousin.

1.3. Documentation and Information. The Stockholder shall permit and hereby authorizes the Company and Parent to publish and disclose in all documents and schedules filed with the SEC, and any press release or other disclosure document that the Company or Parent reasonably determines to be necessary in connection with the Merger and any of the Contemplated Transactions, the Stockholder’s identity and ownership of the Subject Shares and the nature of the Stockholder’s commitments and obligations under this Agreement. The Parent is an intended third-party beneficiary of this Section 1.3.

1.4. Irrevocable Proxy. The Stockholder hereby revokes (or agrees to cause to be revoked) any proxies that the Stockholder has heretofore granted with respect to the Subject Shares. The Stockholder hereby irrevocably appoints Company as attorney-in-fact and proxy for and on behalf of the Stockholder, for and in the name, place and stead of the Stockholder, to: (a) attend any and all meetings of the Parent Stockholders, (b) vote, express consent or dissent or issue instructions to the record holder to vote the Subject Shares in accordance with the provisions of Section 1.1 at any and all meetings of the Parent Stockholders or in connection with any action sought to be taken by written consent of the Parent Stockholders without a meeting and (c) grant or withhold, or issue instructions to the record holder to grant or withhold, consistent with the provisions of Section 1.1, all written consents with respect to the Subject Shares at any and all meetings of the Parent Stockholders or in connection with any action sought to be taken by written consent of the Parent Stockholders without a meeting. Company agrees not to exercise the proxy granted herein for any purpose other than the purposes described in this Agreement. The foregoing proxy shall be deemed to be a proxy coupled with an interest, is irrevocable (and as such shall survive and not be affected by the death, incapacity, mental illness or insanity of the Stockholder, as applicable) until the termination of this Agreement and shall not be terminated by operation of law or upon the occurrence of any other event other than the termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 4.2. The Stockholder authorizes such attorney and proxy to substitute any other Person to act hereunder, to revoke any substitution and to file this proxy and any substitution or revocation with the Secretary of the Parent. The Stockholder hereby affirms that the proxy set forth in this Section 1.4 is given in connection with and granted in consideration of and as an inducement to the Company to enter into the Merger Agreement and that such proxy is given to secure the obligations of the Stockholder under Section 1.1. The proxy set forth in this Section 1.4 is executed and intended to be irrevocable, subject, however, to its automatic termination upon the termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 4.2. With respect to any Subject Shares that are owned beneficially by the Stockholder but are not held of record by the Stockholder (other than shares beneficially owned by the Stockholder that are held in the name of a bank, broker or nominee), the Stockholder shall take all action necessary to cause the record holder of such Subject Shares to grant the irrevocable proxy and take all other actions provided for in this Section 1.4 with respect to such Subject Shares.

1.5. No Ownership Interest. Nothing contained in this Agreement will be deemed to vest in Company any direct or indirect ownership or incidents of ownership of or with respect to the Subject Shares. All rights, ownership and economic benefits of and relating to the Subject Shares will remain and belong to the Stockholder, and Company will have no authority to manage, direct, superintend, restrict, regulate, govern or administer any of the policies or operations of the Parent or exercise any power or authority to direct the Stockholder in the voting of any of the Subject Shares, except as otherwise expressly provided herein with respect to the Subject Shares and except as otherwise expressly provided in the Merger Agreement.

1.6. Waivers. In connection with the Contemplated Transactions, the Stockholder hereby expressly agrees that the Stockholder will not bring, commence, institute, maintain, prosecute, participate in or voluntarily aid any action, claim, suit or cause of action, in law or in equity, in any court or before any Governmental Body, which (a) challenges the validity of or seeks to enjoin the operation of any provision of this Agreement or (b) alleges that the execution and delivery of this Agreement by the Stockholder, or the approval of the Merger Agreement by Parent Board, breaches any fiduciary duty of the Parent Board or any member thereof; provided that the Stockholder may defend against, contest or settle any such action, claim, suit or cause of action brought against the Stockholder that relates solely to the Stockholder's capacity as a director, officer or securityholder of the Parent.

1.7. No Solicitation of Transactions. The Stockholder hereby agrees that, during the Pre- Closing Period, the Stockholder shall not, directly or indirectly: (a) solicit, initiate or knowingly encourage, induce or facilitate the communication, making, submission or announcement of any Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry or take any action that could reasonably be expected to lead to an Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry; (b) furnish any non-public information regarding the Parent to any Person in connection with or in response to an Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry; (c) engage in discussions (other than to inform any Person of the existence of the provisions in this Section 1.7) or negotiations with any Person with respect to any Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry; (d) approve, endorse or recommend any Acquisition Proposal; (e) execute or enter into any letter of intent or any Contract contemplating or otherwise relating to any Acquisition Transaction; or (f) publicly propose to do any of the foregoing; provided, however, that the foregoing restrictions in this Section 1.7 shall only apply to the Stockholder in the Stockholder's capacity as a holder of Parent Shares and not, for the avoidance of doubt, in the Stockholder's capacity as a director or officer (if applicable) of the Parent, whose activities with respect to any Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry shall be governed by the Merger

Agreement. The Stockholder hereby represents and warrants that the Stockholder has read Section 4.4 (Parent Non-Solicitation) of the Merger Agreement and agrees not to engage in any actions prohibited thereby.

ARTICLE II REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF THE STOCKHOLDER

The Stockholder represents and warrants to Company that:

2.1. Organization; Authorization; Binding Agreement. The Stockholder, if not a natural person, is duly incorporated or organized, as applicable, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of its jurisdiction of incorporation or organization. The Stockholder has full legal capacity and power, right and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and to perform the Stockholder's obligations hereunder and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby. This Agreement has been duly and validly executed and delivered by the Stockholder, and constitutes a legal, valid and binding obligation of the Stockholder enforceable against the Stockholder in accordance with its terms, subject to the Enforceability Exceptions.

2.2. Ownership of Subject Shares; Total Shares. The Stockholder is the record or beneficial owner of the Subject Shares and has good and marketable title to the Subject Shares free and clear of any Encumbrances (including any restriction on the right to vote or otherwise transfer the Subject Shares), except (a) as provided hereunder, (b) pursuant to any applicable restrictions on transfer under the Securities Act, (c) subject to any risk of forfeiture or repurchase rights of the Parent with respect to any Parent Shares granted to the Stockholder under an employee benefit plan of Parent and (d) as provided in the certificate of incorporation or bylaws of the Parent. The Subject Shares listed on Schedule A opposite the Stockholder's name constitute all of the Parent Shares owned by the Stockholder as of the date hereof. Except pursuant to the Parent's certificate of incorporation, bylaws and the right of the Parent to purchase or acquire any Parent Shares pursuant to an employee benefit plan of the Parent, no Person has any contractual or other right or obligation to purchase or otherwise acquire any of the Subject Shares. For purposes of this Agreement "Beneficial Ownership" shall be interpreted as defined in Rule 13d-3 under the Exchange Act; provided that for purposes of determining Beneficial Ownership, a Person shall be deemed to be the Beneficial Owner of any securities that may be acquired by such Person pursuant to any Contract or upon the exercise of conversion rights, exchange rights, warrants or options, or otherwise (irrespective of whether the right to acquire such securities is exercisable immediately or only after the passage of time, including the passage of time in excess of 60 days, the satisfaction of any conditions, the occurrence of any event or any combination of the foregoing).

2.3. Voting Power. The Stockholder has full voting power, with respect to the Subject Shares, and full power of disposition, full power to issue instructions with respect to the matters set forth herein and full power to agree to all of the matters set forth in this Agreement, in each case, with respect to all of the Subject Shares. None of the Subject Shares are subject to any proxy, voting trust or other agreement or arrangement with respect to the voting of the Subject Shares, except as provided hereunder.

2.4. Reliance. The Stockholder has had the opportunity to review the Merger Agreement, and this Agreement with counsel of the Stockholder's own choosing. The Stockholder has had an opportunity to review with its own tax advisors the tax consequences of the Merger and the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement. The Stockholder understands that it must rely solely on its advisors and not on any statements or representations made by Parent, the Company or any of their respective agents or representatives. The Stockholder understands that such Stockholder (and not Parent, the Company or the Surviving Corporation) shall be responsible for such Stockholder's tax liability that may arise as a result of the Merger or the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement. The Stockholder understands and acknowledges that the Company, Parent and Merger Sub are entering into the Merger Agreement in reliance upon the Stockholder's execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement.

2.5. Absence of Litigation. With respect to the Stockholder, as of the date hereof, there is no action, suit, investigation or proceeding pending against, or, to the knowledge of the Stockholder, threatened against, the Stockholder or any of the Stockholder's properties or assets (including the Subject Shares) that could reasonably be expected to prevent, delay or impair the ability of the Stockholder to perform the Stockholder's obligations hereunder or to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby.

2.6. Non-Contravention. The execution and delivery of this Agreement by the Stockholder and the performance of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement by the Stockholder does not and will not violate, conflict with, or result in a breach of: (a) the organizational documents of such Stockholder, (b) any applicable Law or any injunction, judgment, order, decree, ruling, charge, or other restriction of any Governmental Body to which the Stockholder is subject, or (c) any Contract to which the Stockholder is a party or is bound or to which the Subject Shares are subject, such that it could reasonably be expected to prevent, delay or impair the ability of the Stockholder to perform the Stockholder's obligations hereunder or to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby.

ARTICLE III REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF COMPANY

Company represents and warrants to the Stockholder that:

3.1. Organization; Authorization. Company is a corporation duly incorporated, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Delaware. The consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby is within Company's corporate powers and has been duly authorized by all necessary corporate actions on the part of Company. Company has full power and authority to execute, deliver and perform this Agreement.

3.2. Binding Agreement. This Agreement has been duly authorized, executed and delivered by Company and constitutes a valid and binding obligation of Company enforceable against Company in accordance with its terms, subject to the Enforceability Exceptions.

ARTICLE IV MISCELLANEOUS

4.1. Notices. All notices, requests and other communications to either party hereunder shall be in writing (including electronic mail) and shall be given, (a) if to Company, in accordance with the provisions of the Merger Agreement and (b) if to the Stockholder, to the Stockholder's address or electronic mail address set forth on a signature page hereto, or to such other address or electronic mail address as the Stockholder may hereafter specify in writing to Company.

4.2. Termination. This Agreement shall terminate automatically, without any notice or other action by any Person, upon the earlier of (a) the termination of the Merger Agreement in accordance with its terms, (b) the Effective Time, and (c) the amendment of the Merger Agreement, without the prior written consent of the Stockholder, in a manner that affects the economics or material terms of the Merger Agreement in a manner that is adverse to the Stockholder. Upon termination of this Agreement, neither party shall have any further obligations or liabilities under this Agreement; provided, however, that (i) nothing set forth in this Section 4.2 shall relieve either party from liability for any breach of this Agreement prior to termination hereof, and (ii) the provisions of this Article IV shall survive any termination of this Agreement.

4.3. Confidentiality. Except to the extent required by applicable Law, the Stockholder shall hold any non-public information regarding this Agreement, the Merger Agreement and the Merger in strict confidence and shall not divulge any such information to any third person until Company has publicly disclosed its entry into the Merger Agreement and this Agreement; provided, however, that the Stockholder may disclose such information (a) to its attorneys, accountants, consultants, trustees, beneficiaries and other representatives (provided such representatives are subject to confidentiality obligations at least as restrictive as those contained herein), and (b) to any Affiliate, partner, member, stockholder, parent or subsidiary of the Stockholder, provided in each case that the Stockholder informs the Person receiving the information that such information is confidential and such Person agrees in writing to abide by the terms of this Section 4.3. Neither the Stockholder nor any of its Affiliates (other than the Parent, whose actions shall be governed by the Merger Agreement), shall issue or cause the publication of any press release or other public announcement with respect to this Agreement, the Merger, the Merger Agreement or the other transactions contemplated hereby or thereby without the prior written consent of the Company and Parent, except as may be required by applicable Law in which circumstance such announcing party shall make reasonable efforts to consult with the Company and Parent to the extent practicable. The Parent is an intended third-party beneficiary of this Section 4.3.

4.4. Amendments and Waivers. Any provision of this Agreement may be amended or waived if such amendment or waiver is in writing and is signed, in the case of an amendment, by each party to this Agreement, or in the case of a waiver, by the party against whom the waiver is to be effective. No failure or delay by either party in exercising any right, power or privilege hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof nor shall any single or partial exercise thereof preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right, power or privilege.

4.5. Binding Effect; Benefit; Assignment. The provisions of this Agreement shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns. Except as set forth in Section 1.3 and Section 4.3, no provision of this Agreement is intended to confer any rights, benefits, remedies, obligations or liabilities hereunder upon any Person other than the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns. Neither party may assign, delegate or otherwise transfer any of its rights or obligations under this Agreement without the consent of the other party hereto, except that Company may transfer or assign its rights and obligations under this Agreement, in whole or from time to time in part, to one or more of its Affiliates at any time; provided that such transfer or assignment shall not relieve Company of any of its obligations hereunder; provided however that the Stockholder may transfer the Parent Shares to stockholders, direct or indirect affiliates (within the meaning set forth in Rule 405 under the Securities Act), current or former partners (general or limited), members or managers of the Stockholder, so long as the transferee agrees in writing to be bound by the terms and conditions of this Agreement and either the Stockholder or the transferee provides Company with a copy of such Agreement promptly upon consummation of any such transfer.

4.6. Governing Law; Jurisdiction. This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of Delaware, regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of conflicts of laws. In any action or proceeding between any of the parties hereto arising out of or relating to this Agreement, each party hereto: (a) irrevocably and unconditionally consents and submits to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue of the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware or, to the extent such court does not have subject matter jurisdiction, the United States District Court for the District of Delaware or, to the extent that neither of the foregoing courts has jurisdiction, the Superior Court of the State of Delaware (the "Delaware Courts"); (b) agrees that all claims in respect of such action or proceeding shall be heard and determined exclusively in accordance with clause (a) of this Section 4.6; (c) waives any objection to laying venue in any such action or proceeding in such courts; (d) waives any objection that such courts are an inconvenient forum or do not have jurisdiction over any party hereto; (e) agrees that service of process upon such party in any such action or proceeding shall be effective if notice is given in accordance with Section 4.1 of this Agreement; and (f) irrevocably and unconditionally waives the right to trial by jury.

4.7. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in several counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original and all of which shall constitute one and the same instrument. The exchange of a fully executed Agreement (in counterparts or otherwise) by all parties by facsimile or electronic transmission in .PDF format shall be sufficient to bind the parties to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

4.8. Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings, both written and oral, among or between any of the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and thereof.

4.9. Severability. Any term or provision of this Agreement that is invalid or unenforceable in any situation in any jurisdiction shall not affect the validity or enforceability of the remaining terms and provisions of this Agreement or the validity or enforceability of the offending term or provision in any other situation or in any other jurisdiction. If a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction declares that any term or provision of this Agreement is invalid or unenforceable, the parties hereto agree that the court making such determination will have the power to limit such term or provision, to delete specific words or phrases or to replace such term or provision with a term or provision that is valid and enforceable and that comes closest to expressing the intention of the invalid or unenforceable term or provision, and this Agreement shall be valid and enforceable as so modified. In the event such court does not exercise the power granted to it in the prior sentence, the parties hereto agree to replace such invalid or unenforceable term or provision with a valid and enforceable term or provision that will achieve, to the extent possible, the economic, business and other purposes of such invalid or unenforceable term or provision.

4.10. Specific Performance. Any and all remedies herein expressly conferred upon a party will be deemed cumulative with and not exclusive of any other remedy conferred hereby, or by law or equity upon such party, and the exercise by a party of any one remedy will not preclude the exercise of any other remedy. The parties hereto agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached. It is accordingly agreed that the parties shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions hereof in any Delaware Court, this being in addition to any other remedy to which they are entitled at law or in equity, and each of the parties hereto waives any bond, surety or other security that might be required of any other party with respect thereto.

4.11. Construction.

(a) For purposes of this Agreement, whenever the context requires: the singular number shall include the plural, and vice versa; the masculine gender shall include the feminine and neuter genders; the feminine gender shall include the masculine and neuter genders; and the neuter gender shall include masculine and feminine genders.

(b) The parties hereto agree that any rule of construction to the effect that ambiguities are to be resolved against the drafting party shall not be applied in the construction or interpretation of this Agreement.

(c) As used in this Agreement, the words "include" and "including," and variations thereof, shall not be deemed to be terms of limitation, but rather shall be deemed to be followed by the words "without limitation."

(d) Except as otherwise indicated, all references in this Agreement to "Sections," "Articles," and "Schedules" are intended to refer to Sections or Articles of this Agreement and Schedules to this Agreement, respectively.

(e) The bold-faced headings contained in this Agreement are for convenience of reference only, shall not be deemed to be a part of this Agreement and shall not be referred to in connection with the construction or interpretation of this Agreement.

4.12. Further Assurances. Each of the parties hereto will execute and deliver, or cause to be executed and delivered, all further documents and instruments and use their respective reasonable best efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all actions and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary under applicable Law to perform their respective obligations as expressly set forth under this Agreement.

4.13. No Legal Actions. Each Stockholder will not in its capacity as a Stockholder of Parent bring, commence, institute, maintain, prosecute or voluntarily aid any Legal Proceeding which (i) challenges the validity or seeks to enjoin the operation of any provision of this Agreement or (ii) alleges that the execution and delivery of this Agreement by such Stockholder, either alone or together with the other voting agreements and proxies to be delivered in connection with the execution of the Merger Agreement, or the approval of the Merger Agreement and the Contemplated Transactions by the Parent Board, constitutes a breach of any fiduciary duty of the Parent Board or any member thereof.

4.14. Voluntary Execution of Agreement. This Agreement is executed voluntarily and without any duress or undue influence on the part or behalf of the parties. Each of the parties hereby acknowledges, represents and warrants that (i) it has read and fully understood the Merger Agreement, this Agreement and the implications and consequences thereof; (ii) it has been represented in the preparation, negotiation, and execution of this Agreement by legal counsel of its own choice, or it has made a voluntary and informed decision to decline to seek such counsel; and (iii) it is fully aware of the legal and binding effect of this Agreement. The Stockholder has had an opportunity to review with its own tax advisors the tax consequences of the Contemplated Transactions. The Stockholder understands that it must rely solely on its advisors and not on any statements or representations made by Parent, the Company or any of their respective agents or representatives. The Stockholder understands that such Stockholder (and not Parent, or the Company) shall be responsible for such Stockholder's tax liability that may arise as a result of the Contemplated Transactions. The Stockholder understands and acknowledges that Parent, the Company and Merger Sub are entering into the Merger Agreement in reliance upon the Stockholder's execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement.

4.15. Fees and Expenses. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, the Merger Agreement or any other agreement contemplated by the Merger Agreement to which a party hereto is a party, each party hereto shall bear its own expenses in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby.

4.16. Capacity as Stockholder. The Stockholder signs this Agreement solely in the Stockholder's capacity as a holder of Parent Shares, and not in the Stockholder's capacity as a director, officer or employee of the Parent or in the Stockholder's capacity as a trustee or fiduciary of any employee benefit plan or trust. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, nothing herein shall in any way restrict a director or officer of the Parent in the exercise of his or her fiduciary duties as a director or officer of the Parent or in his or her capacity as a trustee or fiduciary of any employee benefit plan or trust or prevent or be construed to create any obligation on the part of any director or officer of the Parent or any trustee or fiduciary of any employee benefit plan or trust from taking any action in his or her capacity as such director, officer, trustee or fiduciary.

4.17. No Agreement Until Executed. Irrespective of negotiations among the parties or the exchanging of drafts of this Agreement, this Agreement shall not constitute or be deemed to evidence a contract, agreement, arrangement or understanding between the parties hereto unless and until (a) the Parent Board has approved, for purposes of any applicable anti-takeover laws and regulations, and any applicable provision of the Parent's organizational documents, the Merger, (b) the Merger Agreement is executed by all parties thereto, and (c) this Agreement is executed by all parties hereto.

This SUPPORT AGREEMENT (THIS “AGREEMENT”) is made as of March 1, 2026, by and between RALLYBIO CORPORATION, a Delaware corporation (“Parent”), and the [Person] set forth on Schedule A hereto (the “Stockholder”).

WHEREAS, as of the date hereof, the Stockholder is the holder of the number of shares of common stock, par value $0.0001 per share (“Common Stock”) and preferred stock, par value $0.0001 per share (“Preferred Stock” and collectively with the Common Stock, the “Company Shares”), of CANDID THERAPEUTICS, INC., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), set forth opposite the Stockholder’s name on Schedule A (all Company Shares owned by the Stockholder, or hereafter issued to or otherwise acquired, whether beneficially or of record, or owned by the Stockholder prior to the termination of this Agreement, as well as shares set forth on Schedule A, being referred to herein as the “Subject Shares”);

WHEREAS, the Company, Parent and Farmington Merger Sub, Inc., a Delaware corporation and wholly owned subsidiary of Parent (“Merger Sub”), propose to enter into an Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization, dated as of the date hereof (the “Merger Agreement”), which provides, among other things, for the merger of Merger Sub with and into the Company, with the Company continuing as the surviving company (the “Merger”), upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Merger Agreement (capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the respective meanings ascribed to such terms in the Merger Agreement); and

WHEREAS, as a condition to its willingness to enter into the Merger Agreement, Parent has required that the Stockholder, and as an inducement and in consideration therefor, the Stockholder (in the Stockholder’s capacity as a holder of the Subject Shares) has agreed to, enter into this Agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and the respective representations, warranties, covenants and agreements set forth below and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto, intending to be legally bound, do hereby agree as follows:

ARTICLE I VOTING AGREEMENT; GRANT OF PROXY

The Stockholder hereby covenants and agrees that:

1.1. Voting of Subject Shares. From and after the date hereof, at every meeting of the holders of Company Shares (the “Company Stockholders”), however called, and at every adjournment or postponement thereof (or pursuant to a written consent if the Company Stockholders act by written consent in lieu of a meeting), the Stockholder shall, or shall cause the holder of record on any applicable record date to, be present (in person or by proxy) and to vote or cause to be voted the Subject Shares (a) in favor of adopting the Merger Agreement and approving the Merger, the other Contemplated Transactions, the Company Stockholder Matters, and the other actions contemplated by the Merger Agreement, (b) against approval of any proposal made in opposition to, or in competition with, the Merger Agreement or the consummation of the Merger, and (c) against any Acquisition Proposal. Except as permitted under clauses (A) through (K) of Section 1.2 below, the Stockholder shall retain at all times the right to vote the Subject Shares in the Stockholder’s sole discretion and without any other limitation on those matters other than those set forth in this Section 1.1 that are at any time or from time to time presented for consideration to the Company Stockholders.

1.2. No Inconsistent Arrangements. Except as provided hereunder or under the Merger Agreement, prior to the Effective Time, the Stockholder shall not, directly or indirectly, (a) create any Encumbrance other than restrictions imposed by Law or pursuant to this Agreement on any Subject Shares; (b) transfer, sell, assign, gift or otherwise dispose of (collectively, “Transfer”), or enter into any contract with respect to any Transfer of, the Subject Shares or any interest therein; (c) grant or permit the grant of any proxy, power of attorney or other authorization in or with respect to the Subject Shares; (d) deposit or permit the deposit of the Subject Shares into a voting trust or enter into a voting agreement or arrangement with respect to the Subject Shares; or (e) take any action that, to the knowledge of the Stockholder, would make any representation or warranty of the Stockholder herein untrue or incorrect in any material respect or have the effect of preventing the Stockholder from performing the Stockholder’s obligations hereunder. Any action taken in violation of the foregoing sentence shall be null and void ab initio. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Stockholder may (A) Transfer the Subject Shares as a bona fide charitable contribution, gift or donation; (B) Transfer the Subject Shares to any trust for the direct or indirect benefit of the Stockholder or the immediate family of the Stockholder; (C) Transfer the Subject Shares by will, other testamentary document or intestate succession to the legal representative, heir, beneficiary or a member of the immediate family of the Stockholder; (D) Transfer the Subject Shares to stockholders, direct or indirect affiliates (within the meaning set forth in Rule 405 under the Securities Act), current or former partners (general or limited), members or managers of the Stockholder, as applicable, or to the estates of any such stockholders, affiliates, partners, members or managers, or to another corporation, partnership, limited liability company or other business entity that controls, is controlled by or is under common control with the Stockholder; (E) make Transfers that occur by operation of law pursuant to a qualified domestic relations order or in connection with a divorce settlement; (F) make Transfers not involving a change in beneficial ownership; (G) if the Stockholder is a trust, Transfer Subject Shares to any beneficiary of the Stockholder or the estate of any such beneficiary; (H) exercise an option to purchase Company Shares or settle an equity award (including a net or cashless exercise of such option); (I) Transfer Company Shares to the Company to cover tax withholding obligations of the Stockholder in connection with the vesting, settlement or exercise of any options, or other equity awards, as applicable, provided that in each case, the underlying Company Shares shall continue to be subject to the restrictions on transfer set forth in this Agreement; (J) establish a trading plan pursuant to Rule 10b5-1 under the Exchange Act for the transfer of Company Shares; and (K) Transfer Company Shares to the Company pursuant to arrangements under which the Company has the option to repurchase such Company Shares; provided that, with respect to clauses (A) through (G) above, the transferee agrees in writing to be bound by the terms and conditions of this Agreement and either the Stockholder or the transferee provides Parent with a copy of such agreement promptly upon consummation of any such Transfer; provided, further that with respect to clauses (A) through (C) and (E) through (G) above, no filing under the Exchange Act or other public announcement shall be required or shall be made voluntarily in connection with such Transfer (other than filings made in respect of involuntary Transfers); provided that reasonable notice shall be provided to Parent prior to any such filing and that the underlying Company Shares shall continue to be subject to the restrictions on Transfer set forth in this Agreement. For purposes of this Agreement, “immediate family” shall mean any relationship by blood, marriage or adoption, not more remote than first cousin.

1.3. Documentation and Information. The Stockholder shall permit and hereby authorizes the Company and Parent to publish and disclose in all documents and schedules filed with the SEC, and any press release or other disclosure document that the Company or Parent reasonably determines to be necessary in connection with the Merger and any of the Contemplated Transactions, the Stockholder’s identity and ownership of the Subject Shares and the nature of the Stockholder’s commitments and obligations under this Agreement. The Company is an intended third-party beneficiary of this Section 1.3.

1.4. Irrevocable Proxy. The Stockholder hereby revokes (or agrees to cause to be revoked) any proxies that the Stockholder has heretofore granted with respect to the Subject Shares. The Stockholder hereby irrevocably appoints Parent as attorney-in-fact and proxy for and on behalf of the Stockholder, for and in the name, place and stead of the Stockholder, to: (a) attend any and all meetings of the Company Stockholders, (b) vote, express consent or dissent or issue instructions to the record holder to vote the Subject Shares in accordance with the provisions of Section 1.1 at any and all meetings of the Company Stockholders or in connection with any action sought to be taken by written consent of the Company Stockholders without a meeting and (c) grant or withhold, or issue instructions to the record holder to grant or withhold, consistent with the provisions of Section 1.1, all written consents with respect to the Subject Shares at any and all meetings of the Company Stockholders or in connection with any action sought to be taken by written consent of the Company Stockholders without a meeting. Parent agrees not to exercise the proxy granted herein for any purpose other than the purposes described in this Agreement. The foregoing proxy shall be deemed to be a proxy coupled with an interest, is irrevocable (and as such shall survive and not be affected by the death, incapacity, mental illness or insanity of the Stockholder, as applicable) until the termination of this Agreement and shall not be terminated by operation of law or upon the occurrence of any other event other than the termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 4.2. The Stockholder authorizes such attorney and proxy to substitute any other Person to act hereunder, to revoke any substitution and to file this proxy and any substitution or revocation with the Secretary of the Company. The Stockholder hereby affirms that the proxy set forth in this Section 1.4 is given in connection with and granted in consideration of and as an inducement to Parent, the Company to enter into the Merger Agreement and that such proxy is given to secure the obligations of the Stockholder under Section 1.1. The proxy set forth in this Section 1.4 is executed and intended to be irrevocable, subject, however, to its automatic termination upon the termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 4.2. With respect to any Subject Shares that are owned beneficially by the Stockholder but are not held of record by the Stockholder (other than shares beneficially owned by the Stockholder that are held in the name of a bank, broker or nominee), the Stockholder shall take all action necessary to cause the record holder of such Subject Shares to grant the irrevocable proxy and take all other actions provided for in this Section 1.4 with respect to such Subject Shares.

1.5. No Ownership Interest. Nothing contained in this Agreement will be deemed to vest in Parent any direct or indirect ownership or incidents of ownership of or with respect to the Subject Shares. All rights, ownership and economic benefits of and relating to the Subject Shares will remain and belong to the Stockholder, and Parent will have no authority to manage, direct, superintend, restrict, regulate, govern or administer any of the policies or operations of the Company or exercise any power or authority to direct the Stockholder in the voting of any of the Subject Shares, except as otherwise expressly provided herein with respect to the Subject Shares and except as otherwise expressly provided in the Merger Agreement.

1.6. No Exercise of Appraisal Rights; Waivers. In connection with the Contemplated Transactions, the Stockholder hereby expressly (a) waives, to the extent permitted under applicable Law, any and all rights under Section 262 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, a copy of which is attached hereto as Appendix I, with respect to any Subject Shares and any and all rights under any other applicable Law granting the Stockholder the right to have any Subject Shares appraised in connection with the Contemplated Transactions or to otherwise dissent from the Contemplated Transactions, (b) agrees that the Stockholder will not, under any circumstances in connection with the Contemplated Transactions, exercise any dissenters' or appraisal rights in respect of any Subject Shares, and (c) agrees that the Stockholder will not bring, commence, institute, maintain, prosecute, participate in or voluntarily aid any action, claim, suit or cause of action, in law or in equity, in any court or before any Governmental Body, which (i) challenges the validity of or seeks to enjoin the operation of any provision of this Agreement or (ii) alleges that the execution and delivery of this Agreement by the Stockholder, or the approval of the Merger Agreement by Company Board, breaches any fiduciary duty of the Company Board or any member thereof; provided that the Stockholder may defend against, contest or settle any such action, claim, suit or cause of action brought against the Stockholder that relates solely to the Stockholder's capacity as a director, officer or securityholder of the Company.

1.7. No Solicitation of Transactions. The Stockholder hereby agrees that, during the Pre Closing Period, the Stockholder shall not, directly or indirectly: (a) solicit, initiate or knowingly encourage, induce or facilitate the communication, making, submission or announcement of any Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry or take any action that could reasonably be expected to lead to an Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry; (b) furnish any non-public information regarding the Company to any Person in connection with or in response to an Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry; (c) engage in discussions (other than to inform any Person of the existence of the provisions in this Section 1.7) or negotiations with any Person with respect to any Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry; (d) approve, endorse or recommend any Acquisition Proposal; (e) execute or enter into any letter of intent or any Contract contemplating or otherwise relating to any Acquisition Transaction; or (f) publicly propose to do any of the foregoing; provided, however, that the foregoing restrictions in this Section 1.7 shall only apply to the Stockholder in the Stockholder's capacity as a holder of Company Shares and not, for the avoidance of doubt, in the Stockholder's capacity as a director or officer (if applicable) of the Company, whose activities with respect to any Acquisition Proposal or Acquisition Inquiry shall be governed by the Merger Agreement. The Stockholder hereby represents and warrants that the Stockholder has read Section 4.5 (Company Non-Solicitation) of the Merger Agreement and agrees not to engage in any actions prohibited thereby.

ARTICLE II REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF THE STOCKHOLDER

The Stockholder represents and warrants to Parent that:

2.1. Organization; Authorization; Binding Agreement. The Stockholder, if not a natural person, is duly incorporated or organized, as applicable, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of its jurisdiction of incorporation or organization. The Stockholder has full legal capacity and power, right and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and to perform the Stockholder's obligations hereunder and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby. This Agreement has been duly and validly executed and delivered by the Stockholder, and constitutes a legal, valid and binding obligation of the Stockholder enforceable against the Stockholder in accordance with its terms, subject to the Enforceability Exceptions.

2.2. Ownership of Subject Shares; Total Shares. The Stockholder is the record or beneficial owner of the Subject Shares and has good and marketable title to the Subject Shares free and clear of any Encumbrances (including any restriction on the right to vote or otherwise transfer the Subject Shares), except (a) as provided hereunder, (b) pursuant to any applicable restrictions on transfer under the Securities Act, (c) subject to any risk of forfeiture or repurchase rights of the Company with respect to any Company Shares granted to the Stockholder under an employee benefit plan of Company and (d) as provided in the certificate of incorporation or bylaws of the Company or that certain Investors' Rights Agreement, dated as of August 19, 2024, by and among the Company and certain stockholders of the Company, that certain Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement, dated August 19, 2024, by and among the Company and certain stockholders of the Company, and that certain Voting Agreement, dated as of August 19, 2024, by and among the Company and certain stockholders of the Company (the "Voting Agreement"). The Subject Shares listed on Schedule A opposite the Stockholder's name constitute all of the Company Shares owned by the Stockholder as of the date hereof. Except pursuant to the Company's certificate of incorporation, bylaws and the right of the Company to purchase or acquire any Company Shares pursuant to an employee benefit plan of the Company, no Person has any contractual or other right or obligation to purchase or otherwise acquire any of the Subject Shares. For purposes of this Agreement "Beneficial Ownership" shall be interpreted as defined in Rule 13d-3 under the Exchange Act; provided that for purposes of determining Beneficial Ownership, a Person shall be deemed to be the Beneficial Owner of any securities that may be acquired by such Person pursuant to any Contract or upon the exercise of conversion rights, exchange rights, warrants or options, or otherwise (irrespective of whether the right to acquire such securities is exercisable immediately or only after the passage of time, including the passage of time in excess of 60 days, the satisfaction of any conditions, the occurrence of any event or any combination of the foregoing).

2.3. Voting Power. The Stockholder has full voting power, with respect to the Subject Shares, and full power of disposition, full power to issue instructions with respect to the matters set forth herein and full power to agree to all of the matters set forth in this Agreement, in each case, with respect to all of the Subject Shares. None of the Subject Shares are subject to any proxy, voting trust or other agreement or arrangement with respect to the voting of the Subject Shares, except as provided in the Voting Agreement and as provided hereunder.

2.4. Reliance. The Stockholder has had the opportunity to review the Merger Agreement, including the provisions relating to the payment and allocation of the consideration to be paid to the Company Stockholders, and this Agreement with counsel of the Stockholder's own choosing. The Stockholder has had an opportunity to review with its own tax advisors the tax consequences of the Merger and the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement. The Stockholder understands that it must rely solely on its advisors and not on any statements or representations made by Parent, the Company or any of their respective agents or representatives. The Stockholder understands that such Stockholder (and not Parent, the Company or the Surviving Corporation) shall be responsible for such Stockholder's tax liability that may arise as a result of the Merger or the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement. The Stockholder understands and acknowledges that the Company, Parent and Merger Sub are entering into the Merger Agreement in reliance upon the Stockholder's execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement.

2.5. Absence of Litigation. With respect to the Stockholder, as of the date hereof, there is no action, suit, investigation or proceeding pending against, or, to the knowledge of the Stockholder, threatened against, the Stockholder or any of the Stockholder's properties or assets (including the Subject Shares) that could reasonably be expected to prevent, delay or impair the ability of the Stockholder to perform the Stockholder's obligations hereunder or to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby.

2.6. Non-Contravention. The execution and delivery of this Agreement by the Stockholder and the performance of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement by the Stockholder does not and will not violate, conflict with, or result in a breach of: (a) the organizational documents of such Stockholder, (b) any applicable Law or any injunction, judgment, order, decree, ruling, charge, or other restriction of any Governmental Body to which the Stockholder is subject, or (c) any Contract to which the Stockholder is a party or is bound or to which the Subject Shares are subject, such that it could reasonably be expected to prevent, delay or impair the ability of the Stockholder to perform the Stockholder's obligations hereunder or to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby.

ARTICLE III REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF PARENT

Parent represents and warrants to the Stockholder that:

3.1. Organization; Authorization. Parent is a corporation duly incorporated, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Delaware. The consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby is within Parent's corporate powers and has been duly authorized by all necessary corporate actions on the part of Parent. Parent has full power and authority to execute, deliver and perform this Agreement.

3.2. Binding Agreement. This Agreement has been duly authorized, executed and delivered by Parent and constitutes a valid and binding obligation of Parent enforceable against Parent in accordance with its terms, subject to the Enforceability Exceptions.

ARTICLE IV MISCELLANEOUS

4.1. Notices. All notices, requests and other communications to either party hereunder shall be in writing (including electronic mail) and shall be given, (a) if to Parent, in accordance with the provisions of the Merger Agreement and (b) if to the Stockholder, to the Stockholder's address or electronic mail address set forth on a signature page hereto, or to such other address or electronic mail address as the Stockholder may hereafter specify in writing to Parent.

4.2. Termination. This Agreement shall terminate automatically, without any notice or other action by any Person, upon the earlier of (a) the termination of the Merger Agreement in accordance with its terms, (b) the Effective Time, and (c) the amendment of the Merger Agreement, without the prior written consent of the Stockholder, in a manner that affects the economics or material terms of the Merger Agreement in a manner that is adverse to the Stockholder. Upon termination of this Agreement, neither party shall have any further obligations or liabilities under this Agreement; provided, however, that (i) nothing set forth in this Section 4.2 shall relieve either party from liability for any breach of this Agreement prior to termination hereof, and (ii) the provisions of this Article IV shall survive any termination of this Agreement.

4.3. Confidentiality. Except to the extent required by applicable Law, the Stockholder shall hold any non-public information regarding this Agreement, the Merger Agreement and the Merger in strict confidence and shall not divulge any such information to any third person until Parent has publicly disclosed its entry into the Merger Agreement and this Agreement; provided, however, that the Stockholder may disclose such information (a) to its attorneys, accountants, consultants, trustees, beneficiaries and other representatives (provided such representatives are subject to confidentiality obligations at least as restrictive as those contained herein), and (b) to any Affiliate, partner, member, stockholder, parent or subsidiary of the Stockholder, provided in each case that the Stockholder informs the Person receiving the information that such information is confidential and such Person agrees in writing to abide by the terms of this Section 4.3. Neither the Stockholder nor any of its Affiliates (other than the Company, whose actions shall be governed by the Merger Agreement), shall issue or cause the publication of any press release or other public announcement with respect to this Agreement, the Merger, the Merger Agreement or the other transactions contemplated hereby or thereby without the prior written consent of the Company and Parent, except as may be required by applicable Law in which circumstance such announcing party shall make reasonable efforts to consult with the Company and Parent to the extent practicable. The Company is an intended third-party beneficiary of this Section 4.3.

4.4. Amendments and Waivers. Any provision of this Agreement may be amended or waived if such amendment or waiver is in writing and is signed, in the case of an amendment, by each party to this Agreement, or in the case of a waiver, by the party against whom the waiver is to be effective. No failure or delay by either party in exercising any right, power or privilege hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof nor shall any single or partial exercise thereof preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right, power or privilege.

4.5. Binding Effect; Benefit; Assignment. The provisions of this Agreement shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns. Except as set forth in Section 1.3 and Section 4.3, no provision of this Agreement is intended to confer any rights, benefits, remedies, obligations or liabilities hereunder upon any Person other than the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns. Neither party may assign, delegate or otherwise transfer any of its rights or obligations under this Agreement without the consent of the other party hereto, except that Parent may transfer or assign its rights and obligations under this Agreement, in whole or from time to time in part, to one or more of its Affiliates at any time; provided that such transfer or assignment shall not relieve Parent of any of its obligations hereunder; provided, however, that the Stockholder may transfer the Company Shares to stockholders, direct or indirect affiliates (within the meaning set forth in Rule 405 under the Securities Act), current or former partners (general or limited), members or managers of the Stockholder, so long as the transferee agrees in writing to be bound by the terms and conditions of this Agreement and either the Stockholder or the transferee provides Parent with a copy of such Agreement promptly upon consummation of any such transfer.

4.6. Governing Law; Jurisdiction. This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of Delaware, regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under applicable principles of conflicts of laws. In any action or proceeding between any of the parties hereto arising out of or relating to this Agreement, each party hereto: (a) irrevocably and unconditionally consents and submits to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue of the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware or, to the extent such court does not have subject matter jurisdiction, the United States District Court for the District of Delaware or, to the extent that neither of the foregoing courts has jurisdiction, the Superior Court of the State of Delaware (the "Delaware Courts"); (b) agrees that all claims in respect of such action or proceeding shall be heard and determined exclusively in accordance with clause (a) of this Section 4.6; (c) waives any objection to laying venue in any such action or proceeding in such courts; (d) waives any objection that such courts are an inconvenient forum or do not have jurisdiction over any party hereto; (e) agrees that service of process upon such party in any such action or proceeding shall be effective if notice is given in accordance with Section 4.1 of this Agreement; and (f) irrevocably and unconditionally waives the right to trial by jury.

4.7. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in several counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original and all of which shall constitute one and the same instrument. The exchange of a fully executed Agreement (in counterparts or otherwise) by all parties by facsimile or electronic transmission in .PDF format shall be sufficient to bind the parties to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

4.8. Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings, both written and oral, among or between any of the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and thereof.

4.9. Severability. Any term or provision of this Agreement that is invalid or unenforceable in any situation in any jurisdiction shall not affect the validity or enforceability of the remaining terms and provisions of this Agreement or the validity or enforceability of the offending term or provision in any other situation or in any other jurisdiction. If a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction declares that any term or provision of this Agreement is invalid or unenforceable, the parties hereto agree that the court making such determination will have the power to limit such term or provision, to delete specific words or phrases or to replace such term or provision with a term or provision that is valid and enforceable and that comes closest to expressing the intention of the invalid or unenforceable term or provision, and this Agreement shall be valid and enforceable as so modified. In the event such court does not exercise the power granted to it in the prior sentence, the parties hereto agree to replace such invalid or unenforceable term or provision with a valid and enforceable term or provision that will achieve, to the extent possible, the economic, business and other purposes of such invalid or unenforceable term or provision.

4.10. Specific Performance. Any and all remedies herein expressly conferred upon a party will be deemed cumulative with and not exclusive of any other remedy conferred hereby, or by law or equity upon such party, and the exercise by a party of any one remedy will not preclude the exercise of any other remedy. The parties hereto agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached. It is accordingly agreed that the parties shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions hereof in any Delaware Court, this being in addition to any other remedy to which they are entitled at law or in equity, and each of the parties hereto waives any bond, surety or other security that might be required of any other party with respect thereto.

4.11. Construction.

(a) For purposes of this Agreement, whenever the context requires: the singular number shall include the plural, and vice versa; the masculine gender shall include the feminine and neuter genders; the feminine gender shall include the masculine and neuter genders; and the neuter gender shall include masculine and feminine genders.

(b) The parties hereto agree that any rule of construction to the effect that ambiguities are to be resolved against the drafting party shall not be applied in the construction or interpretation of this Agreement.

(c) As used in this Agreement, the words "include" and "including," and variations thereof, shall not be deemed to be terms of limitation, but rather shall be deemed to be followed by the words "without limitation."

(d) Except as otherwise indicated, all references in this Agreement to "Sections," "Articles," and "Schedules" are intended to refer to Sections or Articles of this Agreement and Schedules to this Agreement, respectively.

(e) The bold-faced headings contained in this Agreement are for convenience of reference only, shall not be deemed to be a part of this Agreement and shall not be referred to in connection with the construction or interpretation of this Agreement.

4.12. Further Assurances. Each of the parties hereto will execute and deliver, or cause to be executed and delivered, all further documents and instruments and use their respective reasonable best efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all actions and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary under applicable Law to perform their respective obligations as expressly set forth under this Agreement.

4.13. No Legal Actions. Each Stockholder will not in its capacity as a Stockholder of the Company bring, commence, institute, maintain, prosecute or voluntarily aid any Legal Proceeding which (i) challenges the validity or seeks to enjoin the operation of any provision of this Agreement or (ii) alleges that the execution and delivery of this Agreement by such Stockholder, either alone or together with the other voting agreements and proxies to be delivered in connection with the execution of the Merger Agreement, or the approval of the Merger Agreement and the Contemplated Transactions by the Company Board, constitutes a breach of any fiduciary duty of the Company Board or any member thereof.

4.14. Voluntary Execution of Agreement. This Agreement is executed voluntarily and without any duress or undue influence on the part or behalf of the parties. Each of the parties hereby acknowledges, represents and warrants that (i) it has read and fully understood the Merger Agreement, including the provisions relating to the payment and allocation of the consideration to be paid to Stockholders of the Company as well as holders of Company Options, this Agreement and the implications and consequences thereof; (ii) it has been represented in the preparation, negotiation, and execution of this Agreement by legal counsel of its own choice, or it has made a voluntary and informed decision to decline to seek such counsel; and (iii) it is fully aware of the legal and binding effect of this Agreement. The Stockholder has had an opportunity to review with its own tax advisors the tax consequences of the Contemplated Transactions. The Stockholder understands that it must rely solely on its advisors and not on any statements or representations made by Parent, the Company or any of their respective agents or representatives. The Stockholder understands that such Stockholder (and not Parent, or the Company) shall be responsible for such Stockholder's tax liability that may arise as a result of the Contemplated Transactions. The Stockholder understands and acknowledges that Parent, the Company and Merger Sub are entering into the Merger Agreement in reliance upon the Stockholder's execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement.

4.15. Fees and Expenses. Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, the Merger Agreement or any other agreement contemplated by the Merger Agreement to which a party hereto is a party, each party hereto shall bear its own expenses in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby.

4.16. Capacity as Stockholder. The Stockholder signs this Agreement solely in the Stockholder's capacity as a holder of Company Shares, and not in the Stockholder's capacity as a director, officer or employee of the Company or in the Stockholder's capacity as a trustee or fiduciary of any employee benefit plan or trust. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, nothing herein shall in any way restrict a director or officer of the Company in the exercise of his or her fiduciary duties as a director or officer of the Company or in his or her capacity as a trustee or fiduciary of any employee benefit plan or trust or prevent or be construed to create any obligation on the part of any director or officer of the Company or any trustee or fiduciary of any employee benefit plan or trust from taking any action in his or her capacity as such director, officer, trustee or fiduciary.

4.17. No Agreement Until Executed. Irrespective of negotiations among the parties or the exchanging of drafts of this Agreement, this Agreement shall not constitute or be deemed to evidence a contract, agreement, arrangement or understanding between the parties hereto unless and until (a) the Company Board has approved, for purposes of any applicable anti-takeover laws and regulations, and any applicable provision of the Company's organizational documents, the Merger, (b) the Merger Agreement is executed by all parties thereto, and (c) this Agreement is executed by all parties hereto.

Appendix I

§ 262. Appraisal rights [For application of this section, see § 17; 82 Del. Laws, c. 45, § 23; 82 Del. Laws, c. 256, § 24; and 83 Del. Laws, c. 377, § 22].

(a) Any stockholder of a corporation of this State who holds shares of stock on the date of the making of a demand pursuant to subsection (d) of this section with respect to such shares, who continuously holds such shares through the effective date of the merger, consolidation, or conversion, who has otherwise complied with subsection (d) of this section and who has neither voted in favor of the merger, consolidation or conversion nor consented thereto in writing pursuant to § 228 of this title shall be entitled to an appraisal by the Court of Chancery of the fair value of the stockholder's shares of stock under the circumstances described in subsections (b) and (c) of this section. As used in this section, the word "stockholder" means a holder of record of stock in a corporation; the words "stock" and "share" mean and include what is ordinarily meant by those words; the words "depository receipt" mean a receipt or other instrument issued by a depository representing an interest in 1 or more shares, or fractions thereof, solely of stock of a corporation, which stock is deposited with the depository; the words "beneficial owner" mean a person who is the beneficial owner of shares of stock held either in voting trust or by a nominee on behalf of such person; and the word "person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, unincorporated association or other entity.

(b) Appraisal rights shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock of a constituent or converting corporation in a merger, consolidation or conversion to be effected pursuant to § 251 (other than a merger effected pursuant to § 251(g) of this title), § 252, § 254, § 255, § 256, § 257, § 258, § 263, § 264 or § 266 of this title (other than, in each case and solely with respect to a domesticated corporation, a merger, consolidation or conversion authorized pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of § 388 of this title):

(1) Provided, however, that no appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock, which stock, or depository receipts in respect thereof, at the record date fixed to determine the stockholders entitled to receive notice of the meeting of stockholders, or at the record date fixed to determine the stockholders entitled to consent pursuant to § 228 of this title, to act upon the agreement of merger or consolidation or the resolution providing for conversion (or, in the case of a merger pursuant to § 251(h) of this title, as of immediately prior to the execution of the agreement of merger), were either: (i) listed on a national securities exchange or (ii) held of record by more than 2,000 holders; and further provided that no appraisal rights shall be available for any shares of stock of the constituent corporation surviving a merger if the merger did not require for its approval the vote of the stockholders of the surviving corporation as provided in § 251(f) of this title.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (b)(1) of this section, appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock of a constituent or converting corporation if the holders thereof are required by the terms of an agreement of merger or consolidation, or by the terms of a resolution providing for conversion, pursuant to § 251, § 252, § 254, § 255, § 256, § 257, § 258, § 263, § 264 or § 266 of this title to accept for such stock anything except:

- a. Shares of stock of the corporation surviving or resulting from such merger or consolidation, or of the converted entity if such entity is a corporation as a result of the conversion, or depository receipts in respect thereof;
- b. Shares of stock of any other corporation, or depository receipts in respect thereof, which shares of stock (or depository receipts in respect thereof) or depository receipts at the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion will be either listed on a national securities exchange or held of record by more than 2,000 holders;
- c. Cash in lieu of fractional shares or fractional depository receipts described in the foregoing paragraphs (b)(2)a. and b. of this section; or
- d. Any combination of the shares of stock, depository receipts and cash in lieu of fractional shares or fractional depository receipts described in the foregoing paragraphs (b)(2)a., b. and c. of this section.

(3) In the event all of the stock of a subsidiary Delaware corporation party to a merger effected under § 253 or § 267 of this title is not owned by the parent immediately prior to the merger, appraisal rights shall be available for the shares of the subsidiary Delaware corporation.

(4) [Repealed.]

(c) Any corporation may provide in its certificate of incorporation that appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of its stock as a result of an amendment to its certificate of incorporation, any merger or consolidation in which the corporation is a constituent corporation, the sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the corporation or a conversion effected pursuant to § 266 of this title. If the certificate of incorporation contains such a provision, the provisions of this section, including those set forth in subsections (d), (e), and (g) of this section, shall apply as nearly as is practicable.

(d) Appraisal rights shall be perfected as follows:

(1) If a proposed merger, consolidation or conversion for which appraisal rights are provided under this section is to be submitted for approval at a meeting of stockholders, the corporation, not less than 20 days prior to the meeting, shall notify each of its stockholders who was such on the record date for notice of such meeting (or such members who received notice in accordance with § 255(c) of this title) with respect to shares for which appraisal rights are available pursuant to subsection (b) or (c) of this section that appraisal rights are available for any or all of the shares of the constituent corporations or the converting corporation, and shall include in such notice either a copy of this section (and, if 1 of the constituent corporations or the converting corporation is a nonstock corporation, a copy of § 114 of this title) or information directing the stockholders to a publicly available electronic resource at which this section (and, § 114 of this title, if applicable) may be accessed without subscription or cost. Each stockholder electing to demand the appraisal of such stockholder's shares shall deliver to the corporation, before the taking of the vote on the merger, consolidation or conversion, a written demand for appraisal of such stockholder's shares; provided that a demand may be delivered to the corporation by electronic transmission if directed to an information processing system (if any) expressly designated for that purpose in such notice. Such demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs the corporation of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder intends thereby to demand the appraisal of such stockholder's shares. A proxy or vote against the merger, consolidation or conversion shall not constitute such a demand. A stockholder electing to take such action must do so by a separate written demand as herein provided. Within 10 days after the effective date of such merger, consolidation or conversion, the surviving, resulting or converted entity shall notify each stockholder of each constituent or converting corporation who has complied with this subsection and has not voted in favor of or consented to the merger, consolidation or conversion, and any beneficial owner who has demanded appraisal under paragraph (d)(3) of this section, of the date that the merger, consolidation or conversion has become effective; or

(2) If the merger, consolidation or conversion was approved pursuant to § 228, § 251(h), § 253, or § 267 of this title, then either a constituent or converting corporation before the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion, or the surviving, resulting or converted entity within 10 days after such effective date, shall notify each stockholder of any class or series of stock of such constituent or converting corporation who is entitled to appraisal rights of the approval of the merger, consolidation or conversion and that appraisal rights are available for any or all shares of such class or series of stock of such constituent or converting corporation, and shall include in such notice either a copy of this section (and, if 1 of the constituent corporations or the converting corporation is a nonstock corporation, a copy of § 114 of this title) or information directing the stockholders to a publicly available electronic resource at which this section (and § 114 of this title, if applicable) may be accessed without subscription or cost. Such notice may, and, if given on or after the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion, shall, also notify such stockholders of the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion. Any stockholder entitled to appraisal rights may, within 20 days after the date of giving such notice or, in the case of a merger approved pursuant to § 251(h) of this title, within the later of the consummation of the offer contemplated by § 251(h) of this title and 20 days after the date of giving such notice, demand in writing from the surviving or resulting entity the appraisal of such holder's shares; provided that a demand may be delivered to such entity by electronic transmission if directed to an information processing system (if any) expressly designated for that purpose in such notice. Such demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs such entity of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder intends thereby to demand the appraisal of such holder's shares. If such notice did not notify stockholders of the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion, either (i) each such constituent corporation or the converting corporation shall send a second notice before the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion notifying each of the holders of any class or series of stock of such constituent or converting corporation that are entitled to appraisal rights of the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion or (ii) the surviving, resulting or converted entity shall send such a second notice to all such holders on or within 10 days after such effective date; provided, however, that if such second notice is sent more than 20 days following the sending of the first notice or, in the case of a merger approved pursuant to § 251(h) of this title, later than the later of the consummation of the offer contemplated by § 251(h) of this title and 20 days following the sending of the first notice, such second notice need only be sent to each stockholder who is entitled to appraisal rights and who has demanded appraisal of such holder's shares in accordance with this subsection and any beneficial owner who has demanded appraisal under paragraph (d)(3) of this section. An affidavit of the secretary or assistant secretary or of the transfer agent of the corporation or entity that is required to give either notice that such notice has been given shall, in the absence of fraud, be prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein. For purposes of determining the stockholders entitled to receive either notice, each constituent corporation or the converting corporation may fix, in advance, a record date that shall be not more than 10 days prior to the date the notice is given, provided, that if the notice is given on or after the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion, the record date shall be such effective date. If no record date is fixed and the notice is given prior to the effective date, the record date shall be the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which the notice is given.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (a) of this section (but subject to this paragraph (d)(3)), a beneficial owner may, in such person's name, demand in writing an appraisal of such beneficial owner's shares in accordance with either paragraph (d)(1) or (2) of this section, as applicable; provided that (i) such beneficial owner continuously owns such shares through the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion and otherwise satisfies the requirements applicable to a stockholder under the first sentence of subsection (a) of this section and (ii) the demand made by such beneficial owner reasonably identifies the holder of record of the shares for which the demand is made, is accompanied by documentary evidence of such beneficial owner's beneficial ownership of stock and a statement that such documentary evidence is a true and correct copy of what it purports to be, and provides an address at which such beneficial owner consents to receive notices given by the surviving, resulting or converted entity hereunder and to be set forth on the verified list required by subsection (f) of this section.

(e) Within 120 days after the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion, the surviving, resulting or converted entity, or any person who has complied with subsections (a) and (d) of this section hereof and who is otherwise entitled to appraisal rights, may commence an appraisal proceeding by filing a petition in the Court of Chancery demanding a determination of the value of the stock of all such stockholders. Notwithstanding the foregoing, at any time within 60 days after the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion, any person entitled to appraisal rights who has not commenced an appraisal proceeding or joined that proceeding as a named party shall have the right to withdraw such person's demand for appraisal and to accept the terms offered upon the merger, consolidation or conversion. Within 120 days after the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion, any person who has complied with the requirements of subsections (a) and (d) of this section hereof, upon request given in writing (or by electronic transmission directed to an information processing system (if any) expressly designated for that purpose in the notice of appraisal), shall be entitled to receive from the surviving, resulting or converted entity a statement setting forth the aggregate number of shares not voted in favor of the merger, consolidation or conversion (or, in the case of a merger approved pursuant to § 251(h) of this title, the aggregate number of shares (other than any excluded stock (as defined in § 251(h)(6)d. of this title)) that were the subject of, and were not tendered into, and accepted for purchase or exchange in, the offer referred to in § 251(h)(2) of this title)), and, in either case, with respect to which demands for appraisal have been received and the aggregate number of stockholders or beneficial owners holding or owning such shares (provided that, where a beneficial owner makes a demand pursuant to paragraph (d)(3) of this section, the record holder of such shares shall not be considered a separate stockholder holding such shares for purposes of such aggregate number). Such statement shall be given to the person within 10 days after such person's request for such a statement is received by the surviving, resulting or converted entity or within 10 days after expiration of the period for delivery of demands for appraisal under subsection (d) of this section hereof, whichever is later.

(f) Upon the filing of any such petition by any person other than the surviving, resulting or converted entity, service of a copy thereof shall be made upon such entity, which shall within 20 days after such service file in the office of the Register in Chancery in which the petition was filed a duly verified list containing the names and addresses of all persons who have demanded appraisal for their shares and with whom agreements as to the value of their shares have not been reached by such entity. If the petition shall be filed by the surviving, resulting or converted entity, the petition shall be accompanied by such a duly verified list. The Register in Chancery, if so ordered by the Court, shall give notice of the time and place fixed for the hearing of such petition by registered or certified mail to the surviving, resulting or converted entity and to the persons shown on the list at the addresses therein stated. The forms of the notices by mail and by publication shall be approved by the Court, and the costs thereof shall be borne by the surviving, resulting or converted entity.

(g) At the hearing on such petition, the Court shall determine the persons who have complied with this section and who have become entitled to appraisal rights. The Court may require the persons who have demanded an appraisal for their shares and who hold stock represented by certificates to submit their certificates of stock to the Register in Chancery for notation thereon of the pendency of the appraisal proceedings; and if any person fails to comply with such direction, the Court may dismiss the proceedings as to such person. If immediately before the merger, consolidation or conversion the shares of the class or series of stock of the constituent or converting corporation as to which appraisal rights are available were listed on a national securities exchange, the Court shall dismiss the proceedings as to all holders of such shares who are otherwise entitled to appraisal rights unless (1) the total number of shares entitled to appraisal exceeds 1% of the outstanding shares of the class or series eligible for appraisal, (2) the value of the consideration provided in the merger, consolidation or conversion for such total number of shares exceeds $1 million, or (3) the merger was approved pursuant to § 253 or § 267 of this title.

(h) After the Court determines the persons entitled to an appraisal, the appraisal proceeding shall be conducted in accordance with the rules of the Court of Chancery, including any rules specifically governing appraisal proceedings. Through such proceeding the Court shall determine the fair value of the shares exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the merger, consolidation or conversion, together with interest, if any, to be paid upon the amount determined to be the fair value. In determining such fair value, the Court shall take into account all relevant factors. Unless the Court in its discretion determines otherwise for good cause shown, and except as provided in this subsection, interest from the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion through the date of payment of the judgment shall be compounded quarterly and shall accrue at 5% over the Federal Reserve discount rate (including any surcharge) as established from time to time during the period between the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion and the date of payment of the judgment. At any time before the entry of judgment in the proceedings, the surviving, resulting or converted entity may pay to each person entitled to appraisal an amount in cash, in which case interest shall accrue thereafter as provided herein only upon the sum of (1) the difference, if any, between the amount so paid and the fair value of the shares as determined by the Court, and (2) interest theretofore accrued, unless paid at that time. Upon application by the surviving, resulting or converted entity or by any person entitled to participate in the appraisal proceeding, the Court may, in its discretion, proceed to trial upon the appraisal prior to the final determination of the persons entitled to an appraisal. Any person whose name appears on the list filed by the surviving, resulting or converted entity pursuant to subsection (f) of this section may participate fully in all proceedings until it is finally determined that such person is not entitled to appraisal rights under this section.

(i) The Court shall direct the payment of the fair value of the shares, together with interest, if any, by the surviving, resulting or converted entity to the persons entitled thereto. Payment shall be so made to each such person upon such terms and conditions as the Court may order. The Court's decree may be enforced as other decrees in the Court of Chancery may be enforced, whether such surviving, resulting or converted entity be an entity of this State or of any state.

(j) The costs of the proceeding may be determined by the Court and taxed upon the parties as the Court deems equitable in the circumstances. Upon application of a person whose name appears on the list filed by the surviving, resulting or converted entity pursuant to subsection (f) of this section who participated in the proceeding and incurred expenses in connection therewith, the Court may order all or a portion of such expenses, including, without limitation, reasonable attorney's fees and the fees and expenses of experts, to be charged pro rata against the value of all the shares entitled to an appraisal not dismissed pursuant to subsection (k) of this section or subject to such an award pursuant to a reservation of jurisdiction under subsection (k) of this section.

(k) From and after the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion, no person who has demanded appraisal rights with respect to some or all of such person's shares as provided in subsection (d) of this section shall be entitled to vote such shares for any purpose or to receive payment of dividends or other distributions on such shares (except dividends or other distributions payable to stockholders of record at a date which is prior to the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion); provided, however, that if no petition for an appraisal is filed within the time provided in subsection (e) of this section, or if a person who has made a demand for an appraisal in accordance with this section shall deliver to the surviving, resulting or converted entity a written withdrawal of such person's demand for an appraisal in respect of some or all of such person's shares in accordance with subsection (e) of this section, then the right of such person to an appraisal of the shares subject to the withdrawal shall cease. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no appraisal proceeding in the Court of Chancery shall be dismissed as to any person without the approval of the Court, and such approval may be conditioned upon such terms as the Court deems just, including without limitation, a reservation of jurisdiction for any application to the Court made under subsection (j) of this section; provided, however that this provision shall not affect the right of any person who has not commenced an appraisal proceeding or joined that proceeding as a named party to withdraw such person's demand for appraisal and to accept the terms offered upon the merger, consolidation or conversion within 60 days after the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion, as set forth in subsection (e) of this section.

(l) The shares or other equity interests of the surviving, resulting or converted entity to which the shares of stock subject to appraisal under this section would have otherwise converted but for an appraisal demand made in accordance with this section shall have the status of authorized but not outstanding shares of stock or other equity interests of the surviving, resulting or converted entity, unless and until the person that has demanded appraisal is no longer entitled to appraisal pursuant to this section.

Lock-Up Agreement

March 1, 2026

Ladies and Gentlemen:

The undersigned (the “Stockholder”) understands that: (i) RALLYBIO CORPORATION, a Delaware corporation (“Parent”), has entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization, dated as of March 1, 2026 (the “Merger Agreement”), with CANDID THERAPEUTICS, INC., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), and Farmington Merger Sub, Inc., a Delaware corporation and wholly-owned subsidiary of Parent (“Merger Sub”), pursuant to which at the effective time (the “Effective Time”), Merger Sub will be merged with and into the Company (the “Merger”) and the separate corporate existence of Merger Sub shall cease and the Company will continue as the surviving corporation; and (ii) in connection with the Merger, the stockholders of the Company will receive shares of common stock, par value $0.0001 per share, of Parent (“Parent Common Stock”). Annex A sets forth definitions for certain capitalized terms used in this agreement that are not defined in the body of this agreement. Those definitions are a part of this agreement. Other capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the respective meanings ascribed to such terms in the Merger Agreement.

As a material inducement to the willingness of each of the parties to enter into the Merger Agreement and to consummate the Contemplated Transactions, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the Stockholder hereby agrees that the Stockholder will not, subject to the exceptions set forth in this letter agreement, during the period commencing upon the Effective Time and ending on the date that is 180 days after the Effective Time (the “Restricted Period”), (a) Sell or Offer to Sell, any shares of Parent Common Stock or any securities convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for Parent Common Stock, including without limitation, Parent Common Stock or such other securities which may be deemed to be beneficially owned by the Stockholder or such Stockholder’s Family Member, in accordance with the rules and regulations of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and securities of Parent which may be issued upon exercise or settlement of a stock option or other equity award (collectively, “Shares”), (b) enter into any Swap, short sale, hedge or other agreement that transfers, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of the Shares, regardless of whether any such transaction described in clause (a) or (b) above is to be settled by delivery of Parent Common Stock or such other securities, in cash or otherwise, (c) make any demand for or exercise any right with respect to the registration of any shares of Parent Common Stock or any security convertible into or exercisable or exchangeable for Parent Common Stock, or cause to be filed a registration statement, prospectus or prospectus supplement (or an amendment or supplement thereto) with respect to such registration or (d) publicly announce any intention to do any of the foregoing, in each case other than:

- (i) transfers of Shares as bona fide charitable contributions, gifts or donations;
- (ii) transfers or dispositions of Shares to any Family Member or any trust for the direct or indirect benefit of the Stockholder and/or the Family Member of the Stockholder;
- (iii) transfers or dispositions of Shares by will, other testamentary document or intestate succession to the legal representative, heir, beneficiary or a member of the Immediate family of the Stockholder;
- (iv) transfers of Shares to stockholders, direct or indirect Affiliates, current or former partners (general or limited), members or managers of the Stockholder, as applicable, or to the estates of any such stockholders, Affiliates, partners, members or managers, or to another corporation, partnership, limited liability company or other business entity that controls, is controlled by or is under common control with the Stockholder;
- (v) transfers that occur by operation of law pursuant to a court order or settlement agreement related to the distribution of assets in connection with the dissolution of a marriage or civil union;
- (vi) transfers or dispositions not involving a change in beneficial ownership;

(vii) if the Stockholder is a trust, transfers or dispositions to any beneficiary of the Stockholder or the estate of any such beneficiary;

(viii) transfers pursuant to a bona fide third party tender offer, merger, consolidation or other similar transaction made to all holders of the Parent's capital stock involving a change of control of the Parent, provided that in the event that such tender offer, merger, consolidation or other such transaction is not completed, the Shares shall remain subject to the restrictions contained in this letter agreement;

(ix) transfers of Parent Common Stock, if any, issued in connection with the Concurrent Financing; provided, that in each case of clauses (i)-(vii), (a) other than with respect to clauses (i), (iii), (iv), (v) and (vii), no filing by any party (including any donor, donee, transferor or transferee, distributor or distributee) under the Exchange Act or other public announcement shall be required or shall be made voluntarily in connection with such transfer or distribution (other than filings made in respect of involuntary transfers or dispositions or a filing on a Form 5 made after the expiration of the Restricted Period), (b) other than with respect to clause (iv), any such transfer or distribution shall not involve a disposition for value, and (c) the transferee or donee agrees in writing to be bound by the terms and conditions of this letter agreement and either the Stockholder or the transferee or donee provides Parent with a copy of such agreement promptly upon consummation of any such transfer.

Notwithstanding the restrictions imposed by this letter agreement, the Stockholder may (a) exercise or settle an option to purchase Shares or other equity award (including a net or cashless exercise of such option) and provided further, that the underlying Shares shall continue to be subject to the restrictions on transfer set forth in this letter agreement, (b) transfer Shares to Parent to cover tax withholding obligations of the Stockholder in connection with the vesting, settlement or exercise of such options or other equity awards, as applicable, (c) establish a trading plan pursuant to Rule 10b5-1 under the Exchange Act ("10b5-1 Plan") for the transfer of Shares, provided that such plan does not provide for any transfers of Shares during the Restricted Period and, provided further, that, no filing under the Exchange Act or other public announcement shall be made voluntarily in connection with the establishment of such a plan, (d) transfer Shares to Parent pursuant to arrangements under which Parent has the option to repurchase such Shares, or (e) transfer or dispose of Shares acquired on the open market following the Effective Time.

Any attempted transfer in violation of this letter agreement will be of no effect and null and void, regardless of whether the purported transferee has any actual or constructive knowledge of the transfer restrictions set forth in this letter agreement, and will not be recorded on the share register of Parent. To ensure compliance with the restrictions referred to herein, the Stockholder agrees that Parent and any duly appointed transfer agent may issue appropriate "stop transfer" certificates or instructions. Parent may cause the legend set forth below, or a legend substantially equivalent thereto, to be placed upon any certificate(s) or other documents or instruments evidencing ownership of the Shares:

THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE ARE SUBJECT TO AND MAY ONLY BE TRANSFERRED IN COMPLIANCE WITH A LOCK-UP AGREEMENT, A COPY OF WHICH IS ON FILE AT THE PRINCIPAL OFFICE OF THE COMPANY.

The Stockholder hereby represents and warrants that the Stockholder has full power and authority to enter into this letter agreement. All authority conferred or agreed to be conferred and any obligations of the Stockholder under this letter agreement will be binding upon the successors, assigns, heirs or personal representatives of the Stockholder.

In the event that any holder of Parent's securities that is subject to a substantially similar agreement entered into by such holder, other than the Stockholder, is granted a release or waiver of the foregoing restrictions by Parent with respect to any shares of Parent Common Stock for value other than as permitted by this or a substantially similar agreement entered into by such holder, the same percentage of shares of Parent Common Stock held by the Stockholder shall be immediately and fully released on the same terms from any remaining restrictions set forth herein (the “Pro-Rata Release”); provided, however, that such Pro-Rata Release shall not be applied unless and until permission has been granted by Parent, to an equity holder or equity holders to sell or otherwise transfer or dispose of all or a portion of such equity holders’ shares of Parent Common Stock in an aggregate amount in excess of 1% of the number of shares of Parent Common Stock outstanding immediately following the Effective Time; provided further that if the Stockholder is an executive officer or director of Parent and such release or waiver was conducted solely for the purpose of meeting Nasdaq’s initial listing standards, then such Stockholder shall not be entitled to such Pro-Rata Release.

Upon the release of any Shares from this letter agreement, Parent will cooperate with the Stockholder to facilitate the timely preparation and delivery of certificates or the establishment of book entry positions at the Parent’s transfer agent representing the Shares without the restrictive legend above and the withdrawal of any stop transfer instructions at the Parent’s transfer agent.

The Stockholder understands that each of Parent and the Company is relying upon this letter agreement in proceeding toward consummation of the Merger. The Stockholder further understands that this letter agreement is irrevocable and is binding upon the Stockholder’s heirs, legal representatives, successors and assigns.

This letter agreement and any claim, controversy or dispute arising under or related to this letter agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to the conflict of laws principles thereof.

The Stockholder understands that if the Merger Agreement is terminated in accordance with its terms, the Stockholder will be released from all obligations under this letter agreement.

The undersigned hereby represents that the undersigned has full power, capacity and authority to enter into this agreement. This letter agreement may be executed by electronic (i.e., PDF) transmission, which is deemed an original.

Capitalized terms not defined in this Annex A shall have the meanings given to them in the body of this agreement.

CONTINGENT VALUE RIGHTS AGREEMENT

THIS CONTINGENT VALUE RIGHTS AGREEMENT (this “Agreement”), dated as of [•] (the “Effective Date”), is entered into by and between Rallybio Corporation, a Delaware corporation (“Rallybio”), and [•], a [•], as Rights Agent (as defined herein).

RECITALS

A. Rallybio, Farmington Merger Sub, Inc., a Delaware corporation and a wholly owned Subsidiary of Rallybio (“Merger Sub”) and Candid Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), have entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization, dated as of March 1, 2026 (as it may be amended, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time pursuant to the terms thereof, the “Merger Agreement”), pursuant to which Merger Sub will merge with and into the Company (the “Merger”), with the Company surviving the Merger as a wholly owned Subsidiary of Rallybio.

B. Pursuant to the Merger Agreement, and in accordance with the terms and conditions thereof, Rallybio has agreed to provide to the Holders (as defined herein) certain contingent value rights as hereinafter described.

C. The parties to this Agreement have done all things reasonably necessary to make the contingent value rights, when issued hereunder, the valid obligations of Rallybio and to make this Agreement a valid and binding agreement of Rallybio, in accordance with its terms.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the consummation of the transactions referred to above, it is mutually covenanted and agreed, for the proportionate benefit of all Holders, as follows:

ARTICLE 1 DEFINITIONS

1.1 Definitions.

Capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein have the meanings ascribed thereto in the Merger Agreement. The following terms have the meanings ascribed to them as follows:

“Acting Holders” means, at any time, the registered Holders of more than 40% of the total number of CVRs outstanding at such time, as set forth on the CVR Register.

“Affiliate” of any particular Person means any other Person controlling, controlled by or under common control with such particular Person. For the purposes of this definition, “controlling,” “controlled” and “control” mean the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct the management and policies of a Person whether through the ownership of voting securities, contract or otherwise.

“Assignee” has the meaning set forth in Section 6.6.

“Business Day” means any day other than a Saturday, Sunday or other day on which banks in New York, New York are authorized or obligated by Law to be closed.

“CVR” means a contingent contractual right of Holders to receive the CVR Payments pursuant to this Agreement.

“CVR Payment” means a cash payment equal to 100% of the Net Proceeds actually received by Rallybio during a CVR Payment Period.

“CVR Payment Period” means an annual period (or portion thereof) beginning on the Effective Date and ending on December 31 of any given calendar year during the CVR Term; provided, that if the last CVR Payment Period would end subsequent to the expiration of the CVR Term, such CVR Payment Period will end on the Termination Date.

“CVR Register” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.2\(b\).

“CVR Term” means the period beginning on the Closing and ending on December 31, 2030.

“Disposition” means the sale, license, transfer or other disposition to a third party of any Legacy Asset by Rallybio or its Affiliates, including any sale or disposition of equity securities in any Subsidiary established by Rallybio to hold any right, title or interest in any Legacy Asset, in each case, during the Disposition Period.

“Disposition Agreement” means a definitive written agreement providing for the Disposition of all or any portion of the Legacy Assets.

“Disposition Period” means the period beginning on the Effective Date and ending on the date that is one year thereafter.

“Gross Proceeds” means, without duplication, the sum of all consideration that is received by Rallybio during the CVR Term with respect to (i) any upfront, milestone, royalty and other payments received under a Disposition Agreement and (ii) any Recursion Milestone Amounts; provided, that, for the avoidance of doubt, Gross Proceeds shall not include any amounts that are Incidental Benefits. Equity securities shall only constitute Gross Proceeds to the extent they are listed and traded on a national stock exchange, and shall have such value as quoted on such national securities exchange at the time of disposition of such equity securities.

“Holder” means, at the relevant time, a Person in whose name one or more CVRs are registered in the CVR Register.

“Holder Representative” means Stephen Uden, M.D.

“Incidental Benefits” means any amounts paid to, received or realized by Rallybio that are:

- (a) Tax attributes, Tax refunds, Tax credits, Tax deductions or other Tax benefits (including utilization of net operating losses, basis increases, amortization or depreciation deductions, or reductions in Tax liability);
 - (b) profit-share, revenue-share, or similar participation payments;
 - (c) reimbursements or payments for research, development, clinical, regulatory, manufacturing, commercialization, patent or other costs or services;
 - (d) in-kind benefits of any nature or non-cash consideration (other than equity securities listed and traded on a national stock exchange);
- and
- (e) other ancillary, indirect or incidental benefits, rights or value received in connection with or arising out of the Disposition Agreement.

“Law” means any federal, state, national, foreign, material local or municipal or other law, statute, constitution, principle of common law, resolution, ordinance, code, edict, decree, rule, regulation, ruling, or requirement issued, enacted, adopted, promulgated, implemented or otherwise put into effect by or under the authority of any governmental authority (including under the authority of Nasdaq or the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority).

“Legacy Assets” means Rallybio’s rights, assets, technology and intellectual property that were in existence immediately prior to the execution of the Merger Agreement and were used or generated prior to such execution in one or more of Rallybio’s research and development programs. For clarity, the Legacy Assets shall not include any asset, technology or intellectual property owned or controlled by the Company or its Subsidiaries prior to the Closing.

“Liability” means any liability, indebtedness, obligation, expense, claim, deficiency, guaranty or endorsement of any kind, whether accrued, absolute, contingent, matured, unmatured or otherwise.

“Loss” has the meaning set forth in Section 3.2\(g\).

“Membership Interest Purchase Agreement” means the Membership Interest Purchase Agreement, dated as of July 8, 2025, by and among Rallybio, Recursion Pharmaceuticals, Inc. and the other parties thereto.

“Net Proceeds” means, for any CVR Payment Period, Gross Proceeds minus Permitted Deductions. For clarity, to the extent Permitted Deductions exceed Gross Proceeds for any CVR Payment Period, any excess Permitted Deductions shall be applied against Gross Proceeds in subsequent CVR Payment Periods.

“Notice” has the meaning set forth in Section 6.1.

“Officer’s Certificate” means a certificate signed by the chief executive officer and the chief financial officer of Rallybio, in their respective official capacities.

“Permitted Deductions” means the sum of:

(a) any applicable Tax (including any applicable value added or sales taxes) imposed on Gross Proceeds or otherwise payable by Rallybio or any of its Affiliates (regardless of whether the due date for such Taxes arises during or after the Disposition Period), including, without duplication, any income or other similar Taxes payable by Rallybio or any of its Affiliates that would not have been incurred by Rallybio or any of its Affiliates but for the Gross Proceeds, and any applicable Tax imposed on or otherwise payable in connection with making any CVR Payment or the issuance of any CVR (including, without limitation, (i) the employer portion of any employment, payroll, or other similar Taxes in respect of CVR Payments made in respect of Parent In the Money Stock Options granted to employees or Parent restricted stock units and (ii) any withholding Taxes (including interest and penalties) relating to the issuance of a CVR or any CVR Payment); provided that, for purposes of calculating income Taxes payable by Rallybio or any of its Affiliates in respect of the Gross Proceeds, such income Taxes shall be calculated without taking into account any net operating losses or other Tax attributes generated by Rallybio or any of its Affiliates;

(b) any reasonable and documented expenses incurred by Rallybio or any of its Affiliates to preserve or ready the Legacy Assets for sale or in respect of its performance of this Agreement following the Effective Date or in respect of its performance of any Contract in connection with any Legacy Asset (in each case, to the extent such expenses are not included in the determination of the Net Cash of Rallybio in accordance with the Merger Agreement), including any damages, liabilities arising under any Contract or Disposition Agreement;

(c) any reasonable and documented expenses incurred or accrued by Rallybio or any of its Affiliates in connection with the negotiation, entry into and closing of any Disposition Agreement or the Disposition of any Legacy Asset;

(d) any Losses incurred by Rallybio or any of its Affiliates arising out of any third-party claims, demands, actions, or other proceedings relating to or in connection with any Disposition, including indemnification obligations as set forth in a claims notice received by Rallybio or any of its Affiliates pursuant to any Disposition Agreement;

(e) any Liabilities borne by Rallybio or any of its Affiliates pursuant to Contracts related to Legacy Assets, including costs arising from the termination thereof (in each case only to the extent not included in the calculation of Parent Net Cash); and

(f) any amounts payable to the Rights Agent in connection with the distribution of any CVR Payment.

“Permitted Transfer” means a transfer of CVRs (i) upon death of a Holder by will or intestacy, (ii) pursuant to a court order, (iii) by operation of law (including by consolidation or merger) or without consideration in connection with the dissolution, liquidation or termination of any corporation, limited liability company, partnership or other entity, (iv) in the case of CVRs held in book-entry or other similar nominee form, from a nominee to a beneficial owner and, if applicable, through an intermediary, or (v) as provided in Section 2.5.

“Person” means any individual, corporation, partnership, joint venture, estate, trust, company, firm, limited liability company, firm, society or other enterprise, association, organization, or any other entity not specifically listed herein, including any governmental authority.

“Pro Rata Share” means, with respect to any Holder, the quotient obtained by dividing (i) the aggregate number of CVRs held by such Holder by (ii) the aggregate number of outstanding CVRs held by all Holders, in each case, as reflected in the CVR Register.

“Recursion Milestone Amounts” means the aggregate cash payment amounts received by Rallybio from Recursion Pharmaceuticals, Inc. pursuant to Section 1.1(c) of the Membership Interest Purchase Agreement.

“Rights Agent” means the Rights Agent named in the first paragraph of this Agreement, until a successor Rights Agent shall have been appointed pursuant to Article 3 of this Agreement, and thereafter “Rights Agent” will mean such successor Rights Agent.

“Securities Act” means the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

“Payment Statement” means, for a given CVR Payment Period during the CVR Term, a written statement of Rallybio, signed on behalf of Rallybio, setting forth in reasonable detail the calculation of the applicable CVR Payment for such CVR Payment Period.

An entity shall be deemed to be a “Subsidiary” of a Person if such Person directly or indirectly owns or purports to own, beneficially or of record, (a) an amount of voting securities or other interests in such entity that is sufficient to enable such Person to elect at least a majority of the members of such entity’s board of directors or other governing body, or (b) at least 50% of the outstanding equity, voting, beneficial or financial interests in such entity.

ARTICLE 2

CONTINGENT VALUE RIGHTS

2.1 Holders of CVRs; Appointment of Rights Agent.

(a) The CVRs represent the contractual rights of Holders to receive contingent cash payment of the aggregate CVR Payments from Rallybio pursuant to this Agreement. The initial Holders shall be the holders of

(i) Parent Common Stock, (ii) Pre-Funded Warrants, (iii) Parent restricted stock units and (iv) In the Money Parent Options as of the close of business on the last Business Day prior to the day on which the Effective Time occurs (the “Record Date”). One CVR will be issued with respect to each (w) share of Parent Common Stock, (x) Pre-Funded Warrant, (y) Parent restricted stock unit and (z) In the Money Parent Option that is outstanding as of the close of business on the Record Date.

(b) Rallybio hereby appoints the Rights Agent to act as rights agent for Rallybio in accordance with the express terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, and the Rights Agent hereby accepts such appointment.

2.2 No Certificate; Registration; Registration of Transfer; Change of Address.

(a) Holders’ rights and obligations in respect of the CVRs derive solely from this Agreement. The CVRs will not be evidenced by a certificate or other instrument.

(b) The Rights Agent will create and maintain a register (the “CVR Register”) for the purposes of (i) identifying the Holders of CVRs, (ii) determining the Holders’ entitlement to CVRs and (iii) registering the CVRs and Permitted Transfers thereof. The CVR Register will be created, and CVRs will be distributed, pursuant to written instructions to the Rights Agent from Rallybio. Except for the obligations to the Rights Agent and the Holder Representative set forth herein, neither Rallybio nor its Subsidiaries will have any responsibility or liability whatsoever to any Person other than the Holders.

(c) Subject to the restrictions on transferability set forth in Section 2.6, every request made to transfer CVRs must be in writing and accompanied by a written instrument of transfer reasonably acceptable to the Rights Agent, together with the signature guarantee of a guarantor institution which is a participant in a signature guarantee program approved by the Securities Transfer Association (a “signature guarantee”) and other requested documentation in a form reasonably satisfactory to the Rights Agent, duly executed and properly completed, as applicable, by the Holder or Holders thereof, or by the duly appointed legal representative, personal representative or survivor of such Holder or Holders, setting forth in reasonable detail the circumstances relating to the transfer. Upon receipt of such written notice, the Rights Agent will, subject to its reasonable determination in accordance with its own internal procedures, that the transfer instrument is in proper form and otherwise complies on its face with the other terms and conditions of this Agreement (including the provisions in Section 2.6), register the transfer of the applicable CVRs in the CVR Register. All transfers of CVRs registered in the CVR Register will be the valid obligations of Rallybio, evidencing the same right, and entitling the transferee to the same benefits and rights under this Agreement, as those held by the transferor. Rallybio and the Rights Agent may each require payment by the applicable Holder of a sum sufficient to cover any stamp or other Tax or governmental charge that is imposed in connection with any such registration of transfer (or evidence from the applicable Holder that such Taxes and charges are not applicable). No transfer of CVRs shall be valid until registered in the CVR Register and unless such transfer would not violate the Securities Act. Any putative transfer not duly registered in the CVR Register or in violation of the Securities Act shall be void.

(d) A Holder may make a written request to the Rights Agent to change such Holder’s address of record in the CVR Register. Such written request must be duly executed by such Holder. Upon receipt of such written notice, the Rights Agent shall promptly record the change of address in the CVR Register. The Acting Holders may, without duplication, make a written request to the Rights Agent for a list containing the names, addresses and number of CVRs of the Holders that are registered in the CVR Register. Upon receipt of such written request from the Acting Holders, the Rights Agent shall promptly deliver a copy of such list to the Acting Holders.

2.3 Payment Procedures.

(a) No later than forty-five (45) days following the end of each CVR Payment Period during the CVR Term, Rallybio shall deliver to the Rights Agent a Payment Statement for such CVR Payment Period. Concurrent with the delivery of each Payment Statement, on the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Rallybio shall pay the Rights Agent in U.S. dollars an amount equal to the CVR Payment for the applicable CVR Payment Period; provided, however, that in the event that the aggregate CVR Payment on any Payment Statement shall be less than $1,000,000, no Payment Amount shall be due and instead such CVR Payment shall be added to subsequent CVR Payments until: (i) the aggregate CVR Payments shall be at least $1,000,000 or (ii) the final CVR Payment Period. Rallybio will cause an amount equal to such CVR Payment to be transferred by wire transfer of immediately available funds to an account designated in writing by the Rights Agent (for further distribution to the Holders in accordance with the terms hereof) not less than ten (10) Business Days prior to the date of the applicable payment.

(b) Upon receipt of the wire transfer referred to in Section 2.3\(a\), the Rights Agent will promptly (and in any event within ten (10) Business Days) pay, by check mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to the address of each Holder set forth in the CVR Register at such time or by other method of delivery as specified by the applicable Holder in writing to the Rights Agent, an amount in cash equal to such Holder's Pro Rata Share of the applicable CVR Payment.

(c) With respect to any Net Proceeds that are paid to Rallybio or its Affiliate, Rallybio shall have no further liability in respect of the respective CVR Payment upon delivery of the relevant funds to the Rights Agent in accordance with Section 2.3\(a\).

(d) Rallybio and the Rights Agent will be entitled to deduct and withhold, or cause to be deducted and withheld, from any amounts required to be paid or distributed under this Agreement (including any issuance of a CVR pursuant to this Agreement or any CVR Payment payable pursuant to this Agreement), such amounts as Rallybio or the Rights Agent reasonably determines it is required to deduct and withhold with respect to the making of such payment or distribution (including in respect of the distribution of CVRs) under any provision of applicable Law relating to Taxes. To the extent that amounts are so deducted and withheld pursuant to this paragraph (d), such deducted and withheld amounts will be treated for all purposes of this Agreement as having been paid or distributed to the Holder in respect of which such deduction and withholding were made. The Rights Agent will solicit from each Holder a properly completed IRS Form W-9 or the appropriate version of IRS Form W-8, as applicable, at or prior to any distribution or other payment to such Holder under this Agreement. If Rallybio or the Rights Agent fails to withhold any Tax required to be withheld pursuant to any issuance of a CVR or CVR Payment, Rallybio and the Rights Agent will be entitled to deduct and withhold, or cause to be deducted and withheld, such Taxes (including any interest and penalties) from subsequent payments with respect to the applicable CVR or, at Rallybio's option, the Holder of such applicable CVR shall promptly pay such Tax to Rallybio upon request.

(e) Any portion of a CVR Payment that remains undistributed to the Holders on the date that is six months after the Rights Agent's receipt of the applicable Payment Statement (including by means of uncashed checks or invalid addresses on the CVR Register) will be delivered by the Rights Agent to Rallybio or a Person nominated in writing by Rallybio (with written notice thereof from Rallybio to the Rights Agent), and any Holder will thereafter look only to Rallybio for payment of such CVR Payment (which shall be without interest).

(f) If any CVR Payment (or portion thereof) remains unclaimed by a Holder on the date that is one year after the Rights Agent's receipt of the applicable Payment Statement or the CVR Payment (or immediately prior to such earlier date on which such CVR Payment would otherwise escheat to or become the property of any governmental authority), then: (i) such CVR Payment (or portion thereof) will, to the extent permitted by applicable Law, become the property of Rallybio and will be transferred to Rallybio or a Person nominated in writing by Rallybio (with written notice thereof from Rallybio to the Rights Agent), free and clear of all claims or interest of any Person previously entitled thereto, and no consideration or compensation shall be payable therefor, and (ii) the CVRs to which such payment relate shall be deemed abandoned in accordance with Section 2.5 and shall no longer be deemed outstanding for any purpose (including for purposes of calculating each Holder's Pro Rata Share). Neither Rallybio nor the Rights Agent will be liable to any Person in respect of a CVR Payment delivered to a public official pursuant to any applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar legal requirement under applicable Law. In addition to and not in limitation of any other indemnity obligation herein, Rallybio agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Rights Agent with respect to any liability, penalty, cost or expense the Rights Agent may incur or be subject to in connection with transferring such property to Rallybio or a public official.

2.4 No Voting, Dividends or Interest; No Equity or Ownership Interest.

(a) CVRs will not have any voting or dividend rights, and interest will not accrue on any amounts payable in respect of CVRs.

(b) CVRs will not represent any equity or ownership interest in Rallybio or any of its Affiliates. The sole right of the Holders to receive property hereunder is the right to receive CVR Payments, if any, in accordance with the terms hereof.

(c) The CVRs and the possibility of any payment hereunder with respect thereto are highly speculative and subject to numerous factors outside of Rallybio's control, and there is no assurance that Holders will receive any payments under this Agreement or in connection with the CVRs. It is highly possible that there will not be any CVR Payments. Neither Rallybio nor its Affiliates owe, by virtue of their obligations under this Agreement, a fiduciary duty or any implied duties to the Holders and the parties hereto intend solely the express provisions of this Agreement to govern their contractual relationship with respect to the CVRs. This Section 2.4\(c\) is an essential and material term of this Agreement.

2.5 Ability to Abandon CVR. A Holder may at any time, at such Holder's option or upon the failure to claim payment under Section 2.3\(f\), abandon all of such Holder's remaining rights represented by CVRs by transferring such CVR to Rallybio or a Person nominated in writing by Rallybio (with written notice thereof from Rallybio to the Rights Agent) without consideration in compensation therefor, and such rights will be cancelled, with the Rights Agent being promptly notified in writing by Rallybio of such transfer and cancellation. No such notice to the Rights Agent shall be required in the case of abandonment due to the failure to claim payment under Section 2.3\(f\). Nothing in this Agreement is intended to prohibit Rallybio or its Affiliates from offering to acquire or acquiring CVRs, in private transactions or otherwise, for consideration in its sole discretion.

2.6 Non-transferable. The CVRs may not be sold, assigned, transferred, pledged, encumbered or in any other manner transferred or disposed of, in whole or in part, other than through a Permitted Transfer. The CVRs will not be listed on any quotation system or traded on any securities exchange. Any purported transfer of a CVR other than through a Permitted Transfer shall be null and void ab initio.

ARTICLE 3

THE RIGHTS AGENT

3.1 Certain Duties and Responsibilities.

(a) The Rights Agent will not have any liability for any actions taken or not taken in connection with this Agreement, except to the extent such liability arises as a result of the willful misconduct, bad faith, fraud or gross negligence of the Rights Agent (in each case as determined by a final non-appealable judgment of court of competent jurisdiction). Anything to the contrary notwithstanding, in no event will the Rights Agent be liable for special, punitive, indirect, incidental or consequential loss or damages of any kind whatsoever (including, without limitation, lost profits), even if the Rights Agent has been advised of the likelihood of such loss or damages, and regardless of the form of action.

(b) The Rights Agent will not have any duty or responsibility in the case of the receipt of any written demand from any Holder with respect to any action or default by any Person or entity, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, any duty or responsibility to initiate or attempt to initiate any proceedings at law or otherwise or to make any demand upon Rallybio. All rights of action under this Agreement may be enforced (but shall not be required to be enforced) by the Rights Agent, any claim, action, suit, audit, investigation or proceeding instituted by the Rights Agent will be brought in its name as the Rights Agent and any recovery in connection therewith will be for the proportionate benefit of all the Holders, as their respective rights or interests may appear on the CVR Register.

3.2 Certain Rights of Rights Agent.

(a) The Rights Agent undertakes to perform such duties and only such duties as are specifically set forth in this Agreement, and no implied covenants or obligations will be read into this Agreement against the Rights Agent.

(b) The Rights Agent may rely and will be protected by Rallybio in acting or refraining from acting upon any resolution, certificate, statement, instrument, opinion, report, notice, request, direction, consent, order or other paper or document believed by it in the absence of bad faith to be genuine and to have been signed or presented by or on behalf of Rallybio.

(c) Whenever the Rights Agent deems it desirable that a matter be proved or established prior to taking or omitting any action hereunder, the Rights Agent may (i) rely upon an Officer's Certificate and (ii), in the absence of bad faith, gross negligence, fraud or willful misconduct on its part, incur no liability and be held harmless by Rallybio for or in respect of any action taken or omitted to be taken by it under the provisions of this Agreement in reliance upon such Officer's Certificate.

(d) The Rights Agent may engage and consult with counsel of its selection, and the written advice or opinion of such counsel will, in the absence of bad faith, gross negligence, fraud or willful misconduct on the part of the Rights Agent, be full and complete authorization and protection in respect of any action taken or not taken by the Rights Agent in reliance thereon.

(e) Any permissive rights of the Rights Agent hereunder will not be construed as a duty.

(f) The Rights Agent will not be required to give any note or surety in respect of the execution of its powers or otherwise under this Agreement.

(g) Rallybio agrees to indemnify the Rights Agent for, and to hold the Rights Agent harmless from and against, any loss, liability, damage, judgment, fine, penalty, cost or expense (each, a "Loss") suffered or incurred by the Rights Agent and arising out of or in connection with the Rights Agent's performance of its obligations under this Agreement, including the reasonable and documented costs and expenses of defending the Rights Agent against any claims, charges, demands, actions or suits arising out of or in connection with the execution, acceptance, administration, exercise and performance of its duties under this Agreement, including the costs and expenses of defending against any claim of liability arising therefrom, directly or indirectly, or enforcing its rights hereunder, except to the extent such Loss has been determined by a final non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to have resulted from the Rights Agent's gross negligence, bad faith, fraud or willful misconduct; provided that this Section 3.2(g) shall not apply to (i) income, receipt, franchise or similar Taxes, (ii) any Taxes imposed due to the Rights Agent's connection with the jurisdiction imposing such Taxes (other than any connection caused solely by this Agreement or the Rights Agent performing, enforcing or receiving payments under this Agreement), or (iii) any Taxes imposed due to the failure of the Rights Agent to provide any form, document or certificate that would have reduced or eliminated the amount of withholding taxes ("Excluded Taxes").

(h) In addition to the indemnification provided under Section 3.2(g), Rallybio agrees (i) to pay the fees of the Rights Agent in connection with the Rights Agent's performance of its obligations hereunder, as agreed upon in writing by the Rights Agent and Rallybio on or prior to the date of this Agreement, and (ii) to reimburse the Rights Agent for all reasonable and properly documented out-of-pocket expenses, including all stamp and transfer Taxes (excluding any Excluded Taxes) and governmental charges, incurred by the Rights Agent in the performance of its obligations under this Agreement, except that Rallybio will have no obligation to pay the fees of the Rights Agent or reimburse the Rights Agent in connection with any lawsuit initiated by the Rights Agent on behalf of itself or the Holders, except in the case of any suit enforcing the provisions of Section 2.3(a) or Section 3.2(g), if Rallybio is found by a court of competent jurisdiction to be liable to the Rights Agent or the Holders, as applicable in such suit.

(i) No provision of this Agreement shall require the Rights Agent to expend or risk its own funds or otherwise incur any financial liability in the performance of any of its duties hereunder or in the exercise of any of its rights or powers if it believes that repayment of such funds or adequate indemnification against such risk or liability is not reasonably assured to it.

(j) The Rights Agent will not be deemed to have knowledge of any event of which it was supposed to receive notice hereunder but has not received written notice of such event, and the Rights Agent will not incur any liability for failing to take action in connection therewith, in each case, unless and until it has received such notice in writing.

(k) Subject to applicable Law, (i) the Rights Agent and any shareholder, affiliate, director, officer or employee of the Rights Agent may buy, sell or deal in any securities of Rallybio or become peculiarly interested in any transaction in which Rallybio may be interested, or contract with or lend money to Rallybio or otherwise act as fully and freely as though it were not the Rights Agent under this Agreement, and (ii) nothing herein will preclude the Rights Agent from acting in any other capacity for Rallybio or for any other Person.

(l) The Rights Agent may execute and exercise any of the rights or powers hereby vested in it or perform any duty hereunder either itself or by or through its attorney or agents and the Rights Agent shall not be answerable or accountable for any act, default, neglect or misconduct of any such attorney or agents or for any loss to Rallybio resulting from any such act, default, neglect or misconduct, absent gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct (each as determined by a final non-appealable judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction) in the selection and continued employment thereof.

(m) Rallybio shall perform, acknowledge and deliver or cause to be performed, acknowledged and delivered all such further and other acts, documents, instruments and assurances as may be reasonably required by the Rights Agent for the carrying out or performing by the Rights Agent of the provisions of this Agreement.

(n) The Rights Agent shall not be liable for or by reason of any of the statements of fact or recitals contained in this Agreement (except its countersignature thereof) or be required to verify the same, and all such statements and recitals are and shall be deemed to have been made by Rallybio only.

(o) The Rights Agent shall act hereunder solely as agent for Rallybio and shall not assume any obligations or relationship of agency or trust with any of the owners or holders of the CVRs. The Rights Agent shall not have any duty or responsibility in the case of the receipt of any written demand from any Holders with respect to any action or default by Rallybio, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, any duty or responsibility to initiate or attempt to initiate any proceedings at law or otherwise or to make any demand upon Rallybio.

(p) The Rights Agent may rely on and be fully authorized and protected in acting or failing to act upon (a) any guaranty of signature by an "eligible guarantor institution" that is a member or participant in the Securities Transfer Agents Medallion Program or other comparable "signature guarantee program" or insurance program in addition to, or in substitution for, the foregoing; or (b) any law, act, regulation or any interpretation of the same even though such law, act, or regulation may thereafter have been altered, changed, amended or repealed.

(q) The Rights Agent shall not be liable or responsible for any failure of Rallybio to comply with any of its obligations relating to any registration statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission or this Agreement, including without limitation obligations under applicable regulation or law.

(r) The obligations of Rallybio under this Section 3.2 shall survive the expiration of the CVRs and the termination of this Agreement and the resignation, replacement or removal of the Rights Agent.

3.3 Resignation and Removal; Appointment of Successor.

(a) The Rights Agent may resign at any time by written notice to Rallybio. Any such resignation notice shall specify the date on which such resignation will take effect (which shall be at least thirty (30) days following the date that such resignation notice is delivered), and such resignation will be effective on the earlier of (x) the date so specified and (y) the appointment of a successor Rights Agent.

(b) Rallybio will have the right to remove the Rights Agent at any time by written notice to the Rights Agent, specifying the date on which such removal will take effect. Such notice will be given at least thirty (30) days prior to the date so specified (or, if earlier, the appointment of the successor Rights Agent).

(c) If the Rights Agent resigns, is removed or becomes incapable of acting, Rallybio will promptly appoint a qualified successor Rights Agent. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if Rallybio fails to make such appointment within a period of thirty (30) days after giving notice of such removal or after it has been notified in writing of such resignation or incapacity by the resigning or incapacitated Rights Agent, then the incumbent Rights Agent may apply to any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a new Rights Agent. The successor Rights Agent so appointed will, upon its acceptance of such appointment in accordance with this Section 3.3\(c\) and Section 3.4, become the Rights Agent for all purposes hereunder.

(d) Rallybio will give notice to the Holders of each resignation or removal of the Rights Agent and each appointment of a successor Rights Agent in accordance with Section 6.2. Each notice will include the name and address of the successor Rights Agent. If Rallybio fails to send such notice within ten (10) Business Days after acceptance of appointment by a successor Rights Agent, the successor Rights Agent will cause the notice to be mailed at the expense of Rallybio.

(e) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section 3.3, unless consented to in writing by the Acting Holders, Rallybio will not appoint as a successor Rights Agent any Person that is not a stock transfer agent of national reputation or the corporate trust department of a commercial bank.

(f) The Rights Agent will reasonably cooperate with Rallybio and any successor Rights Agent in connection with the transition of the duties and responsibilities of the Rights Agent to the successor Rights Agent, including the transfer of all relevant data, including the CVR Register, to the successor Rights Agent; but such predecessor Rights Agent shall not be required to make any additional expenditure or assume any additional liability in connection with the foregoing.

3.4 Acceptance of Appointment by Successor. Every successor Rights Agent appointed hereunder will, at or prior to such appointment, execute, acknowledge and deliver to Rallybio and to the resigning or removed Rights Agent an instrument accepting such appointment and a counterpart of this Agreement, and such successor Rights Agent, without any further act, deed or conveyance, will become vested with all the rights, powers, trusts and duties of the Rights Agent; provided, that upon the request of Rallybio or the successor Rights Agent, such resigning or removed Rights Agent will execute and deliver an instrument transferring to such successor Rights Agent all the rights, powers and trusts of such resigning or removed Rights Agent.

ARTICLE 4 COVENANTS

4.1 Efforts. During the Disposition Period, Rallybio shall use commercially reasonable efforts to effect the Disposition of the Legacy Assets, if any, pursuant to one or more Disposition Agreements.

4.2 List of Holders. Rallybio will furnish or cause to be furnished to the Rights Agent, in such form as Rallybio receives from its transfer agent (or other agent performing similar services for Rallybio), the names and addresses of the Holders within thirty (30) days following the Closing Date.

4.3 Prohibited Actions. Unless approved by the Holder Representative, Rallybio shall not grant any lien, security interest, pledge or similar interest in: (a) any CVR Payments, or (b) any Legacy Assets during the Disposition Period, other than (i) pursuant to the terms of a Disposition Agreement or (ii) any such interest generally granted with respect to all assets of Rallybio and not specific to any of the Legacy Assets, and which do not prohibit the ability of Rallybio to complete a Disposition and, in connection therewith, to deliver title to the Legacy Assets to the purchaser thereof, free and clear of such interest.

4.4 Audit Rights. Until the Termination Date and for a period of one year thereafter, Rallybio shall keep, and shall require its Affiliates to keep, complete and accurate books and records that may be necessary for the purpose of calculating the CVR Payments payable under this Agreement. At the request of the Acting Holders, the Holder Representative shall have the right to appoint an independent accounting firm to perform, on behalf of all Holders, an inspection of such books and records for the sole purpose of determining the CVR Payments payable hereunder, subject to the prior execution and delivery of a reasonable confidentiality agreement by such accounting firm. Upon at least ten (10) Business Days' prior written notice from the Holder Representative, such audit shall be conducted during regular business hours in such a manner as to not unnecessarily interfere with Rallybio's normal business activities. Such audit shall not be performed more frequently than once per calendar year. If the audit reveals an overpayment, Rallybio shall be entitled to withhold such amount from future payments of CVR Payments. If the audit reveals an underpayment, Rallybio shall promptly (and in any event within thirty (30) days) remit such amount to the Rights Agent for distribution to the Holders. Rallybio shall pay the audit costs if the audit reveals an underpayment; otherwise, the Acting Holders requesting the audit shall bear such audit expenses.

ARTICLE 5 AMENDMENTS

5.1 Amendments Without Consent of Holders or Rights Agent.

(a) Rallybio, at any time and from time to time, may enter into one or more amendments to this Agreement for any of the following purposes, without the consent of any of the Holders or the Rights Agent (subject to Section 5.3), provided, that if any such amendment(s) (individually or the aggregate) impairs or adversely affects the rights of the Holders hereunder, such amendment shall also require the prior written consent of the Holders in accordance with Section 5.2:

(i) to evidence the appointment of another Person as a successor Rights Agent and the assumption by any successor Rights Agent of the covenants and obligations of the Rights Agent herein in accordance with the provisions hereof;

(ii) to evidence the succession of another Person to Rallybio and the assumption of any such successor of the covenants of Rallybio outlined herein in a transaction contemplated by Section 6.6;

(iii) to add to the covenants of Rallybio such further covenants, restrictions, conditions or provisions for the protection and benefit of the Holders; provided, that in each case, such provisions shall not adversely affect the interests of the Holders;

(iv) to cure any ambiguity, to correct or supplement any provision in this Agreement that may be defective or inconsistent with any other provision in this Agreement, or to make any other provisions with respect to matters or questions arising under this Agreement; provided, that in each case, such provisions shall not adversely affect the interests of the Holders;

(v) as may be necessary to ensure that CVRs are not subject to registration under the Securities Act or the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the rules and regulations made thereunder, or any applicable state securities or “blue sky” laws;

(vi) as may be necessary to ensure that Rallybio is not required to produce a prospectus or an admission document in order to comply with applicable Law;

(vii) to cancel CVRs (i) in the event that any Holder has abandoned its rights in accordance with Section 2.5 or (ii) following a transfer of such CVRs to Rallybio or its Affiliates in accordance with Section 2.2 and Section 2.6;

(viii) as may be necessary to ensure that Rallybio complies with applicable Law; or

(ix) to effect any other amendment to this Agreement that would provide any additional rights or benefits to the Holders or that does not adversely affect the legal rights under this Agreement of any such Holder.

(b) Promptly after the execution by Rallybio of any amendment pursuant to this Section 5.1, Rallybio will (or will cause the Rights Agent to) notify the Holders in general terms of the substance of such amendment in accordance with Section 6.2.

5.2 Amendments with Consent of Holders.

(a) In addition to any amendments to this Agreement that may be made by Rallybio without the consent of any Holder or the Rights Agent pursuant to Section 5.1, with the consent of the Acting Holders, Rallybio and the Rights Agent may enter into one or more amendments to this Agreement for the purpose of adding, eliminating or amending any provisions of this Agreement, even if such addition, elimination or amendment is adverse to the interests of the Holders.

(b) Promptly after the execution by Rallybio and the Rights Agent of any amendment pursuant to the provisions of this Section 5.2, Rallybio will (or will cause the Rights Agent to) notify the Holders in general terms of the substance of such amendment in accordance with Section 6.2.

5.3 Effect of Amendments. Upon the execution of any amendment under this Article 5, this Agreement will be modified in accordance therewith, such amendment will form a part of this Agreement for all purposes and every Holder will be bound thereby. Upon the delivery of a certificate from an appropriate officer of Rallybio which states that the proposed supplement or amendment is in compliance with the terms of this Article 5, the Rights Agent shall execute such supplement or amendment. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the Rights Agent shall not be required to execute any supplement or amendment to this Agreement that it has determined would adversely affect its own rights, duties, obligations or immunities under this Agreement. No supplement, amendment or other modification to this Agreement shall be effective unless duly executed by the Rights Agent.

MISCELLANEOUS

6.1 Notices to Rights Agent and to Rallybio. All notices, requests and other communications (each, a “Notice”) to any party hereunder shall be in writing and delivered personally, by FedEx or other internationally recognized overnight courier service or, except with respect to any Notice from any Holder, by email. Such Notice shall be deemed given (a) on the date of delivery, if delivered in person or by e-mail (upon confirmation of receipt) prior to 5:00 p.m. in the time zone of the receiving party or on the next Business Day, if delivered after 5:00 p.m. in the time zone of the receiving party or (b) on the first Business Day following the date of dispatch, if delivered by FedEx or by other internationally recognized overnight courier service (upon proof of delivery), addressed as follows:

if to the Rights Agent, to:

Attention: [•]

if to Rallybio, to:

Attention: [•]

or to such other address as such party may hereafter specify for the purpose by notice to the other parties hereto.

6.2 Notice to Holders. All Notices required to be given to the Holders will be given (unless otherwise herein expressly provided) in writing and mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to each Holder at such Holder's address as set forth in the CVR Register, not later than the latest date, and not earlier than the earliest date, prescribed for the sending of such Notice, if any, and will be deemed given on the date of mailing. In any case where notice to the Holders is given by mail, neither the failure to mail such Notice, nor any defect in any Notice so mailed, to any particular Holder will affect the sufficiency of such Notice with respect to other Holders.

6.3 Entire Agreement. As between Rallybio and the Rights Agent, this Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement, notwithstanding the reference to any other agreement herein, and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings, both written and oral, among or between any of the parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement.

6.4 Successor Substituted. Upon any consolidation of or merger by Rallybio with or into any other Person, or any conveyance, transfer or lease of substantially all of the properties and assets of Rallybio to any Person, the surviving Person or acquiring Person (as applicable) shall succeed to, and be substituted for, and may exercise every right and power of, and shall assume all of the obligations of Rallybio under this Agreement with the same effect as if such Person had been named as Rallybio herein.

6.5 Merger or Consolidation or Change of Name of Rights Agent. Any Person into which the Rights Agent or any successor Rights Agent may be merged or with which it may be consolidated, or Person resulting from any merger or consolidation to which the Rights Agent or any successor Rights Agent shall be a party, or any Person succeeding to the stock transfer or other shareholder services business of the Rights Agent or any successor Rights Agent, shall be the successor to the Rights Agent under this Agreement without the execution or filing of any paper or any further act on the part of any of the parties hereto, provided, that such Person would be eligible for appointment as a successor Rights Agent under the provisions of Section 3.3. The purchase of all or substantially all of the Rights Agent's assets employed in the performance of transfer agent activities shall be deemed a merger or consolidation for purposes of this Section 6.5.

6.6 Successors and Assigns. This Agreement will be binding upon, and will be enforceable by and inure solely to the benefit of, the Holders, Rallybio and the Rights Agent and their respective successors and assigns.

Except for assignments to its Affiliates and as provided in Section 6.5, the Rights Agent may not assign this Agreement without Rallybio's prior written consent. Subject to Section 5.1\(a\)\(ii\) and Section 6.4 hereof, Rallybio may assign, in its sole discretion and without the consent of any other party, any or all of its rights, interests and obligations hereunder to one or more of its Affiliates or to any Person with whom Rallybio is merged or consolidated, or any entity resulting from any merger or consolidation to which Rallybio shall be a party (each, an "Assignee"); provided, however, that in connection with any assignment to an Assignee, Rallybio shall agree to remain liable for the performance by Rallybio of its obligations hereunder (to the extent Rallybio exists following such assignment). Rallybio or an Assignee may not otherwise assign this Agreement without the prior consent of the Acting Holders (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed). Any attempted assignment of this Agreement in violation of this Section 6.6 will be void ab initio and of no effect.

6.7 Benefits of Agreement; Action by Acting Holders. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, will give to any Person (other than Rallybio, the Rights Agent, the Holder Representative, the Holders and their respective permitted successors and assigns hereunder) any benefit or any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under this Agreement or under any covenant or provision herein contained, all such covenants and provisions being for the sole benefit of Rallybio, the Rights Agent, the Holders and their permitted successors and assigns. The Holders are intended third-party beneficiaries under this Agreement, but will have no rights hereunder except as are expressly set forth herein. Except for the rights of the Rights Agent set forth herein, the Acting Holders will have the sole right, on behalf of all Holders, by virtue of or under any provision of this Agreement, to institute any action or proceeding at law or in equity with respect to the performance of this Agreement by Rallybio, and no individual Holder or other group of Holders will be entitled to exercise such rights.

6.8 Governing Law. This Agreement and the CVRs will be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the Laws of the State of Delaware, (without giving effect to any rule or principle that would result in application of the law of any other jurisdiction) and for all purposes shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of such State applicable to contracts to be made and performed entirely within such State.

6.9 Jurisdiction. In any action or proceeding between any of the parties hereto arising out of or relating to this Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated hereby, each of the parties hereto: (a) irrevocably and unconditionally consents and submits to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue of the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware, or, if under applicable Law exclusive jurisdiction is vested in the Federal courts, the United States District Court for the District of Delaware (and appellate courts thereof); (b) agrees that all claims in respect of such action or proceeding shall be heard and determined exclusively in accordance with clause (a) of this Section 6.9; (c) waives any objection to laying venue in any such action or proceeding in such courts; (d) waives any objection that such courts are an inconvenient forum or do not have jurisdiction over any party; and (e) agrees that service of process upon such party in any such action or proceeding shall be effective if notice is given in accordance with Section 6.1 or Section 6.2 of this Agreement.

6.10 Waiver of Jury Trial. Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably waives any and all right to trial by jury in any legal proceeding arising out of or related to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby. Each party certifies and acknowledges that (i) no representative, agent or attorney of any other party has represented, expressly or otherwise, that such other party would not, in the event of litigation, seek to enforce the foregoing waiver, (ii) each party understands and has considered the implication of this waiver, (iii) each party makes this waiver voluntarily, and (iv) each party has been induced to enter into this agreement by, among other things, the mutual waivers and certifications in this Section 6.10.

6.11 Severability Clause. In the event that any provision of this Agreement, or the application of any such provision to any Person or set of circumstances, is for any reason determined to be invalid, unlawful, void or unenforceable to any extent, the remainder of this Agreement, and the application of such provision to Persons or circumstances other than those as to which it is determined to be invalid, unlawful, void or unenforceable, will not be impaired or otherwise affected and will continue to be valid and enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by applicable Law. Upon such a determination, the parties hereto will negotiate in good faith to modify this Agreement so as to effect the original intent of the parties as closely as possible in a mutually acceptable manner in order that the transactions contemplated hereby be consummated as originally contemplated to the fullest extent possible; provided, however, that if an excluded provision shall affect the rights, immunities, liabilities, duties or obligations of the Rights Agent, the Rights Agent shall be entitled to resign immediately upon written notice to Rallybio.

6.12 Counterparts; Effectiveness. This Agreement may be signed in any number of counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original, with the same effect as if the signatures thereto and hereto were upon the same instrument. This Agreement or any counterpart may be executed and delivered by facsimile copies or delivered by electronic communications by portable document format (.pdf), each of which shall be deemed an original. This Agreement will become effective when each party hereto will have received a counterpart hereof signed by the other party hereto. Until and unless each party has received a counterpart hereof signed by the other party hereto, this Agreement will have no effect and no party will have any right or obligation hereunder (whether by virtue of any oral or written agreement or any other communication).

6.13 Termination. This Agreement will automatically terminate and be of no further force or effect and, except as provided in Section 3.2, the parties hereto will have no further liability hereunder, and the CVRs will expire without any consideration or compensation therefor upon the earliest to occur of: (a) the expiration of the CVR Term, (b) the expiration of all payment obligations to Rallybio under the Disposition Agreements and/or the Membership Interest Purchase Agreement, and (c) the delivery of a written notice of termination duly executed by Rallybio and the Holder Representative (such date, the “Termination Date”). The termination of this Agreement will not affect or limit the right of Holders to receive the CVR Payments under Section 2.3\(a\) to the extent earned prior to the termination of this Agreement, and the provisions applicable thereto will survive the expiration or termination of this Agreement.

6.14 Force Majeure. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, none of the Rights Agent, Rallybio or any of its Subsidiaries (except as it relates to the obligations of Rallybio under Article 3) will be liable for any delays or failures in performance resulting from acts beyond its reasonable control including acts of God, terrorist acts, shortage of supply, breakdowns or malfunctions, interruptions or malfunctions of computer facilities, or loss of data due to power failures or mechanical difficulties with information storage or retrieval systems, labor difficulties, war or civil unrest.

6.15 Construction.

(a) As used in this Agreement, the words “include” and “including,” and variations thereof, will not be deemed to be terms of limitation, but rather will be deemed to be followed by the words “without limitation.”

(b) The headings contained in this Agreement are for convenience of reference only, will not be deemed to be a part of this Agreement and will not be referred to in connection with the construction or interpretation of this Agreement.

(c) Any reference in this Agreement to a date or time shall be deemed to be such date or time in New York City, United States, unless otherwise specified. The parties hereto have participated jointly in the negotiation and drafting of this Agreement. In the event an ambiguity or question of intent or interpretation arises, this Agreement shall be construed as if drafted jointly by the parties and no presumption or burden of proof shall arise favoring or disfavoring any Person by virtue of the authorship of any provision of this Agreement.

SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT

THIS SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT (this “Agreement”) is made and entered into as of March 1, 2026 (the “Effective Date”) by and among Candid Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), and each of the purchasers listed on the signature pages hereto, severally and not jointly (each a “Purchaser” and together the “Purchasers”). Certain terms used and not otherwise defined in the text of this Agreement are defined in Section 7 hereof.

RECITALS

WHEREAS, the Company is party to that certain Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization by and among the Company, Farmington Merger Sub, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“Merger Sub”), and Rallybio Corporation, a Delaware corporation (“Parent”), dated on or about the date hereof (the “Merger Agreement”), pursuant to which the Company will merge with and into Merger Sub and become a wholly-owned subsidiary of Parent (the “Merger”);

WHEREAS, the Company desires to sell to the Purchasers, and the Purchasers, severally and not jointly, desire to purchase from the Company, an aggregate amount equal to $505,508,000 of shares of the Company’s Common Stock, par value $0.0001 per share (the “Common Stock”) in accordance with the terms and provisions of this Agreement, immediately prior to, but subject to, the closing of the Merger; and

WHEREAS, the Company and each Purchaser is executing and delivering this Agreement in reliance upon the exemption from securities registration afforded by Section 4(a)(2) of the 1933 Act and Rule 506 of Regulation D promulgated under the 1933 Act.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and the mutual representations, warranties and covenants herein contained, the parties hereto hereby agree as follows:

SECTION 1. Authorization of Securities.

1.01 The Company has authorized the sale and issuance of shares of Common Stock on the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement. The shares of Common Stock sold hereunder at the Closing (as defined below) shall be referred to as the “Shares” or “Securities”.

SECTION 2. Sale and Purchase of the Securities.

2.01 Upon the terms and subject to the conditions contained herein, the Company agrees to sell and issue to each Purchaser, and each Purchaser agrees, severally and not jointly, to purchase from the Company, at a closing to take place remotely via exchange of executed documents (the “Closing” and the date of the Closing, the “Closing Date”) to occur immediately prior to the Effective Time (as such term is defined in the Merger Agreement), that number of Shares (the “Closing Shares”) equal to (rounded down to the nearest whole Share) (i) the aggregate commitment amount set forth under the heading “Commitment Amount” and opposite such Purchaser’s name on the Schedule of Purchasers set forth on Schedule I (the “Commitment Amount”) divided by (ii) the Purchase Price.

2.02 At or prior to the Closing, each Purchaser will pay the aggregate subscription amount equal to the product of (A) the aggregate Closing Shares purchased under Section 2.01, multiplied by (B) the Purchase Price (the “Subscription Amount”) by wire transfer of immediately available funds (a “Wire”) in accordance with wire instructions provided by the Company to the Purchasers at least five (5) Business Days prior to the Closing (the “Wire Instructions Notice”); provided, for the avoidance of doubt, that no Purchaser shall be required to fund prior to the date on which the conditions to the Purchaser’s obligations set forth in Section 6.01 below are satisfied (other than those conditions which, by their nature, are to be satisfied at the closing of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement and the Closing). If so requested by the Company in the Wire Instructions Notice and agreed by the applicable Purchaser, the Subscription Amount of each Purchaser shall be paid into an escrow fund or trust account designated by the Company in writing (the “Escrow Account”) to be released to the Company only upon satisfaction of each of the closing conditions set forth in Section 6 below. In the event the Closing does not occur within three (3) Business Days of the Closing Date specified in the Wire Instructions Notice, unless otherwise agreed by the Company and such Purchaser, the Company shall, or shall cause the escrow agent for the Escrow Account to, promptly (but not later than two (2) Business Days thereafter) return the aggregate Purchase Price to such Purchaser by wire transfer of U.S. dollars in immediately available funds to the account specified by such Purchaser. On the Closing Date, the Company will deliver, against payment by each Purchaser of its Subscription Amount, the Closing Shares in book-entry form, free and clear of all restrictive and other legends (except as expressly provided in Section 3.10 hereof), and shall provide evidence of such issuance from the Company’s transfer agent as of the Closing Date to each Purchaser. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, (i) each Purchaser acknowledges that, as may be agreed among the Company and one or more Purchasers, such Purchasers may not be required to fund their respective Subscription Amounts until such Purchasers receive evidence of the issuance of the Closing Shares to such Purchaser (or its nominee in accordance with its delivery instructions) in form and substance reasonably acceptable to such Purchaser and such Purchasers shall not be required to fund their respective Subscription Amounts into the Escrow Account and (ii) the Schedule of Purchasers may be amended by the Company and the affected Purchaser up to three (3) Business Days prior to the Closing, without the consent of the other parties hereto, to reflect the Subscription Amount paid by each Purchaser at the Closing and the actual number of Shares purchased by each Purchaser at the Closing, provided that the Company shall provide to Purchasers such updated Schedule of Purchasers. For the avoidance of doubt, an amendment to this Agreement after the Effective Date allowing for the sale of additional Securities (“Additional Securities”) to one or more Persons (whether or not an existing Purchaser) shall only require the approval of the Company and the Purchaser Majority; provided that the price paid for such Additional Securities is equal to or greater than the Purchase Price. Subsequent to Closing, upon request of a Purchaser, the Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to deliver, or cause to be delivered, to Purchaser within two (2) Business Days of such request a book-entry statement of account from Parent’s transfer agent reflecting the issuance of shares of Parent Common Stock (as defined in the Merger Agreement) received in the Merger in exchange for the Shares.

SECTION 3. Representations and Warranties of the Purchasers. Each Purchaser, severally and not jointly, represents and warrants to the Company that:

3.01 Organization. The Purchaser is duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the jurisdiction of its organization and has the requisite power and authority to own, lease and operate its properties and to carry on its business as now conducted.

3.02 Validity. The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the consummation by the Purchaser of the transactions contemplated hereby have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate, partnership, limited liability or similar actions, as applicable, on the part of such Purchaser. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Purchaser and, assuming that this Agreement constitutes the valid and binding obligation of the Company, constitutes a valid and binding obligation of the Purchaser, enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, except as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance, and any other laws of general application affecting enforcement of creditors’ rights generally, and as limited by laws relating to the availability of specific performance, injunctive relief, or other equitable remedies.

3.03 No Conflicts. The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by the Purchaser, the purchase of the Securities in accordance with their terms and the consummation by the Purchaser of the other transactions contemplated hereby will not conflict with or result in any violation of, breach or default by such Purchaser (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) under, conflict with, or give rise to a right of termination, cancellation or acceleration of any obligation, a change of control right or to a loss of a material benefit under (i) any provision of the organizational documents of the Purchaser, including, without limitation, its incorporation or formation papers, bylaws, indenture of trust or partnership or operating agreement, as may be applicable or (ii) any agreement or instrument, undertaking, credit facility, franchise, license, judgment, order, ruling, statute, law, ordinance, rule or regulations, applicable to such Purchaser or its respective properties or assets, except, in the case of clause (ii), as would not, individually or in the aggregate, be reasonably expected to materially delay or hinder the ability of the Purchaser to perform its obligations under this Agreement.

3.04 Brokers. There is no broker, investment banker, financial advisor, finder or other person which has been retained by the Purchaser who is entitled to any fee or commission for which the Company will be liable in connection with the execution of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby.

3.05 Investment Representations and Warranties. The Purchaser hereby represents and warrants that, it (i) as of the date of this Agreement is a “qualified institutional buyer” (as defined in Rule 144A under the 1933 Act) or an institutional “accredited investor” as that term is defined in Rule 501(a) under Regulation D promulgated pursuant to the 1933 Act; or (ii) if an individual, is an “accredited investor” as that term is defined in Rule 501(a) of Regulation D of the 1933 Act and has such knowledge and experience in financial and business matters as to be able to protect its own interests in connection with an investment in the Securities. The Purchaser further represents and warrants that (x) it is capable of evaluating the merits and risk of such investment, and (y) that it has not been organized for the purpose of acquiring the Securities and is an “institutional account” as defined by FINRA Rule 4512(c). The Purchaser understands and agrees that the offering and sale of the Securities has not been registered under the 1933 Act or any applicable state securities laws and is being made in reliance upon federal and state exemptions for transactions not involving a public offering which depend upon, among other things, the bona fide nature of the investment intent and the accuracy of the Purchaser’s representations as expressed herein.

3.06 Acquisition for Own Account. The Purchaser is acquiring the Securities for its own account for investment and not with a view towards distribution in a manner which would violate the 1933 Act or any applicable state or other securities laws. The Purchaser has not been formed for the specific purpose of acquiring the Securities, to the extent such fact is required for the purposes of qualifying as an accredited investor.

3.07 No General Solicitation. The Purchaser is not purchasing the Securities as a result of any advertisement, article, notice or other communication regarding the Securities published in any newspaper, magazine or similar media or broadcast over television, radio or the internet or presented at any seminar or any other general solicitation or general advertisement. The purchase of the Securities by the Purchaser has not been solicited by or through anyone other than the Company or, on the Company’s behalf, by Jefferies LLC, BofA Securities, Inc., TD Securities (USA), LLC, or Cantor Fitzgerald & Co. (collectively, the “Placement Agents”), who have been engaged as joint placement agents for the offering of the Securities.

3.08 Ability to Protect Its Own Interests and Bear Economic Risks. The Purchaser is a sophisticated institutional investor, has the capacity to protect its own interests in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, and has sufficient knowledge and experience in investing in investments similar to the Securities to properly evaluate the merits and risks of the investment in the Securities. The Purchaser is able to bear the economic and other risks of an investment in the Securities including but not limited to loss of the Purchaser’s entire investment therein.

3.09 Disqualification Event. To the extent the Purchaser is one of the covered persons identified in Rule 506(d)(1), the Purchaser represents that no disqualifying event described in Rule 506(d)(1)(i-viii) of the 1933 Act (a “Disqualification Event”) is applicable to the Purchaser or any of its Rule 506(d) Related Parties (as defined below), except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d) (3) is applicable. The Purchaser hereby agrees that it shall notify the Company promptly in writing in the event a Disqualification Event becomes applicable to the Purchaser or any of its Rule 506(d) Related Parties, except, if applicable, for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) or (iii) or (d)(3) is applicable. For purposes of this Section, “Rule 506(d) Related Party” means a person or entity that is a beneficial owner of the Purchaser’s securities for purposes of Rule 506(d) of the 1933 Act.

3.10 Restricted Securities. Such Purchaser acknowledges and agrees that the Securities are being offered in a transaction not involving any public offering within the meaning of the 1933 Act, and such Purchaser understands that the Securities have not been registered under the 1933 Act, by reason of their issuance by the Company in a transaction exempt from the registration requirements of the 1933 Act, and that the Securities must continue to be held and may not be offered, resold, transferred, pledged or otherwise disposed of by such Purchaser unless a subsequent disposition thereof is registered under the 1933 Act or is exempt from such registration and in each case in accordance with any applicable securities laws of any state of the United States. Such Purchaser understands that the exemptions from registration afforded by Rule 144 (the provisions of which are known to it) promulgated under the 1933 Act depend on the satisfaction of various conditions including, but not limited to, the time and manner of sale, the holding period and on requirements relating to the Company which are outside of such Purchaser’s control and which the Company may not be able to satisfy, and that, if applicable, Rule 144 may afford the basis for sales only in limited amounts. Such Purchaser acknowledges and agrees that it has been advised to consult legal counsel prior to making any offer, resale, transfer, pledge or disposition of any of the Securities. Such Purchaser acknowledges that no federal or state agency has passed upon or endorsed the merits of the offering of the Securities or made any findings or determination as to the fairness of this investment.

Each Purchaser understands that any certificates or book entry notations evidencing the Securities may bear one or more legends in substantially the following form and substance:

“THE SECURITIES REPRESENTED HEREBY HAVE NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE “SECURITIES ACT”), OR THE SECURITIES LAWS OF ANY STATE OF THE UNITED STATES. THE SECURITIES HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED FOR INVESTMENT AND MAY NOT BE SOLD, TRANSFERRED OR ASSIGNED UNLESS (I) SUCH SECURITIES HAVE BEEN REGISTERED FOR SALE PURSUANT TO THE SECURITIES ACT, (II) SUCH SECURITIES MAY BE SOLD PURSUANT TO RULE 144, (III) THE COMPANY HAS RECEIVED AN OPINION OF COUNSEL REASONABLY SATISFACTORY TO IT THAT SUCH TRANSFER MAY LAWFULLY BE MADE WITHOUT REGISTRATION UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT, OR (IV) THE SECURITIES ARE TRANSFERRED WITHOUT CONSIDERATION TO AN AFFILIATE OF SUCH HOLDER OR A CUSTODIAL NOMINEE (WHICH FOR THE AVOIDANCE OF DOUBT SHALL REQUIRE NEITHER CONSENT NOR THE DELIVERY OF AN OPINION). NOTWITHSTANDING THE FOREGOING, THE SECURITIES MAY BE PLEDGED IN CONNECTION WITH A BONA FIDE MARGIN ACCOUNT OR OTHER LOAN OR FINANCING ARRANGEMENT SECURED BY THE SECURITIES.”

In addition, the Securities may contain a legend regarding affiliate status of the Purchaser, if applicable, provided that the Company will notify the Purchaser in advance of Closing if such legend is to be placed on its Securities.

3.11 Review and Advisors. The Purchaser has had the opportunity to review with the Purchaser’s own tax advisors the U.S. federal, state and local and non-U.S. tax consequences of its purchase of the Securities set forth opposite such Purchaser’s name on the Schedule of Purchasers and the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. The Purchaser is relying solely on the Purchaser’s own determination as to tax consequences, and on the Purchaser’s own sources of information and advisors with respect to all tax matters, and not on any statements or representations of the Company (other than the representations and warranties in this Agreement), the Placement Agents or any of their respective agents, and understands that the Purchaser (and not the Company) shall be responsible for the Purchaser’s own tax liability that may arise as a result of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Based on such information as the Purchaser deemed appropriate and without reliance upon the Placement Agents, the Purchaser has independently made its own analysis and decision to purchase the Securities. The Purchaser has (i) had the opportunity to ask questions of and receive answers directly with respect to its purchase of Securities, and (ii) conducted and completed its own independent due diligence with respect to the purchase of Securities.

3.12 Residency. Such Purchaser's residence (if an individual) or offices in which its investment decision with respect to the Securities was made (if an entity) are located at the address immediately below such Purchaser's name on the Schedule of Purchasers, or as otherwise noted on the Schedule of Purchasers.

3.13 Disclosure of Information. The Purchaser has had an opportunity to discuss the Company's business, management, financial affairs and the terms and conditions of the offering of the Securities and the terms of the Merger with the Company's management. The foregoing, however, does not limit or modify the representations and warranties of the Company in Section 4 of this Agreement or the right of the Purchasers to rely thereon.

SECTION 4. Representations and Warranties by the Company. The Company represents and warrants to the Purchasers as of the date of this Agreement and as of the Closing Date (except for the representations and warranties that speak as of a specific date, which shall be made as of such date) that:

4.01 Organization and Good Standing. The Company is a corporation duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Delaware, has the requisite power and authority to own, lease and operate its properties and to carry on its business as now conducted and is qualified to do business in each jurisdiction in which the character of its properties or the nature of its business requires such qualification, except where such failure to be in good standing or to have such power and authority or to so qualify would not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. Each of the Company's subsidiaries is (i) duly incorporated and validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the jurisdiction of its incorporation and has the requisite power and authority to carry on its business as now conducted and to own or lease its properties and (ii) qualified to do business as a foreign corporation and in good standing in each jurisdiction in which such qualification is required, except in each case as would not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. "Material Adverse Effect" means any change, condition, event, circumstance, occurrence, result, state of facts or development that has or would reasonably be expected to have a materially adverse effect on (a) the business, condition (financial or otherwise), assets, operations, results of operations, stockholders' equity or financial performance of the Company and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole or (b) the Company's ability to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby.

4.02 Subsidiaries. Except for Shanghai Tandi Biopharmaceutical Technology Co., Ltd, a wholly-owned subsidiary, the Company does not have any subsidiaries and does not otherwise own any shares of capital stock or any interest in any other Person. The Company does not control directly or indirectly or have any direct or indirect equity participation or similar interest in any corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, trust or other business association or entity.

4.03 Validity; Valid Issuance of Securities. The Company has all requisite corporate power and authority to enter into this Agreement and to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, subject only to (i) the adoption of the Merger Agreement in accordance with the terms thereof by the Company's stockholders under the Delaware General Corporation Law and the Company's certificate of incorporation and (ii) the filing of an amendment to the Company's certificate of incorporation. The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement by the Company have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of the Company. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Company and, assuming the due authorization, execution and delivery by each Purchaser, this Agreement constitutes a legal, valid and binding obligation of the Company, enforceable against the Company in accordance with its terms, except as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance, and any other laws of general application affecting enforcement of creditors' rights generally, and as limited by laws relating to the availability of specific performance, injunctive relief, or other equitable remedies. The Securities are duly authorized and, when issued, sold and delivered in accordance with the terms and for the consideration set forth in this Agreement, will be validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and free and clear of any liens or other restrictions, other than restrictions on transfer under applicable state and federal securities or such restrictions as the Purchaser has agreed to in writing with the Company, and will not have been issued in violation of or subject to any preemptive or similar rights created under the Company's certificate of incorporation, as amended by the certificate of amendment to be filed immediately prior to the Closing, or bylaws or the Delaware General Corporation Law. All of the issued and outstanding shares of capital stock of the Company have been issued in compliance in all material respects with applicable federal and state securities laws.

4.04 Governmental Consents and Filings. Assuming the accuracy of the representations made by the Purchasers in Section 3 hereof and except as set forth in the Merger Agreement and the filing of the certificate of amendment to the Company's certificate of incorporation, no material consent, approval, order or authorization of, or registration, qualification, designation, declaration or filing with, any Governmental Entity (as defined below) is required on the part of the Company in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

4.05 Absence of Violations, Defaults and Conflicts. Neither the Company nor any of its subsidiaries is (i) in violation of its charter, bylaws or similar organizational document, (ii) in default in the performance or observance of any obligation, agreement, covenant or condition contained in any contract, indenture, mortgage, deed of trust, loan or credit agreement, note, lease or other agreement or instrument to which the Company or any of its subsidiaries is a party or by which it or any of them may be bound or to which any of the properties or assets of the Company or any subsidiary is subject (collectively, "Agreements and Instruments"), except for such defaults that would not, singly or in the aggregate, result in a Material Adverse Effect, or (iii) in violation of any law, statute, rule, regulation, judgment, order, writ or decree of any arbitrator, court, governmental body, regulatory body, administrative agency or other authority, body or agency having jurisdiction over the Company or any of its subsidiaries or any of their respective properties, assets or operations (each, a "Governmental Entity"), except for such violations that would not, singly or in the aggregate, result in a Material Adverse Effect. The execution, delivery and the performance of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated herein (including the issuance and sale of the Securities) and compliance by the Company with its obligations hereunder do not and will not, whether with or without the giving of notice or passage of time or both, (1) conflict with or constitute a breach of, or default under, or result in the creation or imposition of any lien, charge or encumbrance upon any properties or assets of the Company or any subsidiary pursuant to, the Agreements and Instruments, (2) result in any violation of the provisions of the certificate of incorporation, by-laws or similar organizational document of the Company or any of its subsidiaries or (3) result in any violation of any applicable law, statute, rule, regulation, judgment, order, writ or decree of any Governmental Entity, except in the case of clauses (1) and (3), for such violations as would not, singly or in the aggregate, have or reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect, or materially affect the validity of the Securities or the legal authority of the Company to perform its obligations hereunder and timely comply in all material respects with the terms of this Agreement or the Merger Agreement.

4.06 Absence of Proceedings. There is no action, suit, proceeding or, to the knowledge of the Company, inquiry or investigation, before or brought by any Governmental Entity now pending or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened, against or affecting the Company or any of its subsidiaries, which would have or reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect or materially affect the validity of the Securities or the legal authority of the Company to perform its obligations hereunder and timely comply in all material respects with the terms of this Agreement or the Merger Agreement.

4.07 Possession of Licenses and Permits. The Company and its subsidiaries possess such permits, licenses, approvals, consents and other authorizations (collectively, "Governmental Licenses") issued by the appropriate Governmental Entities necessary to conduct the business now operated by them, except where the failure so to possess would not, singly or in the aggregate, have or reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. The Company and its subsidiaries are in compliance with the terms and conditions of all Governmental Licenses, except where the failure to comply would not, singly or in the aggregate, have or reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. All of the Governmental Licenses are valid and in full force and effect, except when the invalidity of such Governmental Licenses or the failure of such Governmental Licenses to be in full force and effect would not, singly or in the aggregate, have or reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. Neither the Company nor any of its subsidiaries has received any notice of proceedings relating to the revocation or modification of any Governmental Licenses which, singly or in the aggregate, if the subject of an unfavorable decision, ruling or finding, would have or reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

4.08 Payment of Taxes. The Company and its subsidiaries have filed all federal, state and foreign income tax returns and other tax returns required to have been filed under applicable law (or extensions have been duly obtained) and have paid all taxes required to have been paid by them, except for those which are being contested in good faith and except where failure to file such tax returns or pay such taxes would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect. No assessment in connection with U.S. federal income tax returns has been made against the Company that has not been paid or otherwise resolved in full. The Company and its subsidiaries have filed all tax returns that are required to have been filed by them through the date hereof or have timely requested extensions thereof pursuant to applicable law except insofar as the failure to file such returns would not have or reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect, and have paid all taxes due pursuant to such returns or all taxes due and payable pursuant to any assessment received by the Company and its subsidiaries, except for such taxes, if any, as are being contested in good faith and as to which adequate reserves have been established by the Company or its subsidiaries and except where the failure to pay such taxes would not have or reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

4.09 Insurance. The Company and the subsidiaries carry or are entitled to the benefits of insurance, with what the Company reasonably believes to be financially sound and reputable insurers, in such amounts and covering such risks as is customary for similarly situated companies and is adequate for the conduct of their respective businesses and the value of their respective properties and assets, and all such insurance is in full force and effect. The Company has no reason to believe that it or any of the subsidiaries will not be able (i) to renew its existing insurance coverage as and when such policies expire or (ii) to obtain comparable coverage from similar institutions as may be necessary or appropriate to conduct its business as now conducted and at a cost that would not have or reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

4.10 Investment Company Act. The Company is not required, and upon the issuance and sale of the Securities will not be required, to register as an “investment company” under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended.

4.11 Regulatory Matters. Except as would not, singly or in the aggregate, have or reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect: (i) neither the Company nor any of its subsidiaries has received any FDA Form 483, notice of adverse finding, warning letter or other correspondence or written notice from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (“FDA”) or any other Governmental Entity alleging or asserting noncompliance with any Applicable Laws (as defined in clause (ii) below) or Authorizations (as defined in clause (iii) below); (ii) the Company and each of its subsidiaries is and has been in compliance with statutes, laws, ordinances, rules and regulations applicable to the Company and its subsidiaries for the ownership, testing, development, manufacture, packaging, processing, use, distribution, marketing, labeling, promotion, sale, offer for sale, storage, import, export or disposal of any product manufactured or distributed by the Company, including without limitation, the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, 21 U.S.C. § 301, et seq., similar laws of other Governmental Entities and the regulations promulgated pursuant to such laws (collectively, “Applicable Laws”); (iii) the Company and each of its subsidiaries possesses all licenses, certificates, approvals, clearances, authorizations, permits and supplements or amendments thereto required by any such Applicable Laws and/or to carry on its businesses as now conducted (“Authorizations”) and such Authorizations are valid and in full force and effect and the Company is not in violation of any term of any such Authorizations; (iv) neither the Company nor any of its subsidiaries has received notice of any ongoing claim, action, suit, proceeding, hearing, enforcement, investigation, arbitration or other action from any Governmental Entity or third party alleging that any product, operation or activity is in violation of any Applicable Laws or Authorizations or has any knowledge that any such Governmental Entity or third party is considering any such claim, litigation, arbitration, action, suit, investigation or proceeding, nor, to the Company's knowledge, has there been any noncompliance with or violation of any Applicable Laws by the Company or any of its subsidiaries that could reasonably be expected to require the issuance of any such communication or result in an investigation, corrective action, or enforcement action by FDA or similar Governmental Entity; (v) neither the Company nor any of its subsidiaries has received notice that any Governmental Entity has taken, is taking or intends to take action to limit, suspend, modify or revoke any Authorizations or has any knowledge that any such Governmental Entity is threatening or is considering such action; and (vi) the Company and each of its subsidiaries has filed, obtained, maintained or submitted all reports, documents, forms, notices, applications, records, claims, submissions and supplements or amendments as required by any Applicable Laws or Authorizations and that all such reports, documents, forms, notices, applications, records, claims, submissions and supplements or amendments were complete, correct and not misleading on the date filed (or were corrected or supplemented by a subsequent submission).

4.12 Compliance With Laws. The Company and its subsidiaries have complied with, are not in violation of, and have not received any written notice alleging any violation with respect to, any applicable provisions of any statute, law or regulation with respect to the conduct of its respective business, or the ownership or operation of its respective properties or assets, except for such violation that would not, singly or in the aggregate, result in a Material Adverse Effect.

4.13 Financial Statements. The Company has made available to each Purchaser its consolidated unaudited financial statements (including balance sheet, income statement and statement of cash flows) as of and for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2024 and its unaudited financial statements (including balance sheet, income statement and statement of cash flows) as of September 30, 2025 (the "Balance Sheet Date") and for the nine-month period ended on the Balance Sheet Date (collectively, the "Financial Statements"). The Financial Statements have been prepared in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") applied on a consistent basis throughout the periods indicated, except that the unaudited Financial Statements may not contain all footnotes and other presentation items required by GAAP. The Financial Statements fairly present in all material respects the financial condition of the Company and its subsidiaries as of the dates, and for the periods, indicated therein, subject in the case of the unaudited Financial Statements to normal year-end audit adjustments. Since the Balance Sheet Date, the Company has not incurred any liabilities or obligations, contingent or otherwise, that would be, individually or in the aggregate, material to the Company, other than (a) liabilities incurred in the ordinary course of business; (b) obligations under contracts and commitments incurred in the ordinary course of business; (c) liabilities for transaction expenses incurred in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Merger Agreement; and (d) liabilities and obligations of a type or nature not required under GAAP to be reflected in the Financial Statements. The Company maintains and will continue to maintain a standard system of accounting established and administered to provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of the financial statements of the Company in conformity with GAAP. Since the Balance Sheet Date, there has been no material change to any material contract or arrangement by which the Company or any of its subsidiaries is bound or to which any of their respective properties or assets is subject, nor any other event or condition of any character that, in each case, has had or would reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

4.14 Information Provided. The information to be supplied by or on behalf of the Company for inclusion or incorporation by reference in the Registration Statement (as defined in the Merger Agreement) or supplied by or on behalf of the Company for inclusion in any filing pursuant to Rule 165 and Rule 425 under the 1933 Act or Rule 14a-12 under the 1934 Act, including the Company Presentation (each a "Regulation M-A Filing"), shall not, at the time the Registration Statement or any such Regulation M-A Filing is filed with the Commission, at any time it is amended or supplemented or at the time the Registration Statement is declared effective by the Commission, as applicable, contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements therein not misleading.

The information to be supplied by or on behalf of the Company for inclusion in the Registration Statement to be sent to the stockholders of Parent in connection with the meeting of Parent's stockholders (the "Public Company Meeting"), shall not, on the date the proxy statement/prospectus included in the Registration Statement is first mailed to stockholders of Parent, at the time of the Public Company Meeting or at the Effective Time, contain any statement that, at such time and in light of the circumstances under which it shall be made, is false or misleading with respect to any material fact, or omit to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements made in the Registration Statement not false or misleading; or omit to state any material fact necessary to correct any statement in any earlier communication with respect to the solicitation of proxies for the Public Company Meeting that has become false or misleading.

4.15 No Additional Agreements. The Company does not have any agreement or understanding with any Purchaser with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement other than as specified in this Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, the Company has not entered into any other securities purchase agreement, side letter or other agreement with any other Person on or around the date hereof, that includes terms and conditions that are more favorable to such Person than to any Purchaser hereunder.

4.16 Private Placement. None of the Company, its subsidiaries or any person acting on its or their behalf, has, directly or indirectly, made any offers or sales of any security or solicited any offers to buy any security under any circumstances that would require registration under the 1933 Act of the Securities being sold pursuant to this Agreement. Assuming the accuracy of the representations and warranties of the Purchasers contained in Section 3 hereof, the issuance and sale of the Securities is exempt from registration under the 1933 Act.

4.17 No Disqualification Events. No Disqualification Event is applicable to the Company or, to the Company's knowledge, any Company Covered Person (as defined below), except for a Disqualification Event as to which Rule 506(d)(2)(ii) (iv) or (d)(3) is applicable. "Company Covered Person" means, with respect to the Company as an "issuer" for purposes of Rule 506 promulgated under the 1933 Act, any person listed in the first paragraph of Rule 506(d)(1). The Company is not aware of any Person (other than any Company Covered Person) that has been or will be paid (directly or indirectly) remuneration for solicitation of purchasers in connection with the sale of the Securities pursuant to this Agreement. The Company has complied, to the extent applicable, with its disclosure obligations under Rule 506(e).

4.18 No General Solicitation. Neither the Company nor, to the Company's knowledge, any person acting on behalf of the Company has offered or sold any of the Securities by any form of general solicitation or general advertising.

4.19 No Integrated Offering. Assuming the accuracy of the Purchasers' representations and warranties set forth in Section 3 hereof, none of the Company, its subsidiaries or, to the Company's knowledge, any of its or their Affiliates or any Person acting on its or their behalf has, directly or indirectly, at any time within the past six months, made any offers or sales of any Company security or solicited any offers to buy any security under circumstances that would (i) eliminate the availability of the exemption from registration under Regulation D under the 1933 Act in connection with the offer and sale by the Company of the Securities as contemplated hereby or (ii) cause the offering of the Securities pursuant to this Agreement to be integrated with prior offerings by the Company for purposes of any applicable law, regulation or stockholder approval provisions, including, without limitation, under the rules and regulations of any National Exchange on which any of the securities of the Company are listed or designated.

4.20 No Covered Foreign Person. Neither the Company nor any of its subsidiaries is a "covered foreign person," as that term is defined in 31 C.F.R. § 850.209. The consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement will not result in the establishment of a covered foreign person or the engagement by a "person of a country of concern," as defined in 31 C.F.R. § 850.221, in a covered activity, as that term is defined in 31 C.F.R. § 850.208. Neither the Company nor any of its subsidiaries currently engage, or have plans to engage, directly or indirectly, in a covered activity.

4.21 Brokers. Other than the Placement Agents, there is no broker, investment banker, financial advisor, finder or other person which has been retained by or is authorized to act on behalf of the Company that is entitled to any fee or commission in connection with the execution of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby (excluding the Merger).

4.22 Additional Representations and Warranties. The Company's representations and warranties set forth in the Merger Agreement in Section 2.2 (Capital Stock), 2.12 (Benefit Plans), 2.13 (Labor and Employment Matters), 2.14 (Environmental Matters), 2.16 (Contracts), 2.18 (Properties), 2.19 (Intellectual Property), and 2.22 (Related Party Transactions) are hereby incorporated by reference and made by the Company, as qualified by the disclosures in the Company Disclosure Schedule (as defined in the Merger Agreement). As of the Effective Date, to the knowledge of the Company, the representations and warranties of Parent in the Merger Agreement and in any certificate or other writing delivered by Parent pursuant thereto are true and correct as though given in accordance with Section 9.1 of the Merger Agreement.

4.23 Reliance by Purchasers. The Company acknowledges that each Purchaser will rely upon the truth and accuracy of, and the Company's compliance with, the representations, warranties, agreements, acknowledgements and understandings of the Company set forth in this Agreement.

4.24 Lock-Up Agreements. The Company shall not consent or agree to amend, alter, waive or otherwise modify the terms of any of the Company Lock-Up Agreements (as defined in the Merger Agreement) without the consent of the Placement Agents and the Purchaser Majority.

4.25 Anti-Bribery and Anti-Money Laundering Laws; Sanctions. Each of the Company, its subsidiaries and, to the knowledge of the Company, any of their respective officers, directors, supervisors, managers, agents, or employees are and have at all times been in compliance with and its participation in the offering will not violate: (A) anti-bribery laws, including but not limited to, any applicable law, rule, or regulation of any locality, including but not limited to any law, rule, or regulation promulgated to implement the OECD Convention on Combating Bribery of Foreign Public Officials in International Business Transactions, signed December 17, 1997, including the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act of 1977, as amended, the U.K. Bribery Act 2010, or any other law, rule or regulation of similar purposes and scope, (B) anti-money laundering laws, including, but not limited to, applicable federal, state, international, foreign or other laws, regulations or government guidance regarding anti-money laundering, including, without limitation, Title 18 U.S. Code sections 1956 and 1957, the Patriot Act, the Bank Secrecy Act, and international anti-money laundering principles or procedures by an intergovernmental group or organization, such as the Financial Action Task Force on Money Laundering, of which the United States is a member and with which designation the United States representative to the group or organization continues to concur, all as amended, and any executive order, directive, or regulation pursuant to the authority of any of the foregoing, or any orders or licenses issued thereunder, or (C) except as would not reasonably be expected, individually or in the aggregate, to result in a Material Adverse Effect, any laws with respect to import and export control and economic sanctions, including the U.S. Export Administration Regulations, the U.S. International Traffic in Arms Regulations, and economic sanctions regulations and executive orders administered by the U.S. Department of the Treasury Office of Foreign Asset Control.

4.26 Clinical Data and Regulatory Compliance. Except as would not reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect: (i) the preclinical tests and clinical trials, and other studies used to support regulatory approval (collectively, "studies") being conducted by the Company that are described in, or the results of which are referred to in, the Company Presentation were and, if still pending, are being conducted in all material respects in accordance with the protocols, procedures and controls designed and approved for such studies and with standard medical and scientific research procedures; (ii) each description of the results of such studies is accurate and complete in all material respects and fairly presents the data derived from such studies, and the Company and its Subsidiaries have no knowledge of any other studies the results of which are inconsistent with, or otherwise call into question, the results described or referred to in the Company Presentation; (iii) the Company and its Subsidiaries have made or will make all such filings and obtained all such approvals as may be required by the FDA or from any other U.S. federal, state or local government or foreign government or Drug Regulatory Agency, or Institutional Review Board, each having jurisdiction over biopharmaceutical products (collectively, the “Regulatory Agencies”) for the conduct of its business as described in the Company Presentation; (iv) neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has received any notice of, or correspondence from, any Regulatory Agency requiring the termination or suspension of or imposing any clinical hold on any clinical trials that are described or referred to in the Company Presentation; and (v) the Company and its Subsidiaries have each operated and currently are in compliance in all material respects with all applicable rules, regulations and policies of the Regulatory Agencies.

4.27 Parent Reps. As of the Effective Date and as of the Closing Date, to the knowledge of the Company, the representations and warranties of Parent contained in Section 3 of the Merger Agreement and in any certificate or other writing delivered by Parent pursuant thereto are true and correct as though given in accordance with Section 8.1 of the Merger Agreement.

SECTION 5. Covenants.

5.01 Further Assurances. At or prior to Closing, each party agrees to cooperate and generally do such reasonable acts and things in good faith as may be necessary to timely satisfy each of the conditions to be satisfied by it as provided in Section 6 of this Agreement and effectuate the intents and purposes of this Agreement subject to the terms and conditions hereof.

5.02 Disclosure of Transactions and Other Material Information. The Company shall or shall cause Parent to, on or before 9:00 a.m., New York City time, on the Business Day immediately following the Effective Date (or if this Agreement is executed between midnight and 9:00 a.m., New York City time, on any Business Day, no later than 9:01 a.m. on the Effective Date), issue one or more press releases and/or file with the Commission a Current Report on Form 8-K (collectively, the “Disclosure Document” and the actual issuance or acceptance (as applicable) of the filing of such press releases or Current Report on Form 8-K, the “Disclosure Time”) disclosing all material terms of the transactions contemplated hereby and by the Merger Agreement and any other material nonpublic information that the Company, Parent or their respective officers, directors, employees, agents or any other person acting at the direction of the Company or Parent has provided to the Purchasers in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and by the Merger Agreement prior to the filing of the Disclosure Document. To the extent any Purchaser is named therein in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the Company shall provide such Purchaser with a reasonable opportunity to review and provide comments on the draft of such Disclosure Document. The Company represents and warrants that, from and after the Disclosure Time, no Purchaser shall be in possession of any material, nonpublic information received from the Company, Parent or their respective officers, directors, employees, agents or other person acting at their direction. In addition, effective upon the Disclosure Time, the Company acknowledges and agrees that any and all confidentiality or similar obligations under any agreement relating to the subject matter hereof, whether written or oral, between the Company, any of its subsidiaries or any of their respective officers, directors, affiliates, employees or agents, including, without limitation, the Placement Agents, on the one hand, and any Purchaser or any of their respective affiliates, on the other hand, shall terminate and be of no further force or effect. The Company understands and confirms that each of the Purchasers will rely on the foregoing representations in effecting transactions in securities of the Company. The Company shall not, and shall cause its officers, directors, employees and agents and Parent not to, publicly disclose the name of any Purchaser or any affiliate or investment adviser of any Purchaser, or include the name of any Purchaser or any affiliate or investment adviser of any Purchaser without the prior written consent (including by e-mail) of such Purchaser (i) in any press release, marketing materials or any other public announcement, or (ii) in any filing with the Commission or any regulatory agency or trading market, except (A) as required by the federal securities laws, rules or regulations, (B) to the extent such disclosure is required by other laws, rules or regulations, at the request of the staff of the Commission or regulatory agency or under regulations of any national securities exchange on which Parent’s securities are listed for trading or (C) to the extent such disclosure contains only information previously approved in accordance with this Section 5.02.

5.03 Concurrent Financing Restructuring. In the event the structure of the Concurrent Financing (as defined in the Merger Agreement) either violates applicable Law (as defined in the Merger Agreement) or materially and adversely affects Parent's ability to cause the Registration Statement to become effective in a timely manner, and in any event 60 days prior to the End Date (as defined in, and as may be extended in accordance with, the Merger Agreement), then the Company and Purchasers shall cooperate and use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the Concurrent Financing to be amended, modified and/or restructured such that such investment occurs as a direct acquisition of shares of Parent Common Stock (as defined in the Merger Agreement) substantially contemporaneously with the Closing in a manner which preserves to the extent possible, the amount of funds ultimately received by Parent and its subsidiaries, and the number of share of Parent Common Stock ultimately held by each Purchaser in respect of such amounts as though the Concurrent Financing and the Merger pursuant to the Merger Agreement have been consummated according to their respective terms.

5.04 Expenses. The Company and each Purchaser is liable for, and will pay, its own expenses incurred in connection with the negotiation, preparation, execution and delivery of this Agreement, including, without limitation, attorneys' and consultants' fees and expenses.

5.05 Form S-4. From the date hereof until the Closing Date, the Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to ensure the Registration Statement will register the issuance of the shares of Parent Common Stock to be issued, subject to and in accordance with the terms of the Merger Agreement, by virtue of the Contemplated Transactions (as defined in the Merger Agreement).

5.06 Blue Sky Laws. The Company, on or before the Closing Date, shall take such action as the Company shall reasonably determine is necessary in order to obtain an exemption for or to qualify the Securities for sale to each Purchaser at the Closing pursuant to this Agreement under applicable securities or "blue sky" laws of the states of the United States (or to obtain an exemption from such qualification). The Company shall make all filings and reports relating to the offer and sale of the Securities required under applicable securities or "blue sky" laws of the states of the United States following the Closing Date.

5.07 No Amendment or Waiver of Merger Agreement Terms. The Company shall not amend, modify or waive (or approve an amendment, modification or a waiver requested by Parent of, or fail to contest an action regarding a breach of) any provision of the Merger Agreement in a manner that would reasonably be expected to materially and adversely affect the benefits that the Purchaser would reasonably expect to receive pursuant to this Agreement without the consent of each Purchaser, it being agreed that any amendment or modification to the definitions of "Company Valuation," "Company Outstanding Shares," "Concurrent Financing Merger Shares," "Concurrent Financing Allocation Percentage," "Concurrent Investment Amount" and "Concurrent Financing Proceeds" shall be deemed materially adverse to the Purchasers.

5.08 Equal Treatment of Purchasers. No consideration shall be offered or paid to any Purchaser to amend or consent to a waiver or modification of any provision of this Agreement unless the same consideration is also offered to all of the Purchasers. For clarification purposes, this provision constitutes a separate right granted to each Purchaser by the Company and negotiated separately by each Purchaser and shall not in any way be construed as the Purchasers acting in concert or as a group with respect to the purchase, disposition or voting of shares of Common Stock or otherwise.

5.09 Legend Removal. The restrictive legends described in Section 3.10 shall promptly be removed in accordance with applicable securities laws and, if applicable, the relevant provisions of the Registration Rights Agreement following the closing of the Merger. The shares of Parent Common Stock to be received in the Merger in exchange for the Shares will be issued in book-entry form, free and clear of any liens or other restrictions whatsoever and without restrictive legends in accordance with applicable securities laws.

5.10 Indemnification.

(a) The Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless each Purchaser and its Affiliates, and their respective directors, officers, trustees, general partners, members, stockholders, partners, managers, employees, investment advisers and agents (and any other Persons with a functionally equivalent role of a Person holding such titles notwithstanding a lack of such title or any other title) and each Person who controls such Purchaser (within the meaning of Section 15 of the 1933 Act and Section 20 of the 1934 Act), and the directors, officers, stockholders, agents, members, partners or employees (and any other Persons with a functionally equivalent role of a Person holding such titles notwithstanding a lack of such title or any other title) of such controlling persons (collectively, the “Indemnified Persons”), from and against any and all losses, claims, damages, liabilities and expenses (including without limitation reasonable and documented attorney fees and disbursements and other documented out-of-pocket expenses reasonably incurred in connection with investigating, preparing or defending any action, claim or proceeding, pending or threatened and the costs of enforcement thereof) to which such Indemnified Person may become subject (i) as a result of any breach of representation, warranty, covenant or agreement made by or to be performed on the part of the Company under this Agreement or (ii) as a result of or arising out of any action, claim or proceeding, pending or threatened, against an Indemnified Person in any capacity by any third party (including a stockholder of the Company or Parent), whether directly or in a derivative capacity, who is not an Affiliate of the Indemnified Person, with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, the Merger Agreement or the Registration Rights Agreement, and will reimburse any such Indemnified Person for all such amounts as they are incurred by such Indemnified Person, except to the extent such amounts have been finally judicially determined to have resulted from such Person’s fraud or willful misconduct.

(b) Any person entitled to indemnification hereunder shall (i) give prompt written notice to the indemnifying party of any claim with respect to which it seeks indemnification and (ii) permit such indemnifying party to assume the defense of such claim with counsel reasonably satisfactory to the indemnified party; provided that any person entitled to indemnification hereunder shall have the right to employ separate counsel and to participate in the defense of such claim, but the fees and expenses of such counsel shall be at the expense of such person unless (a) the indemnifying party has agreed in writing to pay such fees or expenses, (b) the indemnifying party shall have failed to assume the defense of such claim and employ counsel reasonably satisfactory to such person or (c) in the reasonable judgment of any such person, based upon written advice of its counsel, a conflict of interest exists between such person and the indemnifying party with respect to such claims (in which case, if the person notifies the indemnifying party in writing that such person elects to employ separate counsel at the expense of the indemnifying party, the indemnifying party shall not have the right to assume the defense of such claim on behalf of such person); and provided, further, that the failure of any indemnified party to give written notice as provided herein shall not relieve the indemnifying party of its obligations hereunder, except to the extent that such failure to give notice shall materially adversely affect the indemnifying party in the defense of any such claim or litigation. It is understood that the indemnifying party shall not, in connection with any proceeding in the same jurisdiction, be liable for fees or expenses of more than one separate firm of attorneys at any time for all such indemnified parties. No indemnifying party will, except with the consent of the indemnified party, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed, consent to entry of any judgment or enter into any settlement unless such judgment or settlement (i) imposes no liability or obligation on, (ii) includes as an unconditional term thereof the giving of a complete, explicit and unconditional release from the party bringing such indemnified claims of all liability of the indemnified party in respect of such claim or litigation in favor of, and (iii) does not include any admission of fault, culpability, wrongdoing, or wrongdoing or malfeasance by or on behalf of, the indemnified party. No indemnified party will, except with the consent of the indemnifying party, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed, consent to entry of any judgment or enter into any settlement.

5.11 Withholding Taxes. Each Purchaser agrees to furnish the Company with any information, representations and forms as shall reasonably be requested by the Company from time to time to assist the Company in complying with any applicable tax law (including any withholding obligations).

SECTION 6. Conditions of Closing.

6.01 Conditions of the Purchasers' Obligations at the Closing. The obligations of each Purchaser under Section 2 hereof are subject to the fulfillment, at or prior to the Closing, of all of the following conditions, unless otherwise waived by such Purchaser solely as to itself.

(a) Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of the Company contained in this Agreement shall be true and correct in all respects on the Effective Date, and shall be true and correct in all material respects on and as of the Closing Date with the same effect as though such representations and warranties had been made on and as of the Closing Date (except (i) the representations and warranties of the Company set forth in Sections 4.01, 4.03, 4.05 and 4.21 of this Agreement (collectively, the “Fundamental Representations”) shall be true and correct in all respects on the Effective Date and on and as of the Closing Date with the same effect as though such Fundamental Representations had been made on and as of the Closing Date, (ii) to the extent expressly made as of an earlier date in which case as of such earlier date and (iii) representations and warranties that are qualified as to materiality or Material Adverse Effect, which representations and warranties shall be true in all respects).

(b) Performance. The Company shall have performed and complied in all material respects with all covenants, agreements, obligations and conditions contained in this Agreement that are required to be performed or complied with by it on or prior to the Closing Date.

(c) Compliance Certificate. The Chief Executive Officer of the Company shall have delivered to the Purchasers at the Closing Date a certificate, in form and substance reasonably acceptable to the Purchasers, certifying that the conditions specified in Sections 6.01(a), 6.01(b), 6.01(f), 6.01(i), 6.01(j), and 6.01(k) of this Agreement have been fulfilled.

(d) Qualification under Securities Laws. All registrations, qualifications, permits and approvals, if any, required under applicable securities laws shall have been obtained for the lawful execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement.

(e) Secretary's Certificate. The Secretary of the Company shall have delivered to the Purchasers at the Closing a certificate, in form and substance reasonably acceptable to the Purchasers (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), certifying (i) the certificate of incorporation and bylaws of the Company, (ii) authorization of the Board of Directors of the Company approving this Agreement and the transactions contemplated under this Agreement (including the Merger Agreement) and (iii) as to a certificate evidencing the good standing of the Company in Delaware issued by the Secretary of State of Delaware and in the State of California, issued by the Secretary of the State of California, each issued as of a date within five Business Days of the Closing Date.

(f) Merger. All conditions to the closing of the Merger shall have been satisfied or waived (other than the Closing hereunder and other than those conditions which, by their nature, are to be satisfied at the closing of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement), and the closing of the Merger shall be set to occur substantially concurrently with the Closing hereunder. The Merger Agreement or any provision thereof shall not have been amended, modified or waived in contravention of Section 5.07 hereof.

(g) No Injunction. No statute, rule, regulation, executive order, decree, ruling or injunction shall have been enacted, entered, promulgated or endorsed by any Governmental Entity of competent jurisdiction that prohibits the consummation of any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(h) Registration Rights Agreement. The Company shall have delivered the fully executed Registration Rights Agreement.

(i) Registration Statement/Proxy Statement/Prospectus. The Registration Statement shall have become effective under the 1933 Act and no stop order suspending the effectiveness of the Registration Statement shall have been issued and no proceeding for that purpose, and no similar proceeding with respect to the Registration Statement shall have been initiated or threatened in writing by the Commission or its staff.

(j) Nasdaq. Parent shall have submitted with Nasdaq an Initial Listing Application in respect of the Parent Common Stock to be issued in the Contemplated Transactions, which shall have been approved by Nasdaq.

(k) No Material Adverse Effect. Since the date of this Agreement, there shall not have occurred any Material Adverse Effect that is continuing.

(l) Minimum Financing Amount. The Company shall receive at Closing aggregate proceeds from the purchase of Securities pursuant to this Agreement of not less than $450,000,000.

(m) Opinion of Company Counsel. The Placement Agents and the Purchasers shall have received from Cooley LLP, counsel for the Company, an opinion, dated as of the Closing Date, in the form agreed between the Company and the Placement Agents and the Purchaser Majority.

(n) Consents. Any and all consents, permits, approvals, registrations and waivers necessary for the consummation of the purchase and sale of the Shares, including the approval of the stockholders of Parent in connection with the Public Company Meeting, shall have been obtained.

6.02 Conditions of the Company's Obligations. The obligations of the Company under Section 2 hereof are subject to the fulfillment, at or prior to the Closing, of all of the following conditions, any of which may be waived in whole or in part by the Company in its absolute discretion.

(a) Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of the Purchasers contained in this Agreement shall be true and correct as of the Effective Date and true and correct in all material respects on and as of the Closing Date with the same effect as though such representations and warranties had been made on and as of the Closing Date (except (i) to the extent expressly made as of an earlier date in which case shall be as of such earlier date and (ii) representations and warranties that are qualified as to materiality, which representations and warranties shall be true in all respects, except as would not, in the aggregate, materially and adversely affect the Purchasers' ability to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby).

(b) Performance. Each Purchaser shall have performed and complied in all material respects with all covenants, agreements, obligations and conditions contained in this Agreement that are required to be performed or complied with by it on or prior to the Closing Date.

(c) Qualification under Securities Laws. All registrations, qualifications, permits and approvals, if any, required under applicable securities laws shall have been obtained for the lawful execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement.

(d) Merger. All conditions to the closing of the Merger shall have been satisfied or waived (other than the Closing hereunder and other than those conditions which, by their nature, are to be satisfied at the closing of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement), and the closing of the Merger shall be set to occur substantially concurrently with the Closing hereunder.

(e) Payment. Except as may be agreed to among the Company and one or more Purchasers in accordance with Section 2.02, the Company shall have received payment, by wire transfer of immediately available funds, in the full amount of the purchase price for the number of Securities being purchased by each Purchaser at the Closing as set forth on the Schedule of Purchasers.

(f) Injunction. The purchase of and payment for the Securities by each Purchaser shall not be prohibited or enjoined by any law or governmental or court order or regulation.

SECTION 7. Definitions. Unless the context otherwise requires, the terms defined in this Section 7 shall have the meanings specified for all purposes of this Agreement.

or at such other address as the Company or each Purchaser may specify by written notice to the other parties hereto in accordance with this Section 8.02.

8.03 Consent to Electronic Notice. From the date hereof until the Closing Date, each Purchaser consents to the delivery of any stockholder notice pursuant to Section 232 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, as amended or superseded from time to time, at the e-mail address set forth below the Purchaser's name on the signature page or Schedule I, as updated from time to time by notice to the Company. To the extent that any notice given by means of electronic mail is returned or undeliverable for any reason, the foregoing consent shall be deemed to have been revoked until a new or corrected e-mail address has been provided, and such attempted electronic notice shall be ineffective and deemed to not have been given. Each party agrees to promptly notify the other parties of any change in its e-mail address, and that failure to do so shall not affect the foregoing.

8.04 Severability. If any part or provision of this Agreement is held unenforceable or in conflict with the applicable laws or regulations of any jurisdiction, the invalid or unenforceable part or provisions shall be replaced with a provision which accomplishes, to the extent possible, the original business purpose of such part or provision in a valid and enforceable manner, and the remainder of this Agreement shall remain binding upon the parties hereto.

8.05 Governing Law; Submission to Jurisdiction; Venue; Waiver of Trial by Jury.

(a) This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York without regard to choice of laws or conflicts of laws provisions thereof that would require the application of the laws of any other jurisdiction, except to the extent that mandatory principles of Delaware law may apply.

(b) The Company and each of the Purchasers hereby irrevocably and unconditionally:

(i) submits for itself and its property in any legal action or proceeding relating solely to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, to the general jurisdiction of any state court or United States Federal court sitting in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York in the State of New York;

(ii) consents that any such action or proceeding may be brought in such courts, and waives any objection that it may now or hereafter have to the venue of any such action or proceeding in any such court or that such action or proceeding was brought in an inconvenient court and agrees not to plead or claim the same to the extent permitted by applicable law;

(iii) agrees that service of process in any such action or proceeding may be effected by mailing a copy thereof by registered or certified mail (or any substantially similar form of mail), postage prepaid, to the party, as the case may be, at its address set forth in Section 8.02 or at such other address of which the other party shall have been notified pursuant thereto;

(iv) agrees that nothing herein shall affect the right to effect service of process in any other manner permitted by law or shall limit the right to sue in any other jurisdiction for recognition and enforcement of any judgment or if jurisdiction in the courts referenced in the foregoing clause (i) are not available despite the intentions of the parties hereto;

(v) agrees that final judgment in any such suit, action or proceeding brought in such a court may be enforced in the courts of any jurisdiction to which such party is subject by a suit upon such judgment, provided that service of process is effected upon such party in the manner specified herein or as otherwise permitted by law;

(vi) agrees that to the extent that such party has or hereafter may acquire any immunity from jurisdiction of any court or from any legal process with respect to itself or its property, such party hereby irrevocably waives such immunity in respect of its obligations under this Agreement, to the extent permitted by law; and

(vii) irrevocably and unconditionally waives trial by jury in any legal action or proceeding in relation to this Agreement.

8.06 Assignment. None of the parties may assign its rights or obligations under this Agreement or designate another person (i) to perform all or part of its obligations under this Agreement or (ii) to have all or part of its rights and benefits under this Agreement, in each case without the prior written consent of (x) the Company, in the case of a Purchaser, and (y) the Purchasers, in the case of the Company, provided that a Purchaser may, without the prior consent of the Company, assign its rights to purchase the Securities hereunder to any of its Affiliates or to any other investment funds or accounts managed or advised by the investment manager who acts on behalf of such Purchaser (provided each such assignee agrees to be bound by the terms of this Agreement and makes the same representations and warranties set forth in Section 3). In the event of any assignment in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the assignee shall specifically assume and be bound by the provisions of this Agreement by executing a writing agreeing to be bound by and subject to the provisions of this Agreement and shall deliver an executed counterpart signature page to this Agreement and, notwithstanding such assumption or agreement to be bound hereby by an assignee, no such assignment shall relieve any party assigning any interest hereunder from its obligations or liability pursuant to this Agreement.

8.07 Confidential Information.

(a) Each Purchaser covenants that until such time as the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and any material non-public information provided to such Purchaser are publicly disclosed by the Company in accordance with Section 5.02 (or earlier termination of this Agreement), such Purchaser will maintain the confidentiality of all disclosures made to it in connection with this transaction (including the existence and terms of this transaction), other than to such Purchaser's outside attorney, accountant, auditor or investment advisor only to the extent necessary to permit evaluation of the investment, and the performance of the necessary or required tax, accounting, financial, legal, or administrative tasks and services and other than as may be required by law.

(b) The Company may request from the Purchasers such reasonable and customary additional information as the Company may deem necessary to evaluate the eligibility of a Purchaser to acquire the Securities, and such Purchaser shall promptly provide such information as may reasonably be requested to the extent readily available; provided, that the Company agrees to keep any such information provided by such Purchaser confidential, except (i) as required by the federal securities laws, rules or regulations and (ii) to the extent such disclosure is required by other laws, rules or regulations, at the request of the staff of the SEC or regulatory agency or under the regulations of Nasdaq. The Purchaser acknowledges that the Company (or Parent) may file a copy of this Agreement and the Registration Rights Agreement with the SEC as exhibits to a periodic report, current report or a registration statement of the Company.

8.08 Reliance by and Exculpation of Placement Agents.

(a) Each Purchaser agrees for the express benefit of each Placement Agent, its affiliates and its representatives that (i) it is not relying upon, and has not relied upon, any statement, representation or warranty made by the Placement Agents, any of their respective affiliates or any of their or their respective representatives, in making its investment or decision to invest in the Company, (ii) the Placement Agents are acting solely as placement agents in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby and are not acting as underwriters, initial purchasers, dealers or in any other such capacity and are not and shall not be construed as a fiduciary for such Purchaser, (iii) the Placement Agents, their respective affiliates and representatives have not made, and will not make any representations or warranties with respect to the Company or the offer and sale of the Securities or any other matter concerning the Company or the transactions contemplated hereby, and the Purchaser will not rely on any statements made by the Placement Agents, orally or in writing, to the contrary, (iv) the Purchaser will be responsible for conducting its own due diligence investigation with respect to the Company and the offer and sale of the Securities, (v) the Purchaser will be purchasing Securities based on the results of its own due diligence investigation of the Company and the Placement Agents and each of their respective directors, officers, employees, representatives, and controlling persons have made no independent investigation with respect to the Company, the Securities, or the accuracy, completeness, or adequacy of any information supplied to the Purchaser by the Company, (vi) the Purchaser has negotiated the offer and sale of the Securities directly with the Company, and the Placement Agents will not be responsible for the ultimate success of any such investment and (vii) the decision to invest in the Company will involve a significant degree of risk, including a risk of total loss of such investment. Each Purchaser further represents and warrants to the Placement Agents that it, including any fund or funds that it manages or advises that participates in the offer and sale of the Securities, is permitted under its constitutive documents (including, without limitation, all limited partnership agreements, charters, bylaws, limited liability company agreements, all applicable side letters with investors, and similar documents) to make investments of the type contemplated by this Agreement. This Section 8.08 shall survive any termination of this Agreement.

(b) The Company agrees and acknowledges that the Placement Agents may rely on its representations, warranties, agreements and covenants contained in this Agreement and each Purchaser agrees that the Placement Agents may rely on such Purchaser's representations and warranties contained in this Agreement as if such representations and warranties, as applicable, were made directly to the Placement Agents.

(c) Neither the Placement Agents nor any of their respective affiliates or representatives (1) shall be liable for any improper payment made in accordance with the information provided by the Company; (2) makes any representation or warranty, or has any responsibilities as to the validity, enforceability, accuracy, value or genuineness of any information, certificates or documentation delivered by or on behalf of the Company pursuant to this Agreement or in connection with any of the transactions contemplated herein; or (3) shall be liable (x) for any action taken, suffered or omitted by any of them in good faith and reasonably believed to be authorized or within the discretion or rights or powers conferred upon it by this Agreement or (y) for anything which any of them may do or refrain from doing in connection with this Agreement, except in each case for such party's own gross negligence or willful misconduct.

(d) The Company agrees that the Placement Agents, their respective affiliates and representatives shall be entitled to (1) rely on, and shall be protected in acting upon, any certificate, instrument, opinion, notice, letter or any other document or security delivered to any Purchaser by or on behalf of the Company, and (2) be indemnified by the Company for acting as the Placement Agents hereunder pursuant to the indemnification provisions set forth in the applicable letter agreement between the Company and the Placement Agents.

8.09 Third Parties. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer on any Person other than the parties to this Agreement any rights, remedies, claims, benefits, obligations or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, and no Person that is not a party to this Agreement (including, without limitation, any partner, member, shareholder, director, officer, employee or other beneficial owner of any party to this Agreement, in its own capacity as such or in bringing a derivative action on behalf of a party to this Agreement) shall have any standing as a third party beneficiary with respect to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, except as expressly set forth in this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) the Placement Agents are intended third-party beneficiaries of the representations and warranties of the each Purchaser and the Company set forth in Section 3, Section 4 and Section 6.01(c) and Section 8.08 respectively, of this Agreement and (ii) the Indemnified Persons are intended third-party beneficiaries of Section 5.10.

8.10 Independent Nature of Purchasers' Obligations and Right. The obligations of each Purchaser under this Agreement are several and not joint with the obligations of any other Purchaser, and no Purchaser shall be responsible in any way for the performance of the obligations of any other Purchaser under this Agreement. Nothing contained herein, and no action taken by any Purchaser pursuant hereto, shall be deemed to constitute the Purchasers as, and the Company acknowledges that the Purchasers do not so constitute, a partnership, an association, a joint venture or any other kind of entity, or create a presumption that the Purchasers are in any way acting in concert or as a group (including a "group" within the meaning of Section 13(d)(3) of the 1934 Act), and the Company will not assert any such claim with respect to such obligations or the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, and the Company acknowledges that the Purchasers are not acting in concert or as a group with respect to such obligations or the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Company acknowledges that, to its knowledge, the Purchasers are not acting in concert or as a group with respect to such obligations or the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. It is expressly understood that each provision contained in this Agreement is between the Company and a Purchaser, solely, and not between the Company and the Purchasers collectively and not between and among the Purchasers. The Company acknowledges and each Purchaser confirms that it has independently participated in the negotiation of the transaction contemplated hereby with the advice of its own counsel and advisors. Each Purchaser also acknowledges that Cooley LLP has not rendered legal advice to such Purchaser. Each Purchaser shall be entitled to independently protect and enforce its rights, including, without limitation, the rights arising out of this Agreement, and it shall not be necessary for any other Purchaser to be joined as an additional party in any proceeding for such purpose. The Company has elected to provide all Purchasers with the same terms for the convenience of the Company and not because it was required or requested to do so by any Purchaser.

8.11 Headings. The titles, subtitles and headings in this Agreement are for convenience of reference and shall not form part of, or affect the interpretation of, this Agreement.

8.12 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two or more identical counterparts, all of which shall be considered one and the same agreement and shall become effective when counterparts have been signed by each party and delivered to the other party; provided that a facsimile or pdf signature including any electronic signatures complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com shall be considered due execution and shall be binding upon the signatory thereto with the same force and effect as if the signature were an original, not a facsimile or pdf (or other electronic reproduction of a) signature.

8.13 Entire Agreement. This Agreement and the other agreements contemplated hereby (including all schedules and exhibits hereto and thereto), constitute the entire agreement between the parties hereto respecting the subject matter of this Agreement and supersedes all prior agreements, negotiations, understandings, representations and statements respecting the subject matter of this Agreement, whether written or oral.

8.14 Survival. The covenants, representations and warranties made by each party hereto contained in this Agreement shall survive the Closing and the delivery of the Securities in accordance with their respective terms. Each Purchaser shall be responsible only for its own representations, warranties, agreements and covenants hereunder.

8.15 Contract Interpretation. This Agreement is the joint product of each Purchaser and the Company and each provision of this Agreement has been subject to the mutual consultation, negotiation and agreement of such parties and shall not be construed for or against any party hereto.

8.16 Arm's Length Negotiations. For the avoidance of doubt, the parties acknowledge and confirm that the terms and conditions of the Securities were determined as a result of arm's-length negotiations.

8.17 Termination. This Agreement shall terminate and be void and of no further force and effect, and all obligations of the parties hereunder shall terminate without any further liability on the part of any party in respect thereof, upon the earlier to occur of (a) such date and time that the Merger Agreement is terminated in accordance with its terms, (b) upon the mutual written agreement of the Company and the Purchaser (provided that such termination shall not otherwise apply to the other Purchasers), (c) by the Company, if any of the conditions set forth in Section 6.02 shall have become incapable of fulfillment and shall not have been waived by the Company, (d) by a Purchaser, if any of the conditions set forth in Section 6.01 shall have become incapable of fulfillment and shall not have been waived by such Purchaser or (e) the Closing has not occurred by the six month anniversary of the Effective Date (or the 8 month anniversary of the Effective Date if the End Date is automatically extended per the terms of the Merger Agreement). The Company shall notify each Purchaser of any termination of the Merger Agreement as promptly as practicable after the termination thereof. Upon the termination hereof in accordance with this Section 8.17, any amounts paid by a Purchaser to the Company in connection with the transactions contemplated herein shall promptly (and in any event within one Business Day) be returned in full to such Purchaser by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the account specified by such Purchaser, without any deduction for or on account of any tax withholding, charges or set-off.

REGISTRATION RIGHTS AGREEMENT

THIS REGISTRATION RIGHTS AGREEMENT (this “Agreement”), dated as of [•], 2026, is entered into by and among Candid Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation, Rallybio Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the “Parent”), and the several investors signatory hereto (individually as a “Purchaser” and collectively together with their respective permitted assigns, the “Purchasers”). Capitalized terms used herein and not otherwise defined herein shall have the respective meanings set forth in the Subscription Agreement by and among the Company and the Purchasers, dated as of March 1, 2026 (as amended, restated, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time, the “Subscription Agreement”).

WHEREAS:

A. Upon the terms and subject to the conditions of the Subscription Agreement, the Company has agreed to issue to the Purchasers, and the Purchasers have agreed to purchase, severally and not jointly, an aggregate of up to $505,508,000 of shares (the “Shares”) of the Company’s common stock, par value $0.0001 per share (the “Common Stock”), pursuant to the Subscription Agreement.

B. The Company is party to that certain Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization by and among the Company, Farmington Merger Sub, Inc., and Parent, dated as of March 1, 2026 (the “Merger Agreement”), pursuant to which the Company will become a wholly-owned subsidiary of Parent (the “Merger”).

C. Following the Effective Time (as defined in the Merger Agreement), Parent will change its name to Candid Therapeutics, Inc. (“TopCo”);

D. To induce the Purchasers to enter into the Subscription Agreement, the Company has agreed to provide certain registration rights under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the rules and regulations thereunder, or any similar successor statute (collectively, the “1933 Act”), and applicable state securities laws.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the promises and the mutual covenants contained herein and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the Company and the Purchasers hereby agree as follows:

1. DEFINITIONS.

For purposes of this Agreement, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(a) “Company” means Candid Therapeutics, Inc. for all periods prior to the Effective Time (as defined in the Merger Agreement) and TopCo for all periods following the Effective Time.

(b) “Filing Deadline” means, with respect to the Initial Registration Statement required hereunder, the 30th calendar day following the Closing Date and, with respect to any New Registration Statements or other Registration Statement filed hereunder, the 21st calendar day following the later of (i) date on which the Company is permitted by SEC Guidance to file such New Registration Statement related to the Registrable Securities and (ii) the date on which the Company becomes aware of the necessity of filing such New Registration Statement related to the Registrable Securities.

(c) “Person” means any individual or entity including but not limited to any corporation, limited liability company, association, partnership, organization, business, individual, governmental or political subdivision thereof or a governmental agency.

(d) “Register,” “Registered,” and “Registration” refer to a registration effected by preparing and filing one or more registration statements of the Company in compliance with the 1933 Act and providing for offering securities on a continuous basis, and the declaration or ordering of effectiveness of such registration statement(s) by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”).

(e) “Registrable Securities” means (i) all shares of TopCo common stock issued to the Purchasers at the closing of the Merger and (ii) any TopCo common stock issued or issuable with respect to the foregoing as a result of any stock split or subdivision, stock dividend, recapitalization, exchange or similar event. Registrable Securities shall cease to be Registrable Securities (and the Company shall not be required to maintain the effectiveness of any, or file another, Registration Statement hereunder with respect thereto) upon the earliest to occur of (A) the date on which the Purchasers shall have resold all the Registrable Securities covered by the Registration Statement, (B) such Registrable Securities have been previously sold in accordance with Rule 144, (C) such securities become eligible for resale without volume or manner-of-sale restrictions pursuant to Rule 144 and without the requirement for the Company to be in compliance with the current public information requirement under Rule 144, (D) with respect to Registrable Securities held by a Purchaser that is not an affiliate of the Company, upon exchange of such Registrable Securities for unrestricted shares under an effective registration statement on Form S-4, if available and assuming any applicable legends (if any) are removed from such Registrable Securities in accordance with this Agreement, or if unavailable, another appropriate form filed with the SEC, and (E) five (5) years after the date of this Agreement.

(f) “Registration Expenses” means all registration and filing fee expenses incurred by the Company in effecting any registration pursuant to this Agreement, including (i) all registration, qualification, and filing fees, printing expenses, and any other fees and expenses associated with filings required to be made with the SEC, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. or any other regulatory authority, (ii) all fees and expenses in connection with compliance with or clearing the Registrable Securities for sale under any securities or “Blue Sky” laws, (iii) all printing, duplicating, word processing, messenger, telephone, facsimile and delivery expenses, and (iv) all fees and disbursements of counsel for the Company and of all independent certified public accountants of the Company (including the expenses of any special audit and cold comfort letters required by or incident to such performance); provided that in no event shall the Company be responsible for any underwriting, broker or similar fees or commissions of any Purchaser or, except to the extent provided for in the Subscription Agreement, any legal fees or other costs of the Purchasers.

(g) “Registration Statement” means any registration statement of the Company filed with, or to be filed with, the SEC under the 1933 Act, that Registers Registrable Securities, including the related preliminary or final prospectus, amendments and supplements to such registration statement, including pre- and post-effective amendments, and all exhibits and all material incorporated by reference in such registration statement as may be necessary to comply with applicable securities laws. “Registration Statement” shall also include a New Registration Statement, as amended when each became effective, including all documents filed as part thereof or incorporated by reference therein, and including any information contained in a prospectus subsequently filed with the SEC.

(h) “Required Purchasers” means the Purchasers holding a majority of the Registrable Securities outstanding from time to time, provided that such majority includes each Purchaser who initially purchased (together with its affiliates and affiliated funds) at least $25 million of Closing Shares (as defined in the Subscription Agreement) pursuant to the Subscription Agreement and continues to hold such number of Closing Shares at the relevant time, provided further that such Closing Shares are Registrable Securities at the relevant time.

(i) “SEC Guidance” means (i) any publicly-available written or oral guidance of the SEC staff, or any comments, requirements or requests of the SEC staff (whether or not publicly-available); provided, that any such oral guidance, comments, requirements or requests are reduced to writing by the SEC (and shared with the Purchasers upon request if not publicly-available) and (ii) the 1933 Act.

(j) “Selling Expenses” means all underwriting discounts and selling commissions applicable to the sale of Registrable Securities and all similar fees and commissions relating to a Purchaser’s disposition of its Registrable Securities, including any legal fees or other costs of such Purchaser.

2. REGISTRATION.

(a) Mandatory Registration. The Company shall, as promptly as reasonably practicable and in any event no later than the Filing Deadline, prepare and file with the SEC an initial Registration Statement (the “Initial Registration Statement”) covering the resale of all of the Registrable Securities. Before filing any Registration Statement, the Company shall furnish to the Purchasers a copy of the Registration Statement. The Purchasers and their respective counsel shall have at least three (3) Business Days prior to the anticipated filing date of a Registration Statement to review and comment upon such Registration Statement and any amendment or supplement to such Registration Statement and any related prospectus (including any documents incorporated by reference therein), prior to its filing with the SEC. Subject to any SEC comments, such Registration Statement shall include the plan of distribution substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. The Company shall (a) consider in good faith any comments as the Purchaser or its counsel may reasonably propose to such document prior to being so filed with the SEC, and (b) not file any Registration Statement or related prospectus or any amendment or supplement thereto containing information regarding the Purchaser to which such Purchaser reasonably (x) objects or (y) believes contains untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, unless such information is required (in the good faith opinion of the Company) to comply with any applicable law or regulation or SEC Guidance. Each Purchaser shall furnish all information with respect to such Purchaser reasonably requested by the Company and as shall be reasonably required in connection with any registration referred to in this Agreement.

(b) Effectiveness. The Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to have the Initial Registration Statement and any amendment declared effective by the SEC at the earliest possible date but no later than the earlier of (a) the seventy-fifth (75th) calendar day following the initial filing date of the Initial Registration Statement if the SEC notifies the Company that it will “review” the Initial Registration Statement and (b) the fifth (5th) Business Day after the date the Company is notified (orally or in writing, whichever is earlier) by the SEC that the Initial Registration Statement will not be “reviewed” or will not be subject to further review (the “Effectiveness Deadline”). The Company shall notify the Purchaser by e-mail as promptly as practicable, and in any event, within twenty-four (24) hours, after the Registration Statement is declared effective or is supplemented and shall provide the Purchaser with copies of any related prospectus to be used in connection with the sale or other disposition of the securities covered thereby. The Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to keep the Initial Registration Statement continuously effective pursuant to Rule 415 promulgated under the 1933 Act and available for the resale by the Purchasers of all of the Registrable Securities covered thereby at all times until the earliest to occur of the following events: (i) the date on which the Purchasers shall have resold all the Registrable Securities covered thereby; (ii) the date on which the Registrable Securities may be resold by the Purchasers without registration and without regard to any volume or manner-of-sale limitations by reason of Rule 144, and without the requirement for the Company to be in compliance with the current public information requirement under Rule 144 under the 1933 Act or any other rule of similar effect and (iii) five (5) years after the date of this Agreement (the “Registration Period”). The Initial Registration Statement (including any amendments or supplements thereto and prospectuses contained therein) shall not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact required to be stated therein, or necessary to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances in which they were made, not misleading.

(c) Sufficient Number of Shares Registered. In the event the number of shares available under the Initial Registration Statement at any time is insufficient to cover the Registrable Securities, the Company shall, to the extent necessary and permissible, amend the Initial Registration Statement or file a new registration statement (together with any prospectuses or prospectus supplements thereunder, a “New Registration Statement”), so as to cover all of such Registrable Securities as soon as reasonably practicable, but in any event not later than the Filing Deadline. The Company shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to have such amendment and/or New Registration Statement become effective as soon as reasonably practicable following the filing thereof but no later than the earlier of the (i) seventy-fifth (75th) calendar day following the initial filing date of the New Registration Statement if the SEC notifies the Company that it will “review” the New Registration Statement and (ii) the fifth (5th) Business Day after the date the Company is notified (orally or in writing, whichever is earlier) by the SEC that the New Registration Statement will not be “reviewed” or will not be subject to further review (the earlier of such dates, the “New Registration Effectiveness Deadline”). The provisions of Sections 2(a) and 2(b) shall apply to the New Registration Statement, except as modified hereby.

(d) Allowable Delays. On no more than two (2) occasions in any twelve (12)-month period for not more than thirty (30) consecutive days or for a total of not more than sixty (60) days, the Company may delay the effectiveness of the Initial Registration Statement or any other Registration Statement, or suspend the use of any prospectus included in any Registration Statement, in the event that the Company’s Board of Directors reasonably determines, in good faith and upon advice of legal counsel, that such delay or suspension is necessary to (A) delay the disclosure by the Company in the Registration Statement of material non-public information that the Company has a bona fide business purpose for preserving as confidential and the non-disclosure of which at the time is not, in the good faith opinion of the Company’s Board of Directors, in the best interests of the Company, or (B) amend or supplement the affected Registration Statement or the related prospectus so that such Registration Statement or prospectus shall not include an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein, in the case of the prospectus in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading (an “Allowed Delay”); provided, that the Company shall promptly (a) notify each Purchaser in writing (email being sufficient) of the commencement of an Allowed Delay, but shall not (without the prior written consent of a Purchaser) disclose to such Purchaser any material non-public information giving rise to an Allowed Delay, (b) advise the Purchasers in writing to cease all sales under the applicable Registration Statement until the end of the Allowed Delay and (c) use commercially reasonable efforts to terminate an Allowed Delay as promptly as practicable. Each Purchaser may deliver written notice (an “Opt-Out Notice”) to the Company requesting that such Purchaser not receive notices from the Company otherwise required by this Section 2(d); provided, however, that such Purchaser may later revoke any such Opt-Out Notice in writing, which shall be effective five (5) Business Days after the receipt thereof. Following receipt of an Opt-Out Notice from a Purchaser (unless subsequently revoked), the Company shall not deliver any notices pursuant to this Section 2(d) to such Purchaser and such Purchaser shall no longer be entitled to the rights associated with any such notice.

(e) Rule 415: Cutback. If at any time the SEC takes the position that the offering of some or all of the Registrable Securities in any Registration Statement is not eligible to be made on a delayed or continuous basis under the provisions of Rule 415 under the 1933 Act (provided, however, the Company shall be obligated to use commercially reasonable efforts to advocate with the SEC for the registration of all of the Registrable Securities) or requires any Purchaser to be named as an “underwriter,” the Company shall (i) promptly notify each holder of Registrable Securities thereof and (ii) make commercially reasonable efforts to persuade the SEC that the offering contemplated by such Registration Statement is a valid secondary offering and not an offering “by or on behalf of the issuer” as defined in Rule 415 and that none of the Purchasers is an “underwriter.” Each Purchaser shall have the right to have its legal counsel, at such Purchaser’s expense, to review and oversee any registration or matters pursuant to this Section 2(e), including to comment on any written submission made to the SEC with respect thereto. In the event that, despite the Company’s commercially reasonable efforts and compliance with the terms of this Section 2(e), the SEC refuses to alter its position, the Company shall (i) remove from such Registration Statement such portion of the Registrable Securities and/or (ii) agree to such restrictions and limitations on the registration and resale of the Registrable Securities as the SEC may require to assure the Company’s compliance with the requirements of Rule 415 (collectively, the “SEC Restrictions”); provided, however, that the Company shall not name any Purchaser as an “underwriter” in such Registration Statement without the prior written consent of such Purchaser (provided that, in the event a Purchaser withholds such consent, the Company shall have no obligation hereunder to include any Registrable Securities of such Purchaser in any Registration Statement covering the resale thereof until such time as the SEC no longer requires such Purchaser to be named as an “underwriter” in such Registration Statement or such Purchaser otherwise consents in writing to being so named). Any cut-back imposed on the Purchasers pursuant to this Section 2(e) shall be applied first to any of the Registrable Securities of a Purchaser that the SEC has indicated cannot be included or must be limited in the number of Registrable Securities that can be included, and thereafter shall be allocated among the Purchasers on a pro rata basis, unless the SEC Restrictions otherwise require or provides otherwise, or a Purchaser otherwise agrees.

(f) Each Registration Statement filed hereunder shall be on Form S-3 (except if the Company is not then eligible to register for resale the Registrable Securities on Form S-3, in which case such registration shall be on another form in accordance with the provisions of this Section 2(f)). If Form S-3 is not available for the registration of the resale of Registrable Securities hereunder, the Company shall (i) register the resale of the Registrable Securities on another appropriate form and (ii) undertake to register the Registrable Securities on Form S-3 as soon as such form is available, provided that the Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts maintain the effectiveness of the Registration Statement then in effect until such time as a Registration Statement on Form S-3 covering the Registrable Securities has been declared effective by the SEC.

3. RELATED COMPANY OBLIGATIONS.

With respect to the Registration Statement and whenever any Registrable Securities are to be Registered pursuant to Section 2, including on the Initial Registration Statement or on any New Registration Statement, the Company shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to effect the registration of the Registrable Securities in accordance with the intended method of disposition thereof and, pursuant thereto, the Company shall have the following obligations:

(a) Notifications. The Company will promptly notify the Purchasers of the time when any subsequent amendment to the Initial Registration Statement or any New Registration Statement, other than documents incorporated by reference, has been filed with the SEC and/or has become effective or where a receipt has been issued therefor or any subsequent supplement to a prospectus has been filed and of any request by the SEC for any amendment or supplement to the Registration Statement, any New Registration Statement or any prospectus or for additional information regarding the Purchaser.

(b) Amendments. The Company will prepare and file with the SEC any amendments, post-effective amendments or supplements to the Initial Registration Statement, any New Registration Statement or any related prospectus, as applicable, that, (a) as may be necessary to keep such Registration Statement effective for the Registration Period and to comply with the provisions of the 1933 Act and the 1934 Act with respect to the distribution of all of the Registrable Securities covered thereby, or (b) in the reasonable opinion of a Purchaser and the Company, as may be necessary or advisable in connection with any acquisition or sale of Registrable Securities by the Purchasers at least (1) Business Day prior to filing.

(c) Purchaser Review. The Company will not file any amendment or supplement to the Registration Statement, any New Registration Statement or any prospectus, other than documents incorporated by reference, relating to any Purchaser, the Registrable Securities or the transactions contemplated hereby unless (A) the Purchaser and its counsel shall have been advised and afforded the opportunity to review and comment thereon at least three (3) Business Days prior to filing with the SEC and (B) the Company shall have given good faith consideration to any comments thereon received from the Purchaser or its counsel.

(d) Copies Available. The Company will furnish to any Purchaser whose Registrable Securities are included in any Registration Statement and its counsel copies of the Initial Registration Statement, any prospectus thereunder (including all documents incorporated by reference therein), any prospectus supplement thereunder, any New Registration Statement and all amendments to the Initial Registration Statement or any New Registration Statement that are filed with the SEC during the Registration Period (including all documents filed with or furnished to the SEC during such period that are deemed to be incorporated by reference therein), each letter written by or on behalf of the Company to the SEC or the staff of the SEC, and each item of correspondence from the SEC or the staff of the SEC, in each case relating to such Registration Statement (other than any portion thereof which contains information for which the Company has sought confidential treatment) and such other documents as Purchaser may reasonably request in order to facilitate the disposition of the Registrable Securities owned by such Purchaser that are covered by such Registration Statement, in each case as soon as reasonably practicable upon such Purchaser's request and in such quantities as such Purchaser may from time to time reasonably request; provided, however, that the Company shall not be required to furnish any document to the Purchaser to the extent such document is available on EDGAR.

(e) Notification of Stop Orders; Material Changes. The Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to (i) prevent the issuance of any stop order or other suspension of effectiveness and, (ii) if such order is issued, obtain the withdrawal of any such order as soon as practicable. The Company shall advise the Purchasers promptly (but in no event later than 24 hours) and shall confirm such advice in writing, in each case: (1) of the Company's receipt of notice of any request by the SEC or any other federal or state governmental authority for amendment of or a supplement to the Registration Statement or any prospectus or for any additional information; (2) of the Company's receipt of notice of the issuance by the SEC or any other federal or state governmental authority of any stop order suspending the effectiveness of the Initial Registration Statement or prohibiting or suspending the use of any prospectus or prospectus supplement, or any New Registration Statement, or of the Company's receipt of any notification of the suspension of qualification of the Registrable Securities for offering or sale in any jurisdiction or the initiation or contemplated initiation of any proceeding for such purpose; and (3) of the Company becoming aware of the happening of any event, which makes any statement of a material fact made in any Registration Statement or any prospectus untrue or which requires the making of any additions to or changes to the statements then made in any Registration Statement or any prospectus in order to state a material fact required by the 1933 Act to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements then made therein (in the case of any prospectus, in light of the circumstances under which they were made) not misleading, or of the necessity to amend any Registration Statement or any prospectus to comply with the 1933 Act or any other law. The Company shall not be required to disclose to the Purchasers (and shall not so disclose to any Purchaser without such Purchaser's prior written consent) the substance of specific reasons of any of the events set forth in clauses (1) through (3) of the immediately preceding sentence and shall not provide any material non-public information to the Purchasers in such notice (each, a "Suspension Event"), but rather, shall only be required to disclose that the event has occurred. If at any time the SEC, or any other federal or state governmental authority shall issue any stop order suspending the effectiveness of any Registration Statement or prohibiting or suspending the use of any prospectus or prospectus supplement, the Company shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to obtain the withdrawal of such order at the earliest practicable time. The Company shall furnish to any Purchaser, upon request, without charge, a copy of any correspondence from the SEC or the staff of the SEC, or any other federal or state governmental authority to the Company or its representatives relating to the Initial Registration Statement, any New Registration Statement or any prospectus, or prospectus supplement as the case may be. In the event of a Suspension Event set forth in clause (3) of the second sentence of this Section 3(e), the Company will use its commercially reasonable efforts to publicly disclose such event as soon as reasonably practicable, or otherwise resolve the matter such that sales under Registration Statements may resume.

(f) Confirmation of Effectiveness. If reasonably requested by a Purchaser at any time in respect of any Registration Statement, the Company shall deliver to such Purchaser a written confirmation (email being sufficient) from Company's counsel of whether or not the effectiveness of such Registration Statement has lapsed at any time for any reason (including, without limitation, the issuance of a stop order) and whether or not such Registration Statement is currently effective and available to the Company for sale of Registrable Securities.

(g) Listing. The Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cause all Registrable Securities covered by a Registration Statement to be listed on the Nasdaq Stock Market and any other National Exchange upon which the Registrable Securities are then listed.

(h) Compliance. The Company shall otherwise use commercially reasonable efforts to comply with all applicable rules and regulations of the SEC under the 1933 Act and the 1934 Act, including, without limitation, Rule 172 under the 1933 Act, file any final prospectus, including any supplement or amendment thereof, with the SEC pursuant to Rule 424 under the 1933 Act, promptly inform the Purchaser in writing if, at any time during the Registration Period, the Company does not satisfy the conditions specified in Rule 172 and, as a result thereof, the Purchaser is required to deliver a prospectus in connection with any disposition of Registrable Securities and take such other actions as may be reasonably necessary to facilitate the registration of the Registrable Securities hereunder, and make available to its security holders, as soon as reasonably practicable, but not later than the Availability Date (as defined below), an earnings statement covering a period of at least twelve (12) months, beginning after the effective date of each Registration Statement, which earnings statement shall satisfy the provisions of Section 11(a) of the 1933 Act, including Rule 158 promulgated thereunder (for the purpose of this Section 3\(h\)). “Availability Date” means the forty-fifth (45th) day following the end of the fourth (4th) fiscal quarter that includes the effective date of such Registration Statement, except that, if such fourth (4th) fiscal quarter is the last quarter of the Company’s fiscal year, “Availability Date” means the ninetieth (90th) day after the end of such fourth (4th) fiscal quarter).

(i) Blue-Sky. The Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to register or qualify or cooperate with a Purchaser and its counsel in connection with the registration or qualification of such Registrable Securities for the offer and sale under the securities or blue sky laws of such jurisdictions reasonably requested by such Purchaser; provided, however, that the Company shall not be required in connection therewith or as a condition thereto to (i) qualify to do business in any jurisdiction where it would not otherwise be required to qualify but for this Section 3\(i\), (ii) subject itself to general taxation in any jurisdiction where it would not otherwise be so subject but for this Section 3\(i\), or (iii) file a general consent to service of process in any such jurisdiction.

(j) Rule 144. With a view to making available to the Purchasers the benefits of Rule 144 (or its successor rule) and any other rule or regulation of the SEC that may at any time permit the Purchasers to sell shares of TopCo common stock to the public without registration, for so long as any Registrable Securities are outstanding, the Company covenants and agrees to use commercially reasonable efforts to: (i) make and keep adequate current public information available, as those terms are understood and defined in Rule 144; (ii) file with the SEC in a timely manner all reports and other documents required of the Company under the 1934 Act; and (iii) furnish electronically to each Purchaser upon request, as long as such Purchaser owns any Registrable Securities, (A) a written statement by the Company that it has complied with the reporting requirements of the 1934 Act, (B) a copy of or electronic access to the Company’s most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K or Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, and (C) such other information as may be reasonably requested in order to avail such Purchaser of any rule or regulation of the SEC that permits the selling of any such Registrable Securities without registration.

(k) Cooperation. The Company shall cooperate with the holders of the Registrable Securities to facilitate the timely preparation and delivery of certificates or uncertificated shares representing the Registrable Securities to be sold pursuant to such Registration Statement or Rule 144 free of any restrictive legends and representing such number of shares of Common Stock and registered in such names as the holders of the Registrable Securities may reasonably request in accordance with the provisions of the Subscription Agreement, and the Company may satisfy its obligations hereunder without issuing physical stock certificates through the use of The Depository Trust Company’s Direct Registration System.

(l) Removal of Restrictive Legends. Without limiting Section 5.09 of the Subscription Agreement, the Company shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the Company’s transfer agent to remove any restrictive legend from any Registrable Securities, as promptly as practicable following effectiveness of the applicable Registration Statement.

4. OBLIGATIONS OF THE PURCHASERS.

(a) Purchaser Information. Each Purchaser shall provide a completed Investor Questionnaire in the form attached hereto as Exhibit B or such other form of questionnaire or information reasonably required by the Company in connection with the registration of the Registrable Securities within three (3) Business Days of request by the Company and no later than the end of the third (3rd) Business Day following the date on which such Purchaser receives draft materials in accordance with Section 2(a).

(b) Suspension of Sales. Each Purchaser, severally and not jointly with any other Purchaser, agrees that, upon receipt of any notice from the Company of the existence of an Allowed Delay or Suspension Event, the Purchaser will promptly discontinue disposition of Registrable Securities pursuant to any Registration Statement covering such Registrable Securities until the Purchaser's receipt of a notice from the Company confirming the resolution of such Allowed Delay or Suspension Event and that such dispositions may again be made; provided, for the avoidance of doubt, that the foregoing shall not limit the right of a Purchaser to sell or otherwise dispose of the Registrable Securities pursuant to Rule 144 or any other exemption from the registration requirements of the 1933 Act or to settle a transaction pursuant to a Registration Statement as to which a contract for such sale was entered into prior to such Purchaser's receipt of the notice from the Company of the existence of the Allowed Delay or Suspension Event. The Company shall cause its transfer agent to deliver unlegended shares of Common Stock to a transferee of a Purchaser in accordance with any sale of Registrable Securities pursuant to a Registration Statement with respect to which such Purchaser has entered into a contract for sale prior to such Purchaser's receipt of the notice from the Company of the existence of the Allowed Delay or Suspension Event.

(c) Purchaser Cooperation. Each Purchaser, severally and not jointly with any other Purchaser, agrees to cooperate with the Company as reasonably requested by the Company in connection with the preparation and filing of any amendments and supplements to any Registration Statement or New Registration Statement hereunder, unless such Purchaser has notified the Company in writing of its election to exclude all of its Registrable Securities from such Registration Statement.

5. EXPENSES OF REGISTRATION.

All Registration Expenses incurred in connection with registrations pursuant to this Agreement shall be borne by the Company. All Selling Expenses relating to securities registered on behalf of a Purchaser shall be borne by such Purchaser.

6. INDEMNIFICATION.

(a) To the fullest extent permitted by law, the Company will, and hereby does, indemnify, hold harmless and defend each Purchaser, each Person, if any, who controls each Purchaser, the members, shareholders, directors, officers, partners, employees, members, managers, agents, representatives and advisors of each Purchaser and each Person, if any, who controls each Purchaser within the meaning of the 1933 Act or the 1934 Act (each, an "Indemnified Person"), against any losses, obligation, claims, damages, liabilities, contingencies, judgments, fines, penalties, charges and costs (including, without limitation, court costs and costs of preparation, reasonable and documented attorneys' fees, amounts paid in settlement (with the prior consent of the Company, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed) or reasonable and documented expenses (collectively, "Indemnified Damages")) reasonably incurred in investigating, preparing or defending any action, claim, suit, inquiry, proceeding, investigation or appeal taken from the foregoing by or before any court or governmental, administrative or other regulatory agency or body or the SEC, whether pending or threatened, whether or not an indemnified party is or may be a party thereto ("Claims"), to which any of them may become subject insofar as such Claims arise out of or are based upon: (i) any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement or omission or alleged omission of any material fact contained in any Registration Statement or (ii) any violation or alleged violation by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries of the 1933 Act,

1934 Act or any other state securities or other “blue sky” laws of any jurisdiction in which Registrable Securities are offered or any rule or regulation promulgated thereunder applicable to the Company or its agents and relating to action or inaction required of the Company in connection with such registration of the Registrable Securities (the matters in the foregoing clauses (i) and (ii) being, collectively, “Violations”). The Company shall reimburse each Indemnified Person promptly as such Indemnified Damages are incurred and are due and payable in connection with investigating or defending any such Claim. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the indemnification agreement contained in this Section 6\(a\): (A) shall not apply to a Claim by an Indemnified Person arising out of or based upon a Violation which occurs in reliance upon and in conformity with information furnished in writing to the Company by the Purchaser or such Indemnified Person specifically for use in such Registration Statement and was reviewed and approved in writing by such Purchaser or such Indemnified Person expressly for use in connection with the preparation of any Registration Statement; (B) with respect to any superseded prospectus, shall not inure to the benefit of any such Person from whom the Person asserting any such Claim purchased the Registrable Securities that are the subject thereof (or to the benefit of any other Indemnified Person) if the untrue statement or omission of material fact contained in the superseded prospectus was corrected in the revised prospectus, as then amended or supplemented, and the Indemnified Person was promptly advised in writing not to use the outdated, defective or incorrect prospectus prior to the use giving rise to a Violation; (C) shall not be available to the extent such Claim is based on a failure of the Indemnified Person to deliver, or cause to be delivered, if required the prospectus to the Persons asserting an untrue statement or omission or alleged untrue statement or omission at or prior to the written confirmation of the sale of Registrable Securities; and (D) shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any Claim if such settlement is effected without the prior written consent of the Company, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. Such indemnity shall remain in full force and effect regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of the Indemnified Person and shall survive the transfer of the Registrable Securities by the Purchaser pursuant to Section 8.

(b) In connection with the Initial Registration Statement, any New Registration Statement or any prospectus, each Purchaser, severally and not jointly, agree to indemnify, hold harmless and defend, the Company, each of its directors and officers who signed the Initial Registration Statement or signs any New Registration Statement, and each Person, if any, who controls the Company within the meaning of the 1933 Act or the 1934 Act (each, an “Indemnified Party”), against any losses, claims, damages, liabilities and expense (including reasonable attorney fees) resulting from (i) any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement or omission or alleged omission of any material fact contained in any Registration Statement or (ii) any Violation or alleged Violation by the Purchaser of its obligations under this Agreement, in each case to the extent, and only to the extent, that such Violation occurs in reliance upon and in conformity with information about the relevant Purchaser furnished in writing by such Purchaser to the Company expressly for use in connection with the preparation of the Registration Statement, any New Registration Statement, any prospectus or any such amendment thereof or supplement thereto. In no event shall the liability of a Purchaser be greater in amount than the dollar amount of the proceeds (net of all expense paid by such Purchaser in connection with any claim relating to this Section 6 and the amount of any damages such Purchaser has otherwise been required to pay by reason of such untrue statement or omission) received by such Purchaser upon the sale of the Registrable Securities included in such Registration Statement giving rise to such indemnification obligation. Such indemnity shall remain in full force and effect regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of such Indemnified Party and shall survive the transfer of the Registrable Securities by a Purchaser pursuant to Section 8.

(c) Promptly after receipt by an Indemnified Person or Indemnified Party under this Section 6 of notice of the commencement of any action or proceeding (including any governmental action or proceeding) involving a Claim, such Indemnified Person or Indemnified Party shall, if a Claim in respect thereof is to be made against any indemnifying party under this Section 6, deliver to the indemnifying party a written notice of the commencement thereof, and the indemnifying party shall have the right to participate in, and, to the extent the indemnifying party so desires, jointly with any other indemnifying party similarly noticed, to assume control of the defense thereof with counsel mutually satisfactory to the indemnifying party and the Indemnified Person or the Indemnified Party, as the case may be, and upon such notice, the indemnifying party shall not be liable to the Indemnified Person or the Indemnified Party for any legal or other expenses subsequently incurred by the Indemnified Person or the Indemnified Party in connection with the defense thereof; provided, however, that an Indemnified Person or Indemnified Party (together with all other Indemnified Persons and Indemnified Parties that may be represented without conflict by one counsel) shall have the right to retain its own counsel with the reasonable fees and expenses to be paid by the indemnifying party, if, in the reasonable opinion of counsel retained by the indemnifying party, the representation by such counsel of the Indemnified Person or Indemnified Party and the indemnifying party would be inappropriate due to actual or potential differing interests between such Indemnified Person or Indemnified Party and any other party represented by such counsel in such proceeding. The Indemnified Party or Indemnified Person shall cooperate with the indemnifying party in connection with any negotiation or defense of any such action or claim by the indemnifying party and shall furnish to the indemnifying party all information reasonably available to the Indemnified Party or Indemnified Person which relates to such action or claim. The indemnifying party shall keep the Indemnified Party or Indemnified Person fully apprised as to the status of the defense or any settlement negotiations with respect thereto. No indemnifying party shall be liable for any settlement of any action, claim or proceeding effected without its written consent, provided, however, that the indemnifying party shall not unreasonably withhold, delay or condition its consent. No indemnifying party shall, without the consent of the Indemnified Party or Indemnified Person, consent to entry of any judgment or enter into any settlement or other compromise unless such judgment or settlement (i) imposes no liability or obligation on, (ii) includes as an unconditional term thereof the giving of a complete, explicit and unconditional release from the party bringing such indemnified claims of all liability of the Indemnified Party or Indemnified Person in respect to or arising out of such claim or litigation in favor of, and (iii) does not include any admission of fault, culpability, wrongdoing, or wrongdoing or malfeasance by or on behalf of, the Indemnified Party or Indemnified Person. Following indemnification as provided for hereunder, the indemnifying party shall be subrogated to all rights of the Indemnified Party or Indemnified Person with respect to all third parties, firms or corporations relating to the matter for which indemnification has been made. The failure to deliver written notice to the indemnifying party within a reasonable time of the commencement of any such action shall not relieve such indemnifying party of any liability to the Indemnified Person or Indemnified Party under this Section 6, except to the extent that the indemnifying party is prejudiced in its ability to defend such action.

(d) The indemnification required by this Section 6 shall be made by periodic payments of the amount thereof during the course of the investigation or defense, as and when bills are received or Indemnified Damages are incurred. Any Person receiving a payment pursuant to this Section 6 which person is later determined to not be entitled to such payment shall return such payment (including reimbursement of expenses) to the person making it.

(e) The indemnity agreements contained herein shall be in addition to (i) any cause of action or similar right of the Indemnified Party or Indemnified Person against the indemnifying party or others, and (ii) any liabilities the indemnifying party may be subject to pursuant to the law.

7. CONTRIBUTION.

To the extent any indemnification by an indemnifying party is prohibited or limited by law, the indemnifying party agrees to make the maximum contribution with respect to any amounts for which it would otherwise be liable under Section 6 to the fullest extent permitted by law; provided, however, that: (i) no seller of Registrable Securities guilty of fraudulent misrepresentation (within the meaning of Section 11(f) of the 1933 Act) shall be entitled to contribution from any seller of Registrable Securities who was not guilty of fraudulent misrepresentation; and (ii) contribution by any seller of Registrable Securities shall be limited in amount to the net amount of proceeds (net of all expenses paid by such holder in connection with any claim relating to this Section 7 and the amount of any damages such holder has otherwise been required to pay by reason of such untrue or alleged untrue statement or omission or alleged omission) received by such seller from the sale of such Registrable Securities giving rise to such contribution obligation.

8. ASSIGNMENT OF REGISTRATION RIGHTS.

The Company shall not assign this Agreement or any rights or obligations hereunder (whether by operation of law or otherwise) without the prior written consent of the Purchasers holding a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding (voting together as a single class); provided, however, that in any transaction, whether by merger, reorganization, restructuring, consolidation, financing or otherwise, whereby the Company is a party and in which the Registrable Securities are converted into the equity securities of another Person, from and after the effective time of such transaction, such Person shall, by virtue of such transaction, be deemed to have assumed the obligations of the Company hereunder, the term “Company” shall be deemed to refer to such Person and the term “Registrable Securities” shall be deemed to include the securities received by the Purchaser in connection with such transaction unless such securities are otherwise freely tradable by the Purchaser after giving effect to such transaction, and the prior written consent of the Purchasers holding a majority of the Registrable Securities then outstanding shall not be required for such transaction. No Purchaser may assign its rights under this Agreement, other than to an affiliate of such Purchaser or to any other investment funds or accounts managed or advised by the investment manager who acts on behalf of the Purchaser, without the prior written consent of the Company. The provisions of this Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Purchaser and its successors and permitted assigns.

9. AMENDMENTS AND WAIVERS.

The provisions of this Agreement, including the provisions of this sentence, may be amended, modified or supplemented, or waived only by a written instrument executed by (i) the Company and (ii) the Required Purchasers, provided that (i) any party may give a waiver as to itself, (ii) any amendment, modification, supplement or waiver that disproportionately and adversely affects the rights and obligations of any Purchaser relative to the comparable rights and obligations of the other Purchasers shall require the prior written consent of such adversely affected Purchaser or each Purchaser, as applicable, and (iii) any amendments to Section 6 or to the definitions of “Filing Deadline,” “Effectiveness Deadline,” “New Registration Effectiveness Deadline” or “Registration Period” shall require the written consent of each Purchaser. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a waiver or consent to depart from the provisions hereof with respect to a matter that relates exclusively to the rights of one or more Purchasers and that does not adversely directly or indirectly affect the rights of other Purchasers may be given by Purchasers holding a majority of the Registrable Securities to which such waiver or consent relates.

10. MISCELLANEOUS.

(a) Notices. All notices, requests, consents, and other communications under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed delivered (a) when delivered, if delivered personally, (b) four (4) Business Days after being sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, (c) one (1) Business Day after being sent via a reputable nationwide overnight courier service guaranteeing next Business Day delivery, or (d) when delivered, in the case of email, in each case to the intended recipient as set forth below, with respect to the Company, and to the addresses set forth in Schedule I to the Subscription Agreement.

or at such other address as the Company or each Purchaser may specify by written notice to the other parties hereto in accordance with this Section 8.02.

(b) No Waiver. No failure or delay on the part of either party hereto in the exercise of any power, right or privilege under this Agreement shall operate as a waiver thereof, nor shall any single or partial exercise of any such power, right or privilege preclude any other or further exercise thereof or of any other right, power or privilege.

(c) Governing Law; Submission to Jurisdiction; Venue; Waiver of Trial by Jury. The provisions of Section 8.05 of the Subscription Agreement are incorporated by reference herein mutatis mutandis.

(d) Entire Agreement. This Agreement, the Subscription Agreement and any other agreement contemplated hereby or thereby (including all schedules and exhibits hereto and thereto) constitute the entire agreement between the parties hereto respecting the subject matter hereof and thereof and supersedes all prior agreements, negotiations, understandings, representations and statements respecting the subject matter hereof and thereof, whether written or oral.

(e) Headings. The titles, subtitles and headings in this Agreement are for convenience of reference and shall not form part of, or affect the interpretation of, this Agreement.

(f) Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two or more identical counterparts, all of which shall be considered one and the same agreement and shall become effective when counterparts have been signed by each party and delivered to the other party; provided that a facsimile or pdf signature including any electronic signatures complying with the U.S. federal E-SIGN Act of 2000, e.g., www.docusign.com shall be considered due execution and shall be binding upon the signatory thereto with the same force and effect as if the signature were an original, not a facsimile or pdf (or other electronic reproduction of a) signature.

(g) Further Assurances. Each party shall do and perform, or cause to be done and performed, all such further acts and things, and shall execute and deliver all such other agreements, certificates, instruments and documents as the other party may reasonably request in order to carry out the intent and accomplish the purposes of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby.

(h) Contract Interpretation. This Agreement is the joint product of each Purchaser and the Company and each provision hereof has been subject to the mutual consultation, negotiation and agreement of such parties and shall not be construed for or against any party hereto.

(i) No Third-Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement is intended for the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective permitted successors and assigns, and is not for the benefit of, nor may any provision hereof be enforced by, any other Person except as expressly provided in this Agreement. Except as set forth in Sections 6, 7 and 8, nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to confer upon any party other than the parties hereto or their respective successors and assigns any rights, remedies, obligations, or liabilities under or by reason of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement.

(j) Severability. If any part or provision of this Agreement is held unenforceable or in conflict with the applicable laws or regulations of any jurisdiction, the invalid or unenforceable part or provisions shall be replaced with a provision which accomplishes, to the extent possible, the original business purpose of such part or provision in a valid and enforceable manner, and the remainder of this Agreement shall remain binding upon the parties hereto.

(k) Non-Recourse. Notwithstanding anything that may be expressed or implied in this Agreement, the Company covenants, agrees and acknowledges that no recourse under this Agreement or any documents or instruments delivered in connection with this Agreement shall be had against any current or future director, officer, employee, stockholder, general or limited partner or member of any Purchaser or of any affiliates or assignees thereof, whether by the enforcement of any assessment or by any legal or equitable proceeding, or by virtue of any statute, regulation or other applicable law, it being expressly agreed and acknowledged that no personal liability whatsoever shall attach to, be imposed on or otherwise be incurred by any current or future director, officer, employee, stockholder, general or limited partner or member of any Purchaser or of any affiliates or assignees thereof, as such for any obligation of any Purchaser under this Agreement or any documents or instruments delivered in connection with this Agreement for any claim based on, in respect of or by reason of such obligations or their creation.

(l) Specific Performance. In addition to any and all other remedies that may be available at law in the event of any breach of this Agreement, each Purchaser shall be entitled to seek specific performance of the agreements and obligations of the Company hereunder and to such other injunction or equitable relief as may be granted by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(m) Cumulative Remedies. The remedies provided herein are cumulative and not exclusive of any remedies provided by law.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The selling stockholders, which as used herein includes donees, pledgees, transferees or other successors-in-interest selling shares of common stock or interests in shares of common stock received after the date of this prospectus from a selling stockholder as a gift, pledge, partnership distribution or other transfer, may, from time to time, sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of any or all of their shares of common stock or interests in shares of common stock on any stock exchange, market or trading facility on which the shares are traded or in private transactions. These dispositions may be at fixed prices, at prevailing market prices at the time of sale, at prices related to the prevailing market price, at varying prices determined at the time of sale, or at negotiated prices.

The selling stockholders may use any one or more of the following methods when disposing of shares or interests therein:

- distributions to members, partners, stockholders or other equityholders of the selling stockholders;
- ordinary brokerage transactions and transactions in which the broker-dealer solicits purchasers;
- block trades in which the broker-dealer will attempt to sell the shares as agent, but may position and resell a portion of the block as principal to facilitate the transaction;
- purchases by a broker-dealer as principal and resale by the broker-dealer for its account;
- an exchange distribution in accordance with the rules of the applicable exchange;
- privately negotiated transactions;
- short sales and settlement of short sales entered into after the effective date of the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part;
- through the writing or settlement of options or other hedging transactions, whether through an options exchange or otherwise;
- broker-dealers may agree with the selling stockholders to sell a specified number of such shares at a stipulated price per share;
- a combination of any such methods of sale; and
- any other method permitted pursuant to applicable law.

The selling stockholders may, from time to time, pledge or grant a security interest in some or all of the shares of common stock owned by them and, if they default in the performance of their secured obligations, the pledgees or secured parties may offer and sell the shares of common stock, from time to time, under this prospectus, or under an amendment to this prospectus under Rule 424(b)(3) or other applicable provision of the Securities Act, amending the list of selling stockholders to include the pledgee, transferee or other successors in interest as selling stockholders under this prospectus. The selling stockholders also may transfer the shares of common stock in other circumstances, in which case the transferees, pledgees or other successors in interest will be the selling stockholders for purposes of this prospectus.

In connection with the sale of our common stock or interests therein, the selling stockholders may enter into hedging transactions with broker-dealers or other financial institutions, which may in turn engage in short sales of the common stock in the course of hedging the positions they assume. The selling stockholders may also sell shares of our common stock short and deliver these securities to close out their short positions, or loan or pledge the common stock to broker-dealers that in turn may sell these securities. The selling stockholders may also enter into option or other transactions with broker-dealers or other financial institutions or the creation of one or more derivative securities which require the delivery to such broker-dealer or other financial institution of shares offered by this prospectus, which shares such broker-dealer or other financial institution may resell pursuant to this prospectus (as supplemented or amended to reflect such transaction).

The aggregate proceeds to the selling stockholders from the sale of the common stock offered by them will be the purchase price of the common stock less discounts or commissions, if any. Each of the selling stockholders reserves the right to accept and, together with their agents from time to time, to reject, in whole or in part, any proposed purchase of common stock to be made directly or through agents. We will not receive any of the proceeds from this offering.

The selling stockholders also may resell all or a portion of the shares in open market transactions in reliance upon Rule 144 under the Securities Act, provided that they meet the criteria and conform to the requirements of that rule, or another available exemption from the registration requirements under the Securities Act.

The selling stockholders and any underwriters, broker-dealers or agents that participate in the sale of the common stock or interests therein may be “underwriters” within the meaning of Section 2(a)(11) of the Securities Act (it being understood that the selling stockholders shall not be deemed to be underwriters solely as a result of their participation in this offering). Any discounts, commissions, concessions or profit they earn on any resale of the shares may be underwriting discounts and commissions under the Securities Act. Selling stockholders who are “underwriters” within the meaning of Section 2(a)(11) of the Securities Act will be subject to the prospectus delivery requirements of the Securities Act.

To the extent required, the shares of our common stock to be sold, the names of the selling stockholders, the respective purchase prices and public offering prices, the names of any agent, dealer or underwriter, and any applicable commissions or discounts with respect to a particular offer will be set forth in an accompanying prospectus supplement or, if appropriate, a post-effective amendment to the registration statement that includes this prospectus.

In order to comply with the securities laws of some states, if applicable, the common stock may be sold in these jurisdictions only through registered or licensed brokers or dealers. In addition, in some states the common stock may not be sold unless it has been registered or qualified for sale or an exemption from registration or qualification requirements is available and is complied with.

We have advised the selling stockholders that the anti-manipulation rules of Regulation M under the Exchange Act may apply to sales of shares in the market and to the activities of the selling stockholders and their affiliates. In addition, to the extent applicable, we will make copies of this prospectus (as it may be supplemented or amended from time to time) available to the selling stockholders for the purpose of satisfying the prospectus delivery requirements of the Securities Act. The selling stockholders may indemnify any broker-dealer that participates in transactions involving the sale of the shares against certain liabilities, including liabilities arising under the Securities Act.

We have agreed to indemnify the selling stockholders against liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act and state securities laws, relating to the registration of the shares offered by this prospectus.

We have agreed with the selling stockholders to use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the registration statement of which this prospectus constitutes a part to become effective and to remain continuously effective until the earlier of: (i) the date on which the selling stockholders shall have resold or otherwise disposed of all the shares covered by this prospectus and (ii) the date on which the shares covered by this prospectus no longer constitute “Registrable Securities” as such term is defined in the Registration Rights Agreement, such that they may be resold by the selling stockholders without registration and without regard to any volume or manner-of-sale limitations and without current public information pursuant to Rule 144 under the Securities Act or any other rule of similar effect.

CERTIFICATE OF AMENDMENT TO THE AMENDED AND RESTATED CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION

RALLYBIO CORPORATION, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Delaware, hereby certifies as follows:

1. The name of the corporation is Rallybio Corporation (the “Corporation”). The Corporation’s original Certificate of Incorporation was filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware on June 30, 2021 (the “Certificate of Incorporation”). The Certificate of Incorporation was amended on July 12, 2021. The Certificate of Incorporation, as amended, was amended and restated on August 2, 2021 (the “Restated Certificate”). The Restated Certificate was further amended on February 6, 2026. This Certificate of Amendment (the “Amendment”) amends certain provisions of the Restated Certificate, and has been duly adopted in accordance with the provisions of Section 242 of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware.
2. The Board of Directors of the Corporation has duly adopted a resolution, pursuant to Section 242 of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, setting forth the following amendment to the Restated Certificate, and declaring the Amendment to be advisable.
3. This Amendment was duly adopted by the vote of the stockholders holding the requisite number of shares of outstanding stock of the Corporation entitled to vote thereon in accordance with the provisions of Sections 216 and 242 of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware.
4. The Restated Certificate is hereby amended by adding the following Article XI — REVERSE STOCK SPLIT:

ARTICLE XI — REVERSE STOCK SPLIT

As of 12:01 A.M. (Eastern Time) on _____, 2026 (the “Effective Time”), each issued and outstanding share of the Corporation’s Common Stock (including each share of treasury stock, collectively, the “Pre-Split Stock”) shall automatically and without any action on the part of the holder thereof be reclassified as and reduced to _____ of a share of Common Stock (such reduction of shares designated as the “Reverse Stock Split”). The par value of the Corporation’s Common Stock following the Reverse Stock Split shall remain $0.0001 per share. Each holder of a certificate or certificates of Pre-Split Stock shall be entitled to receive, upon surrender of such certificates to the Corporation’s transfer agent for cancellation, a new certificate or certificates for a number of shares equal to such holder’s Pre-Split Stock divided by _____, with any fraction resulting from such division rounded down to the nearest whole number (in each case, such fraction, if any, being a “Fractional Share”). No Fractional Shares will be issued for Pre-Split Stock in connection with the Reverse Stock Split. Each holder of Pre-Split Stock at the Effective Time who would otherwise be entitled to a Fractional Share shall, in lieu thereof, receive a cash payment equal to x) the Fractional Share multiplied by y) the closing price of the Company’s Common Stock as reported on The Nasdaq Capital Market or other principal market of the Common Stock on the first business day immediately preceding the date of the Effective Time.”

5. This Amendment shall be effective as of _____, 2026 in accordance with the provisions of Section 103(d) of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware.

6. Except as set forth in this Amendment, the Restated Certificate remains in full force and effect.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned has duly executed this Amendment in the name of and on behalf of the Corporation on this _____ day of _____, 2026.

CANDID THERAPEUTICS, INC.
2026 EQUITY INCENTIVE PLAN

ADOPTED BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS: [], 2026
APPROVED BY THE STOCKHOLDERS: [], 2026

1. GENERAL.

(a) Successor to and Continuation of Prior Plan. The Plan is the successor to and continuation of the Prior Plan. As of the Effective Date, (i) no additional awards may be granted under the Prior Plan; (ii) any Returning Shares will become available for issuance pursuant to Awards granted under this Plan; and (iii) all outstanding awards granted under the Prior Plan will remain subject to the terms of the Prior Plan (except to the extent such outstanding awards result in Returning Shares that become available for issuance pursuant to Awards granted under this Plan). All Awards granted under this Plan will be subject to the terms of this Plan.

(b) Plan Purpose. The Company, by means of the Plan, seeks to secure and retain the services of Employees, Directors and Consultants, to provide incentives for such persons to exert maximum efforts for the success of the Company and any Affiliate and to provide a means by which such persons may be given an opportunity to benefit from increases in value of the Common Stock through the granting of Awards.

(c) Available Awards. The Plan provides for the grant of the following Awards: (i) Incentive Stock Options; (ii) Nonstatutory Stock Options; (iii) SARs; (iv) Restricted Stock Awards; (v) RSU Awards; (vi) Performance Awards; and (vii) Other Awards.

(d) Adoption Date; Effective Date. The Plan will come into existence on the Adoption Date, but no Award may be granted prior to the Effective Date.

2. SHARES SUBJECT TO THE PLAN.

(a) Share Reserve. Subject to adjustment in accordance with Section 2(c) and any adjustments as necessary to implement any Capitalization Adjustments, the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock that may be issued pursuant to Awards will not exceed [] shares, which is the sum of: (i) []¹ new shares, plus (ii) up to [] Returning Shares, as such shares become available from time to time. In addition, subject to any adjustments as necessary to implement any Capitalization Adjustments, such aggregate number of shares of Common Stock will automatically increase on January 1 of each year for a period of ten years commencing on January 1, 2027 and ending on (and including) January 1, 2036, in an amount equal to five percent (5%) of the total number of Fully Diluted Shares on December 31 of the preceding year; provided, however, that the Board may act prior to January 1st of a given year to provide that the increase for such year will be a lesser number of shares of Common Stock.

(b) Aggregate Incentive Stock Option Limit. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Section 2(a) and subject to any adjustments as necessary to implement any Capitalization Adjustments, the aggregate maximum number of shares of Common Stock that may be issued pursuant to the exercise of Incentive Stock Options is []² shares.

² NTD: To be equal to the number of new shares multiplied by 3.

(c) Share Reserve Operation.

(i) Limit Applies to Common Stock Issued Pursuant to Awards. For clarity, the Share Reserve is a limit on the number of shares of Common Stock that may be issued pursuant to Awards and does not limit the granting of Awards, except that the Company will keep available at all times the number of shares of Common Stock reasonably required to satisfy its obligations to issue shares pursuant to such Awards. Shares may be issued in connection with a merger or acquisition as permitted by, as applicable, Nasdaq Listing Rule 5635(c), NYSE Listed Company Manual Section 303A.08, NYSE American Company Guide Section 711 or other applicable rule, and such issuance will not reduce the number of shares available for issuance under the Plan.

(ii) Actions that Do Not Constitute Issuance of Common Stock and Do Not Reduce Share Reserve. The following actions do not result in an issuance of shares under the Plan and accordingly do not reduce the number of shares subject to the Share Reserve and available for issuance under the Plan: (1) the expiration or termination of any portion of an Award without the shares covered by such portion of the Award having been issued; (2) the settlement of any portion of an Award in cash (i.e., the Participant receives cash rather than Common Stock); (3) the withholding of shares that would otherwise be issued by the Company to satisfy the exercise, strike or purchase price of an Award; or (4) the withholding of shares that would otherwise be issued by the Company to satisfy a tax withholding obligation in connection with an Award.

(iii) Reversion of Previously Issued Shares of Common Stock to Share Reserve. The following shares of Common Stock previously issued pursuant to an Award and accordingly initially deducted from the Share Reserve will be added back to the Share Reserve and again become available for issuance under the Plan: (1) any shares that are forfeited back to or repurchased by the Company because of a failure to meet a contingency or condition required for the vesting of such shares; (2) any shares that are reacquired by the Company to satisfy the exercise, strike or purchase price of an Award; and (3) any shares that are reacquired by the Company to satisfy a tax withholding obligation in connection with an Award.

3. ELIGIBILITY AND LIMITATIONS.

(a) Eligible Award Recipients. Subject to the terms of the Plan, Employees, Directors and Consultants are eligible to receive Awards.

(b) Specific Award Limitations.

(i) Limitations on Incentive Stock Option Recipients. Incentive Stock Options may be granted only to Employees of the Company or a “parent corporation” or “subsidiary corporation” thereof (as such terms are defined in Sections 424(e) and (f) of the Code).

(ii) Incentive Stock Option $100,000 Limitation. To the extent that the aggregate Fair Market Value (determined at the time of grant) of Common Stock with respect to which Incentive Stock Options are exercisable for the first time by any Optionholder during any calendar year (under all plans of the Company and any Affiliates) exceeds $100,000 (or such other limit established in the Code) or otherwise does not comply with the rules governing Incentive Stock Options, the Options or portions thereof that exceed such limit (according to the order in which they were granted) or otherwise do not comply with such rules will be treated as Nonstatutory Stock Options, notwithstanding any contrary provision of the applicable Option Agreement(s).

(iii) Limitations on Incentive Stock Options Granted to Ten Percent Stockholders. A Ten Percent Stockholder may not be granted an Incentive Stock Option unless (1) the exercise price of such Option is at least 110% of the Fair Market Value on the date of grant of such Option and (2) the Option is not exercisable after the expiration of five years from the date of grant of such Option.

(iv) Limitations on Nonstatutory Stock Options and SARs. Nonstatutory Stock Options and SARs may not be granted to Employees, Directors and Consultants unless the stock underlying such Awards is treated as “service recipient stock” under Section 409A or unless such Awards otherwise comply with the requirements of Section 409A.

(c) Aggregate Incentive Stock Option Limit. The aggregate maximum number of shares of Common Stock that may be issued pursuant to the exercise of Incentive Stock Options is the number of shares specified in Section 2(b).

(d) Non-Employee Director Compensation Limit. The aggregate value of all compensation granted or paid, as applicable, to any individual for service as a Non-Employee Director with respect to any calendar year, including Awards granted and cash fees paid by the Company to such Non-Employee Director, will not exceed (1) $750,000 in total value or (2) in the event such Non-Employee Director is first appointed or elected to the Board during such calendar year, $1,000,000 in total value, in each case, calculating the value of any equity awards based on the grant date fair value of such equity awards for financial reporting purposes. The limitations in this Section 3(d) shall apply commencing with the first calendar year that begins following the Effective Date.

4. OPTIONS AND STOCK APPRECIATION RIGHTS.

Each Option and SAR will have such terms and conditions as determined by the Board. Each Option will be designated in writing as an Incentive Stock Option or Nonstatutory Stock Option at the time of grant; provided, however, that if an Option is not so designated or if an Option designated as an Incentive Stock Option fails to qualify as an Incentive Stock Option, then such Option will be a Nonstatutory Stock Option, and the shares purchased upon exercise of each type of Option will be separately accounted for. Each SAR will be denominated in shares of Common Stock equivalents. The terms and conditions of separate Options and SARs need not be identical; provided, however, that each Option Agreement and SAR Agreement will conform (through incorporation of provisions hereof by reference in the Award Agreement or otherwise) to the substance of each of the following provisions:

(a) Term. Subject to Section 3(b) regarding Ten Percent Stockholders, no Option or SAR will be exercisable after the expiration of ten years from the date of grant of such Award or such shorter period specified in the Award Agreement.

(b) Exercise or Strike Price. Subject to Section 3(b) regarding Ten Percent Stockholders, the exercise or strike price of each Option or SAR will not be less than 100% of the Fair Market Value on the date of grant of such Award. Notwithstanding the foregoing, an Option or SAR may be granted with an exercise or strike price lower than 100% of the Fair Market Value on the date of grant of such Award if such Award is granted pursuant to an assumption of or substitution for another option or stock appreciation right pursuant to a Corporate Transaction and in a manner consistent with the provisions of Sections 409A and, if applicable, 424(a) of the Code.

(c) Exercise Procedure and Payment of Exercise Price for Options. In order to exercise an Option, the Participant must provide notice of exercise to the Plan Administrator in accordance with the procedures specified in the Option Agreement or otherwise provided by the Company. The Board has the authority to grant Options that do not permit all of the following methods of payment (or otherwise restrict the ability to use certain methods) and to grant Options that require the consent of the Company to utilize a particular method of payment. The exercise price of an Option may be paid, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law and as determined by the Board, by one or more of the following methods of payment to the extent set forth in the Option Agreement:

(i) by cash or check, bank draft or money order payable to the Company;

(ii) pursuant to a “cashless exercise” program developed under Regulation T as promulgated by the U.S. Federal Reserve Board that, prior to the issuance of the Common Stock subject to the Option, results in either the receipt of cash (or check) by the Company or the receipt of irrevocable instructions to pay the exercise price to the Company from the sales proceeds;

(iii) by delivery to the Company (either by actual delivery or attestation) of shares of Common Stock that are already owned by the Participant free and clear of any liens, claims, encumbrances or security interests, with a Fair Market Value on the date of exercise that does not exceed the exercise price, provided that (1) at the time of exercise the Common Stock is publicly traded, (2) any remaining balance of the exercise price not satisfied by such delivery is paid by the Participant in cash or other permitted form of payment, (3) such delivery would not violate any Applicable Law or agreement restricting the redemption of the Common Stock, (4) any certificated shares are endorsed or accompanied by an executed assignment separate from certificate, and (5) such shares have been held by the Participant for any minimum period necessary to avoid adverse accounting treatment as a result of such delivery;

(iv) if the Option is a Nonstatutory Stock Option, by a “net exercise” arrangement pursuant to which the Company will reduce the number of shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise by the largest whole number of shares with a Fair Market Value on the date of exercise that does not exceed the exercise price, provided that (1) such shares used to pay the exercise price will not be exercisable thereafter and (2) any remaining balance of the exercise price not satisfied by such net exercise is paid by the Participant in cash or other permitted form of payment; or

(v) in any other form of consideration that may be acceptable to the Board and permissible under Applicable Law.

(d) Exercise Procedure and Payment of Appreciation Distribution for SARs. In order to exercise any SAR, the Participant must provide notice of exercise to the Plan Administrator in accordance with the SAR Agreement. The appreciation distribution payable to a Participant upon the exercise of a SAR will not be greater than an amount equal to the excess of (i) the aggregate Fair Market Value on the date of exercise of a number of shares of Common Stock equal to the number of Common Stock equivalents that are vested and being exercised under such SAR, over (ii) the strike price of such SAR. Such appreciation distribution may be paid to the Participant in the form of Common Stock or cash (or any combination of Common Stock and cash) or in any other form of payment, as determined by the Board and specified in the SAR Agreement.

(e) Transferability. Options and SARs may not be transferred to third party financial institutions for value. The Board may impose such additional limitations on the transferability of an Option or SAR as it determines. In the absence of any such determination by the Board, the following restrictions on the transferability of Options and SARs will apply, provided that except as explicitly provided herein, neither an Option nor a SAR may be transferred for consideration and provided, further, that if an Option is an Incentive Stock Option, such Option may be deemed to be a Nonstatutory Stock Option as a result of such transfer:

(i) Restrictions on Transfer. An Option or SAR will not be transferable, except by will or by the laws of descent and distribution, and will be exercisable during the lifetime of the Participant only by the Participant; provided, however, that the Board may permit transfer of an Option or SAR in a manner that is not prohibited by applicable tax and securities laws upon the Participant’s request, including to a trust if the Participant is considered to be the sole beneficial owner of such trust (as determined under Section 671 of the Code and applicable state law) while such Option or SAR is held in such trust, provided that the Participant and the trustee enter into a transfer and other agreements required by the Company.

(ii) Domestic Relations Orders. Notwithstanding the foregoing, subject to the execution of transfer documentation in a format acceptable to the Company and subject to the approval of the Board or a duly authorized Officer, an Option or SAR may be transferred pursuant to a domestic relations order.

(f) Vesting. The Board may impose such restrictions on or conditions to the vesting and/or exercisability of an Option or SAR as determined by the Board. Except as otherwise provided in the applicable Award Agreement or other written agreement between a Participant and the Company or an Affiliate, vesting of Options and SARs will cease upon termination of the Participant’s Continuous Service.

(g) Termination of Continuous Service for Cause. Except as explicitly otherwise provided in the Award Agreement or other written agreement between a Participant and the Company or an Affiliate, if a Participant's Continuous Service is terminated for Cause, the Participant's Options and SARs will terminate and be forfeited immediately upon such termination of Continuous Service, and the Participant will be prohibited from exercising any portion (including any vested portion) of such Awards on and after the date of such termination of Continuous Service and the Participant will have no further right, title or interest in such forfeited Award, the shares of Common Stock subject to the forfeited Award, or any consideration in respect of the forfeited Award.

(h) Post-Termination Exercise Period Following Termination of Continuous Service for Reasons Other than Cause. Subject to Section 4(i), if a Participant's Continuous Service terminates for any reason other than for Cause, the Participant may exercise his or her Option or SAR to the extent vested, but only within the following period of time or, if applicable, such other period of time provided in the Award Agreement or other written agreement between a Participant and the Company or an Affiliate; provided, however, that in no event may such Award be exercised after the expiration of its maximum term (as set forth in Section 4(a)):

(i) three months following the date of such termination if such termination is a termination without Cause (other than any termination due to the Participant's Disability or death);

(ii) 12 months following the date of such termination if such termination is due to the Participant's Disability;

(iii) 18 months following the date of such termination if such termination is due to the Participant's death; or

(iv) 18 months following the date of the Participant's death if such death occurs following the date of such termination but during the period such Award is otherwise exercisable (as provided in (i) or (ii) above).

Following the date of such termination, to the extent the Participant does not exercise such Award within the applicable Post-Termination Exercise Period (or, if earlier, prior to the expiration of the maximum term of such Award), such unexercised portion of the Award will terminate, and the Participant will have no further right, title or interest in the terminated Award, the shares of Common Stock subject to the terminated Award, or any consideration in respect of the terminated Award.

(i) Restrictions on Exercise; Extension of Exercisability. A Participant may not exercise an Option or SAR at any time that the issuance of shares of Common Stock upon such exercise would violate Applicable Law. Except as otherwise provided in the Award Agreement or other written agreement between a Participant and the Company or an Affiliate, if a Participant's Continuous Service terminates for any reason other than for Cause and, at any time during the last thirty days of the applicable Post-Termination Exercise Period: (i) the exercise of the Participant's Option or SAR would be prohibited solely because the issuance of shares of Common Stock upon such exercise would violate Applicable Law, or (ii) the immediate sale of any shares of Common Stock issued upon such exercise would violate the Company's Trading Policy, then the applicable Post-Termination Exercise Period will be extended to the last day of the calendar month that commences following the date the Award would otherwise expire, with an additional extension of the exercise period to the last day of the next calendar month to apply if any of the foregoing restrictions apply at any time during such extended exercise period, generally without limitation as to the maximum permitted number of extensions; provided, however, that in no event may such Award be exercised after the expiration of its maximum term (as set forth in Section 4(a)).

(j) Non-Exempt Employees. No Option or SAR, whether or not vested, granted to an Employee who is a non-exempt employee for purposes of the U.S. Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, will be first exercisable for any shares of Common Stock until at least six months following the date of grant of such Award. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in accordance with the provisions of the U.S. Worker Economic Opportunity Act, any vested portion of such Award may be exercised earlier than six months following the date of grant of such Award in the event of (i) such Participant's death or Disability, (ii) a Corporate Transaction in which such Award is not assumed, continued or substituted, (iii) a Change in Control, or (iv) such Participant's retirement (as such term may be defined in the Award Agreement or another applicable agreement or, in the absence of any such definition, in accordance with the Company's then current employment policies and guidelines). This Section 4(j) is intended to operate so that any income derived by a non-exempt employee in connection with the exercise or vesting of an Option or SAR will be exempt from his or her regular rate of pay.

(k) Whole Shares. Options and SARs may be exercised only with respect to whole shares of Common Stock or their equivalents.

5. AWARDS OTHER THAN OPTIONS AND STOCK APPRECIATION RIGHTS.

(a) Restricted Stock Awards and RSU Awards. Each Restricted Stock Award and RSU Award will have such terms and conditions as determined by the Board; provided, however, that each Restricted Stock Award Agreement and RSU Award Agreement will conform (through incorporation of the provisions hereof by reference in the Award Agreement or otherwise) to the substance of each of the following provisions:

(i) Form of Award.

(1) Restricted Stock Awards: To the extent consistent with the Company's Bylaws, at the Board's election, shares of Common Stock subject to a Restricted Stock Award may be (A) held in book entry form subject to the Company's instructions until such shares become vested or any other restrictions lapse, or (B) evidenced by a certificate, which certificate will be held in such form and manner as determined by the Board. Unless otherwise determined by the Board, a Participant will have voting and other rights as a stockholder of the Company with respect to any shares subject to a Restricted Stock Award.

(2) RSU Awards: An RSU Award represents a Participant's right to be issued on a future date the number of shares of Common Stock that is equal to the number of restricted stock units subject to the RSU Award. As a holder of an RSU Award, a Participant is an unsecured creditor of the Company with respect to the Company's unfunded obligation, if any, to issue shares of Common Stock in settlement of such Award and nothing contained in the Plan or any RSU Award Agreement, and no action taken pursuant to its provisions, will create or be construed to create a trust of any kind or a fiduciary relationship between a Participant and the Company or an Affiliate or any other person. A Participant will not have voting or any other rights as a stockholder of the Company with respect to any RSU Award (unless and until shares are actually issued in settlement of a vested RSU Award).

(ii) Consideration.

(1) Restricted Stock Awards: A Restricted Stock Award may be granted in consideration for (A) cash or check, bank draft or money order payable to the Company, (B) services to the Company or an Affiliate, or (C) any other form of consideration as the Board may determine and permissible under Applicable Law.

(2) RSU Awards: Unless otherwise determined by the Board at the time of grant, an RSU Award will be granted in consideration for the Participant's services to the Company or an Affiliate, such that the Participant will not be required to make any payment to the Company (other than such services) with respect to the grant or vesting of the RSU Award, or the issuance of any shares of Common Stock pursuant to the RSU Award. If, at the time of grant, the Board determines that any consideration must be paid by the Participant (in a form other than the Participant's services to the Company or an Affiliate) upon the issuance of any shares of Common Stock in settlement of the RSU Award, such consideration may be paid in any form of consideration as the Board may determine and permissible under Applicable Law.

(iii) Vesting. The Board may impose such restrictions on or conditions to the vesting of a Restricted Stock Award or RSU Award as determined by the Board. Except as otherwise provided in the Award Agreement or other written agreement between a Participant and the Company or an Affiliate, vesting of Restricted Stock Awards and RSU Awards will cease upon termination of the Participant's Continuous Service.

(iv) Termination of Continuous Service. Except as otherwise provided in the Award Agreement or other written agreement between a Participant and the Company or an Affiliate, if a Participant's Continuous Service terminates for any reason, (1) the Company may receive through a forfeiture condition or a repurchase right any or all of the shares of Common Stock held by the Participant under his or her Restricted Stock Award that have not vested as of the date of such termination as set forth in the Restricted Stock Award Agreement and the Participant will have no further right, title or interest in the Restricted Stock Award, the shares of Common Stock subject to the Restricted Stock Award, or any consideration in respect of the Restricted Stock Award and (2) any portion of his or her RSU Award that has not vested will be forfeited upon such termination and the Participant will have no further right, title or interest in the RSU Award, the shares of Common Stock issuable pursuant to the RSU Award, or any consideration in respect of the RSU Award.

(v) Dividends and Dividend Equivalents. Dividends or dividend equivalents may be paid or credited, as applicable, with respect to any shares of Common Stock subject to a Restricted Stock Award or RSU Award, as determined by the Board and specified in the Award Agreement.

(vi) Settlement of RSU Awards. An RSU Award may be settled by the issuance of shares of Common Stock or cash (or any combination thereof) or in any other form of payment, as determined by the Board and specified in the RSU Award Agreement. At the time of grant, the Board may determine to impose such restrictions or conditions that delay such delivery to a date following the vesting of the RSU Award.

(b) Performance Awards. With respect to any Performance Award, the length of any Performance Period, the Performance Goals to be achieved during the Performance Period, the other terms and conditions of such Award, and the measure of whether and to what degree such Performance Goals have been attained will be determined by the Board.

(c) Other Awards. Other forms of Awards valued in whole or in part by reference to, or otherwise based on, Common Stock, including the appreciation in value thereof may be granted either alone or in addition to Awards provided for under Section 4 and the preceding provisions of this Section 5. Subject to the provisions of the Plan, the Board will have sole and complete discretion to determine the persons to whom and the time or times at which such Other Awards will be granted, the number of shares of Common Stock (or the cash equivalent thereof) to be granted pursuant to such Other Awards and all other terms and conditions of such Other Awards.

6. ADJUSTMENTS UPON CHANGES IN COMMON STOCK; OTHER CORPORATE EVENTS.

(a) Capitalization Adjustments. In the event of a Capitalization Adjustment, the Board shall appropriately and proportionately adjust: (i) the class(es) and maximum number of shares of Common Stock subject to the Plan and the maximum number of shares by which the Share Reserve may annually increase pursuant to Section 2(a); (ii) the class(es) and maximum number of shares that may be issued pursuant to the exercise of Incentive Stock Options pursuant to Section 2(b); and (iii) the class(es) and number of securities and exercise price, strike price or purchase price of Common Stock subject to outstanding Awards. The Board shall make such adjustments, and its determination shall be final, binding and conclusive. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no fractional shares or rights for fractional shares of Common Stock shall be created in order to implement any Capitalization Adjustment. The Board shall determine an appropriate equivalent benefit, if any, for any fractional shares or rights to fractional shares that might be created by the adjustments referred to in the preceding provisions of this Section.

(b) Dissolution or Liquidation. Except as otherwise provided in the Award Agreement, in the event of a dissolution or liquidation of the Company, all outstanding Awards (other than Awards consisting of vested and outstanding shares of Common Stock not subject to a forfeiture condition or the Company's right of repurchase) will terminate immediately prior to the completion of such dissolution or liquidation, and the shares of Common Stock subject to the Company's repurchase rights or subject to a forfeiture condition may be repurchased or reacquired by the Company notwithstanding the fact that the holder of such Award is providing Continuous Service, provided, however, that the Board may determine to cause some or all Awards to become fully vested, exercisable and/or no longer subject to repurchase or forfeiture (to the extent such Awards have not previously expired or terminated) before the dissolution or liquidation is completed but contingent on its completion.

(c) Corporate Transaction. The following provisions will apply to Awards in the event of a Corporate Transaction, except as set forth in Section 11, unless otherwise provided in the instrument evidencing the Award or any other written agreement between the Company or any Affiliate and the Participant or unless otherwise expressly provided by the Board at the time of grant of an Award.

(i) Awards May Be Assumed. In the event of a Corporate Transaction, any surviving corporation or acquiring corporation (or the surviving or acquiring corporation's parent company) may assume or continue any or all Awards outstanding under the Plan or may substitute similar awards for Awards outstanding under the Plan (including but not limited to, awards to acquire the same consideration paid to the stockholders of the Company pursuant to the Corporate Transaction), and any reacquisition or repurchase rights held by the Company in respect of Common Stock issued pursuant to Awards may be assigned by the Company to the successor of the Company (or the successor's parent company, if any), in connection with such Corporate Transaction. A surviving corporation or acquiring corporation (or its parent) may choose to assume or continue only a portion of an Award or substitute a similar award for only a portion of an Award, or may choose to assume, continue or substitute the Awards held by some, but not all Participants. The terms of any assumption, continuation or substitution will be set by the Board.

(ii) Awards Held by Current Participants. In the event of a Corporate Transaction in which the surviving corporation or acquiring corporation (or its parent company) does not assume or continue such outstanding Awards or substitute similar awards for such outstanding Awards, then with respect to Awards that have not been assumed, continued or substituted and that are held by Participants whose Continuous Service has not terminated prior to the effective time of the Corporate Transaction (referred to as the "Current Participants"), the vesting of such Awards (and, with respect to Options and Stock Appreciation Rights, the time when such Awards may be exercised) will be accelerated in full to a date prior to the effective time of such Corporate Transaction (contingent upon the effectiveness of the Corporate Transaction) as the Board determines (or, if the Board does not determine such a date, to the date that is five days prior to the effective time of the Corporate Transaction), and such Awards will terminate if not exercised (if applicable) at or prior to the effective time of the Corporate Transaction, and any reacquisition or repurchase rights held by the Company with respect to such Awards will lapse (contingent upon the effectiveness of the Corporate Transaction). With respect to the vesting of Performance Awards that will accelerate upon the occurrence of a Corporate Transaction pursuant to this subsection (ii) and that have multiple vesting levels depending on the level of performance, unless otherwise provided in the Award Agreement, the vesting of such Performance Awards will accelerate at 100% of the target level upon the occurrence of the Corporate Transaction in which the Awards are not assumed, continued or substituted in accordance with Section 6(c)(i). With respect to the vesting of Awards that will accelerate upon the occurrence of a Corporate Transaction pursuant to this subsection (ii) and are settled in the form of a cash payment, such cash payment will be made no later than 30 days following the occurrence of the Corporate Transaction or such later date as required to comply with Section 409A of the Code.

(iii) Awards Held by Persons other than Current Participants. In the event of a Corporate Transaction in which the surviving corporation or acquiring corporation (or its parent company) does not assume or continue such outstanding Awards or substitute similar awards for such outstanding Awards, then with respect to Awards that have not been assumed, continued or substituted and that are held by persons other than Current Participants, such Awards will terminate if not exercised (if applicable) prior to the occurrence of the Corporate Transaction; provided, however, that any reacquisition or repurchase rights held by the Company with respect to such Awards will not terminate and may continue to be exercised notwithstanding the Corporate Transaction.

(iv) Payment for Awards in Lieu of Exercise. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event an Award will terminate if not exercised prior to the effective time of a Corporate Transaction, the Board may provide, in its sole discretion, that the holder of such Award may not exercise such Award but will receive a payment, in such form as may be determined by the Board, equal in value, at the effective time, to the excess, if any, of (1) the value of the property the Participant would have received upon the exercise of the Award (including, at the discretion of the Board, any unvested portion of such Award), over (2) any exercise price payable by such holder in connection with such exercise.

(d) Appointment of Stockholder Representative. As a condition to the receipt of an Award under this Plan, a Participant will be deemed to have agreed that the Award will be subject to the terms of any agreement governing a Corporate Transaction involving the Company, including, without limitation, a provision for the appointment of a stockholder representative that is authorized to act on the Participant's behalf with respect to any escrow, indemnities and any contingent consideration.

(e) No Restriction on Right to Undertake Transactions. The grant of any Award under the Plan and the issuance of shares pursuant to any Award does not affect or restrict in any way the right or power of the Company, the Board or the stockholders of the Company to make or authorize any adjustment, recapitalization, reorganization or other change in the Company's capital structure or its business, any Change in Control, any Corporate Transaction, any merger or consolidation of the Company, any issue of stock or of options, rights or options to purchase stock or of bonds, debentures, preferred or prior preference stocks whose rights are superior to or affect the Common Stock or the rights thereof or which are convertible into or exchangeable for Common Stock, or the dissolution or liquidation of the Company, or any sale or transfer of all or any part of its assets or business, or any other corporate act or proceeding, whether of a similar character or otherwise.

7. ADMINISTRATION.

(a) Administration by Board. The Board will administer the Plan unless and until the Board delegates administration of the Plan to a Committee or Committees, as provided in subsection (c) below.

(b) Powers of Board. The Board will have the power, subject to, and within the limitations of, the express provisions of the Plan:

(i) To determine from time to time (1) which of the persons eligible under the Plan will be granted Awards; (2) when and how each Award will be granted; (3) what type or combination of types of Award will be granted; (4) the provisions of each Award granted (which need not be identical), including the time or times when a person will be permitted to receive an issuance of Common Stock or other payment pursuant to an Award; (5) the number of shares of Common Stock or cash equivalent with respect to which an Award will be granted to each such person; (6) the Fair Market Value applicable to an Award; and (7) the terms of any Performance Award that is not valued in whole or in part by reference to, or otherwise based on, the Common Stock, including the amount of cash payment or other property that may be earned and the timing of payment.

(ii) To construe and interpret the Plan and Awards granted under it, and to establish, amend and revoke rules and regulations for its administration. The Board, in the exercise of this power, may correct any defect, omission or inconsistency in the Plan or in any Award Agreement, in a manner and to the extent it deems necessary or expedient to make the Plan or Award fully effective.

(iii) To settle all controversies regarding the Plan and Awards granted under it.

(iv) To accelerate the time at which an Award may first be exercised or the time during which an Award or any part thereof will vest, notwithstanding the provisions in the Award Agreement stating the time at which it may first be exercised or the time during which it will vest.

(v) To prohibit the exercise of any Option, SAR or other exercisable Award during a period of up to 30 days prior to the consummation of any pending stock dividend, stock split, combination or exchange of shares, merger, consolidation or other distribution (other than normal cash dividends) of Company assets to stockholders, or any other change affecting the shares of Common Stock or the share price of the Common Stock, including any Corporate Transaction, for reasons of administrative convenience.

(vi) To suspend or terminate the Plan at any time. Suspension or termination of the Plan will not Materially Impair rights and obligations under any Award granted while the Plan is in effect except with the written consent of the affected Participant.

(vii) To amend the Plan in any respect the Board deems necessary or advisable; provided, however, that stockholder approval will be required for any amendment to the extent required by Applicable Law. Except as provided above, rights under any Award granted before amendment of the Plan will not be Materially Impaired by any amendment of the Plan unless (1) the Company requests the consent of the affected Participant, and (2) such Participant consents in writing.

(viii) To submit any amendment to the Plan for stockholder approval.

(ix) To approve forms of Award Agreements for use under the Plan and to amend the terms of any one or more Awards, including, but not limited to, amendments to provide terms more favorable to the Participant than previously provided in the Award Agreement, subject to any specified limits in the Plan that are not subject to Board discretion; provided however, that, a Participant's rights under any Award will not be Materially Impaired by any such amendment unless (1) the Company requests the consent of the affected Participant, and (2) such Participant consents in writing.

(x) Generally, to exercise such powers and to perform such acts as the Board deems necessary or expedient to promote the best interests of the Company and that are not in conflict with the provisions of the Plan or Awards.

(xi) To adopt such procedures and sub-plans as are necessary or appropriate to permit and facilitate participation in the Plan by, or take advantage of specific tax treatment for Awards granted to, Employees, Directors or Consultants who are non-U.S. nationals or employed outside the United States (provided that Board approval will not be necessary for immaterial modifications to the Plan or any Award Agreement to ensure or facilitate compliance with the laws of the relevant non-U.S. jurisdiction).

(xii) To effect, at any time and from time to time, subject to the consent of any Participant whose Award is Materially Impaired by such action, (1) the reduction of the exercise price (or strike price) of any outstanding Option or SAR; (2) the cancellation of any outstanding Option or SAR and the grant in substitution therefor of (A) a new Option, SAR, Restricted Stock Award, RSU Award or Other Award, under the Plan or another equity plan of the Company, covering the same or a different number of shares of Common Stock, (B) cash and/or (C) other valuable consideration (as determined by the Board); or (3) any other action that is treated as a repricing under generally accepted accounting principles.

(c) Delegation to Committee.

(i) General. The Board may delegate some or all of the administration of the Plan to a Committee or Committees. If administration of the Plan is delegated to a Committee, the Committee will have, in connection with the administration of the Plan, the powers theretofore possessed by the Board that have been delegated to the Committee, including the power to delegate to another Committee or a subcommittee of the Committee any of the administrative powers the Committee is authorized to exercise (and references in this Plan to the Board will thereafter be to the Committee or subcommittee), subject, however, to such resolutions, not inconsistent with the provisions of the Plan, as may be adopted from time to time by the Board. Each Committee may retain the authority to concurrently administer the Plan with the Committee or subcommittee to which it has delegated its authority hereunder and may, at any time, revert in such Committee some or all of the powers previously delegated. The Board may retain the authority to concurrently administer the Plan with any Committee and may, at any time, revert in the Board some or all of the powers previously delegated.

(ii) Rule 16b-3 Compliance. To the extent an Award is intended to qualify for the exemption from Section 16(b) of the Exchange Act that is available under Rule 16b-3 of the Exchange Act, the Award will be granted by the Board or a Committee that consists solely of two or more Non-Employee Directors, as determined under Rule 16b-3(b)(3) of the Exchange Act and thereafter any action establishing or modifying the terms of the Award will be approved by the Board or a Committee meeting such requirements to the extent necessary for such exemption to remain available.

(d) Effect of Board's Decision. All determinations, interpretations and constructions made by the Board or any Committee in good faith will not be subject to review by any person and will be final, binding and conclusive on all persons.

(e) Delegation to Other Person or Body. The Board or any Committee may delegate to one or more persons or bodies the authority to do one or more of the following to the extent permitted by Applicable Law: (i) designate recipients, other than Officers, of Awards, provided that no person or body may be delegated authority to grant an Award to itself; (ii) determine the number of shares subject to such Awards; and (iii) determine the terms of such Awards; provided, however, that the Board or Committee action regarding such delegation will fix the terms of such delegation in accordance with Applicable Law, including without limitation Sections 152 and 157 of the Delaware General Corporation Law. Unless provided otherwise in the Board or Committee action regarding such delegation, each Award granted pursuant to this section will be granted on the applicable form of Award Agreement most recently approved for use by the Board or the Committee, with any modifications necessary to incorporate or reflect the terms of such Award. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, neither the Board nor any Committee may delegate to any person or body (who is not a Director or that is not comprised solely of Directors, respectively) the authority to determine the Fair Market Value.

8. TAX WITHHOLDING

(a) Withholding Authorization. As a condition to acceptance of any Award under the Plan, a Participant authorizes withholding from payroll and any other amounts payable to such Participant, and otherwise agrees to make adequate arrangements to satisfy the Tax-Related Items withholding obligations, if any, of the Company and/or an Affiliate that arise in connection with the grant, vesting, exercise or settlement of such Award, as applicable. Accordingly, a Participant may not be able to exercise an Award even though the Award is vested, and the Company shall have no obligation to issue shares of Common Stock subject to an Award, unless and until such obligations are satisfied.

(b) Satisfaction of Withholding Obligation. To the extent permitted by the terms of an Award Agreement, the Company may, in its sole discretion, satisfy any Tax-Related Items withholding obligation relating to an Award by any of the following means or by a combination of such means: (i) causing the Participant to tender a cash payment; (ii) withholding shares of Common Stock from the shares of Common Stock issued or otherwise issuable to the Participant in connection with the Award; (iii) withholding cash from an Award settled in cash; (iv) withholding payment from any amounts otherwise payable to the Participant; (v) by allowing a Participant to effectuate a "cashless exercise" pursuant to a program developed under Regulation T as promulgated by the U.S. Federal Reserve Board; or (vi) by such other method as may be set forth in the Award Agreement.

(c) No Obligation to Notify or Minimize Taxes; No Liability to Claims. Except as required by Applicable Law, the Company has no duty or obligation to any Participant to advise such holder as to the time or manner of exercising such Award. Furthermore, the Company has no duty or obligation to warn or otherwise advise such holder of a pending termination or expiration of an Award or a possible period in which the Award may not be exercised. The Company has no duty or obligation to minimize the tax consequences of an Award to the holder of such Award and will not be liable to any holder of an Award for any adverse tax consequences to such holder in connection with an Award. As a condition to accepting an Award under the Plan, each Participant (i) agrees to not make any claim against the Company, or any of its Officers, Directors, Employees or Affiliates related to tax liabilities arising from such Award or other Company compensation and (ii) acknowledges that such Participant was advised to consult with his or her own personal tax, financial and other legal advisors regarding the tax consequences of the Award and has either done so or knowingly and voluntarily declined to do so. Additionally, each Participant acknowledges any Option or SAR granted under the Plan is exempt from Section 409A only if the exercise or strike price is at least equal to the “fair market value” of the Common Stock on the date of grant as determined by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and there is no other impermissible deferral of compensation associated with the Award. Additionally, as a condition to accepting an Option or SAR granted under the Plan, each Participant agrees to not make any claim against the Company, or any of its Officers, Directors, Employees or Affiliates in the event that the U.S. Internal Revenue Service asserts that such exercise price or strike price is less than the “fair market value” of the Common Stock on the date of grant as subsequently determined by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service.

(d) Withholding Indemnification. The Company and/or its Affiliate may withhold or account for Tax-Related Items by considering statutory or other withholding rates, including minimum or maximum rates applicable in a Participant’s jurisdiction. In the event of overwithholding, the Participant may receive a refund of any over-withheld amount in cash (with no entitlement to the equivalent in Common Stock) or, if not refunded, the Participant may seek a refund from the local tax authorities. In the event of under-withholding, the Participant may be required to pay any additional Tax-Related Items directly to the applicable tax authority or to the Company and/or its Affiliate. As a condition to accepting an Award under the Plan, in the event that the amount of the Company’s and/or its Affiliate’s withholding obligation in connection with such Award was greater than the amount actually withheld by the Company and/or its Affiliates, each Participant agrees to indemnify and hold the Company and/or its Affiliates harmless from any failure by the Company and/or its Affiliates to withhold the proper amount. Further, if the obligation for Tax-Related Items is satisfied by withholding in shares of Common Stock, for tax purposes, the Participant will be deemed to have been issued the full number of shares subject to the Award, notwithstanding that a number of the shares is held back solely for the purpose of paying the Tax-Related Items.

9. MISCELLANEOUS.

(a) Source of Shares. The stock issuable under the Plan will be shares of authorized but unissued or reacquired Common Stock, including shares repurchased by the Company on the open market or otherwise.

(b) Use of Proceeds from Sales of Common Stock. Proceeds from the sale of shares of Common Stock pursuant to Awards will constitute general funds of the Company.

(c) Corporate Action Constituting Grant of Awards. Corporate action constituting a grant by the Company of an Award to any Participant will be deemed completed as of the date of such corporate action, unless otherwise determined by the Board, regardless of when the instrument, certificate, or letter evidencing the Award is communicated to, or actually received or accepted by, the Participant. In the event that the corporate records (e.g., Board consents, resolutions or minutes) documenting the corporate action approving the grant contain terms (e.g., exercise price, vesting schedule or number of shares) that are inconsistent with those in the Award Agreement or related grant documents as a result of a clerical error in the Award Agreement or related grant documents, the corporate records will control and the Participant will have no legally binding right to the incorrect term in the Award Agreement or related grant documents.

(d) Stockholder Rights. No Participant will be deemed to be the holder of, or to have any of the rights of a holder with respect to, any shares of Common Stock subject to such Award unless and until (i) such Participant has satisfied all requirements for exercise of the Award pursuant to its terms, if applicable, and (ii) the issuance of the Common Stock subject to such Award is reflected in the records of the Company.

(e) No Employment or Other Service Rights. Nothing in the Plan, any Award Agreement or any other instrument executed thereunder or in connection with any Award granted pursuant thereto will confer upon any Participant any right to continue to serve the Company or an Affiliate in the capacity in effect at the time the Award was granted or affect the right of the Company or an Affiliate to terminate at will (unless otherwise required under Applicable Law) and without regard to any future vesting opportunity that a Participant may have with respect to any Award (i) the employment of an Employee with or without notice and with or without Cause, (ii) the service of a Consultant pursuant to the terms of such Consultant's agreement with the Company or an Affiliate, or (iii) the service of a Director pursuant to the Bylaws of the Company or an Affiliate, and any applicable provisions of the corporate law of the U.S. state or non-U.S. jurisdiction in which the Company or the Affiliate is incorporated, as the case may be. Further, nothing in the Plan, any Award Agreement or any other instrument executed thereunder or in connection with any Award will constitute any promise or commitment by the Company or an Affiliate regarding the fact or nature of future positions, future work assignments, future compensation or any other term or condition of employment or service or confer any right or benefit under the Award or the Plan unless such right or benefit has specifically accrued under the terms of the Award Agreement and/or Plan.

(f) Change in Time Commitment. In the event a Participant's regular level of time commitment in the performance of his or her services for the Company and any Affiliates is reduced (for example, and without limitation, if the Participant is an Employee of the Company and the Employee has a change in status from a full-time Employee to a part-time Employee or takes an extended leave of absence) after the date of grant of any Award to the Participant, the Board may determine, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law, to (i) make a corresponding reduction in the number of shares or cash amount subject to any portion of such Award that is scheduled to vest or become payable after the date of such change in time commitment, and (ii) in lieu of or in combination with such a reduction, extend the vesting or payment schedule applicable to such Award. In the event of any such reduction, the Participant will have no right with respect to any portion of the Award that is so reduced or extended.

(g) Execution of Additional Documents. As a condition to accepting an Award under the Plan, the Participant agrees to execute any additional documents or instruments necessary or desirable, as determined in the Plan Administrator's sole discretion, to carry out the purposes or intent of the Award, or facilitate compliance with securities and/or other regulatory requirements, in each case at the Plan Administrator's request.

(h) Electronic Delivery and Participation. Any reference herein or in an Award Agreement to a "written" agreement or document will include any agreement or document delivered electronically, filed publicly at www.sec.gov (or any successor website thereto) or posted on the Company's intranet (or other shared electronic medium controlled by the Company to which the Participant has access). By accepting any Award the Participant consents to receive documents by electronic delivery and to participate in the Plan through any on-line electronic system established and maintained by the Plan Administrator or another third party selected by the Plan Administrator. The form of delivery of any Common Stock (e.g., a stock certificate or electronic entry evidencing such shares) shall be determined by the Company.

(i) Clawback/Recovery. All Awards granted under the Plan will be subject to recoupment in accordance with any clawback policy that the Company is required to adopt pursuant to the listing standards of any national securities exchange or association on which the Company's securities are listed or as is otherwise required by the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act or other Applicable Law and any clawback policy that the Company otherwise adopts, to the extent applicable and permissible under Applicable Law. In addition, the Board may impose such other clawback, recovery or recoupment provisions in an Award Agreement as the Board determines necessary or appropriate, including but not limited to a reacquisition right in respect of previously acquired shares of Common Stock or other cash or property upon the occurrence of Cause. No recovery of compensation under such a clawback policy will be an event giving rise to a Participant's right to voluntarily terminate employment upon a "resignation for good reason," or for a "constructive termination" or any similar term under any plan of or agreement with the Company.

(j) Securities Law Compliance. A Participant will not be issued any shares in respect of an Award unless either (i) the shares are registered under the Securities Act or (ii) the Company has determined that such issuance would be exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act. Each Award also must comply with other Applicable Law governing the Award, and a Participant will not receive such shares if the Company determines that such receipt would not be in material compliance with Applicable Law.

(k) Transfer or Assignment of Awards; Issued Shares. Except as expressly provided in the Plan or the form of Award Agreement, Awards granted under the Plan may not be transferred or assigned by the Participant. After the vested shares subject to an Award have been issued, or in the case of a Restricted Stock Award and similar awards, after the issued shares have vested, the holder of such shares is free to assign, hypothecate, donate, encumber or otherwise dispose of any interest in such shares provided that any such actions are in compliance with the provisions herein, the terms of the Trading Policy and Applicable Law.

(l) Effect on Other Employee Benefit Plans. The value of any Award granted under the Plan, as determined upon grant, vesting or settlement, shall not be included as compensation, earnings, salaries, or other similar terms used when calculating any Participant's benefits under any employee benefit plan sponsored by the Company or any Affiliate, except as such plan otherwise expressly provides. The Company expressly reserves its rights to amend, modify, or terminate any of the Company's or any Affiliate's employee benefit plans.

(m) Deferrals. To the extent permitted by Applicable Law, the Board, in its sole discretion, may determine that the delivery of Common Stock or the payment of cash, upon the exercise, vesting or settlement of all or a portion of any Award may be deferred and may also establish programs and procedures for deferral elections to be made by Participants. Deferrals will be made in accordance with the requirements of Section 409A.

(n) Section 409A. Unless otherwise expressly provided for in an Award Agreement, the Plan and Award Agreements will be interpreted to the greatest extent possible in a manner that makes the Plan and the Awards granted hereunder exempt from Section 409A, and, to the extent not so exempt, in compliance with the requirements of Section 409A. If the Board determines that any Award granted hereunder is not exempt from and is therefore subject to Section 409A, the Award Agreement evidencing such Award will incorporate the terms and conditions necessary to avoid the consequences specified in Section 409A(a)(1) of the Code, and to the extent an Award Agreement is silent on terms necessary for compliance, such terms are hereby incorporated by reference into the Award Agreement. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Plan (and unless the Award Agreement specifically provides otherwise), if the shares of Common Stock are publicly traded, and if a Participant holding an Award that constitutes "deferred compensation" under Section 409A is a "specified employee" for purposes of Section 409A, no distribution or payment of any amount that is due because of a "separation from service" (as defined in Section 409A without regard to alternative definitions thereunder) will be issued or paid before the date that is six months and one day following the date of such Participant's "separation from service" or, if earlier, the date of the Participant's death, unless such distribution or payment can be made in a manner that complies with Section 409A, and any amounts so deferred will be paid in a lump sum on the day after such six month period elapses, with the balance paid thereafter on the original schedule.

(o) Choice of Law. This Plan and any controversy arising out of or relating to this Plan shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the internal laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to conflict of law principles that would result in any application of any law other than the law of the State of Delaware.

10. COVENANTS OF THE COMPANY.

The Company will seek to obtain from each regulatory commission or agency, as may be deemed to be necessary, having jurisdiction over the Plan such authority as may be required to grant Awards and to issue and sell shares of Common Stock upon exercise or vesting of the Awards; provided, however, that this undertaking will not require the Company to register under the Securities Act the Plan, any Award or any Common Stock issued or issuable pursuant to any such Award. If, after reasonable efforts and at a reasonable cost, the Company is unable to obtain from any such regulatory commission or agency the authority that counsel for the Company deems necessary or advisable for the lawful issuance and sale of Common Stock under the Plan, the Company will be relieved from any liability for failure to issue and sell Common Stock upon exercise or vesting of such Awards unless and until such authority is obtained. A Participant is not eligible for the grant of an Award or the subsequent issuance of Common Stock pursuant to the Award if such grant or issuance would be in violation of any Applicable Law.

11. ADDITIONAL RULES FOR AWARDS SUBJECT TO SECTION 409A.

(a) Application. Unless the provisions of this Section of the Plan are expressly superseded by the provisions in the form of Award Agreement, the provisions of this Section shall apply and shall supersede anything to the contrary set forth in the Award Agreement for a Non-Exempt Award.

(b) Non-Exempt Awards Subject to Non-Exempt Severance Arrangements. To the extent a Non-Exempt Award is subject to Section 409A due to application of a Non-Exempt Severance Arrangement, the following provisions of this subsection (b) apply.

(i) If the Non-Exempt Award vests in the ordinary course during the Participant's Continuous Service in accordance with the vesting schedule set forth in the Award Agreement, and does not accelerate vesting under the terms of a Non-Exempt Severance Arrangement, in no event will the shares be issued in respect of such Non-Exempt Award any later than the later of: (i) December 31st of the calendar year that includes the applicable vesting date; or (ii) the 60th day that follows the applicable vesting date.

(ii) If vesting of the Non-Exempt Award accelerates under the terms of a Non-Exempt Severance Arrangement in connection with the Participant's Separation from Service, and such vesting acceleration provisions were in effect as of the date of grant of the Non-Exempt Award and, therefore, are part of the terms of such Non-Exempt Award as of the date of grant, then the shares will be earlier issued in settlement of such Non-Exempt Award upon the Participant's Separation from Service in accordance with the terms of the Non-Exempt Severance Arrangement, but in no event later than the 60th day that follows the date of the Participant's Separation from Service. However, if at the time the shares would otherwise be issued the Participant is subject to the distribution limitations contained in Section 409A applicable to "specified employees," as defined in Section 409A(a)(2)(B)(i) of the Code, such shares shall not be issued before the date that is six months following the date of such Participant's Separation from Service, or, if earlier, the date of the Participant's death that occurs within such six-month period.

(iii) If vesting of a Non-Exempt Award accelerates under the terms of a Non-Exempt Severance Arrangement in connection with a Participant's Separation from Service, and such vesting acceleration provisions were not in effect as of the date of grant of the Non-Exempt Award and, therefore, are not a part of the terms of such Non-Exempt Award on the date of grant, then such acceleration of vesting of the Non-Exempt Award shall not accelerate the issuance date of the shares, but the shares shall instead be issued on the same schedule as set forth in the Grant Notice as if they had vested in the ordinary course during the Participant's Continuous Service, notwithstanding the vesting acceleration of the Non-Exempt Award. Such issuance schedule is intended to satisfy the requirements of payment on a specified date or pursuant to a fixed schedule, as provided under U.S. Treasury Regulations Section 1.409A-3(a)(4).

(c) Treatment of Non-Exempt Awards Upon a Corporate Transaction for Employees and Consultants. The provisions of this subsection (c) shall apply and shall supersede anything to the contrary set forth in the Plan with respect to the permitted treatment of any Non-Exempt Award in connection with a Corporate Transaction if the Participant was either an Employee or Consultant upon the applicable date of grant of the Non-Exempt Award.

(i) Vested Non-Exempt Awards. The following provisions shall apply to any Vested Non-Exempt Award in connection with a Corporate Transaction:

(1) If the Corporate Transaction is also a Section 409A Change in Control then the Acquiring Entity may not assume, continue or substitute the Vested Non-Exempt Award. Upon the Section 409A Change in Control the settlement of the Vested Non-Exempt Award will automatically be accelerated and the shares will be immediately issued in respect of the Vested Non-Exempt Award. Alternatively, the Company may instead provide that the Participant will receive a cash settlement equal to the Fair Market Value of the shares that would otherwise be issued to the Participant upon the Section 409A Change in Control.

(2) If the Corporate Transaction is not also a Section 409A Change in Control, then the Acquiring Entity must either assume, continue or substitute each Vested Non-Exempt Award. The shares to be issued in respect of the Vested Non-Exempt Award shall be issued to the Participant by the Acquiring Entity on the same schedule that the shares would have been issued to the Participant if the Corporate Transaction had not occurred. In the Acquiring Entity's discretion, in lieu of an issuance of shares, the Acquiring Entity may instead substitute a cash payment on each applicable issuance date, equal to the Fair Market Value of the shares that would otherwise be issued to the Participant on such issuance dates, with the determination of the Fair Market Value of the shares made on the date of the Corporate Transaction.

(ii) Unvested Non-Exempt Awards. The following provisions shall apply to any Unvested Non-Exempt Award unless otherwise determined by the Board pursuant to subsection (e) of this Section.

(1) In the event of a Corporate Transaction, the Acquiring Entity shall assume, continue or substitute any Unvested Non-Exempt Award. Unless otherwise determined by the Board, any Unvested Non-Exempt Award will remain subject to the same vesting and forfeiture restrictions that were applicable to the Award prior to the Corporate Transaction. The shares to be issued in respect of any Unvested Non-Exempt Award shall be issued to the Participant by the Acquiring Entity on the same schedule that the shares would have been issued to the Participant if the Corporate Transaction had not occurred. In the Acquiring Entity's discretion, in lieu of an issuance of shares, the Acquiring Entity may instead substitute a cash payment on each applicable issuance date, equal to the Fair Market Value of the shares that would otherwise be issued to the Participant on such issuance dates, with the determination of Fair Market Value of the shares made on the date of the Corporate Transaction.

(2) If the Acquiring Entity will not assume, substitute or continue any Unvested Non-Exempt Award in connection with a Corporate Transaction, then such Award shall automatically terminate and be forfeited upon the Corporate Transaction with no consideration payable to any Participant in respect of such forfeited Unvested Non-Exempt Award. Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent permitted and in compliance with the requirements of Section 409A, the Board may in its discretion determine to elect to accelerate the vesting and settlement of the Unvested Non-Exempt Award upon the Corporate Transaction, or instead substitute a cash payment equal to the Fair Market Value of such shares that would otherwise be issued to the Participant, as further provided in subsection (e)(ii) below. In the absence of such discretionary election by the Board, any Unvested Non-Exempt Award shall be forfeited without payment of any consideration to the affected Participants if the Acquiring Entity will not assume, substitute or continue the Unvested Non-Exempt Awards in connection with the Corporate Transaction.

(3) The foregoing treatment shall apply with respect to all Unvested Non-Exempt Awards upon any Corporate Transaction, and regardless of whether or not such Corporate Transaction is also a Section 409A Change in Control.

(d) Treatment of Non-Exempt Awards Upon a Corporate Transaction for Non-Employee Directors. The following provisions of this subsection (d) shall apply and shall supersede anything to the contrary that may be set forth in the Plan with respect to the permitted treatment of a Non-Exempt Director Award in connection with a Corporate Transaction.

(i) If the Corporate Transaction is also a Section 409A Change in Control then the Acquiring Entity may not assume, continue or substitute the Non-Exempt Director Award. Upon the Section 409A Change in Control the vesting and settlement of any Non-Exempt Director Award will automatically be accelerated and the shares will be immediately issued to the Participant in respect of the Non-Exempt Director Award. Alternatively, the Company may provide that the Participant will instead receive a cash settlement equal to the Fair Market Value of the shares that would otherwise be issued to the Participant upon the Section 409A Change in Control pursuant to the preceding provision.

(ii) If the Corporate Transaction is not also a Section 409A Change in Control, then the Acquiring Entity must either assume, continue or substitute the Non-Exempt Director Award. Unless otherwise determined by the Board, the Non-Exempt Director Award will remain subject to the same vesting and forfeiture restrictions that were applicable to the Award prior to the Corporate Transaction. The shares to be issued in respect of the Non-Exempt Director Award shall be issued to the Participant by the Acquiring Entity on the same schedule that the shares would have been issued to the Participant if the Corporate Transaction had not occurred. In the Acquiring Entity's discretion, in lieu of an issuance of shares, the Acquiring Entity may instead substitute a cash payment on each applicable issuance date, equal to the Fair Market Value of the shares that would otherwise be issued to the Participant on such issuance dates, with the determination of Fair Market Value made on the date of the Corporate Transaction.

(e) If the RSU Award is a Non-Exempt Award, then the provisions in this Section 11(e) shall apply and supersede anything to the contrary that may be set forth in the Plan or the Award Agreement with respect to the permitted treatment of such Non-Exempt Award:

(i) Any exercise by the Board of discretion to accelerate the vesting of a Non-Exempt Award shall not result in any acceleration of the scheduled issuance dates for the shares in respect of the Non-Exempt Award unless earlier issuance of the shares upon the applicable vesting dates would be in compliance with the requirements of Section 409A.

(ii) The Company explicitly reserves the right to earlier settle any Non-Exempt Award to the extent permitted and in compliance with the requirements of Section 409A, including pursuant to any of the exemptions available in U.S. Treasury Regulations Section 1.409A-3(j)(4)(ix).

(iii) To the extent the terms of any Non-Exempt Award provide that it will be settled upon a Change in Control or Corporate Transaction, to the extent it is required for compliance with the requirements of Section 409A, the Change in Control or Corporate Transaction event triggering settlement must also constitute a Section 409A Change in Control. To the extent the terms of a Non-Exempt Award provide that it will be settled upon a termination of employment or termination of Continuous Service, to the extent it is required for compliance with the requirements of Section 409A, the termination event triggering settlement must also constitute a Separation From Service. However, if at the time the shares would otherwise be issued to a Participant in connection with a "separation from service" such Participant is subject to the distribution limitations contained in Section 409A applicable to "specified employees," as defined in Section 409A(a)(2)(B)(i) of the Code, such shares shall not be issued before the date that is six months following the date of the Participant's Separation From Service, or, if earlier, the date of the Participant's death that occurs within such six month period.

(iv) The provisions in this subsection (e) for delivery of the shares in respect of the settlement of an RSU Award that is a Non-Exempt Award are intended to comply with the requirements of Section 409A so that the delivery of the shares to the Participant in respect of such Non-Exempt Award will not trigger the additional tax imposed under Section 409A, and any ambiguities herein will be so interpreted.

12. SEVERABILITY.

If all or any part of the Plan or any Award Agreement is declared by any court or governmental authority to be unlawful or invalid, such unlawfulness or invalidity shall not invalidate any portion of the Plan or such Award Agreement not declared to be unlawful or invalid. Any Section of the Plan or any Award Agreement (or part of such a Section) so declared to be unlawful or invalid shall, if possible, be construed in a manner which will give effect to the terms of such Section or part of a Section to the fullest extent possible while remaining lawful and valid.

13. TERMINATION OF THE PLAN.

The Board may suspend or terminate the Plan at any time. No Incentive Stock Options may be granted after the tenth anniversary of the earlier of: (i) the Adoption Date; or (ii) the date the Plan is approved by the Company's stockholders. No Awards may be granted under the Plan while the Plan is suspended or after it is terminated.

14. DEFINITIONS.

As used in the Plan, the following definitions apply to the capitalized terms indicated below:

(a) "Acquiring Entity" means the surviving or acquiring corporation (or its parent company) in connection with a Corporate Transaction.

(b) "Adoption Date" means the date the Plan is first approved by the Board or Compensation Committee, as applicable.

(c) "Affiliate" means, at the time of determination, any "parent" or "subsidiary" of the Company as such terms are defined in Rule 405 promulgated under the Securities Act. The Board may determine the time or times at which "parent" or "subsidiary" status is determined within the foregoing definition.

(d) "Applicable Law" means the Code and any applicable U.S. and non-U.S. securities, exchange, control, tax, federal, state, material local or municipal or other law, statute, constitution, principle of common law, resolution, ordinance, code, edict, decree, rule, listing rule, regulation, judicial decision, ruling or requirement issued, enacted, adopted, promulgated, implemented or otherwise put into effect by or under the authority of any Governmental Body (including under the authority of any applicable self-regulating organization such as the Nasdaq Stock Market, New York Stock Exchange, or the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority).

(e) "Award" means any right to receive Common Stock, cash or other property granted under the Plan (including an Incentive Stock Option, a Nonstatutory Stock Option, a Restricted Stock Award, an RSU Award, a SAR, a Performance Award or any Other Award).

(f) "Award Agreement" means a written or electronic agreement between the Company and a Participant evidencing the terms and conditions of an Award. The Award Agreement generally consists of the Grant Notice and the agreement containing the written summary of the general terms and conditions applicable to the Award and which is provided, including through electronic means, to a Participant along with the Grant Notice.

(g) "Board" means the Board of Directors of the Company (or its designee). Any decision or determination made by the Board shall be a decision or determination that is made in the sole discretion of the Board (or its designee), and such decision or determination shall be final and binding on all Participants.

(h) “Capitalization Adjustment” means any change that is made in, or other events that occur with respect to, the Common Stock subject to the Plan or subject to any Award after the Adoption Date without the receipt of consideration by the Company through merger, consolidation, reorganization, recapitalization, reincorporation, stock dividend, dividend in property other than cash, large nonrecurring cash dividend, stock split, reverse stock split, liquidating dividend, combination of shares, exchange of shares, change in corporate structure or any similar equity restructuring transaction, as that term is used in Statement of Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification Topic 718 (or any successor thereto). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the conversion of any convertible securities of the Company will not be treated as a Capitalization Adjustment.

(i) “Cause” has the meaning ascribed to such term in any written agreement between a Participant and the Company or any Affiliate of the Company defining such term and, in the absence of such agreement, such term means, with respect to a Participant, the occurrence of any of the following events: (i) the Participant’s dishonest statements or acts with respect to the Company or any Affiliate of the Company, or any current or prospective customers, suppliers, vendors or other third parties with which such entity does business; (ii) the Participant’s commission of (A) a felony or (B) any misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, deceit, dishonesty or fraud, or in each case the equivalent in any relevant jurisdiction; (iii) the Participant’s failure to perform the Participant’s assigned duties and responsibilities to the reasonable satisfaction of the Company or any Affiliate of the Company which failure continues, in the reasonable judgment of the Company, after written notice given to the Participant by the Company or any Affiliate of the Company; (iv) the Participant’s gross negligence, willful misconduct or insubordination with respect to the Company or any Affiliate of the Company; or (v) the Participant’s material violation of any provision of any agreement(s) between the Participant and the Company or any Affiliate of the Company relating to noncompetition, nonsolicitation, nondisclosure and/or assignment of inventions. The determination that a termination of the Participant’s Continuous Service is either for Cause or without Cause will be made by the Board with respect to Participants who are executive officers of the Company and by the Company’s Chief Executive Officer with respect to Participants who are not executive officers of the Company. Any determination by the Company that the Continuous Service of a Participant was terminated with or without Cause for the purposes of outstanding Awards held by such Participant will have no effect upon any determination of the rights or obligations of the Company or any Affiliate of the Company or such Participant for any other purpose.

(j) “Change in Control” or “Change of Control” means the occurrence, in a single transaction or in a series of related transactions, of any one or more of the following events:

(i) any Exchange Act Person becomes the Owner, directly or indirectly, of securities of the Company representing more than 50% of the combined voting power of the Company’s then outstanding securities other than by virtue of a merger, consolidation or similar transaction. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a Change in Control shall not be deemed to occur (A) on account of the acquisition of securities of the Company directly from the Company, (B) on account of the acquisition of securities of the Company by an investor, any affiliate thereof or any other Exchange Act Person that acquires the Company’s securities in a transaction or series of related transactions the primary purpose of which is to obtain financing for the Company through the issuance of equity securities, or (C) solely because the level of Ownership held by any Exchange Act Person (the “Subject Person”) exceeds the designated percentage threshold of the outstanding voting securities as a result of a repurchase or other acquisition of voting securities by the Company reducing the number of shares outstanding, provided that if a Change in Control would occur (but for the operation of this sentence) as a result of the acquisition of voting securities by the Company, and after such share acquisition, the Subject Person becomes the Owner of any additional voting securities that, assuming the repurchase or other acquisition had not occurred, increases the percentage of the then outstanding voting securities Owned by the Subject Person over the designated percentage threshold, then a Change in Control shall be deemed to occur;

(ii) there is consummated a merger, consolidation or similar transaction involving (directly or indirectly) the Company and, immediately after the consummation of such merger, consolidation or similar transaction, the stockholders of the Company immediately prior thereto do not Own, directly or indirectly, either

(A) outstanding voting securities representing more than 50% of the combined outstanding voting power of the Acquiring Entity in such merger, consolidation or similar transaction or (B) more than 50% of the combined outstanding voting power of the parent of the Acquiring Entity in such merger, consolidation or similar transaction, in each case in substantially the same proportions as their Ownership of the outstanding voting securities of the Company immediately prior to such transaction;

(iii) there is consummated a sale, lease, exclusive license or other disposition of all or substantially all of the consolidated assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries, other than a sale, lease, license or other disposition of all or substantially all of the consolidated assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries to an Entity, more than 50% of the combined voting power of the voting securities of which are Owned by stockholders of the Company in substantially the same proportions as their Ownership of the outstanding voting securities of the Company immediately prior to such sale, lease, license or other disposition; or

(iv) individuals who, on the Adoption Date, are members of the Board (the “Incumbent Board”) cease for any reason to constitute at least a majority of the members of the Board; provided, however, that if the appointment or election (or nomination for election) of any new Board member was approved or recommended by a majority vote of the members of the Incumbent Board then still in office, such new member shall, for purposes of this Plan, be considered as a member of the Incumbent Board.

Notwithstanding the foregoing or any other provision of this Plan, (A) the term Change in Control shall not include a sale of assets, merger or other transaction effected exclusively for the purpose of changing the domicile of the Company, (B) the definition of Change in Control (or any analogous term) in an individual written agreement between the Company or any Affiliate and the Participant shall supersede the foregoing definition with respect to Awards subject to such agreement; provided, however, that if no definition of Change in Control or any analogous term is set forth in such an individual written agreement, the foregoing definition shall apply, and (C) with respect to any nonqualified deferred compensation that becomes payable on account of the Change in Control, the transaction or event described in clause (i), (ii), (iii), or (iv) also constitutes a Section 409A Change in Control if required in order for the payment not to violate Section 409A of the Code.

(k) “Code” means the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, including any applicable regulations and guidance thereunder.

(l) “Committee” means the Compensation Committee and any other committee of one or more Directors to whom authority has been delegated by the Board or Compensation Committee in accordance with the Plan.

(m) “Common Stock” means the common stock of the Company.

(n) “Company” means Candid Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation, and any successor corporation thereto.

(o) “Compensation Committee” means the Compensation Committee of the Board.

(p) “Consultant” means any person, including an advisor, who is (i) engaged by the Company or an Affiliate to render consulting or advisory services and is compensated for such services, or (ii) serving as a member of the board of directors of an Affiliate and is compensated for such services. However, service solely as a Director, or payment of a fee for such service, will not cause a Director to be considered a “Consultant” for purposes of the Plan. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a person is treated as a Consultant under this Plan only if a Form S-8 Registration Statement under the Securities Act is available to register either the offer or the sale of the Company’s securities to such person.

(q) “Continuous Service” means that the Participant’s service with the Company or an Affiliate, whether as an Employee, Director or Consultant, is not interrupted or terminated. A change in the capacity in which the Participant renders service to the Company or an Affiliate as an Employee, Director or Consultant or a change in the Entity for which the Participant renders such service, provided that there is no interruption or termination of the Participant's service with the Company or an Affiliate, will not terminate a Participant's Continuous Service; provided, however, that if the Entity for which a Participant is rendering services ceases to qualify as an Affiliate, as determined by the Board, such Participant's Continuous Service will be considered to have terminated on the date such Entity ceases to qualify as an Affiliate. For example, a change in status from an Employee of the Company to a Consultant of an Affiliate or to a Director will not constitute an interruption of Continuous Service. To the extent permitted by Applicable Law, the Board or the chief executive officer of the Company, in that party's sole discretion, may determine whether Continuous Service will be considered interrupted in the case of (i) any leave of absence approved by the Company or an Affiliate, including sick leave, military leave or any other personal leave, or (ii) transfers between the Company, an Affiliate, or their successors. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a leave of absence will be treated as Continuous Service for purposes of vesting in an Award only to such extent as may be provided in the Company's leave of absence policy, in the written terms of any leave of absence agreement or policy applicable to the Participant, or as otherwise required by Applicable Law. In addition, to the extent required for exemption from or compliance with Section 409A, the determination of whether there has been a termination of Continuous Service will be made, and such term will be construed, in a manner that is consistent with the definition of "separation from service" as defined under U.S. Treasury Regulation Section 1.409A-1(h) (without regard to any alternative definition thereunder).

(r) "Corporate Transaction" means the consummation, in a single transaction or in a series of related transactions, of any one or more of the following events:

(i) a sale or other disposition of all or substantially all, as determined by the Board, of the consolidated assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries;

(ii) a sale or other disposition of at least 50% of the outstanding securities of the Company;

(iii) a merger, consolidation or similar transaction following which the Company is not the surviving corporation; or

(iv) a merger, consolidation or similar transaction following which the Company is the surviving corporation but the shares of Common Stock outstanding immediately preceding the merger, consolidation or similar transaction are converted or exchanged by virtue of the merger, consolidation or similar transaction into other property, whether in the form of securities, cash or otherwise.

Notwithstanding the foregoing or any other provision of this Plan, (A) the term Corporate Transaction shall not include a sale of assets, merger or other transaction effected exclusively for the purpose of changing the domicile of the Company, (B) the definition of Corporate Transaction (or any analogous term) in an individual written agreement between the Company or any Affiliate and the Participant shall supersede the foregoing definition with respect to Awards subject to such agreement; provided, however, that if no definition of Corporate Transaction or any analogous term is set forth in such an individual written agreement, the foregoing definition shall apply, and (C) with respect to any nonqualified deferred compensation that becomes payable on account of the Corporate Transaction, the transaction or event described in clause (i), (ii), (iii), or (iv) also constitutes a Section 409A Change in Control if required in order for the payment not to violate Section 409A of the Code.

(s) "determine" or "determined" means as determined by the Board or the Committee (or its designee) in its sole discretion.

(t) "Director" means a member of the Board.

(u) "Disability" means, with respect to a Participant, such Participant is unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months, as provided in Section 22(e)(3) of the Code, and will be determined by the Board on the basis of such medical evidence as the Board deems warranted under the circumstances.

(v) “Effective Date” means the effective date of this Plan, which is [], 2026.

(w) “Employee” means any person employed by the Company or an Affiliate. However, service solely as a Director, or payment of a fee for such services, will not cause a Director to be considered an “Employee” for purposes of the Plan.

(x) “Employer” means the Company or the Affiliate that employs the Participant.

(y) “Entity” means a corporation, partnership, limited liability company or other entity.

(z) “Exchange Act” means the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(aa) “Exchange Act Person” means any natural person, Entity or “group” (within the meaning of Section 13(d) or 14(d) of the Exchange Act), except that “Exchange Act Person” will not include (i) the Company or any Subsidiary of the Company, (ii) any employee benefit plan of the Company or any Subsidiary of the Company or any trustee or other fiduciary holding securities under an employee benefit plan of the Company or any Subsidiary of the Company, (iii) an underwriter temporarily holding securities pursuant to a registered public offering of such securities, (iv) an Entity Owned, directly or indirectly, by the stockholders of the Company in substantially the same proportions as their Ownership of stock of the Company, or (v) any natural person, Entity or “group” (within the meaning of Section 13(d) or 14(d) of the Exchange Act) that, as of the Effective Date, is the Owner, directly or indirectly, of securities of the Company representing more than 50% of the combined voting power of the Company’s then outstanding securities.

(bb) “Fair Market Value” means, as of any date, unless otherwise determined by the Board, the value of the Common Stock (as determined on a per share or aggregate basis, as applicable) determined as follows:

(i) If the Common Stock is listed on any established stock exchange or traded on any established market, the Fair Market Value will be the closing sales price for such stock as quoted on such exchange or market (or the exchange or market with the greatest volume of trading in the Common Stock) on the date of determination, as reported in a source the Board deems reliable.

(ii) If there is no closing sales price for the Common Stock on the date of determination, then the Fair Market Value will be the closing selling price on the last preceding date for which such quotation exists.

(iii) In the absence of such markets for the Common Stock, or if otherwise determined by the Board, the Fair Market Value will be determined by the Board in good faith and in a manner that complies with Sections 409A and 422 of the Code.

(cc) “Fully Diluted Shares” means, as of any date, all of the common stock of the Company outstanding plus all shares of common stock of the Company issuable upon conversion or exercise of outstanding securities and rights, including (without limitation) preferred stock on an as-converted basis, equity awards, warrants (including pre-funded warrants), and any convertible indebtedness or similar instruments, whether or not then vested or currently exercisable.

(dd) “Governmental Body” means any: (i) nation, state, commonwealth, canton, province, territory, county, municipality, district or other jurisdiction of any nature; (ii) U.S. or non-U.S. federal, state, local, municipal, or other government; (iii) governmental or regulatory body, or quasi-governmental body of any nature (including any governmental division, department, administrative agency or bureau, commission, authority, instrumentality, official, ministry, fund, foundation, center, organization, unit, body or Entity and any court or other tribunal, and for the avoidance of doubt, any tax authority) or other body exercising similar powers or authority; or (iv) self-regulatory organization (including the Nasdaq Stock Market, New York Stock Exchange, and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority).

(ee) “Grant Notice” means the notice provided to a Participant that he or she has been granted an Award under the Plan and which includes the name of the Participant, the type of Award, the date of grant of the Award, number of shares of Common Stock subject to the Award or potential cash payment right, (if any), the vesting schedule for the Award (if any) and other key terms applicable to the Award.

(ff) “Incentive Stock Option” means an option granted pursuant to Section 4 of the Plan that is intended to be, and qualifies as, an “incentive stock option” within the meaning of Section 422 of the Code.

(gg) “Materially Impair” means any amendment to the terms of the Award that materially adversely affects the Participant’s rights under the Award. A Participant’s rights under an Award will not be deemed to have been Materially Impaired by any such amendment if the Board, in its sole discretion, determines that the amendment, taken as a whole, does not materially impair the Participant’s rights. For example, the following types of amendments to the terms of an Award do not Materially Impair the Participant’s rights under the Award: (i) imposition of reasonable restrictions on the minimum number of shares subject to an Option or SAR that may be exercised; (ii) to maintain the qualified status of the Award as an Incentive Stock Option under Section 422 of the Code; (iii) to change the terms of an Incentive Stock Option in a manner that disqualifies, impairs or otherwise affects the qualified status of the Award as an Incentive Stock Option under Section 422 of the Code; (iv) to clarify the manner of exemption from, or to bring the Award into compliance with or qualify it for an exemption from, Section 409A; or (v) to comply with other Applicable Laws.

(hh) “Non-Employee Director” means a Director who either (i) is not a current employee or officer of the Company or an Affiliate, does not receive compensation, either directly or indirectly, from the Company or an Affiliate for services rendered as a consultant or in any capacity other than as a Director (except for an amount as to which disclosure would not be required under Item 404(a) of Regulation S-K promulgated pursuant to the Securities Act (“Regulation S-K”)), does not possess an interest in any other transaction for which disclosure would be required under Item 404(a) of Regulation S-K, and is not engaged in a business relationship for which disclosure would be required pursuant to Item 404(b) of Regulation S-K; or (ii) is otherwise considered a “non-employee director” for purposes of Rule 16b-3.

(ii) “Non-Exempt Award” means any Award that is subject to, and not exempt from, Section 409A, including as the result of (i) a deferral of the issuance of the shares subject to the Award which is elected by the Participant or imposed by the Company, or (ii) the terms of any Non-Exempt Severance Arrangement.

(jj) “Non-Exempt Director Award” means a Non-Exempt Award granted to a Participant who was a Director but not an Employee on the applicable grant date.

(kk) “Non-Exempt Severance Arrangement” means a severance arrangement or other agreement between the Participant and the Company that provides for acceleration of vesting of an Award and issuance of the shares in respect of such Award upon the Participant’s termination of employment or separation from service (as such term is defined in Section 409A(a)(2)(A)(i) of the Code (and without regard to any alternative definition thereunder)) (“Separation from Service”) and such severance benefit does not satisfy the requirements for an exemption from application of Section 409A provided under U.S. Treasury Regulations Section 1.409A-1(b)(4), 1.409A-1(b)(9) or otherwise.

(ll) “Nonstatutory Stock Option” means any option granted pursuant to Section 4 of the Plan that does not qualify as an Incentive Stock Option.

(mm) “Officer” means a person who is an officer of the Company within the meaning of Section 16 of the Exchange Act.

(nn) “Option” means an Incentive Stock Option or a Nonstatutory Stock Option to purchase shares of Common Stock granted pursuant to the Plan.

(oo) “Option Agreement” means a written or electronic agreement between the Company and the Optionholder evidencing the terms and conditions of the Option grant. The Option Agreement includes the Grant Notice for the Option and the agreement containing the written summary of the general terms and conditions applicable to the Option and which is provided including through electronic means, to a Participant along with the Grant Notice. Each Option Agreement will be subject to the terms and conditions of the Plan.

(pp) “Optionholder” means a person to whom an Option is granted pursuant to the Plan or, if applicable, such other person who holds an outstanding Option.

(qq) “Other Award” means an award valued in whole or in part by reference to, or otherwise based on, Common Stock, including the appreciation in value thereof (e.g., options or stock rights with an exercise price or strike price less than 100% of the Fair Market Value at the time of grant) that is not an Incentive Stock Option, Nonstatutory Stock Option, SAR, Restricted Stock Award, RSU Award or Performance Award.

(rr) “Other Award Agreement” means a written or electronic agreement between the Company and a holder of an Other Award evidencing the terms and conditions of an Other Award grant. Each Other Award Agreement will be subject to the terms and conditions of the Plan.

(ss) “Own,” “Owned,” “Owner,” or “Ownership” means that a person or Entity will be deemed to “Own,” to have “Owned,” to be the “Owner” of, or to have acquired “Ownership” of securities if such person or Entity, directly or indirectly, through any contract, arrangement, understanding, relationship or otherwise, has or shares voting power, which includes the power to vote or to direct the voting, with respect to such securities.

(tt) “Participant” means an Employee, Director or Consultant to whom an Award is granted pursuant to the Plan or, if applicable, such other person who holds an outstanding Award.

(uu) “Performance Award” means an Award that may vest or may be exercised or a cash award that may vest or become earned and paid contingent upon the attainment during a Performance Period of certain Performance Goals and which is granted under the terms and conditions of Section 5(b) pursuant to such terms as are approved by the Board. In addition, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law and set forth in the applicable Award Agreement, the Board may determine that cash or other property may be used in payment of Performance Awards. Performance Awards that are settled in cash or other property are not required to be valued in whole or in part by reference to, or otherwise based on, the Common Stock.

(vv) “Performance Criteria” means one or more criteria that the Board will select for purposes of establishing the Performance Goals for a Performance Period. The Performance Criteria that will be used to establish such Performance Goals may be based on any one of, or combination of, the following as determined by the Board: earnings (including earnings per share and net earnings); earnings before interest, taxes and depreciation; earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization; total stockholder return; relative stockholder return; return on equity or average stockholder’s equity; return on assets, investment, or capital employed; stock price; margin (including gross margin); income (before or after taxes); operating income; operating income after taxes; pre-tax profit; operating cash flow; sales, annual recurring revenue or revenue targets; increases in revenue or product revenue; expenses and cost reduction goals; improvement in or attainment of working capital levels; economic value added (or an equivalent metric); market share; cash flow; cash flow per share; share price performance; debt reduction; customer satisfaction; stockholders’ equity; capital expenditures; debt levels; operating profit or net operating profit; workforce diversity; growth of net income or operating income; billings; financing; regulatory milestones; stockholder liquidity; corporate governance and compliance; intellectual property; personnel matters; progress of internal research; progress of partnered programs; partner satisfaction; budget management; partner or collaborator achievements; internal controls, including those related to the U.S. Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002; investor relations, analysts and communication; implementation or completion of projects or processes; employee retention; number of users, including unique users; strategic partnerships or transactions (including in-licensing and out-licensing of intellectual property); establishing relationships with respect to the marketing, distribution and sale of the Company's products; supply chain achievements; co-development, co-marketing, profit sharing, joint venture or other similar arrangements; individual performance goals; corporate development and planning goals; and other measures of performance selected by the Board or Committee whether or not listed herein.

(ww) "Performance Goals" means, for a Performance Period, one or more goals established by the Board for the Performance Period based upon the Performance Criteria. Performance Goals may be based on a Company-wide basis, with respect to one or more business units, divisions, Affiliates, or business segments, and in either absolute terms or relative to the performance of one or more comparable companies or the performance of one or more relevant indices. Unless specified otherwise by the Board (i) in the Award Agreement at the time the Award is granted or (ii) in such other document setting forth the Performance Goals at the time the Performance Goals are established, the Board will appropriately make adjustments in the method of calculating the attainment of Performance Goals for a Performance Period as follows: (1) to exclude restructuring and/or other nonrecurring charges; (2) to exclude exchange rate effects; (3) to exclude the effects of changes to generally accepted accounting principles; (4) to exclude the effects of any statutory adjustments to corporate tax rates; (5) to exclude the effects of items that are "unusual" in nature or occur "infrequently" as determined under generally accepted accounting principles; (6) to exclude the dilutive effects of acquisitions or joint ventures; (7) to assume that any business divested by the Company achieved performance objectives at targeted levels during the balance of a Performance Period following such divestiture; (8) to exclude the effect of any change in the outstanding shares of Common Stock by reason of any stock dividend or split, stock repurchase, reorganization, recapitalization, merger, consolidation, spin-off, combination or exchange of shares or other similar corporate change, or any distributions to common stockholders other than regular cash dividends; (9) to exclude the effects of stock based compensation and the award of bonuses under the Company's bonus plans; (10) to exclude costs incurred in connection with potential acquisitions or divestitures that are required to be expensed under generally accepted accounting principles; and (11) to exclude the goodwill and intangible asset impairment charges that are required to be recorded under generally accepted accounting principles. In addition, the Board may establish or provide for other adjustment items in the Award Agreement at the time the Award is granted or in such other document setting forth the Performance Goals at the time the Performance Goals are established. In addition, the Board retains the discretion to reduce or eliminate the compensation or economic benefit due upon attainment of Performance Goals and to define the manner of calculating the Performance Criteria it selects to use for such Performance Period. Partial achievement of the specified criteria may result in the payment or vesting corresponding to the degree of achievement as specified in the Award Agreement or the written terms of a Performance Award.

(xx) "Performance Period" means the period of time selected by the Board over which the attainment of one or more Performance Goals will be measured for the purpose of determining a Participant's right to vesting or exercise of an Award. Performance Periods may be of varying and overlapping duration, at the sole discretion of the Board.

(yy) "Plan" means this Candid Therapeutics, Inc. 2026 Equity Incentive Plan, as amended from time to time.

(zz) "Plan Administrator" means the person, persons, and/or third-party administrator designated by the Company to administer the day-to-day operations of the Plan and the Company's other equity incentive programs.

(ddd) “Restricted Stock Award” or “RSA” means an Award of shares of Common Stock which is granted pursuant to the terms and conditions of Section 5(a).

(eee) “Restricted Stock Award Agreement” means a written or electronic agreement between the Company and a holder of a Restricted Stock Award evidencing the terms and conditions of a Restricted Stock Award grant. The Restricted Stock Award Agreement includes the Grant Notice for the Restricted Stock Award and the agreement containing the written summary of the general terms and conditions applicable to the Restricted Stock Award and which is provided including by electronic means, to a Participant along with the Grant Notice. Each Restricted Stock Award Agreement will be subject to the terms and conditions of the Plan.

(fff) “Returning Shares” means shares subject to outstanding stock awards granted under the Prior Plan and that following the Effective Date: (A) are not issued because such stock award or any portion thereof expires or otherwise terminates without all of the shares covered by such stock award having been issued; (B) are not issued because such stock award or any portion thereof is settled in cash; (C) are forfeited back to or repurchased by the Company because of the failure to meet a contingency or condition required for the vesting of such shares; (D) are withheld or reacquired to satisfy the exercise, strike or purchase price; or (E) are withheld or reacquired to satisfy a tax withholding obligation.

(ggg) “RSU Award” or “RSU” means an Award of restricted stock units representing the right to receive an issuance of shares of Common Stock which is granted pursuant to the terms and conditions of Section 5(a).

(hhh) “RSU Award Agreement” means a written or electronic agreement between the Company and a holder of an RSU Award evidencing the terms and conditions of an RSU Award grant. The RSU Award Agreement includes the Grant Notice for the RSU Award and the agreement containing the written summary of the general terms and conditions applicable to the RSU Award and which is provided including by electronic means, to a Participant along with the Grant Notice. Each RSU Award Agreement will be subject to the terms and conditions of the Plan.

(iii) “Rule 16b-3” means Rule 16b-3 promulgated under the Exchange Act or any successor to Rule 16b-3, as in effect from time to time.

(jjj) “Rule 405” means Rule 405 promulgated under the Securities Act.

(kkk) “SAR Agreement” means a written or electronic agreement between the Company and a holder of a SAR evidencing the terms and conditions of a SAR grant. The SAR Agreement includes the Grant Notice for the SAR and the agreement containing the written summary of the general terms and conditions applicable to the SAR and which is provided, including by electronic means, to a Participant along with the Grant Notice. Each SAR Agreement will be subject to the terms and conditions of the Plan.

(III) “Section 409A” means Section 409A of the Code and the regulations and other guidance thereunder.

(mmm) “Section 409A Change in Control” means a change in the ownership or effective control of the Company, or in the ownership of a substantial portion of the Company’s assets, as provided in Section 409A(a)(2)(A)(v) of the Code and U.S. Treasury Regulations Section 1.409A-3(i)(5) (without regard to any alternative definition thereunder).

(nnn) “Securities Act” means the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

(ooo) “Share Reserve” means the number of shares available for issuance under the Plan as set forth in Section 2(a).

(ppp) “Stock Appreciation Right” or “SAR” means a right to receive the appreciation on Common Stock that is granted pursuant to the terms and conditions of Section 4.

(qqq) “Subsidiary” means, with respect to the Company, (i) any corporation of which more than 50% of the outstanding capital stock having ordinary voting power to elect a majority of the board of directors of such corporation (irrespective of whether, at the time, stock of any other class or classes of such corporation will have or might have voting power by reason of the happening of any contingency) is at the time, directly or indirectly, Owned by the Company, and (ii) any partnership, limited liability company or other entity in which the Company has a direct or indirect interest (whether in the form of voting or participation in profits or capital contribution) of more than 50%.

(rrr) “Tax-Related Items” means any income tax, social insurance, payroll tax, fringe benefit tax, payment on account or other tax-related items arising out of or in relation to a Participant’s participation in the Plan and legally applicable or deemed applicable to the Participant.

CANDID THERAPEUTICS, INC.

2026 EMPLOYEE STOCK PURCHASE PLAN

ADOPTED BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS: [], 2026
APPROVED BY THE STOCKHOLDERS: [], 2026

1. GENERAL; PURPOSE.

(a) The Plan provides a means by which Eligible Employees of the Company and certain Designated Companies may be given an opportunity to purchase shares of Common Stock. The Plan permits the Company to grant a series of Purchase Rights to Eligible Employees under an Employee Stock Purchase Plan. In addition, the Plan permits the Company to grant a series of Purchase Rights to Eligible Employees that do not meet the requirements of an Employee Stock Purchase Plan.

(b) The Plan includes two components: a 423 Component and a Non-423 Component. The Company intends (but makes no undertaking or representation to maintain) the 423 Component to qualify as an Employee Stock Purchase Plan. The provisions of the 423 Component, accordingly, will be construed in a manner that is consistent with the requirements of Section 423 of the Code. In addition, this Plan authorizes grants of Purchase Rights under the Non-423 Component that do not meet the requirements of an Employee Stock Purchase Plan. Except as otherwise provided in the Plan or determined by the Board, the Non-423 Component will operate and be administered in the same manner as the 423 Component. In addition, the Company may make separate Offerings which vary in terms (provided that such terms are not inconsistent with the provisions of the Plan or the requirements of an Employee Stock Purchase Plan to the extent the Offering is made under the 423 Component), and the Company will designate which Designated Company is participating in each separate Offering.

(c) The Company, by means of the Plan, seeks to retain the services of Eligible Employees, to secure and retain the services of new Employees and to provide incentives for such persons to exert maximum efforts for the success of the Company and its Related Corporations.

2. ADMINISTRATION.

(a) The Board will administer the Plan unless and until the Board delegates administration of the Plan to a Committee or Committees, as provided in Section 2(c).

(b) The Board will have the power, subject to, and within the limitations of, the express provisions of the Plan:

(i) To determine how and when Purchase Rights will be granted and the provisions of each Offering (which need not be identical).

(ii) To designate from time to time (A) which Related Corporations will be eligible to participate in the Plan as Designated 423 Companies, (B) which Related Corporations or Affiliates will be eligible to participate in the Plan as Designated Non-423 Companies, (C) which Affiliates or Related Corporations may be excluded from participation in the Plan, and (D) which Designated Companies will participate in each separate Offering (to the extent that the Company makes separate Offerings).

(iii) To construe and interpret the Plan and Purchase Rights, and to establish, amend and revoke rules and regulations for its administration. The Board, in the exercise of this power, may correct any defect, omission or inconsistency in the Plan, in a manner and to the extent it deems necessary or expedient to make the Plan fully effective.

(iv) To settle all controversies regarding the Plan and Purchase Rights granted under the Plan.

(v) To suspend or terminate the Plan at any time as provided in Section 12.

(vi) To amend the Plan at any time as provided in Section 12.

(vii) Generally, to exercise such powers and to perform such acts as it deems necessary or expedient to promote the best interests of the Company, its Related Corporations and Affiliates, and to carry out the intent that the Plan be treated as an Employee Stock Purchase Plan with respect to the 423 Component.

(viii) To adopt such rules, procedures and sub-plans as are necessary or appropriate to permit or facilitate participation in the Plan by Employees who are non-U.S. nationals or employed or located outside the United States. Without limiting the generality of, and consistent with, the foregoing, the Board specifically is authorized to adopt rules, procedures, and sub-plans regarding, without limitation, eligibility to participate in the Plan, the definition of eligible "earnings," handling and making of Contributions, establishment of bank or trust accounts to hold Contributions, payment of interest, conversion of local currency, obligations to pay payroll tax, determination of beneficiary designation requirements, withholding procedures and handling of share issuances, any of which may vary according to applicable requirements, and which, if applicable to a Designated Non-423 Company, do not have to comply with the requirements of Section 423 of the Code.

(c) The Board may delegate some or all of the administration of the Plan to a Committee or Committees. If administration is delegated to a Committee, the Committee will have, in connection with the administration of the Plan, the powers theretofore possessed by the Board that have been delegated to the Committee, including the power to delegate to a subcommittee any of the administrative powers the Committee is authorized to exercise (and references in this Plan and any applicable Offering Document to the Board will thereafter be to the Committee or subcommittee), subject, however, to such resolutions, not inconsistent with the provisions of the Plan, as may be adopted from time to time by the Board. Further, to the extent not prohibited by Applicable Law, the Board or Committee may, from time to time, delegate some or all of its authority under the Plan to one or more officers of the Company or other persons or groups of persons as it deems necessary, appropriate or advisable under conditions or limitations that it may set at or after the time of the delegation. The Board may retain the authority to concurrently administer the Plan with the Committee (or its delegate) and may, at any time, revert in the Board some or all of the powers previously delegated. Whether or not the Board has delegated administration of the Plan to a Committee (or a delegate of the Committee), the Board will have the final power to determine all questions of policy and expediency that may arise in the administration of the Plan.

(d) All determinations, interpretations and constructions made by the Board will not be subject to review by any person and will be final, binding and conclusive on all persons.

3. SHARES OF COMMON STOCK SUBJECT TO THE PLAN.

(a) Subject to the provisions of Section 11(a) relating to Capitalization Adjustments, the maximum number of shares of Common Stock that may be issued under the Plan will not exceed []¹ shares of Common Stock, plus the number of shares of Common Stock that are automatically added on January 1st of each year for a period of up to ten years, commencing on January 1, 2027 and ending on (and including) January 1, 2036, in an amount equal to the lesser of (x) one percent (1%) of the total number of Fully Diluted Shares on December 31st of the preceding calendar year, and (y) []² shares of Common Stock. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Board may act prior to the first day of any calendar year to provide that there will be no January 1st increase in the share reserve for such calendar year or that the increase in the share reserve for such calendar year will be a lesser number of shares of Common Stock than would otherwise occur pursuant to the preceding sentence. For the avoidance of doubt, up to the maximum number of shares of Common Stock reserved under this Section 3(a) may be used to satisfy purchases of Common Stock under the 423 Component and any remaining portion of such maximum number of shares may be used to satisfy purchases of Common Stock under the Non-423 Component.

² NTD: To be equal to the initial limit, multiplied by 3.

(b) If any Purchase Right granted under the Plan terminates without having been exercised in full, the shares of Common Stock not purchased under such Purchase Right will again become available for issuance under the Plan.

(c) The stock purchasable under the Plan will be shares of authorized but unissued or reacquired Common Stock, including shares repurchased by the Company on the open market.

4. GRANT OF PURCHASE RIGHTS; OFFERING.

(a) The Board may from time to time grant or provide for the grant of Purchase Rights to Eligible Employees under an Offering (consisting of one or more Purchase Periods) on an Offering Date or Offering Dates selected by the Board. Each Offering will be in such form and will contain such terms and conditions as the Board will deem appropriate, and with respect to the 423 Component, will comply with the requirement of Section 423(b)(5) of the Code that all Employees granted Purchase Rights will have the same rights and privileges. The terms and conditions of an Offering shall be incorporated by reference into the Plan and treated as part of the Plan. The provisions of separate Offerings need not be identical, but each Offering will include (through incorporation of the provisions of this Plan by reference in the document comprising the Offering or otherwise) the period during which the Offering will be effective, which period will not exceed 27 months beginning with the Offering Date, and the substance of the provisions contained in Sections 5 through 8, inclusive.

(b) If a Participant has more than one Purchase Right outstanding under the Plan, unless such Participant otherwise indicates in forms delivered to the Company or a third party designated by the Company (each, a “Company Designee”): (i) each form will apply to all of such Participant’s Purchase Rights under the Plan, and (ii) a Purchase Right with a lower exercise price (or an earlier-granted Purchase Right, if different Purchase Rights have identical exercise prices) will be exercised to the fullest possible extent before a Purchase Right with a higher exercise price (or a later-granted Purchase Right if different Purchase Rights have identical exercise prices) will be exercised.

(c) The Board will have the discretion to structure an Offering so that if the Fair Market Value of a share of Common Stock on the first Trading Day of a new Purchase Period within that Offering is less than or equal to the Fair Market Value of a share of Common Stock on the Offering Date for that Offering, then (i) that Offering will terminate immediately as of that first Trading Day, and (ii) the Participants in such terminated Offering will be automatically enrolled in a new Offering beginning on the first Trading Day of such new Purchase Period.

5. ELIGIBILITY.

(a) Purchase Rights may be granted only to Employees of the Company or, as the Board may designate in accordance with Section 2(b), to Employees of a Related Corporation or an Affiliate. Except as provided in Section 5(b) or as required by Applicable Law, an Employee will not be eligible to be granted Purchase Rights unless, on the Offering Date, the Employee has been in the employ of the Company, the Related Corporation or the Affiliate, as the case may be, for such continuous period preceding such Offering Date as the Board may (unless prohibited by Applicable Law) require, but in no event will the required period of continuous employment be equal to or greater than two years. In addition, the Board may provide (unless prohibited by Applicable Law) that no Employee will be eligible to be granted Purchase Rights under the Plan unless, on the Offering Date, such Employee’s customary employment with the Company, the Related Corporation or the Affiliate is more than 20 hours per week and more than five months per calendar year or such other criteria as the Board may determine consistent with Section 423 of the Code with respect to the 423 Component. The Board may also exclude (unless prohibited by Applicable Law) from participation in the Plan or any Offering Employees who are “highly compensated employees” (within the meaning of Section 423(b)(4)(D) of the Code) of the Company, a Related Corporation or an Affiliate, or a subset of such highly compensated employees.

(b) The Board may provide that each person who, during the course of an Offering, first becomes an Eligible Employee will, on a date or dates specified in the Offering which coincides with the day on which such person becomes an Eligible Employee or which occurs thereafter, receive a Purchase Right under that Offering, which Purchase Right will thereafter be deemed to be a part of that Offering. Such Purchase Right will have the same characteristics as any Purchase Rights originally granted under that Offering, as described herein, except that:

(i) the date on which such Purchase Right is granted will be the “Offering Date” of such Purchase Right for all purposes, including determination of the exercise price of such Purchase Right;

(ii) the period of the Offering with respect to such Purchase Right will begin on its Offering Date and end coincident with the end of such Offering; and

(iii) the Board may provide that if such person first becomes an Eligible Employee within a specified period of time before the end of the Offering, the individual will not receive any Purchase Right under that Offering.

(c) No Employee will be eligible for the grant of any Purchase Rights under the 423 Component if, immediately after any such Purchase Rights are granted, such Employee owns stock possessing five percent or more of the total combined voting power or value of all classes of stock of the Company or of any Related Corporation. For purposes of this Section 5(c), the rules of Section 424(d) of the Code will apply in determining the stock ownership of any Employee, and stock which such Employee may purchase under all outstanding Purchase Rights and options will be treated as stock owned by such Employee.

(d) As specified by Section 423(b)(8) of the Code, an Eligible Employee may be granted Purchase Rights under the 423 Component only if such Purchase Rights, together with any other rights granted under all Employee Stock Purchase Plans of the Company and any Related Corporations, do not permit such Eligible Employee’s rights to purchase stock of the Company or any Related Corporation to accrue at a rate which, when aggregated, exceeds U.S. $25,000 of Fair Market Value of such stock (determined at the time such rights are granted, and which, with respect to the Plan, will be determined as of their respective Offering Dates) for each calendar year in which such rights are outstanding at any time.

(e) Officers of the Company and any Designated Company, if they are otherwise Eligible Employees, will be eligible to participate in Offerings under the Plan. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Board may (unless prohibited by Applicable Law) provide in an Offering that Employees who are highly compensated Employees within the meaning of Section 423(b)(4)(D) of the Code will not be eligible to participate.

(f) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 5 to the contrary, in the case of an Offering under the Non-423 Component, an Eligible Employee (or group of Eligible Employees) may be excluded from participation in the Plan or an Offering if the Board has determined, in its sole discretion, that participation of such Eligible Employee(s) is not advisable or practical for any reason.

6. PURCHASE RIGHTS; PURCHASE PRICE.

(a) On each Offering Date, each Eligible Employee, pursuant to an Offering made under the Plan, will be granted a Purchase Right to purchase up to that number of shares of Common Stock purchasable either with a percentage of earnings (as such concept is defined in the Offering Document) or with a maximum dollar amount, but in either case as so specified by the Board in the Offering Document, during the period that begins on the Offering Date (or such later date as the Board determines for a particular Offering) and ends on the date stated in the Offering, which date will be no later than the end of the Offering.

(b) The Board will establish one or more Purchase Dates during an Offering on which Purchase Rights granted for that Offering will be exercised and shares of Common Stock will be purchased in accordance with such Offering.

(c) In connection with each Offering made under the Plan, the Board may specify (i) a maximum number of shares of Common Stock that may be purchased by any Participant on any Purchase Date during such Offering, (ii) a maximum aggregate number of shares of Common Stock that may be purchased by all Participants pursuant to such Offering and/or (iii) a maximum aggregate number of shares of Common Stock that may be purchased by all Participants on any Purchase Date under the Offering. If the aggregate purchase of shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise of Purchase Rights granted under the Offering would exceed any such maximum aggregate number, then, in the absence of any Board action otherwise, a pro rata (based on each Participant's accumulated Contributions) allocation of the shares of Common Stock (rounded down to the nearest whole share) available will be made in as nearly a uniform manner as will be practicable and equitable.

(d) The purchase price of shares of Common Stock acquired pursuant to Purchase Rights will be specified by the Board prior to commencement of an Offering and will not be less than the lesser of:

(i) an amount equal to 85% of the Fair Market Value of the shares of Common Stock on the Offering Date; or

(ii) an amount equal to 85% of the Fair Market Value of the shares of Common Stock on the applicable Purchase Date.

7. PARTICIPATION; WITHDRAWAL; TERMINATION.

(a) An Eligible Employee may elect to participate in an Offering and authorize payroll deductions as the means of making Contributions by completing and delivering to the Company or a Company Designee, within the time specified in the Offering, an enrollment form provided by the Company or a Company Designee. The enrollment form will specify the amount of Contributions not to exceed the maximum amount specified by the Board. Each Participant's Contributions will be credited to a bookkeeping account for such Participant under the Plan and will be deposited with the general funds of the Company except where Applicable Law requires that Contributions be held separately or deposited with a third party. If permitted in the Offering, a Participant may begin such Contributions with the first practicable payroll occurring on or after the Offering Date (or, in the case of a payroll date that occurs after the end of the prior Offering but before the Offering Date of the next new Offering, Contributions from such payroll will be included in the new Offering). If permitted in the Offering, a Participant may thereafter reduce (including to zero) or increase such Participant's Contributions. If payroll deductions are impermissible or problematic under Applicable Law or if specifically provided in the Offering and to the extent permitted by Section 423 of the Code with respect to the 423 Component, in addition to or instead of making Contributions by payroll deductions, a Participant may make Contributions through payment by cash, check or wire transfer prior to a Purchase Date.

(b) During an Offering, a Participant may cease making Contributions and withdraw from the Offering by delivering to the Company or a Company Designee a withdrawal form provided by the Company or a Company Designee. The Company may impose a deadline before a Purchase Date for withdrawing. Upon such withdrawal, such Participant's Purchase Right in that Offering will immediately terminate and the Company will distribute as soon as practicable to such Participant all of such Participant's accumulated but unused Contributions and such Participant's Purchase Right in that Offering shall thereupon terminate. A Participant's withdrawal from that Offering will have no effect upon such Participant's eligibility to participate in any other Offerings under the Plan, but such Participant will be required to deliver a new enrollment form to participate in subsequent Offerings.

(c) Purchase Rights granted pursuant to any Offering under the Plan will terminate immediately if the Participant either (i) is no longer an Employee for any reason or for no reason or (ii) is otherwise no longer eligible to participate. The Company will distribute as soon as practicable to such individual all of such individual's accumulated but unused Contributions.

(d) Unless otherwise determined by the Board, a Participant whose employment transfers or whose employment terminates with an immediate rehire (with no break in service) by or between the Company and a Designated Company or between Designated Companies will not be treated as having terminated employment for purposes of participating in the Plan or an Offering; however, if a Participant transfers from an Offering under the 423 Component to an Offering under the Non-423 Component, the exercise of the Participant's Purchase Right will be qualified under the 423 Component only to the extent such exercise complies with Section 423 of the Code. If a Participant transfers from an Offering under the Non-423 Component to an Offering under the 423 Component, the exercise of the Purchase Right will remain non-qualified under the Non-423 Component for the remainder of the Offering. The Board may establish different and additional rules governing transfers between separate Offerings within the 423 Component and between Offerings under the 423 Component and Offerings under the Non-423 Component.

(e) During a Participant's lifetime, Purchase Rights will be exercisable only by such Participant. Purchase Rights are not transferable by a Participant, except by will, by the laws of descent and distribution, or, if permitted by the Company and valid under Applicable Law, by a beneficiary designation as described in Section 10.

(f) Unless otherwise specified in the Offering or required by Applicable Law, the Company will have no obligation to pay interest on Contributions.

8. EXERCISE OF PURCHASE RIGHTS.

(a) On each Purchase Date, each Participant's accumulated Contributions will be applied to the purchase of shares of Common Stock, up to the maximum number of shares of Common Stock permitted by the Plan and the applicable Offering, at the purchase price specified in the Offering. No fractional shares will be issued unless specifically provided for in the Offering.

(b) Unless otherwise provided in the Offering, if any amount of accumulated Contributions remains in a Participant's account after the purchase of shares of Common Stock and such remaining amount is less than the amount required to purchase one share of Common Stock on the final Purchase Date of an Offering, then such remaining amount will be held in such Participant's account for the purchase of shares of Common Stock under the next Offering under the Plan, unless such Participant withdraws from or is not eligible to participate in such next Offering, in which case such amount will be distributed to such Participant after the final Purchase Date without interest (unless the payment of interest is otherwise required by Applicable Law). If the amount of Contributions remaining in a Participant's account after the purchase of shares of Common Stock is at least equal to the amount required to purchase one (1) whole share of Common Stock on the final Purchase Date of an Offering, then such remaining amount will be distributed in full to such Participant after the final Purchase Date of such Offering without interest (unless otherwise required by Applicable Law).

(c) No Purchase Rights may be exercised to any extent unless the shares of Common Stock to be issued upon such exercise under the Plan are covered by an effective registration statement pursuant to the Securities Act and the Plan is in material compliance with all applicable U.S. and non-U.S. federal, state and other securities, exchange control and other laws applicable to the Plan. If on a Purchase Date the shares of Common Stock are not so registered or the Plan is not in such compliance, no Purchase Rights will be exercised on such Purchase Date, and, subject to Section 423 of the Code with respect to the 423 Component, the Purchase Date will be delayed until the shares of Common Stock are subject to such an effective registration statement and the Plan is in material compliance, except that the Purchase Date will in no event be more than 27 months from the Offering Date. If, on the Purchase Date, as delayed to the maximum extent permissible, the shares of Common Stock are not registered and the Plan is not in material compliance with all Applicable Laws, as determined by the Company in its sole discretion, no Purchase Rights will be exercised and all accumulated but unused Contributions will be distributed to the Participants without interest (unless the payment of interest is otherwise required by Applicable Law).

9. COVENANTS OF THE COMPANY.

The Company will seek to obtain from each U.S. and non-U.S. federal, state or other regulatory commission, agency or other Governmental Body having jurisdiction over the Plan such authority as may be required to grant Purchase Rights and issue and sell shares of Common Stock thereunder unless the Company determines, in its sole discretion, that doing so is not practical or would cause the Company to incur costs that are unreasonable. If, after commercially reasonable efforts, the Company is unable to obtain the authority that counsel for the Company deems necessary for the grant of Purchase Rights or the lawful issuance and sale of Common Stock under the Plan, and at a commercially reasonable cost, the Company will be relieved from any liability for failure to grant Purchase Rights and/or to issue and sell Common Stock upon exercise of such Purchase Rights.

10. DESIGNATION OF BENEFICIARY.

(a) The Company may, but is not obligated to, permit a Participant to submit a form designating a beneficiary who will receive any shares of Common Stock and/or Contributions from the Participant's account under the Plan if the Participant dies before such shares and/or Contributions are delivered to the Participant. The Company may, but is not obligated to, permit the Participant to change such designation of beneficiary. Any such designation and/or change must be on a form approved by the Company.

(b) If a Participant dies, and in the absence of a valid beneficiary designation, the Company will deliver any shares of Common Stock and/or Contributions to the executor or administrator of the estate of the Participant. If no executor or administrator has been appointed (to the knowledge of the Company), the Company, in its sole discretion, may deliver such shares of Common Stock and/or Contributions, without interest (unless the payment of interest is otherwise required by Applicable Law), to the Participant's spouse, dependents or relatives, or if no spouse, dependent or relative is known to the Company, then to such other person as the Company may designate.

11. ADJUSTMENTS UPON CHANGES IN COMMON STOCK; CORPORATE TRANSACTIONS.

(a) In the event of a Capitalization Adjustment, the Board will appropriately and proportionately adjust: (i) the class(es) and maximum number of securities subject to the Plan pursuant to Section 3(a), (ii) the class(es) and maximum number of securities by which the share reserve is to increase automatically each year pursuant to Section 3(a), (iii) the class(es) and number of securities subject to, and the purchase price applicable to outstanding Offerings and Purchase Rights, and (iv) the class(es) and number of securities that are the subject of the purchase limits under each ongoing Offering. The Board will make these adjustments, and its determination will be final, binding and conclusive.

(b) In the event of a Corporate Transaction, then: (i) any surviving corporation or acquiring corporation (or the surviving or acquiring corporation's parent company) may assume or continue outstanding Purchase Rights or may substitute similar rights (including a right to acquire the same consideration paid to the stockholders in the Corporate Transaction) for outstanding Purchase Rights, or (ii) if any surviving or acquiring corporation (or its parent company) does not assume or continue such Purchase Rights or does not substitute similar rights for such Purchase Rights, then the Participants' accumulated Contributions will be used to purchase shares of Common Stock (rounded down to the nearest whole share) within ten business days (or such other period specified by the Board) prior to the Corporate Transaction under the outstanding Purchase Rights, and the Purchase Rights will terminate immediately after such purchase.

12. AMENDMENT, TERMINATION OR SUSPENSION OF THE PLAN.

(a) The Board may amend the Plan at any time in any respect the Board deems necessary or advisable. However, except as provided in Section 11(a) relating to Capitalization Adjustments, stockholder approval will be required for any amendment of the Plan for which stockholder approval is required by Applicable Law.

(b) The Board may suspend or terminate the Plan at any time. No Purchase Rights may be granted under the Plan while the Plan is suspended or after it is terminated.

(c) Any benefits, privileges, entitlements and obligations under any outstanding Purchase Rights granted before an amendment, suspension or termination of the Plan will not be materially impaired by any such amendment, suspension or termination except (i) with the consent of the person to whom such Purchase Rights were granted, (ii) as necessary to facilitate compliance with any laws, listing requirements, or governmental regulations (including, without limitation, the provisions of Section 423 of the Code and the regulations and other interpretive guidance issued thereunder relating to Employee Stock Purchase Plans) including without limitation any such regulations or other guidance that may be issued or amended after the date the Plan is adopted by the Board, or (iii) as necessary to obtain or maintain favorable tax, listing, or regulatory treatment. To be clear, the Board may amend outstanding Purchase Rights without a Participant's consent if such amendment is necessary to ensure that the Purchase Right and/or the Plan complies with the requirements of Section 423 of the Code with respect to the 423 Component or with respect to other Applicable Laws. Notwithstanding anything in the Plan or any Offering Document to the contrary, the Board will be entitled to: (i) establish the exchange ratio applicable to amounts withheld in a currency other than U.S. dollars; (ii) permit Contributions in excess of the amount designated by a Participant in order to adjust for mistakes in the Company's processing of properly completed Contribution elections; (iii) establish reasonable waiting and adjustment periods and/or accounting and crediting procedures to ensure that amounts applied toward the purchase of Common Stock for each Participant properly correspond with amounts withheld from the Participant's Contributions; (iv) amend any outstanding Purchase Rights or clarify any ambiguities regarding the terms of any Offering to enable the Purchase Rights to qualify under and/or comply with Section 423 of the Code with respect to the 423 Component; and (v) establish other limitations or procedures as the Board determines in its sole discretion advisable that are consistent with the Plan. The actions of the Board pursuant to this paragraph will not be considered to alter or impair any Purchase Rights granted under an Offering as they are part of the initial terms of each Offering and the Purchase Rights granted under each Offering.

13. Tax Qualification; Tax Withholding.

(a) Although the Company may endeavor to (i) qualify a Purchase Right for special tax treatment under the laws of the United States or jurisdictions outside of the United States or (ii) avoid adverse tax treatment, the Company makes no representation to that effect and expressly disavows any covenant to maintain special or to avoid unfavorable tax treatment, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Plan. The Company will be unconstrained in its corporate activities without regard to the potential negative tax impact on Participants.

(b) Each Participant will make arrangements, satisfactory to the Company and any applicable Related Corporation or Affiliate, to enable the Company, the Related Corporation or the Affiliate to fulfill any withholding obligation for Tax-Related Items. Without limitation to the foregoing, in the Company's sole discretion and subject to Applicable Law, such withholding obligation may be satisfied in whole or in part by (i) withholding from the Participant's salary or any other cash payment due to the Participant from the Company, a Related Corporation or an Affiliate; (ii) withholding from the proceeds of the sale of shares of Common Stock acquired under the Plan, either through a voluntary sale or a mandatory sale arranged by the Company; or (iii) any other method deemed acceptable by the Board. The Company shall not be required to issue any shares of Common Stock under the Plan until such obligations are satisfied.

(c) The 423 Component is exempt from the application of Section 409A of the Code, and any ambiguities herein shall be interpreted to so be exempt from Section 409A of the Code. The Non-423 Component is intended to be exempt from the application of Section 409A of the Code under the short-term deferral exception and any ambiguities shall be construed and interpreted in accordance with such intent. In furtherance of the foregoing and notwithstanding any provision in the Plan to the contrary, if the Committee determines that an option granted under the Plan may be subject to Section 409A of the Code or that any provision in the Plan would cause an option under the Plan to be subject to Section 409A, the Committee may amend the terms of the Plan and/or of an outstanding option granted under the Plan, or take such other action the Committee determines is necessary or appropriate, in each case, without the Participant's consent, to exempt any outstanding option or future option that may be granted under the Plan from or to allow any such options to comply with Section 409A of the Code, but only to the extent any such amendments or action by the Committee would not violate Section 409A of the Code. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company shall have no liability to a Participant or any other party if the option under the Plan that is intended to be exempt from or compliant with Section 409A of the Code is not so exempt or compliant or for any action taken by the Committee with respect thereto.

14. EFFECTIVE DATE OF PLAN.

The Plan will become effective immediately prior to and contingent upon the Effective Date. No Purchase Rights will be exercised unless and until the Plan has been approved by the stockholders of the Company, which approval must be within 12 months before or after the date the Plan is adopted (or if required under Section 12(a) above, materially amended) by the Board.

15. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

(a) Proceeds from the sale of shares of Common Stock pursuant to Purchase Rights will constitute general funds of the Company.

(b) A Participant will not be deemed to be the holder of, or to have any of the rights of a holder with respect to, shares of Common Stock subject to Purchase Rights unless and until the Participant's shares of Common Stock acquired upon exercise of Purchase Rights are recorded in the books of the Company (or its transfer agent).

(c) The Plan and Offering do not constitute an employment contract. Nothing in the Plan or in the Offering will in any way alter the at will nature of a Participant's employment or amend a Participant's employment or service contract, as applicable, or be deemed to create in any way whatsoever any obligation on the part of any Participant to continue in the employ or service of the Company, a Related Corporation or an Affiliate, or on the part of the Company, a Related Corporation or an Affiliate to continue the employment or service of a Participant.

(d) The provisions of the Plan will be governed by the laws of the State of Delaware without resort to that state's conflict of laws rules.

(e) If any particular provision of the Plan is found to be invalid or otherwise unenforceable, such provision will not affect the other provisions of the Plan, but the Plan will be construed in all respects as if such invalid provision were omitted.

(f) If any provision of the Plan does not comply with Applicable Law, such provision shall be construed in such a manner as to comply with Applicable Law.

16. DEFINITIONS.

As used in the Plan, the following definitions will apply to the capitalized terms indicated below:

(a) "423 Component" means the part of the Plan, which excludes the Non-423 Component, pursuant to which Purchase Rights that satisfy the requirements for an Employee Stock Purchase Plan may be granted to Eligible Employees.

(b) “Affiliate” means any entity, other than a Related Corporation, whether now or subsequently established, which is at the time of determination, a “parent” or “subsidiary” of the Company as such terms are defined in Rule 405 promulgated under the Securities Act. The Board may determine the time or times at which “parent” or “subsidiary” status is determined within the foregoing definition.

(c) “Applicable Law” means the Code and any applicable U.S. and non-U.S. securities, exchange control, tax, federal, state, material local or municipal or other law, statute, constitution, principle of common law, resolution, ordinance, code, edict, decree, rule, listing rule, regulation, judicial decision, ruling or requirement issued, enacted, adopted, promulgated, implemented or otherwise put into effect by or under the authority of any Governmental Body (or under the authority of the New York Stock Exchange, Nasdaq Stock Market or the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority).

(d) “Board” means the Board of Directors of the Company.

(e) “Capitalization Adjustment” means any change that is made in, or other events that occur with respect to, the Common Stock subject to the Plan or subject to any Purchase Right after the date the Plan is adopted by the Board without the receipt of consideration by the Company through merger, consolidation, reorganization, recapitalization, reincorporation, stock dividend, dividend in property other than cash, large nonrecurring cash dividend, stock split, liquidating dividend, combination of shares, exchange of shares, change in corporate structure or other similar equity restructuring transaction, as that term is used in Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification Topic 718 (or any successor thereto). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the conversion of any convertible securities of the Company will not be treated as a Capitalization Adjustment.

(f) “Code” means the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, including any applicable regulations and guidance thereunder.

(g) “Committee” means a committee of one or more members of the Board to whom authority has been delegated by the Board in accordance with Section 2(c).

(h) “Common Stock” means the common stock of the Company.

(i) “Company” means Candid Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation.

(j) “Contributions” means the payroll deductions, contributions made by Participants in case payroll deductions are impermissible or problematic under Applicable Law and other additional payments specifically provided for in the Offering that a Participant contributes to fund the exercise of a Purchase Right. A Participant may make additional payments into the Participant’s account if specifically provided for in the Offering, and then only if the Participant has not already had the maximum permitted amount withheld during the Offering through payroll deductions or other contributions and, with respect to the 423 Component, to the extent permitted by Section 423.

(k) “Corporate Transaction” means the consummation, in a single transaction or in a series of related transactions, of any one or more of the following events:

(i) a sale or other disposition of all or substantially all, as determined by the Board in its sole discretion, of the consolidated assets of the Company and its subsidiaries;

(ii) a sale or other disposition of more than 50% of the outstanding securities of the Company;

(iii) a merger, consolidation or similar transaction following which the Company is not the surviving corporation; or

(iv) a merger, consolidation or similar transaction following which the Company is the surviving corporation but the shares of Common Stock outstanding immediately preceding the merger, consolidation or similar transaction are converted or exchanged by virtue of the merger, consolidation or similar transaction into other property, whether in the form of securities, cash or otherwise.

(l) “Designated 423 Company” means any Related Corporation selected by the Board as participating in the 423 Component.

(m) “Designated Company” means any Designated Non-423 Company or Designated 423 Company, provided, however, that at any given time, a Related Corporation participating in the 423 Component shall not be a Related Corporation participating in the Non-423 Component.

(n) “Designated Non-423 Company” means any Related Corporation or Affiliate selected by the Board as participating in the Non-423 Component.

(o) “Director” means a member of the Board.

(p) “Effective Date” means the effective date of this Plan, which is [], 2026.

(q) “Eligible Employee” means an Employee who meets the requirements set forth in the document(s) governing the Offering for eligibility to participate in the Offering, provided that such Employee also meets the requirements for eligibility to participate set forth in the Plan.

(r) “Employee” means any person, including an Officer or Director, who is “employed” for purposes of Section 423(b)(4) of the Code by the Company or a Related Corporation or solely with respect to the Non-423 Component, an Affiliate. However, service solely as a Director, or payment of a fee for such services, will not cause a Director to be considered an “Employee” for purposes of the Plan.

(s) “Employee Stock Purchase Plan” means a plan that grants Purchase Rights intended to be options issued under an “employee stock purchase plan,” as that term is defined in Section 423(b) of the Code.

(t) “Exchange Act” means the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(u) “Fair Market Value” means, as of any date, the value of the Common Stock determined as follows:

(i) If the Common Stock is listed on any established stock exchange or traded on any established market, the Fair Market Value of a share of Common Stock will be, unless otherwise determined by the Board, the closing sales price for such stock as quoted on such exchange or market (or the exchange or market with the greatest volume of trading in the Common Stock) on the date of determination, as reported in such source as the Board deems reliable. Unless otherwise provided by the Board, if there is no closing sales price for the Common Stock on the date of determination, then the Fair Market Value will be the closing sales price on the last preceding date for which such quotation exists.

(ii) In the absence of such markets for the Common Stock, the Fair Market Value will be determined by the Board in good faith in compliance with Applicable Laws and regulations and, to the extent applicable as determined in the sole discretion of the Board, in a manner that complies with Sections 409A of the Code.

(v) “Fully Diluted Shares” means, as of any date, all of the common stock of the Company outstanding plus all shares of common stock of the Company issuable upon conversion or exercise of outstanding securities and rights, including (without limitation) preferred stock on an as-converted basis, equity awards, warrants (including pre-funded warrants), and any convertible indebtedness or similar instruments, whether or not then vested or currently exercisable.

(w) “Governmental Body” means any: (i) nation, state, commonwealth, canton, province, territory, county, municipality, district or other jurisdiction of any nature; (ii) U.S. or non-U.S. federal, state, local, municipal or other government; (iii) governmental or regulatory body, or quasi-governmental body of any nature (including any governmental division, department, administrative agency or bureau, commission, authority, instrumentality, official, ministry, fund, foundation, center, organization, unit, body or entity and any court or other tribunal, and for the avoidance of doubt, any tax authority) or other body exercising similar powers or authority; or (iv) self-regulatory organization (including the New York Stock Exchange, the Nasdaq Stock Market and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority).

(x) “Non-423 Component” means the part of the Plan, which excludes the 423 Component, pursuant to which Purchase Rights that are not intended to satisfy the requirements for an Employee Stock Purchase Plan may be granted to Eligible Employees.

(y) “Offering” means the grant to Eligible Employees of Purchase Rights, with the exercise of those Purchase Rights automatically occurring at the end of one or more Purchase Periods. SECTION 262 OF THE GENERAL CORPORATION LAW OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE APPRAISAL RIGHTS

Appraisal Rights.

(a) Any stockholder of a corporations of this State who holds shares of stock on the date of the making of a demand pursuant to subsection (d) of this section with respect to such shares, who continuously holds such shares through the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance, who has otherwise complied with subsection (d) of this section and who has neither voted in favor of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance nor consented thereto in writing pursuant to § 228 of this title shall be entitled to an appraisal by the Court of Chancery of the fair value of the stockholder's shares of stock under the circumstances described in subsections (b) and (c) of this section. As used in this section, the word "stockholder" means a holder of record of stock in a corporation; the words "stock" and "share" mean and include what is ordinarily meant by those words; the words "depository receipt" mean a receipt or other instrument issued by a depository representing an interest in 1 or more shares, or fractions thereof, solely of stock of a corporation, which stock is deposited with the depository; the words "beneficial owner" mean a person who is the beneficial owner of shares of stock held either in voting trust or by a nominee on behalf of such person; and the word "person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, unincorporated association or other entity.

(b) Appraisal rights shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock of a constituent, converting, transferring, domesticating or continuing corporation in a merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance to be effected pursuant to § 251 (other than a merger effected pursuant to § 251(g) of this title), § 252, § 254, § 255, § 256, § 257, § 258, § 263, § 264, § 266 or § 390 of this title (other than, in each case and solely with respect to a converted or domesticated corporation, a merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance authorized pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of § 265 or § 388 of this title):

(1) Provided, however, that no appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock, which stock, or depository receipts in respect thereof, at the record date fixed to determine the stockholders entitled to receive notice of the meeting of stockholders, or at the record date fixed to determine the stockholders entitled to consent pursuant to § 228 of this title, to act upon the agreement of merger or consolidation or the resolution providing for the conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance (or, in the case of a merger pursuant to § 251(h) of this title, as of immediately prior to the execution of the agreement of merger), were either: (i) listed on a national securities exchange or (ii) held of record by more than 2,000 holders; and further provided that no appraisal rights shall be available for any shares of stock of the constituent corporation surviving a merger if the merger did not require for its approval the vote of the stockholders of the surviving corporation as provided in § 251(f) of this title.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (b)(1) of this section, appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock of a constituent, converting, transferring, domesticating or continuing corporation if the holders thereof are required by the terms of an agreement of merger or consolidation, or by the terms of a resolution providing for conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance, pursuant to § 251, § 252, § 254, § 255, § 256, § 257, § 258, § 263, § 264, § 266 or § 390 of this title to accept for such stock anything except:

a. Shares of stock of the corporation surviving or resulting from such merger or consolidation, or of the converted entity or the entity resulting from a transfer, domestication or continuance if such entity is a corporation as a result of the conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance, or depository receipts in respect thereof;

b. Shares of stock of any other corporation, or depository receipts in respect thereof, which shares of stock (or depository receipts in respect thereof) or depository receipts at the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance will be either listed on a national securities exchange or held of record by more than 2,000 holders;

c. Cash in lieu of fractional shares or fractional depository receipts described in the foregoing paragraphs (b)(2)a. and b. of this section; or

d. Any combination of the shares of stock, depository receipts and cash in lieu of fractional shares or fractional depository receipts described in the foregoing paragraphs (b)(2)a., b. and c. of this section.

(3) In the event all of the stock of a subsidiary Delaware corporation party to a merger effected under § 253 or § 267 of this title is not owned by the parent immediately prior to the merger, appraisal rights shall be available for the shares of the subsidiary Delaware corporation.

(4) [Repealed.]

(c) Any corporation may provide in its certificate of incorporation that appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of its stock as a result of an amendment to its certificate of incorporation, any merger or consolidation in which the corporation is a constituent corporation, the sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the corporation or a conversion effected pursuant to § 266 of this title or a transfer, domestication or continuance effected pursuant to § 390 of this title. If the certificate of incorporation contains such a provision, the provisions of this section, including those set forth in subsections (d), (e), and (g) of this section, shall apply as nearly as is practicable.

(d) Appraisal rights shall be perfected as follows:

(1) If a proposed merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance for which appraisal rights are provided under this section is to be submitted for approval at a meeting of stockholders, the corporation, not less than 20 days prior to the meeting, shall notify each of its stockholders who was such on the record date for notice of such meeting (or such members who received notice in accordance with § 255(c) of this title) with respect to shares for which appraisal rights are available pursuant to subsection (b) or (c) of this section that appraisal rights are available for any or all of the shares of the constituent corporations or the converting, transferring, domesticating or continuing corporation, and shall include in such notice either a copy of this section (and, if 1 of the constituent corporations or the converting corporation is a nonstock corporation, a copy of § 114 of this title) or information directing the stockholders to a publicly available electronic resource at which this section (and, § 114 of this title, if applicable) may be accessed without subscription or cost. Each stockholder electing to demand the appraisal of such stockholder's shares shall deliver to the corporation, before the taking of the vote on the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance, a written demand for appraisal of such stockholder's shares; provided that a demand may be delivered to the corporation by electronic transmission if directed to an information processing system (if any) expressly designated for that purpose in such notice. Such demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs the corporation of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder intends thereby to demand the appraisal of such stockholder's shares. A proxy or vote against the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance shall not constitute such a demand. A stockholder electing to take such action must do so by a separate written demand as herein provided. Within 10 days after the effective date of such merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance, the surviving, resulting or converted entity shall notify each stockholder of each constituent or converting, transferring, domesticating or continuing corporation who has complied with this subsection and has not voted in favor of or consented to the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance, and any beneficial owner who has demanded appraisal under paragraph (d)(3) of this section, of the date that the merger, consolidation or conversion has become effective; or

(2) If the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance was approved pursuant to § 228, § 251(h), § 253, or § 267 of this title, then either a constituent, converting, transferring, domesticating or continuing corporation before the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance, or the surviving, resulting or converted entity within 10 days after such effective date, shall notify each stockholder of any class or series of stock of such constituent, converting, transferring, domesticating or continuing corporation who is entitled to appraisal rights of the approval of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance and that appraisal rights are available for any or all shares of such class or series of stock of such constituent, converting, transferring, domesticating or continuing corporation, and shall include in such notice either a copy of this section (and, if 1 of the constituent corporations or the converting, transferring, domesticating or continuing corporation is a nonstock corporation, a copy of § 114 of this title) or information directing the stockholders to a publicly available electronic resource at which this section (and § 114 of this title, if applicable) may be accessed without subscription or cost. Such notice may, and, if given on or after the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance, shall, also notify such stockholders of the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance. Any stockholder entitled to appraisal rights may, within 20 days after the date of giving such notice or, in the case of a merger approved pursuant to § 251(h) of this title, within the later of the consummation of the offer contemplated by § 251(h) of this title and 20 days after the date of giving such notice, demand in writing from the surviving, resulting or converted entity the appraisal of such holder's shares; provided that a demand may be delivered to such entity by electronic transmission if directed to an information processing system (if any) expressly designated for that purpose in such notice. Such demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs such entity of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder intends thereby to demand the appraisal of such holder's shares. If such notice did not notify stockholders of the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance, either (i) each such constituent corporation or the converting, transferring, domesticating or continuing corporation shall send a second notice before the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance notifying each of the holders of any class or series of stock of such constituent, converting, transferring, domesticating or continuing corporation that are entitled to appraisal rights of the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance or (ii) the surviving, resulting or converted entity shall send such a second notice to all such holders on or within 10 days after such effective date; provided, however, that if such second notice is sent more than 20 days following the sending of the first notice or, in the case of a merger approved pursuant to § 251(h) of this title, later than the later of the consummation of the offer contemplated by § 251(h) of this title and 20 days following the sending of the first notice, such second notice need only be sent to each stockholder who is entitled to appraisal rights and who has demanded appraisal of such holder's shares in accordance with this subsection and any beneficial owner who has demanded appraisal under paragraph (d)(3) of this section. An affidavit of the secretary or assistant secretary or of the transfer agent of the corporation or entity that is required to give either notice that such notice has been given shall, in the absence of fraud, be prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein. For purposes of determining the stockholders entitled to receive either notice, each constituent corporation or the converting, transferring, domesticating or continuing corporation may fix, in advance, a record date that shall be not more than 10 days prior to the date the notice is given, provided, that if the notice is given on or after the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance, the record date shall be such effective date. If no record date is fixed and the notice is given prior to the effective date, the record date shall be the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which the notice is given.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (a) of this section (but subject to this paragraph (d)(3)), a beneficial owner may, in such person's name, demand in writing an appraisal of such beneficial owner's shares in accordance with either paragraph (d)(1) or (2) of this section, as applicable; provided that (i) such beneficial owner continuously owns such shares through the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance and otherwise satisfies the requirements applicable to a stockholder under the first sentence of subsection (a) of this section and (ii) the demand made by such beneficial owner reasonably identifies the holder of record of the shares for which the demand is made, is accompanied by documentary evidence of such beneficial owner's beneficial ownership of stock and a statement that such documentary evidence is a true and correct copy of what it purports to be, and provides an address at which such beneficial owner consents to receive notices given by the surviving, resulting or converted entity hereunder and to be set forth on the verified list required by subsection (f) of this section.

(e) Within 120 days after the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance, the surviving, resulting or converted entity, or any person who has complied with subsections (a) and (d) of this section and who is otherwise entitled to appraisal rights, may commence an appraisal proceeding by filing a petition in the Court of Chancery demanding a determination of the value of the stock of all such stockholders. Notwithstanding the foregoing, at any time within 60 days after the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance, any person entitled to appraisal rights who has not commenced an appraisal proceeding or joined that proceeding as a named party shall have the right to withdraw such person's demand for appraisal and to accept the terms offered upon the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance. Within 120 days after the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance, any person who has complied with the requirements of subsections (a) and (d) of this section, upon request given in writing (or by electronic transmission directed to an information processing system (if any) expressly designated for that purpose in the notice of appraisal), shall be entitled to receive from the surviving, resulting or converted entity a statement setting forth the aggregate number of shares not voted in favor of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance (or, in the case of a merger approved pursuant to § 251(h) of this title, the aggregate number of shares (other than any excluded stock (as defined in § 251(h)(6)(d) of this title)) that were the subject of, and were not tendered into, and accepted for purchase or exchange in, the offer referred to in § 251(h)(2) of this title)), and, in either case, with respect to which demands for appraisal have been received and the aggregate number of stockholders or beneficial owners holding or owning such shares (provided that, where a beneficial owner makes a demand pursuant to paragraph (d)(3) of this section, the record holder of such shares shall not be considered a separate stockholder holding such shares for purposes of such aggregate number). Such statement shall be given to the person within 10 days after such person's request for such a statement is received by the surviving, resulting or converted entity or within 10 days after expiration of the period for delivery of demands for appraisal under subsection (d) of this section, whichever is later.

(f) Upon the filing of any such petition by any person other than the surviving, resulting or converted entity, service of a copy thereof shall be made upon such entity, which shall within 20 days after such service file in the office of the Register in Chancery in which the petition was filed a duly verified list containing the names and addresses of all persons who have demanded appraisal for their shares and with whom agreements as to the value of their shares have not been reached by such entity. If the petition shall be filed by the surviving, resulting or converted entity, the petition shall be accompanied by such a duly verified list. The Register in Chancery, if so ordered by the Court, shall give notice of the time and place fixed for the hearing of such petition by registered or certified mail to the surviving, resulting or converted entity and to the persons shown on the list at the addresses therein stated. The forms of the notices by mail and by publication shall be approved by the Court, and the costs thereof shall be borne by the surviving, resulting or converted entity.

(g) At the hearing on such petition, the Court shall determine the persons who have complied with this section and who have become entitled to appraisal rights. The Court may require the persons who have demanded an appraisal for their shares and who hold stock represented by certificates to submit their certificates of stock to the Register in Chancery for notation thereon of the pendency of the appraisal proceedings; and if any person fails to comply with such direction, the Court may dismiss the proceedings as to such person. If immediately before the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance the shares of the class or series of stock of the constituent, converting, transferring, domesticating or continuing corporation as to which appraisal rights are available were listed on a national securities exchange, the Court shall dismiss the proceedings as to all holders of such shares who are otherwise entitled to appraisal rights unless (1) the total number of shares entitled to appraisal exceeds 1% of the outstanding shares of the class or series eligible for appraisal, (2) the value of the consideration provided in the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance for such total number of shares exceeds $1 million, or (3) the merger was approved pursuant to § 253 or § 267 of this title.

(h) After the Court determines the persons entitled to an appraisal, the appraisal proceeding shall be conducted in accordance with the rules of the Court of Chancery, including any rules specifically governing appraisal proceedings. Through such proceeding the Court shall determine the fair value of the shares exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance, together with interest, if any, to be paid upon the amount determined to be the fair value. In determining such fair value, the Court shall take into account all relevant factors. Unless the Court in its discretion determines otherwise for good cause shown, and except as provided in this subsection, interest from the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance through the date of payment of the judgment shall be compounded quarterly and shall accrue at 5% over the Federal Reserve discount rate (including any surcharge) as established from time to time during the period between the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion and the date of payment of the judgment. At any time before the entry of judgment in the proceedings, the surviving, resulting or converted entity may pay to each person entitled to appraisal an amount in cash, in which case interest shall accrue thereafter as provided herein only upon the sum of (1) the difference, if any, between the amount so paid and the fair value of the shares as determined by the Court, and (2) interest theretofore accrued, unless paid at that time. Upon application by the surviving, resulting or converted entity or by any person entitled to participate in the appraisal proceeding, the Court may, in its discretion, proceed to trial upon the appraisal prior to the final determination of the persons entitled to an appraisal. Any person whose name appears on the list filed by the surviving, resulting or converted entity pursuant to subsection (f) of this section may participate fully in all proceedings until it is finally determined that such person is not entitled to appraisal rights under this section.

(i) The Court shall direct the payment of the fair value of the shares, together with interest, if any, by the surviving, resulting or converted entity to the persons entitled thereto. Payment shall be so made to each such person upon such terms and conditions as the Court may order. The Court's decree may be enforced as other decrees in the Court of Chancery may be enforced, whether such surviving, resulting or converted entity be an entity of this State or of any state.

(j) The costs of the proceeding may be determined by the Court and taxed upon the parties as the Court deems equitable in the circumstances. Upon application of a person whose name appears on the list filed by the surviving, resulting or converted entity pursuant to subsection (f) of this section who participated in the proceeding and incurred expenses in connection therewith, the Court may order all or a portion of such expenses, including, without limitation, reasonable attorney's fees and the fees and expenses of experts, to be charged pro rata against the value of all the shares entitled to an appraisal not dismissed pursuant to subsection (k) of this section or subject to such an award pursuant to a reservation of jurisdiction under subsection (k) of this section.

(k) Subject to the remainder of this subsection, from and after the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance, no person who has demanded appraisal rights with respect to some or all of such person's shares as provided in subsection (d) of this section shall be entitled to vote such shares for any purpose or to receive payment of dividends or other distributions on such shares (except dividends or other distributions payable to stockholders of record at a date which is prior to the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance). If a person who has made a demand for an appraisal in accordance with this section shall deliver to the surviving, resulting or converted entity a written withdrawal of such person's demand for an appraisal in respect of some or all of such person's shares in accordance with subsection (e) of this section, either within 60 days after such effective date or thereafter with the written approval of the corporation, then the right of such person to an appraisal of the shares subject to the withdrawal shall cease. Notwithstanding the foregoing, an appraisal proceeding in the Court of Chancery shall not be dismissed as to any person without the approval of the Court, and such approval may be conditioned upon such terms as the Court deems just, including without limitation, a reservation of jurisdiction for any application to the Court made under subsection (j) of this section; provided, however that this provision shall not affect the right of any person who has not commenced an appraisal proceeding or joined that proceeding as a named party to withdraw such person's demand for appraisal and to accept the terms offered upon the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance within 60 days after the effective date of the merger, consolidation, conversion, transfer, domestication or continuance, as set forth in subsection (e) of this section. If a petition for an appraisal is not filed within the time provided in subsection (e) of this section, the right to appraisal with respect to all shares shall cease.

(l) The shares or other equity interests of the surviving, resulting or converted entity to which the shares of stock subject to appraisal under this section would have otherwise converted but for an appraisal demand made in accordance with this section shall have the status of authorized but not outstanding shares of stock or other equity interests of the surviving, resulting or converted entity, unless and until the person that has demanded appraisal is no longer entitled to appraisal pursuant to this section.

PART II

INFORMATION NOT REQUIRED IN PROXY STATEMENT/PROSPECTUS

Item 20. Indemnification of Directors and Officers.

As permitted by Section 102(b)(7) of the DGCL, Rallybio's amended and restated certificate of incorporation includes a provision to eliminate the personal liability of Rallybio's directors for monetary damages for breach of their fiduciary duties as directors, subject to certain exceptions. In addition, Rallybio's amended and restated certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws provide that Rallybio required to indemnify its officers and directors under certain circumstances, including those circumstances in which indemnification would otherwise be discretionary, and Rallybio is required to advance expenses to its officers and directors as incurred in connection with proceedings against them for which they may be indemnified, in each case except to the extent that the DGCL prohibits the elimination or limitation of liability of directors for breaches of fiduciary duty.

Section 145(a) of the DGCL provides that a corporation shall have the power to indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (other than an action by or in the right of the corporation) by reason of the fact that the person is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, against expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection with such action, suit or proceeding if the person acted in good faith and in a manner the person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interest of the corporation, and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful. The termination of any action, suit or proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent shall not, of itself, create a presumption that the person did not act in good faith and in a manner which the person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, had reasonable cause to believe that his conduct was unlawful. Indemnification shall be made with respect to any claim, issue or matter as to which such person shall have been adjudged to be liable to the corporation unless and only to the extent that the Delaware Court of Chancery (the "Court of Chancery") or the court in which such action or suit was brought shall determine upon application that, despite the adjudication of liability but in view of all the circumstances of the case, such person is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for such expenses which the Court of Chancery or such other court shall deem proper.

Rallybio has entered into indemnification agreements with its directors and certain of its officers. These indemnification agreements provide broader indemnity rights than those provided under the DGCL and Rallybio's amended and restated certificate of incorporation. These indemnification agreements are not intended to deny or otherwise limit third-party or derivative suits against Rallybio or its directors or officers, but to the extent a director or officer were entitled to indemnity or contribution under the indemnification agreement, the financial burden of a third-party suit would be borne by Rallybio, and Rallybio would not benefit from derivative recoveries against the director or officer. Such recoveries would accrue to Rallybio's benefit but would be offset by Rallybio's obligations to the director or officer under the indemnification agreement.

Rallybio maintains directors' and officers' liability insurance for the benefit of its directors and officers.

The Merger Agreement provides that, subject to certain limitations as set forth in the Merger Agreement, from the Effective Time through the sixth anniversary of the date on which the Effective Time occurs, Rallybio and the Surviving Corporation will indemnify each person who is, has been at any time prior to the date of the Merger Agreement, or who becomes prior to the Effective Time, a director, officer, fiduciary or agent of Rallybio or Candid or their respective subsidiaries. The Merger Agreement also provides that the provisions relating to the indemnification, advancement of expenses and exculpation of present and former directors and officers of Rallybio or any of its subsidiaries set forth in the organizational documents of Rallybio or any of its subsidiaries will not be amended, modified or repealed for a period of six years from the Effective Time in any manner that would adversely affect the rights of individuals who, at or prior to the Effective Time, were officers or directors of Rallybio or any of its subsidiaries, unless required by applicable law. After Closing, the organizational documents of the surviving corporation will contain provisions at least as favorable as the provisions relating to the indemnification, advancement of expenses and exculpation of present and former directors and officers presently set forth in Rallybio's organizational documents as of the date of the Merger Agreement.

From and after the Effective Time, (i) the Surviving Corporation shall fulfill and honor in all respects the obligations of the Candid to each person who is or has served as a director or officer of Candid as of immediately prior to the Closing pursuant to any indemnification provisions under Candid's amended and restated certificate of incorporation and bylaws and pursuant to any indemnification agreements between Candid and such directors and officers, with respect to claims arising out of matters occurring at or prior to the Effective Time and (ii) Rallybio shall fulfill and honor in all respects the obligations of Rallybio or any of its subsidiaries to each person who is or has served as a director or officer of Rallybio as of immediately prior to the Closing pursuant to any indemnification provisions under Rallybio's amended and restated certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws or any of its subsidiaries and pursuant to any indemnification agreements between Rallybio or any of its subsidiaries and such directors and officers, with respect to claims arising out of matters occurring at or prior to the Effective Time.

From the Effective Time through the sixth (6th) anniversary of the date on which the Effective Time occurs, Rallybio shall maintain directors' and officers' liability insurance policies, with an effective date as of the Closing Date, on commercially available terms and conditions and with coverage limits customary for companies similarly situated to Rallybio.

From and after the Effective Time, Rallybio shall pay all expenses, including reasonable attorneys' fees, that are incurred by indemnified persons in connection with their successful enforcement of the rights provided to such persons in the Merger Agreement. The director and officer indemnification provisions of the Merger Agreement are intended to be in addition to the rights otherwise available to the current and former officers and directors of Rallybio and Candid by law, charter, statute, bylaw or agreement, and shall operate for the benefit of, and shall be enforceable by, each of such indemnified persons, their heirs and their representatives.

In the event Rallybio or the Surviving Corporation or any of their respective successors or assigns (i) consolidates with or merges into any other person and shall not be the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger, or (ii) transfers all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any person, then, and in each such case, proper provision shall be made so that the successors and assigns of Rallybio or the Surviving Corporation, as the case may be, shall succeed to the indemnification obligations set forth in the Merger Agreement. Rallybio shall cause the Surviving Corporation to perform all of the director and officer indemnification obligations of the Surviving Corporation under the Merger Agreement.

In the event Rallybio or the Surviving Corporation or any of their respective successors or assigns (i) consolidates with or merges into any other person and shall not be the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger, or (ii) transfers all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any person, then, and in each such case, proper provision shall be made so that the successors and assigns of Rallybio or the Surviving Corporation, as the case may be, shall succeed to the indemnification obligations set forth in the Merger Agreement. Rallybio shall cause the Surviving Corporation to perform all of the director and officer indemnification obligations of the Surviving Corporation under the Merger Agreement.

Item 22. Undertakings.

- (a) The registrant hereby undertakes:
- a. To file, during any period in which offers or sales are being made, a post-effective amendment to this registration statement:
 - i. To include any prospectus required by Section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act;
 - ii. To reflect in the prospectus any facts or events arising after the effective date of the registration statement (or the most recent post-effective amendment thereof) which, individually or in the aggregate, represent a fundamental change in the information set forth in the registration statement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any increase or decrease in volume of securities offered (if the total dollar value of securities offered would not exceed that which was registered) and any deviation from the low or high end of the estimated maximum offering range may be reflected in the form of prospectus filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) if, in the aggregate, the changes in volume and price represent no more than a 20% change in the maximum aggregate offering price set forth in the "Calculation of Registration Fee" table in the effective registration statement; and
 - iii. To include any material information with respect to the plan of distribution not previously disclosed in the registration statement or any material change to such information in the registration statement.
 - b. That, for the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.
 - c. To remove from registration by means of a post-effective amendment any of the securities being registered which remain unsold at the termination of the offering.
 - d. That, for the purpose of determining liability under the Securities Act to any purchaser, each prospectus filed pursuant to Rule 424(b) as part of a registration statement relating to an offering, other than registration statements relying on Rule 430B or other than prospectuses filed in reliance on Rule 430A, shall be deemed to be part of and included in the registration statement as of the date it is first used after effectiveness; provided, however, that no statement made in a registration statement or prospectus that is part of the registration statement or made in a document incorporated or deemed incorporated by reference into the registration statement or prospectus that is part of the registration statement will, as to a purchaser with a time of contract of sale prior to such first use, supersede or modify any statement that was made in the registration statement or prospectus that was part of the registration statement or made in any such document immediately prior to such date of first use.
 - e. That, for the purpose of determining liability of the registrant under the Securities Act to any purchaser in the initial distribution of the securities, if a primary offering of securities of the undersigned registrant is deemed to occur pursuant to this registration statement, regardless of the underwriting method used to sell the securities to the purchaser, and if the securities are deemed to be offered or sold to such purchaser by means of any of the following communications, the undersigned registrant will be a seller to the purchaser and will be considered to offer or sell such securities to such purchaser:
 - i. Any preliminary prospectus or prospectus of the undersigned registrant relating to the offering required to be filed pursuant to Rule 424;
 - ii. Any free writing prospectus relating to the offering prepared by or on behalf of the undersigned registrant or used or referred to by the undersigned registrant;
 - iii. The portion of any other free writing prospectus relating to the offering containing material information about the undersigned registrant or its securities provided by or on behalf of the undersigned registrant; and
 - iv. Any other communication that is an offer in the offering made by the undersigned registrant to the purchaser.

- f. That, for purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act, each filing of the registrant's annual report pursuant to Section 13(a) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act (and, where applicable, each filing of an employee benefit plan's annual report pursuant to Section 15(d) of the Exchange Act) that is incorporated by reference in this registration statement shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.
- g. That prior to any public reoffering of the securities registered hereunder through use of a prospectus which is a part of this registration statement, by any person or party who is deemed to be an underwriter within the meaning of Rule 145(c), the issuer undertakes that such reoffering prospectus will contain the information called for by the applicable registration form with respect to reofferings by persons who may be deemed underwriters, in addition to the information called for by the other Items of the applicable form.
- h. That every prospectus (i) that is filed pursuant to paragraph (g)(1) of Item 512 of Regulation S-K or (ii) that purports to meet the requirements of section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act and is used in connection with an offering of securities subject to Rule 415, will be filed as a part of an amendment to the registration statement and will not be used until such amendment is effective, and that, for purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.
- i. To respond to requests for information that is incorporated by reference into the prospectus pursuant to Items 4, 10(b), 11, or 13 of this form, within one business day of receipt of such request, and to send the incorporated documents by first-class mail or other equally prompt means. This includes information contained in documents filed subsequent to the effective date of the registration statement through the date of responding to the request.
- j. To supply by means of a post-effective amendment all information concerning a transaction, and the company being acquired involved therein, that was not the subject of and included in the registration statement when it became effective.
- k. Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the registrant pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

INDEMNIFICATION AGREEMENT

This Indemnification Agreement is dated as of (this “Agreement”) and is between Candid Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), and the undersigned (“Indemnitee”).

Background

The Company believes that in order to attract and retain highly competent persons to serve as directors or in other capacities, including as officers, it must provide such persons with adequate protection through indemnification against the risks of claims and actions against them arising out of their services to and activities on behalf of the Company.

The Company desires and has requested Indemnitee to serve as a director and/or officer of the Company and, in order to induce the Indemnitee to serve in such capacity, the Company is willing to grant the Indemnitee the indemnification provided for herein. Indemnitee is willing to so serve on the basis that such indemnification be provided.

The parties by this Agreement desire to set forth their agreement regarding indemnification and the advancement of expenses.

In consideration of Indemnitee’s service to the Company, the covenants and agreements set forth below and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and adequacy of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto, intending to be legally bound, hereby agree as follows:

Section 1. Indemnification.

To the fullest extent permitted by the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (the “DGCL”):

(a) The Company shall indemnify Indemnitee if Indemnitee was or is made or is threatened to be made a party to, or is otherwise involved in, as a witness or otherwise, any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding (brought in the right of the Company or otherwise), whether civil, criminal, administrative, regulatory or investigative and whether formal or informal, including appeals, by reason of the fact that Indemnitee is or was or has agreed to serve as a director and/or officer of the Company, or, while serving in such capacity, is or was serving or has agreed to serve at the request of the Company as a director, officer, employee or agent (which, for purposes hereof, shall include a trustee, fiduciary, partner or manager or similar capacity) of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, or by reason of any action alleged to have been taken or omitted in any such capacity, in each case whether or not serving in such capacity at the time any liability or expense is incurred for which indemnification, reimbursement or advancement of expenses can be provided under this Agreement.

(b) The indemnification provided by this Section 1 shall be from and against all loss and liability suffered and expenses (including attorneys’ fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by or on behalf of Indemnitee in connection with such action, suit or proceeding, including any appeals.

(c) If Indemnitee is entitled under any provision of this Agreement to indemnification by the Company for a portion of any expenses, losses, liabilities, judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement incurred by Indemnitee, but not for the total amount thereof, the Company shall nevertheless indemnify Indemnitee for such portion.

Section 2. Advance Payment of Expenses. To the fullest extent permitted by the DGCL, expenses (including attorneys' fees) incurred by Indemnitee in appearing at, participating in or defending any action, suit or proceeding or in connection with an enforcement action as contemplated by Section 3(e), shall be paid by the Company in advance of the final disposition of such action, suit or proceeding within 30 days after receipt by the Company of a statement or statements from Indemnitee requesting such advance or advances (including any invoices received by Indemnitee, which invoices may be redacted as necessary to avoid the waiver of any privilege accorded by applicable law) from time to time. The Indemnitee hereby undertakes to repay any amounts advanced (without interest) to the extent that it is ultimately determined that Indemnitee is not entitled under this Agreement to be indemnified by the Company in respect thereof. Such repayment obligation shall be unsecured and shall not bear interest. The Company shall not impose on Indemnitee additional conditions to advancement or require from Indemnitee additional undertakings regarding repayment other than the execution of this Agreement. The Company agrees that for the purposes of any advancement of expenses for which Indemnitee has made a written demand in accordance with this Agreement, all expenses included in such demand that are certified by affidavit of Indemnitee's counsel as being reasonable shall be presumed conclusively to be reasonable. This Section 2 shall be subject to Section 3(b) and shall not apply to any claim made by Indemnitee for which indemnity is excluded pursuant to Section 6 and Section 7.

Section 3. Procedure for Indemnification; Notification and Defense of Claim.

(a) Promptly after receipt by Indemnitee of notice of the commencement of any action, suit or proceeding, Indemnitee shall, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against the Company hereunder, notify the Company in writing of the commencement thereof. The failure to promptly notify the Company of the commencement of the action, suit or proceeding, or of Indemnitee's request for indemnification, will not relieve the Company from any liability that it may have to Indemnitee hereunder, except to the extent the Company is actually and materially prejudiced in its defense of such action, suit or proceeding as a result of such failure. To obtain indemnification under this Agreement, Indemnitee shall submit to the Company a written request therefor including such documentation and information as is reasonably available to Indemnitee and is reasonably necessary to enable the Company to determine whether and to what extent Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification.

(b) With respect to any action, suit or proceeding of which the Company is so notified as provided in this Agreement, the Company shall, subject to the last two sentences of this paragraph, be entitled to assume the defense of such action, suit or proceeding, with counsel reasonably acceptable to Indemnitee, upon the delivery to Indemnitee of written notice of its election to do so. After delivery of such notice, approval of such counsel by Indemnitee and the retention of such counsel by the Company, the Company will not be liable to Indemnitee under this Agreement for any subsequently-incurred fees of separate counsel engaged by Indemnitee with respect to the same action, suit or proceeding unless the employment of separate counsel by Indemnitee has been previously authorized in writing by the Company. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if Indemnitee, based on the advice of his or her counsel, shall have reasonably concluded (with written notice being given to the Company setting forth the basis for such conclusion) that, in the conduct of any such defense, there is or is reasonably likely to be a conflict of interest or position between the Company and Indemnitee with respect to a significant issue, then the Company will not be entitled, without the written consent of Indemnitee, to assume such defense. In addition, the Company will not be entitled, without the written consent of Indemnitee, to assume the defense of any claim brought by or in the right of the Company.

(c) To the fullest extent permitted by the DGCL, the Company's assumption of the defense of an action, suit or proceeding in accordance with paragraph 3(b) will constitute an irrevocable acknowledgement by the Company that any loss and liability suffered by Indemnitee and expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement by or for the account of Indemnitee incurred in connection therewith are indemnifiable by the Company under Section 1 of this Agreement.

(d) The determination whether to grant Indemnitee's indemnification request shall be made promptly and in any event within 30 days following the Company's receipt of a request for indemnification in accordance with Section 3(a). If the Company determines that Indemnitee is entitled to such indemnification or, as contemplated by paragraph 3(c) the Company has acknowledged such entitlement, the Company will make payment to Indemnitee of the indemnifiable amount within such 30 day period. If the Company is not deemed to have so acknowledged such entitlement or the Company's determination of whether to grant Indemnitee's indemnification request shall not have been made within such 30 day period, the requisite determination of entitlement to indemnification shall, subject to Section 6, nonetheless be deemed to have been made and Indemnitee shall be entitled to such indemnification, absent (i) a misstatement by Indemnitee of a material fact, or an omission of a material fact necessary to make Indemnitee's statement not materially misleading, in connection with the request for indemnification, or (ii) a prohibition of such indemnification under the DGCL.

(e) In the event that (i) the Company determines in accordance with this Section 3 that Indemnitee is not entitled to indemnification, in whole or in part, under this Agreement, (ii) the Company fails to respond or make a determination of entitlement to indemnification within 30 days following receipt of a request for indemnification as described above, (iii) payment of indemnification is not made within such 30 day period, (iv) advancement of expenses is not timely made in accordance with Section 2, or (v) the Company or any other person takes or threatens to take any action to declare this Agreement void or unenforceable, or institutes any litigation or other action or proceeding designed to deny, or to recover from, the Indemnitee the benefits provided or intended to be provided to Indemnitee hereunder, Indemnitee shall be entitled to an adjudication in any court of competent jurisdiction of his or her entitlement to such indemnification or advancement of expenses. Indemnitee's expenses (including attorneys' fees) incurred in connection with successfully establishing Indemnitee's right to indemnification or advancement of expenses, in whole or in part, in any such proceeding or otherwise shall also be indemnified by the Company to the fullest extent permitted by the DGCL.

(f) Indemnitee shall be presumed to be entitled to indemnification and advancement of expenses under this Agreement upon submission of a request therefor in accordance with Section 2 or Section 3 of this Agreement, as the case may be. The Company shall have the burden of proof in overcoming such presumption, and such presumption shall be used as a basis for a determination of entitlement to indemnification and advancement of expenses unless the Company overcomes such presumption by clear and convincing evidence.

Section 4. Insurance and Subrogation.

(a) The Company may purchase and maintain a policy or policies of insurance, providing Indemnitee with coverage for any liability asserted against, and incurred by, Indemnitee or on Indemnitee's behalf by reason of the fact that Indemnitee is or was or has agreed to serve as a director and/or officer of the Company, or, while serving in such capacity, is or was serving or has agreed to serve at the request of the Company as a director, officer, employee or agent (which, for purposes hereof, shall include a trustee, fiduciary, partner or manager or similar capacity) of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, or arising out of Indemnitee's status as such, whether or not the Company would have the power to indemnify Indemnitee against such liability under the provisions of this Agreement. If the Company has such insurance in effect at the time the Company receives from Indemnitee any notice of the commencement of an action, suit or proceeding, the Company shall give prompt notice of the commencement of such action, suit or proceeding to the insurers in accordance with the procedures set forth in the policy. The Company shall thereafter take all necessary or desirable action to cause such insurers to pay, on behalf of Indemnitee, all amounts payable as a result of such proceeding in accordance with the terms of such policy.

(b) In the event of any payment by the Company under this Agreement, the Company shall be subrogated to the extent of such payment to all of the rights of recovery of Indemnitee with respect to any insurance policy. Indemnitee shall execute all papers required and take all action necessary to secure such rights, including execution of such documents as are necessary to enable the Company to bring suit to enforce such rights in accordance with the terms of such insurance policy. The Company shall pay or reimburse all expenses actually and reasonably incurred by Indemnitee in connection with such subrogation.

(c) The Company shall not be liable under this Agreement to make any payment of amounts otherwise indemnifiable hereunder (including, but not limited to, judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement) if and to the extent that Indemnitee has otherwise actually received such payment under this Agreement or any insurance policy, contract, agreement or otherwise.

(d) [To be included if applicable:] The Company hereby acknowledges that Indemnatee has certain rights to indemnification, advancement of expenses and/or insurance provided by [Name of Fund/Sponsor] and certain of [its][their] affiliates (collectively, the “Fund Indemnitors”). The Company hereby agrees (i) that it is the indemnitor of first resort (i.e., its obligations to Indemnatee are primary and any obligation of the Fund Indemnitors to advance expenses or to provide indemnification for the same expenses or liabilities incurred by Indemnatee are secondary), (ii) that it shall be required to advance the full amount of expenses incurred by Indemnatee and shall be liable for the full amount of all expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement to the extent legally permitted and as required by the terms of this Agreement and the Certificate of Incorporation or Bylaws (or any other agreement between the Company and Indemnatee), without regard to any rights Indemnatee may have against the Fund Indemnitors, and (iii) that it irrevocably waives, relinquishes and releases the Fund Indemnitors from any and all claims against the Fund Indemnitors for contribution, subrogation or any other recovery of any kind in respect thereof. The Company further agrees that no advancement or payment by the Fund Indemnitors on behalf of Indemnatee with respect to any claim for which Indemnatee has sought indemnification from the Company shall affect the foregoing and the Fund Indemnitors shall have a right of contribution and/or be subrogated to the extent of such advancement or payment to all of the rights of recovery of Indemnatee against the Company. The Company and Indemnatee agree that the Fund Indemnitors are express third party beneficiaries of the terms of this Section 4(d).

Section 5. Certain Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) The term “action, suit or proceeding” shall be broadly construed and shall include, without limitation, the investigation, preparation, prosecution, defense, settlement, arbitration and appeal of, and the giving of testimony in, any threatened, pending or completed claim, action, suit, arbitration, alternative dispute mechanism or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative.

(b) The term “by reason of the fact that Indemnatee is or was or has agreed to serve as a director and/or officer of the Company, or, while serving in such capacity, is or was serving or has agreed to serve at the request of the Company as a director, officer, employee or agent (which, for purposes hereof, shall include a trustee, partner or manager or similar capacity) of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise” shall be broadly construed and shall include, without limitation, any actual or alleged act or omission to act.

(c) The term “expenses” shall be broadly construed and shall include, without limitation, all direct and indirect costs of any type or nature whatsoever (including, without limitation, all attorneys’ fees and related disbursements, appeal bonds, other out-of-pocket costs and reasonable compensation for time spent by Indemnatee for which Indemnatee is not otherwise compensated by the Company or any third party), actually and reasonably incurred by Indemnatee in connection with either the investigation, defense or appeal of an action, suit or proceeding or establishing or enforcing a right to indemnification under this Agreement or otherwise incurred in connection with a claim that is indemnifiable hereunder.

(d) The term “judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement” shall be broadly construed and shall include, without limitation, all direct and indirect payments of any type or nature whatsoever, as well as any penalties or excise taxes assessed on a person with respect to an employee benefit plan).

Section 6. Limitation on Indemnification. Notwithstanding any other provision herein to the contrary, the Company shall not be obligated pursuant to this Agreement:

(a) Claims Initiated by Indemnatee. To indemnify or advance expenses to Indemnatee with respect to an action, suit or proceeding (or part thereof), however denominated, initiated by Indemnatee, except with respect to an action, suit or proceeding brought to establish or enforce a right to indemnification or advancement of expenses under this Agreement (which shall be governed by the provisions of Section 6(b) of this Agreement), unless such action, suit or proceeding (or part thereof) was authorized or consented to by the Board of Directors of the Company (the “Board”).

(b) Action for Indemnification. To indemnify Indemnitee for any expenses incurred by Indemnitee with respect to any action, suit or proceeding instituted by Indemnitee to enforce or interpret this Agreement, unless Indemnitee is successful in such action, suit or proceeding in establishing Indemnitee's right, in whole or in part, to indemnification or advancement of expenses hereunder (in which case such indemnification or advancement shall be to the fullest extent permitted by the DGCL), or unless and to the extent that the court in such action, suit or proceeding shall determine that, despite Indemnitee's failure to establish their right to indemnification, Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification for such expenses; provided, however, that nothing in this Section 6(b) is intended to limit the Company's obligations with respect to the advancement of expenses to Indemnitee in connection with any such action, suit or proceeding instituted by Indemnitee to enforce or interpret this Agreement, as provided in Section 2 hereof.

(c) Certain Exchange Act Claims. To indemnify Indemnitee in connection with any action, suit or proceeding made against Indemnitee for (i) an accounting of profits made from the purchase and sale (or sale and purchase) by Indemnitee of securities of the Company within the meaning of Section 16(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act") or similar provisions of state statutory law or common law, (ii) any reimbursement of the Company by the Indemnitee of any bonus or other incentive-based or equity-based compensation or of any profits realized by the Indemnitee from the sale of securities of the Company, as required in each case under the Exchange Act (including any such reimbursements that arise from an accounting restatement of the Company pursuant to Section 304 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (the "Sarbanes-Oxley Act"), or the payment to the Company of profits arising from the purchase and sale by Indemnitee of securities in violation of Section 306 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act) or (iii) any reimbursement of the Company by Indemnitee of any compensation pursuant to any compensation recoupment or clawback policy adopted by the Board or the compensation committee of the Board, including but not limited to any such policy adopted to comply with stock exchange listing requirements implementing Section 10D of the Exchange Act.

(d) Fraud or Willful Misconduct. To indemnify Indemnitee on account of conduct by Indemnitee where such conduct has been determined by a final (not interlocutory) judgment or other adjudication of a court or arbitration or administrative body of competent jurisdiction as to which there is no further right or option of appeal or the time within which an appeal must be filed has expired without such filing to have been knowingly fraudulent or constitute willful misconduct.

(e) Prohibited by Law. To indemnify Indemnitee in any circumstance where such indemnification has been determined by a final (not interlocutory) judgment or other adjudication of a court or arbitration or administrative body of competent jurisdiction as to which there is no further right or option of appeal, or the time within which an appeal must be filed has expired without such filing having been made, to be prohibited by law.

Section 7. Certain Settlement Provisions. The Company shall have no obligation to indemnify Indemnitee under this Agreement for any amounts paid in settlement of any action, suit or proceeding without the Company's prior written consent. The Company shall not settle any action, suit or proceeding in any manner that would impose any fine or other obligation on Indemnitee without Indemnitee's prior written consent. Neither the Company nor Indemnitee will unreasonably withhold his, her, its or their consent to any proposed settlement.

Section 8. Savings Clause. If any provision or provisions (or portion thereof) of this Agreement shall be invalidated on any ground by any court of competent jurisdiction, then the Company shall nevertheless indemnify Indemnitee if Indemnitee was or is made or is threatened to be made a party or is otherwise involved in any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding (brought in the right of the Company or otherwise), whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative and whether formal or informal, including appeals, by reason of the fact that Indemnitee is or was or has agreed to serve as a director and/or officer of the Company, or, while serving in such capacity, is or was serving or has agreed to serve at the request of the Company as a director, officer, employee or agent (which, for purposes hereof, shall include a trustee, partner or manager or similar capacity) of another corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, or by reason of any action alleged to have been taken or omitted in such capacity, from and against all loss and liability suffered and expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement reasonably incurred by or on behalf of Indemnitee in connection with such action, suit or proceeding, including any appeals, to the fullest extent permitted by any applicable portion of this Agreement that shall not have been invalidated.

Section 9. Contribution. In order to provide for just and equitable contribution in circumstances in which the indemnification provided for herein is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unavailable to Indemnitee in whole or in part, it is agreed that, in such event, the Company shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, contribute to the payment of all of Indemnitee's loss and liability suffered and expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement reasonably incurred by or on behalf of Indemnitee in connection with any action, suit or proceeding, including any appeals, in an amount that is just and equitable in the circumstances; provided that, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such contribution shall not be required where such holding by the court is due to any limitation on indemnification set forth in Section 4(c), 6 (other than clause (e)) or 7 hereof.

Section 10. Form and Delivery of Communications. All notices, requests, demands and other communications under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given if (a) delivered by hand, upon receipt by the party to whom said notice or other communication shall have been directed, (b) mailed by certified or registered mail with postage prepaid, on the third business day after the date on which it is so mailed, (c) mailed by reputable overnight courier, one day after deposit with such courier and with written verification of receipt, or (d) sent by email or facsimile transmission, with receipt of oral confirmation that such transmission has been received. Notice to the Company shall be directed to Candid Therapeutics, Inc., 11622 El Camino Real, Suite 150, San Diego, CA 92130, Attention: Jeff Woodley, email: legal@candidrx.com. Notice to Indemnitee shall be directed to the information listed below Indemnitee's signature.

Section 11. Nonexclusivity. The provisions for indemnification and advancement of expenses set forth in this Agreement shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights which Indemnitee may have under any provision of law, in any court in which a proceeding is brought, the Company's certificate of incorporation or by-laws, other agreements or otherwise, and Indemnitee's rights hereunder shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors and administrators of Indemnitee. No amendment or alteration of the Company's certificate of incorporation or by-laws or any other agreement shall adversely affect the rights provided to Indemnitee under this Agreement.

Section 12. No Construction as Employment Agreement. Nothing contained herein shall be construed as giving Indemnitee any right to be retained as a director of the Company or in the employ of the Company. For the avoidance of doubt, the indemnification and advancement of expenses provided under this Agreement shall continue as to the Indemnitee even though Indemnitee may have ceased to be a director or officer of the Company.

Section 13. Interpretation of Agreement. It is understood that the parties hereto intend this Agreement to be interpreted and enforced so as to provide indemnification to Indemnitee to the fullest extent now or hereafter permitted by the DGCL.

Section 14. Entire Agreement. This Agreement and the documents expressly referred to herein constitute the entire agreement between the parties hereto with respect to the matters covered hereby, and any other prior or contemporaneous oral or written understandings or agreements with respect to the matters covered hereby are expressly superseded by this Agreement.

Section 15. Modification and Waiver. No supplement, modification, waiver or amendment of this Agreement shall be binding unless executed in writing by both of the parties hereto. No waiver of any of the provisions of this Agreement shall be deemed or shall constitute a waiver of any other provision hereof (whether or not similar) nor shall such waiver constitute a continuing waiver. For the avoidance of doubt, this Agreement may not be terminated by the Company without Indemnitee's prior written consent.

Section 16. Successor and Assigns. All of the terms and provisions of this Agreement shall be binding upon, shall inure to the benefit of and shall be enforceable by the parties hereto and their respective successors, assigns, heirs, executors, administrators and legal representatives. The Company shall require and cause any direct or indirect successor (whether by purchase, merger, consolidation or otherwise) to all or substantially all of the business or assets of the Company, by written agreement in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Indemnitee, expressly to assume and agree to perform this Agreement in the same manner and to the same extent that the Company would be required to perform if no such succession had taken place.

Section 17. Service of Process and Venue. The Company and Indemnitee hereby irrevocably and unconditionally (a) agree that any action or proceeding arising out of or in connection with this Agreement shall be brought only in the Chancery Court of the State of Delaware (the “Delaware Court”), and not in any other state or federal court in the United States of America or any court in any other country, (b) consent to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Delaware Court for purposes of any action or proceeding arising out of or in connection with this Agreement, (c) appoint, to the extent such party is not otherwise subject to service of process in the State of Delaware, irrevocably The Corporation Trust Company, 1209 Orange Street in the City of Wilmington, County of New Castle, 19801 as its agent in the State of Delaware as such party’s agent for acceptance of legal process in connection with any such action or proceeding against such party with the same legal force and validity as if served upon such party personally within the State of Delaware, (d) waive any objection to the laying of venue of any such action or proceeding in the Delaware Court, and (e) waive, and agree not to plead or to make, any claim that any such action or proceeding brought in the Delaware Court has been brought in an improper or inconvenient forum.

Section 18. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware. If a court of competent jurisdiction shall make a final determination that the provisions of the law of any state other than Delaware govern indemnification by the Company of Indemnitee, then the indemnification provided under this Agreement shall in all instances be enforceable to the fullest extent permitted under such law, notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary.

Section 19. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original and all of which together shall be deemed to be one and the same instrument, notwithstanding that both parties are not signatories to the original or same counterpart.

Section 20. Headings and Section References. The section and subsection headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement. Section references are to this Agreement unless otherwise specified.

This Indemnification Agreement has been duly executed and delivered to be effective as of the date stated above.

2024 EQUITY INCENTIVE PLAN

ADOPTED BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS: May 1, 2024
APPROVED BY THE STOCKHOLDERS: May 1, 2024
AMENDED BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS: June 1, 2024
APPROVED BY THE STOCKHOLDERS: June 1, 2024
AMENDED BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS: August 19, 2024
APPROVED BY THE STOCKHOLDERS: August 19, 2024
TERMINATION DATE: May 1, 2034

1. General.

(a) Eligible Stock Award Recipients. Employees, Directors and Consultants are eligible to receive Stock Awards.

(b) Available Stock Awards. The Plan provides for the grant of the following types of Stock Awards: (i) Incentive Stock Options, (ii) Nonstatutory Stock Options, (iii) Stock Appreciation Rights, (iv) Restricted Stock Awards, (v) Restricted Stock Unit Awards and (vi) Other Stock Awards.

(c) Purpose. The Plan, through the grant of Stock Awards, is intended to help the Company secure and retain the services of eligible award recipients, provide incentives for such persons to exert maximum efforts for the success of the Company and any Affiliate and provide a means by which the eligible recipients may benefit from increases in value of the Common Stock.

2. Administration.

(a) Administration by the Board. The Board will administer the Plan. The Board may delegate administration of the Plan to a Committee or Committees, as provided in Section 2(c).

(b) Powers of the Board. The Board will have the power, subject to, and within the limitations of, the express provisions of the Plan:

(i) To determine (A) who will be granted Stock Awards; (B) when and how each Stock Award will be granted; (C) what type of Stock Award will be granted; (D) the provisions of each Stock Award (which need not be identical), including when a person will be permitted to exercise or otherwise receive cash or Common Stock under the Stock Award; (E) the number of shares of Common Stock subject to, or the cash value of, a Stock Award; and (F) the Fair Market Value applicable to a Stock Award.

(ii) To construe and interpret the Plan and Stock Awards granted under it, and to establish, amend and revoke rules and regulations for administration of the Plan and Stock Awards. The Board, in the exercise of these powers, may correct any defect, omission or inconsistency in the Plan or in any Stock Award Agreement, in a manner and to the extent it will deem necessary or expedient to make the Plan or Stock Award fully effective.

(iii) To settle all controversies regarding the Plan and Stock Awards granted under it.

(iv) To accelerate, in whole or in part, the time at which a Stock Award may be exercised or vest (or the time at which cash or shares of Common Stock may be issued in settlement thereof).

(v) To suspend or terminate the Plan at any time. Except as otherwise provided in the Plan or a Stock Award Agreement, suspension or termination of the Plan will not impair a Participant's rights under the Participant's then-outstanding Stock Award without the Participant's written consent except as provided in subsection (viii) below.

(vi) To amend the Plan in any respect the Board deems necessary or advisable, including, without limitation, by adopting amendments relating to Incentive Stock Options and certain nonqualified deferred compensation under Section 409A of the Code and/or bringing the Plan or Stock Awards granted under the Plan into compliance with the requirements for Incentive Stock Options or ensuring that they are exempt from, or compliant with, the requirements for nonqualified deferred compensation under Section 409A of the Code, subject to the limitations, if any, of applicable law. If required by applicable law or listing requirements, and except as provided in Section 9(a) relating to Capitalization Adjustments, the Company will seek stockholder approval of any amendment of the Plan that (A) materially increases the number of shares of Common Stock available for issuance under the Plan, (B) materially expands the class of individuals eligible to receive Stock Awards under the Plan, (C) materially increases the benefits accruing to Participants under the Plan, (D) materially reduces the price at which shares of Common Stock may be issued or purchased under the Plan, (E) materially extends the term of the Plan, or (F) materially expands the types of Stock Awards available for issuance under the Plan. Except as otherwise provided in the Plan or a Stock Award Agreement, no amendment of the Plan will materially impair a Participant's rights under an outstanding Stock Award without the Participant's written consent.

(vii) To submit any amendment to the Plan for stockholder approval, including, but not limited to, amendments to the Plan intended to satisfy the requirements of Section 422 of the Code regarding Incentive Stock Options.

(viii) To approve forms of Stock Award Agreements for use under the Plan and to amend the terms of any one or more Stock Awards, including, but not limited to, amendments to provide terms more favorable to the Participant than previously provided in the Stock Award Agreement, subject to any specified limits in the Plan that are not subject to Board discretion; provided however, that a Participant's rights under any Stock Award will not be impaired by any such amendment unless (A) the Company requests the consent of the affected Participant, and (B) such Participant consents in writing. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (1) a Participant's rights will not be deemed to have been impaired by any such amendment if the Board, in its sole discretion, determines that the amendment, taken as a whole, does not materially impair the Participant's rights, and (2) subject to the limitations of applicable law, if any, the Board may amend the terms of any one or more Stock Awards without the affected Participant's consent (A) to maintain the qualified status of the Stock Award as an Incentive Stock Option under Section 422 of the Code; (B) to change the terms of an Incentive Stock Option, if such change results in impairment of the Stock Award solely because it impairs the qualified status of the Stock Award as an Incentive Stock Option under Section 422 of the Code; (C) to clarify the manner of exemption from, or to bring the Stock Award into compliance with, Section 409A of the Code; or (D) to comply with other applicable laws.

(ix) Generally, to exercise such powers and to perform such acts as the Board deems necessary or expedient to promote the best interests of the Company and that are not in conflict with the provisions of the Plan or Stock Awards.

(x) To adopt such procedures and sub-plans as are necessary or appropriate to permit participation in the Plan by Employees, Directors or Consultants who are foreign nationals or employed outside the United States (provided that Board approval will not be necessary for immaterial modifications to the Plan or any Stock Award Agreement that are required for compliance with the laws of the relevant foreign jurisdiction).

(xi) To effect, with the consent of any adversely affected Participant, (A) the reduction of the exercise, purchase or strike price of any outstanding Stock Award; (B) the cancellation of any outstanding Stock Award and the grant in substitution thereof of a new (1) Option or SAR, (2) Restricted Stock Award, (3) Restricted Stock Unit Award, (4) Other Stock Award, (5) cash and/or (6) other valuable consideration determined by the Board, in its sole discretion, with any such substituted award (x) covering the same or a different number of shares of Common Stock as the cancelled Stock Award and (y) granted under the Plan or another equity or compensatory plan of the Company; or (C) any other action that is treated as a repricing under generally accepted accounting principles.

(c) Delegation to Committee. The Board may delegate some or all of the administration of the Plan to a Committee or Committees. If administration of the Plan is delegated to a Committee, the Committee will have, in connection with the administration of the Plan, the powers theretofore possessed by the Board that have been delegated to the Committee, including the power to delegate to a subcommittee of the Committee any of the administrative powers the Committee is authorized to exercise (and references in this Plan to the Board will thereafter be to the Committee or subcommittee, as applicable). Any delegation of administrative powers will be reflected in resolutions, not inconsistent with the provisions of the Plan, adopted from time to time by the Board or Committee (as applicable). The Board may retain the authority to concurrently administer the Plan with the Committee and may, at any time, revert in the Board some or all of the powers previously delegated.

(d) Delegation to Other Person or Body. The Board may delegate to one or more persons or bodies, in addition to the Board, the authority to do one or both of the following: (i) designate recipients of Options and SARs (and, to the extent permitted by applicable law, other Stock Awards) and, to the extent permitted by applicable law, the terms of such Stock Awards, and (ii) determine the number of shares of Common Stock to be subject to such Stock Awards granted to such recipients; provided, however, that the Board resolutions regarding such delegation will fix the terms of such delegation in accordance with applicable law, including without limitation Sections 152 and/or 157 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, and provided that no Board resolution may permit a person or body to grant a Stock Award to such person or body. Any such Stock Awards will be granted on the form of Stock Award Agreement most recently approved for use by the Committee or the Board, unless otherwise provided in the resolutions approving the delegation authority. The Board may not delegate authority to determine the Fair Market Value pursuant to Section 13(t) below to any person or body, except that the Board may delegate such authority to a Committee or Committees of the Board in accordance with Section 2(c) above.

(e) Effect of Board's Decision. All determinations, interpretations and constructions made by the Board in good faith will not be subject to review by any person and will be final, binding and conclusive on all persons.

3. Shares Subject to the Plan.

(a) Share Reserve.

(i) Subject to Section 9(a) relating to Capitalization Adjustments, the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock that may be issued pursuant to Stock Awards from and after the Effective Date will not exceed 200,000 shares (the “Share Reserve”).

(ii) For clarity, the Share Reserve in this Section 3(a) is a limitation on the number of shares of Common Stock that may be issued pursuant to the Plan. Accordingly, this Section 3(a) does not limit the granting of Stock Awards except as provided in Section 7(a).

(b) Reversion of Shares to the Share Reserve. If a Stock Award or any portion thereof (i) expires or otherwise terminates without all of the shares covered by such Stock Award having been issued or (ii) is settled in cash (i.e., the Participant receives cash rather than stock), such expiration, termination or settlement will not reduce (or otherwise offset) the number of shares of Common Stock that may be available for issuance under the Plan. If any shares of Common Stock issued pursuant to a Stock Award are forfeited back to or repurchased by the Company because of the failure to meet a contingency or condition required to vest such shares in the Participant, then the shares that are forfeited or repurchased will revert to and again become available for issuance under the Plan. Any shares reacquired by the Company in satisfaction of tax withholding obligations on a Stock Award or as consideration for the exercise or purchase price of a Stock Award will again become available for issuance under the Plan.

(c) Incentive Stock Option Limit. Subject to the Share Reserve and Section 9(a) relating to Capitalization Adjustments, the aggregate maximum number of shares of Common Stock that may be issued pursuant to the exercise of Incentive Stock Options will be a number of shares of Common Stock equal to three multiplied by the Share Reserve.

(d) Source of Shares. The stock issuable under the Plan will be shares of authorized but unissued or reacquired Common Stock, including shares repurchased by the Company on the open market or otherwise.

4. Eligibility.

(a) Eligibility for Specific Stock Awards. Incentive Stock Options may be granted only to employees of the Company or a “parent corporation” or “subsidiary corporation” thereof (as such terms are defined in Sections 424(e) and 424(f) of the Code). Stock Awards other than Incentive Stock Options may be granted to Employees, Directors and Consultants; provided, however, that Stock Awards may not be granted to Employees, Directors and Consultants who are providing Continuous Service only to any “parent” of the Company, as such term is defined in Rule 405, unless (i) the stock underlying such Stock Awards is treated as “service recipient stock” under Section 409A of the Code (for example, because the Stock Awards are granted pursuant to a corporate transaction such as a spin off transaction), (ii) the Company, in consultation with its legal counsel, has determined that such Stock Awards are otherwise exempt from Section 409A of the Code, or (iii) the Company, in consultation with its legal counsel, has determined that such Stock Awards comply with the distribution requirements of Section 409A of the Code.

(b) Ten Percent Stockholders. A Ten Percent Stockholder will not be granted an Incentive Stock Option unless the exercise price of such Option is at least 110% of the Fair Market Value on the date of grant and the Option is not exercisable after the expiration of five years from the date of grant.

(c) Consultants. A Consultant will not be eligible for the grant of a Stock Award if, at the time of grant, either the offer or sale of the Company’s securities to such Consultant is not exempt under Rule 701 because of the nature of the services that the Consultant is providing to the Company, because the Consultant is not a natural person, or because of any other provision of Rule 701, unless the Company determines that such grant need not comply with the requirements of Rule 701 and will satisfy another exemption under the Securities Act as well as comply with the securities laws of all other relevant jurisdictions.

5. Provisions Relating to Options and Stock Appreciation Rights.

Each Option or SAR will be in such form and will contain such terms and conditions as the Board deems appropriate. All Options will be separately designated Incentive Stock Options or Nonstatutory Stock Options at the time of grant, and, if certificates are issued, a separate certificate or certificates will be issued for shares of Common Stock purchased on exercise of each type of Option. If an Option is not specifically designated as an Incentive Stock Option, or if an Option is designated as an Incentive Stock Option but some portion or all of the Option fails to qualify as an Incentive Stock Option under the applicable rules, then the Option (or portion thereof) will be a Nonstatutory Stock Option. The provisions of separate Options or SARs need not be identical; provided, however, that each Stock Award Agreement will conform to (through incorporation of provisions hereof by reference in the applicable Stock Award Agreement or otherwise) the substance of each of the following provisions:

(a) Term. Subject to the provisions of Section 4(b) regarding Ten Percent Stockholders, no Option or SAR will be exercisable after the expiration of 10 years from the date of its grant or such shorter period specified in the Stock Award Agreement.

(b) Exercise Price. Subject to the provisions of Section 4(b) regarding Ten Percent Stockholders, the exercise or strike price of each Option or SAR will be not less than 100% of the Fair Market Value of the Common Stock subject to the Option or SAR on the date the Stock Award is granted. Notwithstanding the foregoing, an Option or SAR may be granted with an exercise or strike price lower than 100% of the Fair Market Value of the Common Stock subject to the Stock Award if such Stock Award is granted pursuant to an assumption of or substitution for another option or stock appreciation right pursuant to a Corporate Transaction and in a manner consistent with the provisions of Section 409A of the Code and, if applicable, Section 424(a) of the Code. Each SAR will be denominated in shares of Common Stock equivalents.

(c) Purchase Price for Options. The purchase price of Common Stock acquired pursuant to the exercise of an Option may be paid, to the extent permitted by applicable law and as determined by the Board in its sole discretion, by any combination of the methods of payment set forth below. The Board will have the authority to grant Options that do not permit all of the following methods of payment (or otherwise restrict the ability to use certain methods) and to grant Options that require the consent of the Company to use a particular method of payment. The permitted methods of payment are as follows:

(i) by cash, check, bank draft, electronic funds transfer or money order payable to the Company;

(ii) subject to Company and/or Board consent at the time of exercise and provided that at the time of exercise the Common Stock is publicly traded, pursuant to a program developed under Regulation T as promulgated by the Federal Reserve Board that, prior to the issuance of Common Stock, results in either the receipt of cash (or check) by the Company or the receipt of irrevocable instructions to pay the aggregate exercise price to the Company from the sales proceeds. This manner of payment is also known as a “broker-assisted exercise”, “same day sale”, or “sell to cover”;

(iii) subject to Company and/or Board consent at the time of exercise and provided that at the time of exercise the Common Stock is publicly traded, by delivery to the Company (either by actual delivery or attestation) of already-owned shares of Common Stock that are owned free and clear of any liens, claims, encumbrances or security interests, and that are valued at Fair Market Value on the date of exercise. "Delivery" for these purposes, in the sole discretion of the Company and/or the Board, at the time Participant exercises their Option, will include delivery to the Company of Participant's attestation of ownership of such shares of Common Stock in a form approved by the Company. Participant may not exercise their option by delivery to the Company of Common Stock if doing so would violate the provisions of any law, regulation or agreement restricting the redemption of the Company's stock;

(iv) subject to Company and/or Board consent at the time of exercise, and provided that the Option is a Nonstatutory Stock Option, by a "net exercise" arrangement pursuant to which the Company will reduce the number of shares of Common Stock issued upon exercise of the Option by the largest whole number of shares with a Fair Market Value that does not exceed the aggregate exercise price plus, to the extent permitted by the Company and/or Board at the time of exercise, the aggregate withholding obligations in respect of the Option exercise; provided, further that Participant must pay any remaining balance of the aggregate exercise price not satisfied by the "net exercise" in cash or other permitted form of payment. Shares of Common Stock will no longer be subject to the Option and will not be exercisable thereafter to the extent that (A) shares issuable upon exercise are used to pay the exercise price pursuant to the "net exercise," (B) shares are delivered to the Participant as a result of such exercise, and (C) shares are withheld to satisfy tax withholding obligations;

(v) according to a deferred payment or similar arrangement with the Optionholder; provided, however, that interest will compound at least annually and will be charged at the minimum rate of interest necessary to avoid (A) the imputation of interest income to the Company and compensation income to the Optionholder under any applicable provisions of the Code, and (B) the classification of the Option as a liability for financial accounting purposes; or

(vi) in any other form of legal consideration that may be acceptable to the Board.

(d) Exercise and Payment of a SAR. To exercise any outstanding SAR, the Participant must provide written notice of exercise to the Company in compliance with the provisions of the Stock Appreciation Right Agreement evidencing such SAR. The appreciation distribution payable on the exercise of a SAR will be not greater than an amount equal to the excess of (A) the aggregate Fair Market Value (on the date of the exercise of the SAR) of a number of shares of Common Stock equal to the number of Common Stock equivalents in which the Participant is vested under such SAR, and with respect to which the Participant is exercising the SAR on such date, over (B) the aggregate strike price of the number of Common Stock equivalents with respect to which the Participant is exercising the SAR on such date. The appreciation distribution may be paid in Common Stock, in cash, in any combination of the two or in any other form of consideration, as determined by the Board and contained in the Stock Award Agreement evidencing such SAR.

(e) Transferability of Options and SARs. The Board may, in its sole discretion, impose such limitations on the transferability of Options and SARs as the Board will determine. In the absence of such a determination by the Board to the contrary, the following restrictions on the transferability of Options and SARs will apply:

(i) Restrictions on Transfer. An Option or SAR will not be transferable except by will or by the laws of descent and distribution (or pursuant to subsections (ii) and (iii) below), and will be exercisable during the lifetime of the Participant only by the Participant. The Board may permit transfer of the Option or SAR in a manner that is not prohibited by applicable tax and securities laws. Except as explicitly provided in the Plan, neither an Option nor a SAR may be transferred for consideration.

(ii) Domestic Relations Orders. Subject to the approval of the Board or a duly authorized Officer, an Option or SAR may be transferred pursuant to the terms of a domestic relations order, official marital settlement agreement or other divorce or separation instrument as permitted by Treasury Regulation 1.421-1(b)(2). If an Option is an Incentive Stock Option, such Option may be deemed to be a Nonstatutory Stock Option as a result of such transfer.

(iii) Beneficiary Designation. Subject to the approval of the Board or a duly authorized Officer, a Participant may, by delivering written notice to the Company, in a form approved by the Company (or the designated broker), designate a third party who, upon the death of the Participant, will thereafter be entitled to exercise the Option or SAR and receive the Common Stock or other consideration resulting from such exercise. In the absence of such a designation, upon the death of the Participant, the executor or administrator of the Participant's estate will be entitled to exercise the Option or SAR and receive the Common Stock or other consideration resulting from such exercise. However, the Company may prohibit designation of a beneficiary at any time, including due to any conclusion by the Company that such designation would be inconsistent with the provisions of applicable laws.

(f) Vesting Generally. The total number of shares of Common Stock subject to an Option or SAR may vest and therefore become exercisable in periodic installments that may or may not be equal. The Option or SAR may be subject to such other terms and conditions on the time or times when it may or may not be exercised (which may be based on the satisfaction of performance goals or other criteria) as the Board may deem appropriate. The vesting provisions of individual Options or SARs may vary. The provisions of this Section 5(f) are subject to any Option or SAR provisions governing the minimum number of shares of Common Stock as to which an Option or SAR may be exercised.

(g) Termination of Continuous Service. Except as otherwise provided in the applicable Stock Award Agreement or other agreement between the Participant and the Company, if a Participant's Continuous Service terminates (other than for Cause and other than upon the Participant's death or Disability), the Participant may exercise his or her Option or SAR (to the extent that the Participant was entitled to exercise such Stock Award as of the date of termination of Continuous Service) within the period of time ending on the earlier of (i) the date three months following the termination of the Participant's Continuous Service (or such longer or shorter period specified in the applicable Stock Award Agreement, which period will not be less than 30 days if necessary to comply with applicable laws unless such termination is for Cause) and (ii) the expiration of the term of the Option or SAR as set forth in the Stock Award Agreement. If, after termination of Continuous Service, the Participant does not exercise his or her Option or SAR (as applicable) within the applicable time frame, the Option or SAR will terminate.

(h) Extension of Termination Date. If the exercise of an Option or SAR following the termination of the Participant's Continuous Service (other than for Cause and other than upon the Participant's death or Disability) would be prohibited at any time solely because the issuance of shares of Common Stock would violate the registration requirements under the Securities Act, then the Option or SAR will terminate on the earlier of (i) the expiration of a total period of time (that need not be consecutive) equal to the applicable post-termination exercise period after the termination of the Participant's Continuous Service during which the exercise of the Option or SAR would not be in violation of such registration requirements, and (ii) the expiration of the term of the Option or SAR as set forth in the applicable Stock Award Agreement. In addition, unless otherwise provided in a Participant's Stock Award Agreement, if the sale of any Common Stock received upon exercise of an Option or SAR following the termination of the Participant's Continuous Service (other than for Cause) would violate the Company's insider trading policy, then the Option or SAR will terminate on the earlier of (i) the expiration of the period of time (that need not be consecutive) equal to the applicable post-termination exercise period after the termination of the Participant's Continuous Service during which the sale of the Common Stock received upon exercise of the Option or SAR would not be in violation of the Company's insider trading policy, and (ii) the expiration of the term of the Option or SAR as set forth in the applicable Stock Award Agreement.

(i) Disability of Participant. Except as otherwise provided in the applicable Stock Award Agreement or other agreement between the Participant and the Company, if a Participant's Continuous Service terminates as a result of the Participant's Disability, the Participant may exercise his or her Option or SAR (to the extent that the Participant was entitled to exercise such Option or SAR as of the date of termination of Continuous Service), but only within such period of time ending on the earlier of (i) the date 12 months following such termination of Continuous Service (or such longer or shorter period specified in the Stock Award Agreement, which period will not be less than six months if necessary to comply with applicable laws unless such termination is for Cause), and (ii) the expiration of the term of the Option or SAR as set forth in the Stock Award Agreement. If, after termination of Continuous Service, the Participant does not exercise his or her Option or SAR within the applicable time frame, the Option or SAR (as applicable) will terminate.

(j) Death of Participant. Except as otherwise provided in the applicable Stock Award Agreement or other agreement between the Participant and the Company, if (i) a Participant's Continuous Service terminates as a result of the Participant's death, or (ii) the Participant dies within the period (if any) specified in the Stock Award Agreement for exercisability after the termination of the Participant's Continuous Service (for a reason other than death), then the Option or SAR may be exercised (to the extent the Participant was entitled to exercise such Option or SAR as of the date of death) by the Participant's estate, by a person who acquired the right to exercise the Option or SAR by bequest or inheritance or by a person designated to exercise the Option or SAR upon the Participant's death, but only within the period ending on the earlier of (i) the date 18 months following the date of death (or such longer or shorter period specified in the Stock Award Agreement, which period will not be less than six months if necessary to comply with applicable laws unless such termination is for Cause), and (ii) the expiration of the term of such Option or SAR as set forth in the Stock Award Agreement. If, after the Participant's death, the Option or SAR is not exercised within the applicable time frame, the Option or SAR (as applicable) will terminate.

(k) Termination for Cause. Except as explicitly provided otherwise in a Participant's Stock Award Agreement or other individual written agreement between the Company or any Affiliate and the Participant, if a Participant's Continuous Service is terminated for Cause, the Option or SAR will terminate immediately upon such Participant's termination of Continuous Service, and the Participant will be prohibited from exercising his or her Option or SAR (whether vested or unvested) from and after the date of such termination of Continuous Service.

(l) Non-Exempt Employees. If an Option or SAR is granted to an Employee who is a non-exempt employee for purposes of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, the Option or SAR will not be first exercisable for any shares of Common Stock until at least six months following the date of grant of the Option or SAR (although the Stock Award may vest prior to such date). Consistent with the provisions of the Worker Economic Opportunity Act, (i) if such non-exempt Employee dies or suffers a Disability, (ii) upon a Corporate Transaction in which such Option or SAR is not assumed, continued, or substituted, (iii) upon a Change in Control, or (iv) upon the Participant's retirement (as such term may be defined in the Participant's Stock Award Agreement, in another agreement between the Participant and the Company, or, if no such definition, in accordance with the Company's then current employment policies and guidelines), the vested portion of any Options and SARs may be exercised earlier than six months following the date of grant. The foregoing provision is intended to operate so that any income derived by a non-exempt employee in connection with the exercise or vesting of an Option or SAR will be exempt from his or her regular rate of pay. To the extent permitted and/or required for compliance with the Worker Economic Opportunity Act to ensure that any income derived by a non-exempt employee in connection with the exercise, vesting or issuance of any shares under any other Stock Award will be exempt from the employee's regular rate of pay, the provisions of this Section 5(l) will apply to all Stock Awards and are hereby incorporated by reference into such Stock Award Agreements.

(m) Early Exercise of Options. An Option may, but need not, include a provision whereby the Optionholder may elect at any time before the Optionholder's Continuous Service terminates to exercise the Option as to any part or all of the shares of Common Stock subject to the Option prior to the full vesting of the Option. Subject to the "Repurchase Limitation" in Section 8(l), any unvested shares of Common Stock so purchased may be subject to a repurchase right in favor of the Company or to any other restriction the Board determines to be appropriate. Provided that the "Repurchase Limitation" in Section 8(l) is not violated, the Company will not be required to exercise its repurchase right until at least six months (or such longer or shorter period of time required to avoid classification of the Option as a liability for financial accounting purposes) have elapsed following exercise of the Option unless the Board otherwise specifically provides in the Option Agreement.

(n) Right of Repurchase. Subject to the "Repurchase Limitation" in Section 8(l), the Option or SAR may include a provision whereby the Company may elect to repurchase all or any part of the vested shares of Common Stock acquired by the Participant pursuant to the exercise of the Option or SAR.

(o) Right of First Refusal. The Option or SAR may include a provision whereby the Company may elect to exercise a right of first refusal following receipt of notice from the Participant of the intent to transfer all or any part of the shares of Common Stock received upon the exercise of the Option or SAR. Such right of first refusal will be subject to the "Repurchase Limitation" in Section 8(l). Except as expressly provided in this Section 5(o) or in the Stock Award Agreement, such right of first refusal will otherwise comply with any applicable provisions of the bylaws of the Company.

6. Provisions of Stock Awards Other than Options and SARs.

(a) Restricted Stock Awards. Each Restricted Stock Award Agreement will be in such form and will contain such terms and conditions as the Board will deem appropriate. To the extent consistent with the Company's bylaws, at the Board's election, shares of Common Stock underlying a Restricted Stock Award may be (i) held in book entry form subject to the Company's instructions until any restrictions relating to the Restricted Stock Award lapse; or (ii) evidenced by a certificate, which certificate will be held in such form and manner as determined by the Board. The terms and conditions of Restricted Stock Award Agreements may change from time to time, and the terms and conditions of separate Restricted Stock Award Agreements need not be identical. Each Restricted Stock Award Agreement will conform to (through incorporation of the provisions hereof by reference in the agreement or otherwise) the substance of each of the following provisions:

(i) Consideration. A Restricted Stock Award may be awarded in consideration for (A) cash, check, bank draft or money order payable to the Company, (B) past services to the Company or an Affiliate, or (C) any other form of legal consideration (including future services) that may be acceptable to the Board, in its sole discretion, and permissible under applicable law.

(ii) Vesting. Subject to the “Repurchase Limitation” in Section 8(l), shares of Common Stock awarded under the Restricted Stock Award Agreement may be subject to forfeiture to the Company in accordance with a vesting schedule to be determined by the Board.

(iii) Termination of Participant’s Continuous Service. If a Participant’s Continuous Service terminates, the Company may receive through a forfeiture condition or a repurchase right, any or all of the shares of Common Stock held by the Participant that have not vested as of the date of termination of Continuous Service under the terms of the Restricted Stock Award Agreement.

(iv) Transferability. Rights to acquire shares of Common Stock under the Restricted Stock Award Agreement will be transferable by the Participant only upon such terms and conditions as are set forth in the Restricted Stock Award Agreement, as the Board will determine in its sole discretion, so long as Common Stock awarded under the Restricted Stock Award Agreement remains subject to the terms of the Restricted Stock Award Agreement.

(v) Dividends. A Restricted Stock Award Agreement may provide that any dividends paid on Restricted Stock will be subject to the same vesting and forfeiture restrictions as apply to the shares subject to the Restricted Stock Award to which they relate.

(b) Restricted Stock Unit Awards. Each Restricted Stock Unit Award Agreement will be in such form and will contain such terms and conditions as the Board will deem appropriate. The terms and conditions of Restricted Stock Unit Award Agreements may change from time to time, and the terms and conditions of separate Restricted Stock Unit Award Agreements need not be identical. Each Restricted Stock Unit Award Agreement will conform to (through incorporation of the provisions hereof by reference in the Agreement or otherwise) the substance of each of the following provisions:

(i) Consideration. At the time of grant of a Restricted Stock Unit Award, the Board will determine the consideration, if any, to be paid by the Participant upon delivery of each share of Common Stock subject to the Restricted Stock Unit Award. The consideration to be paid (if any) by the Participant for each share of Common Stock subject to a Restricted Stock Unit Award may be paid in any form of legal consideration that may be acceptable to the Board, in its sole discretion, and permissible under applicable law.

(ii) Vesting. At the time of the grant of a Restricted Stock Unit Award, the Board may impose such restrictions on or conditions to the vesting of the Restricted Stock Unit Award as it, in its sole discretion, deems appropriate.

(iii) Payment. A Restricted Stock Unit Award may be settled by the delivery of shares of Common Stock, their cash equivalent, any combination thereof or in any other form of consideration, as determined by the Board and contained in the Restricted Stock Unit Award Agreement.

(iv) Additional Restrictions. At the time of the grant of a Restricted Stock Unit Award, the Board, as it deems appropriate, may impose such restrictions or conditions that delay the delivery of the shares of Common Stock (or their cash equivalent) subject to a Restricted Stock Unit Award to a time after the vesting of such Restricted Stock Unit Award.

(v) Dividend Equivalents. Dividend equivalents may be credited in respect of shares of Common Stock covered by a Restricted Stock Unit Award, as determined by the Board and contained in the Restricted Stock Unit Award Agreement. At the sole discretion of the Board, such dividend equivalents may be converted into additional shares of Common Stock covered by the Restricted Stock Unit Award in such manner as determined by the Board. Any additional shares covered by the Restricted Stock Unit Award credited by reason of such dividend equivalents will be subject to all of the same terms and conditions of the underlying Restricted Stock Unit Award Agreement to which they relate.

(vi) Termination of Participant's Continuous Service. Except as otherwise provided in the applicable Restricted Stock Unit Award Agreement, such portion of the Restricted Stock Unit Award that has not vested will be forfeited upon the Participant's termination of Continuous Service.

(vii) Compliance with Section 409A of the Code. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth herein, any Restricted Stock Unit Award granted under the Plan that is not exempt from the requirements of Section 409A of the Code will contain such provisions so that such Restricted Stock Unit Award will comply with the requirements of Section 409A of the Code. Such restrictions, if any, will be determined by the Board and contained in the Restricted Stock Unit Award Agreement evidencing such Restricted Stock Unit Award. For example, such restrictions may include, without limitation, a requirement that any Common Stock that is to be issued in a year following the year in which the Restricted Stock Unit Award vests must be issued in accordance with a fixed pre-determined schedule.

(c) Other Stock Awards. Other forms of Stock Awards valued in whole or in part by reference to, or otherwise based on, Common Stock, including the appreciation in value thereof (e.g., options or stock rights with an exercise price or strike price less than 100% of the Fair Market Value of the Common Stock at the time of grant) may be granted either alone or in addition to Stock Awards provided for under Section 5 and the preceding provisions of this Section 6. Subject to the provisions of the Plan, the Board will have sole and complete authority to determine the persons to whom and the time or times at which such Other Stock Awards will be granted, the number of shares of Common Stock (or the cash equivalent thereof) to be granted pursuant to such Other Stock Awards and all other terms and conditions of such Other Stock Awards.

7. Covenants of the Company.

(a) Availability of Shares. The Company will keep available at all times the number of shares of Common Stock reasonably required to satisfy then-outstanding Stock Awards.

(b) Securities Law Compliance. The Company will seek to obtain from each regulatory commission or agency having jurisdiction over the Plan such authority as may be required to grant Stock Awards and to issue and sell shares of Common Stock upon exercise of the Stock Awards; provided, however, that this undertaking will not require the Company to register under the Securities Act the Plan, any Stock Award or any Common Stock issued or issuable pursuant to any such Stock Award. If, after reasonable efforts and at a reasonable cost, the Company is unable to obtain from any such regulatory commission or agency the authority that counsel for the Company deems necessary for the lawful issuance and sale of Common Stock under the Plan, the Company will be relieved from any liability for failure to issue and sell Common Stock upon exercise of such Stock Awards unless and until such authority is obtained. A Participant will not be eligible for the grant of a Stock Award or the subsequent issuance of cash or Common Stock pursuant to the Stock Award if such grant or issuance would be in violation of any applicable securities law.

(c) No Obligation to Notify or Minimize Taxes. The Company will have no duty or obligation to any Participant to advise such holder as to the time or manner of exercising such Stock Award. Furthermore, the Company will have no duty or obligation to warn or otherwise advise such holder of a pending termination or expiration of a Stock Award or a possible period in which the Stock Award may not be exercised. The Company has no duty or obligation to minimize the tax consequences of a Stock Award to the holder of such Stock Award.

8. Miscellaneous.

(a) Use of Proceeds from Sales of Common Stock. Proceeds from the sale of shares of Common Stock pursuant to Stock Awards will constitute general funds of the Company.

(b) Corporate Action Constituting Grant of Stock Awards. Corporate action constituting a grant by the Company of a Stock Award to any Participant will be deemed completed as of the date of such corporate action, unless otherwise determined by the Board, regardless of when the instrument, certificate, or letter evidencing the Stock Award is communicated to, or actually received or accepted by, the Participant. In the event that the corporate records (e.g., Board consents, resolutions or minutes) documenting the corporate action constituting the grant contain terms (e.g., exercise price, vesting schedule or number of shares) that are inconsistent with those in the Stock Award Agreement or related grant documents as a result of a clerical error in the papering of the Stock Award Agreement or related grant documents, the corporate records will control and the Participant will have no legally binding right to the incorrect term in the Stock Award Agreement or related grant documents.

(c) Stockholder Rights. No Participant will be deemed to be the holder of, or to have any of the rights of a holder with respect to, any shares of Common Stock subject to a Stock Award unless and until (i) such Participant has satisfied all requirements for exercise of, or the issuance of shares of Common Stock under, the Stock Award pursuant to its terms, and (ii) the issuance of the Common Stock subject to the Stock Award has been entered into the books and records of the Company.

(d) No Employment or Other Service Rights. Nothing in the Plan, any Stock Award Agreement or any other instrument executed thereunder or in connection with any Stock Award granted pursuant thereto will confer upon any Participant any right to continue to serve the Company or an Affiliate in the capacity in effect at the time the Stock Award was granted or will affect the right of the Company or an Affiliate to terminate (i) the employment of an Employee with or without notice and with or without cause, (ii) the service of a Consultant pursuant to the terms of such Consultant's agreement with the Company or an Affiliate, or (iii) the service of a Director pursuant to the bylaws of the Company or an Affiliate, and any applicable provisions of the corporate law of the state in which the Company or the Affiliate is incorporated, as the case may be.

(e) Change in Time Commitment. In the event a Participant's regular level of time commitment in the performance of his or her services for the Company and any Affiliates is reduced (for example, and without limitation, if the Participant is an Employee of the Company and the Employee has a change in status from a full-time Employee to a part-time Employee or takes an extended leave of absence) after the date of grant of any Stock Award to the Participant, the Board has the right in its sole discretion to (x) make a corresponding reduction in the number of shares subject to any portion of such Stock Award that is scheduled to vest or become payable after the date of such change in time commitment, and (y) in lieu of or in combination with such a reduction, extend the vesting or payment schedule applicable to such Stock Award. In the event of any such reduction, the Participant will have no right with respect to any portion of the Stock Award that is so reduced or extended.

(f) Incentive Stock Option Limitations. To the extent that the aggregate Fair Market Value (determined at the time of grant) of Common Stock with respect to which Incentive Stock Options are exercisable for the first time by any Optionholder during any calendar year (under all plans of the Company and any Affiliates) exceeds $100,000 (or such other limit established in the Code) or otherwise does not comply with the rules governing Incentive Stock Options, the Options or portions thereof that exceed such limit (according to the order in which they were granted) or otherwise do not comply with such rules will be treated as Nonstatutory Stock Options, notwithstanding any contrary provision of the applicable Option Agreement(s).

(g) Investment Assurances. The Company may require a Participant, as a condition of exercising or acquiring Common Stock under any Stock Award, (i) to give written assurances satisfactory to the Company as to the Participant's knowledge and experience in financial and business matters and/or to employ a purchaser representative reasonably satisfactory to the Company who is knowledgeable and experienced in financial and business matters and that the Participant is capable of evaluating, alone or together with the purchaser representative, the merits and risks of exercising the Stock Award; and (ii) to give written assurances satisfactory to the Company stating that the Participant is acquiring Common Stock subject to the Stock Award for the Participant's own account and not with any present intention of selling or otherwise distributing the Common Stock. The foregoing requirements, and any assurances given pursuant to such requirements, will be inoperative if (A) the issuance of the shares upon the exercise or acquisition of Common Stock under the Stock Award has been registered under a then currently effective registration statement under the Securities Act, or (B) as to any particular requirement, a determination is made by counsel for the Company that such requirement need not be met in the circumstances under the then applicable securities laws. The Company may, upon advice of counsel to the Company, place legends on stock certificates issued under the Plan as such counsel deems necessary or appropriate in order to comply with applicable securities laws, including, but not limited to, legends restricting the transfer of the Common Stock.

(h) Withholding Obligations. Unless prohibited by the terms of a Stock Award Agreement, the Company may, in its sole discretion, satisfy any federal, state or local tax withholding obligation relating to a Stock Award by any of the following means or by a combination of such means: (i) causing the Participant to tender a cash payment; (ii) withholding shares of Common Stock from the shares of Common Stock issued or otherwise issuable to the Participant in connection with the Stock Award; provided, however, that no shares of Common Stock are withheld with a value exceeding the maximum amount of tax required to be withheld by law (or such lesser amount as may be necessary to avoid classification of the Stock Award as a liability for financial accounting purposes); (iii) withholding cash from a Stock Award settled in cash; (iv) withholding payment from any amounts otherwise payable to the Participant; or (v) by such other method as may be set forth in the Stock Award Agreement.

(i) Electronic Delivery. Any reference herein to a "written" agreement or document will include any agreement or document delivered electronically or posted on the Company's intranet (or other shared electronic medium controlled by the Company to which the Participant has access).

(j) Deferrals. To the extent permitted by applicable law, the Board, in its sole discretion, may determine that the delivery of Common Stock or the payment of cash, upon the exercise, vesting or settlement of all or a portion of any Stock Award may be deferred and may establish programs and procedures for deferral elections to be made by Participants. Deferrals by Participants will be made in accordance with Section 409A of the Code. Consistent with Section 409A of the Code, the Board may provide for distributions while a Participant is still an employee or otherwise providing services to the Company. The Board is authorized to make deferrals of Stock Awards and determine when, and in what annual percentages, Participants may receive payments, including lump sum payments, following the Participant's termination of Continuous Service, and implement such other terms and conditions consistent with the provisions of the Plan and in accordance with applicable law.

(k) Compliance with Section 409A of the Code. To the extent that the Board determines that any Stock Award granted hereunder is subject to Section 409A of the Code, the Stock Award Agreement evidencing such Stock Award will incorporate the terms and conditions necessary to avoid the consequences specified in Section 409A(a)(1) of the Code. To the extent applicable, the Plan and Stock Award Agreements will be interpreted in accordance with Section 409A of the Code. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Plan (and unless the Stock Award Agreement specifically provides otherwise), if the shares of Common Stock are publicly traded, and if a Participant holding a Stock Award that constitutes “deferred compensation” under Section 409A of the Code is a “specified employee” for purposes of Section 409A of the Code, no distribution or payment of any amount that is due because of a “separation from service” (as defined in Section 409A of the Code without regard to alternative definitions thereunder) will be issued or paid before the date that is six months following the date of such Participant’s “separation from service” (as defined in Section 409A of the Code without regard to alternative definitions thereunder) or, if earlier, the date of the Participant’s death, unless such distribution or payment can be made in a manner that complies with Section 409A of the Code, and any amounts so deferred will be paid in a lump sum on the day after such six month period elapses, with the balance paid thereafter on the original schedule.

(l) Repurchase Limitation. The terms of any repurchase right will be specified in the Stock Award Agreement. The repurchase price for vested shares of Common Stock will be the Fair Market Value of the shares of Common Stock on the date of repurchase. The repurchase price for unvested shares of Common Stock will be the lower of (i) the Fair Market Value of the shares of Common Stock on the date of repurchase or (ii) their original purchase price. However, the Company will not exercise its repurchase right until at least six months (or such longer or shorter period of time necessary to avoid classification of the Stock Award as a liability for financial accounting purposes) have elapsed following delivery of shares of Common Stock subject to the Stock Award, unless otherwise specifically provided by the Board.

9. Adjustments upon Changes in Common Stock; Other Corporate Events.

(a) Capitalization Adjustments. In the event of a Capitalization Adjustment, then: (i) the class(es) and maximum number of securities subject to the Plan pursuant to Section 3(a), (ii) the class(es) and maximum number of securities that may be issued pursuant to the exercise of Incentive Stock Options pursuant to Section 3(c), and (iii) the class(es) and number of securities and price per share of stock subject to outstanding Stock Awards will be proportionately adjusted and such adjustment shall occur automatically. To the extent such adjustments cannot occur automatically, the Board shall have the power to make determinations as it deems necessary and its determinations and any adjustments under this section will be final, binding and conclusive.

(b) Dissolution or Liquidation. Except as otherwise provided in the Stock Award Agreement, in the event of a dissolution or liquidation of the Company, all outstanding Stock Awards (other than Stock Awards consisting of vested and outstanding shares of Common Stock not subject to a forfeiture condition or the Company’s right of repurchase) will terminate immediately prior to the completion of such dissolution or liquidation, and the shares of Common Stock subject to the Company’s repurchase rights or subject to a forfeiture condition may be repurchased or reacquired by the Company notwithstanding the fact that the holder of such Stock Award is providing Continuous Service, provided, however, that the Board may, in its sole discretion, cause some or all Stock Awards to become fully vested, exercisable and/or no longer subject to repurchase or forfeiture (to the extent such Stock Awards have not previously expired or terminated) before the dissolution or liquidation is completed but contingent on its completion.

(c) Corporate Transaction. The following provisions will apply to Stock Awards in the event of a Corporate Transaction unless otherwise provided in the instrument evidencing the Stock Award or any other written agreement between the Company or any Affiliate and the Participant or unless otherwise expressly provided by the Board at the time of grant of a Stock Award. In the event of a Corporate Transaction, then, notwithstanding any other provision of the Plan, the Board may take one or more of the following actions with respect to Stock Awards, contingent upon the closing or completion of the Corporate Transaction:

(i) arrange for the surviving corporation or acquiring corporation (or the surviving or acquiring corporation's parent company) to assume or continue the Stock Award or to substitute a similar stock award for the Stock Award (including, but not limited to, an award to acquire the same consideration paid to the stockholders of the Company pursuant to the Corporate Transaction);

(ii) arrange for the assignment of any reacquisition or repurchase rights held by the Company in respect of Common Stock issued pursuant to the Stock Award to the surviving corporation or acquiring corporation (or the surviving or acquiring corporation's parent company);

(iii) accelerate the vesting, in whole or in part, of the Stock Award (and, if applicable, the time at which the Stock Award may be exercised) to a date prior to the effective time of such Corporate Transaction as the Board determines (or, if the Board does not determine such a date, to the date that is five days prior to the effective date of the Corporate Transaction), with such Stock Award terminating if not exercised (if applicable) at or prior to the effective time of the Corporate Transaction; provided, however, that the Board may require Participants to complete and deliver to the Company a notice of exercise before the effective date of a Corporate Transaction, which exercise is contingent upon the effectiveness of such Corporate Transaction;

(iv) arrange for the lapse, in whole or in part, of any reacquisition or repurchase rights held by the Company with respect to the Stock Award;

(v) cancel or arrange for the cancellation of the Stock Award, to the extent not vested or not exercised prior to the effective time of the Corporate Transaction, in exchange for such cash consideration (including no consideration) as the Board, in its sole discretion, may consider appropriate; and

(vi) make a payment, in such form as may be determined by the Board equal to the excess, if any, of (A) the value of the property the Participant would have received upon the exercise of the Stock Award immediately prior to the effective time of the Corporate Transaction, over (B) any exercise price payable by such holder in connection with such exercise. For clarity, this payment may be zero ($0) if the value of the property is equal to or less than the exercise price. Payments under this provision may be delayed to the same extent that payment of consideration to the holders of the Company's Common Stock in connection with the Corporate Transaction is delayed as a result of escrows, earn outs, holdbacks or any other contingencies.

The Board need not take the same action or actions with respect to all Stock Awards or portions thereof or with respect to all Participants. The Board may take different actions with respect to the vested and unvested portions of a Stock Award.

(d) Change in Control. A Stock Award may be subject to additional acceleration of vesting and exercisability upon or after a Change in Control as may be provided in the Stock Award Agreement for such Stock Award or as may be provided in any other written agreement between the Company or any Affiliate and the Participant, but in the absence of such provision, no such acceleration will occur.

10. Plan Term; Earlier Termination or Suspension of the Plan.

(a) Plan Term. The Board may suspend or terminate the Plan at any time. Unless terminated sooner by the Board, the Plan will automatically terminate on the day before the 10th anniversary of the earlier of (i) the date the Plan is adopted by the Board, or (ii) the date the Plan is approved by the stockholders of the Company. No Stock Awards may be granted under the Plan while the Plan is suspended or after it is terminated.

(b) No Impairment of Rights. Suspension or termination of the Plan will not impair rights and obligations under any Stock Award granted while the Plan is in effect except with the written consent of the affected Participant or as otherwise permitted in the Plan.

11. Effective Date of Plan.

This Plan will become effective on the Effective Date.

12. Choice of Law.

The laws of the State of Delaware will govern all questions concerning the construction, validity and interpretation of this Plan, without regard to that state's conflict of laws rules.

13. Definitions. As used in the Plan (or as otherwise used in connection with an Award, or as otherwise may be defined in the applicable Stock Award Agreement), the following definitions will apply to the capitalized terms indicated below:

(a) "Affiliate" means, at the time of determination, any "parent" or "majority-owned subsidiary" of the Company, as such terms are defined in Rule 405. The Board will have the authority to determine the time or times at which "parent" or "majority-owned subsidiary" status is determined within the foregoing definition.

(b) "Board" means the Board of Directors of the Company.

(c) "Capitalization Adjustment" means any change that is made in, or other events that occur with respect to, the Common Stock subject to the Plan or subject to any Stock Award after the Effective Date without the receipt of consideration by the Company through merger, consolidation, reorganization, recapitalization, reincorporation, stock dividend, dividend in property other than cash, large nonrecurring cash dividend, stock split, reverse stock split, liquidating dividend, combination of shares, exchange of shares, change in corporate structure, or any similar equity restructuring transaction, as that term is used in Statement of Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification Topic 718 (or any successor thereto). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the conversion of any convertible securities of the Company will not be treated as a Capitalization Adjustment.

(d) “Cause” will have the meaning ascribed to such term in any written agreement between the Participant and the Company defining such term and, in the absence of such agreement, such term means, with respect to a Participant, the occurrence of any of the following events: (i) such Participant’s commission of any felony or any crime involving fraud, dishonesty or moral turpitude under the laws of the United States or any state thereof; (ii) such Participant’s attempted commission of, or participation in, a fraud or act of dishonesty against the Company, or any of its employees or directors; (iii) such Participant’s intentional, material violation of any contract or agreement between the Participant and the Company, the Company’s employment policies, or of any statutory or other duty owed to the Company; (iv) such Participant’s unauthorized use or disclosure of the Company’s confidential information or trade secrets; or (v) such Participant’s gross misconduct. The determination that a termination of the Participant’s Continuous Service is either for Cause or without Cause will be made by the Company, in its sole discretion. Any determination by the Company that the Continuous Service of a Participant was terminated with or without Cause for the purposes of outstanding Stock Awards held by such Participant will have no effect upon any determination of the rights or obligations of the Company or such Participant for any other purpose.

(e) “Change in Control” means the occurrence, in a single transaction or in a series of related transactions, of any one or more of the following events:

(i) any Exchange Act Person becomes the Owner, directly or indirectly, of securities of the Company representing more than 50% of the combined voting power of the Company’s then outstanding securities other than by virtue of a merger, consolidation or similar transaction. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a Change in Control will not be deemed to occur (A) on account of the acquisition of securities of the Company directly from the Company, (B) on account of the acquisition of securities of the Company by an investor, any affiliate thereof or any other Exchange Act Person that acquires the Company’s securities in a transaction or series of related transactions the primary purpose of which is to obtain financing for the Company through the issuance of equity securities or (C) solely because the level of Ownership held by any Exchange Act Person (the “Subject Person”) exceeds the designated percentage threshold of the outstanding voting securities as a result of a repurchase or other acquisition of voting securities by the Company reducing the number of shares outstanding, provided that if a Change in Control would occur (but for the operation of this sentence) as a result of the acquisition of voting securities by the Company, and after such share acquisition, the Subject Person becomes the Owner of any additional voting securities that, assuming the repurchase or other acquisition had not occurred, increases the percentage of the then outstanding voting securities Owned by the Subject Person over the designated percentage threshold, then a Change in Control will be deemed to occur;

(ii) there is consummated a merger, consolidation or similar transaction involving (directly or indirectly) the Company and, immediately after the consummation of such merger, consolidation or similar transaction, the stockholders of the Company immediately prior thereto do not Own, directly or indirectly, either (A) outstanding voting securities representing more than 50% of the combined outstanding voting power of the surviving Entity in such merger, consolidation or similar transaction or (B) more than 50% of the combined outstanding voting power of the parent of the surviving Entity in such merger, consolidation or similar transaction, in each case in substantially the same proportions as their Ownership of the outstanding voting securities of the Company immediately prior to such transaction; or

(iii) there is consummated a sale, lease, exclusive license or other disposition of all or substantially all of the consolidated assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries, other than a sale, lease, license or other disposition of all or substantially all of the consolidated assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries to an Entity, more than 50% of the combined voting power of the voting securities of which are Owned by stockholders of the Company in substantially the same proportions as their Ownership of the outstanding voting securities of the Company immediately prior to such sale, lease, license or other disposition.

Notwithstanding the foregoing definition or any other provision of this Plan, (A) the term Change in Control will not include a sale of assets, merger or other transaction effected exclusively for the purpose of changing the domicile of the Company; (B) the definition of Change in Control (or any analogous term) in an individual written agreement between the Company or any Affiliate and the Participant will supersede the foregoing definition with respect to Stock Awards subject to such agreement; provided, however, that if no definition of Change in Control or any analogous term is set forth in such an individual written agreement, the definition set forth herein will apply, and (C) if at any time the Company's Certificate of Incorporation provides definitions of various analogous transactions that would be deemed a liquidation event for the Company, then such definition will apply as if it were the definition set forth herein except as is otherwise expressly provided in an individual written agreement between the Company or any Affiliate and the Participant.

(f) "Code" means the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, including any applicable regulations and guidance thereunder.

(g) "Committee" means a committee of one or more Directors to whom authority has been delegated by the Board in accordance with Section 2(c).

(h) "Common Stock" means the common stock of the Company.

(i) "Company" means Candid Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation.

(j) "Consultant" means any person, including an advisor, who is (i) engaged by the Company or an Affiliate to render consulting or advisory services (whether directly or indirectly, including without limitation through an engagement with a professional employer organization, employer of record or similar arrangement, and is deemed pursuant to such arrangement to be a consultant or advisor of the Company or an Affiliate under applicable laws) and is compensated for such services, or (ii) serving as a member of the board of directors of an Affiliate and is compensated for such services. However, service solely as a Director, or payment of a fee for such service, will not cause a Director to be considered a "Consultant" for purposes of the Plan.

(k) "Continuous Service" means that the Participant's service with the Company or an Affiliate, whether as an Employee, Director or Consultant, is not interrupted or terminated. A change in the capacity in which the Participant renders service to the Company or an Affiliate as an Employee, Director or Consultant or a change in the Entity for which the Participant renders such service, provided that there is no interruption or termination of the Participant's service with the Company or an Affiliate, will not terminate a Participant's Continuous Service; provided, however, that if the Entity for which a Participant is rendering services ceases to qualify as an Affiliate, as determined by the Board in its sole discretion, such Participant's Continuous Service will be considered to have terminated on the date such Entity ceases to qualify as an Affiliate. For example, a change in status from an Employee of the Company to a Consultant of an Affiliate or to a Director will not constitute an interruption of Continuous Service. To the extent permitted by law, the Board or the chief executive officer of the Company, in that party's sole discretion, may determine whether Continuous Service will be considered interrupted in the case of (i) any leave of absence approved by the Board or chief executive officer, including sick leave, military leave or any other personal leave, or (ii) transfers between the Company, an Affiliate, or their successors. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a leave of absence will be treated as Continuous Service for purposes of vesting in a Stock Award only to such extent as may be provided in the Company's leave of absence policy, in the written terms of any leave of absence agreement or policy applicable to the Participant, or as otherwise required by law.

(l) “Corporate Transaction” means the consummation, in a single transaction or in a series of related transactions, of any one or more of the following events:

(i) a sale or other disposition of all or substantially all, as determined by the Board in its sole discretion, of the consolidated assets of the Company and its Subsidiaries;

(ii) a sale or other disposition of more than 50% of the outstanding securities of the Company;

(iii) a merger, consolidation or similar transaction following which the Company is not the surviving corporation; or

(iv) a merger, consolidation or similar transaction following which the Company is the surviving corporation but the shares of Common Stock outstanding immediately preceding the merger, consolidation or similar transaction are converted or exchanged by virtue of the merger, consolidation or similar transaction into other property, whether in the form of securities, cash or otherwise.

(m) “Director” means a member of the Board.

(n) “Disability” means, with respect to a Participant, the inability of such Participant to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment that can be expected to result in death or that has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than twelve (12) months as provided in Sections 22(e)(3) and 409A(a)(2)(c)(i) of the Code, and will be determined by the Board on the basis of such medical evidence as the Board deems warranted under the circumstances.

(o) “Effective Date” means the effective date of this Plan, which is the earlier of (i) the date that this Plan is first approved by the Company’s stockholders, and (ii) the date this Plan is adopted by the Board.

(p) “Employee” means any person employed by the Company or an Affiliate (whether directly or indirectly, including without limitation through an engagement with a professional employer organization, employer of record or similar arrangement, and is deemed pursuant to such arrangement to be an employee of the Company or an Affiliate under applicable laws). However, service solely as a Director, or payment of a fee for such services, will not cause a Director to be considered an “Employee” for purposes of the Plan.

(q) “Entity” means a corporation, partnership, limited liability company or other entity.

(r) “Exchange Act” means the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(s) “Exchange Act Person” means any natural person, Entity or “group” (within the meaning of Section 13(d) or 14(d) of the Exchange Act), except that “Exchange Act Person” will not include (i) the Company or any Subsidiary of the Company, (ii) any employee benefit plan of the Company or any Subsidiary of the Company or any trustee or other fiduciary holding securities under an employee benefit plan of the Company or any Subsidiary of the Company, (iii) an underwriter temporarily holding securities pursuant to a registered public offering of such securities, (iv) an Entity Owned, directly or indirectly, by the stockholders of the Company in substantially the same proportions as their Ownership of stock of the Company; or (v) any natural person, Entity or “group” (within the meaning of Section 13(d) or 14(d) of the Exchange Act) that, as of the Effective Date, is the Owner, directly or indirectly, of securities of the Company representing more than 50% of the combined voting power of the Company’s then outstanding securities.

(t) “Fair Market Value” means, as of any date, the value of the Common Stock determined by the Board in compliance with Section 409A of the Code or, in the case of an Incentive Stock Option, in compliance with Section 422 of the Code.

(u) “Good Reason” will have the meaning ascribed to such term in any written agreement between the Participant and the Company defining such term and, in the absence of a definition of such term in the applicable written agreement, such term means, with respect to a Participant, a material and unreasonable diminution of such Participant’s duties (as determined by the Board in its sole discretion) without such Participant’s consent; provided, however, that the following shall not constitute Good Reason: (i) a change of title; (ii) a reduction in such Participant’s duties by virtue of the Company undergoing a Change in Control and/or being made part of a larger entity or group of entities; and/or (iii) cessation of such Participant’s service, if any, on the Board or a committee thereof. For such Participant to receive the benefits under the applicable written agreement between such Participant and the Company as a result of a voluntary resignation for Good Reason, unless otherwise provided in such agreement, all of the following requirements must be satisfied: (A) such Participant must provide notice to the Company of such Participant’s intent to assert Good Reason within thirty (30) days of the initial existence of the condition set forth in the previous sentence; (B) the Company will have thirty (30) days (the “Company Cure Period”) from the date of such notice to remedy the condition and, if it does so, such Participant may withdraw such Participant’s resignation or such Participant may resign with no benefits under the applicable written agreement; and (C) any termination of such Participant’s Continuous Service under this provision must occur within ten (10) days of the earlier of expiration of the Company Cure Period or written notice from the Company that it will not undertake to cure the applicable condition. Unless otherwise set forth in the applicable written agreement, should the Company remedy the condition as set forth above and then such condition arises again, such Participant may assert Good Reason again subject to all of the conditions set forth herein. Unless otherwise set forth in the applicable written agreement, the term “Company” for purposes of “Good Reason” will be interpreted to include any Affiliate of the Company to which such Participant provides services, if appropriate, as determined by the Board in its sole discretion.

(v) “Incentive Stock Option” means an option granted pursuant to Section 5 of the Plan that is intended to be, and that qualifies as, an “incentive stock option” within the meaning of Section 422 of the Code.

(w) “Nonstatutory Stock Option” means an option granted pursuant to Section 5 of the Plan that does not qualify as an Incentive Stock Option.

(x) “Officer” means any person designated by the Company as an officer.

(y) “Option” means an Incentive Stock Option or a Nonstatutory Stock Option to purchase shares of Common Stock granted pursuant to the Plan.

(z) “Option Agreement” means a written agreement between the Company and an Optionholder evidencing the terms and conditions of an Option grant. Each Option Agreement will be subject to the terms and conditions of the Plan.

(aa) “Optionholder” means a person to whom an Option is granted pursuant to the Plan or, if applicable, such other person who holds an outstanding Option.

(bb) “Other Stock Award” means an award based in whole or in part by reference to the Common Stock which is granted pursuant to the terms and conditions of Section 6(c).

(cc) “Other Stock Award Agreement” means a written agreement between the Company and a holder of an Other Stock Award evidencing the terms and conditions of an Other Stock Award grant. Each Other Stock Award Agreement will be subject to the terms and conditions of the Plan.

(dd) “Own,” “Owned,” “Owner,” “Ownership” A person or Entity will be deemed to “Own,” to have “Owned,” to be the “Owner” of, or to have acquired “Ownership” of securities if such person or Entity, directly or indirectly, through any contract, arrangement, understanding, relationship or otherwise, has or shares voting power, which includes the power to vote or to direct the voting, with respect to such securities.

(ee) “Participant” means a person to whom a Stock Award is granted pursuant to the Plan or, if applicable, such other person who holds an outstanding Stock Award.

(ff) “Plan” means this 2024 Equity Incentive Plan.

(gg) “Restricted Stock Award” means an award of shares of Common Stock which is granted pursuant to the terms and conditions of Section 6(a).

(hh) “Restricted Stock Award Agreement” means a written agreement between the Company and a holder of a Restricted Stock Award evidencing the terms and conditions of a Restricted Stock Award grant. Each Restricted Stock Award Agreement will be subject to the terms and conditions of the Plan.

(ii) “Restricted Stock Unit Award” means a right to receive shares of Common Stock which is granted pursuant to the terms and conditions of Section 6(b).

(jj) “Restricted Stock Unit Award Agreement” means a written agreement between the Company and a holder of a Restricted Stock Unit Award evidencing the terms and conditions of a Restricted Stock Unit Award grant. Each Restricted Stock Unit Award Agreement will be subject to the terms and conditions of the Plan.

(kk) “Rule 405” means Rule 405 promulgated under the Securities Act.

(ll) “Rule 701” means Rule 701 promulgated under the Securities Act.

(mm) “Securities Act” means the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

(nn) “Stock Appreciation Right” or “SAR” means a right to receive the appreciation on Common Stock that is granted pursuant to the terms and conditions of Section 5.

(oo) “Stock Appreciation Right Agreement” means a written agreement between the Company and a holder of a Stock Appreciation Right evidencing the terms and conditions of a Stock Appreciation Right grant. Each Stock Appreciation Right Agreement will be subject to the terms and conditions of the Plan.

(pp) “Stock Award” means any right to receive Common Stock granted under the Plan, including an Incentive Stock Option, a Nonstatutory Stock Option, a Restricted Stock Award, a Restricted Stock Unit Award, a Stock Appreciation Right or any Other Stock Award.

(qq) “Stock Award Agreement” means a written agreement between the Company and a Participant evidencing the terms and conditions of a Stock Award grant. Each Stock Award Agreement will be subject to the terms and conditions of the Plan.

(rr) “Subsidiary” means, with respect to the Company, (i) any corporation of which more than 50% of the outstanding capital stock having ordinary voting power to elect a majority of the board of directors of such corporation (irrespective of whether, at the time, stock of any other class or classes of such corporation will have or might have voting power by reason of the happening of any contingency) is at the time, directly or indirectly, Owned by the Company, and (ii) any partnership, limited liability company or other entity in which the Company has a direct or indirect interest (whether in the form of voting or participation in profits or capital contribution) of more than 50%.

(ss) “Ten Percent Stockholder” means a person who Owns (or is deemed to Own pursuant to Section 424(d) of the Code) stock possessing more than 10% of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of the Company or any Affiliate.

CANDID THERAPEUTICS, INC.

RESTRICTED STOCK AWARD GRANT NOTICE
(2024 EQUITY INCENTIVE PLAN)

Candid Therapeutics, Inc. (the “Company”), pursuant to its 2024 Equity Incentive Plan (the “Plan”), hereby awards to Participant the right to purchase the number of shares of Common Stock (the “Shares”) set forth below (the “Award”). The Award is subject to all of the terms and conditions as set forth in this Restricted Stock Award Grant Notice (the “Grant Notice”) and the attached Restricted Stock Award Terms and Conditions (together with the Grant Notice, the “Award Agreement”), and the Plan, all of which are attached to this Grant Notice and incorporated into this Grant Notice in their entirety. Capitalized terms not explicitly defined in the Award Agreement but defined in the Plan will have the meanings provided in the Plan. If the Company uses an electronic capitalization table system (such as Carta or Shareworks) and the fields below are blank or the information is otherwise provided in a different format electronically, the blank fields and other information (such as exercise schedule and type of grant) shall be deemed to come from the electronic capitalization system and is considered part of this Grant Notice.

RESTRICTED STOCK AWARD TERMS AND CONDITIONS

CANDID THERAPEUTICS, INC.
(2024 EQUITY INCENTIVE PLAN)

RESTRICTED STOCK AWARD TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Candid Therapeutics, Inc. (the “Company”) has awarded you the right to purchase the number of Shares indicated in the Grant Notice (the “Award”) pursuant to its 2024 Equity Incentive Plan (the “Plan”). The Grant Notice and these Restricted Stock Award Terms and Conditions are collectively referred to as the “Award Agreement”. Capitalized terms not explicitly defined in this Agreement but defined in the Plan will have the same meanings given to them in the Plan.

The details of your Award, in addition to those set forth in the Grant Notice and the Plan, are as follows:

1. Agreement to Purchase; Closing. You agree to purchase from the Company, and the Company agrees to sell to you, the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock specified in your Grant Notice at the specified Purchase Price per Share. You may not purchase less than the aggregate number of shares specified in the Grant Notice. You may purchase the shares by delivering the Total Purchase Price referenced in your Grant Notice to the Secretary of the Company, or to such other person as the Company may designate, during regular business hours, within 30 days following the Date of Grant specified in the Grant Notice (or at such other time and place as you and the Company may mutually agree upon in writing) along with the documents referenced in Section 2 below and such additional documents as the Company may then require.

2. Escrow of Shares. As security for your faithful performance of the terms of this Award Agreement and to ensure the availability for delivery of the Unvested Shares upon exercise of the Repurchase Right, you agree that the Shares will be held in escrow pursuant to the terms of the Joint Escrow Instructions attached to this Agreement as Exhibit B. You agree to execute and deliver to the individual designated as the escrow agent in the Joint Escrow Instructions or person’s designee (the “Escrow Agent”), (i) the Joint Escrow Instructions and (ii) two Assignment Separate From Certificate forms duly endorsed (with date and number of shares blank) substantially in the form attached to this Agreement as Exhibit A and deliver the same, along with the certificate or certificates evidencing the Unvested Shares, which will be held and used by the Escrow Agent pursuant to the terms of the Joint Escrow Instructions.

3. Vesting. Subject to the limitations contained herein, the Shares will vest pursuant to the Vesting Schedule in the Grant Notice, provided that vesting will cease upon the termination of your Continuous Service. “Vested Shares” will mean Shares that have vested in accordance with the Vesting Schedule, and “Unvested Shares” will mean Shares that have not vested in accordance with the Vesting Schedule.

4. Capitalization Adjustments. The number of Shares subject to your Award may be adjusted from time to time for Capitalization Adjustments. In the event of any such Capitalization Adjustments, new, substituted or additional securities or other property to which you are entitled by reason of your ownership of the Unvested Shares will be immediately subject to the same vesting requirements and vesting schedule that is applicable to the Shares with respect to which such additional Shares relate, as well as all transfer restrictions contained in this Award Agreement, including the Repurchase Right, the Right of First Refusal and the Lock-Up Period (each as defined below). No fractional shares or rights for fractional shares will be created pursuant to this Section. Any fraction of a share will be rounded down to the nearest whole share.

5. Securities Law Compliance. The Shares are not registered under the Securities Act. At this time, the Company has determined that the issuance of the Shares under this Award is exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act. If the Company determines at any time that an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act was not available or that the issuance of the Shares otherwise would not comply with any other applicable laws and regulations, then the Company will not be obligated to issue the Shares or may rescind the award to you.

6. Transfer Restrictions. In addition to any other limitation on transfer created by the Company's bylaws and applicable securities laws, you may not Transfer all or any part of the Unvested Shares or any interest in the Unvested Shares while such shares are subject to the Repurchase Right (as defined below) or continue to be held by the Escrow Agent (as defined below) or by the Company's transfer agent in restricted book entry form. In the case of Vested Shares, you may not Transfer the Vested Shares or any interest in the Vested Shares except in compliance with this Award Agreement, including without limitation the Right of First Refusal (as defined below), the Company's bylaws and applicable securities laws. As used in this Award Agreement, the term "Transfer" means any sale, encumbrance, pledge, gift or other form of disposition or transfer of shares of Common Stock or any legal or equitable interest therein; provided, however, that the term Transfer does not include a transfer of such shares or interests by will or intestacy to your Immediate Family. In such case, the transferee or other recipient will receive and hold the Shares so transferred subject to the provisions of this Award Agreement, and there will be no further transfer of such shares except in accordance with the terms of this Award Agreement. The term "Immediate Family" will mean your spouse, the lineal descendant or antecedent, father, mother, brother or sister, child, adopted child, grandchild or adopted grandchild of you or your spouse, or the spouse of any child, adopted child, grandchild or adopted grandchild of you or your spouse.

7. Unvested Share Repurchase Right.

a. Repurchase Right. In the event your Continuous Service terminates, the Company will have an irrevocable option (the "Repurchase Right") for a period of ninety (90) days after the termination of your Continuous Service, or such longer period as may be agreed to by you and the Company, to repurchase from you or your personal representative, as the case may be, any and all Unvested Shares as of such termination date.

b. Shares Repurchasable at the Lower of your Original Purchase Price or Fair Market Value. The Company may repurchase all or any of the Unvested Shares at a price equal to the lower of your Purchase Price for such shares as indicated on your Grant Notice or the Fair Market Value of the Unvested Shares on the date of repurchase.

c. Exercise of Repurchase Right. Unless the Company notifies you within 90 days from the date of termination of your Continuous Service that it does not intend to exercise the Repurchase Right with respect to some or all of the Unvested Shares, the Repurchase Right shall be deemed automatically exercised by the Company as of the 90th day following such termination, provided that the Company may notify you that it is exercising the Repurchase Right as of a date prior to such 90th day. Unless you are otherwise notified by the Company pursuant to the preceding sentence that the Company does not intend to exercise the Repurchase Right as to some or all of the Unvested Shares to which it applies at the time of termination, execution of this Agreement by you constitutes written notice to you of the Company's intention to exercise the Repurchase Right with respect to all Unvested Shares to which the Repurchase Right applies. The Company, at its election, may satisfy its payment obligation to you with respect to exercise of the Repurchase Right by either (A) delivering a check to you in the amount of the purchase price for the Unvested Shares being repurchased, or (B) in the event you are indebted to the Company, canceling an amount of such indebtedness equal to the purchase price for the Unvested Shares being repurchased, or (C) by a combination of (A) and (B) so that the combined payment and cancellation of indebtedness equals such purchase price. In the event of any deemed automatic exercise of the Repurchase Right pursuant to this Section in which you are indebted to the Company, such indebtedness equal to the purchase price of the Unvested Shares being repurchased shall be deemed automatically canceled as of the 90th day following termination of your Continuous Service unless the Company otherwise satisfies its payment obligations. As a result of any repurchase of Unvested Shares pursuant to this Section, the Company will become the legal and beneficial owner of the Unvested Shares being repurchased and all rights and interests in and related to such shares, and the Company will have the right to transfer to its own name the Unvested Shares being repurchased by the Company, without further action by you. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section or in this Award Agreement, the Company may elect to waive, in its sole discretion, its Repurchase Right in whole or in part by providing written notice to you (with a copy to the Escrow Agent), at any time prior to the expiration of the Repurchase Right, and the Escrow Agent may then release to you the number of Shares not being repurchased by the Company.

d. Corporate Transactions. To the extent the Repurchase Right remains in effect following a Corporate Transaction or Change in Control, unless otherwise provided by the Board pursuant to the terms of the Plan, it will apply to the new capital stock, cash or other property received in exchange for the Unvested Shares in consummation of the Corporate Transaction or Change in Control, as applicable, but only to the extent the Unvested Shares were at the time covered by such right.

e. Termination of Repurchase Right. The Company's Repurchase Right will terminate upon the earlier of (i) the Company's reacquisition in full of the Unvested Shares (or waiver of the Repurchase Right) and (ii) the expiration of the Repurchase Right.

8. Right of First Refusal. Shares that are received under your Award are subject to any right of first refusal that may be described in the Company's bylaws in effect at such time the Company elects to exercise its right; provided, however, that if there is no right of first refusal described in the Company's bylaws at such time, the right of first refusal described below (the "Right of First Refusal") will apply. The Right of First Refusal will expire on the first date upon which any security of the Company is listed (or approved for listing) upon notice of issuance on a national securities exchange or quotation system (the "Listing Date").

a. Prior to the Listing Date, you may not validly Transfer any Shares received under the Award, or any interest in such shares, unless such Transfer is made in compliance with the following provisions:

1) Before there can be a valid Transfer of any Shares or any interest therein, the record holder of the Shares to be transferred (the "Offered Shares") will give written notice (by registered or certified mail) to the Company (the "ROFR Notice"). Such notice will specify the identity of the proposed transferee, the cash price offered for the Offered Shares by the proposed transferee (or, if the proposed Transfer is one in which the holder will not receive cash, such as an involuntary transfer, gift, donation or pledge, the holder will state that no purchase price is being proposed), and the other terms and conditions of the proposed Transfer. The date such notice is mailed will be hereinafter referred to as the "Notice Date" and the record holder of the Offered Shares will be hereinafter referred to as the "Offeror."

2) For a period of 30 calendar days after the Notice Date, the Company will have the option to exercise its Right of First Refusal and purchase all or any portion of the Offered Shares at the purchase price and on the terms set forth in this Section. In the event that the proposed Transfer is one involving no payment of a purchase price, the purchase price will be deemed to be the Fair Market Value of the Offered Shares as determined in good faith by the Board in its discretion. The Company may exercise its Right of First Refusal by mailing (by registered or certified mail) written notice of exercise of its Right of First Refusal to the Offeror prior to the end of said 30 days.

3) The price at which the Company may purchase the Offered Shares pursuant to the exercise of its Right of First Refusal will be the cash price offered for the Offered Shares by the proposed transferee (as set forth in the ROFR Notice), or the Fair Market Value as determined by the Board in the event no purchase price is involved. To the extent consideration other than cash is offered by the proposed transferee, the Company will not be required to pay any additional amounts to the Offeror other than the cash price offered (or the Fair Market Value, if applicable). The Company's notice of exercise of its Right of First Refusal will be accompanied by full payment for the Offered Shares and, upon such payment by the Company, the Company will acquire full right, title and interest to all of the Offered Shares.

4) If, and only if, the Company elects not to exercise its Right of First Refusal as to the Offered Shares, the Transfer proposed in the ROFR Notice may take place; provided, however, that such Transfer must, in all respects, be exactly as proposed in said notice except that such Transfer may not take place either before the 10th calendar day after the expiration of the 30 day option exercise period or after the 90th calendar day after the expiration of the 30 day option exercise period, and if such Transfer has not taken place prior to said 90th day, such Transfer may not take place without once again complying with this Section.

b. None of the shares of Common Stock received under the Award will be transferred on the Company's books nor will the Company recognize any such Transfer of any such shares or any interest therein unless and until all applicable provisions of this Section have been complied with in all respects. The certificates of stock evidencing Shares received under the Award will bear an appropriate legend referring to the transfer restrictions imposed by this Section.

9. Lock-Up Period. By accepting your Award, you agree that you will not sell, dispose of, transfer, make any short sale of, grant any option for the purchase of, or enter into any hedging or similar transaction with the same economic effect as a sale with respect to any shares of Common Stock or other securities of the Company held by you, for a period of 180 days following the effective date of a registration statement of the Company filed under the Securities Act or such longer period as the underwriters or the Company will request to facilitate compliance with applicable FINRA rules (the "Lock-Up Period"); provided, however, that nothing contained in this Section will prevent the exercise of a reacquisition or repurchase option, if any, in favor of the Company during the Lock-Up Period. You further agree to execute and deliver such other agreements as may be reasonably requested by the Company or the underwriters that are consistent with the foregoing or that are necessary to give further effect to the foregoing covenant. You also agree that any transferee of any other shares of Common Stock (or other securities) of the Company held by you will be bound by this Section. To enforce the foregoing covenant, the Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to your shares of Common Stock until the end of such period. The underwriters of the Company's stock are intended third party beneficiaries of this Section and will have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions of this Section as though they were a party to this Award Agreement. You further agree that the obligations contained in this Section 8 shall also, if so determined by the Company's Board of Directors, apply in (1) the Company's initial listing of its Common Stock on a national securities exchange by means of a registration statement on Form S-1 under the Securities Act (or any successor registration form under the Securities Act subsequently adopted by the Securities and Exchange Commission) filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission that registers shares of existing capital stock of the Company for resale (a "Direct Listing") (and, for avoidance of doubt, the Lock-Up Period shall be deemed to include the period following the Direct Listing during which the restrictions under this Section 8 apply), and (2) the Company's completion of a merger or consolidation with a special purpose acquisition company or its subsidiary in which the Common Stock (or similar securities) of the surviving or parent entity are publicly traded in a public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act, provided, in each case, that all holders of at least 5% of the Company's outstanding Common Stock (after giving effect to the conversion into Common Stock of any outstanding Preferred Stock of the Company) are subject to substantially similar obligations with respect to such Direct Listing, merger or consolidation, as applicable.

10. Rights as Stockholder.

a. General. Subject to the provisions of this Award Agreement, you will exercise all rights and privileges of a stockholder of the Company with respect to the Shares, including for purposes of exercising any voting rights relating to any Unvested Shares.

b. Dividends. You will be deemed to be the holder of the Unvested Shares for purposes of receiving any dividends that may be paid with respect to such Shares; provided, however, that any dividends or other distributions paid with respect to the Unvested Shares shall be subject to all of the terms and conditions applicable under this Award Agreement to the same extent as the Unvested Shares. For clarity, cash dividends made prior to the vesting of any Unvested Shares will be withheld and paid to you (without interest) only if, when and to the extent, such Shares become Vested Shares.

11. Waiver of Information Rights. You hereby acknowledge and agree that, except for such information as required to be delivered to you by the Company pursuant to any other agreement by and between you and the Company, you shall have no right to receive any information from the Company by virtue of your purchase of the Shares, ownership of the Shares, or as a result of you being a holder of record of stock of the Company. Without limiting the foregoing, to the fullest extent permitted by law, you hereby waive your inspection rights under Section 220 of the Delaware General Corporation Law and all such similar information and/or inspection rights that may be provided under the law of any jurisdiction, or any federal, state or foreign regulation, that are, or may become, applicable to the Company, the Company's capital stock or the Shares (the "Inspection Rights"). You hereby covenant and agree never to directly or indirectly commence, voluntarily aid in any way, prosecute, assign, transfer, or cause to be commenced any claim, action, cause of action, or other proceeding to pursue or exercise the Inspection Rights.

12. Restrictive Legends. All certificates representing the Common Stock issued under your Award will be endorsed with appropriate legends determined by the Company in substantially the following forms (in addition to any other legend that may be required by other agreements between you and the Company):

a. "THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE ARE SUBJECT TO A REPURCHASE RIGHT AND OTHER RESTRICTIONS AND CONDITIONS SET FORTH IN A RESTRICTED STOCK AWARD AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE COMPANY AND THE REGISTERED HOLDER, OR SUCH HOLDER'S PREDECESSOR IN INTEREST, A COPY OF WHICH IS ON FILE AT THE COMPANY'S PRINCIPAL CORPORATE OFFICES. ANY TRANSFER OR ATTEMPTED TRANSFER OF ANY SHARES SUBJECT TO SUCH RIGHT IS VOID WITHOUT THE PRIOR EXPRESS WRITTEN CONSENT OF THE COMPANY."

b. "THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE HAVE NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED. THEY MAY NOT BE SOLD, OFFERED FOR SALE, PLEDGED OR HYPOTHECATED IN THE ABSENCE OF AN EFFECTIVE REGISTRATION STATEMENT AS TO THE SECURITIES UNDER SAID ACT OR AN OPINION OF COUNSEL SATISFACTORY TO THE COMPANY THAT SUCH REGISTRATION IS NOT REQUIRED."

c. "THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE ARE SUBJECT TO CERTAIN RIGHTS OF REFUSAL GRANTED TO THE COMPANY AND/OR ITS ASSIGNEE(S) AND ACCORDINGLY MAY NOT BE SOLD, ASSIGNED, TRANSFERRED, ENCUMBERED OR IN ANY MANNER DISPOSED OF EXCEPT IN CONFORMITY WITH THE TERMS OF THE BYLAWS OF THE COMPANY AND/OR A RESTRICTED STOCK AWARD AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE COMPANY AND THE REGISTERED HOLDER, OR SUCH HOLDER'S PREDECESSOR IN INTEREST, A COPY OF WHICH IS ON FILE AT THE COMPANY'S PRINCIPAL CORPORATE OFFICES."

d. "THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE ARE SUBJECT TO A TRANSFER RESTRICTION, AS PROVIDED IN THE BYLAWS OF THE COMPANY."

e. Any legend required by appropriate blue sky officials.

13. Investment Representations. In connection with your acquisition of the Common Stock under your Award, you represent to the Company the following:

a. You are aware of the Company's business affairs and financial condition and have acquired sufficient information about the Company to reach an informed and knowledgeable decision to acquire the Shares. You are acquiring the Shares for investment for your own account only and not with a view to, or for resale in connection with, any "distribution" thereof within the meaning of the Securities Act.

b. You understand that the Shares have not been registered under the Securities Act by reason of a specific exemption therefrom, which exemption depends upon, among other things, the bona fide nature of your investment intent as expressed in this Award Agreement.

c. You further acknowledge and understand that the Shares must be held indefinitely unless the Shares are subsequently registered under the Securities Act or an exemption from such registration is available. You further acknowledge and understand that the Company is under no obligation to register the Common Stock. You understand that the certificate evidencing the Common Stock will be imprinted with a legend that prohibits the transfer of the Common Stock unless the Common Stock is registered or such registration is not required in the opinion of counsel for the Company.

d. You are familiar with the provisions of Rule 701 and Rule 144 promulgated under the Securities Act ("Rule 144"), as in effect from time to time, which, in substance, permit limited public resale of "restricted securities" acquired, directly or indirectly, from the issuer thereof (or from an affiliate of such issuer), in a non-public offering subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions. Rule 701 provides that if the issuer qualifies under Rule 701 at the time of issuance of the securities, such issuance will be exempt from registration under the Securities Act. In the event the Company becomes subject to the reporting requirements of Section 13 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, the securities exempt under Rule 701 may be sold by you 90 days thereafter, subject to the satisfaction of certain of the conditions specified by Rule 144 and by the agreement(s) relating to the Lock-Up Period.

e. In the event that the sale of the Shares does not qualify under Rule 701 at the time of issuance, then the Shares may be resold by you in certain limited circumstances subject to the provisions of Rule 144, which requires, among other things: (i) the availability of certain public information about the Company; and (ii) the resale occurring following the required holding period under Rule 144 after you have purchased, and made full payment of (within the meaning of Rule 144), the securities to be sold.

f. You further understand that at the time you wish to sell the Shares, there may be no public market upon which to make such a sale, and that, even if such a public market then exists, the Company may not be satisfying the current public current information requirements of Rule 144 or 701, and that, in such event, you would be precluded from selling the Shares under Rule 144 or 701 even if the minimum holding period requirement had been satisfied.

14. Withholding Obligations.

a. At the time your Award is made, or at any time thereafter as requested by the Company, you hereby authorize withholding from payroll and any other amounts payable to you, and otherwise agree to make adequate provision for any sums required to satisfy the federal, state, local and foreign tax withholding obligations of the Company or an Affiliate, if any, which arise in connection with your Award (the “Withholding Taxes”). The Company may, in its sole discretion, satisfy all or any portion of the Withholding Taxes obligation relating to your Award by any of the following means or by a combination of such means: (i) withholding from any amounts otherwise payable to you by the Company; (ii) causing you to tender a cash payment; or (iii) withholding Shares issued or otherwise issuable to you in connection with the Award with a Fair Market Value equal to the amount of such Withholding Taxes; provided, however, that the number of such Shares withheld may not exceed the amount necessary to satisfy the Company’s required tax withholding obligations using the minimum statutory withholding rates for federal, state, local and foreign tax purposes, including payroll taxes, that are applicable to supplemental taxable income.

b. Unless the tax withholding obligations of the Company and any Affiliate are satisfied, the Company will have no obligation to issue a certificate for such Shares or release such Shares from any escrow provided for in this Award Agreement.

15. Tax Consequences. You agree to review with your own tax advisors the federal, state, local and foreign tax consequences of this investment and the transactions contemplated by this Award. You will rely solely on such advisors and not on any statements or representations of the Company or any of its agents. You understand that you (and not the Company) will be responsible for your own tax liability that may arise as a result of this investment or the transactions contemplated by this Award. You understand that Section 83 of the Code taxes as ordinary income to you the fair market value of the Shares issued to you pursuant to the Award as of the date any restrictions on such shares lapse (that is, as of the date on which part or all of such shares vest). In this context, “restriction” includes the right of the Company to reacquire the Shares pursuant to the Repurchase Right set forth above. You understand that you may elect to be taxed at the time the Shares are issued to you pursuant to your Award, rather than when and as the Repurchase Right expires, by filing an election under Section 83(b) of the Code (an “83(b) Election”) with the Internal Revenue Service within 30 days after the date you acquire Shares pursuant to your Award. Even if the fair market value of the Common Stock at the time of grant of your Award equals the amount paid for the Shares (if anything), the 83(b) Election must be made to avoid income under Section 83(a) in the future. You understand that failure to file such an 83(b) Election in a timely manner may result in adverse tax consequences for you. You acknowledge that the foregoing is only a summary of the effect of U.S. federal income taxation with respect to issuance of the Shares pursuant to your Award, and does not purport to be complete. You further acknowledge that the Company has directed you to seek independent advice regarding the applicable provisions of the Code, the income tax laws of any municipality, state or foreign country in which you may reside, and the tax consequences of your death. You assume all responsibility for filing an 83(b) Election and paying all taxes resulting from such election or the lapse of the restrictions on the Shares. YOU ACKNOWLEDGE THAT IT IS YOUR OWN RESPONSIBILITY, AND NOT THE COMPANY’S, TO FILE A TIMELY 83(b) ELECTION. THE COMPANY AND ITS LEGAL COUNSEL CANNOT ASSUME RESPONSIBILITY FOR FAILURE TO FILE THE 83(b) ELECTION IN A TIMELY MANNER UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES.

16. Severability. If all or any part of this Award Agreement or the Plan is declared by any court or governmental authority to be unlawful or invalid, such unlawfulness or invalidity will not invalidate any portion of this Award Agreement or the Plan not declared to be unlawful or invalid. Any Section of this Award Agreement (or part of such a Section) so declared to be unlawful or invalid shall, if possible, be construed in a manner which will give effect to the terms of such Section or part of a Section to the fullest extent possible while remaining lawful and valid.

17. Governing Law. The interpretation, performance and enforcement of this Award Agreement shall be governed by the law of the State of Delaware without regard to that state's conflicts of laws rules.

18. Notices. Any notice or request required or permitted hereunder will be given in writing to each of the other parties hereto and will be deemed effectively given on the earlier of (i) the date of personal delivery, including delivery by express courier, or delivery via electronic means, or (ii) the date that is five days after deposit in the United States Post Office (whether or not actually received by the addressee), by registered or certified mail with postage and fees prepaid, addressed to the Company at its primary executive offices, attention: Stock Plan Administrator, and addressed to you at your address as on file with the Company at the time notice is given.

19. Imposition of Other Requirements. As a condition to the grant of your Award or to the Company's issuance of any Shares under this Award, the Company may require you to execute further documents or instruments necessary or desirable in the sole determination of the Company to carry out the purposes or intent of your Award. In addition, by accepting this Award, you agree to execute, to the extent requested by the Company, at any time and from time to time, certain agreements entered into with holders of capital stock of the Company, including without limitation a right of first refusal and co-sale agreement, stockholders agreement and/or a voting agreement.

EXHIBIT B TO
JOINT ESCROW INSTRUCTIONS

Secretary
Candid Therapeutics, Inc.

As Escrow Agent for both Candid Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), and the undersigned recipient (“Recipient”) of Common Stock of the Company (the “Common Stock”), you are hereby authorized and directed to hold the documents delivered to you pursuant to the terms of the Restricted Stock Award Grant Notice (including all attachments and exhibits) dated _____ (the “Award”), to which a copy of these Joint Escrow Instructions is attached as Exhibit B to the Restricted Stock Award Terms and Conditions (the “Agreement”, in accordance with the following instructions:

1. In the event Recipient ceases to render services to the Company or an affiliate of the Company during the vesting period set forth in the Grant Notice, the Company or its affiliate or assignee, as applicable, will give to Recipient and you a written notice specifying the number of shares of Common Stock that will be transferred to the Company. Recipient and the Company hereby irrevocably authorize and direct you to close the transaction contemplated by such notice in accordance with the terms of said notice.

2. At the closing you are directed (a) to date any stock assignments necessary for the transfer in question, (b) to fill in the number of shares of Common Stock being transferred, and (c) to deliver the same, together with the certificate evidencing the shares of Common Stock to be transferred, to the Company.

3. Recipient irrevocably authorizes the Company to deposit with you any certificates evidencing shares of Common Stock to be held by you hereunder and any additions and substitutions to said shares of Common Stock as specified in the Grant Notice and the Agreement. Recipient does hereby irrevocably constitute and appoint you as Recipient’s attorney-in-fact and agent for the term of this escrow to execute with respect to such securities and other property all documents of assignment and/or transfer and all stock certificates necessary or appropriate to make all securities negotiable and complete any transaction herein contemplated.

4. This escrow will terminate and the shares of Common Stock held hereunder will be released in full upon the full vesting of the shares of Common Stock in accordance with the vesting schedule set forth in the Grant Notice or upon the earlier return of the shares of Common Stock to the Company pursuant to the Company’s Repurchase Right (as defined in the Agreement) or other forfeiture condition under the Company’s 2024 Equity Incentive Plan.

5. If at the time of termination of this escrow you should have in your possession any documents, securities, or other property belonging to Recipient, you will deliver all of same to Recipient and will be discharged of all further obligations hereunder; provided, however, that if at the time of termination of this escrow you are advised by the Company that the property subject to this escrow is the subject of a pledge or other security agreement, you will deliver all such property to the pledgeholder or other person designated by the Company.

6. Except as otherwise provided in these Joint Escrow Instructions, your duties hereunder may be altered, amended, modified or revoked only by a writing signed by all of the parties hereto.

7. You will be obligated only for the performance of such duties as are specifically set forth herein and may rely and will be protected in relying or refraining from acting on any instrument reasonably believed by you to be genuine and to have been signed or presented by the proper party or parties or their assignees. You will not be personally liable for any act you may do or omit to do hereunder as Escrow Agent or as attorney-in-fact for Recipient while acting in good faith and any act done or omitted by you pursuant to the advice of your own attorneys will be conclusive evidence of such good faith.

8. You are hereby expressly authorized to disregard any and all warnings given by any of the parties hereto or by any other person or corporation, excepting only orders or process of courts of law, and are hereby expressly authorized to comply with and obey orders, judgments or decrees of any court. In case you obey or comply with any such order, judgment or decree of any court, you will not be liable to any of the parties hereto or to any other person, firm or corporation by reason of such compliance, notwithstanding any such order, judgment or decree being subsequently reversed, modified, annulled, set aside, vacated or found to have been entered without jurisdiction.

9. You will not be liable in any respect on account of the identity, authority or rights of the parties executing or delivering or purporting to execute or deliver the Grant Notice, the Agreement or any documents or papers deposited or called for hereunder.

10. You will not be liable for the outlawing of any rights under any statute of limitations with respect to these Joint Escrow Instructions or any documents deposited with you.

11. Your responsibilities as Escrow Agent hereunder will terminate if you cease to be Secretary of the Company or if you resign by written notice to the Company. In the event of any such termination, the Secretary of the Company will automatically become the successor Escrow Agent unless the Company appoints another successor Escrow Agent and Recipient hereby confirms the appointment of such successor as Recipient's attorney-in-fact and agent to the full extent of your appointment.

12. If you reasonably require other or further instruments in connection with these Joint Escrow Instructions or obligations in respect hereto, the necessary parties hereto will join in furnishing such instruments.

13. It is understood and agreed that should any dispute arise with respect to the delivery and/or ownership or right of possession of the securities, you are authorized and directed to retain in your possession without liability to anyone all or any part of said securities until such dispute has been settled either by mutual written agreement of the parties concerned or by a final order, decree or judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction after the time for appeal has expired and no appeal has been perfected, but you will be under no duty whatsoever to institute or defend any such proceedings.

14. Any notice or request required or permitted hereunder will be given in writing to each of the other parties hereto and will be deemed effectively given on the earlier of (i) the date of personal delivery, including delivery by express courier, or delivery via electronic means, or (ii) the date that is five days after deposit in the United States Post Office (whether or not actually received by the addressee), by registered or certified mail with postage and fees prepaid, addressed to each of the other parties hereunto entitled at the following addresses, or at such other addresses as a party may designate by 10 days' advance written notice to each of the other parties hereto:

Company: Candid Therapeutics, Inc.

Attn: Chief Executive Officer

Recipient:

Escrow Agent: Candid Therapeutics, Inc.

Attn: Corporate Secretary

15. By signing these Joint Escrow Instructions you become a party hereto only for the purpose of said Joint Escrow Instructions; you do not become a party to the Grant Notice or the Agreement.

16. You are entitled to employ such legal counsel, including without limitation Cooley LLP, and other experts as you may deem necessary to advise you in connection with your obligations hereunder. You may rely upon the advice of such counsel, and may pay such counsel reasonable compensation therefor.

17. This instrument will be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto, and their respective successors and permitted assigns. It is understood and agreed that references to “you” or “your” herein refer to the original Escrow Agent and to any and all successor Escrow Agents. It is understood and agreed that the Company may at any time or from time to time assign its rights under the Grant Notice, the Agreement and these Joint Escrow Instructions in whole or in part.

18. These Joint Escrow Instructions will be governed by and interpreted and determined in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware without regard to that state’s conflicts of laws rules. The parties hereby expressly consent to the personal jurisdiction of the state and federal courts located in the county in which the Company has its principal offices for any lawsuit arising from or related to this Agreement.

RESTRICTED STOCK AWARD GRANT NOTICE
(2024 EQUITY INCENTIVE PLAN)

Candid Therapeutics, Inc. (the “Company”), pursuant to its 2024 Equity Incentive Plan (the “Plan”), hereby awards to Participant, in consideration for Participant’s past or future services actually or to be rendered to the Company, the number of shares of Common Stock (the “Shares”) set forth below (the “Award”). The Award is subject to all of the terms and conditions as set forth in this Restricted Stock Award Grant Notice (the “Grant Notice”) and the attached Restricted Stock Award Terms and Conditions (together with the Grant Notice, the “Award Agreement”), and the Plan, all of which are attached to this Grant Notice and incorporated into this Grant Notice in their entirety. Capitalized terms not explicitly defined in the Award Agreement but defined in the Plan will have the meanings provided in the Plan. If the Company uses an electronic capitalization table system (such as Carta or Shareworks) and the fields below are blank or the information is otherwise provided in a different format electronically, the blank fields and other information (such as exercise schedule and type of grant) shall be deemed to come from the electronic capitalization system and is considered part of this Grant Notice.

Participant: _____
Date of Grant: _____
Vesting Commencement Date: _____
Number of Shares Subject to Award: _____
Consideration: [Participant’s services]

Vesting Schedule: [Sample of standard vesting. 12/48ths of the total shares will vest on the one-year anniversary of the Vesting Commencement Date, and 1/48th of the total shares will vest each month thereafter on the same day of the month as the Vesting Commencement Date (or if there is no corresponding day, on the last day of the month), subject to Participant’s Continuous Service as of each such date].

Additional Terms/Acknowledgements: Participant acknowledges receipt of a copy of the Plan and represents that Participant is familiar with the terms and provisions thereof, and hereby accepts this Award subject to all of the terms and provisions of the Plan and this Award Agreement (including all attachments and exhibits) and has had an opportunity to obtain the advice of counsel prior to executing and accepting the Award. By accepting this Award, Participant hereby agrees to accept as binding, conclusive and final all decisions or interpretations of the Board upon any questions arising under the Plan or this Award.

Participant further consents to receive any documents related to the Plan by electronic delivery and to participate in the Plan through an online or electronic system established and maintained by the Company or a third party designated by the Company.

Participant further acknowledges that as of the Date of Grant, this Award Agreement and the Plan set forth the entire understanding between Participant and the Company regarding the acquisition of stock in the Company and supersede all prior oral and written agreements on that subject, with the exception of (i) options, restricted stock awards or other compensatory stock awards previously granted and delivered to Participant, and (ii) any written employment or severance arrangement that would provide for vesting acceleration of this Award upon the terms and conditions set forth therein.

Participant further acknowledges that this Award Agreement has been prepared on behalf of the Company by Cooley LLP, counsel to the Company and that Cooley LLP does not represent, and is not acting on behalf of, Participant in any capacity. Participant has been provided with an opportunity to consult with Participant’s own counsel with respect to this Award Agreement.

This Award may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, Uniform Electronic Transactions Act or other applicable law) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

CANDID THERAPEUTICS, INC.

(2024 EQUITY INCENTIVE PLAN)

RESTRICTED STOCK AWARD TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Candid Therapeutics, Inc. (the “Company”) has awarded you, in exchange for your services to the Company, the number of Shares indicated in the Grant Notice (the “Award”) pursuant to its 2024 Equity Incentive Plan (the “Plan”). The Grant Notice and these Restricted Stock Award Terms and Conditions are collectively referred to as the “Award Agreement”. Capitalized terms not explicitly defined in this Agreement but defined in the Plan will have the same meanings given to them in the Plan.

The details of your Award, in addition to those set forth in the Grant Notice and the Plan, are as follows:

1. Escrow of Shares. As security for your faithful performance of the terms of this Award Agreement and to ensure the availability for delivery of the Unvested Shares upon exercise of the Reacquisition Right, you agree that the Shares will be held in escrow pursuant to the terms of the Joint Escrow Instructions attached to this Agreement as Exhibit B. You agree to execute and deliver to the individual designated as the escrow agent in the Joint Escrow Instructions or person’s designee (the “Escrow Agent”), (i) the Joint Escrow Instructions and (ii) two Assignment Separate From Certificate forms duly endorsed (with date and number of shares blank) substantially in the form attached to this Agreement as Exhibit A and deliver the same, along with the certificate or certificates evidencing the Unvested Shares, which will be held and used by the Escrow Agent pursuant to the terms of the Joint Escrow Instructions.

2. Vesting. Subject to the limitations contained herein, the Shares will vest pursuant to the Vesting Schedule in the Grant Notice, provided that vesting will cease upon the termination of your Continuous Service. “Vested Shares” will mean Shares that have vested in accordance with the Vesting Schedule, and “Unvested Shares” will mean Shares that have not vested in accordance with the Vesting Schedule.

3. Number of Shares; Capitalization Adjustments. The number of Shares subject to your Award may be adjusted from time to time for Capitalization Adjustments. In the event of any such Capitalization Adjustments, new, substituted or additional securities or other property to which you are entitled by reason of your ownership of the Unvested Shares will be immediately subject to the same vesting requirements and vesting schedule that is applicable to the Shares with respect to which such additional Shares relate, as well as all transfer restrictions contained in this Award Agreement, including the Reacquisition Right, the Right of First Refusal and the Lock-Up Period (each as defined below). No fractional shares or rights for fractional shares will be created pursuant to this Section. Any fraction of a share will be rounded down to the nearest whole share.

4. Securities Law Compliance. The Shares are not registered under the Securities Act. At this time, the Company has determined that the issuance of the Shares under this Award is exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act. If the Company determines at any time that an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act was not available or that the issuance of the Shares otherwise would not comply with any other applicable laws and regulations, then the Company will not be obligated to issue the Shares or may rescind the award to you.

5. Transfer Restrictions. In addition to any other limitation on transfer created by the Company's bylaws and applicable securities laws, you may not Transfer all or any part of the Unvested Shares or any interest in the Unvested Shares while such shares are subject to the Reacquisition Right (as defined below) or continue to be held by the Escrow Agent (as defined below) or by the Company's transfer agent in restricted book entry form. In the case of Vested Shares, you may not Transfer the Vested Shares or any interest in the Vested Shares except in compliance with this Award Agreement, including without limitation the Right of First Refusal (as defined below), the Company's bylaws and applicable securities laws. As used in this Award Agreement, the term "Transfer" means any sale, encumbrance, pledge, gift or other form of disposition or transfer of shares of Common Stock or any legal or equitable interest therein; provided, however, that the term Transfer does not include a transfer of such shares or interests by will or intestacy to your Immediate Family. In such case, the transferee or other recipient will receive and hold the Shares so transferred subject to the provisions of this Award Agreement, and there will be no further transfer of such shares except in accordance with the terms of this Award Agreement. The term "Immediate Family" will mean your spouse, the lineal descendant or antecedent, father, mother, brother or sister, child, adopted child, grandchild or adopted grandchild of you or your spouse, or the spouse of any child, adopted child, grandchild or adopted grandchild of you or your spouse.

6. Unvested Share Reacquisition Right.

a. Reacquisition Right. In the event your Continuous Service terminates, the Company will automatically reacquire (the "Reacquisition Right") on the date that is 90 days after the termination of your Continuous Service (the "Reacquisition Date") all Unvested Shares as of the date of your termination of Continuous Service without any payment to you (that is, for zero dollars ($0)) and without any required action or notice to you. You hereby agree to take whatever action the Company deems necessary to effectuate the Company's reacquisition of the Unvested Shares. Following such reacquisition, the Company will become the legal and beneficial owner of the Unvested Shares being reacquired and all rights and interests in and related to such shares, and the Company will have the right to transfer to its own name the Unvested Shares being reacquired by the Company without further action by you. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section or in this Award Agreement, the Company may elect to waive, in its sole discretion, its Reacquisition Right in whole or in part by providing written notice to you (with a copy to the Escrow Agent, as defined below), at any time prior to or on the Reacquisition Date, and the Escrow Agent may then release to you the number of Shares not being reacquired by the Company.

b. Corporate Transactions. To the extent the Reacquisition Right remains in effect following a Corporate Transaction or Change in Control, unless otherwise provided by the Board pursuant to the terms of the Plan, it will apply to the new capital stock, cash or other property received in exchange for the Unvested Shares in consummation of the Corporate Transaction or Change in Control, as applicable, but only to the extent the Unvested Shares were at the time covered by such right.

c. Termination of Reacquisition Right. The Company's Reacquisition Right will terminate upon the earlier of (i) the Company's reacquisition in full of the Unvested Shares (or waiver of the Reacquisition Right) and (ii) the expiration of the Company's Reacquisition Right.

7. Right of First Refusal. Shares that are received under your Award are subject to any right of first refusal that may be described in the Company's bylaws in effect at such time the Company elects to exercise its right; provided, however, that if there is no right of first refusal described in the Company's bylaws at such time, the right of first refusal described below (the "Right of First Refusal") will apply. The Right of First Refusal will expire on the first date upon which any security of the Company is listed (or approved for listing) upon notice of issuance on a national securities exchange or quotation system (the "Listing Date").

a. Prior to the Listing Date, you may not validly Transfer any Shares received under the Award, or any interest in such shares, unless such Transfer is made in compliance with the following provisions:

1) Before there can be a valid Transfer of any Shares or any interest therein, the record holder of the Shares to be transferred (the “Offered Shares”) will give written notice (by registered or certified mail) to the Company (the “ROFR Notice”). Such notice will specify the identity of the proposed transferee, the cash price offered for the Offered Shares by the proposed transferee (or, if the proposed Transfer is one in which the holder will not receive cash, such as an involuntary transfer, gift, donation or pledge, the holder will state that no purchase price is being proposed), and the other terms and conditions of the proposed Transfer. The date such notice is mailed will be hereinafter referred to as the “Notice Date” and the record holder of the Offered Shares will be hereinafter referred to as the “Offeror.”

2) For a period of 30 calendar days after the Notice Date, the Company will have the option to exercise its Right of First Refusal and purchase all or any portion of the Offered Shares at the purchase price and on the terms set forth in this Section. In the event that the proposed Transfer is one involving no payment of a purchase price, the purchase price will be deemed to be the Fair Market Value of the Offered Shares as determined in good faith by the Board in its discretion. The Company may exercise its Right of First Refusal by mailing (by registered or certified mail) written notice of exercise of its Right of First Refusal to the Offeror prior to the end of said 30 days.

3) The price at which the Company may purchase the Offered Shares pursuant to the exercise of its Right of First Refusal will be the cash price offered for the Offered Shares by the proposed transferee (as set forth in the ROFR Notice), or the Fair Market Value as determined by the Board in the event no purchase price is involved. To the extent consideration other than cash is offered by the proposed transferee, the Company will not be required to pay any additional amounts to the Offeror other than the cash price offered (or the Fair Market Value, if applicable). The Company’s notice of exercise of its Right of First Refusal will be accompanied by full payment for the Offered Shares and, upon such payment by the Company, the Company will acquire full right, title and interest to all of the Offered Shares.

4) If, and only if, the Company elects not to exercise its Right of First Refusal as to the Offered Shares, the Transfer proposed in the ROFR Notice may take place; provided, however, that such Transfer must, in all respects, be exactly as proposed in said notice except that such Transfer may not take place either before the 10th calendar day after the expiration of the 30 day option exercise period or after the 90th calendar day after the expiration of the 30 day option exercise period, and if such Transfer has not taken place prior to said 90th day, such Transfer may not take place without once again complying with this Section.

b. None of the shares of Common Stock received under the Award will be transferred on the Company’s books nor will the Company recognize any such Transfer of any such shares or any interest therein unless and until all applicable provisions of this Section have been complied with in all respects. The certificates of stock evidencing Shares received under the Award will bear an appropriate legend referring to the transfer restrictions imposed by this Section.

8. Lock-Up Period. By accepting your Award, you agree that you will not sell, dispose of, transfer, make any short sale of, grant any option for the purchase of, or enter into any hedging or similar transaction with the same economic effect as a sale with respect to any shares of Common Stock or other securities of the Company held by you, for a period of 180 days following the effective date of a registration statement of the Company filed under the Securities Act or such longer period as the underwriters or the Company will request to facilitate compliance with applicable FINRA rules (the “Lock-Up Period”); provided, however, that nothing contained in this Section will prevent the exercise of a reacquisition or repurchase option, if any, in favor of the Company during the Lock-Up Period. You further agree to execute and deliver such other agreements as may be reasonably requested by the Company or the underwriters that are consistent with the foregoing or that are necessary to give further effect to the foregoing covenant. You also agree that any transferee of any other shares of Common Stock (or other securities) of the Company held by you will be bound by this Section. To enforce the foregoing covenant, the Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to your shares of Common Stock until the end of such period. The underwriters of the Company's stock are intended third party beneficiaries of this Section and will have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions of this Section as though they were a party to this Award Agreement. You further agree that the obligations contained in this Section 8 shall also, if so determined by the Company's Board of Directors, apply in (1) the Company's initial listing of its Common Stock on a national securities exchange by means of a registration statement on Form S-1 under the Securities Act (or any successor registration form under the Securities Act subsequently adopted by the Securities and Exchange Commission) filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission that registers shares of existing capital stock of the Company for resale (a "Direct Listing") (and, for avoidance of doubt, the Lock-Up Period shall be deemed to include the period following the Direct Listing during which the restrictions under this Section 8 apply), and (2) the Company's completion of a merger or consolidation with a special purpose acquisition company or its subsidiary in which the Common Stock (or similar securities) of the surviving or parent entity are publicly traded in a public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act, provided, in each case, that all holders of at least 5% of the Company's outstanding Common Stock (after giving effect to the conversion into Common Stock of any outstanding Preferred Stock of the Company) are subject to substantially similar obligations with respect to such Direct Listing, merger or consolidation, as applicable.

9. Rights as Stockholder.

a. General. Subject to the provisions of this Award Agreement, you will exercise all rights and privileges of a stockholder of the Company with respect to the Shares, including for purposes of exercising any voting rights relating to any Unvested Shares.

b. Dividends. You will be deemed to be the holder of the Unvested Shares for purposes of receiving any dividends that may be paid with respect to such Shares; provided, however, that any dividends or other distributions paid with respect to the Unvested Shares shall be subject to all of the terms and conditions applicable under this Award Agreement to the same extent as the Unvested Shares. For clarity, cash dividends made prior to the vesting of any Unvested Shares will be withheld and paid to you (without interest) only if, when and to the extent, such Shares become Vested Shares.

10. Waiver of Information Rights. You hereby acknowledge and agree that, except for such information as required to be delivered to you by the Company pursuant to any other agreement by and between you and the Company, you shall have no right to receive any information from the Company by virtue of your purchase of the Shares, ownership of the Shares, or as a result of you being a holder of record of stock of the Company. Without limiting the foregoing, to the fullest extent permitted by law, you hereby waive your inspection rights under Section 220 of the Delaware General Corporation Law and all such similar information and/or inspection rights that may be provided under the law of any jurisdiction, or any federal, state or foreign regulation, that are, or may become, applicable to the Company, the Company's capital stock or the Shares (the "Inspection Rights"). You hereby covenant and agree never to directly or indirectly commence, voluntarily aid in any way, prosecute, assign, transfer, or cause to be commenced any claim, action, cause of action, or other proceeding to pursue or exercise the Inspection Rights.

11. Restrictive Legends. All certificates representing the Common Stock issued under your Award will be endorsed with appropriate legends determined by the Company in substantially the following forms (in addition to any other legend that may be required by other agreements between you and the Company):

a. "THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE ARE SUBJECT TO A REACQUISITION RIGHT AND OTHER RESTRICTIONS AND CONDITIONS SET FORTH IN A RESTRICTED STOCK AWARD AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE COMPANY AND THE REGISTERED HOLDER, OR SUCH HOLDER'S PREDECESSOR IN INTEREST, A COPY OF WHICH IS ON FILE AT THE COMPANY'S PRINCIPAL CORPORATE OFFICES. ANY TRANSFER OR ATTEMPTED TRANSFER OF ANY SHARES SUBJECT TO SUCH RIGHT IS VOID WITHOUT THE PRIOR EXPRESS WRITTEN CONSENT OF THE COMPANY."

b. "THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE HAVE NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED. THEY MAY NOT BE SOLD, OFFERED FOR SALE, PLEDGED OR HYPOTHECATED IN THE ABSENCE OF AN EFFECTIVE REGISTRATION STATEMENT AS TO THE SECURITIES UNDER SAID ACT OR AN OPINION OF COUNSEL SATISFACTORY TO THE COMPANY THAT SUCH REGISTRATION IS NOT REQUIRED."

c. "THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE ARE SUBJECT TO CERTAIN RIGHTS OF REFUSAL GRANTED TO THE COMPANY AND/OR ITS ASSIGNEE(S) AND ACCORDINGLY MAY NOT BE SOLD, ASSIGNED, TRANSFERRED, ENCUMBERED OR IN ANY MANNER DISPOSED OF EXCEPT IN CONFORMITY WITH THE TERMS OF THE BYLAWS OF THE COMPANY AND/OR A RESTRICTED STOCK AWARD AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE COMPANY AND THE REGISTERED HOLDER, OR SUCH HOLDER'S PREDECESSOR IN INTEREST, A COPY OF WHICH IS ON FILE AT THE COMPANY'S PRINCIPAL CORPORATE OFFICES."

d. "THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE ARE SUBJECT TO A TRANSFER RESTRICTION, AS PROVIDED IN THE BYLAWS OF THE COMPANY."

e. Any legend required by appropriate blue sky officials.

12. Investment Representations. In connection with your acquisition of the Common Stock under your Award, you represent to the Company the following:

a. You are aware of the Company's business affairs and financial condition and have acquired sufficient information about the Company to reach an informed and knowledgeable decision to acquire the Shares. You are acquiring the Shares for investment for your own account only and not with a view to, or for resale in connection with, any "distribution" thereof within the meaning of the Securities Act.

b. You understand that the Shares have not been registered under the Securities Act by reason of a specific exemption therefrom, which exemption depends upon, among other things, the bona fide nature of your investment intent as expressed in this Award Agreement.

c. You further acknowledge and understand that the Shares must be held indefinitely unless the Shares are subsequently registered under the Securities Act or an exemption from such registration is available. You further acknowledge and understand that the Company is under no obligation to register the Common Stock. You understand that the certificate evidencing the Common Stock will be imprinted with a legend that prohibits the transfer of the Common Stock unless the Common Stock is registered or such registration is not required in the opinion of counsel for the Company.

d. You are familiar with the provisions of Rule 701 and Rule 144 promulgated under the Securities Act ("Rule 144"), as in effect from time to time, which, in substance, permit limited public resale of "restricted securities" acquired, directly or indirectly, from the issuer thereof (or from an affiliate of such issuer), in a non-public offering subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions. Rule 701 provides that if the issuer qualifies under Rule 701 at the time of issuance of the securities, such issuance will be exempt from registration under the Securities Act. In the event the Company becomes subject to the reporting requirements of Section 13 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, the securities exempt under Rule 701 may be sold by you 90 days thereafter, subject to the satisfaction of certain of the conditions specified by Rule 144 and by the agreement(s) relating to the Lock-Up Period.

e. In the event that the sale of the Shares does not qualify under Rule 701 at the time of issuance, then the Shares may be resold by you in certain limited circumstances subject to the provisions of Rule 144, which requires, among other things: (i) the availability of certain public information about the Company; and (ii) the resale occurring following the required holding period under Rule 144 after you have purchased, and made full payment of (within the meaning of Rule 144), the securities to be sold.

f. You further understand that at the time you wish to sell the Shares, there may be no public market upon which to make such a sale, and that, even if such a public market then exists, the Company may not be satisfying the current public current information requirements of Rule 144 or 701, and that, in such event, you would be precluded from selling the Shares under Rule 144 or 701 even if the minimum holding period requirement had been satisfied.

13. Withholding Obligations.

a. At the time your Award is made, or at any time thereafter as requested by the Company, you hereby authorize withholding from payroll and any other amounts payable to you, and otherwise agree to make adequate provision for any sums required to satisfy the federal, state, local and foreign tax withholding obligations of the Company or an Affiliate, if any, which arise in connection with your Award (the "Withholding Taxes"). The Company may, in its sole discretion, satisfy all or any portion of the Withholding Taxes obligation relating to your Award by any of the following means or by a combination of such means: (i) withholding from any amounts otherwise payable to you by the Company; (ii) causing you to tender a cash payment; or (iii) withholding Shares issued or otherwise issuable to you in connection with the Award with a Fair Market Value equal to the amount of such Withholding Taxes; provided, however, that the number of such Shares withheld may not exceed the amount necessary to satisfy the Company's required tax withholding obligations using the minimum statutory withholding rates for federal, state, local and foreign tax purposes, including payroll taxes, that are applicable to supplemental taxable income.

b. Unless the tax withholding obligations of the Company and any Affiliate are satisfied, the Company will have no obligation to issue a certificate for such Shares or release such Shares from any escrow provided for in this Award Agreement.

14. Tax Consequences. You agree to review with your own tax advisors the federal, state, local and foreign tax consequences of this investment and the transactions contemplated by this Award. You will rely solely on such advisors and not on any statements or representations of the Company or any of its agents. You understand that you (and not the Company) will be responsible for your own tax liability that may arise as a result of this investment or the transactions contemplated by this Award. You understand that Section 83 of the Code taxes as ordinary income to you the fair market value of the Shares issued to you pursuant to the Award as of the date any restrictions on such shares lapse (that is, as of the date on which part or all of such shares vest). In this context, "restriction" includes the right of the Company to reacquire the Shares pursuant to the Reacquisition Right set forth above. You understand that you may elect to be taxed at the time the Shares are issued to you pursuant to your Award, rather than when and as the Reacquisition Right expires, by filing an election under Section 83(b) of the Code (an “83(b) Election”) with the Internal Revenue Service within 30 days after the date you acquire Shares pursuant to your Award. Even if the fair market value of the Common Stock at the time of grant of your Award equals the amount paid for the Shares (if anything), the 83(b) Election must be made to avoid income under Section 83(a) in the future. You understand that failure to file such an 83(b) Election in a timely manner may result in adverse tax consequences for you. You acknowledge that the foregoing is only a summary of the effect of U.S. federal income taxation with respect to issuance of the Shares pursuant to your Award, and does not purport to be complete. You further acknowledge that the Company has directed you to seek independent advice regarding the applicable provisions of the Code, the income tax laws of any municipality, state or foreign country in which you may reside, and the tax consequences of your death. You assume all responsibility for filing an 83(b) Election and paying all taxes resulting from such election or the lapse of the restrictions on the Shares. YOU ACKNOWLEDGE THAT IT IS YOUR OWN RESPONSIBILITY, AND NOT THE COMPANY’S, TO FILE A TIMELY 83(b) ELECTION. THE COMPANY AND ITS LEGAL COUNSEL CANNOT ASSUME RESPONSIBILITY FOR FAILURE TO FILE THE 83(b) ELECTION IN A TIMELY MANNER UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES.

15. Severability. If all or any part of this Award Agreement or the Plan is declared by any court or governmental authority to be unlawful or invalid, such unlawfulness or invalidity will not invalidate any portion of this Award Agreement or the Plan not declared to be unlawful or invalid. Any Section of this Award Agreement (or part of such a Section) so declared to be unlawful or invalid shall, if possible, be construed in a manner which will give effect to the terms of such Section or part of a Section to the fullest extent possible while remaining lawful and valid.

16. Governing Law. The interpretation, performance and enforcement of this Award Agreement shall be governed by the law of the State of Delaware without regard to that state’s conflicts of laws rules.

17. Notices. Any notice or request required or permitted hereunder will be given in writing to each of the other parties hereto and will be deemed effectively given on the earlier of (i) the date of personal delivery, including delivery by express courier, or delivery via electronic means, or (ii) the date that is five days after deposit in the United States Post Office (whether or not actually received by the addressee), by registered or certified mail with postage and fees prepaid, addressed to the Company at its primary executive offices, attention: Stock Plan Administrator, and addressed to you at your address as on file with the Company at the time notice is given.

18. Imposition of Other Requirements. As a condition to the grant of your Award or to the Company’s issuance of any Shares under this Award, the Company may require you to execute further documents or instruments necessary or desirable in the sole determination of the Company to carry out the purposes or intent of your Award. In addition, by accepting this Award, you agree to execute, to the extent requested by the Company, at any time and from time to time, certain agreements entered into with holders of capital stock of the Company, including without limitation a right of first refusal and co-sale agreement, stockholders agreement and/or a voting agreement.

JOINT ESCROW INSTRUCTIONS

Secretary
Candid Therapeutics, Inc.

As Escrow Agent for both Candid Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), and the undersigned recipient (“Recipient”) of Common Stock of the Company (the “Common Stock”), you are hereby authorized and directed to hold the documents delivered to you pursuant to the terms of the Restricted Stock Award Grant Notice (including all attachments and exhibits) dated _____ (the “Award”), to which a copy of these Joint Escrow Instructions is attached as Exhibit B to the Restricted Stock Award Terms and Conditions (the “Agreement”, in accordance with the following instructions:

1. In the event Recipient ceases to render services to the Company or an affiliate of the Company during the vesting period set forth in the Grant Notice, the Company or its affiliate or assignee, as applicable, will give to Recipient and you a written notice specifying the number of shares of Common Stock that will be transferred to the Company. Recipient and the Company hereby irrevocably authorize and direct you to close the transaction contemplated by such notice in accordance with the terms of said notice.

2. At the closing you are directed (a) to date any stock assignments necessary for the transfer in question, (b) to fill in the number of shares of Common Stock being transferred, and (c) to deliver the same, together with the certificate evidencing the shares of Common Stock to be transferred, to the Company.

3. Recipient irrevocably authorizes the Company to deposit with you any certificates evidencing shares of Common Stock to be held by you hereunder and any additions and substitutions to said shares of Common Stock as specified in the Grant Notice and the Agreement. Recipient does hereby irrevocably constitute and appoint you as Recipient’s attorney-in-fact and agent for the term of this escrow to execute with respect to such securities and other property all documents of assignment and/or transfer and all stock certificates necessary or appropriate to make all securities negotiable and complete any transaction herein contemplated.

4. This escrow will terminate and the shares of Common Stock held hereunder will be released in full upon the full vesting of the shares of Common Stock in accordance with the vesting schedule set forth in the Grant Notice or upon the earlier return of the shares of Common Stock to the Company pursuant to the Company’s Reacquisition Right (as defined in the Agreement) or other forfeiture condition under the Company’s 2024 Equity Incentive Plan.

5. If at the time of termination of this escrow you should have in your possession any documents, securities, or other property belonging to Recipient, you will deliver all of same to Recipient and will be discharged of all further obligations hereunder; provided, however, that if at the time of termination of this escrow you are advised by the Company that the property subject to this escrow is the subject of a pledge or other security agreement, you will deliver all such property to the pledgeholder or other person designated by the Company.

6. Except as otherwise provided in these Joint Escrow Instructions, your duties hereunder may be altered, amended, modified or revoked only by a writing signed by all of the parties hereto.

7. You will be obligated only for the performance of such duties as are specifically set forth herein and may rely and will be protected in relying or refraining from acting on any instrument reasonably believed by you to be genuine and to have been signed or presented by the proper party or parties or their assignees. You will not be personally liable for any act you may do or omit to do hereunder as Escrow Agent or as attorney-in-fact for Recipient while acting in good faith and any act done or omitted by you pursuant to the advice of your own attorneys will be conclusive evidence of such good faith.

8. You are hereby expressly authorized to disregard any and all warnings given by any of the parties hereto or by any other person or corporation, excepting only orders or process of courts of law, and are hereby expressly authorized to comply with and obey orders, judgments or decrees of any court. In case you obey or comply with any such order, judgment or decree of any court, you will not be liable to any of the parties hereto or to any other person, firm or corporation by reason of such compliance, notwithstanding any such order, judgment or decree being subsequently reversed, modified, annulled, set aside, vacated or found to have been entered without jurisdiction.

9. You will not be liable in any respect on account of the identity, authority or rights of the parties executing or delivering or purporting to execute or deliver the Grant Notice, the Agreement or any documents or papers deposited or called for hereunder.

10. You will not be liable for the outlawing of any rights under any statute of limitations with respect to these Joint Escrow Instructions or any documents deposited with you.

11. Your responsibilities as Escrow Agent hereunder will terminate if you cease to be Secretary of the Company or if you resign by written notice to the Company. In the event of any such termination, the Secretary of the Company will automatically become the successor Escrow Agent unless the Company appoints another successor Escrow Agent and Recipient hereby confirms the appointment of such successor as Recipient's attorney-in-fact and agent to the full extent of your appointment.

12. If you reasonably require other or further instruments in connection with these Joint Escrow Instructions or obligations in respect hereto, the necessary parties hereto will join in furnishing such instruments.

13. It is understood and agreed that should any dispute arise with respect to the delivery and/or ownership or right of possession of the securities, you are authorized and directed to retain in your possession without liability to anyone all or any part of said securities until such dispute has been settled either by mutual written agreement of the parties concerned or by a final order, decree or judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction after the time for appeal has expired and no appeal has been perfected, but you will be under no duty whatsoever to institute or defend any such proceedings.

14. Any notice or request required or permitted hereunder will be given in writing to each of the other parties hereto and will be deemed effectively given on the earlier of (i) the date of personal delivery, including delivery by express courier, or delivery via electronic means, or (ii) the date that is five days after deposit in the United States Post Office (whether or not actually received by the addressee), by registered or certified mail with postage and fees prepaid, addressed to each of the other parties hereunto entitled at the following addresses, or at such other addresses as a party may designate by 10 days' advance written notice to each of the other parties hereto:

Company: Candid Therapeutics, Inc.

Attn: Chief Executive Officer

Recipient: _____

Escrow Agent: Candid Therapeutics, Inc.

Attn: Corporate Secretary

15. By signing these Joint Escrow Instructions you become a party hereto only for the purpose of said Joint Escrow Instructions; you do not become a party to the Grant Notice or the Agreement.
16. You are entitled to employ such legal counsel, including without limitation Cooley LLP, and other experts as you may deem necessary to advise you in connection with your obligations hereunder. You may rely upon the advice of such counsel, and may pay such counsel reasonable compensation therefor.
17. This instrument will be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto, and their respective successors and permitted assigns. It is understood and agreed that references to “you” or “your” herein refer to the original Escrow Agent and to any and all successor Escrow Agents. It is understood and agreed that the Company may at any time or from time to time assign its rights under the Grant Notice, the Agreement and these Joint Escrow Instructions in whole or in part.
18. These Joint Escrow Instructions will be governed by and interpreted and determined in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware without regard to that state’s conflicts of laws rules. The parties hereby expressly consent to the personal jurisdiction of the state and federal courts located in the county in which the Company has its principal offices for any lawsuit arising from or related to this Agreement.

STOCK OPTION GRANT NOTICE
(2024 EQUITY INCENTIVE PLAN)

Candid Therapeutics, Inc. (the “Company”), pursuant to its 2024 Equity Incentive Plan (as amended and/or restated as of the Date of Grant set forth below, the “Plan”), has granted to Optionholder an option to purchase the number of shares of Common Stock set forth below (the “Option”). The Option is subject to all of the terms and conditions as set forth in this Stock Option Grant Notice (the “Grant Notice”) and in the Plan, the Option Agreement, and the Notice of Exercise, all of which are attached to this Grant Notice and incorporated into this Grant Notice in their entirety. Capitalized terms not explicitly defined in this Grant Notice but defined in the Plan or the Option Agreement shall have the meanings set forth in the Plan or the Option Agreement, as applicable. If the Company uses an electronic capitalization table system (such as Carta or Shareworks) and the fields below are blank or the information is otherwise provided in a different format electronically, the blank fields and other information (such as exercise schedule and type of grant) shall be deemed to come from the electronic capitalization system and is considered part of this Grant Notice.

Optionholder:
Date of Grant:
Vesting Commencement Date:
Number of Shares Subject to Option:
Exercise Price (Per Share):
Total Exercise Price:
Expiration Date:
Exercise Schedule:	[Same as Vesting Schedule] [Early Exercise Permitted]
Type of Grant:	[Incentive Stock Option] [Nonstatutory Stock Option]

Vesting Schedule: [Sample of standard vesting. 12/48ths of the total shares will vest on the one-year anniversary of the Vesting Commencement Date, and 1/48th of the total shares will vest each month thereafter on the same day of the month as the Vesting Commencement Date (or if there is no corresponding day, on the last day of the month), subject to Optionholder’s Continuous Service as of each such date.]

Optionholder Acknowledgements: By Optionholder's signature below or by electronic acceptance or authentication in a form authorized by the Company, Optionholder understands and agrees that the Option is governed by this Stock Option Grant Notice, and the provisions of the Plan and the Option Agreement and the Notice of Exercise, all of which are made a part of this document.

By accepting this Option, Optionholder consents to receive this Grant Notice, the Option Agreement, the Plan, and any other Plan-related documents by electronic delivery and to participate in the Plan through an online or electronic system established and maintained by the Company or another third party designated by the Company. Optionholder represents that Optionholder has read and is familiar with the provisions of the Plan and the Option Agreement. Optionholder acknowledges and agrees that this Grant Notice and the Option Agreement may not be modified, amended or revised except in writing signed by Optionholder and a duly authorized officer of the Company.

Optionholder further acknowledges that in the event of any conflict between the provisions in this Grant Notice, the Option Agreement, the Notice of Exercise and the terms of the Plan, the terms of the Plan shall control. Optionholder further acknowledges that the Option Agreement sets forth the entire understanding between Optionholder and the Company regarding the acquisition of Common Stock and supersedes all prior oral and written agreements, promises and/or representations on that subject with the exception of other equity awards previously granted to Optionholder and any written employment agreement, offer letter, severance agreement, written severance plan or policy, or other written agreement between the Company and Optionholder in each case that specifies the terms that should govern this Option.

Optionholder further acknowledges that this Grant Notice has been prepared on behalf of the Company by Cooley LLP, counsel to the Company and that Cooley LLP does not represent, and is not acting on behalf of, Optionholder in any capacity. Optionholder has been provided with an opportunity to consult with Optionholder's own counsel with respect to this Grant Notice.

This Grant Notice may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, Uniform Electronic Transactions Act or other applicable law) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered will be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

OPTION AGREEMENT

2024 Equity Incentive Plan

OPTION AGREEMENT
(INCENTIVE STOCK OPTION OR NONSTATUTORY STOCK OPTION)

Pursuant to your Stock Option Grant Notice ("Grant Notice") and this Option Agreement, Candid Therapeutics, Inc. (the "Company") has granted you an option under its 2024 Equity Incentive Plan (the "Plan") to purchase the number of shares of the Company's Common Stock indicated in your Grant Notice at the exercise price indicated in your Grant Notice. The option is granted to you effective as of the date of grant set forth in the Grant Notice (the "Date of Grant"). If there is any conflict between the terms in this Option Agreement and the Plan, the terms of the Plan will control. Capitalized terms not explicitly defined in this Option Agreement or in the Grant Notice but defined in the Plan will have the same definitions as in the Plan.

The details of your option, in addition to those set forth in the Grant Notice and the Plan, are as follows:

- 1. Vesting. Your option will vest as provided in your Grant Notice. Vesting will cease upon the termination of your Continuous Service.
- 2. Number of Shares and Exercise Price. The number of shares of Common Stock subject to your option and your exercise price per share in your Grant Notice will be adjusted for Capitalization Adjustments.
- 3. Exercise Restriction for Non-Exempt Employees. If you are an Employee eligible for overtime compensation under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (that is, a "Non-Exempt Employee"), and except as otherwise provided in the Plan, you may not exercise your option until you have completed at least six months of Continuous Service measured from the Date of Grant, even if you have already been an employee for more than six months. Consistent with the provisions of the Worker Economic Opportunity Act, you may exercise your option as to any vested portion prior to such six month anniversary in the case of (i) your death or disability, (ii) a Corporate Transaction in which your option is not assumed, continued or substituted, (iii) a Change in Control or (iv) your termination of Continuous Service on your "retirement" (as defined in the Company's benefit plans).
- 4. Exercise prior to Vesting ("Early Exercise"). If permitted in your Grant Notice (i.e., the "Exercise Schedule" indicates "Early Exercise Permitted") and subject to the provisions of your option, you may elect at any time that is both (i) during the period of your Continuous Service and (ii) during the term of your option, to exercise all or part of your option, including the unvested portion of your option; provided, however, that:
 - a. a partial exercise of your option will be deemed to cover first vested shares of Common Stock and then the earliest vesting installment of unvested shares of Common Stock;
 - b. any shares of Common Stock so purchased from installments that have not vested as of the date of exercise will be subject to the purchase option in favor of the Company as described in the Company's form of Early Exercise Stock Purchase Agreement;

c. you will enter into the Company's form of Early Exercise Stock Purchase Agreement with a vesting schedule that will result in the same vesting as if no early exercise had occurred; and

d. if your option is an Incentive Stock Option, then, to the extent that the aggregate Fair Market Value (determined at the Date of Grant) of the shares of Common Stock with respect to which your option plus all other Incentive Stock Options you hold are exercisable for the first time by you during any calendar year (under all plans of the Company and its Affiliates) exceeds $100,000, your option(s) or portions thereof that exceed such limit (according to the order in which they were granted) will be treated as Nonstatutory Stock Options.

5. Method of Payment. You must pay the full amount of the exercise price for the shares you wish to exercise. The permitted methods of payment are as follows:

a. by cash, check, bank draft, electronic funds transfer or money order payable to the Company;

b. subject to Company and/or Board consent at the time of exercise and provided that at the time of exercise the Common Stock is publicly traded, pursuant to a program developed under Regulation T as promulgated by the Federal Reserve Board that, prior to the issuance of Common Stock, results in either the receipt of cash (or check) by the Company or the receipt of irrevocable instructions to pay the aggregate exercise price to the Company from the sales proceeds. This manner of payment is also known as a "broker-assisted exercise", "same day sale", or "sell to cover";

c. subject to Company and/or Board consent at the time of exercise and provided that at the time of exercise the Common Stock is publicly traded, by delivery to the Company (either by actual delivery or attestation) of already-owned shares of Common Stock that are owned free and clear of any liens, claims, encumbrances or security interests, and that are valued at Fair Market Value on the date of exercise. "Delivery" for these purposes, in the sole discretion of the Company at the time you exercise your option, will include delivery to the Company of your attestation of ownership of such shares of Common Stock in a form approved by the Company. You may not exercise your option by delivery to the Company of Common Stock if doing so would violate the provisions of any law, regulation or agreement restricting the redemption of the Company's stock;

d. subject to Company and/or Board consent at the time of exercise, and provided that the Option is a Nonstatutory Stock Option, by a "net exercise" arrangement pursuant to which the Company will reduce the number of shares of Common Stock issued upon exercise of the Option by the largest whole number of shares with a Fair Market Value that does not exceed the aggregate exercise price plus, to the extent permitted by the Company and/or Board at the time of exercise, the aggregate withholding obligations in respect of the Option exercise; provided, further that you must pay any remaining balance of the aggregate exercise price not satisfied by the "net exercise" in cash or other permitted form of payment. Shares of Common Stock will no longer be subject to the Option and will not be exercisable thereafter to the extent that (A) shares issuable upon exercise are used to pay the exercise price pursuant to the "net exercise," (B) shares are delivered to you as a result of such exercise, and (C) shares are withheld to satisfy tax withholding obligations;

e. subject to the consent of the Company and/or Board at the time of exercise, according to a deferred payment or similar arrangement with you; provided, however, that interest will compound at least annually and will be charged at the minimum rate of interest necessary to avoid (A) the imputation of interest income to the Company and compensation income to the Optionholder under any applicable provisions of the Code, and (B) the classification of the Option as a liability for financial accounting purposes; or

f. in any other form of legal consideration that may be acceptable to the Board.

6. Whole Shares. You may exercise your option only for whole shares of Common Stock.

7. Securities Law Compliance. In no event may you exercise your option unless the shares of Common Stock issuable upon exercise are then registered under the Securities Act or, if not registered, the Company has determined that your exercise and the issuance of the shares would be exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act. The exercise of your option also must comply with all other applicable laws and regulations governing your option, and you may not exercise your option if the Company determines that such exercise would not be in material compliance with such laws and regulations (including any restrictions on exercise required for compliance with Treas. Reg. 1.401(k)-1(d)(3), if applicable).

8. Term. You may not exercise your option before the Date of Grant or after the expiration of the option's term. Except as set forth in your Grant Notice, the term of your option expires, subject to the provisions of Section 5(h) of the Plan, upon the earliest of the following:

- a. immediately upon the termination of your Continuous Service for Cause;
- b. three months after the termination of your Continuous Service for any reason other than Cause, your Disability or your death (except as otherwise provided in Section 8(d) below); provided, however, that if during any part of such three month period your option is not exercisable solely because of the condition set forth in the section above relating to "Securities Law Compliance," your option will not expire until the earlier of the Expiration Date or until it has been exercisable for an aggregate period of three months after the termination of your Continuous Service; provided further, that if (i) you are a Non-Exempt Employee, (ii) your Continuous Service terminates within six months after the Date of Grant, and (iii) you have vested in a portion of your option at the time of your termination of Continuous Service, your option will not expire until the earlier of (x) the later of (A) the date that is seven months after the Date of Grant, and (B) the date that is three months after the termination of your Continuous Service, and (y) the Expiration Date;
- c. 12 months after the termination of your Continuous Service due to your Disability (except as otherwise provided in Section 8(d)) below;
- d. 18 months after your death if you die either during your Continuous Service or within three (3) months after your Continuous Service terminates for any reason other than Cause;
- e. the Expiration Date indicated in your Grant Notice; or
- f. the day before the 10th anniversary of the Date of Grant.

If your option is an Incentive Stock Option, note that to obtain the federal income tax advantages associated with an Incentive Stock Option, the Code requires that at all times beginning on the Date of Grant and ending on the day three months before the date of your option's exercise, you must be an employee of the Company or an Affiliate, except in the event of your death or Disability. The Company has provided for extended exercisability of your option under certain circumstances for your benefit but cannot guarantee that your option will necessarily be treated as an Incentive Stock Option if you continue to provide services to the Company or an Affiliate as a Consultant or Director after your employment terminates or if you otherwise exercise your option more than three months after the date your employment with the Company or an Affiliate terminates.

9. Exercise.

a. You may exercise the vested portion of your option (and the unvested portion of your option if your Grant Notice so permits) during its term by delivering a Notice of Exercise (in a form designated by the Company) together with the exercise price to the Secretary of the Company, or to such other person as the Company may designate, during regular business hours. If required by the Company, your exercise may be made contingent on your execution of any additional documents specified by the Company as more fully set forth in Section 14 below.

b. By exercising your option you agree that, as a condition to any exercise of your option, the Company may require you to enter into an arrangement providing for the payment by you to the Company of any tax withholding obligation of the Company arising by reason of (i) the exercise of your option, (ii) the lapse of any substantial risk of forfeiture to which the shares of Common Stock are subject at the time of exercise, or (iii) the disposition of shares of Common Stock acquired upon such exercise.

c. If your option is an Incentive Stock Option, by exercising your option you agree that you will notify the Company in writing within 15 days after the date of any disposition of any of the shares of the Common Stock issued upon exercise of your option that occurs within two years after the Date of Grant or within one year after such shares of Common Stock are transferred upon exercise of your option.

d. By exercising your option you agree that you will not sell, dispose of, transfer, make any short sale of, grant any option for the purchase of, or enter into any hedging or similar transaction with the same economic effect as a sale with respect to any shares of Common Stock or other securities of the Company held by you, for a period of 180 days following the effective date of a registration statement of the Company filed under the Securities Act or such longer period as the underwriters or the Company will request to facilitate compliance with applicable FINRA rules (the “Lock-Up Period”); provided, however, that nothing contained in this section will prevent the exercise of a repurchase option, if any, in favor of the Company during the Lock-Up Period. You further agree to execute and deliver such other agreements as may be reasonably requested by the Company or the underwriters that are consistent with the foregoing or that are necessary to give further effect thereto. In order to enforce the foregoing covenant, the Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to your shares of Common Stock until the end of such period. You also agree that any transferee of any shares of Common Stock (or other securities) of the Company held by you will be bound by this Section 9(d). The underwriters of the Company’s stock are intended third party beneficiaries of this Section 9(d) and will have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions hereof as though they were a party hereto. You further agree that the obligations contained in this Section 9(d) shall also, if so determined by the Company’s Board of Directors, apply in (1) the Company’s initial listing of its Common Stock on a national securities exchange by means of a registration statement on Form S-1 under the Securities Act (or any successor registration form under the Securities Act subsequently adopted by the Securities and Exchange Commission) filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission that registers shares of existing capital stock of the Company for resale (a “Direct Listing”), and (2) the Company’s completion of a merger or consolidation with a special purpose acquisition company or its subsidiary in which the Common Stock (or similar securities) of the surviving or parent entity are publicly traded in a public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act, provided, in each case, that all holders of at least 5% of the Company’s outstanding Common Stock (after giving effect to the conversion into Common Stock of any outstanding Preferred Stock of the Company) are subject to substantially similar obligations with respect to such Direct Listing, merger or consolidation, as applicable.

10. Transferability. Except as otherwise provided in this Section 10, your option is not transferable, except by will or by the laws of descent and distribution, and is exercisable during your life only by you.

a. Certain Trusts. Upon receiving written permission from the Board or its duly authorized designee, you may transfer your option to a trust if you are considered to be the sole beneficial owner (determined under Section 671 of the Code and applicable state law) while the option is held in the trust. You and the trustee must enter into transfer and other agreements required by the Company.

b. Domestic Relations Orders. Upon receiving written permission from the Board or its duly authorized designee, and provided that you and the designated transferee enter into transfer and other agreements required by the Company, you may transfer your option pursuant to the terms of a domestic relations order, official marital settlement agreement or other divorce or separation instrument as permitted by Treasury Regulation 1.421-1(b)(2) that contains the information required by the Company to effectuate the transfer. You are encouraged to discuss the proposed terms of any division of this option with the Company prior to finalizing the domestic relations order or marital settlement agreement to help ensure the required information is contained within the domestic relations order or marital settlement agreement. If this option is an Incentive Stock Option, this option may be deemed to be a Nonstatutory Stock Option as a result of such transfer.

c. Beneficiary Designation. Upon receiving written permission from the Board or its duly authorized designee, you may, by delivering written notice to the Company, in a form approved by the Company and any broker designated by the Company to handle option exercises, designate a third party who, on your death, will thereafter be entitled to exercise this option and receive the Common Stock or other consideration resulting from such exercise. In the absence of such a designation, your executor or administrator of your estate will be entitled to exercise this option and receive, on behalf of your estate, the Common Stock or other consideration resulting from such exercise.

11. Option not a Service Contract. Your option is not an employment or service contract, and nothing in your option will be deemed to create in any way whatsoever any obligation on your part to continue in the employ of the Company or an Affiliate, or of the Company or an Affiliate to continue your employment. In addition, nothing in your option will obligate the Company or an Affiliate, their respective stockholders, boards of directors, officers or employees to continue any relationship that you might have as a Director or Consultant for the Company or an Affiliate.

12. Withholding Obligations.

a. At the time you exercise your option, in whole or in part, and at any time thereafter as requested by the Company, you hereby authorize withholding from payroll and any other amounts payable to you, and otherwise agree to make adequate provision for (including by means of a "same day sale" pursuant to a program developed under Regulation T as promulgated by the Federal Reserve Board to the extent permitted by the Company), any sums required to satisfy the federal, state, local and foreign tax withholding obligations of the Company or an Affiliate, if any, which arise in connection with the exercise of your option.

b. If this option is a Nonstatutory Stock Option, then upon your request and subject to approval by the Company, and compliance with any applicable legal conditions or restrictions, the Company may withhold from fully vested shares of Common Stock otherwise issuable to you upon the exercise of your option a number of whole shares of Common Stock having a Fair Market Value, determined by the Company as of the date of exercise, not in excess of the minimum amount of tax required to be withheld by law (or such lower amount as may be necessary to avoid classification of your option as a liability for financial accounting purposes). If the date of determination of any tax withholding obligation is deferred to a date later than the date of exercise of your option, share withholding pursuant to the preceding sentence will not be permitted unless you make a proper and timely election under Section 83(b) of the Code, covering the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock acquired upon such exercise with respect to which such determination is otherwise deferred, to accelerate the determination of such tax withholding obligation to the date of exercise of your option. Notwithstanding the filing of such election, shares of Common Stock will be withheld solely from fully vested shares of Common Stock determined as of the date of exercise of your option that are otherwise issuable to you upon such exercise. Any adverse consequences to you arising in connection with such share withholding procedure will be your sole responsibility.

c. You may not exercise your option unless the tax withholding obligations of the Company and/or any Affiliate are satisfied. Accordingly, you may not be able to exercise your option when desired even though your option is vested, and the Company will have no obligation to issue a certificate for such shares of Common Stock or release such shares of Common Stock from any escrow provided for herein, if applicable, unless such obligations are satisfied.

13. Tax Consequences. You hereby agree that the Company does not have a duty to design or administer the Plan or its other compensation programs in a manner that minimizes your tax liabilities. You will not make any claim against the Company, or any of its Officers, Directors, Employees or Affiliates related to tax liabilities arising from your option or your other compensation. In particular, you acknowledge that this option is exempt from Section 409A of the Code only if the exercise price per share specified in the Grant Notice is at least equal to the "fair market value" per share of the Common Stock on the Date of Grant and there is no other impermissible deferral of compensation associated with the option. Because the Common Stock is not traded on an established securities market, the Fair Market Value is determined by the Board, perhaps in consultation with an independent valuation firm retained by the Company. You acknowledge that there is no guarantee that the Internal Revenue Service will agree with the valuation as determined by the Board, and you will not make any claim against the Company, or any of its Officers, Directors, Employees or Affiliates in the event that the Internal Revenue Service asserts that the valuation determined by the Board is less than the "fair market value" as subsequently determined by the Internal Revenue Service.

14. Imposition of Other Requirements. You agree to execute further documents or instruments necessary or desirable in the sole determination of the Company to carry out the purposes or intent of this option. You further agree to execute, to the extent requested by the Company, at any time and from time to time, any agreements entered into with holders of capital stock of the Company, including without limitation a right of first refusal and co-sale agreement, stockholders agreement and/or a voting agreement.

15. Notices. Any notices provided for in your option or the Plan will be given in writing (including electronically) and will be deemed effectively given upon receipt or, in the case of notices delivered by mail by the Company to you, five days after deposit in the United States mail, postage prepaid, addressed to you at the last address you provided to the Company. The Company may, in its sole discretion, decide to deliver any documents related to participation in the Plan and this option by electronic means or to request your consent to participate in the Plan by electronic means. By accepting this option, you consent to receive such documents by electronic delivery and to participate in the Plan through an online or electronic system established and maintained by the Company or another third party designated by the Company.

16. Governing Plan Document. Your option is subject to all the provisions of the Plan, the provisions of which are hereby made a part of your option, and is further subject to all interpretations, amendments, rules and regulations, which may from time to time be promulgated and adopted pursuant to the Plan. If there is any conflict between the provisions of your option and those of the Plan, the provisions of the Plan will control.

By this exercise, I agree (i) to provide such additional documents as you may require pursuant to the terms of the 2024 Equity Incentive Plan, (ii) to provide for the payment by me to you (in the manner designated by you) of your withholding obligation, if any, relating to the exercise of this option, (iii) if this exercise relates to an incentive stock option, to notify you in writing within 15 days after the date of any disposition of any of the Shares issued upon exercise of this option that occurs within two years after the date of grant of this option or within one year after such Shares are issued upon exercise of this option, and (iv) to execute, if and when requested by the Company, at any time or from time to time, any agreements entered into with holders of capital stock of the Company, including without limitation a right of first refusal and co-sale agreement, stockholders agreement and/or a voting agreement. I further agree that this Notice of Exercise may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, Uniform Electronic Transactions Act or other applicable law) or other transmission method and will be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

I hereby make the following certifications and representations with respect to the number of Shares listed above, which are being acquired by me for my own account upon exercise of the option as set forth above:

I acknowledge that the Shares have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), and are deemed to constitute “restricted securities” under Rule 701 and Rule 144 promulgated under the Securities Act. I warrant and represent to the Company that I have no present intention of distributing or selling said Shares, except as permitted under the Securities Act and any applicable state securities laws.

I further acknowledge and agree that, except for such information as required to be delivered to me by the Company pursuant to the option or the Plan (if any), I will have no right to receive any information from the Company by virtue of the grant of the option or the purchase of shares of Common Stock through exercise of the option, ownership of such shares of Common Stock, or as a result of my being a holder of record of stock of the Company. Without limiting the foregoing, to the fullest extent permitted by law, I hereby waive all inspection rights under Section 220 of the Delaware General Corporation Law and all such similar information and/or inspection rights that may be provided under the law of any jurisdiction, or any federal, state or foreign regulation, that are, or may become, applicable to the Company or the Company’s capital stock (the “Inspection Rights”). I hereby covenant and agree never to directly or indirectly commence, voluntarily aid in any way, prosecute, assign, transfer, or cause to be commenced any claim, action, cause of action, or other proceeding to pursue or exercise the Inspection Rights.

I further acknowledge that I will not be able to resell the Shares for at least 90 days after the stock of the Company becomes publicly traded (i.e., subject to the reporting requirements of Section 13 or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) under Rule 701 and that more restrictive conditions apply to affiliates of the Company under Rule 144.

I further acknowledge that all certificates representing any of the Shares subject to the provisions of the option will have endorsed thereon appropriate legends reflecting the foregoing limitations, as well as any legends reflecting restrictions pursuant to the Company’s Certificate of Incorporation, Bylaws and/or applicable securities laws.

I further agree that, if required by the Company (or a representative of the underwriters) in connection with the first underwritten registration of the offering of any securities of the Company under the Securities Act, I will not sell, dispose of, transfer, make any short sale of, grant any option for the purchase of, or enter into any hedging or similar transaction with the same economic effect as a sale with respect to any shares of Common Stock or other securities of the Company for a period of 180 days following the effective date of a registration statement of the Company filed under the Securities Act (or such longer period as the underwriters or the Company will request to facilitate compliance with applicable FINRA rules) (the “Lock-Up Period”). I further agree to execute and deliver such other agreements as may be reasonably requested by the Company or the underwriters that are consistent with the foregoing or that are necessary to give further effect thereto. In order to enforce the foregoing covenant, the Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to securities subject to the foregoing restrictions until the end of such period. I further agree that the obligations contained in this paragraph shall also, if so determined by the Company’s Board of Directors, apply in (1) the Company’s initial listing of its Common Stock on a national securities exchange by means of a registration statement on Form S-1 under the Securities Act (or any successor registration form under the Securities Act subsequently adopted by the Securities and Exchange Commission) filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission that registers shares of existing capital stock of the Company for resale (a “Direct Listing”), and (2) the Company’s completion of a merger or consolidation with a special purpose acquisition company or its subsidiary in which the Common Stock (or similar securities) of the surviving or parent entity are publicly traded in a public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act, provided, in each case, that all holders of at least 5% of the Company’s outstanding Common Stock (after giving effect to the conversion into Common Stock of any outstanding Preferred Stock of the Company) are subject to substantially similar obligations with respect to such Direct Listing, merger or consolidation, as applicable.

Very truly yours,

EARLY EXERCISE STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT
UNDER THE 2024 EQUITY INCENTIVE PLAN

This Agreement is made by and between Candid Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), and the individual designated on the signature page hereto as a Purchaser (“Purchaser”).

Recitals:

A. Purchaser holds a stock option, granted on _____, to purchase _____ shares of common stock (“Common Stock”) of the Company (the “Option”) pursuant to the Company’s 2024 Equity Incentive Plan (as amended and/or restated, the “Plan”).

B. The Option consists of a Stock Option Grant Notice and a Stock Option Agreement.

C. Purchaser desires to exercise the Option on the terms and conditions contained herein.

D. Purchaser wishes to take advantage of the early exercise provision of Purchaser’s Option and therefore to enter into this Agreement.

The parties agree as follows:

1. Incorporation of Plan and Option by Reference. This Agreement is subject to all of the terms and conditions as set forth in the Plan and the Option. If there is a conflict between the terms of this Agreement and/or the Option and the terms of the Plan, the terms of the Plan will control. If there is a conflict between the terms of this Agreement and the terms of the Option, the terms of the Option will control. Defined terms not explicitly defined in this Agreement but defined in the Plan will have the same definitions as in the Plan. Defined terms not explicitly defined in this Agreement or the Plan but defined in the Option will have the same definitions as in the Option.

2. Purchase and Sale of Common Stock.

a. Agreement to purchase and sell Common Stock. Purchaser hereby agrees to purchase from the Company, and the Company hereby agrees to sell to Purchaser, shares of the Common Stock of the Company in accordance with the Notice of Exercise duly executed by Purchaser and attached hereto as Exhibit A.

b. Closing. The closing hereunder, including payment for and delivery of the Common Stock, will occur at the offices of the Company immediately following the execution of this Agreement, or at such other time and place as the parties may mutually agree; provided, however, that if stockholder approval of the Plan is required before the Option may be exercised, then the Option may not be exercised, and the closing will be delayed, until such stockholder approval is obtained. If such stockholder approval is not obtained within the time limit specified in the Plan, then this Agreement is null and void.

3. Unvested Share Repurchase Option.

a. Repurchase Option. In the event Purchaser’s Continuous Service terminates, then the Company has an irrevocable option (the “Repurchase Option”) for a period of six months after said termination (or in the case of shares issued upon exercise of the Option after such date of termination, within six months after the date of the exercise), or such longer period as may be agreed to by the Company and Purchaser (the “Repurchase Period”), to repurchase from Purchaser or Purchaser’s personal representative, as the case may be, those shares that Purchaser received pursuant to the exercise of the Option that have not as yet vested as of such termination date in accordance with the Vesting Schedule indicated on Purchaser’s Stock Option Grant Notice (the “Unvested Shares”).

b. Share Repurchase Price. The Company may repurchase all or any of the Unvested Shares at the lower of (i) the Fair Market Value of the such shares (as determined under the Plan) on the date of repurchase, or (ii) the price equal to Purchaser's Exercise Price for such shares as indicated on Purchaser's Stock Option Grant Notice.

4. Exercise of Repurchase Option. The Repurchase Option will be exercised by written notice signed by such person as designated by the Company, and delivered or mailed as provided herein. Such notice will identify the number of shares of Common Stock to be purchased and will notify Purchaser of the time, place and date for settlement of such purchase, which will be scheduled by the Company within the term of the Repurchase Option set forth above. In addition, the Company will be deemed to have exercised the Repurchase Option as of the last day of the Repurchase Period, unless an officer of the Company notifies the holder of the Unvested Shares during the Repurchase Period in writing (delivered or mailed as provided herein) that the Company expressly declines to exercise its Repurchase Option for some or all of the Unvested Shares. The Company will be entitled to pay for any shares of Common Stock purchased pursuant to its Repurchase Option at the Company's option in cash or by offset against any indebtedness owing to the Company by Purchaser (including without limitation any Promissory Note given in payment for the Common Stock), or by a combination of both. Upon exercise of the Repurchase Option and payment of the purchase price in any of the ways described above, the Company will become the legal and beneficial owner of the Common Stock being repurchased and all rights and interest therein or related thereto, and the Company will have the right to transfer to its own name the Common Stock being repurchased by the Company, without further action by Purchaser.

5. Capitalization Adjustments to Common Stock. In the event of a Capitalization Adjustment, then any and all new, substituted or additional securities or other property to which Purchaser is entitled by reason of Purchaser's ownership of Common Stock will be immediately subject to the Repurchase Option and be included in the word "Common Stock" for all purposes of the Repurchase Option with the same force and effect as the shares of the Common Stock presently subject to the Repurchase Option, but only to the extent the Common Stock is, at the time, covered by such Repurchase Option. While the total Option Price will remain the same after each such event, the Option Price per share of Common Stock upon exercise of the Repurchase Option will be appropriately adjusted.

6. Corporate Transactions. In the event of a Corporate Transaction, then the Repurchase Option may be assigned by the Company to the successor of the Company (or such successor's parent company), if any, in connection with such Corporate Transaction. To the extent the Repurchase Option remains in effect following such Corporate Transaction, it will apply to the new capital stock or other property received in exchange for the Common Stock in consummation of the Corporate Transaction, but only to the extent the Common Stock was at the time covered by such right. Appropriate adjustments will be made to the price per share payable upon exercise of the Repurchase Option to reflect the Corporate Transaction upon the Company's capital structure; provided, however, that the aggregate price payable upon exercise of the Repurchase Option remains the same.

7. Escrow of Unvested Common Stock. As security for Purchaser's faithful performance of the terms of this Agreement and to insure the availability for delivery of Purchaser's Common Stock upon exercise of the Repurchase Option herein provided for, Purchaser agrees, at the closing hereunder, to deliver to and deposit with the Secretary of the Company or the Secretary's designee ("Escrow Agent"), as Escrow Agent in this transaction, three stock assignments duly endorsed (with date and number of shares blank) in the form attached hereto as Exhibit B, together with a certificate or certificates evidencing all of the Common Stock subject to the Repurchase Option; said documents are to be held by the Escrow Agent and delivered by said Escrow Agent pursuant to the Joint Escrow Instructions of the Company and Purchaser set forth in Exhibit C, attached hereto and incorporated by this reference, which instructions also will be delivered to the Escrow Agent at the closing hereunder.

8. Rights of Purchaser. Subject to the provisions of the Option, Purchaser will exercise all rights and privileges of a stockholder of the Company with respect to the shares deposited in escrow. Purchaser will be deemed to be the holder of the shares for purposes of receiving any dividends that may be paid with respect to such shares and for purposes of exercising any voting rights relating to such shares, even if some or all of such shares have not yet vested and been released from the Company's Repurchase Option.

9. Limitations on Transfer. In addition to any other limitation on transfer created by applicable securities laws, Purchaser will not sell, assign, hypothecate, donate, encumber or otherwise dispose of any interest in the Common Stock while the Common Stock is subject to the Repurchase Option. After any Common Stock has been released from the Repurchase Option, Purchaser will not sell, assign, hypothecate, donate, encumber or otherwise dispose of any interest in the Common Stock except in compliance with the provisions herein and applicable securities laws. Furthermore, the Common Stock is subject to any right of first refusal in favor of the Company or its assignees or other transfer restrictions that may be contained in the Company's Bylaws.

10. Restrictive Legends. All certificates representing the Common Stock will have endorsed thereon legends in substantially the following forms (in addition to any other legend which may be required by other agreements between the parties hereto):

a. "THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE ARE SUBJECT TO AN OPTION AND OTHER RESTRICTIONS AND CONDITIONS SET FORTH IN AN AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE COMPANY AND THE REGISTERED HOLDER, OR SUCH HOLDER'S PREDECESSOR IN INTEREST, A COPY OF WHICH IS ON FILE AT THE PRINCIPAL OFFICE OF THIS COMPANY. ANY TRANSFER OR ATTEMPTED TRANSFER OF ANY SHARES SUBJECT TO SUCH OPTION IS VOID WITHOUT THE PRIOR EXPRESS WRITTEN CONSENT OF THE COMPANY."

b. "THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE HAVE NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933 AS AMENDED. THEY MAY NOT BE SOLD, OFFERED FOR SALE, PLEDGED OR HYPOTHECATED IN THE ABSENCE OF AN EFFECTIVE REGISTRATION STATEMENT AS TO THE SECURITIES UNDER SAID ACT OR AN OPINION OF COUNSEL SATISFACTORY TO THE COMPANY THAT SUCH REGISTRATION IS NOT REQUIRED."

c. "THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE ARE SUBJECT TO A RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL OPTION IN FAVOR OF THE COMPANY AND/OR ITS ASSIGNEE(S) AS PROVIDED IN THE BYLAWS OF THE COMPANY AND IN AN AGREEMENT WITH THE COMPANY."

d. "THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE WERE ISSUED PURSUANT TO THE EXERCISE OF [AN INCENTIVE STOCK OPTION/ A NONSTATUTORY STOCK OPTION]."

e. "THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE ARE SUBJECT TO A TRANSFER RESTRICTION, AS PROVIDED IN THE BYLAWS OF THE COMPANY."

f. Any legend required by appropriate blue sky officials.

11. Investment Representations. In connection with the purchase of the Common Stock, Purchaser represents to the Company the following:

a. Purchaser is aware of the Company's business affairs and financial condition and has acquired sufficient information about the Company to reach an informed and knowledgeable decision to acquire the Common Stock. Purchaser is acquiring the Common Stock for investment for Purchaser's own account only and not with a view to, or for resale in connection with, any "distribution" thereof within the meaning of the Securities Act.

b. Purchaser understands that the Common Stock has not been registered under the Securities Act by reason of a specific exemption therefrom, which exemption depends upon, among other things, the bona fide nature of Purchaser's investment intent as expressed herein.

c. Purchaser further acknowledges and understands that the Common Stock must be held indefinitely unless the Common Stock is subsequently registered under the Securities Act or an exemption from such registration is available. Purchaser further acknowledges and understands that the Company is under no obligation to register the Common Stock. Purchaser understands that the certificate evidencing the Common Stock will be imprinted with a legend that prohibits the transfer of the Common Stock unless the Common Stock is registered or such registration is not required in the opinion of counsel for the Company.

d. Purchaser is familiar with the provisions of Rules 144 and 701, under the Securities Act, as in effect from time to time, which, in substance, permit limited public resale of "restricted securities" acquired, directly or indirectly, from the issuer thereof (or from an affiliate of such issuer), in a non-public offering subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions. Rule 701 provides that if the issuer qualifies under Rule 701 at the time of issuance of the securities, such issuance will be exempt from registration under the Securities Act. In the event the Company becomes subject to the reporting requirements of Section 13 or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the securities exempt under Rule 701 may be sold by Purchaser 90 days thereafter, subject to the satisfaction of certain of the conditions specified by Rule 144 and the market stand-off provision described in Purchaser's Stock Option Agreement.

e. In the event that the sale of the Common Stock does not qualify under Rule 701 at the time of purchase, then the Common Stock may be resold by Purchaser in certain limited circumstances subject to the provisions of Rule 144, which requires, among other things: (i) the availability of certain public information about the Company, and (ii) the resale occurring following the required holding period under Rule 144 after Purchaser has purchased, and made full payment of (within the meaning of Rule 144), the securities to be sold.

f. Purchaser further understands that at the time Purchaser wishes to sell the Common Stock there may be no public market upon which to make such a sale, and that, even if such a public market then exists, the Company may not be satisfying the current public current information requirements of Rule 144 or 701, and that, in such event, Purchaser would be precluded from selling the Common Stock under Rule 144 or 701 even if the minimum holding period requirement had been satisfied.

g. Purchaser further warrants and represents that Purchaser has either (i) preexisting personal or business relationships, with the Company or any of its officers, directors or controlling persons, or (ii) the capacity to protect Purchaser's own interests in connection with the purchase of the Common Stock by virtue of the business or financial expertise of Purchaser or of professional advisors to Purchaser who are unaffiliated with and who are not compensated by the Company or any of its affiliates, directly or indirectly. Purchaser further warrants and represents that Purchaser's purchase of the Common Stock was not accomplished by the publication of any advertisement.

12. Section 83(b) Election. Purchaser understands that Section 83(a) of the Code taxes as ordinary income the difference between the amount paid for the Common Stock and the fair market value of the Common Stock as of the date any restrictions on the Common Stock lapse. In this context, "restriction" includes the right of the Company to buy back the Common Stock pursuant to the Repurchase Option set forth above. Purchaser understands that Purchaser may elect to be taxed at the time the Common Stock is purchased, rather than when and as the Repurchase Option expires, by filing an election under Section 83(b) (an "83(b) Election") of the Code with the Internal Revenue Service within 30 days of the date of purchase, a copy of which is included as Exhibit D. Even if the fair market value of the Common Stock at the time of the execution of this Agreement equals the amount paid for the Common Stock, the 83(b) Election must be made to avoid income under Section 83(a) in the future. Purchaser understands that failure to file such an 83(b) Election in a timely manner may result in adverse tax consequences for Purchaser. Purchaser further understands that Purchaser must file an additional copy of such 83(b) Election with Purchaser's federal income tax return for the calendar year in which the date of this Agreement falls. Purchaser acknowledges that the foregoing is only a summary of the effect of United States federal income taxation with respect to purchase of the Common Stock hereunder, and does not purport to be complete. Purchaser further acknowledges that the Company has directed Purchaser to seek independent advice regarding the applicable provisions of the Code, the income tax laws of any municipality, state or foreign country in which Purchaser may reside, and the tax consequences of Purchaser's death. Purchaser assumes all responsibility for filing an 83(b) Election and paying all taxes resulting from such election or the lapse of the restrictions on the Common Stock.

13. Refusal to Transfer. The Company is not required (a) to transfer on its books any shares of Common Stock of the Company which have been transferred in violation of any of the provisions set forth in this Agreement, or (b) to treat as owner of such shares or to accord the right to vote as such owner or to pay dividends to any transferee to whom such shares have been so transferred.

14. No Employment Rights. This Agreement is not an employment contract and nothing in this Agreement affects in any manner whatsoever the right or power of the Company or its Affiliates to terminate Purchaser's employment for any reason at any time, with or without cause and with or without notice.

15. Miscellaneous.

a. Notices. All notices required or permitted hereunder will be in writing and will be deemed effectively given: (i) upon personal delivery to the party to be notified, (ii) when sent by confirmed electronic mail or facsimile if sent during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours of the recipient, then on the next business day, (iii) five calendar days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (iv) one business day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, specifying next day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications will be sent to the other party to this Agreement at such party's address set forth on the signature page hereof, or at such other address as such party may designate by 10 days' advance written notice to the other party hereto.

b. Successors and Assigns. This Agreement will inure to the benefit of the successors and assigns of the Company and, subject to the restrictions on transfer herein set forth, be binding upon Purchaser, Purchaser's successors, and assigns. The Company may assign the Repurchase Option hereunder at any time or from time to time, in whole or in part.

c. Attorneys' Fees; Specific Performance. Purchaser will reimburse the Company for all costs incurred by the Company in enforcing the performance of, or protecting its rights under, any part of this Agreement, including reasonable costs of investigation and attorneys' fees. It is the intention of the parties that the Company, upon exercise of the Repurchase Option and payment for the shares repurchased, pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, will be entitled to receive the Common Stock, in specie, in order to have such Common Stock available for future issuance without dilution of the holdings of other stockholders. Furthermore, it is expressly agreed between the parties that money damages are inadequate to compensate the Company for the Common Stock and that the Company will, upon proper exercise of the Repurchase Option, be entitled to specific enforcement of its rights to purchase and receive said Common Stock.

d. Governing Law; Venue. This Agreement will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware. The parties agree that any action brought by either party to interpret or enforce any provision of this Agreement will be brought in, and each party agrees to, and does hereby, submit to the jurisdiction and venue of, the appropriate state or federal court for the district encompassing the Company's principal place of business.

e. Further Execution. The parties agree to take all such further action(s) as may reasonably be necessary to carry out and consummate this Agreement as soon as practicable, and to take whatever steps may be necessary to obtain any governmental approval in connection with or otherwise qualify the issuance of the securities that are the subject of this Agreement. Purchaser further agrees to execute, to the extent requested by the Company, at any time or from time to time, any agreements entered into with holders of capital stock of the Company, including without limitation a right of first refusal and co-sale agreement, stockholders agreement and/or a voting agreement.

f. Independent Counsel. Purchaser acknowledges that this Agreement has been prepared on behalf of the Company by Cooley LLP, counsel to the Company and that Cooley LLP does not represent, and is not acting on behalf of, Purchaser in any capacity. Purchaser has been provided with an opportunity to consult with Purchaser's own counsel with respect to this Agreement.

g. Entire Agreement; Amendment. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes and merges all prior agreements or understandings, whether written or oral. This Agreement may not be amended, modified or revoked, in whole or in part, except by an agreement in writing signed by each of the parties hereto.

h. Severability. If one or more provisions of this Agreement are held to be unenforceable under applicable law, the parties agree to renegotiate such provision in good faith. In the event that the parties cannot reach a mutually agreeable and enforceable replacement for such provision, then (i) such provision will be excluded from this Agreement, (ii) the balance of the Agreement will be interpreted as if such provision were so excluded and (iii) the balance of the Agreement will be enforceable in accordance with its terms.

i. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original, but all of which together will constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, Uniform Electronic Transactions Act or other applicable law) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered will be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

NOTICE OF EXERCISE

CANDID THERAPEUTICS, INC.
NOTICE OF EXERCISE

This constitutes notice to Candid Therapeutics, Inc. (the “Company”) under my stock option that I elect to purchase the below number of shares of Common Stock of the Company (the “Shares”) for the price set forth below. Use of certain payment methods is subject to Company and/or Board consent and certain additional requirements set forth in the Option Agreement and the Plan. If the Company uses an electronic capitalization table system (such as Carta or Shareworks) and the fields below are blank, the blank fields shall be deemed to come from the electronic capitalization system and is considered part of this Notice of Exercise.

Value of _____ Shares pursuant to net exercise:

By this exercise, I agree (i) to provide such additional documents as you may require pursuant to the terms of the 2024 Equity Incentive Plan, (ii) to provide for the payment by me to you (in the manner designated by you) of your withholding obligation, if any, relating to the exercise of this option, (iii) if this exercise relates to an incentive stock option, to notify you in writing within 15 days after the date of any disposition of any of the Shares issued upon exercise of this option that occurs within two years after the date of grant of this option or within one year after such Shares are issued upon exercise of this option, and (iv) to execute, if and when requested by the Company, at any time or from time to time, any agreements entered into with holders of capital stock of the Company, including without limitation a right of first refusal and co-sale agreement, stockholders agreement and/or a voting agreement. I further agree that this Notice of Exercise may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, Uniform Electronic Transactions Act or other applicable law) or other transmission method and will be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

I hereby make the following certifications and representations with respect to the number of Shares listed above, which are being acquired by me for my own account upon exercise of the option as set forth above:

I acknowledge that the Shares have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), and are deemed to constitute “restricted securities” under Rule 701 and Rule 144 promulgated under the Securities Act. I warrant and represent to the Company that I have no present intention of distributing or selling said Shares, except as permitted under the Securities Act and any applicable state securities laws.

I further acknowledge and agree that, except for such information as required to be delivered to me by the Company pursuant to the option or the Plan (if any), I will have no right to receive any information from the Company by virtue of the grant of the option or the purchase of shares of Common Stock through exercise of the option, ownership of such shares of Common Stock, or as a result of my being a holder of record of stock of the Company. Without limiting the foregoing, to the fullest extent permitted by law, I hereby waive all inspection rights under Section 220 of the Delaware General Corporation Law and all such similar information and/or inspection rights that may be provided under the law of any jurisdiction, or any federal, state or foreign regulation, that are, or may become, applicable to the Company or the Company’s capital stock (the “Inspection Rights”). I hereby covenant and agree never to directly or indirectly commence, voluntarily aid in any way, prosecute, assign, transfer, or cause to be commenced any claim, action, cause of action, or other proceeding to pursue or exercise the Inspection Rights.

I further acknowledge that I will not be able to resell the Shares for at least 90 days after the stock of the Company becomes publicly traded (i.e., subject to the reporting requirements of Section 13 or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) under Rule 701 and that more restrictive conditions apply to affiliates of the Company under Rule 144.

I further acknowledge that all certificates representing any of the Shares subject to the provisions of the option will have endorsed thereon appropriate legends reflecting the foregoing limitations, as well as any legends reflecting restrictions pursuant to the Company's Certificate of Incorporation, Bylaws and/or applicable securities laws.

I further agree that, if required by the Company (or a representative of the underwriters) in connection with the first underwritten registration of the offering of any securities of the Company under the Securities Act, I will not sell, dispose of, transfer, make any short sale of, grant any option for the purchase of, or enter into any hedging or similar transaction with the same economic effect as a sale with respect to any shares of Common Stock or other securities of the Company for a period of 180 days following the effective date of a registration statement of the Company filed under the Securities Act (or such longer period as the underwriters or the Company will request to facilitate compliance with applicable FINRA rules) (the "Lock-Up Period"). I further agree to execute and deliver such other agreements as may be reasonably requested by the Company or the underwriters that are consistent with the foregoing or that are necessary to give further effect thereto. In order to enforce the foregoing covenant, the Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to securities subject to the foregoing restrictions until the end of such period. I further agree that the obligations contained in this paragraph shall also, if so determined by the Company's Board of Directors, apply in (1) the Company's initial listing of its Common Stock on a national securities exchange by means of a registration statement on Form S-1 under the Securities Act (or any successor registration form under the Securities Act subsequently adopted by the Securities and Exchange Commission) filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission that registers shares of existing capital stock of the Company for resale (a "Direct Listing"), and (2) the Company's completion of a merger or consolidation with a special purpose acquisition company or its subsidiary in which the Common Stock (or similar securities) of the surviving or parent entity are publicly traded in a public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act, provided, in each case, that all holders of at least 5% of the Company's outstanding Common Stock (after giving effect to the conversion into Common Stock of any outstanding Preferred Stock of the Company) are subject to substantially similar obligations with respect to such Direct Listing, merger or consolidation, as applicable.

Very truly yours,

JOINT ESCROW INSTRUCTIONS

_____, 20__

Secretary
Candid Therapeutics, Inc.

As Escrow Agent for both Candid Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation ("Company") and the purchaser listed on the signature page hereto ("Purchaser"), you are hereby authorized and directed to hold the documents delivered to you pursuant to the terms of that certain Early Exercise Stock Purchase Agreement dated as of _____ ("Agreement"), to which a copy of these Joint Escrow Instructions is attached as an Exhibit, in accordance with the following instructions:

1. In the event Company or an assignee elects to exercise the Repurchase Option set forth in the Agreement, the Company or its assignee will give to Purchaser and you a written notice specifying the number of shares of stock to be acquired and the time for a closing thereunder at the principal office of the Company. Purchaser and the Company hereby irrevocably authorize and direct you to close the transaction contemplated by such notice in accordance with the terms of said notice.

2. At the closing, you are directed (a) to date the stock assignments necessary for the transfer in question, (b) to fill in the number of shares being transferred, and (c) to deliver the same, together with the certificate evidencing the shares of stock to be transferred, to the Company.

3. Purchaser irrevocably authorizes the Company to deposit with you any certificates evidencing shares of stock to be held by you hereunder and any additions and substitutions to said shares as specified in the Agreement. Purchaser does hereby irrevocably constitute and appoint you as Purchaser's attorney-in-fact and agent for the term of this escrow to execute with respect to such securities all documents necessary or appropriate to make such securities negotiable and complete any transaction herein contemplated, including but not limited to any appropriate filing with state or government officials or bank officials. Subject to the provisions of this paragraph 3, Purchaser will exercise all rights and privileges of a stockholder of the Company while the stock is held by you.

4. This escrow terminates and the shares of stock held hereunder are released in full upon the exercise or expiration in full of the Repurchase Option, whichever occurs first.

5. If at the time of termination of this escrow under Section 4 herein you should have in your possession any documents, securities, or other property belonging to Purchaser, you will deliver all of the same to Purchaser and will be discharged of all further obligations hereunder; provided, however, that if at the time of termination of this escrow you are advised by the Company that any property subject to this escrow is the subject of a pledge or other security agreement, you will deliver all such property to the pledgeholder or other person designated by the Company.

6. Except as otherwise provided in these Joint Escrow Instructions, your duties hereunder may be altered, amended, modified or revoked only by a writing signed by all of the parties hereto.

7. You are obligated only for the performance of such duties as are specifically set forth herein and may rely and are protected in relying or refraining from acting on any instrument reasonably believed by you to be genuine and to have been signed or presented by the proper party or parties. You are not personally liable for any act you may do or omit to do hereunder as Escrow Agent or as attorney-in-fact for Purchaser while acting in good faith and in the exercise of your own good judgment, and any act done or omitted by you pursuant to the advice of your own attorneys is conclusive evidence of such good faith.

8. You are hereby expressly authorized to disregard any and all warnings given by any of the parties hereto or by any other person or entity, excepting only orders or process of courts of law, and are hereby expressly authorized to comply with and obey orders, judgments or decrees of any court. In case you obey or comply with any such order, judgment or decree of any court, you are not liable to any of the parties hereto or to any other person, firm or corporation by reason of such compliance, notwithstanding any such order, judgment or decree being subsequently reversed, modified, annulled, set aside, vacated or found to have been entered without jurisdiction.

9. You are not liable in any respect on account of the identity, authorities or rights of the parties executing or delivering or purporting to execute or deliver these Joint Escrow Instructions documents or papers deposited or called for hereunder.

10. You are not liable for the outlawing of any rights under any statute of limitations with respect to these Joint Escrow Instructions or any documents deposited with you.

11. Your responsibilities as Escrow Agent hereunder terminate if you cease to be Secretary of the Company or if you resign by written notice to the Company. In the event of any such termination, the Secretary of the Company will automatically become the successor Escrow Agent unless the Company appoints another successor Escrow Agent, and Purchaser hereby confirms the appointment of such successor as Purchaser's attorney-in-fact and agent to the full extent of your appointment.

12. If you reasonably require other or further instruments in connection with these Joint Escrow Instructions or obligations in respect hereto, the necessary parties hereto will join in furnishing such instruments.

13. It is understood and agreed that should any dispute arise with respect to the delivery and/or ownership or right of possession of the securities held by you hereunder, you are authorized and directed to retain in your possession without liability to anyone all or any part of said securities until such dispute has been settled either by mutual written agreement of the parties concerned or by a final order, decree or judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction after the time for appeal has expired and no appeal has been perfected, but you will be under no duty whatsoever to institute or defend any such proceedings.

14. All notices required or permitted hereunder will be in writing and will be deemed effectively given: (a) upon personal delivery, including delivery by express courier, or delivery by electronic means, to the party to be notified, (b) when sent by confirmed facsimile if sent during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not during normal business hours of the recipient, then on the next business day, (c) five calendar days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one business day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, specifying next day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications will be sent to the other party hereto at such party's address set forth below, or at such other address as such party may designate by 10 days advance written notice to the other party hereto.

Company: Candid Therapeutics, Inc.

Attn: Chief Executive Officer

Purchaser: _____

Escrow Agent: Candid Therapeutics, Inc.

Attn: Secretary

15. By signing these Joint Escrow Instructions, you become a party hereto only for the purpose of said Joint Escrow Instructions; you do not become a party to the Agreement.

16. You are entitled to employ such legal counsel and other experts (including, without limitation, the firm of Cooley LLP) as you may deem necessary properly to advise you in connection with your obligations hereunder. You may rely upon the advice of such counsel, and you may pay such counsel reasonable compensation therefor.

17. This instrument is binding upon and inures to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and permitted assigns. It is understood and agreed that references to “you” and “your” herein refer to the original Escrow Agents and to any and all successor Escrow Agents. It is understood and agreed that the Company may at any time or from time to time assign its rights under the Agreement and these Joint Escrow Instructions in whole or in part.

18. These Joint Escrow Instructions are governed by and interpreted and determined in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, as such laws are applied by Delaware courts to contracts made and to be performed entirely in Delaware by residents of that state. The parties hereby expressly consent to the personal jurisdiction of the state and federal courts located in the county in which the Company has its principal offices for any lawsuit arising from or related to this Agreement.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS INCORPORATED INTO COMMON STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT

1. Purchase and Sale of Stock. Purchaser agrees to purchase from the Company, and the Company agrees to sell to Purchaser, the number of shares of Stock for the consideration set forth in the cover page to this Agreement. The closing of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, including payment for and delivery of the Stock, will occur at the offices of the Company immediately following the execution of this Agreement, or at such other time and place as the parties may mutually agree.

2. Investment Representations. In connection with the purchase of the Stock, Purchaser represents to the Company the following:

(a) Purchaser is aware of the Company's business affairs and financial condition and has acquired sufficient information about the Company to reach an informed and knowledgeable decision to acquire the Stock. Purchaser is purchasing the Stock for investment for Purchaser's own account only and not with a view to, or for resale in connection with, any "distribution" thereof within the meaning of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Act").

(b) Purchaser understands that the Stock has not been registered under the Act by reason of a specific exemption therefrom, which exemption depends upon, among other things, the bona fide nature of Purchaser's investment intent as expressed in this Agreement.

(c) Purchaser further acknowledges and understands that the Stock must be held indefinitely unless the Stock is subsequently registered under the Act or an exemption from such registration is available. Purchaser further acknowledges and understands that the Company is under no obligation to register the Stock. Purchaser understands that the certificate evidencing the Stock will be imprinted with a legend that prohibits the transfer of the Stock unless the Stock is registered or such registration is not required in the opinion of counsel for the Company.

(d) Purchaser is familiar with the provisions of Rule 144 under the Act as in effect from time to time, that, in substance, permits limited public resale of "restricted securities" acquired, directly or indirectly, from the issuer of such securities (or from an affiliate of such issuer), in a non-public offering subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions.

(e) Purchaser further understands that at the time Purchaser wishes to sell the Stock there may be no public market upon which to make such a sale, and that, even if such a public market then exists, the Company may not be satisfying the current public information requirements of Rule 144, and that, in such event, Purchaser may be precluded from selling the Stock under Rule 144 even if the minimum holding period requirement had been satisfied.

(f) Purchaser further warrants and represents that Purchaser has either (i) preexisting personal or business relationships, with the Company or any of its officers, directors or controlling persons, or (ii) the capacity to protect Purchaser's own interests in connection with the purchase of the Stock by virtue of the business or financial expertise of Purchaser or of professional advisors to Purchaser who are unaffiliated with and who are not compensated by the Company or any of its affiliates, directly or indirectly.

(g) Purchaser acknowledges that Purchaser has read all tax related sections and further acknowledges Purchaser has had an opportunity to consult Purchaser's own tax, legal and financial advisors regarding the purchase of common stock under this Agreement.

Exhibit A to Common Stock Purchase Agreement

(h) Purchaser acknowledges and agrees that in making the decision to purchase the common stock under this Agreement, Purchaser has not relied on any statement, whether written or oral, regarding the subject matter of this Agreement, except as expressly provided in this Agreement and in the attachments and exhibits to this Agreement.

(i) If the Purchaser is not a United States person (as defined by Section 7701(a)(30) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”)), the Purchaser has satisfied itself as to the full observance of the laws of its jurisdiction in connection with any invitation to subscribe for the Stock or any use of this Agreement, including (i) the legal requirements within its jurisdiction for the purchase of the Stock, (ii) any foreign exchange restrictions applicable to such purchase, (iii) any governmental or other consents that may need to be obtained and (iv) the income tax and other tax consequences, if any, that may be relevant to the purchase, holding, redemption, sale, or transfer of the Stock. The Purchaser’s subscription and payment for and continued beneficial ownership of the Stock will not violate any applicable securities or other laws of the Purchaser’s jurisdiction.

3. Restrictive Legends. All certificates representing the Stock will have endorsed thereon legends in substantially the following forms (in addition to any other legend which may be required by other agreements between the parties to this Agreement):

(a) “THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE HAVE NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933 AS AMENDED. THEY MAY NOT BE SOLD, OFFERED FOR SALE, PLEDGED OR HYPOTHECATED IN THE ABSENCE OF AN EFFECTIVE REGISTRATION STATEMENT AS TO THE SECURITIES UNDER SAID ACT OR AN OPINION OF COUNSEL SATISFACTORY TO THE CORPORATION THAT SUCH REGISTRATION IS NOT REQUIRED.”

(b) “THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE ARE SUBJECT TO A RIGHT OF FIRST REFUSAL OPTION IN FAVOR OF THE CORPORATION AND/OR ITS ASSIGNEE(S) AS PROVIDED IN THE BYLAWS OF THE CORPORATION.”

(c) “THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE ARE SUBJECT TO A TRANSFER RESTRICTION, AS PROVIDED IN THE BYLAWS OF THE CORPORATION.”

(d) “THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE ARE SUBJECT TO AN OPTION AND OTHER RESTRICTIONS AND CONDITIONS SET FORTH IN AN AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE CORPORATION AND THE REGISTERED HOLDER, OR SUCH HOLDER’S PREDECESSOR IN INTEREST, A COPY OF WHICH IS ON FILE AT THE PRINCIPAL OFFICE OF THE CORPORATION. ANY TRANSFER OR ATTEMPTED TRANSFER OF ANY SHARES SUBJECT TO SUCH OPTION IS VOID WITHOUT THE PRIOR EXPRESS WRITTEN CONSENT OF THE CORPORATION.”

(e) “THE SHARES REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE ARE SUBJECT TO CERTAIN OBLIGATIONS WITH RESPECT TO FUTURE SECURITYHOLDERS’ AGREEMENTS SET FORTH IN AN AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE CORPORATION AND THE REGISTERED HOLDER, OR SUCH HOLDER’S PREDECESSOR IN INTEREST, A COPY OF WHICH IS ON FILE AT THE PRINCIPAL OFFICE OF THE CORPORATION.”

(f) Any legend required by applicable blue sky laws.

4. Market Stand-Off Agreement. Purchaser will not sell, dispose of, transfer, make any short sale of, grant any option for the purchase of, or enter into any hedging or similar transaction with the same economic effect as a sale of, any Common Stock or other securities of the Company held by Purchaser (other than those included in the registration), including the Stock (the “Restricted Securities”), during the 180-day period following the effective date of the Company’s first firm commitment underwritten public offering of its Common Stock (or such longer period as the underwriters or the Company will request in order to facilitate compliance with applicable FINRA rules) (the “Lock Up Period”), provided, however, that nothing contained in this Section 4 will prevent the exercise of the Repurchase Option during the Lock Up Period. Purchaser agrees to execute and deliver such other agreements as may be reasonably requested by the Company and/or the managing underwriters that are consistent with the foregoing or that are necessary to give further effect to the foregoing provision. In order to enforce the foregoing covenant, the Company may impose stop-transfer instructions with respect to Purchaser’s Restricted Securities until the end of such period. The underwriters of the Company’s stock are intended third party beneficiaries of this Section 4 and have the right, power and authority to enforce the provisions hereof as though they were a party to this Agreement. The obligations contained in this Section 4 will also, if so determined by the Company’s Board of Directors, apply in (1) the Company’s initial listing of its Common Stock on a national securities exchange by means of a registration statement on Form S-1 under the Act (or any successor registration form under the Act subsequently adopted by the Securities and Exchange Commission) filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission that registers shares of existing capital stock of the Company for resale (a “Direct Listing”), and (2) the Company’s completion of a merger or consolidation with a special purpose acquisition company or its subsidiary in which the Common Stock (or similar securities) of the surviving or parent entity are publicly traded in a public offering pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Act, provided, in each case, that all holders of at least 5% of the Company’s outstanding Common Stock (after giving effect to the conversion into Common Stock of any outstanding Preferred Stock) are subject to substantially similar obligations with respect to such Direct Listing, merger or consolidation, as applicable.

5. Repurchase Option. The following provisions apply to the Unvested Shares, as provided in the cover page to this Agreement (the “Vesting Provisions”):

(a) Repurchase Option. In the event Purchaser’s relationship with the Company (or a parent or subsidiary of the Company) terminates for any reason (including death or disability), or for no reason, with or without cause, such that after such termination Purchaser is no longer providing services to the Company (or a parent or subsidiary of the Company) as an employee, director, consultant or advisor (a “Service Provider”), then the Company will have an irrevocable option (the “Repurchase Option”) for a period of 120 days after said termination (the “Repurchase Period”) to repurchase from Purchaser or Purchaser’s personal representative, as the case may be, at the lower of (i) the Purchase Price per share as provided in the cover page to this Agreement, or (ii) the Fair Market Value per share of such Unvested Shares as of the date of repurchase (such lower price, the “Option Price”), up to but not exceeding the number of Unvested Shares that have not vested in accordance with the Vesting Provisions as of such termination date. The Repurchase Option will be exercised as provided in Section 5(b). For purposes of the Repurchase Option, the “Fair Market Value” means the value of the Unvested Shares as determined in good faith by the Company’s Board of Directors. The term of the Repurchase Option will be extended to such longer period (A) as may be agreed to by the Company and the Purchaser, or (B) as needed to ensure the stock issued by the Company does not lose its status as “qualified small business stock” under Section 1202 of the Code. Purchaser acknowledges that the Company has no obligation, either now or in the future, to repurchase any of the shares of Common Stock, whether vested or unvested, at any time. Further, Purchaser acknowledges and understands that, in the event that the Company repurchases shares, the repurchase price may be less than the price Purchaser originally paid and that Purchaser bears any risk associated with the potential loss in value.

(b) Exercise of Repurchase Option. The Company, or any assignee or assignees of the Company, may exercise the Repurchase Option by giving notice to the holder of the Unvested Shares during the Repurchase Period in writing. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company will be deemed to have exercised the Repurchase Option as of the last day of the Repurchase Period, unless an officer of the Company gives notice to the holder of the Unvested Shares during the Repurchase Period in writing that the Company expressly declines to exercise its Repurchase Option for some or all of the Unvested Shares. Upon exercise of the Repurchase Option, the Company will pay to the holder of the Unvested Shares the Option Price for the Unvested Shares being repurchased. The Company is entitled to pay for any Unvested Shares purchased pursuant to its Repurchase Option at the Company's option in cash or by offset against any indebtedness owing to the Company by Purchaser (including without limitation any Note given in payment for the Unvested Shares), or by a combination of both. Upon exercise of the Repurchase Option and payment of the purchase price in any of the ways described above, the Company will become the legal and beneficial owner of the Unvested Shares being repurchased and all rights and interest in or related to the Unvested Shares, and the Company will have the right to transfer to its own name the Unvested Shares being repurchased by the Company, without further action by Purchaser. The certificate(s) representing the Unvested Shares that have been repurchased by the Company will be delivered to the Company. It is expressly agreed between the parties that money damages are inadequate to compensate the Company for the Unvested Shares and that the Company will, upon proper exercise of the Repurchase Option, be entitled to specific enforcement of its rights to purchase and receive said Unvested Shares.

(c) Adjustments to Unvested Shares. If, from time to time, during the term of the Repurchase Option there is any change affecting the Company's outstanding Common Stock as a class that is effected without the receipt of consideration by the Company (through merger, consolidation, reorganization, reincorporation, stock dividend, dividend in property other than cash, stock split, liquidating dividend, combination of shares, change in corporation structure or other transaction not involving the receipt of consideration by the Company), then any and all new, substituted or additional securities or other property to which Purchaser is entitled by reason of Purchaser's ownership of Unvested Shares will be immediately subject to the Repurchase Option and be included in the meaning of "Unvested Shares" for all purposes of the Repurchase Option with the same force and effect as the Unvested Shares presently subject to the Repurchase Option, but only to the extent the Unvested Shares are, at the time, covered by such Repurchase Option. While the total Option Price will remain the same after each such event, the Option Price of the Unvested Shares upon exercise of the Repurchase Option will be appropriately adjusted.

(d) Corporate Transaction. In the event of (a) an Acquisition (as defined below); or (b) an Asset Transfer (as defined below) ((a) and (b) being collectively referred to in the Agreement as a "Corporate Transaction"), then the Repurchase Option will be assigned by the Company to any successor of the Company (or the successor's parent) in connection with such Corporate Transaction. To the extent that the Repurchase Option remains in effect following such a Corporate Transaction, it will apply to the new capital stock or other property received in exchange for the Unvested Shares in consummation of the Corporate Transaction, but only to the extent the Unvested Shares are at the time covered by such right. Appropriate adjustments will be made to the Option Price per share payable upon exercise of the Repurchase Option to reflect the effect of the Corporate Transaction upon the Company's capital structure; provided, however, that the aggregate Option Price will remain the same. For the purposes of this Section 5(d): (i) "Acquisition" means (A) any consolidation or merger of the Company with or into any other corporation or other entity or person, or any other corporate reorganization; or (B) any transaction or series of related transactions to which the Company is a party in which in excess of 50% of the Company's voting power is transferred; and (ii) "Asset Transfer" means a sale, lease, exclusive license or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company.

(e) Termination of Repurchase Option. Sections 5(a) through 5(d) of this Agreement will terminate upon the exercise in full or expiration of the Repurchase Option, whichever occurs first.

(f) Escrow of Unvested Shares. As security for Purchaser's faithful performance of the terms of this Agreement and to insure the availability for delivery of Purchaser's Unvested Shares upon exercise of the Repurchase Option herein provided for, Purchaser agrees, at the closing hereunder, to deliver to and deposit with the Secretary of the Company or the Secretary's designee, including the person or entity named in Joint Escrow Instructions of the Company and Purchaser attached to this Agreement as Exhibit B and incorporated by this reference ("Joint Escrow Instructions"), as Escrow Agent in this transaction ("Escrow Agent"), one stock assignment duly endorsed (with date and number of shares blank) in the form attached to this Agreement as Exhibit C, together with a certificate or certificates evidencing all Unvested Shares that are subject to the Repurchase Option; said documents are to be held by the Escrow Agent and delivered by said Escrow Agent pursuant to the Joint Escrow Instructions, which instructions will also be delivered to the Escrow Agent at the closing hereunder. Purchaser acknowledges that the Escrow Agent is so appointed as the escrow holder with the foregoing authorities as a material inducement to make this Agreement and that said appointment is coupled with an interest and is accordingly irrevocable. Purchaser agrees that Escrow Agent is not liable to any party hereof (or to any other party). Escrow Agent may rely upon any letter, notice or other document executed by any signature purported to be genuine and may resign at any time. Purchaser agrees that if the Escrow Agent resigns as Escrow Agent for any or no reason, the Board of Directors of the Company has the power to appoint a successor to serve as Escrow Agent pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. Purchaser agrees that if the Secretary of the Company resigns as Secretary, the successor Secretary will serve as Escrow Agent pursuant to the terms of this Agreement.

(g) Rights of Purchaser. Subject to the provisions of Sections 4, 5(f), 5(h) and 5(j) in this Agreement, Purchaser will exercise all rights and privileges of a stockholder of the Company with respect to the Unvested Shares deposited in escrow. Purchaser will be deemed to be the holder for purposes of receiving any dividends that may be paid with respect to such Unvested Shares and for the purpose of exercising any voting rights relating to such Unvested Shares, even if some or all of such Unvested Shares have not yet vested and been released from the Repurchase Option.

(h) Limitations on Transfer. In addition to any other limitation on transfer created by applicable securities laws, Purchaser will not assign, hypothecate, donate, encumber or otherwise dispose of any interest in the Unvested Shares while the Unvested Shares are subject to the Repurchase Option. After any Unvested Shares have been released from the Repurchase Option, Purchaser will not assign, hypothecate, donate, encumber or otherwise dispose of any interest in the Unvested Shares except in compliance with the provisions herein, the Company's Bylaws and any other agreement to which the Purchaser is a party and applicable securities laws. Furthermore, the Unvested Shares will be subject to any right of first refusal in favor of the Company or its assignees that may be contained in the Company's Bylaws. Purchaser further acknowledges that Purchaser may be required to hold the Common Stock purchased hereunder indefinitely. During the period of time during which the Purchaser holds the Common Stock, the value of the Common Stock may increase or decrease, and any risk associated with such Common Stock and such fluctuation in value will be borne by the Purchaser.

(i) Section 83(b) Election. Purchaser understands that, pursuant to Section 83(a) of the Code, the difference between the amount paid for the Unvested Shares and the fair market value of the Unvested Shares as of the date any restrictions on the Unvested Shares lapse will be taxed as ordinary income earned by Purchaser as of the date of such lapse. In this context, "restriction" includes the right of the Company to buy back the Unvested Shares pursuant to the Repurchase Option set forth above. Purchaser understands that Purchaser may elect to be taxed at the time the Unvested Shares are purchased, rather than when and as the Repurchase Option expires, by filing an election under Section 83(b) (an "83(b) Election") of the Code with the Internal Revenue Service within 30 days from the date of purchase, a form of which has been provided in connection with this Agreement. Even if the fair market value of the Unvested Shares at the time of the execution of this Agreement equals the amount paid for the Unvested Shares, the 83(b) Election must be made to avoid income under Section 83(a) in the future. Purchaser understands that failure to file such an 83(b) Election in a timely manner may result in adverse tax consequences for Purchaser. Purchaser further understands that an additional copy of such 83(b) Election is required to be filed with Purchaser's federal income tax return for the calendar year in which the date of this Agreement falls. Purchaser further acknowledges and understands that it is Purchaser's sole obligation and responsibility to timely file such 83(b) Election, and neither the Company nor the Company's legal or financial advisors have any obligation or responsibility with respect to such filing. Purchaser acknowledges that the foregoing is only a summary of the effect of United States federal income taxation with respect to the purchase of Unvested Shares hereunder, and does not purport to be complete. Purchaser further acknowledges that the Company has directed Purchaser to seek independent advice regarding the applicable provisions of the Code, the income tax laws of any municipality, state or foreign country in which Purchaser may reside, and the tax consequences of Purchaser's death. Purchaser assumes all responsibility for filing an 83(b) Election and paying all taxes resulting from such election or the lapse of the restrictions on the Unvested Shares.

(j) Refusal to Transfer. The Company will not be required (i) to transfer on its books any Unvested Shares of the Company that have been transferred in violation of any of the provisions set forth in this Agreement or (ii) to treat as owner of such shares or to accord the right to vote as such owner or to pay dividends to any transferee to whom such shares have been so transferred.

(k) No Employment Rights. This Agreement is not an employment or other service contract and nothing in this Agreement will affect in any manner whatsoever the right or power of the Company (or a parent or subsidiary of the Company) to terminate Purchaser's employment or other service relationship for any reason at any time, with or without cause and with or without notice.

(l) Parachute Payments.

(i) If any payment or benefit Purchaser would receive pursuant to a Corporate Transaction from the Company or otherwise ("Payment") would (i) constitute a "parachute payment" within the meaning of Section 280G of the Code, and (ii) but for this sentence, be subject to the excise tax imposed by Section 4999 of the Code (the "Excise Tax"), then such Payment will be reduced to the Reduced Amount. The "Reduced Amount" will be either (x) the largest portion of the Payment that would result in no portion of the Payment being subject to the Excise Tax or (y) the largest portion, up to and including the total, of the Payment, whichever amount, after taking into account all applicable federal, state and local employment taxes, income taxes, and the Excise Tax (all computed at the highest applicable marginal rate), results in Purchaser's receipt, on an after-tax basis, of the greater amount of the Payment notwithstanding that all or some portion of the Payment may be subject to the Excise Tax. If a reduction in payments and/or benefits constituting "parachute payments" is necessary so that the Payment equals the Reduced Amount, reduction will occur in the following order: reduction of current cash payments; reduction of deferred cash payments subject to Code Section 409A; cancellation of accelerated vesting of stock awards; reduction of employee benefits. In the event that acceleration of vesting of stock award compensation is to be reduced, such acceleration of vesting will be cancelled in the reverse order of the date of grant of Purchaser's stock awards.

(ii) The accounting firm engaged by the Company for general audit purposes as of the day prior to the effective date of the Corporate Transaction will perform the foregoing calculations. If the accounting firm so engaged by the Company is serving as accountant or auditor for the individual, entity or group affecting the Corporate Transaction, the Company will appoint a nationally recognized accounting firm to make the determinations required hereunder. The Company will bear all expenses with respect to the determinations by such accounting firm required to be made hereunder.

(iii) The accounting firm engaged to make the determinations hereunder will provide its calculations, together with detailed supporting documentation, to the Company and Purchaser within 15 calendar days after the date on which Purchaser's right to a Payment is triggered (if requested at that time by the Company or Purchaser) or such other time as requested by the Company or Purchaser. If the accounting firm determines that no Excise Tax is payable with respect to a Payment, it will furnish the Company and Purchaser with an opinion reasonably acceptable to Purchaser that no Excise Tax will be imposed with respect to such Payment. Any good faith determinations of the accounting firm made hereunder will be final, binding and conclusive upon the Company and Purchaser.

(m) Certain Defined Terms. For purposes of this Agreement, the following defined terms apply:

(i) "Cause" means any of the following: (1) commission of any felony or any crime involving moral turpitude or dishonesty, (2) participation in a fraud or act of dishonesty against the Company, (3) willful and material breach of Purchaser's duties that has not been cured within 30 days after written notice from the Company's Board of Directors of such breach, (4) intentional and material damage to the Company's property, or (5) material breach of Purchaser's Confidential Information and Inventions Assignment Agreement (if applicable).

(ii) "Change in Control" means (1) a merger or consolidation in which the Company is a constituent party (or in which a subsidiary of the Company is a constituent party and the Company issues shares of its capital stock pursuant to such merger or consolidation), other than a merger or consolidation in which the voting securities of the Company outstanding immediately prior to such merger or consolidation continue to represent (either by remaining outstanding or by being converted into voting securities of the surviving entity) more than 50% of the combined voting power of the voting securities of the surviving entity outstanding immediately after such merger or consolidation, or (2) any transaction or series of related transactions in which in excess of 50% of the Company's voting power is transferred, other than the sale by the Company of stock in transactions the primary purpose of which is to raise capital for the Company's operations and activities, or (3) a sale, lease, exclusive license or other disposition of all or substantially all (as determined by the Board of Directors in its sole discretion) of the assets of the Company other than a sale, lease, license or other disposition of all or substantially all of the consolidated assets of the Company to an entity, more than 50% of the combined voting power of the voting securities of which are beneficially owned by shareholders of the Company in substantially the same proportions as their beneficial ownership of the outstanding voting securities of the Company immediately prior to such sale, lease, exclusive license or other disposition.

(iii) "Good Reason" means any of the following actions taken by the Company or a successor corporation or entity without Purchaser's consent (unless such action is taken in response to conduct by Purchaser that constitutes Cause): (1) material reduction of Purchaser's base compensation, other than a reduction that applies generally to all executives and does not exceed 10%; (2) material reduction in Purchaser's authority, duties or responsibilities; provided, however, that a change in job position (including a change in title) will not be deemed a "material reduction" unless Purchaser's new authority, duties or responsibilities are materially reduced from the prior authority, duties or responsibilities; (3) failure or refusal of a successor to the Company to materially assume the Company's obligations under this Agreement; or (4) relocation of Purchaser's principal place of employment that results in an increase in Purchaser's one-way driving distance by more than 50 miles from Purchaser's then current principal residence; provided that if Purchaser works remotely during any period in which Purchaser's regular principal place of employment at a Company office is closed, then neither Purchaser's relocation to remote work or back to the office from remote work will be considered a relocation of Purchaser's principal place of employment with the Company for purposes of this definition. In order to resign for Good Reason, the Purchaser must provide written notice of the event giving rise to Good Reason to the Company's Board of Directors within 30 days after the condition arises, allow the Company 90 days to cure such condition, and if the Company fails to cure the condition within such period, the Purchaser's resignation from all positions Purchaser then holds with the Company must be effective not later than 30 days after the end of the Company's cure period.

6. Miscellaneous.

(a) Release. As a condition of receiving the Acceleration Provisions set forth in the cover page to this Agreement to which Purchaser would not otherwise be entitled, Purchaser will execute the Company's standard form of a release of claims (the "Release") and permit such Release to become effective in accordance with its terms. Unless the Release is executed by Purchaser and delivered to the Company within the period of time set forth in the Release, and such Release becomes effective, Purchaser will not receive any of the benefits of the Acceleration Provisions provided for under this Agreement.

(b) Waiver of Information Rights. Purchaser hereby acknowledges and agrees that, except for such information as required to be delivered to Purchaser by the Company pursuant to any other agreement by and between the Company and Purchaser, Purchaser has no right to receive any information from the Company by virtue of such Purchaser's purchase of the Stock, ownership of the Stock, or as a result of Purchaser being a holder of record of stock of the Company. Without limiting the foregoing, to the fullest extent permitted by law, Purchaser hereby waives Purchaser's inspection rights under Section 220 of the Delaware General Corporation Law and all such similar information and/or inspection rights that may be provided under the law of any jurisdiction, or any federal, state or foreign regulation, that are, or may become, applicable to the Company, the Company's capital stock or the Stock (the "Inspection Rights"). Purchaser hereby covenants and agrees never to directly or indirectly commence, voluntarily aid in any way, prosecute, assign, transfer, or cause to be commenced any claim, action, cause of action, or other proceeding to pursue or exercise the Inspection Rights.

(c) Notices. All notices required or permitted hereunder will be in writing and will be deemed effectively given: (i) upon personal delivery to the party to be notified; (ii) when sent by confirmed electronic mail or facsimile if sent during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours of the recipient, then on the next business day; (iii) five calendar days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid; or (iv) one business day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, specifying next day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications will be sent to the other party to this Agreement at such party's address set forth on the signature page hereof, or at such other address as such party may designate by 10 days' advance written notice to the other party hereto.

(d) Successors and Assigns. This Agreement will inure to the benefit of the successors and assigns of the Company and, subject to the restrictions on transfer herein set forth, be binding upon Purchaser, Purchaser's successors, and assigns. The Repurchase Option of the Company hereunder will be assignable by the Company at any time or from time to time, in whole or in part.

(e) Attorneys' Fees. The prevailing party in any suit or action hereunder will be entitled to recover from the losing party all costs incurred by it in enforcing the performance of, or protecting its rights under, any part of this Agreement, including reasonable costs of investigation and attorneys' fees.

(f) Governing Law; Venue. This Agreement will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware. The parties agree that any action brought by either party to interpret or enforce any provision of this Agreement will be brought in, and each party agrees to, and does hereby, submit to the jurisdiction and venue of, the appropriate state or federal court for the district encompassing the Company's principal place of business.

(g) Further Execution. The parties agree to take all such further actions as may reasonably be necessary to carry out and consummate this Agreement as soon as practicable, and to take whatever steps may be necessary to obtain any governmental approval in connection with or otherwise qualify the issuance of the securities that are the subject of this Agreement. Purchaser agrees that, at the request of the Company at any time, Purchaser will execute and deliver any applicable securityholders' agreement, investor rights agreement, voting agreement, drag along agreement, right of first refusal and co-sale agreement or similar agreement (or a joinder to any existing agreement) that the Company and/or the holders of its securities may enter into or that otherwise that may be in effect from time to time (and which may contain, among other provisions, additional restrictions on transfer and/or rights of repurchase in favor of the Company).

(h) Further Information and Action. Upon request from the Company at any time, Purchaser agrees to promptly provide the Company with such information and take such other actions as the Company may request in connection with any obligations the Company may have under applicable law, rule, or regulation, or to comply with requests by applicable regulatory authorities. Purchaser hereby represents and warrants that all information provided pursuant to this paragraph shall be accurate and complete, and covenants that Purchaser will submit to the Company (or other recipient as directed by the Company) any updates to such information within 15 days after any change in, or correction to, any such information.

(i) Independent Counsel. Purchaser acknowledges that this Agreement has been prepared on behalf of the Company by Cooley LLP, counsel to the Company and that Cooley LLP does not represent, and is not acting on behalf of, Purchaser in any capacity. Purchaser has been provided with an opportunity to consult with Purchaser's own counsel with respect to this Agreement.

(j) Entire Agreement; Amendment. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes and merges all prior agreements or understandings, whether written or oral, with respect to the subject matter hereof. This Agreement may not be amended, modified or revoked, in whole or in part, except by an agreement in writing signed by each of the parties hereto.

(k) Severability. If one or more provisions of this Agreement are held to be unenforceable under applicable law, the parties agree to renegotiate such provision in good faith. In the event that the parties cannot reach a mutually agreeable and enforceable replacement for such provision, then (i) such provision will be excluded from this Agreement, (ii) the balance of the Agreement will be interpreted as if such provision were so excluded and (iii) the balance of the Agreement will be enforceable in accordance with its terms.

(l) Counterparts. This Agreement (including any schedules and/or exhibits hereto or thereto) may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original, but all of which together will constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, Uniform Electronic Transactions Act or other applicable law) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered will be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

JOINT ESCROW INSTRUCTIONS

JOINT ESCROW INSTRUCTIONS

Secretary
Candid Therapeutics, Inc.

As Escrow Agent for both Candid Therapeutics, Inc., a Delaware corporation ("Company") and [] ("Purchaser"), you are hereby authorized and directed to hold the documents delivered to you pursuant to the terms of that certain Common Stock Purchase Agreement dated as of [] ("Agreement"), to which a copy of these Joint Escrow Instructions is attached as an Exhibit, in accordance with the following instructions:

1. In the event Company or an assignee elects to exercise the Repurchase Option set forth in the Agreement, the Company or its assignee will give to Purchaser and you a written notice specifying the number of shares of stock to be purchased, the purchase price, and the time for a closing thereunder at the principal office of the Company. Purchaser and the Company hereby irrevocably authorize and direct you to close the transaction contemplated by such notice in accordance with the terms of said notice.

2. At the closing, you are directed (a) to date the stock assignments necessary for the transfer in question, (b) to fill in the number of shares being transferred, and (c) to deliver the same, together with the certificate evidencing the shares of stock to be transferred, to the Company against the simultaneous delivery to you of the purchase price (which may include suitable acknowledgment of cancellation of indebtedness) for the number of shares of stock being purchased pursuant to the exercise of the Repurchase Option.

3. Purchaser irrevocably authorizes the Company to deposit with you any certificates evidencing shares of stock to be held by you hereunder and any additions and substitutions to said shares as specified in the Agreement. Purchaser does hereby irrevocably constitute and appoint you as Purchaser's attorney-in-fact and agent for the term of this escrow to execute with respect to such securities all documents necessary or appropriate to make such securities negotiable and complete any transaction herein contemplated, including but not limited to any appropriate filing with state or government officials or bank officials. Subject to the provisions of this paragraph 3, Purchaser will exercise all rights and privileges of a shareholder of the Company while the stock is held by you.

4. This escrow will terminate upon the exercise in full or expiration of the Repurchase Option, whichever occurs first.

5. If at the time of termination of this escrow under Section 4 herein you should have in your possession any documents, securities, or other property belonging to Purchaser, you will deliver all of the same to Purchaser and will be discharged of all further obligations hereunder; provided, however, that if at the time of termination of this escrow you are advised by the Company that any property subject to this escrow is the subject of a pledge or other security agreement, you will deliver all such property to the pledgeholder or other person designated by the Company.

Joint Escrow Instructions

6. Except as otherwise provided in these Joint Escrow Instructions, your duties hereunder may be altered, amended, modified or revoked only by a writing signed by all of the parties hereto.

7. You are obligated only for the performance of such duties as are specifically set forth herein and may rely and will be protected in relying or refraining from acting on any instrument reasonably believed by you to be genuine and to have been signed or presented by the proper party or parties. You will not be personally liable for any act you may do or omit to do hereunder as Escrow Agent or as attorney-in-fact for Purchaser while acting in good faith and in the exercise of your own good judgment, and any act done or omitted by you pursuant to the advice of your own attorneys will be conclusive evidence of such good faith.

8. You are hereby expressly authorized to disregard any and all warnings given by any of the parties hereto or by any other person or entity, excepting only orders or process of courts of law, and are hereby expressly authorized to comply with and obey orders, judgments or decrees of any court. In case you obey or comply with any such order, judgment or decree of any court, you will not be liable to any of the parties hereto or to any other person, firm or corporation by reason of such compliance, notwithstanding any such order, judgment or decree being subsequently reversed, modified, annulled, set aside, vacated or found to have been entered without jurisdiction.

9. You will not be liable in any respect on account of the identity, authorities or rights of the parties executing or delivering or purporting to execute or deliver these Joint Escrow Instructions documents or papers deposited or called for hereunder.

10. You will not be liable for the outlawing of any rights under any statute of limitations with respect to these Joint Escrow Instructions or any documents deposited with you.

11. Your responsibilities as Escrow Agent hereunder will terminate if you cease to be Secretary of the Company or if you resign by written notice to the Company. In the event of any such termination, the Secretary of the Company will automatically become the successor Escrow Agent unless the Company appoints another successor Escrow Agent, and Purchaser hereby confirms the appointment of such successor as Purchaser's attorney-in-fact and agent to the full extent of your appointment.

12. If you reasonably require other or further instruments in connection with these Joint Escrow Instructions or obligations in respect hereto, the necessary parties hereto will join in furnishing such instruments.

13. It is understood and agreed that should any dispute arise with respect to the delivery and/or ownership or right of possession of the securities held by you hereunder, you are authorized and directed to retain in your possession without liability to anyone all or any part of said securities until such dispute has been settled either by mutual written agreement of the parties concerned or by a final order, decree or judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction after the time for appeal has expired and no appeal has been perfected, but you will be under no duty whatsoever to institute or defend any such proceedings.

14. All notices required or permitted hereunder will be in writing and will be deemed effectively given: (a) upon personal delivery to the party to be notified, (b) when sent by confirmed electronic mail or facsimile if sent during normal business hours of the recipient, and if not sent during normal business hours of the recipient, then on the next business day, (c) five calendar days after having been sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, or (d) one business day after deposit with a nationally recognized overnight courier, specifying next day delivery, with written verification of receipt. All communications will be sent to the other party hereto at such party's address set forth below, or at such other address as such party may designate by 10 days' advance written notice to the other party hereto.

Re: Employment Terms

Dear Ken:

Candid Therapeutics, Inc. (the "Company") is pleased to offer you employment beginning on 7/1/2024 (the "Start Date").

Position

Your initial position will be President and Chief Executive Officer, responsible for performing such duties as are assigned to you from time to time, reporting to the Board of Directors. You will work at the Company's headquarters in San Diego, CA. Of course, the Company may change your position, duties, and work location from time to time in its discretion.

Compensation and Benefits

Your initial base salary will be paid at the rate of $550,000 per year, less payroll deductions and withholdings, paid on the Company's normal payroll schedule.

If you join the Company, you will also be eligible to earn an annual discretionary bonus of up to 50% of your annual salary, subject to approval of a bonus plan by the board of directors and in accordance with the terms of such approved plan. The paid out amount of this bonus will be determined in the sole discretion of the Company and based, in part, on your performance and the performance of the Company during the calendar year, as well as any other criteria the Company deems relevant. The bonus is not earned until paid and no pro-rated amount will be paid if your employment terminates for any reason prior to the payment date.

During your employment, you will be eligible to participate in the benefits plans offered to similarly situated employees by the Company from time to time, subject to plan terms and generally applicable Company policies. Upon commencement of your employment with the Company, you will be eligible to accrue 20 days of paid-time off annually, in accordance with the Company's standard paid-time off policy. Supervisors will approve paid vacation requests based on the employee's progress on work goals or milestones, status of projects, fairness to the working team, and productivity and efficiency of the employee. The Company may change compensation and benefits from time to time in its discretion.

Equity

The Company previously granted you an option to purchase shares of the Company's common stock (the "Option"). Such Option shall continue to vest in accordance with its terms, and you will continue to be a Service Provider under such Option without any gap in service.

Confidential Information and Company Policies

As a Company employee, you will be expected to abide by Company rules and policies. As a condition of employment, you must sign and comply with the attached Employee Confidential Information and Inventions Assignment Agreement which prohibits unauthorized use or disclosure of the Company's proprietary information, among other obligations.

By signing this letter you are representing that you have full authority to accept this position and perform the duties of the position without conflict with any other obligations and that you are not involved in any situation that might create, or appear to create, a conflict of interest with respect to your loyalty or duties to the Company. You specifically warrant that you are not subject to an employment agreement or restrictive covenant preventing full performance of your duties to the Company. You agree not to bring to the Company or use in the performance of your responsibilities at the Company any materials or documents of a former employer that are not generally available to the public, unless you have obtained express written authorization from the former employer for their possession and use. You also agree to honor all obligations to former employers during your employment with the Company.

At-Will Employment and Exempt Status

Your employment with the Company will be "at-will." You may terminate your employment with the Company at any time and for any reason whatsoever simply by notifying the Company. Likewise, the Company may terminate your employment at any time, with or without cause or advance notice. Your employment at-will status can only be modified in a written agreement signed by you and by an officer of the Company.

As a full-time exempt salaried employee, you will be expected to work the Company's normal business hours as well as additional hours as required by the nature of your work assignments, and you will not be eligible for overtime compensation.

Conditions, Dispute Resolution, and Complete Agreement

This offer is contingent upon a satisfactory reference check and satisfactory proof of your right to work in the United States. If the Company informs you that you are required to complete a background check, this offer is contingent upon satisfactory clearance of such background check. You agree to assist as needed and to complete any documentation at the Company's request to meet these conditions.

To aid the rapid and economical resolution of disputes that may arise in connection with your employment with the Company, and in exchange for the mutual promises contained in this offer letter agreement, you and the Company agree that any and all disputes, claims, or causes of action, in law or equity, including but not limited to statutory claims, arising from or relating to the enforcement, breach, performance, or interpretation of this letter agreement, your employment with the Company, or the termination of your employment, shall be resolved to the fullest extent permitted by law, by final, binding and confidential arbitration conducted by JAMS, Inc. ("JAMS") or its successor, under JAMS' then applicable rules and procedures appropriate to the relief being sought (available upon request and also currently available at the following web address:

(i) <https://www.jamsadr.com/rules-employment-arbitration/>) and (ii) <https://www.jamsadr.com/rules-comprehensive-arbitration/>) at a location closest to where you last worked for the Company or another mutually agreeable location. You acknowledge that by agreeing to this arbitration procedure, both you and the Company waive the right to resolve any such dispute through a trial by jury or judge. The Federal Arbitration Act, 9 U.S.C. § 1 et seq., will, to the fullest extent permitted by law, govern the interpretation and enforcement of this arbitration agreement and any arbitration proceedings. This provision shall not be mandatory for any claim or cause of action to the extent applicable law prohibits subjecting such claim or cause of action to mandatory arbitration and such applicable law is not preempted by the Federal Arbitration Act or otherwise invalid (collectively, the "Excluded Claims"), such as non-individual claims that cannot be waived under applicable law, claims or causes of action alleging sexual harassment or a nonconsensual sexual act or sexual contact, or unemployment or workers' compensation claims brought before the applicable state governmental agency. In the event you or the Company intend to bring multiple claims, including one of the Excluded Claims listed above, the Excluded Claims may be filed with a court, while any other claims will remain subject to mandatory arbitration. You acknowledge and agree that proceedings of any non-individual claim(s) under the California Private Attorneys General Act ("PAGA") that may be brought in court shall be stayed for the duration and pending a final resolution of the arbitration of any individual or individual PAGA claim. Nothing herein prevents you from filing and pursuing proceedings before a federal or state governmental agency, although if you choose to pursue a claim following the exhaustion of any applicable administrative remedies, that claim would be subject to this provision. In addition, with the exception of Excluded Claims arising out of 9 U.S.C. § 401 et seq., all claims, disputes, or causes of action under this section, whether by you or the Company, must be brought in an individual capacity, and shall not be brought as a plaintiff (or claimant) or class member in any purported class, representative, or collective proceeding, nor joined or consolidated with the claims of any other person or entity. You acknowledge that by agreeing to this arbitration procedure, both you and the Company waive all rights to have any dispute be brought, heard, administered, resolved, or arbitrated on a class, representative, or collective action basis. The arbitrator may not consolidate the claims of more than one person or entity, and may not preside over any form of representative or class proceeding. If a court finds, by means of a final decision, not subject to any further appeal or recourse, that the preceding sentences regarding class, representative, or collective claims or proceedings violate applicable law or are otherwise unenforceable, as to a particular claim or request for relief, the parties agree that any such claim(s) or request(s) for relief be severed from the arbitration and may proceed in a court of law rather than by arbitration. All other claims or requests for relief shall be arbitrated. You will have the right to be represented by legal counsel at any arbitration proceeding. Questions of whether a claim is subject to arbitration and procedural questions which grow out of the dispute and bear on the final disposition are matters for the arbitrator to decide, provided however, that if required by applicable law, a court and not the arbitrator may determine the enforceability of this paragraph with respect to Excluded Claims. The arbitrator shall: (a) have the authority to compel adequate discovery for the resolution of the dispute and to award such relief as you or the Company would otherwise be entitled to seek in a court of law; and (b) issue a written statement signed by the arbitrator regarding the disposition of each claim and the relief, if any, awarded as to each claim, the reasons for the award, and the arbitrator's essential findings and conclusions on which the award is based. The Company shall pay all JAMS arbitration administrative fees in excess of the administrative fees that you would be required to pay if the dispute were decided in a court of law. Each party is responsible for its own attorneys' fees, except as may be expressly set forth in your Employee Confidential Information and Inventions Assignment Agreement or as otherwise provided under applicable law. Nothing in this letter agreement is intended to prevent either you or the Company from obtaining injunctive relief in court to prevent irreparable harm pending the conclusion of any such arbitration. Any awards or orders in such arbitrations may be entered and enforced as judgments in the federal and state courts of any competent jurisdiction.

This letter, together with your Employee Confidential Information and Inventions Assignment Agreement, forms the complete and exclusive statement of your employment agreement with the Company. It supersedes any other agreements or promises made to you by anyone, whether oral or written. You acknowledge and agree that you are not relying on any representations other than the terms set forth in this letter and your Employee Confidential Information and Inventions Assignment Agreement. Changes in your employment terms, other than those changes expressly reserved to the Company's discretion in this letter, require a written modification signed by an officer of the Company. If any provision of this offer letter agreement is determined to be invalid or unenforceable, in whole or in part, this determination shall not affect any other provision of this offer letter agreement and the provision in question shall be modified so as to be rendered enforceable in a manner consistent with the intent of the parties insofar as possible under applicable law. This letter may be executed in counterparts and may be delivered and executed via electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, Uniform Electronic Transactions Act or other applicable law) or other transmission method and shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and executed and be valid and effective for all purposes.

Re: Employment Terms

Dear Bernard:

Candid Therapeutics, Inc. (the "Company") is pleased to offer you employment beginning on 7/16/2024 (the "Start Date").

Position

Your initial position will be Chief Technical Officer, responsible for performing such duties as are assigned to you from time to time, reporting to me. You will work at the Company's headquarters in San Diego, CA. Of course, the Company may change your position, duties, and work location from time to time in its discretion.

Compensation and Benefits

Your initial base salary will be paid at the rate of $425,000 per year, less payroll deductions and withholdings, paid on the Company's normal payroll schedule.

If you join the Company, you will also be eligible to earn an annual discretionary bonus of up to 40% of your annual salary, subject to approval of a bonus plan by the board of directors and in accordance with the terms of such approved plan. The paid out amount of this bonus will be determined in the sole discretion of the Company and based, in part, on your performance and the performance of the Company during the calendar year, as well as any other criteria the Company deems relevant. The bonus is not earned until paid and no pro-rated amount will be paid if your employment terminates for any reason prior to the payment date.

During your employment, you will be eligible to participate in the benefits plans offered to similarly situated employees by the Company from time to time, subject to plan terms and generally applicable Company policies. Upon commencement of your employment with the Company, you will be eligible to accrue 20 days of paid-time off annually, in accordance with the Company's standard paid-time off policy. Supervisors will approve paid vacation requests based on the employee's progress on work goals or milestones, status of projects, fairness to the working team, and productivity and efficiency of the employee. The Company may change compensation and benefits from time to time in its discretion.

Equity

The Company previously granted you an option to purchase shares of the Company's common stock (the "Option"). Such Option shall continue to vest in accordance with its terms, and you will continue to be a Service Provider under such Option without any gap in service.

Confidential Information and Company Policies

As a Company employee, you will be expected to abide by Company rules and policies. As a condition of employment, you must sign and comply with the attached Employee Confidential Information and Inventions Assignment Agreement which prohibits unauthorized use or disclosure of the Company's proprietary information, among other obligations.

By signing this letter you are representing that you have full authority to accept this position and perform the duties of the position without conflict with any other obligations and that you are not involved in any situation that might create, or appear to create, a conflict of interest with respect to your loyalty or duties to the Company. You specifically warrant that you are not subject to an employment agreement or restrictive covenant preventing full performance of your duties to the Company. You agree not to bring to the Company or use in the performance of your responsibilities at the Company any materials or documents of a former employer that are not generally available to the public, unless you have obtained express written authorization from the former employer for their possession and use. You also agree to honor all obligations to former employers during your employment with the Company.

At-Will Employment and Exempt Status

Your employment with the Company will be "at-will." You may terminate your employment with the Company at any time and for any reason whatsoever simply by notifying the Company. Likewise, the Company may terminate your employment at any time, with or without cause or advance notice. Your employment at-will status can only be modified in a written agreement signed by you and by an officer of the Company.

Re: Employment Terms

Dear Tim:

Candid Therapeutics, Inc. (the "Company") is pleased to offer you employment beginning on 7/22/2024 (the "Start Date").

Position

Your initial position will be Chief Medical Officer and Chief Scientific Officer, responsible for performing such duties as are assigned to you from time to time, reporting to me. You will work remotely and travel for work as necessary. Of course, the Company may change your position, duties, and work location from time to time in its discretion.

Compensation and Benefits

Your initial base salary will be paid at the rate of $500,000 per year, less payroll deductions and withholdings, paid on the Company's normal payroll schedule.

If you join the Company, you will also be eligible to earn an annual discretionary bonus of up to 50% of your annual salary, subject to approval of a bonus plan by the board of directors and in accordance with the terms of such approved plan. Confidential Information and Company Policies

As a Company employee, you will be expected to abide by Company rules and policies. As a condition of employment, you must sign and comply with the attached Employee Confidential Information and Inventions Assignment Agreement which prohibits unauthorized use or disclosure of the Company's proprietary information, among other obligations.

By signing this letter you are representing that you have full authority to accept this position and perform the duties of the position without conflict with any other obligations and that you are not involved in any situation that might create, or appear to create, a conflict of interest with respect to your loyalty or duties to the Company. You specifically warrant that you are not subject to an employment agreement or restrictive covenant preventing full performance of your duties to the Company. You agree not to bring to the Company or use in the performance of your responsibilities at the Company any materials or documents of a former employer that are not generally available to the public, unless you have obtained express written authorization from the former employer for their possession and use. You also agree to honor all obligations to former employers during your employment with the Company.

At-Will Employment and Exempt Status

Your employment with the Company will be "at-will." You may terminate your employment with the Company at any time and for any reason whatsoever simply by notifying the Company. Likewise, the Company may terminate your employment at any time, with or without cause or advance notice. Your employment at-will status can only be modified in a written agreement signed by you and by an officer of the Company.

As a full-time exempt salaried employee, you will be expected to work the Company's normal business hours as well as additional hours as required by the nature of your work assignments, and you will not be eligible for overtime compensation.

Conditions, Dispute Resolution, and Complete Agreement

This offer is contingent upon a satisfactory reference check and satisfactory proof of your right to work in the United States. If the Company informs you that you are required to complete a background check, this offer is contingent upon satisfactory clearance of such background check. You agree to assist as needed and to complete any documentation at the Company's request to meet these conditions.

To aid the rapid and economical resolution of disputes that may arise in connection with your employment with the Company, and in exchange for the mutual promises contained in this offer letter agreement, you and the Company agree that any and all disputes, claims, or causes of action, in law or equity, including but not limited to statutory claims, arising from or relating to the enforcement, breach, performance, or interpretation of this letter agreement, your employment with the Company, or the termination of your employment, shall be resolved to the fullest extent permitted by law, by final, binding and confidential arbitration conducted by JAMS, Inc. ("JAMS") or its successor, under JAMS' then applicable rules and procedures appropriate to the relief being sought (available upon request and also currently available at the following web address:

(i) <https://www.jamsadr.com/rules-employment-arbitration/>) and (ii) <https://www.jamsadr.com/rules-comprehensive-arbitration/>) at a location closest to where you last worked for the Company or another mutually agreeable location. You acknowledge that by agreeing to this arbitration procedure, both you and the Company waive the right to resolve any such dispute through a trial by jury or judge. The Federal Arbitration Act, 9 U.S.C. § 1 et seq., will, to the fullest extent permitted by law, govern the interpretation and enforcement of this arbitration agreement and any arbitration proceedings. This provision shall not be mandatory for any claim or cause of action to the extent applicable law prohibits subjecting such claim or cause of action to mandatory arbitration and such applicable law is not preempted by the Federal Arbitration Act or otherwise invalid (collectively, the "Excluded Claims"), such as non-individual claims that cannot be waived under applicable law, claims or causes of action alleging sexual harassment or a nonconsensual sexual act or sexual contact, or unemployment or workers' compensation claims brought before the applicable state governmental agency. In the event you or the Company intend to bring multiple claims, including one of the Excluded Claims listed above, the Excluded Claims may be filed with a court, while any other claims will remain subject to mandatory arbitration. You acknowledge and agree that proceedings of any non-individual claim(s) under the California Private Attorneys General Act ("PAGA") that may be brought in court shall be stayed for the duration and pending a final resolution of the arbitration of any individual or individual PAGA claim. Nothing herein prevents you from filing and pursuing proceedings before a federal or state governmental agency, although if you choose to pursue a claim following the exhaustion of any applicable administrative remedies, that claim would be subject to this provision. In addition, with the exception of Excluded Claims arising out of 9 U.S.C. § 401 et seq., all claims, disputes, or causes of action under this section, whether by you or the Company, must be brought in an individual capacity, and shall not be brought as a plaintiff (or claimant) or class member in any purported class, representative, or collective proceeding, nor joined or consolidated with the claims of any other person or entity. You acknowledge that by agreeing to this arbitration procedure, both you and the Company waive all rights to have any dispute be brought, heard, administered, resolved, or arbitrated on a class, representative, or collective action basis. The arbitrator may not consolidate the claims of more than one person or entity, and may not preside over any form of representative or class proceeding. If a court finds, by means of a final decision, not subject to any further appeal or recourse, that the preceding sentences regarding class, representative, or collective claims or proceedings violate applicable law or are otherwise unenforceable, as to a particular claim or request for relief, the parties agree that any such claim(s) or request(s) for relief be severed from the arbitration and may proceed in a court of law rather than by arbitration. All other claims or requests for relief shall be arbitrated. You will have the right to be represented by legal counsel at any arbitration proceeding. Questions of whether a claim is subject to arbitration and procedural questions which grow out of the dispute and bear on the final disposition are matters for the arbitrator to decide, provided however, that if required by applicable law, a court and not the arbitrator may determine the enforceability of this paragraph with respect to Excluded Claims. The arbitrator shall: (a) have the authority to compel adequate discovery for the resolution of the dispute and to award such relief as you or the Company would otherwise be entitled to seek in a court of law; and (b) issue a written statement signed by the arbitrator regarding the disposition of each claim and the relief, if any, awarded as to each claim, the reasons for the award, and the arbitrator's essential findings and conclusions on which the award is based. The Company shall pay all JAMS arbitration administrative fees in excess of the administrative fees that you would be required to pay if the dispute were decided in a court of law. Each party is responsible for its own attorneys' fees, except as may be expressly set forth in your Employee Confidential Information and Inventions Assignment Agreement or as otherwise provided under applicable law. Nothing in this letter agreement is intended to prevent either you or the Company from obtaining injunctive relief in court to prevent irreparable harm pending the conclusion of any such arbitration. Any awards or orders in such arbitrations may be entered and enforced as judgments in the federal and state courts of any competent jurisdiction.

This letter, together with your Employee Confidential Information and Inventions Assignment Agreement, forms the complete and exclusive statement of your employment agreement with the Company. It supersedes any other agreements or promises made to you by anyone, whether oral or written. You acknowledge and agree that you are not relying on any representations other than the terms set forth in this letter and your Employee Confidential Information and Inventions Assignment Agreement. Changes in your employment terms, other than those changes expressly reserved to the Company's discretion in this letter, require a written modification signed by an officer of the Company. If any provision of this offer letter agreement is determined to be invalid or unenforceable, in whole or in part, this determination shall not affect any other provision of this offer letter agreement and the provision in question shall be modified so as to be rendered enforceable in a manner consistent with the intent of the parties insofar as possible under applicable law. This letter may be executed in counterparts and may be delivered and executed via electronic mail (including pdf or any electronic signature complying with the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, Uniform Electronic Transactions Act or other applicable law) or other transmission method and shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and executed and be valid and effective for all purposes.

LICENSE AGREEMENT

THIS LICENSE AGREEMENT (the “Agreement”) is entered into as of August 2, 2024 (the “Effective Date”), by and between TRC 2004, INC., a Delaware corporation having a registered address at 251 Little Falls Drive Wilmington, county of New Castle, Delaware 19808 (“Licensee”) and GENOR BIOPHARMA CO LTD. (嘉和生物药业有限公司, in Chinese), a limited liability company having an address at Room 501-02, Bldg. 6, No. 690 Bibo Road, China (Shanghai) Pilot Free Trade Zone, Shanghai, China (“Licensor”). Licensee and Licensor may be referred to herein individually as a “Party” or collectively as the “Parties”.

RECITALS

WHEREAS, Licensor owns or otherwise controls certain antibody and patents, know-how, and other intellectual property relating to such antibody;

WHEREAS, Licensee is engaged in the business of the development and commercialization of pharmaceutical products; and

WHEREAS, Licensee desires to obtain an exclusive license to develop, manufacture, commercialize and otherwise exploit the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Territory (each as defined below) and Licensor desires to grant to Licensee such license.

AGREEMENT

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing premises and the mutual covenants contained herein, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, Licensee and Licensor hereby agree as follows:

1. DEFINITIONS

1.1 “[]” has the meaning set forth in Section 1.2.

1.2 “[]” means [].

1.3 “Accounting Standards” means United States Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) or International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), as consistently applied by Licensee or its Affiliates or Sublicensees, as applicable.

1.4 “Affiliate” means, with respect to a party, any entity that, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with such party, but for only so long as such control exists. As used in this Section 1.4, “control” means (a) to possess, directly or indirectly, the power to direct the management or policies of a party, whether through ownership of voting securities, by contract relating to voting rights or corporate governance; or (b) direct or indirect beneficial ownership of more than fifty percent (50%) (or such lesser percentage which is the maximum allowed to be owned by a foreign corporation in a particular jurisdiction) of the voting share capital or other equity interest in a party. [].

1.5 “Applicable Laws” means applicable laws, statutes, ordinances, rules, regulations, guidances and orders of any Governmental Authority having jurisdiction over or related to the subject item.

1.6 “Applicable Territory” means (a) with respect to Licensee, the Territory and (b) with respect to Licensor, the Retained Territory.

1.7 “[]” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.8(a).

1.8 “Auditor” has the meaning set forth in Section 7.4.

1.9 [].

1.10 “Calendar Quarter” means each respective period of three (3) consecutive months ending on March 31, June 30, September 30, and December 31; provided that (a) the first Calendar Quarter of the Term shall begin on the Effective Date and end on the first to occur of March 31, June 30, September 30, and December 31 thereafter; and (b) the final Calendar Quarter of the Term shall end on the last day of the Term.

1.11 “Calendar Year” means each respective period of twelve (12) consecutive months ending on December 31; provided that (a) the first Calendar Year of the Term shall begin on the Effective Date and end on December 31 of the calendar year in which the Effective Date falls, and (b) the final Calendar Year of the Term shall end on the last day of the Term.

1.12 “Change of Control” of a Party means any of the following: (a) the acquisition of such Party by a Third Party by means of one transaction or series of related transactions (including, without limitation, any combination, reorganization, merger or consolidation, but excluding any such transaction effected primarily for the purpose of changing the domicile of such Party), unless the holders of beneficial ownership of such Party immediately prior to such transaction or series of related transactions hold, immediately after such transaction or series of related transactions, directly or indirectly, at least fifty percent (50%) of the voting power of the entity resulting from such transaction; (b) a sale or other transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of such Party to a Third Party by means of one transaction or series of related transactions, or (c) the direct or indirect acquisition by a Third Party of beneficial ownership of fifty percent (50%) or more of the then-outstanding voting securities of such Party, provided that, in any case ((a), (b) or (c)), the sale by a Party of its voting securities in one or series of related transactions for the purposes of raising funds or capital will not constitute a Change of Control hereunder.

1.13 “Claim” has the meaning set forth in Section 10.1.

1.14 “Clinical Study Report” means a report containing the results of a Clinical Trial of a pharmaceutical product that is consistent in content and format with Applicable Laws and with the guidelines of the International Conference on Harmonisation of Technical Requirements for Registration of Pharmaceuticals for Human Use (ICH) on Structure and Content of Clinical Study Reports.

1.15 “Clinical Trial” means a clinical study in which a pharmaceutical product is administered to human subjects that is designed to (a) establish that the pharmaceutical product is reasonably safe for continued testing; (b) investigate the safety and efficacy of the pharmaceutical product for its intended use, and to define warnings, precautions and adverse reactions that may be associated with the pharmaceutical product in the dosage range to be prescribed; (c) support Regulatory Approval of the pharmaceutical product or label expansion of the pharmaceutical product; or (d) obtain, support or maintain marketing approval, including any and all post-marketing commitments.

1.16 “Combination Product” means a Licensed Product that is (a) sold in the form of a combination that contains or comprises a Licensed Antibody together with one or more other therapeutically active pharmaceutical agents or ingredients (whether co-formulated or co-packaged or otherwise sold under one pricing scheme) that is not a Licensed Antibody or (b) sold under one pricing scheme together with any (i) delivery device or component therefor, (ii) companion diagnostic test related to any Licensed Product or (iii) product, process, service, or therapy other than a Licensed Antibody (such additional therapeutically active pharmaceutical agent or ingredient in subclause (a) and each device, component, test, product, process, service and therapy in subclauses (b)(i), (b)(ii) and (b)(iii), an “Other Product”).

1.17 “Commercialization” means the conduct of all activities undertaken before and after Regulatory Approval relating to the promotion, sales, marketing, and distribution (including importing, exporting, transporting, customs clearance, warehousing, invoicing, handling, and delivering products to customers) of products, including sales force efforts, detailing, advertising, market research, market access (including price and reimbursement activities), marketing, sales force training, and sales (including receiving, accepting, and filling product orders). In addition, although not involving promotion or sales, medical affairs, including medical education and information services, scientific, advisory and collaborative activities with opinion leaders and professional societies, including symposia, and medical support, shall be included within the definition of “Commercialization” for purposes of this Agreement. “Commercialize” and “Commercializing” have correlative meanings.

1.18 “Commercially Reasonable Efforts” means, with respect to a Party’s obligations to Develop, seek MAA Approval, manufacture and sell, or Commercialize a Licensed Product under this Agreement, those efforts and resources that a pharmaceutical company of similar size as such Party would use in the development, manufacture, and commercialization of a pharmaceutical product owned by such company, which is at a similar stage of research, development, or commercialization, is in a similar therapeutic and disease area, and is of similar market potential, taking into account (a) such product’s: (i) profile of efficacy and safety; (ii) proprietary position, including patent and regulatory exclusivity; (iii) regulatory status, including likelihood of obtaining and timing of regulatory approval, anticipated or approved labeling and anticipated or approved post-approval requirements; (iv) profitability (including pricing and reimbursement status achieved or likely to be achieved); and (v) present and future market and commercial potential, including competitive market conditions and the expected and actual profitability and return on investment; (b) the expected and actual competitiveness of alternative Third Party products (including generic or biosimilar products) under development or sold in the marketplace; (c) issues regarding the ability to manufacture, have manufactured or obtain adequate supply of product; and (d) all other relevant factors, including technical, legal, scientific, commercial and medical factors. [].

1.19 “Competing Product” means any antibody that is Directed to both [] and [] and [], or any product comprising or containing such antibody, other than the Licensed Antibody or Licensed Products pursuant to this Agreement. For clarity, an antibody that is Directed to (a) [], (b) [], or (c) [], and any product comprising or containing any such antibody described in the foregoing (a), (b) or (c) shall not be deemed Competing Product under this Agreement.

1.20 “Conditional Approval” means, Regulatory Approval that requires, as a condition of such approval, additional (or a continuation of) clinical trials or clinical studies for a Licensed Product to obtain further safety or efficacy data, including, (i) accelerated Regulatory Approval in accordance with 21 CFR § 314.500 et seq. by the FDA in the United States, (ii) conditional Regulatory Approval in accordance with Commission Regulation (EC) No 507/2006 by the EMA in the EU, or (iii) conditional Regulatory Approval in accordance with PSEHB/PED Notification No. 1020-1 by the PMDA in Japan, or their foreign equivalents.

1.21 “Confidential Information” means all Know-How and other proprietary scientific, marketing, financial, or commercial information or data that is generated by or on behalf of a Party or its Affiliates or which one Party or any of its Affiliates has supplied or otherwise made available to the other Party or its Affiliates, whether made available orally, in writing, or in electronic form, including information comprising or relating to concepts, discoveries, inventions, data, designs, or formulae in relation to this Agreement. Confidential Information shall include: (a) the terms and conditions of this Agreement, and (b) confidential information disclosed by the Parties or their Affiliates pursuant to any confidentiality agreement entered into by the Parties or their Affiliates prior to the Effective Date. Notwithstanding the foregoing, all Licensed Know-How shall be deemed the Confidential Information of both Parties.

1.22 “Control” or “Controlled” means, with respect to any Know-How, Patents, Regulatory Filing or other intellectual property rights, the legal authority or right (whether by ownership, license, or otherwise, but without taking into account the license granted pursuant to Section 2.1 or Section 2.2) of a Party or any of its Affiliates to grant access, a license, or a sublicense of, to or under such Know-How, Patents, Regulatory Filing or other intellectual property rights to the other Party, or to otherwise disclose proprietary or trade secret information to such other Party, without breaching the terms of any then-existing agreement with a Third Party. Notwithstanding the foregoing:

(a) in the event a Party undergoes a Change of Control (such Third Party acquiror and its Affiliates immediately prior to such Change of Control, collectively the “Acquiring Entities” and individually an “Acquiring Entity”), then such Party will not be deemed to “Control” any material, Know-How, Patents or intellectual property right that, (i) prior to the effective date of such Change of Control, is owned or in-licensed by any Acquiring Entity that becomes an Affiliate of such acquired Party after the Effective Date as a result of such Change of Control or (ii) is developed by any Acquiring Entity after the effective date of such Change of Control without accessing or practicing the Licensed IP or Confidential Information of either Party (such material, Know-How, Patents and other intellectual property right, collectively, the “CoC IP”) unless (A) prior to the effective date of such Change of Control, such acquired Party or any of its Affiliates also Controlled such CoC IP, or (B) CoC IP owned or in-licensed by the applicable Acquiring Entity was not used in the performance of activities under this Agreement prior to the effective date of such Change of Control, but after the effective date of such Change of Control, such acquired Party or any of its Affiliates uses any such CoC IP in the performance of its obligations or exercise of its rights under this Agreement, in each of which cases ((A) and (B)), such CoC IP will be deemed “Controlled” by such acquired Party for purposes of this Agreement; and

(b) subject to Section 2.7, with respect to any Know-How, Patents or other intellectual property right acquired by a Party or any Affiliate thereof from a Third Party after the Effective Date (by ownership, license or other right), such Party or such Affiliate shall be deemed to “Control” such Know-How, Patents or other intellectual property right only if: (i) such Party or its Affiliate possesses the right to grant such access, disclosure, license, sublicense, or other right thereto to the other Party hereunder (if applicable); (ii) the other Party first agrees in writing to pay all royalties and other consideration that may become due to such Third Party as a result of the other Party’s or any of its Affiliates’ or sublicensees’ use or practice of such Know-How, Patents or other intellectual property right as applicable, under this Agreement (which shall be in addition to the other Party’s obligation to pay all royalties and other consideration payable under this Agreement, if applicable); and (iii) the other Party acknowledges and agrees in writing to comply with any obligations applicable to such other Party in connection with such other Party’s use or practice of such Know-How, Patents or other intellectual property right as applicable.

1.23 “Cover” means, with respect to a particular subject matter at issue and a relevant Patent, that, in the absence of ownership of or a license under such Patent, the manufacture, use, sale, offer for sale, or importation of such subject matter would infringe one or more claims of such Patent (or, in the case of a claim of a pending patent application, would infringe such claim if it were to issue as a claim of an issued patent).

1.24 “Data Breach” has the meaning set forth in Section 9.2\(f\)\(v\).

1.25 “Data Protection Laws” means any Applicable Law that relates to the protection of individuals with regards to the Processing of Personal Data to which a Party is subject.

1.26 “Development” means all research and development activities for a product (whether alone or for use together, or in combination, with another active agent or pharmaceutical product as a combination product or combination therapy) that are directed to obtaining Regulatory Approval(s) of such product and lifecycle management of such product in any country in the world, including activities directed to improvement, modifications or enhancement of a product, non-clinical, preclinical, and clinical testing and studies of a product; toxicology, pharmacokinetic, and pharmacological studies; statistical analyses; assay development; protocol design and development; the preparation, filing, and prosecution of any MAA for a product; development activities directed to label expansion and/or obtaining Regulatory Approval for one or more additional indications following initial Regulatory Approval; development activities conducted after receipt of Regulatory Approval; and all regulatory affairs related to any of the foregoing. “Develop” and “Developing” have correlative meanings.

1.27 “Directed to” means, with respect to a molecule, compound or other agent and a target, that such compound, molecule or agent binds directly to such target. For clarity, the foregoing shall not include incidental binding activity, and if a molecule, compound or agent has been generated to bind to certain target(s) but such molecule, compound or agent also incidentally binds to other target(s), then such molecule, compound or agent will not be deemed to be Directed to such other target(s) unless and until a Party knowingly develops such molecule, compound or agent to be directed to such other target(s) as its intended mechanism of action.

1.28 “Dispute” has the meaning set forth in Section 13.1.

1.29 “EMA” means the European Medicines Agency, or any successor agency thereto.

1.30 “EU” means the European Union, as such entity is comprised as of the date of applicability hereunder.

1.31 “Exclusivity Period” means, with respect to a Party’s obligation under Section 2.6, the period commencing on the Effective Date and expiring on the earliest to occur of: (a) [], (b) the [], or (c) the [].

1.32 “Executive Officers” means the President of Licensee or such individual’s designee and the CEO of Licensor or such individual’s designee.

1.33 “Exploit” means to research, Develop, make, have made, import, export, use, have used, sell, offer for sale, distribute, promote, market, have sold and otherwise Commercialize, register, obtain Regulatory Approval for, keep (whether for disposal or otherwise), transport or otherwise dispose of. “Exploitation” has a correlative meaning.

1.34 “Export Control Laws” means all applicable laws and regulations in all applicable jurisdictions in which either Party conducts business, which govern exports of controlled commodities, software or technology, embargoes, sanctions and boycotts, including, but not limited to, the Export Administration Regulations, the International Traffic in Arms Regulations, regulations administered by the Office of Foreign Assets Control of the U.S. Department of the Treasury, and International Boycott Provisions of Section 999 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code.

1.35 “FCPA” means the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (15 U.S.C. Section 78dd-1, et. seq.), as amended.

1.36 “FDA” means the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, or any successor agency thereto.

1.37 “First Commercial Sale” means, on a Licensed Product-by-Licensed Product and country-by-country basis, the first sale by Licensee, its Affiliate or Sublicensee to a Third Party for end use of such Licensed Product in such country after Regulatory Approval has been granted with respect to such Licensed Product in such country. For clarity, sales of any Licensed Product prior to receipt of all Regulatory Approvals for such Licensed Product in a country in the Territory, such as so-called “treatment IND sales,” “named patient sales,” “compassionate use sales” and “off-label sales” or any sales prior to receipt of any Pricing Approval to the extent required for commercialization of such Licensed Product in such country, shall not be construed as a First Commercial Sale for such Licensed Product in such country.

1.38 “Force Majeure” has the meaning set forth in Section 14.8.

1.39 “[*]” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.8\(a\).

1.40 “Global Clinical Trial” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.3\(d\)\(i\).

1.41 “Global Clinical Trial Plan” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.3\(d\)\(ii\).

1.42 “Global Development Plan” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.3\(b\).

1.43 “GLP” means all applicable good laboratory practice standards, as set forth in the then-current good laboratory practice standards promulgated or endorsed by the FDA, as defined in 21 C.F.R. Part 58, and the equivalent Applicable Laws in the relevant country, as applicable, each as may be amended from time to time.

1.44 “Going Concern Event” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.8\(a\).

1.45 “Governmental Authority” means any national, international, federal, state, provincial, or local government, or political subdivision thereof, or any multinational organization or any authority, agency, or commission entitled to exercise any administrative, executive, judicial, legislative, police, regulatory, or taxing authority or power, any court or tribunal (or any department, bureau, or division thereof, or any governmental arbitrator or arbitral body).

1.46 “IND” means an investigational new drug application submitted to the FDA or equivalent application (including any clinical trial application) submitted to the applicable Regulatory Authority in a country outside the U.S., which application is required to commence Clinical Trials in the applicable country.

1.47 “Indemnified Party” has the meaning set forth in Section 10.3.

1.48 “Indemnifying Party” has the meaning set forth in Section 10.3.

1.49 “Independent Product” has the meaning set forth in Section 1.113.

1.50 “Indication” means a separate and distinct disease, disorder, illness, or health condition and its associated signs, symptoms, stages, or progression (including precursor conditions), in each case for which a separate MAA is filed or a separate Registrational Study is required to obtain a MAA Approval in a given country. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the following, in each case, shall be treated as distinct Indications: (a) the treatment of a disease, disorder, or condition in a particular patient population and the treatment of the same disease, disorder, or condition in another population (e.g., adult population and pediatric population), (b) different stages of disease or different treatment settings (e.g., adjuvant and metastatic), (c) different lines of therapy for the same disease (e.g., 1st line treatment and 2nd line treatment), (d) for the same disease, different biomarker subsets, different genetic subtypes, different organs or origins, or different histology, and (e) combinations of a Licensed Product with different products to treat the same disease or condition.

1.51 “Initiation” means, with respect to a Clinical Trial, the first dosing of the first (1st) human subject in such Clinical Trial.

1.52 “Inventions” means all data, results, discovery, finding, process, improvement, method, composition of matter, article of manufacture, and other inventions, whether or not patentable, discovered, made, conceived, or reduced to practice, in the course of activities performed under this Agreement, together with all intellectual property rights therein.

1.53 “IP Dispute” has the meaning set forth in Section 13.3.

1.54 “Joint IP” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.1\(b\).

1.55 “Joint Know-How” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.1\(b\).

1.56 “Joint Patent” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.1\(b\).

1.57 “Joint Steering Committee” or the “JSC” has the meaning set forth in Section 3.1.

1.58 “Know-How” means (a) any and all know-how or information including trade secrets, Inventions (whether patentable or not, and including data or descriptions contained in unpublished patent applications), methods, knowledge, skill, experience, research and development data and results (including medicinal chemistry data, preclinical data, pharmacological, toxicological and clinical test data and results (including investigator reports (both preliminary and final), statistical analyses, expert opinions and reports, safety and other electronic databases), chemical structure, sequences, processes, formulae, techniques, research data, reports, standard operating procedures and batch records), product specifications, study designs and protocols, assays and biological methodology, analytical and quality control data, analytical methods (including applicable reference standards), full batch documentation, packaging records, release, stability, storage and shelf-life data, and manufacturing process information, results or descriptions, (b) databases, practices, techniques, specifications, formulations, formulae, software and algorithms, (c) if applicable, physical materials, reagents and compositions of matter, including chemical or biological materials, in each case, whether patentable or not, and (d) tangible manifestations of any of the foregoing.

1.59 “Licensee Global Trial Data” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.3\(d\)\(iv\).

1.60 “Licensee Indemnatee” has the meaning set forth in Section 10.2.

1.61 “Licensee IP” means Licensee Patents and Licensee Know-How.

1.62 “Licensee Know-How” means all Know-How, including Licensee’s interest in Joint Know-How, that (a) is Controlled by Licensee or any of its Affiliates after the Effective Date during the Term (other than through the licenses granted by Licensor under Section 2.1), (b) is developed, discovered, made, conceived, or reduced to practice in the course of Developing, manufacturing or Commercializing any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product under this Agreement, or actually embodied in the Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product by Licensee or any of its Affiliates, and (c) is necessary or reasonably useful for the Development, manufacture, use, Commercialization or other Exploitation of any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product in the Licensed Field in the Retained Territory (or Terminated Countries, as applicable), in each case excluding any Know-How to the extent solely relating to (i) any other component that is proprietary to Licensee or any of its Affiliates (such as proprietary antibody or fragments or variants, or any linker or payload) incorporated in any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product by or on behalf of Licensee or any of its Affiliates, or (ii) any Other Product.

1.63 “Licensee Patents” means all Patents, including Licensee’s interest in Joint Patents, that (a) is Controlled by Licensee or any of its Affiliates after the Effective Date during the Term (other than through the licenses granted by Licensor under Section 2.1), and (b) (i) Cover any Licensee Know-How, Licensed Antibody, or Licensed Product in each case in the form Developed or Commercialized by Licensee or any of its Affiliates, or (ii) are necessary (or, with respect to Patent applications, would be necessary if such Patent applications were to issue as Patents) for, the Development, manufacture, use, Commercialization or other Exploitation of any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product in the Licensed Field in the Retained Territory (or Terminated Countries, as applicable), in each case excluding any Patents to the extent solely Covering (x) any other component that is proprietary to Licensee or any of its Affiliates (such as proprietary antibody or fragments or variants, or any linker or payload) incorporated in any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product by or on behalf of Licensee or any of its Affiliates, or (y) any Other Product.

1.64 “Licensee Reversion Technology” means on a Terminated Product-by-Terminated Product basis, all Licensee IP existing as of the date of such termination and actually embodied in such Terminated Product existing as of the date of termination then under Development by Licensee or approved by the applicable Regulatory Authority and in the Terminated Country(ies) by or on behalf of Licensee or any of its Affiliates under this Agreement, provided that Licensee Reversion Technology shall not include any Licensee IP that is generally applicable to Licensee’s other products (including manufacturing, formulation or delivery technology) unless Licensee otherwise agrees in its sole discretion.

1.65 “Licensed Antibody” means (a) GB261, a bispecific antibody that is Directed to CD20 and CD3, as further described in Schedule 1.65; and (b) [], which shall be [].

1.66 “Licensed Field” means the diagnosis, treatment, or prevention of disease in humans and animals.

1.67 “Licensed IP” means Licensed Patents and Licensed Know-How.

1.68 “Licensed Know-How” means all Know-How, including Licensor’s interest in Joint Know-How, that is Controlled by Licensor or any of its Affiliates as of the Effective Date or during the Term that is necessary or reasonably useful for the Development, manufacture, use, Commercialization or other Exploitation of any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product in the Licensed Field in the Territory, in each case excluding any Know-How to the extent solely relating to (i) any other component that is proprietary to Licensor or any of its Affiliates (such as proprietary antibody or fragments or variants that is not a Licensed Antibody, or any linker or payload), or (ii) any Other Product.

1.69 “Licensed Patents” means all Patents, including Licensor’s interest in Joint Patents, that are Controlled by Licensor or any of its Affiliates as of the Effective Date or during the Term that (a) Cover any Licensed Know-How, Licensed Antibody, or Licensed Product, or (b) are necessary or reasonably useful (or, with respect to Patent applications, would be necessary or useful if such Patent applications were to issue as Patents) for the Development, manufacture, use, Commercialization or other Exploitation of any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product in the Licensed Field in the Territory, in each case excluding any Patents to the extent solely Covering (x) any other component that is proprietary to Licensor or any of its Affiliates (such as proprietary antibody or fragments or variants that is not a Licensed Antibody, or any linker or payload), or (y) any Other Product. The Licensed Patents as of the Effective Date are listed in Schedule 1.69.

1.70 “Licensed Product” means any product that contains, comprises, or incorporates a Licensed Antibody as an active agent, whether alone or in combination with other active agent or ingredients (provided that such other active agent or ingredient is not proprietary to Licensor), in any form, presentation, dosage, formulation or delivery mode, and for any mode of administration.

1.71 “Licensor China IP” means all Patents and Know-How that are Controlled by Licensor or any of its Affiliates as of the Effective Date or during the Term that is necessary or reasonably useful (or, with respect to Patent applications, would be necessary or reasonably useful if such Patent applications were to issue as Patents) for the Development, manufacture, use, Commercialization or other Exploitation of any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product in the Licensed Field in the Retained Territory.

1.72 “Licensor Indemnitee” has the meaning set forth in Section 10.1.

1.73 “Losses” has the meaning set forth in Section 10.1.

1.74 “MAA” means a marketing authorization application or equivalent application (including a Biologics License Application as described in 21 C.F.R. § 601.2), and all amendments and supplements thereto, filed with the applicable Regulatory Authority in the Territory. [].

1.75 “MAA Approval” means approval of an MAA by the applicable Regulatory Authority for marketing and sale of a Licensed Product in the Territory. [].

1.76 “Major Market Country” means Canada, United Kingdom, France, Germany, Spain, and Italy, individually or collectively, as the context requires.

1.77 “Master Cell Bank” or “MCB” means the reference deposit or collection of vials of the cell line for manufacturing Licensed Antibody, which has been prepared from the selected single cell clone under GMP conditions, and from which all subsequent lots of Working Cell Banks are derived.

1.78 “Net Sales” means, with respect to a Licensed Product, the net sales recorded by or on behalf of Licensee (or any successor or assignee of Licensee) and any of its Affiliates or Sublicensees (each, a “Selling Party”), of such Licensed Product sold to Third Parties other than Sublicensees, as determined in accordance with the Accounting Standards consistently applied by the applicable Selling Party, less following deductions actually incurred and borne by the Selling Party and not recovered by or refunded to the Selling Party:

(c) [];

(d) [];

(e) []; and

(f) [].

[].

[].

1.79 “Other Product” has the meaning set forth in Section 1.16.

1.80 “Overall Acquisition by MNC” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.8\(b\).

1.81 “Parent” means [], a company incorporated under the laws of [] having its operational offices at [], or any successor entity thereto that owns [] of the equity interest in Licensor.

1.82 “Patents” means (a) all patents, certificates of invention, applications for certificates of invention, priority patent filings, and patent applications, and (b) any renewals, divisions, continuations (in whole or in part), or requests for continued examination of any of such patents, certificates of invention and patent applications, and any all patents or certificates of invention issuing thereon, and any and all reissues, reexaminations, extensions, supplementary protection certificates, divisions, renewals, substitutions, confirmations, registrations, revalidations, revisions, and additions of or to any of the foregoing, and all foreign counterparts of any of the foregoing.

1.83 “Personal Data” means any information that constitutes “personal information” or “personal data” under one or more Data Protection Laws or is otherwise governed, regulated, or protected by one or more Data Protection Laws.

1.84 “Phase 1 Clinical Trial” means a Clinical Trial of a product in healthy volunteers or patients to estimate the initial safety and tolerability of such product and to determine the metabolism and the pharmacokinetic and pharmacodynamic actions of such product, the side effects associated with increasing doses, and, if possible, to gain early evidence on effectiveness and on such product’s activity, or any human clinical trial of such product that would satisfy the requirements of 21CFR § 312.21(a) or corresponding foreign regulations. For clarity, a Clinical Trial that satisfies the requirements under 21 C.F.R. § 312.21(a) and is also designed to gain evidence of effectiveness (i.e. a phase 1b Clinical Trial) shall be a Phase 1 Clinical Trial.

1.85 “Phase 2 Clinical Trial” means a Clinical Trial of a product conducted to evaluate the effectiveness and to explore the therapeutic efficacy of a product for a particular indication or indications in patients with the disease or condition under study and to determine the common short-term side effects and risks associated with such product and to determine the dose and regimen for Phase 3 Clinical Trials, or any human clinical trial of such product that would satisfy the requirements of 21CFR § 312.21(b) or corresponding foreign regulations.

1.86 “Phase 3 Clinical Trial” means a Clinical Trial of a product that is performed after preliminary evidence suggesting effectiveness of a product has been obtained, and is intended to demonstrate or confirm the therapeutic benefit of such product and to gather the additional information about effectiveness and safety that is needed to evaluate the overall benefit-risk relationship of such product and to provide an adequate basis for marketing approval and for such product’s labeling and summary of such product characteristics, or any human clinical trial of such product that would satisfy the requirements of 21CFR § 312.21(c) or corresponding foreign regulations.

1.87 “Pricing Approval” means any governmental approval, agreement, determination, or decision establishing prices for a Licensed Product that can be charged or reimbursed in regulatory jurisdictions where the applicable Regulatory Authorities approve or determine the price or reimbursement of pharmaceutical products.

1.88 “Processing” has the meaning given to such term in the Data Protection Laws, and “Process” and “Processed” shall be construed accordingly.

1.89 “Product Infringement” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.3\(a\).

1.90 “Public Official or Entity” means (a) any officer, employee (including physicians, hospital administrators, or other healthcare professionals), agent, representative, department, agency, de facto official, representative, corporate entity, instrumentality or subdivision of any government, military, or international organization, including any ministry or department of health or any state-owned or affiliated company or hospital, or (b) any candidate for political office, any political party, or any official of a political party.

1.91 “Recall” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.9.

1.92 “Registrational Study” means, a Clinical Trial of a product on sufficient numbers of patients that is designed to establish that such product is safe and efficacious for its intended use, and to define warnings, precautions and adverse reactions that are associated with such product in the dosage range to be prescribed, and is designed to support Regulatory Approval of such product or label expansion of such product, including a Phase 3 Clinical Trial.

1.93 “Regulatory Approval” means, with respect to a Licensed Product, any and all approvals (including MAA Approval), licenses, registrations, permits, notifications, and authorizations (or waivers) required by Applicable Law to distribute, sell, and market such Licensed Product in a country or region. For purposes of clarity, (a) “Regulatory Approval” in the United States include approval of an NDA, sNDA, BLA or sBLA; and (b) “Regulatory Approval” in the European Union include marketing authorization for such Licensed Product granted either by a Regulatory Authority in any country in the European Union, or by the European Medicines Agency pursuant to Council Directive 2001/83/EC, as amended, or Council Regulation 2309/93/EEC, as amended. [].

1.94 “Regulatory Authority” means any Governmental Authority that has responsibility in its applicable jurisdiction over the testing, development, manufacture, use, storage, import, transport, promotion, marketing, distribution, offer for sale, sale, or other commercialization of pharmaceutical products in a given jurisdiction, including the FDA and EMA, or any successor agency of the foregoing having regulatory jurisdiction over the manufacture, distribution, and sale of pharmaceutical products in the Territory, and any Governmental Authority whose review or approval of pricing or reimbursement of such product is required.

1.95 “Regulatory Exclusivity” means, with respect to a Licensed Product in any country or jurisdiction in the Territory, exclusivity (other than Patent protection or patent-related exclusivity) granted or afforded by Applicable Law or by a Regulatory Authority in the applicable country or jurisdiction that confers exclusive marketing rights or data exclusivity right with respect to such Licensed Product in such country or jurisdiction and prevents another Third Party from marketing or selling such Licensed Product without the prior written consent of the MAA holder, including without limitation orphan drug exclusivity, new chemical entity exclusivity, data exclusivity, pediatric exclusivity, rights conferred in the U.S. under the Hatch-Waxman Act or the FDA Modernization Act of 1997, in EU member states under national implementations of Article 10 of Directive 2001/83/EC, and rights similar thereto in other country or jurisdiction.

1.96 “Regulatory Filing” means all applications, filings, submissions, approvals, licenses, registrations, permits, notifications, and authorizations (or waivers) with respect to the testing, Development, manufacture, or Commercialization of any Licensed Product made to or received from any Regulatory Authority in a given country, including any INDs and MAAs.

1.97 “Retained Territory” means mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan.

1.98 “Retained Territory Transaction” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.4.

1.99 “Right of Reference” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.6\(c\).

1.100 “ROFN” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.4.

1.101 “ROFN Exercise Period” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.4.

1.102 “ROFN Expiry Date” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.4.

1.103 “ROFN Negotiation Period” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.4.

1.104 “Royalty Term” has the meaning set forth in Section 6.4\(b\).

1.105 “Rules” has the meaning set forth in Section 13.4.

1.106 “Safety Data” means data related solely to any adverse or serious adverse drug experiences, adverse or serious adverse medical device experiences, and medical device malfunctions, as such information is reportable to Regulatory Authorities. Safety Data also includes “adverse events”, “adverse drug reactions”, and “unexpected adverse drug reactions” as defined in the ICH Harmonised Tripartite Guideline for Clinical Safety Data Management: Definitions and Standards for Expedited Reporting.

1.107 “Safety Data Exchange Agreement” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.7.

1.108 “SEC” means the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, or any successor entity or its foreign equivalent in the Territory, as applicable.

1.109 “SIAC” has the meaning set forth in Section 13.4.

1.110 “Strategic Reason” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.2\(b\).

1.111 “Sublicense” means any agreement however captioned and regardless of how the conveyances are referred to therein, in which Licensee or its Affiliate grants or otherwise conveys any of the rights licensed under Section 2.1 to a Third Party, excluding licenses granted to contract research organizations, contract manufacturing organizations, and similar service providers, wholesalers, full-service distributors that do not promote the sale of the Licensed Product, and similar physical distributors.

1.112 “Sublicensee” means a Third Party to whom Licensee or its Affiliate grants a Sublicense to Develop, use, import, promote, offer for sale, sell, have sold, or otherwise Commercialize any Licensed Product in the Licensed Field in the Territory, beyond the mere right to purchase Licensed Products from Licensee and its Affiliates, and excluding contract research organizations, contract manufacturing organizations, and similar service providers, wholesalers, full-service distributors that do not promote the sale of the Licensed Product, and similar physical distributors. In no event shall Licensor or any of its Affiliates be deemed a Sublicensee.

1.113 “Sublicense Income” means any income received by Licensee or any of its Affiliates or its or their shareholders in consideration for the grant of Licensee’s or its Affiliates’ right with respect to Development, use, manufacturing, Commercialization and other Exploitation of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products, whether in the form of license issue fees, upfront payments, milestone payments, equity, option fee, maintenance fee, and other payments or consideration; provided that, if Licensee or its Affiliate receives a milestone payment from a Sublicensee for achievement of a milestone event for which Licensee is obligated to pay a milestone payment to Licensor under Section 6.2 or Section 6.3, then only the amount by which the milestone payment received by Licensee or its Affiliate exceeds the milestone payment payable to Licensor with respect to such milestone event will be treated as Sublicense Income. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Sublicense Income specifically excludes: [].

1.114 “Term” has the meaning set forth in Section 12.1.

1.115 “Terminated Country” has the meaning set forth in Section 12.4(a).

1.116 “Terminated Product” has the meaning set forth in Section 12.4(a).

1.117 “Territory” means worldwide excluding the Retained Territory.

1.118 “Third Party” means any entity other than Licensee or Licensor or an Affiliate of either of them.

1.119 “Third Party Infringement Claim” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.4.

1.120 “Third Party IP” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.7(a).

1.121 “Third Party Provider” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.4.

1.122 “U.S.” means the United States of America, including its territories and possessions.

1.123 “Upstream Agreement” means any agreement between Licensor or any of its Affiliates and a Third Party pursuant which Licensor or such Affiliate, as applicable, obtains Control of any Patents or Know-How from such Third Party that constitutes Licensed IP. All Upstream Agreements existing as of the Effective Date are set forth in Schedule 1.123.

1.124 “Valid Claim” means (a) a claim in an issued patent that has not: (i) expired or been canceled; (ii) been declared invalid by an unreversed and unappealable (or unappealed) decision of a court or other appropriate body of competent jurisdiction; (iii) been admitted to be invalid or unenforceable through reissue, disclaimer or otherwise; or (iv) been abandoned; or (b) a claim under a pending application for a patent that was filed and is being prosecuted in good faith and that has not been pending for more than [] (from the date of its earliest priority date), canceled, withdrawn from consideration, finally determined to be unallowable by the applicable governmental authority or court for whatever reason (and from which no appeal is or can be taken), or abandoned. If a claim of a patent application that ceased to be a Valid Claim under the foregoing subclause (b) because of the passage of time later issues as a part of a patent within the foregoing subclause (a), then it shall again be considered a Valid Claim effective as of the issuance of such patent.

1.125 “VAT” has the meaning set forth in Section 7.3(c).

1.126 “Working Cell Bank” or “WCB” means a vial collection of serially sub-cultivated cells expressing the Licensed Antibody that is derived from the Master Cell Bank under GMP conditions, and used to establish seed cultures for the manufacturing of drug substance.

2. LICENSE GRANT

2.1 License Granted to Licensee. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Licensor hereby grants to Licensee, on behalf of itself and its Affiliates, (a) an exclusive (even as to Licensor and its Affiliates) license, with the right to grant sublicenses through multiple tiers (subject to Section 2.3), under the Licensed IP to Develop, use, manufacture, Commercialize and otherwise Exploit the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Territory, and (b) a non-exclusive license, with the right to grant sublicenses through multiple tiers (subject to Section 2.3), under the Licensor China IP to perform non-clinical Development, perform clinical Development (solely to the extent permitted under Section 4.3(d)) for performance of Global Clinical Trial in the Retained Territory if the Licensor elects not to participate in such proposed Global Clinical Trial), manufacture and have manufactured the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Retained Territory, solely for the purposes set forth in the foregoing subclause (a).

2.2 License Granted to Licensor. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Licensee hereby grants to Licensor an exclusive (even as to Licensee and its Affiliates), fully-paid, royalty-free, transferable, and perpetual license (subject to Sections 12.4(a) and 12.4(g)), with the right to grant sublicenses through multiple tiers (subject to Section 2.4), under the Licensee IP to Develop, use, manufacture, Commercialize and otherwise Exploit the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Retained Territory.

2.3 Licensee Reserved Rights; Sublicensing by Licensee. Subject to Section 2.5, Licensee hereby reserves the right to practice, and to grant licenses under, the Licensee IP outside of the scope of the license granted in Section 2.2. For clarity, (a) Licensee retains the exclusive right under the Licensee IP to Develop, use, manufacture, Commercialize and otherwise Exploit the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Territory and (b) notwithstanding the license granted in Section 2.2, Licensee retains the right under the Licensee IP to perform its obligations or exercise its rights under this Agreement, including to perform non-clinical Development, perform clinical Development (solely to the extent permitted under Section 4.3(d)) for performance of Global Clinical Trial in the Retained Territory if the Licensor elects not to participate in such proposed Global Clinical Trial), manufacture and have manufactured the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Retained Territory for the purposes of Exploiting the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Territory. Licensee shall have the right to grant sublicenses under the license granted to it pursuant to Section 2.1 without the consent of Licensor. Licensee shall grant any such sublicense on terms that are consistent with the terms of this Agreement, to the extent applicable based on the scope and purpose of such sublicense, and Licensee shall remain primarily liable to Licensor for the performance by the Affiliate receiving such sublicense or Sublicensee of Licensee's obligations under this Agreement that are applicable to such Affiliate or Sublicensee. Licensee shall provide a true and complete copy of each sublicense agreement within [] after the grant of a Sublicense, provided that Licensee shall have the right to redact from such copy any confidential or commercially sensitive terms to the extent not pertinent to Licensee's rights or obligations under this Agreement or verification of compliance with the requirements of this Agreement. Licensee shall not grant sublicense to any sublicensee that has been debarred or disqualified by a Regulatory Authority.

2.4 Licensor Reserved Rights; Sublicensing by Licensor. Subject to Section 2.5, Licensor hereby reserves the right to practice, and to grant licenses under, the Licensed IP outside of the scope of the license granted in Section 2.1. For clarity, notwithstanding the license granted in Section 2.1, Licensor retains the right under the Licensed IP to perform its obligations or exercise its rights under this Agreement. During the Term, if Licensor intends to commence bona fide negotiations with one or more Third Parties to grant any license, covenant not to sue or similar right (including any option therefor), directly or indirectly, to such Third Party under the Licensed IP, Licensor China IP or Licensee IP to Develop, use, manufacture, Commercialize or otherwise Exploit the Licensed Antibody or any Licensed Product in the Licensed Field in the Retained Territory (such transaction, a "Retained Territory Transaction"), then Licensor shall notify Licensee of such intention in writing prior to engaging in or commencing discussions or negotiations with any Third Party regarding such Retained Territory Transaction (each, a "ROFN"). Licensor hereby grants to Licensee a ROFN with respect to any Retained Territory Transaction. [].

2.5 No Implied Licenses. Except as set forth in this Agreement, neither Party shall acquire any license or other intellectual property interest, by implication or otherwise, under or to any Patents, Know-How, or other intellectual property owned or controlled by the other Party.

2.6 Exclusivity.

(a) Subject to Section 2.6(b) below, during the Exclusivity Period, neither Party nor any of its Affiliates shall, [].

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing, if either Party acquires the business or asset of a Third Party after the Effective Date through merger, acquisition, consolidation or other similar transaction (other than Change of Control of such Party), and as of the closing date of such transaction, the new Affiliate of such Party that survives such transaction is engaged in the conduct of a Competing Program or such acquired assets comprise a Competing Program, then such new Affiliate or Party shall have [] from the closing date of such transaction to terminate or divest such Competing Program, and such new Affiliate's or Party's conduct of such Competing Program during such [] period shall not constitute a breach of such Party's exclusivity obligations set forth in Section 2.6(a) if during such [], such new Affiliate and Party maintains and enforces internal processes, policies, procedures, and systems to segregate such Competing Program from the Development, manufacture, Commercialization or other Exploitation of Licensed Antibody or Licensed Products under this Agreement, including ensuring that (i) such new Affiliate does not obtain any rights or access to any Confidential Information related to the Licensed Antibody or Licensed Products, (ii) such new Affiliate does not use or practice, directly or indirectly, any Patents, Know-How, or Confidential Information of such Party or its pre-existing Affiliates (including any Patents, Know-How, or Confidential Information licensed or acquired from the other Party under this Agreement) in such Competing Program, and (iii) no personnel of such Party or its pre-existing Affiliates at any time prior to or after such transaction will conduct any activities under such Competing Program (other than with respect to its termination or divestiture).

2.7 Third Party Licenses.

(a) Notice. A Party shall promptly notify the other Party if it becomes aware of any Third Party Know-How or Patents that are necessary or reasonably useful to Develop, make, have made, use, sell, offer for sale, import, Commercialize or otherwise Exploit any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product in or outside of the Territory (the "Third Party IP"). As between the Parties, (i) Licensee shall have the first right to negotiate and obtain a license from such Third Party under such Third Party IP to the extent such Third Party IP relates to the Territory (including global rights that includes both the Territory and the Retained Territory), and (ii) Licensor shall have the first right to negotiate and obtain a license from such Third Party under such Third Party IP to the extent such Third Party IP relates solely to the Retained Territory.

(b) Licensor Restriction. Except with the prior written consent of Licensee, Licensor shall not obtain a license under Third Party IP that is necessary to Develop, make, have made, use, sell, offer for sale, import, or otherwise Commercialize any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Products in the Territory, provided that if the Licensee does not or fails to negotiate and obtain a license under the Third Party IP necessary for performance of this Agreement by the Licensee within a reasonable period of time, then upon written notice to Licensee, Licensor shall be entitled to obtain a license under such Third Party IP solely with respect to the Retained Territory.

2.8 Option Right.

(a) Licensor hereby grants to Licensee the option to require Licensor to [] to [] and to obtain a [] from [] as set forth in the remainder of this Section 2.8(a). If (i) [], or (ii) [] [] (each, ((i) and (ii)) a “Going Concern Event”), for so long as such Going Concern Event exists, then, effective upon Licensor’s receipt of a written notice from Licensee exercising its option, (x) [] to [] and [], (y) [], and (iii) []. Upon the occurrence of any Going Concern Event, Licensor shall provide immediate written notice to Licensee (and in any event no later than [] after the occurrence of such Going Concern Event).

(b) Licensor hereby grants to Licensee the option to [] as set forth in the remainder of this Section 2.8(b). In the event of (a) [] and (b) [], upon [], Licensor shall, []. In the event of [].

(c) [].

2.9 No Assignment of Licensed IP. During the Term of this Agreement, without prior written consent of the Licensee, Licensor shall not assign to any Affiliate or Third Party any Licensed IP owned by the Licensor.

3. GOVERNANCE

3.1 Joint Steering Committee. Within [] after the Effective Date, the Parties shall establish a Joint Steering Committee (the “Joint Steering Committee” or the “JSC”), composed of [] from each Party, to oversee the Development of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products by or on behalf of the Parties under this Agreement. The JSC in particular shall:

(a) provide a forum for the discussion of the Parties’ activities under this Agreement;

(b) facilitate the initial transfer and disclosure of Licensed Know-How, Licensed Antibody, and materials to Licensee pursuant to Section 4.2(a);

- (c) facilitate the transfer and disclosure of additional Licensed Know-How and Licensee Know-How pursuant to Section 4.2(b);
- (d) review and discuss the initial Global Development Plan, and amendments to the Global Development Plan;
- (e) discuss objectives and review progress provided by the Parties regarding Development of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Territory and the Retained Territory;
- (f) recommend the inclusion of any Clinical Trial conducted in the Applicable Territory under the Global Development Plan and recommend the protocol therefor;
- (g) discuss material preclinical Development activities and Clinical Trials to be conducted by a Party in the Applicable Territory;
- (h) discuss and approve any Global Clinical Trial Plan and amendments to the foregoing;
- (i) coordinate regulatory strategy, and discuss regulatory actions and pharmacovigilance and safety matters for the Licensed Products in the Territory and the Retained Territory; and
- (j) perform such other functions as appropriate to further the Development of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products, as set forth herein or as the Parties may agree upon in writing.

3.2 JSC Membership and Meetings.

(a) JSC Members. Each JSC representative shall be an officer or employee of the applicable Party having sufficient seniority within such Party to make decisions arising within the scope of the JSC's responsibilities. Each Party may replace its representatives on the JSC on written notice to the other Party. Licensee shall appoint the chairperson of the JSC. The chairperson shall prepare and circulate agendas to JSC members at least [] before each JSC meeting and shall direct the preparation of reasonably detailed minutes for each JSC meeting, which shall be circulated to JSC members within [] after such meeting.

(b) Meetings. The JSC shall hold meetings at such times as it elects to do so, but in no event less frequently than [] per Calendar Year until the discontinuation of the JSC pursuant to Section 3.4. Meetings may be by telephone or video conference or in person. In-person meetings shall be held at locations alternately selected by the Parties. Each Party shall be responsible for its own expenses of participating in any JSC meeting. No action taken at any JSC meeting shall be effective unless at least one representative of each Party is participating in such JSC meeting.

(c) Non-Member Attendance. Each Party may from time to time invite a reasonable number of participants, in addition to its representatives, to attend the JSC meetings; provided that if either Party intends to have any Third Party (including any consultant) attend such a meeting, such Party shall provide reasonable prior written notice to the other Party and obtain the other Party's approval for such Third Party to attend such meeting, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed. Such Party shall ensure that such Third Party is bound by written confidentiality and non-use obligations consistent with the terms of this Agreement.

3.3 Decision-Making; Limitations on Authority. Except for the Global Clinical Trial Plan (including any amendments thereof) and matters relating to the Global Clinical Trial, for which the JSC has decision-making authority, for all other matters, the JSC shall be an advisory committee and a forum for discussion and information exchange between the Parties only, and shall not be a decision-making body. All decisions of the JSC shall be made by unanimous vote, with each Party's representatives collectively having one vote. If after reasonable discussion and good faith consideration of each Party's view on a particular matter before the JSC, the JSC cannot reach a decision as to such matter within [] after such matter was brought to the JSC for resolution, such matter shall be referred to the Executive Officers for resolution. The Executive Officers shall promptly meet and use good faith efforts to resolve such matter. If the Executive Officers cannot resolve such matter within [] after such matter has been referred to them, then [] shall have the final decision-making authority. []. For clarity, with respect to []:

(a) Licensor shall have the sole decision-making authority with respect to all matters related to [];

(b) Licensee shall have the sole decision-making authority with respect to all matters related to [].

Notwithstanding the foregoing, neither Party nor the JSC shall use its decision-making authority (i) to impose any requirement on the other Party to undertake obligations beyond those for which it is responsible or to forgo any of its rights under this Agreement, (ii) in a manner inconsistent with the terms and conditions of this Agreement or (iii) to require the other Party to violate any Applicable Law, ethical requirement or any agreement it may have with any Third Party. For clarity, the JSC will not have the power to amend this Agreement or waive any provision of this Agreement, and no JSC action may be in contravention of any terms and conditions of this Agreement.

3.4 Discontinuation of the JSC. The activities of the JSC shall solely relate to governance under this Agreement and are not intended to be or involve the delivery of services. The JSC shall continue to exist until the first to occur of: (a) [] or (b) []. Upon the first to occur of the foregoing subclause (a) or subclause (b), the JSC shall automatically dissolve and, thereafter, each Party shall designate, to the extent necessary, a contact person for the exchange of information under this Agreement.

4. DEVELOPMENT; TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER; REGULATORY

4.1 General. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, including Section 4.4, Licensee shall have the sole and exclusive right and responsibility, at its own expense and discretion, for the Development of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Territory, including preclinical development, regulatory dossier development, Clinical Trial development and execution, and submission of Regulatory Filings, and manufacturing in support thereof.

4.2 Technology Transfer.

(a) Initial Technology Transfer. Within [] following the Effective Date, (i) Licensor shall transfer to Licensee, []: complete and accurate copies, in electronic form where possible, of all Licensed Know-How in existence as of the Effective Date, including all relevant Regulatory Filings relating to the Licensed Antibody or any Licensed Products, the underlying source documents (including preclinical and clinical data (including the Clinical Study Reports for all Clinical Trials conducted by or on behalf of Licensor and the master clinical dataset and clinical databases), regulatory data and communications, CMC data) and other information or documentation necessary for the preparation of Regulatory Filings for the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Territory, and (ii) such quantities of the drug substance and drug product of Licensed Antibody, and other biological and chemical materials described in Schedule 4.2(a) shall be available for delivery at Licensor's designated facility, in each case ((i) and (ii)), as described in Schedule 4.2(a). Licensor shall provide in the English language all documents set forth in Schedule 4.2(a). Licensor shall reasonably cooperate with Licensee to provide a smooth and prompt transfer of all such Licensed Know-How, Licensed Antibody and other materials. Licensee shall be responsible for the transfer of the material from Licensor's designated facility to the Licensee's designated facility [], provided that, in the event it is agreed between the Parties that Licensor will assist with such transfer, []. In connection with such transfer, Licensor shall reasonably assist Licensee and its designee(s) in the use and understanding of such Licensed Know-How and shall provide reasonable technical assistance and make its technical personnel reasonably available to Licensee. [] of providing such translation and technical assistance. In addition, promptly following the Effective Date, Licensor shall reasonably assist Licensee in entering into agreements with any Third Party Provider existing as of the Effective Date, including any three-way agreement, in each case as necessary to effect the transfer of Licensed Know-How, Licensed Antibody and other materials under this Section 4.2(a).

(b) Ongoing Technology Transfer. Following the initial technology transfer during the Term, if Licensor develops or otherwise gains Control of any Licensed Know-How, Licensor will periodically (no less than [] each Calendar Quarter) provide a summary of such Licensed Know-How to Licensee (through the JSC or otherwise) and, at Licensee's request, Licensor will transfer or otherwise make available to Licensee all such Licensed Know-How reasonably requested by Licensee []. During the Term, and subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Licensee will periodically provide a summary of Licensee Know-How developed by Licensee to Licensor (through the JSC or otherwise) included within the license granted by Licensee to Licensor hereunder and, at Licensor's request, Licensee will transfer or otherwise make available to Licensor all such Licensee Know-How reasonably requested by Licensor []. Each Party shall also provide the other Party with reasonable technical and regulatory assistance to help such other Party understand and use such additional Licensed Know-How or Licensee Know-How, as applicable, in connection with the Development, manufacture, Commercialization and other Exploitation of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in such other Party's Applicable Territory, including reasonable access to such's personnel involved in the Development of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products. [] to provide such additional technical assistance.

4.3 Development of Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products.

(a) General. As between the Parties, Licensee (either itself or through its Affiliates and Sublicensees) shall have the sole right and responsibility for the Development of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Territory, including the conduct of all pre-clinical studies and all Clinical Trials of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Territory, []. Licensee shall, [], have the sole control, discretion and decision-making authority over the Development of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Territory. Licensor (either itself or through its Affiliates) shall have the sole responsibility for the Development of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Retained Territory, including the conduct of all pre-clinical studies and all Clinical Trials of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Retained Territory, [].

(b) Global Development Plan. All Development activities of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products under this Agreement (whether by or on behalf of Licensee in the Territory and by or on behalf of Licensor in the Retained Territory) shall be conducted pursuant to a high-level written Development plan that sets forth the anticipated timeline and summary of all clinical and regulatory activities that a Party expects to conduct in its Applicable Territory (the “Global Development Plan”). Within [] following the Effective Date, Licensee shall prepare an initial Global Development Plan and shall promptly provide a copy of such initial Global Development Plan to the JSC for review and discussion. From time to time, either Party may propose updates or amendments to the Global Development Plan in consultation with the other Party and shall promptly submit such proposed updated or amended plan to the JSC for review and approval. If the terms of the Global Development Plan contradict or create inconsistencies or ambiguities with the terms of this Agreement, then the terms of this Agreement shall govern.

(c) Development by a Party. Licensor shall conduct all Development activities for the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products solely in accordance with the Global Development Plan, provided that Licensor shall not be obligated to conduct any Development (including Clinical Trial) in the Retained Territory even if such Development is included in the Global Development Plan. Licensor shall not conduct any Development of any Licensed Product in a manner that would have, or would be reasonably expected to have, any adverse effect on the Development or Commercialization of such Licensed Product in the Territory.

(d) Global Clinical Trials.

(i) If Licensee desires to sponsor (or if the Parties mutually agree to conduct) any Clinical Trial for any Licensed Product in the Licensed Field that includes enrollment and clinical sites in the Territory as well as the Retained Territory in connection with the Global Development Plan, Licensee shall provide reasonable advance notice thereof and Licensor shall have the right to elect to participate in such Clinical Trial in the Retained Territory by providing written notice of such election to Licensee within [] of receipt of such notice from Licensee (such Clinical Trial or component thereof, a “Global Clinical Trial”). If Licensor elects not to participate in such proposed Global Clinical Trial, or does not notify Licensee of its election to participate in a proposed Global Clinical Trial within such [] period, then Licensee shall have the right to conduct such proposed Global Clinical Trial in the Licensed Field in the Territory and the Retained Territory [].

(ii) If Licensor elects to participate in such Global Clinical Trial, then the Parties shall, through the JSC, discuss, and approve a comprehensive written Development plan that sets forth the timeline, budget, allocation of responsibilities and other details of such Global Clinical Trial and other material activities related thereto to be conducted by or on behalf of the Parties (the “Global Clinical Trial Plan”). The Global Clinical Trial Plan shall be consistent with the Global Development Plan. From time to time, but at least once every [], Licensee shall provide an update (including any proposed amendments) to the Global Clinical Trial Plan, which shall be consistent with the Global Development Plan. Licensee shall submit such proposed updated or amended Global Clinical Trial Plan to the JSC for discussion and approval. The updated or amended Global Clinical Trial Plan shall become effective upon approval by the JSC.

(iii) Licensee shall be the sponsor of each Global Clinical Trial and shall have the sole right and responsibility for development of the protocol, study design and standard operating procedures. Licensor shall be responsible for, [] (A) interacting with Regulatory Authorities in the Retained Territory in connection with such Global Clinical Trial, including with respect to reporting of adverse events and other safety and quality matters in accordance with the Safety Data Exchange Agreement, (B) enrolling patients in such Global Clinical Trial in accordance with the Global Clinical Trial Plan and (C) managing the day-to-day operations of such Global Clinical Trial in the Retained Territory. The Parties will [].

(iv) If Licensor elects not to participate in any Global Clinical Trial which is a Registrational Study, or if Licensor does not perform its obligations set forth in the Global Clinical Trial Plan for such Global Clinical Trial (including enrolling the required number of patients in the Retained Territory in accordance with the Global Clinical Trial Plan), then any data generated by or on behalf of Licensee in the course of conducting such Global Clinical Trial (“Licensee Global Registrational Trial Data”) shall be excluded from Licensee IP and the license granted to Licensor under Section 2.2. If Licensor desires to use and reference such Licensee Global Registrational Trial Data for Regulatory Approval of any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product in the Retained Territory, Licensor shall provide written notice to Licensee and pay a one-time fee equal to [] of all internal and out-of-pocket costs incurred by Licensee in connection with, or reasonably allocable to, the conduct of such Global Clinical Trial in the Retained Territory that would have otherwise been allocated to Licensor (with such allocation being no more than [] of the total costs of conducting such Global Clinical Trial unless the Parties otherwise agree) had Licensor participated in such Global Clinical Trial, provided that any Safety Data within such Licensee Global Trial Data shall be provided to Licensor upon written request in accordance with Section 4.7.

4.4 Diligence. Licensee, itself or through its Affiliates or Sublicensees, shall use Commercially Reasonable Efforts to Develop and obtain Regulatory Approval for at least one (1) Licensed Product in the Licensed Field in (a) the U.S. and (b) at least one of the Major Market Countries.

4.5 Development Updates.

(a) At each regularly scheduled JSC meeting, each Party shall provide the JSC with updates of its Development activities with respect to the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in such Party’s Applicable Territory, and the results of such activities. The Parties shall discuss the status, progress, and results of such activities at such JSC meetings.

(b) Within [] after the end of each Calendar Year and subject to Section 4.5(a), each Party shall provide the other Party with a written report summarizing the status of its Development activities in respect of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in such Party’s Applicable Territory in the previous Calendar Year.

4.6 Regulatory Responsibilities.

(a) General. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, including Section 4.4, Licensee shall have the sole and exclusive right and responsibility, at its own expense and discretion, to seek to obtain and maintain Regulatory Approvals for the Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Territory and to conduct all related regulatory affairs, including communications with any Regulatory Authorities relating to the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Territory. Licensee shall have the right to prepare, obtain, and maintain MAAs (including the setting of the overall regulatory strategy therefor), Regulatory Approvals, and other Regulatory Filings in its own name or in the name of any of its Affiliates.

(b) Upon either Party’s reasonable request, the requested Party shall, [], provide reasonable assistance (including providing the requesting Party with copies of Regulatory Filings submitted by the requested Party and all relevant information) as necessary for the requesting Party in connection with the preparation and filing of any such Regulatory Filings for a Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product and to obtain and maintain Regulatory Approvals with respect to Licensed Products in the Applicable Territory, including providing the requesting Party with any and all documentation in the requested Party’s possession and Control not previously provided to the requesting Party. The requesting Party shall use such Regulatory Filings and all such information solely as necessary for preparing and filing Regulatory Filings and obtaining Regulatory Approval for the Licensed Products in the Applicable Territory.

(c) Right of Reference. Licensor hereby grants to Licensee a Right of Reference to all Regulatory Filings for the Licensed Products submitted by or on behalf of Licensor in the Retained Territory for the purposes of seeking, obtaining, and maintaining Regulatory Approval of the Licensed Products in the Territory. Licensee hereby grants to Licensor a Right of Reference to all Regulatory Filings for the Licensed Products submitted by or on behalf of Licensee in the Territory for the purposes of seeking, obtaining, and maintaining Regulatory Approval of the Licensed Products in the Retained Territory. For the purposes of this Agreement, “Right of Reference” means the “right of reference or use” as defined in 21 C.F.R. § 314.3(b) and any equivalent regulation outside the US, as each may be amended from time to time.

4.7 Adverse Event Reporting; Safety Data Exchange Agreement. As soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Date, the Parties shall enter into a safety data exchange agreement setting forth the pharmacovigilance and safety data exchange procedures for the Parties with respect to the Licensed Products, such as Safety Data sharing, adverse events reporting, medical device malfunction reporting, and safety signal and risk management (the “Safety Data Exchange Agreement”), which agreement shall be amended by the Parties from time to time as necessary to comply with any changes in Applicable Laws or any guidance received from Regulatory Authorities. Such procedures shall be in accordance with, and enable the Parties to fulfill, local and national regulatory reporting obligations under Applicable Laws to monitor patients’ safety. Licensee shall establish (either by itself or through a Third Party subcontractor engaged by Licensee) a global safety database for each of the Licensed Products and shall maintain such global safety databases for so long as the Licensed Products are under Development or Commercialization by Licensee or any of its Affiliates or Sublicensees. [] associated with maintaining such databases and preparing reports for the Territory. Licensor shall maintain, and [] associated with maintaining, its own safety database for the Licensed Products in the Retained Territory and shall provide all Safety Data, including adverse event reports, in such database to Licensee in accordance with the Safety Data Exchange Agreement. Licensee shall ensure that each Party is able to access the data from the global safety database in order to meet legal and regulatory obligations. Each Party shall be primarily responsible for reporting quality complaints, adverse events, and Safety Data related to the Licensed Products to any necessary Regulatory Authorities in its Applicable Territory, and responding to safety issues and to all requests of Regulatory Authorities related to the Licensed Products, []. Each Party agrees to comply with its respective obligations under the Safety Data Exchange Agreement and to cause its Affiliates, licensees, and sublicensees to comply with such obligations. Subject to compliance with Applicable Laws, each Party shall have the right to use the Safety Data resulting from Development activities performed by the other Party, without compensation to such other Party, in each case as reasonably necessary for the first Party to comply with its safety reporting obligations in its Applicable Territory.

4.8 Notification of Threatened Action. Each Party shall notify the other Party within [] of any information it receives regarding any threatened or pending action, inspection, or communication by any Regulatory Authority which may adversely affect the safety or efficacy claims of any Licensed Product or the continued Development or Commercialization of any Licensed Product. Upon receipt of such information, the Parties shall promptly consult with each other in an effort to arrive at a mutually acceptable procedure for taking appropriate action.

4.9 Recalls. In the event that a recall, withdrawal, or correction (including the dissemination of relevant information) of any Licensed Product in a Party’s Applicable Territory is required by a Regulatory Authority of competent jurisdiction, or if any Regulatory Authority requires or advises either Party or such Party’s Affiliates or sublicensees to distribute a “Dear Doctor” letter or its equivalent regarding use of such Licensed Product in a Party’s Applicable Territory, or if a recall, withdraw, or correction of a Licensed Product in its Applicable Territory is deemed advisable by such Party in its sole discretion, such Party shall so notify the other Party no later than [] in advance (if practicable) of the earlier of (a) initiation of a recall, withdrawal, or correction, or (b) the submission of plans for such an action to a Regulatory Authority. Any such recall, withdrawal, correction, or dissemination of information (e.g., “Dear Doctor” letter) shall be referred to herein as a “Recall”. Promptly after being notified of a Recall, each Party shall provide the other Party with such assistance in connection with such Recall as may be reasonably requested by such other Party. All costs and expenses in connection with a Recall in a Party’s Applicable Territory shall be paid by [], including the costs and expenses related to the dissemination of relevant information. Each Party shall handle exclusively the organization and implementation of all Recalls of Licensed Products in its Applicable Territory.

4.10 Manufacture and Supply.

(a) Licensee may, at its own discretion, manufacture or have manufactured, any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product for its, its Affiliates, and its and their Sublicensees' requirements in the Licensed Field in the Territory.

(b) At Licensee's request, Licensors shall, itself or through its Third Party manufacturer, (i) provide access to and transfer to Licensee, or an Affiliate or a Third Party manufacturer selected by Licensee, all Licensed Know-How that is necessary or reasonably useful for Licensee, or such Affiliate or Third Party manufacturer to manufacture the Licensed Antibody ("Manufacturing Transfer"), and (ii) provide to Licensee all necessary assistance and services to enable Licensee, or such Affiliate or Third Party manufacturer in connection with such transfer. [] in connection with such technology transfer. Licensors are not obligated to perform the Manufacturing Transfer more than [].

(c) Upon Licensee's request, Licensors shall reasonably assist Licensee in negotiating a supply agreement with Licensors' Third Party manufacturer for the supply of Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products to Licensee in connection with Licensee's exercise of its license granted in Section 2.1. Upon Licensors' request, Licensee shall reasonably introduce Licensors to Licensee's Third Party manufacturer and facilitate Licensors' efforts in negotiating a supply agreement with such Third Party manufacturer for the supply of Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products to Licensors in connection with Licensors' reserved rights in Section 2.4.

(d) For the avoidance of doubt, the Licensee acknowledges that []. Licensee may elect, at its discretion, to [] by either [] or receiving [], in each case [].

5. COMMERCIALIZATION

5.1 General. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, including Section 5.2, Licensee shall have the sole and exclusive right and responsibility, at its own expense and discretion, for the Commercialization of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Territory.

5.2 Diligence. Licensee, itself or through its Affiliates or Sublicensees, shall use Commercially Reasonable Efforts to Commercialize at least one (1) Licensed Product in the U.S. or any Major Market Country in which Regulatory Approval has been obtained for such Licensed Product. For clarity, as between the Parties, Licensee shall at all times retain [].

5.3 Diversion. Each Party covenants and agrees that it will not, and will use diligent efforts to ensure that its Affiliates, Sublicensees and subcontractors will not, either directly or indirectly, promote, market, distribute, import, sell or have sold any Licensed Products, including via the Internet or mail order, to any Third Party or to any address or Internet Protocol address or the like in the other Party's Applicable Territory, or to any Third Party that such Party knows (or reasonably should know after due inquiry) has previously exported or is likely to export the Licensed Products to the other Party's Applicable Territory. Neither Party will engage, nor contractually permit its Affiliates, Sublicensees or subcontractors to engage, in any advertising or promotional activities relating to any Licensed Products for use directed primarily to customers or other buyers or users of Licensed Products located in any country, jurisdiction or region in the other Party's Applicable Territory, or solicit orders from any prospective purchaser located in any country, jurisdiction or region in the other Party's Applicable Territory. If a Party, its Affiliates, Sublicensees or subcontractors receive any order for Licensed Products for use from a prospective purchaser located in a country, jurisdiction or region in the other Party's Applicable Territory, then such Party will promptly, but in any event within [], refer that order to such other Party and will not accept any such orders. The Parties shall not, nor shall they contractually permit their Affiliates, Sublicensees, or subcontractors to, deliver or tender (or cause to be delivered or tendered) any Licensed Products for use in the other Party's Applicable Territory.

6. FINANCIAL PROVISIONS

6.1 Upfront Payment. Licensee shall pay to Licensor a one-time, non-refundable, non-creditable upfront payment of [] in two installments:

(a) [] within [] after the Effective Date; and

(b) [] within [] after the earlier of (i) the receipt by or on behalf of the Licensee of the documents set forth in Schedule 6.1(b) and a written confirmation from the Licensor that such quantities of the drug product of Licensed Antibody described in Schedule 4.2(a) are already available for delivery at Licensor's designated facility, and (ii) the Initiation of the first Clinical Trial of any Licensed Product in the Territory.

6.2 Development and Regulatory Milestones Payments.

(a) Development Milestones. Subject to the remainder of this Section 6.2, Licensee shall pay to Licensor the one-time, non-refundable, non-creditable milestone payments set forth in the table below upon the first achievement of the applicable milestone event by a Licensed Product (whether by or on behalf of Licensee or its Affiliates or Sublicensees):

Development Milestone Event	Milestone Payment
[]	[]

For clarity, each milestone payment set forth in each table above set forth in Section 6.2(a) and Section 6.2(b) shall be paid only once upon first achievement of the corresponding milestone event by a Licensed Product to achieve such event, even if such milestone event is achieved multiple times by a single Licensed Product or is achieved by multiple Licensed Products. With respect to the Development milestones set forth in Section 6.2(a), if any milestone is achieved before the IND Submission Milestone is achieved or any earlier-phase Development milestone is achieved, then all milestone payments for such unachieved preceding milestone events will be due and payable with the milestone payment for the milestone event that was achieved. With respect to the regulatory milestones set forth in Section 6.2(b), if any Regulatory Approval milestone in a particular jurisdiction is achieved before the milestone for the submission of an MAA in such jurisdiction is achieved, then the milestone payment for such unachieved MAA submission milestone shall be due and payable with the milestone payment for the Regulatory Approval milestone in such jurisdiction. In no event shall Licensee be obligated to pay more than an aggregate amount of [] under Section 6.2(a) and Section 6.2(b). [].

(c) Notice and Payment. Licensee shall notify Licensor in writing within [] after the achievement of any milestone set forth in this Section 6.2 by Licensee or any of its Affiliates, or [] after the achievement of any milestone set forth in this Section 6.2 by any Sublicensee(s). Licensee shall pay to Licensor the applicable Development or regulatory milestone payments within [] after the delivery of such notice.

6.3 Sales-Based Milestones Payments.

(a) Sales Milestones. Subject to the remainder of this Section 6.3, Licensee shall pay to Licensor the one-time, non-refundable, non-creditable milestone payments set forth in the table below within [] after the end of the Calendar Quarter in which the corresponding milestone event is first achieved (concurrently with the royalty payments under Section 7.1), whether by or on behalf of Licensee or its Affiliates or Sublicensees.

(b) Notice and Payment. As part of the report in Section 7.1, Licensee shall provide written notice to Licensor upon the aggregate annual Net Sales of all Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Territory reaching the values set forth in the table in Section 6.3\(a\) above. Each milestone payment set forth in the table above shall be paid only once, upon first achievement of the corresponding milestone event, regardless of the number of times such event is achieved. In no event shall Licensee be obligated to pay more than [] under this Section 6.3. If one or more milestones under Section 6.3\(a\) are achieved in the same Calendar Quarter, then all such corresponding payments corresponding to such milestones under Section 6.3\(a\) shall be paid simultaneously. For the avoidance of doubt, from and after the expiration of the Royalty Term for a Licensed Product in a country, Net Sales of such Licensed Product in such country shall be excluded for purposes of calculating the Net Sales thresholds set forth in Section 6.3\(a\).

6.4 Royalty Payments.

(a) Royalty Rate. Subject to the other terms of this Section 6.4, during the Royalty Term for a Licensed Product, Licensee shall pay to Licensor a non-refundable, non-creditable royalties on a Calendar Quarter basis at the royalty rates below based on the aggregate annual Net Sales of all Licensed Products sold in the Territory as of such Calendar Quarter:

(ii) [].

(iii) [].

(iv) [].

(d) [].

6.5 Sublicense Income. During the Term, Licensee shall pay Licensor a percentage of Sublicense Income within [] after receipt of such Sublicense Income by Licensee or any of its Affiliates or its or their shareholders, based on the development stage at the time that the applicable Sublicense agreement is executed, as follows:

(a) [] if the Sublicense is executed prior to the [];

(b) [] if the Sublicense is executed following the [], but prior to the []; and

(c) [] if the Sublicense is executed following the [] and [].

For clarity, no Sublicense Income shall be due to Licensor if the Sublicense is executed after the [].

7. PAYMENT; RECORDS; AUDITS

7.1 Payment; Reports. Royalty payments due from Licensee to Licensor under Section 6.4 shall be calculated and reported for each Calendar Quarter during the Royalty Term. Royalty payments due under Section 6.4 shall be paid within [] after the end of each Calendar Quarter and shall be accompanied by a report setting forth the Net Sales of the Licensed Products by Licensee and its Affiliates and Sublicensees in the Territory (which should include, on a Licensed Product-by-Licensed Product and country-by-country basis: []).

7.2 Exchange Rate; Manner and Place of Payment. All references to dollars and "$" herein shall refer to U.S. dollars. All payments hereunder shall be payable in U.S. dollars. Currencies other than the U.S. Dollars shall be converted into U.S. Dollars at the average of the daily foreign exchange rates published in the Wall Street Journal (New York Edition), or any other qualified source that is mutually acceptable, for the Calendar Quarter in which such payments accrue, or, for periods less than a Calendar Quarter, the average of the daily rates published in the Wall Street Journal (New York Edition) for such period. All payments owed to Licensor under this Agreement shall be made by wire transfer in immediately available funds to a bank and account designated in writing by Licensor, unless otherwise specified in writing by Licensor. If the conversion of a local currency in the Territory into dollars or transfer of funds out of a country or jurisdiction in the Territory becomes materially restricted, forbidden, or substantially delayed due to Applicable Laws, then Licensee shall promptly notify Licensor and amounts accrued in such country or jurisdiction may be paid by Licensee in local currency into an account in a local bank designated by Licensor, unless the Parties otherwise agree.

(a) Taxes on Income. Except as otherwise provided in this Section 7.3, each Party shall be solely responsible for the payment of all taxes imposed on its share of income arising directly or indirectly from the activities of the Parties under this Agreement.

(b) Tax Cooperation. The Parties agree to cooperate with one another and use reasonable efforts to avoid or reduce tax withholding, transfer taxes, or similar obligations with respect to milestone payments, royalty payments, and other payments made under this Agreement. If Licensee is required by Applicable Laws to deduct and withhold taxes on any payment to Licensor, Licensee shall pay the amounts of such taxes to the proper Governmental Authority in a timely manner and promptly transmit to Licensor an official tax certificate or other evidence of such payment sufficient to enable Licensor to claim such payment of taxes. Licensor shall provide Licensee any tax forms that may be reasonably necessary in order for Licensee to not withhold tax or to withhold tax at a reduced rate under any applicable tax laws or bilateral income tax treaty, to the extent Licensor is legally able to do so. Licensor shall use reasonable efforts to provide any such tax forms to Licensee in advance of the due date provided that Licensor may direct Licensee to temporarily hold a payment otherwise payable in order to avoid withholding taxes if Licensor is waiting for a required tax form to be issued by a Governmental Authority. Licensee shall provide Licensor with reasonable assistance to enable the recovery, as permitted by Applicable Laws, of withholding taxes, transfer taxes, or similar obligations resulting from payments made under this Agreement, such recovery to be for the benefit of Licensor. Each Party agrees to assist the other Party in claiming exemption from such deductions or withholdings under double taxation or similar agreement or treaty from time to time in force and in minimizing the amount required to be so withheld or deducted.

(c) Other Tax Liability. In the event of value added or similar taxes incurred by a Party with respect to payments made to a Party under this Agreement or the activities underlying such payments (the “VAT”), Licensee shall not be required to increase payment to the Licensor with respect to any VAT paid to tax authorities. Each Party and its Affiliates will use reasonable efforts to secure available exemption(s) from VAT or cooperate with the other Party’s efforts to obtain maximum recovery of VAT paid or incurred by such Party or any Affiliate, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law.

7.4 Records; Audit. Licensee shall keep, and shall require its Affiliates and Sublicensees to keep, complete and accurate records pertaining to the sale or other disposition of Licensed Products in sufficient detail to permit Licensor to confirm the accuracy of any sales milestone or royalty payment due hereunder. Licensee will keep such books and records for [] following the Calendar Year to which they pertain, or such longer period of time as may be required by Applicable Laws. Upon reasonable prior notice and during regular business hours at such place or places where such records are customarily kept, Licensee’s records may be inspected on Licensor’s behalf by an independent certified public accountant (the “Auditor”) selected by Licensor and reasonably acceptable to Licensee for the sole purpose of verifying for Licensor the accuracy of the financial reports furnished by Licensee pursuant to Section 7.1 or of any payments made, or required to be made, to Licensor pursuant to Article 6. Before beginning its audit, the Auditor shall execute an undertaking acceptable to each Party by which the Auditor agrees to keep confidential all information reviewed during the audit. Such audits shall be limited to once each Calendar Year and once with respect to records covering any specific period of time. Auditor shall not disclose Licensee’s Confidential Information to Licensor, and shall only report whether the financial reports provided by Licensee and the amount of payments made to Licensor are correct or not, and the specific details concerning any discrepancies. If the final result of the inspection reveals an undisputed underpayment or overpayment, the underpaid or overpaid amount shall be settled within [] after the Auditor’s report, and any undisputed underpayment by Licensee should plus interest (as set forth in Section 7.5) from the original due date. [] unless such audit reveals an underpayment by [] of more than the higher of (a) [] of the total amount for the audited period and (b) [], in which case [].

7.5 Late Payments. If any payment due under this Agreement is not paid when due in accordance with the applicable provisions of this Agreement, the payment shall accrue interest from the date due at the annual interest rate of []; provided, however, that in no event shall such rate exceed the maximum annual interest rate under Applicable Laws.

7.6 Mode of Payment. All payments under this Agreement to Licensor shall be made by deposit in the requisite amount to the bank account of Licensor as Licensor may from time to time designate by written notice to Licensee before such amount is due:

8. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

8.1 Ownership of Inventions.

(a) Inventorship of all Inventions shall be determined in accordance with U.S. patent laws. Subject to the license grants and other rights herein, as between the Parties, each Party shall own and retain all right, title and interest in and to any and all Inventions that are conceived, discovered, developed or otherwise made solely by or on behalf of such Party (or its Affiliates or its or their (sub)licensees), whether or not patented or patentable, and any and all Patents and other intellectual property rights with respect thereto.

(b) Subject to the license grants and other rights herein, as between the Parties, the Parties shall each own an equal, undivided interest in any and all: (i) Inventions that are conceived, discovered, developed or otherwise made under this Agreement jointly by or on behalf of Licensee or its Affiliates, on the one hand, and Licensor or its Affiliates, on the other hand, whether or not patented or patentable (the “Joint Know-How”); and (ii) Patents claiming the Joint Know-How (the “Joint Patents”) and other intellectual property rights with respect to the Inventions described in clause (i) (together with Joint Know-How and Joint Patents, the “Joint IP”). Each Party shall promptly disclose to the other Party in writing and shall cause its Affiliates to so disclose, the development, making, conception or reduction to practice of any Joint Know-How or Joint Patents. Subject to the license granted under Section 2.1 and Section 2.2, each Party is entitled to practice the Joint IP for all purposes on a worldwide basis and to license such Joint IP through multiple tiers without consent of the other Party (where consent is required by applicable Law, such consent is deemed hereby granted) and without a duty of accounting to the other Party.

8.2 Patent Prosecution and Maintenance.

(a) Licensed Patents. As between the Parties, Licensor shall have the first right, but not the obligation, to prosecute and maintain the Licensed Patents worldwide using counsel of its own choice, including the preparation, filing, prosecution, and maintenance (including any interferences, reissue proceedings, reexaminations, patent term extensions, applications for supplementary protection certificates, oppositions, invalidation proceedings and defense of validity or enforceability challenges), []. Licensor and its patent counsel shall keep Licensee reasonably informed of the status of filing, prosecution, maintenance, and defense, if any, of the Licensed Patents, and provide Licensee a reasonable opportunity to review and comment on proposed filings for Licensed Patents (including the initial application and any material correspondence related to such filing). Licensor shall incorporate all of Licensee’s comments to such filings in good faith. If Licensor desires to abandon or cease prosecution or maintenance of any Licensed Patent, Licensor shall provide reasonable prior written notice to Licensee of such intention (which notice shall, to the extent possible, be given no later than [] prior to the next deadline for any action that must be taken with respect to the applicable Licensed Patent in the relevant patent office). In such case, upon Licensee’s written election provided no later than [] after such notice from Licensor, Licensee shall have the right to assume prosecution and maintenance of the applicable Licensed Patent [] and with counsel of Licensee’s choice. If Licensee elects to assume the prosecution and maintenance of such Licensed Patent, Licensor will promptly deliver to Licensee copies of all necessary files related to any Licensed Patents as requested by Licensee and will take all actions and execute all documents reasonably necessary for Licensee to assume such patent prosecution activities. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the foregoing, the rights and obligations of the Parties with respect to the prosecution and maintenance of the Joint Patents is as set forth in Section 8.2(b).

(b) Joint Patents. As between the Parties, Licensee shall have the first right, but not the obligation, to prosecute and maintain the Joint Patents in the Territory, and Licensor shall have the first right, but not the obligation, to prosecute and maintain the Joint Patents in the Retained Territory, each using counsel of its own choice, including the preparation, filing, prosecution, and maintenance (including any interferences, reissue proceedings, reexaminations, patent term extensions, applications for supplementary protection certificates, oppositions, invalidation proceedings and defense of validity or enforceability challenges). As between the Parties, such prosecution and maintenance of the Joint Patents shall be (i) [] in the Territory and (ii) [] in the Retained Territory. Each Party shall keep the other Party reasonably informed of the status of filing, prosecution, maintenance, and defense, if any, of the Joint Patents in the Applicable Territory, and provide the other Party a reasonable opportunity to review and comment on any material filings related thereto. If either Party desires to abandon or cease prosecution or maintenance of any Joint Patent, it shall provide reasonable prior written notice to the other Party of such intention (which notice shall, to the extent possible, be given no later than [] prior to the next deadline for any action that must be taken with respect to the applicable Joint Patent in the relevant patent office). In such case, upon the other Party’s written election provided no later than [] after such notice, the other Party shall have the right to assume prosecution and maintenance of the applicable Joint Patent [] and with counsel of its choice. If the other Party does not provide such election within [] after such notice, then the first Party may, in its sole discretion, continue or discontinue prosecution and maintenance of such Joint Patent. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the other Party's right to assume Patent prosecution of a Joint Patent under this Section 8.2(b) shall not apply in the event such patent application was abandoned or otherwise forfeited by the first Party for Strategic Reasons. For purposes of this Section 8.2, a "Strategic Reason" for which the relevant prosecuting Party desires to abandon or otherwise forfeit patent prosecution of a given Patent shall be the abandonment or forfeiture of such Patent on the basis that continued prosecution would have an adverse effect on the overall patent portfolio for the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products, including if applicable, the prosecution, validity or enforcement of another Licensed Patent or Joint Patent. For clarity, Strategic Reasons shall not include the abandonment or forfeiting of a Patent for purely financial reasons (e.g., costs of patent prosecution therefor or decreasing the Royalty Term).

(c) Licensee Patents. As between the Parties, Licensee shall have the sole right, but not the obligation, to prosecute and maintain Licensee Patents worldwide, using counsel of its own choice, including the preparation, filing, prosecution, and maintenance (including any interferences, reissue proceedings, reexaminations, patent term extensions, applications for supplementary protection certificates, oppositions, invalidation proceedings and defense of validity or enforceability challenges). As between the Parties, such prosecution and maintenance of the Licensee Patents shall be []. Licensee shall keep Licensor reasonably informed of the status of filing, prosecution, maintenance, and defense, if any, of the Licensee Patents in the Retained Territory, and provide Licensor a reasonable opportunity to review and comment on any material filings related thereto.

(d) Cooperation. Each Party shall provide the other Party all reasonable assistance and cooperation in the patent prosecution efforts under this Section 8.2, including providing any necessary powers of attorney and executing any other required documents or instruments for such prosecution.

8.3 Patent Enforcement.

(a) Notice. Each Party shall notify the other Party within [] after becoming aware of any actual, suspected or threatened infringement by a Third Party of any of the Licensed Patents or Joint Patents in the Territory, which infringement adversely affects or is expected to adversely affect any Licensed Product in the Licensed Field ("Product Infringement").

(b) Enforcement Right.

(i) Licensee shall have the first right, but not the obligation, to bring and control any legal action in connection with a Product Infringement in the Territory [] as it reasonably determines appropriate. Licensee or its Affiliates may settle or consent to the entry of any judgment in any enforcement action hereunder without Licensor's prior consent; provided that any such settlement or consent judgment will not, without the prior written consent of Licensor (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), (i) impose any liability or obligation on Licensor or any of its Affiliates or (ii) conflict with or reduce the scope of the subject matter claimed in any Licensed Patent or Joint Patent. If Licensee (A) elects not to bring such legal action against a Product Infringement in the Territory (the decision of which Licensee shall inform Licensor promptly) or (B) Licensee otherwise fails to bring such legal action against a Product Infringement in the Territory within [] of first becoming aware of such Product Infringement, and does not provide a reasonable business (including strategic) rationale for not doing so, Licensor shall have the right to bring and control any legal action in connection with such Product Infringement [] as it reasonably determines appropriate after consultation with Licensee. If Licensor desires to bring any legal action in connection with the enforcement of any Licensed Patent or Joint Patent in the Territory other than with respect to a Product Infringement, Licensor shall consult with Licensee and reasonably considers Licensee's comments in good faith prior to the initiation of, and during the course of, such action.

(ii) Licensor shall have the sole right, but not the obligation, to bring and control any legal action in connection with a Product Infringement in the Retained Territory [] as it reasonably determines appropriate; provided that Licensor shall consult with Licensee with respect to the strategy and all material filings with respect to such action and consider Licensee's comments in good faith, provided with respect to any action that would be reasonably expected to adversely affect the overall patent portfolio for the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products, Licensor shall reasonably implement all Licensee's comments.

(c) Collaboration. Each Party shall provide to the enforcing Party reasonable assistance in such enforcement, [], including to be named in such action if required by Applicable Laws to pursue such action. The enforcing Party shall keep the other Party regularly informed of the status and progress of such enforcement efforts and shall reasonably consider the other Party's comments on any such efforts, including determination of litigation strategy and filing of material papers to the competent court. The non-enforcing Party shall be entitled to separate representation in such matter by counsel of its own choice and [], but such Party shall at all times cooperate fully with the enforcing Party.

(d) Expense and Recovery. The enforcing Party shall be []. If such Party recovers monetary damages in such enforcement action in the Territory, such recovery shall be allocated first to the reimbursement of any expenses incurred by the enforcing Party in such enforcement action, second to the reimbursement of any expenses incurred by the other Party in such enforcement action, provided that if such recoveries are [], then []. Following any expenses reimbursement, any remaining amounts shall be retained as follows: (i) [], provided that [], and (ii) [], then such remaining amount will be allocated [] to Licensor and [] to Licensee.

(e) Other Infringement. Except for Product Infringement in the Territory or Retained Territory as set forth above, each Party shall have the exclusive right to enforce its own Patents against any infringement anywhere in the world.

8.4 Infringement of Third Party Rights. If any Licensed Product used or sold by Licensee, its Affiliates, or Sublicensees or the practice of the Licensed IP becomes the subject of a Third Party's claim or assertion of infringement of such Third Party's intellectual property rights in a jurisdiction within the Territory ("Third Party Infringement Claim"), the Party that became aware of such claim or assertion shall promptly notify the other Party and the Parties shall promptly meet to consider the claim or assertion and the appropriate course of action and may, if appropriate, agree on and enter into a common interest agreement, wherein the Parties agree to their shared, mutual interest in the outcome of such potential dispute. Absent any agreement to the contrary, and subject to claims for indemnification under Article 10, each Party shall defend itself from any such Third Party Infringement Claim [], provided, however, that the provisions of Section 8.3 shall govern the right of Licensee to assert a counterclaim of infringement of any Licensed Patents. Without limitation to any other term or condition of Article 6, Licensee shall be entitled to offset up to [] of the [] from [], to the extent such Third Party Infringement Claim [], provided that [] with respect to such subsequent Calendar Quarters up to a maximum amount of [] of the amounts owed with respect to each such Calendar Quarters in such jurisdiction.

9. REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES9.1 Mutual Representations and Warranties. Each Party represents and warrants to the other that, as of the Effective Date:

(a) it is duly organized and validly existing under the laws of its jurisdiction of incorporation or formation, and has full corporate or other power and authority to enter into this Agreement and to carry out the provisions hereof;

(b) it is duly authorized to execute and deliver this Agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder, and the person or persons executing this Agreement on its behalf has been duly authorized to do so by all requisite corporate or partnership action; and

(c) this Agreement is legally binding upon it, enforceable in accordance with its terms, and does not conflict with any agreement, instrument, or understanding, oral or written, to which it is a party or by which it may be bound, nor violate any material law or regulation of any court, governmental body, or administrative or other agency having jurisdiction over it.

9.2 Covenants. Each Party covenants as follows:

(a) In the performance of its obligations under this Agreement, such Party shall comply, and shall cause its and its Affiliates' employees and contractors to comply with, all Applicable Laws.

(b) Such Party's and its Affiliates' employees and contractors shall not, in connection with the performance of their respective obligations under this Agreement, directly or indirectly through Third Parties, pay, promise, or offer to pay, or authorize the payment of, any money or give any promise or offer to give, or authorize the giving of anything of value to a Public Official or Entity or other person for purpose of obtaining or retaining business for or with, or directing business to, any person, including such Party (and such Party represents and warrants that as of the Effective Date, such Party, and to its knowledge, its and its Affiliates' employees and contractors, have not directly or indirectly promised, offered, or provided any corrupt payment, gratuity, emolument, bribe, kickback, illicit gift, or hospitality or other illegal or unethical benefit to a Public Official or Entity or any other person in connection with the performance of such Party's obligations under this Agreement (or, with respect to Licensor, in connection with Exploitation of the Licensed Antibody or Licensed Products), and such Party covenants that it and its Affiliates' employees and contractors shall not, directly or indirectly, engage in any of the foregoing).

(c) Such Party and its Affiliates, and their respective employees and contractors, in connection with the performance of their respective obligations under this Agreement, shall not authorize or cause its indemnitees to be in violation of the FCPA, Export Control Laws, or any other Applicable Laws. Each Party agrees that it will not export, directly or indirectly, any technical information acquired from the other Party under this Agreement or any products using such technical information to a location or in a manner that at the time of export requires an export license or other governmental approval, without first obtaining the written consent to do so from the appropriate agency or other governmental entity in accordance with Applicable Law (including Export Control Laws). [].

(d) Such Party shall immediately notify the other Party if such Party has any information or suspicion that there may be a violation of the FCPA, or Export Control Laws in connection with the performance of this Agreement or the Development, manufacture, or Commercialization of any Licensed Product.

(e) In connection with the performance of its obligations under this Agreement, such Party shall comply and shall cause its and its Affiliates' employees and contractors to comply with such Party's own anti-corruption and anti-bribery policy.

(f) Each Party shall, and shall cause its Affiliates and require its (Sub)licensees to:

(i) comply at all times with the Data Protection Laws for all Personal Data collected, Processed, hosted, or transmitted in performance of this Agreement;

(ii) at all times, act in a manner such that it is not subject to any prohibition or restriction which shall (i) prevent or restrict it from disclosing or transferring the Personal Data to the other Party (including any transfer from one jurisdiction to another), as may be required under this Agreement; or (ii) prevent or restrict it from Processing the Personal Data as contemplated under this Agreement;

(iii) implement measures designed to ensure that all informed consent, notices, or any other requirements under the Data Protection Laws, have been obtained by the study sponsor and are maintained and are sufficient in scope to enable the other Party to Process the Personal Data as required in order to comply with its obligation under this Agreement (including the transfer of all applicable Personal Data);

(iv) implement and maintain commercially reasonable administrative, technical, and physical safeguards designed to (A) maintain the security and confidentiality of the Personal Data; (B) protect against reasonably anticipated threats or hazards to the security or integrity of the Personal Data; and (C) protect against unauthorized access to or use of Personal Data, in accordance with the Data Protection Laws; and

(v) notify the other Party promptly and without undue delay upon learning of any actual misappropriation or unauthorized access to, or disclosure or use of the Personal Data (a "Data Breach") Processed under this Agreement and in its possession, custody or control. The Party that experienced the Data Breach shall promptly investigate each Data Breach that it becomes aware of or has reason to suspect may have occurred and, in the case of a Data Breach and shall provide reasonable levels of access and information to the other Party. The Parties shall cooperate in identifying any reasonable steps that should be implemented to limit, stop or otherwise remedy a Data Breach.

9.3 Additional Licensor Representations and Warranties. Licensor represents, warrants, and covenants, as applicable, to Licensee that, as of the Effective Date:

(a) Schedule 1.69 is a complete and accurate list of all Patents Controlled by Licensor or any of its Affiliates as of the Effective Date included in the definition of Licensed Patents and all such Patents listed on Schedule 1.69 are (i) except as Patents in-licensed in accordance with the agreement set forth in Schedule 1.123, solely and exclusively owned by Licensor, free of any encumbrance, lien, or claim of ownership by any Third Party, and (ii) filed and maintained properly and correctly and all applicable fees have been paid on or before the due date for payment or during any extension thereof;

(b) (i) The Patents set forth in Schedule 1.69 constitute all of the Patents Controlled by Licensor or any of its Affiliates that are necessary or reasonably useful for the Development, manufacture or Commercialization of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Territory and (ii) as of the Effective Date, Licensor or its Affiliates does not own or hold rights to any Patents that would otherwise qualify as a Licensed Patent but for the fact that Licensor does not Control such Patent;

(c) Each of the Licensed Patents properly identifies each and every inventor of the claims thereof as determined in accordance with the laws of the jurisdiction in which such Patent is issued, or such application is pending;

(d) Licensor has the full authority and right to grant all rights and licenses it purports to grant to Licensee with respect to the Licensed IP under this Agreement, free and clear of any rights therein granted to any Third Party;

(e) Except as set forth in Schedule 1.123, all Licensed IP is owned by Licensor and is not held under license from any other person or entity;

(f) Complete (subject to redactions solely with respect to commercially sensitive information not pertinent to the sublicense granted under this Agreement), true and correct copies of the Upstream Agreements and any amendments or modifications thereto as of the Effective Date have been provided to Licensor prior to the execution of this Agreement;

(g) Licensor and its Affiliates shall comply in all material respects with all terms and conditions of the Upstream Agreements, including timely payment of all amounts due to be paid by Licensor or its Affiliate thereunder. Neither Licensor or any of its Affiliates shall take or omit to take any action, or permit any acts or omissions, that could be construed as a violation of such applicable terms and conditions under the Upstream Agreements. Neither Licensor nor any of its Affiliates shall terminate any Upstream Agreement or amend or waive any right under any Upstream Agreement that adversely affects the rights granted to Licensee hereunder without the prior written consent of the Licensee. Licensor shall promptly notify Licensee upon receipt of any notice of breach of any Upstream Agreement, and if applicable, Licensee shall have the right to cure such breach at the cost of Licensor;

(h) Licensor has not granted any liens or security interests on any of the Licensed IP, and Licensor shall not, and shall cause its Affiliates not to, assign, transfer, convey or otherwise encumber its right, title or interest in or to the Licensed IP;

(i) Licensor [], all of which is free and clear of any claims, liens, charges, or encumbrances (other than those granted herein or entered into in the ordinary course of business) and has the full authority and right to [], and Licensor has the authority to [];

(j) Licensor has not received any written notice from a Third Party that the research or Development of any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product conducted by Licensor prior to the Effective Date has infringed any Patents or misappropriated any Know-How of any Third Party;

(k) To Licensor's knowledge, the Development, use, manufacture, Commercialization, and other Exploitation of any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product in the Territory can be carried out as contemplated under this Agreement without infringing any Patents or misappropriating any Know-How of any Third Party;

(l) Licensors has not as of the Effective Date, and will not during the Term, grant to any Third Party any right under the Licensed IP that would conflict with the rights granted to Licensee hereunder;

(m) (i) No claim or action has been brought or, to Licensors knowledge, threatened, by any Third Party alleging that (A) any of the Licensed Patents are invalid or unenforceable, or (B) the use of the Licensed Know-How infringes or misappropriates, or would infringe or misappropriate, any intellectual property right of any Third Party, and (ii) to Licensors knowledge, no facts or circumstances exist that would reasonably be expected to give rise to any such claims described in the foregoing subclause (i);

(n) There are no pending or, to Licensors knowledge, alleged or threatened, (i) inter partes reviews, post-grant reviews, interferences, re-examinations, or oppositions involving the Licensed Patents that are in or before any patent authority (or other Governmental Authority performing similar functions) or (ii) inventorship challenges involving the Licensed Patents that are in or before any patent or other Governmental Authority;

(o) To Licensors knowledge, no Third Party is infringing or misappropriating or has infringed or misappropriated or is threatening to infringe or misappropriate the Licensed IP;

(p) Licensors and its Affiliates have conducted, and their respective contractors and consultants have conducted, all research and Development of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products, including any and all non-clinical, pre-clinical, and clinical studies of the Licensed Antibody, in accordance with Applicable Laws and, as applicable, GLP and good clinical practice, in all material respects, and to its knowledge, neither Licensors nor any of its Affiliates has used any employee, consultant, or contractor who has been debarred by any Regulatory Authority, or to its knowledge, is the subject of a debarment proceeding by any Regulatory Authority;

(q) The Licensed Patents have, as of the Effective Date, been diligently prosecuted in the respective patent offices in the Territory in accordance with Applicable Law. The Licensed Patents have been filed and maintained properly and correctly and all applicable fees have been paid on or before the due date for payment;

(r) True, complete and correct copies of: (i) any documents and materials relating to the prosecution, defense, maintenance, validity and enforceability of the Licensed Patents and (ii) all material adverse information with respect to the safety and efficacy of the Licensed Antibody known to Licensors, in each case (i) and (ii), have been provided or made available to Licensee prior to the Effective Date;

(s) Licensors and its Affiliates have generated, prepared, maintained and retained all regulatory documentation that is required to be maintained or retained pursuant to and in accordance with GLP and good clinical practice (if applicable) and Applicable Law, and all such information is true, complete and correct in all material respects;

(t) All current and former officers, employees, agents, and consultants of Licensors or any of its Affiliates who are inventors of or have otherwise contributed in a material manner to the creation or development of any Licensed IP have executed and delivered to Licensors or its Affiliate an assignment or other agreement regarding the protection of proprietary information and the assignment to Licensors or such Affiliate of any Licensed IP. To Licensors knowledge, no current officer, employee, agent, or consultant of Licensors or any of its Affiliates is in violation of any term of any assignment or other agreement regarding the protection of intellectual property or proprietary information of Licensors or such Affiliate;

(u) The Licensed Know-How has been kept confidential or has been disclosed to Third Parties only under terms of confidentiality. To the knowledge of Licensor and its Affiliates, no breach of such confidentiality has been committed by any Third Party;

(v) With respect to the drug substance and drug product of Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products, manufactured and supplied by or on behalf of Licensor hereunder, all such Licensed Antibody shall be in material conformity with the applicable specifications for such Licensed Antibody, shall have been manufactured in conformance with GMP and Applicable Law, and shall have been manufactured in facilities that are in compliance with Applicable Law at the time of such manufacture;

(w) The inventions claimed by the Licensed Patents (i) were not conceived, discovered, developed, or otherwise made in connection with any research activities funded, in whole or in part, by any Governmental Authority, including the federal government of the U.S. or any agency thereof, (ii) are not a “subject invention” as that term is described in 35 U.S.C. Section 201(e) or foreign equivalents;

(x) All informed consent forms for Clinical Trials conducted by or on behalf of Licensor for any Licensed Product permit the transfer of clinical data generated in such Clinical Trials to Licensee as contemplated under this Agreement in compliance with Applicable Law, and Licensor has obtained any filings, approvals or other clearances required under the Regulation on the Administration of Human Genetic Resources and currently effective implementing rules, guidelines and other documents issued by Regulatory Authority in the Retained Territory as necessary to fulfill its obligations under this Agreement; and

(y) All information provided by Licensor to Licensee for due diligence purposes in relation to this Agreement is accurate in all material respects, and, to Licensor’s knowledge, Licensor has not omitted to provide Licensee with any material information in its control concerning the safety or efficacy of the Licensed Antibody or any Licensed Product.

9.4 Disclaimer. EXCEPT FOR THE EXPRESS WARRANTIES SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT, EACH PARTY EXPRESSLY DISCLAIMS ANY AND ALL WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND, WHETHER EXPRESS, IMPLIED, OR STATUTORY, INCLUDING WARRANTIES OF DESIGN, MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE, NONINFRINGEMENT OF THE INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS OF THIRD PARTIES, OR ARISING FROM A COURSE OF DEALING, USAGE, OR TRADE PRACTICES, IN ALL CASES WITH RESPECT THERETO. NEITHER PARTY MAKES ANY REPRESENTATION OR WARRANTY, EITHER EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, THAT ANY OF THE DEVELOPMENT, MANUFACTURING, OR COMMERCIALIZATION EFFORTS WITH REGARD TO ANY COMPOUND OR PRODUCT WILL BE SUCCESSFUL.

10. INDEMNIFICATION

10.1 Indemnification by Licensee. Licensee hereby agrees to defend, indemnify, and hold harmless Licensor, its Affiliates, its sublicensees of the rights granted to Licensor under Section 2.2 and their respective directors, officers, employees, and agents (each, a “Licensor Indemnitee”) from and against any and all liabilities, expenses, and losses, including reasonable legal expenses and attorneys’ fees (collectively, “Losses”), to which any Licensor Indemnitee may become subject as a result of any claim, demand, action, or other proceeding (each, a “Claim”) by any Third Party to the extent such Losses arise out of:

(a) the Development, use, manufacture, Commercialization, or other Exploitation of any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product by Licensee or its Affiliates or Sublicensees;

(b) the negligence or willful misconduct of any Licensee Indemnitee; or

(c) the breach by Licensee of any warranty, representation, covenant, or agreement made by Licensee in this Agreement; except, in each case (a)-(c), to the extent such Losses arise out of any activities set forth in Section 10.2 for which Licenser is obligated to indemnify any Licensee Indemnitee under Section 10.2.

10.2 Indemnification by Licenser. Licenser hereby agrees to defend, indemnify, and hold harmless Licensee, its Affiliates, and Sublicensees and their respective directors, officers, employees, and agents (each, a “Licensee Indemnitee”) from and against any and all Losses to which any Licensee Indemnitee may become subject as a result of any Claim by any Third Party to the extent such Losses arise out of:

(a) the Development, use, manufacture, Commercialization, or other Exploitation of any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product by Licenser or its Affiliates or licensees (other than Licensee);

(b) the negligence or willful misconduct of any Licenser Indemnitee;

(c) the breach by Licenser of any warranty, representation, covenant, or agreement made by Licenser in this Agreement; or

(d) any claim by Licenser’s Affiliate or Third Party licenser in connection with []; except, in each case (a)-(d), to the extent such Losses arise out of any activities set forth in Section 10.1 for which Licensee is obligated to indemnify any Licenser Indemnitee under Section 10.1.

10.3 Indemnification Procedure.

(a) The Party claiming indemnity under this Article 10 (the “Indemnified Party”) shall give written notice to the Party from whom indemnity is being sought (the “Indemnifying Party”) promptly after learning of such Claim.

(b) The Indemnified Party shall provide the Indemnifying Party with reasonable assistance, [], in connection with the defense of the Claim for which indemnity is being sought. The Indemnified Party may participate in and monitor such defense with counsel of its own choice []; provided, however, that the Indemnifying Party shall have the right to assume and conduct the defense of the Claim with counsel of its choice.

(c) The Indemnifying Party shall not settle any Claim without the prior written consent of the Indemnified Party, not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned, or delayed, unless the settlement involves only the payment of money, no admission of wrong-doing or fault by the Indemnified Party, and no restriction on the future actions or activities of the Indemnified Party. So long as the Indemnifying Party is actively defending the Claim in good faith, the Indemnified Party shall not settle such Claim without the prior written consent of the Indemnifying Party.

(d) If the Indemnifying Party does not assume and conduct the defense of the Claim as provided above, (i) the Indemnified Party may defend against and consent to the entry of any judgment, or enter into any settlement with respect to, the Claim in any manner the Indemnified Party may deem reasonably appropriate, provided that the Indemnified Party need to consult with and obtain any consent from, the Indemnifying Party in connection with such settlement, and (ii) the Indemnifying Party will remain responsible to indemnify the Indemnified Party as provided in this Article 10.

10.4 Insurance. During the Term and for [] thereafter, each Party, [], shall maintain commercial general liability insurance and other appropriate insurance in an amount consistent with sound business practice and reasonable in light of its obligations under this Agreement. Each Party shall provide a certificate of insurance (or evidence of self-insurance) evidencing such coverage to the other Party upon the other Party’s request.

10.5 Limitation of Liability. EXCEPT FOR DAMAGES THAT (A) ARISE IN CONNECTION WITH A PARTY'S (I) GROSS NEGLIGENCE, WILLFUL MISCONDUCT OR FRAUD OR (II) BREACH OF ITS OBLIGATIONS UNDER ARTICLE 11 OR SECTION 2.6, OR (B) ARE SUBJECT TO INDEMNIFICATION UNDER SECTION 10.1 OR SECTION 10.2, NEITHER PARTY SHALL BE LIABLE IN CONTRACT, TORT, NEGLIGENCE, BREACH OF STATUTORY DUTY, OR OTHERWISE FOR ANY SPECIAL, PUNITIVE, OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES OR FOR LOSS OF PROFITS SUFFERED BY THE OTHER PARTY (OR ITS AFFILIATES OR (SUB)LICENSEES), REGARDLESS OF ANY NOTICE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

11. CONFIDENTIALITY

11.1 Confidential Information. Except to the extent expressly authorized by this Agreement or otherwise agreed in writing by the Parties, the Parties agree that, during the Term and for [] thereafter, the receiving Party shall keep confidential and shall not publish or otherwise disclose, and shall not use for any purpose other than as expressly provided for in this Agreement, any Confidential Information of the other Party, and both Parties shall keep confidential and, subject to the remainder of this Article 11, shall not publish or otherwise disclose the terms of this Agreement. Each Party may use the other Party's Confidential Information only to the extent required to accomplish the purposes of this Agreement, including exercising its rights and performing its obligations under this Agreement. Each Party will use at least the same standard of care as it uses to protect proprietary or confidential information of its own (but no less than reasonable care) to ensure that its employees, agents, consultants, contractors, and other representatives do not disclose or make any unauthorized use of the other Party's Confidential Information. Each Party will promptly notify the other upon discovery of any loss or unauthorized use or disclosure of the other Party's Confidential Information.

11.2 Exceptions. The obligations of confidentiality and restriction on use under Section 11.1 will not apply to any information that the receiving Party can prove by competent written evidence:

- (a) is now, or hereafter becomes, through no act or failure to act on the part of the receiving Party, generally known or available to the public;
- (b) is known by the receiving Party at the time of receiving such information, other than by previous disclosure of the disclosing Party, or its Affiliates, employees, agents, consultants, or contractors; provided that, for clarity, the foregoing exception shall not apply to Licensed Know-How;
- (c) is hereafter furnished to the receiving Party without restriction by a Third Party who has no obligation of confidentiality or limitations on use with respect thereto, as a matter of right; or
- (d) is independently discovered or developed by the receiving Party without the use of the disclosing Party's Confidential Information.

11.3 Authorized Disclosure. Each Party may disclose Confidential Information belonging to the other Party as expressly permitted by this Agreement or if and to the extent such disclosure is reasonably necessary in the following instances:

- (a) filing, prosecuting, and maintaining Patents as permitted by this Agreement;
- (b) filing Regulatory Filings for Licensed Products that such Party has a license or right to Develop, manufacture, and Commercialize under this Agreement in its Applicable Territory;
- (c) prosecuting or defending litigation as permitted by this Agreement;

(d) complying with Applicable Law (including regulations promulgated by securities exchanges) or court or administrative orders;

(e) disclosure to actual and bona fide potential investors, acquirors, licensees, licensors, and other financial or commercial partners for the purpose of evaluating or carrying out an actual or potential investment, acquisition, or collaboration, in each case under written obligations of confidentiality and non-use at least as stringent as those herein or otherwise customary for the circumstances of such disclosure; and

(f) disclosure to its and its Affiliates' employees, consultants, contractors, agents, licensees, and sublicensees, in each case on a need-to-know basis in connection with the Development, manufacture, Commercialization or other Exploitation of the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, in each case under written obligations of confidentiality and non-use at least as stringent as those herein.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event that a Party is required to make a disclosure of the other Party's Confidential Information pursuant to Section 11.3\(b\) or Section 11.3\(d\), it will, except where impracticable, give reasonable advance notice to the other Party of such disclosure and use efforts to secure confidential treatment of such Confidential Information at least as diligent as such Party would use to protect its own confidential information of a similar nature, but in no event less than reasonable efforts. In any event, the Parties agree to take all reasonable action to avoid disclosure of Confidential Information. Any information disclosed pursuant to any of the foregoing subsections shall remain Confidential Information and subject to the foregoing provisions of this Article 11.

11.4 Publications. A Party shall deliver to the other Party for review a copy of any proposed scientific publication or presentation relating to any Licensed Product contemplated for publication by such Party and incorporating the other Party's Confidential Information at least [] before its intended submission for publication and should consider comments of the other Party in good faith. The other Party shall have the right to require modifications of the proposed publication or presentation to protect its Confidential Information. The other Party may also delay the submission of the proposed publication or presentation for an additional [] as may be reasonably necessary to seek patent protection for the information disclosed in such proposed publication or presentation. Each Party agrees to acknowledge the contribution of the other Party in all publications as scientifically appropriate. For clarity, neither Party shall be required to provide to the other Party any proposed publication or presentation with respect to information that has already been publicly disclosed by such Party or by the other Party in accordance with this Agreement; provided that such information remains accurate as of such time.

11.5 Publicity; Public Disclosures. All press releases relating to this Agreement or its activities hereunder should be subject to approval of both Parties and, if requested by the Licensor, should reflect Licensor's name as the licensor of the Licensed Product to the extent such press release relates to the existence of this Agreement, provided that, notwithstanding the foregoing, Licensee and its Affiliates and its and their Sublicensees shall have the right to publicly disclose research, development and commercial information (including with respect to regulatory matters) regarding the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Product without Licensor's approval, such disclosure to be subject to the provisions of this Article 11 with respect to Licensor's Confidential Information. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the foregoing, either Party may issue such press releases or make such disclosures to the SEC, the Hong Kong Stock Exchange, or other applicable agency as it determines reasonably necessary to comply with Applicable Laws or for appropriate market disclosure. Each Party shall provide the other Party with advance notice of any such legally required disclosures to the extent practicable. The Parties will consult with each other on the provisions of this Agreement to be redacted in any filings made by a Party with the SEC or as otherwise required by the Hong Kong Stock Exchange or Applicable Laws; provided that each Party shall have the right to make any such filing as it determines reasonably necessary to comply with Applicable Laws or for appropriate market disclosure. In addition, once the existence of this Agreement, the identity of the other Party, or any terms of this Agreement are publicly disclosed in accordance with this Section 11.5, either Party shall be free to disclose, without the other Party's prior written consent, such information as has already been publicly disclosed in accordance with this Section 11.5.

11.6 Equitable Relief. Given the nature of the Confidential Information and the competitive damage that a Party would suffer upon unauthorized disclosure, use, or transfer of its Confidential Information to any Third Party, the Parties agree that monetary damages may not be a sufficient remedy for any breach of this Article 11. In addition to all other remedies, a Party shall be entitled to seek specific performance and injunctive and other equitable relief as a remedy for any breach or threatened breach of this Article 11.

12. TERM AND TERMINATION

12.1 Term. This Agreement shall commence on the Effective Date and, unless terminated earlier as provided in this Article 12 or by mutual written agreement of the Parties, shall continue, on a Licensed Product-by-Licensed Product and country-by-country basis, until the expiration of the Royalty Term for such Licensed Product in such country in the Territory (the “Term”). Following expiration of this Agreement with respect to a Licensed Product in a country in the Territory, the license granted to Licensee in Section 2.1 shall be deemed to be non-exclusive, perpetual, irrevocable, and fully paid-up with respect to such Licensed Product in such country. For clarity, the licenses granted by the Licensee to the Licensor under Section 2.2 shall survive the expiration of this Agreement.

12.2 Termination for Cause.

(a) Material Breach. Each Party shall have the right to terminate this Agreement immediately in its entirety upon written notice to the other Party if such other Party materially breaches this Agreement and has not cured such breach to the reasonable satisfaction of the other Party within [] after notice of such breach from the non-breaching Party; provided that if Licensee’s material breach is specific to a particular country or jurisdiction in the Territory, then Licensor shall only have the right to terminate this Agreement to such country or jurisdiction. If cure of such breach (other than non-payment) cannot reasonably be effected within such [] period, the breaching Party shall deliver to the non-breaching Party a plan reasonably calculated to cure such breach within a reasonable timeframe, but in any event within []. So long as the breaching Party is diligently carrying out such plan, the non-breaching Party shall not have the right to terminate this Agreement within such timeframe. If the breaching Party fails to diligently carry out such plan to cure such breach as provided above, or if the breach is not cured within such timeframe, then the non-breaching Party may terminate this Agreement upon written notice to the breaching Party.

(b) Disputed Breach. If the alleged breaching Party disputes in good faith the existence or materiality of a breach specified in a notice provided by the other Party, and such alleged breaching Party provides the other Party notice of such dispute within [], then the other Party shall not have the right to terminate this Agreement under Section 12.2\(a\) unless and until a panel of arbitrators, in accordance with Article 13, has determined that the alleged breaching Party has materially breached this Agreement and such Party fails to cure such breach within the applicable cure period set forth above following such decision.

(c) Bankruptcy. Each Party shall have the right to terminate this Agreement immediately in its entirety upon written notice to the other Party if such other Party makes a general assignment for the benefit of creditors, files an insolvency petition in bankruptcy, petitions for or acquiesces in the appointment of any receiver, trustee, or similar officer to liquidate or conserve its business or any substantial part of its assets, commences under the laws of any jurisdiction any proceeding involving its insolvency, bankruptcy, reorganization, adjustment of debt, dissolution, liquidation, or any other similar proceeding for the release of financially distressed debtors or becomes a party to any proceeding or action of the type described above and such proceeding is not dismissed within [] after the commencement thereof.

(d) Termination for Patent Challenge. In the event that the Licensee or any of its Affiliates or Sublicensees institutes, prosecutes or otherwise participates in (or in any way aids any Third Party in instituting, prosecuting or participating in), at law or in equity or before any administrative or regulatory body, any claim, demand, action or cause of action for declaratory relief, damages or any other remedy or for an injunction, injunction or any other equitable remedy, including any interference, re-examination, opposition or any similar proceeding, alleging that any claim in a Licensed Patent is invalid, unenforceable or otherwise not patentable or would not be infringed by the Licensee's or its Affiliates' or Sublicensees' activities with respect to the Development, Manufacture or Commercialization of Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product absent the rights and licenses granted hereunder (collectively, a "Patent Challenge"), then the Licensor shall have the right to (i) terminate this Agreement in its entirety upon [] prior written notice, unless, prior to expiry of such [] period, the Licensee or its relevant Affiliate or Sublicensee has filed a motion to withdraw or dismiss such action; or (ii) with respect to a Patent Challenge by a Sublicensee, unless the Licensee and its Affiliates terminate all licenses or other agreements with such Sublicensee pursuant to which rights under this Agreement have been sublicensed by the Licensee or its Affiliates as soon as possible (no later than []), terminate this Agreement in its entirety upon written notice to the Licensee. For the avoidance of doubt, the following will not give rise to a right to terminate this Agreement by the Licensor under this Section 12.2(d): (i) any Patent Challenge asserted as a defense or counterclaim to an action first brought by the Licensor or any of its Affiliates against the Licensee or any of its Affiliates or Sublicensees and (ii) with respect to any Patent Challenge asserted by a Third Party that becomes an Affiliate of Licensee (whether through merger, acquisition, consolidation or other similar transaction and whether or not such transaction results in Change of Control of Licensee), and such Patent Challenge commenced prior to the consummation of such transaction.

12.3 Termination without Cause by Licensee. Licensee shall have the right to terminate this Agreement in its entirety, or on a country-by-country or Licensed Product-by-Licensed Product basis, at any time, for any or no reason, upon [] written notice to Licensor.

12.4 Effects of Termination. Upon any termination of this Agreement with respect to a country, a Licensed Product or in its entirety, the terms of this Section 12.4 will apply. For clarity, during the pendency of any Dispute regarding material breach and/or during any termination notice period, all of the terms and conditions of this Agreement shall remain in effect and the Parties shall continue to perform all of their respective obligations hereunder.

(a) Licenses. If the Agreement is terminated in its entirety, the licenses granted under Section 2.1 will automatically terminate. If termination of this Agreement solely with respect to a Licensed Product (the "Terminated Product") or country (the "Terminated Country"), the license granted by Licensor to Licensee shall terminate with respect to such Terminated Product or Terminated Country and this Agreement shall continue in full force and effect with respect to all other Licensed Products and other countries in the Territory not subject to termination. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the licenses granted by the Licensee to the Licensor under Section 2.2 shall survive the termination of this Agreement, unless this Agreement is terminated in its entirety by the Licensee pursuant to Section 12.2(a). For clarity and notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the foregoing, following termination of this Agreement, Licensee shall have no obligation to perform any technology transfer with respect to any Licensee IP to Licensor.

(b) Settlement of Payments. Each Party shall immediately pay or cause to be paid to the other Party all sums which at the date of termination are due and payable to the other Party under this Agreement.

(c) Inventory. The Licensee, its Affiliates and its Sublicensees shall, at request of the Licensor, transfer the Terminated Products that have been manufactured or is in the process of being manufactured at the time of termination to Licensor at a transfer price to be agreed between the Parties, provided that upon request of Licensee, Licensee will have the continued right to sell the Licensed Products in the Territory from its inventory for a period of up to [] subject to the payment of any royalties due to Licensor hereunder.

(d) Sublicenses. Solely in the event this Agreement is terminated by the Licensor pursuant to Section 12.2, any Sublicenses to Third Party Sublicensee granted by the Licensee or its Affiliates under the Licensed IP prior to the effective date of termination of this Agreement shall, upon reasonable written request by the relevant Sublicensee within [] after the effective date of termination of this Agreement, survive any such termination for a reasonable period of time during which the Licensor will enter into a new agreement with such Third Party Sublicensee for a direct license to the Licensed Product of substantially identical scope as the Sublicense granted by the Licensee or its Affiliates and on financial and other terms substantially identical to the corresponding terms in this Agreement, and such Sublicense shall terminate effective upon the effective date of the direct license between the Licensor and the Third Party Sublicensee, provided that (x) such Sublicensee is then in material compliance with the applicable provisions of this Agreement and the terms and conditions of the applicable Sublicense, (y) such Third Party Sublicensee agrees in writing to assume all applicable obligations of the Licensee under this Agreement, taking into consideration any differences in scope or territory between this Agreement and the applicable Sublicense agreement; and provided further that in no event will the Licensor be obligated to fulfill any of the Licensee's obligations under such Sublicense.

(e) Grant-back. If this Agreement is terminated in its entirety or solely with respect to a Licensed Product or a country, except in the event that Licensee has terminated this Agreement pursuant to Section 12.2(a), if Licensor desires to obtain a license to Licensee Reversion Technology solely to Exploit Terminated Products (including any modifications or improvements thereof made by or on behalf of Licensor without including any Patents or Know-How Controlled by Licensee not included in Licensee Reversion Technology) in the Terminated Countries (or worldwide, if this Agreement is terminated in its entirety), then Licensor shall notify Licensee in writing, and the Parties shall negotiate in good faith financial terms and other commercially reasonable terms, taking into account, among other things, the stage of the applicable Terminated Products and the circumstances giving rise to such termination. For clarity, no such license shall be effective unless and until agreed by the Parties.

(f) Regulatory Materials and Regulatory Approval. Except in the event that Licensee has terminated this Agreement pursuant to Section 12.2(a), unless expressly prohibited by any Regulatory Authority or Applicable Law, per the request of Licensor, the Licensee shall transfer to the Licensor or its designee all of its right, title, and interest in all Regulatory Filings, regulatory materials and Regulatory Approvals Controlled by the Licensee and its Affiliates relating solely to the Terminated Product in the Terminated Countries; provided that, the Licensee may retain copies of such items. To the extent such transfer is prohibited by a Regulatory Authority or Applicable Law, the Licensee shall permit the Licensor to reference such Regulatory Filings, regulatory materials and Regulatory Approvals.

(g) Clinical Trials. Where and to the extent permitted by Applicable Law and Regulatory Authorities, the Licensee should wind down any ongoing Clinical Trials with respect to the Terminated Products in the Terminated Countries, [], or if requested by the Licensor, transfer control to the Licensor or its designee of any Clinical Trials being conducted by the Licensee and its Affiliates for the Terminated Product in the Terminated Countries as of the applicable effective date of termination of this Agreement [].

(h) Product Agreements. At the Licensor's written request, the Licensee shall, and shall cause its Affiliates and its and their Sublicensees to, assign to the Licensor or its designee all Product Agreements, unless, with respect to any such Product Agreement, such Product Agreement expressly prohibits such assignment, in which case the Licensee (or such Affiliate or Sublicensee, as applicable) shall cooperate with the Licensor in all reasonable respects to secure the consent of the applicable Third Party to such assignment and if any such consent cannot be obtained with respect to a Product Agreement, at the Licensor's written request, the Licensee shall, and shall cause its Affiliates and its and their Sublicensees to, obtain for the Licensor substantially all of the practical benefit and burden under such Product Agreement, or to assist the Licensor with entering into substantially similar agreement with such Third Party. "Product Agreement" means, with respect to a Terminated Product, any agreement entered into by and between the Licensee or any of its Affiliates or its or their Sublicensees, on the one hand and one or more Third Parties, on the other hand, that is solely and specifically related to the Development, manufacture or Commercialization of such Terminated Product in the Field in the Terminated Countries.

(i) Licensee shall take any other actions with respect to transition matters mutually agreed by the Parties that are intended to ensure orderly transition of the Development, manufacture and Commercialization of the Terminated Product(s) by Licensor in the Terminated Country(ies). For clarity, Licensor shall be solely responsible for all internal and out-of-pocket costs incurred by the Parties (including reimbursing Licensee with respect to all such costs) in connection with the activities contemplated under Section 12.4(h) through 12.4(i).

12.5 Confidential Information. Upon expiration or termination of this Agreement in its entirety, each Party shall promptly return to the other Party, or delete or destroy, all relevant records and materials in such Party's possession or control containing Confidential Information of the other Party; provided that a Party may keep one copy of such materials for legal archival purposes subject to continuing confidentiality obligations. Effective upon such termination, all Confidential Information solely relating to the Terminated Products shall be the Confidential Information of the Licensor (and the Licensor shall be deemed to be the disclosing Party and the Licensee shall be deemed the receiving Party with respect thereto).

12.6 Rights in Bankruptcy. All rights and licenses granted under or pursuant to this Agreement by one Party to the other Party are, and otherwise will be deemed to be, for purposes of Section 365(n) of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code or comparable provision of applicable bankruptcy or insolvency laws outside the U.S., licenses of right to "intellectual property" as defined under Section 101 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code or comparable provision of applicable bankruptcy or insolvency laws outside the U.S. The Parties agree that a Party that is a licensee of such rights under this Agreement will retain and may fully exercise all of its rights and elections under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code or comparable provision of applicable bankruptcy or insolvency laws outside the U.S. The Parties further agree that, in the event of the commencement of a bankruptcy proceeding by or against a Party to this Agreement under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code or comparable provision of applicable bankruptcy or insolvency laws outside the U.S., the other Party will be entitled to a complete duplicate of (or complete access to, as appropriate) any such intellectual property and all embodiments of such intellectual property, and same, if not already in its possession, will be promptly delivered to it (a) upon any such commencement of a bankruptcy or insolvency proceeding upon its written request therefor, unless the bankrupt Party elects to continue to perform all of its obligations under this Agreement, or (b) if not delivered under subclause (a), following the rejection of this Agreement by or on behalf of the bankrupt Party upon written request therefor by the other Party.

12.7 Alternative Remedy in Lieu of Termination. If Licensor materially breaches Sections 2.1, 2.6, 2.8, 9.1, 9.3(a), 9.3(b), 9.3(d), 9.3(e), 9.3(h), 9.3(i), or 9.3(l) of this Agreement and due to which the Licensee has a right to terminate pursuant to Section 12.2(a), then, in lieu of terminating this Agreement, Licensee may, in its sole discretion, by providing written notice to Licensor, reduce all then-unearned milestone payments, royalties and sharing of Sublicense Income by []. []. For the avoidance of doubt, except as set forth in this Section 12.7, if Licensee exercises the alternative remedy set forth above in this Section 12.7, then all rights and obligations of both Parties under this Agreement will continue unaffected, unless and until this Agreement is subsequently terminated by either Party pursuant to Section 12.2 or Section 12.3, provided that such alternative liquidated damages remedy [] for monetary damages for the material breach that originally gave rise to the Licensee's right to terminate this Agreement (provided that, for clarity, the foregoing [] permitted under Applicable Law).

12.8 Survival. Expiration or termination of this Agreement shall not relieve the Parties of any obligation or right accruing prior to such expiration or termination. Except as set forth below or elsewhere in this Agreement, the obligations and rights of the Parties under the following provisions of this Agreement shall survive expiration or termination of this Agreement: Sections 8.1, 12.4, 12.5, 12.8 and Articles 1, 11, 13, 14.

13. DISPUTE RESOLUTION.

13.1 General. Any dispute between the Parties in connection with or relating to this Agreement or any document or instrument delivered in connection herewith other than matters subject to a Party's final decision-making authority set forth in Section 3.3 (such dispute, a "Dispute") shall be resolved pursuant to this Article 13.

13.2 Executive Officers. Any Dispute shall first be referred to the Executive Officers of the Parties, who shall confer in good faith on the resolution of the issue. Any final decision mutually agreed to by the Executive Officers shall be conclusive and binding on the Parties.

13.3 Intellectual Property Disputes. If the Executive Officers are not able to agree on the resolution of a Dispute within [] (or such other period of time as mutually agreed by the Executive Officers) after such Dispute was first referred to them and such Dispute is with respect to the validity, scope, enforceability, inventorship, or ownership of any Patent, trademark, or other intellectual property right ("IP Dispute"), then, if a Party wishes to pursue further resolution of such IP Dispute, such Party may bring an action, claim, or proceeding to resolve such IP Dispute in any court of competent jurisdiction in any country or jurisdiction in which such intellectual property rights apply.

13.4 Arbitration. If the Executive Officers are not able to agree on the resolution of a Dispute within [] (or such other period of time as mutually agreed by the Executive Officers) after such Dispute was first referred to them, then, except as set forth in Section 13.3, if a Party wishes to pursue further resolution of such Dispute, such Dispute shall be finally resolved by binding arbitration in accordance with this Section 13.4. Such Dispute shall be referred to and finally resolved by arbitration administered by the Singapore International Arbitration Centre ("SIAC") pursuant to the rules of SIAC then in effect (the "Rules"), except as otherwise provided herein and applying the substantive law specified in Section 14.1. The arbitration will be conducted in Singapore, Republic of Singapore, by a panel of [] independent, neutral arbitrators appointed in accordance with the Rules; provided that each Party will, within [] after the institution of the arbitration proceedings, nominate such an arbitrator, and such arbitrators will together, within [], select a [] such arbitrator to serve as the chairperson of the arbitration panel. Each arbitrator must have significant business or legal experience in the pharmaceutical business. If the [] initial arbitrators are unable to select a [] arbitrator within such [] period, the [] arbitrator will be appointed in accordance with Rules. After conducting any hearing and taking any evidence deemed appropriate for consideration, the arbitrators will be requested to render their opinion within [] of the final arbitration hearing. The arbitration shall be conducted, and all documents submitted to the arbitrators shall be, in English. No panel of arbitrators will have the power to award damages excluded pursuant to Section 10.5 under this Agreement and any arbitral award that purports to award such damages is expressly prohibited and void ab initio. []; provided that the arbitral tribunal shall have the discretion to provide that [], in such case the arbitral award will so provide. Decisions of the panel of arbitrators that conform to the terms of this Section 13.4 shall be final and binding upon the Parties and the Parties undertake to carry out any award without delay. Judgment on the award may be entered in any court of competent jurisdiction. Except to the extent necessary to confirm, enforce, or challenge an award of the arbitration, to protect or pursue a legal right, or as otherwise required by Applicable Laws or regulation or securities exchange, the existence, content, or results of any Dispute or arbitration hereunder (including any submissions (including exhibits, testimony, proposed rulings, briefs and transcripts) and the arbitrators' rulings and award) shall be Confidential Information of both Parties. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the foregoing, in no event shall an arbitration be initiated after the date when commencement of a legal or equitable proceeding based on the dispute, controversy, or claim would be barred by the applicable statute of limitations. Any disputes concerning the propriety of the commencement of the arbitration shall be finally settled by the arbitral tribunal.

13.5 Interim Relief. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, nothing in this Article 13 shall preclude either Party from seeking interim or provisional relief, including a temporary restraining order, preliminary injunction, or other interim equitable relief concerning a Dispute in any court of competent jurisdiction before or after the initiation of an arbitration as set forth in Section 13.4, if necessary to protect the interests of such Party. This Section 13.5 shall be specifically enforceable.

14. GENERAL PROVISIONS

14.1 Governing Law. This Agreement, and all questions regarding the existence, validity, interpretation, breach, or performance of this Agreement, shall be governed by, and construed and enforced in accordance with, the laws of Singapore, without reference to its conflicts of law principles.

14.2 Entire Agreement; Modification. This Agreement, including the exhibits, a letter agreement between [] and Licensee dated on the even date hereof (the "[]"), and a letter agreement between Licensee and [] dated on the even date hereof (the "[]"), constitute both a final expression of the Parties' agreement and a complete and exclusive statement with respect to all of its terms. This Agreement, the [] and the [] collectively supersede all prior and contemporaneous agreements and communications, whether oral, written, or otherwise, concerning any and all matters contained herein. This Agreement may only be modified or supplemented in a writing expressly stated for such purpose and signed by the Parties to this Agreement.

14.3 Relationship Between the Parties. The Parties' relationship, as established by this Agreement, is solely that of independent contractors. This Agreement does not create any partnership, joint venture, or similar business relationship between the Parties. Neither Party is a legal representative of the other Party, and neither Party can assume or create any obligation, representation, warranty, or guarantee, express or implied, on behalf of the other Party for any purpose whatsoever.

14.4 Waiver. The waiver by either Party of any right under this Agreement or of the failure to perform or of a breach by the other Party shall not be deemed a waiver of any other right hereunder or of any other breach or failure by such other Party whether of a similar nature or otherwise. Any waiver by a Party of a particular term or condition will be effective only if set forth in a written instrument duly executed by or on behalf of the Party waiving such term or condition.

14.5 Assignment. Except as expressly provided hereunder, neither this Agreement nor any rights or obligations hereunder may be assigned or otherwise transferred by either Party without the prior written consent of the other Party (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned, or delayed); except that

(a) each Party may assign or otherwise transfer this Agreement and its rights and obligations hereunder without the other Party's consent in connection with a sale of all or substantially all of the business or assets of such Party to which this Agreement relates (and for clarity, in the case of Licensee, in connection with a sale of all or substantially all of its rights, title and interest in and to all Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Territory), whether by merger, consolidation, divesture, restructure, sale of stock, sale of assets, or otherwise; or

(b) (i) the Licensor may not, without consent of the Licensee, assign this Agreement and its rights and obligations hereunder to an Affiliate of Licensor, which consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed, and (ii) the Licensee may, solely after the first Change of Control of Licensee and Licensor or its Affiliates have sold, transferred or exchanged all shares of Licensee owned by Licensor or its Affiliates or Licensor and its Affiliates have no equity interest in Licensee, assign this Agreement and its rights and obligations hereunder to an Affiliate of Licensee without the consent of Licensor, which consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed, provided that, in each case ((i) and (ii)) if the entity to which this Agreement is assigned ceases to be an Affiliate of the assigning Party, this Agreement shall be automatically assigned back to the assigning Party or its successor.

The rights and obligations of the Parties under this Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the successors and permitted assigns of the Parties specified above, and the name of a Party appearing herein will be deemed to include the name of such Party's successors and permitted assigns to the extent necessary to carry out the intent of this Section 14.5. Any assignment not in accordance with this Section 14.5 shall be null and void and of no legal force or effect.

14.6 Severability. If, for any reason, any part of this Agreement is adjudicated invalid, unenforceable, or illegal by a court of competent jurisdiction, such adjudication shall not affect or impair, in whole or in part, the validity, enforceability, or legality of any remaining portions of this Agreement. The Parties will in such an instance use their best efforts to replace the invalid, unenforceable, or illegal provision(s) with valid, enforceable, and legal provision(s) that best implement the original intent of the Parties and purposes of this Agreement.

14.7 Notices. Any notice to be given under this Agreement must be in writing and delivered either in person, by electronic mail, by air mail (postage prepaid) requiring return receipt, or by internationally recognized overnight delivery service, in each case to the Party to be notified at its address given below, or at any other address such Party may designate by prior written notice to the other in accordance with this Section 14.7. Notice shall be deemed sufficiently given for all purposes upon the earliest of: (a) if personally delivered, the date of actual receipt; (b) if sent by electronic mail, the date of personal acknowledgement by the intended recipient; (c) if air mailed, [] after the date of postmark; or (d) if delivered by overnight delivery service, the [] the overnight delivery service regularly makes deliveries.

If to Licensor, notices must be addressed to:

If to Licensee, notices must be addressed to:

14.8 Force Majeure. Each Party shall be excused from liability for the failure or delay in performance of any obligation under this Agreement by reason of any event beyond such Party's reasonable control, including fire, flood, explosion, earthquake, pandemic (including quarantine, lockdown or other similar orders imposed by any Governmental Authority in association with such pandemic), or other natural forces or acts of God, war, civil unrest, acts of terrorism, sabotage, strikes, riots, power failures, accident, destruction, or other casualty, or any other event similar to those enumerated above (each, a "Force Majeure"). Such excuse from liability shall be effective only to the extent and duration of the event(s) causing the failure or delay in performance and provided that the Party has not caused such event(s) to occur. Notice of a Party's failure or delay in performance due to Force Majeure must be given to the other Party within [] after its occurrence. All delivery dates under this Agreement that have been affected by Force Majeure shall be tolled for the duration of such Force Majeure. In no event shall any Party be required to prevent or settle any labor disturbance or dispute.

14.9 Interpretation. The headings of clauses contained in this Agreement preceding the text of the sections, subsections, and paragraphs hereof are inserted solely for convenience and ease of reference only and shall not constitute any part of this Agreement or have any effect on its interpretation or construction. All references in this Agreement to the singular shall include the plural where applicable.

Unless otherwise specified, references in this Agreement to any Article shall include all Sections, subsections, and paragraphs in such Article, references to any Section shall include all subsections and paragraphs in such Section, and references in this Agreement to any subsection shall include all paragraphs in such subsection. The word “including,” and similar words, means including without limitation. The word “or” means “and/or” unless the context dictates otherwise because the subjects of the conjunction are, or are intended to be, mutually exclusive. The words “herein”, “hereof”, and “hereunder” and other words of similar import refer to this Agreement as a whole and not to any particular Section or other subdivision. All references to days in this Agreement mean calendar days, unless otherwise specified. Ambiguities and uncertainties in this Agreement, if any, shall not be interpreted against either Party, irrespective of which Party may be deemed to have caused the ambiguity or uncertainty to exist. This Agreement has been prepared in the English language and the English language shall control its interpretation. In addition, all notices required or permitted to be given hereunder, and all written, electronic, oral, or other communications between the Parties regarding this Agreement shall be in the English language.

14.10 Counterparts; Electronic Signatures. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original and all of which taken together shall be deemed to constitute one and the same agreement. The Parties agree that execution of this Agreement by industry standard electronic signature software and/or by exchanging executed signature pages in .pdf format via e-mail shall have the same legal force and effect as the exchange of original signatures, and that in any proceeding arising under or related to this Agreement, each Party hereby waives any right to raise any defense or waiver based upon execution of this Agreement by means of such electronic signatures or maintenance of the executed agreement electronically.

14.11 Restricted Information Sharing. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary: (a) nothing in this Agreement obligates Licensor, its Affiliates, licensee or sublicensees to disclose or provide access to any information to Licensee, the JSC, or otherwise to the extent such disclosure or access would, in the reasonable opinion of Licensor’s (or such Affiliate’s, licensee’s or sublicensee’s) outside counsel, violate an Applicable Law in the People’s Republic of China; and (b) nothing in this Agreement obligates Licensee, its Affiliates or Sublicensees to disclose or provide access to any information to Licensor, the JSC, or otherwise to the extent such disclosure or access would, in the reasonable opinion of Licensee’s (or such Affiliate’s or Sublicensee’s) outside counsel, violate an Applicable Law in the United States of America.

LICENSE AGREEMENT

This Amendment (“Amendment”) to the LICENSE AGREEMENT dated and effective as of August 2, 2024 (the “Agreement”), by and between CANDID THERAPEUTICS, INC. (as successor in interest to TRC 2004, Inc.), a Delaware corporation, having an address at 11622 El Camino Real, Suite 150, San Diego, CA 92130 (“Candid”), and GENOR BIOPHARMA CO LTD. ([_____], in Chinese), a limited liability company having an address at Room 501-02, Bldg. 6, No. 690 Bibo Road, China (Shanghai) Pilot Free Trade Zone, Shanghai, China (the “Licensor”) shall be effective as of 28 March, 2025 (“Amendment Effective Date”). Capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined in this Amendment shall have the meaning ascribed to such terms in the Agreement. Candid and Licensor are each referred to in this Amendment individually as a “Party” and, collectively as the “Parties”.

WHEREAS, the Licensor and TRC have entered into the Agreement dated as of August 2, 2024;

WHEREAS, the Agreement was successfully assigned in its entirety by TRC 2004, Inc. to Candid on []; and

WHEREAS, the Parties intend to enter into this Amendment to amend and supplement certain terms of the Agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants set forth below, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged and upon the mutual written assent of the Parties, the Parties agree:

SECTION 1 DEFINITIONS

- 1.1 Capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined in this Amendment shall have the meaning ascribed to such terms in the Agreement.
- 1.2 All references to TRC in the Agreement and in this Amendment shall be replaced with Candid.

SECTION 2 AMENDMENT TO THE AGREEMENT

2.1 Amendment to Article 2 of the Agreement:

- (a) Section 2.1(b) of the Agreement is hereby deleted in its entirety and replaced with the below language:

“(b) a non-exclusive license, with the right to grant sublicenses through multiple tiers (subject to Section 2.3), under the Licensor China IP to perform non-clinical Development, perform clinical Development (solely (i) for clinical Development pursuant to Section 4.3(e), or (ii) to the extent permitted under Section 4.3(d) for performance of Global Clinical Trial in the Retained Territory if the Licensor elects not to participate in such proposed Global Clinical Trial), manufacture and have manufactured the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Retained Territory, solely for the purposes set forth in the foregoing subclause (a).

- (b) Section 2.3 of the Agreement is hereby deleted in its entirety and replaced with the below language:

“2.3 Licensee Reserved Rights; Sublicensing by Licensee. Subject to Section 2.5, Licensee hereby reserves the right to practice, and to grant licenses under, the Licensee IP outside of the scope of the license granted in Section 2.2. For clarity, (a) Licensee retains the exclusive right under the Licensee IP to Develop, use, manufacture, Commercialize and otherwise Exploit the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Territory and (b) notwithstanding the license granted in Section 2.2, Licensee retains the right under the Licensee IP to perform its obligations or exercise its rights under this Agreement, including to perform non-clinical Development, perform clinical Development (solely (i) for clinical Development pursuant to Section 4.3(e), or (ii) to the extent permitted under Section 4.3(d) for performance of Global Clinical Trial in the Retained Territory if the Licensor elects not to participate in such proposed Global Clinical Trial), manufacture and have manufactured the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Retained Territory for the purposes of Exploiting the Licensed Antibody and Licensed Products in the Licensed Field in the Territory. Licensee shall have the right to grant sublicenses under the license granted to it pursuant to Section 2.1 without the consent of Licensor. Licensee shall grant any such sublicense on terms that are consistent with the terms of this Agreement, to the extent applicable based on the scope and purpose of such sublicense, and Licensee shall remain primarily liable to Licensor for the performance by the Affiliate receiving such sublicense or Sublicensee of Licensee’s obligations under this Agreement that are applicable to such Affiliate or Sublicensee. Licensee shall provide a true and complete copy of each sublicense agreement within [] after the grant of a Sublicense, provided that Licensee shall have the right to redact from such copy any confidential or commercially sensitive terms to the extent not pertinent to Licensee’s rights or obligations under this Agreement or verification of compliance with the requirements of this Agreement. Licensee shall not grant sublicense to any sublicensee that has been debarred or disqualified by a Regulatory Authority.”

2.2 Amendment to Article 4 of the Agreement:

- (a) Section 4.3(d)(i) is hereby deleted in its entirety and replaced with the below language:

“(i) If Licensee desires to sponsor (or if the Parties mutually agree to conduct) any Clinical Trial for any Licensed Product in the Licensed Field that includes patient enrollment and clinical sites both in the Territory and the Retained Territory in connection with the Global Development Plan, Licensee shall provide reasonable advance notice thereof and Licensor shall have the right to elect to participate in such Clinical Trial in the Retained Territory by providing written notice of such election to Licensee within [] of receipt of such notice from Licensee (such Clinical Trial or component thereof, a "Global Clinical Trial"). If Licensor elects not to participate in such proposed Global Clinical Trial, or does not notify Licensee of its election to participate in a proposed Global Clinical Trial within such [], then Licensee shall have the right to conduct such proposed Global Clinical Trial in the Licensed Field in the Territory and the Retained Territory []. For the avoidance of doubt, a Clinical Trial for any Licensed Product in the Licensed Field that includes enrollment and clinical sites solely within the Retained Territory shall not be considered a Global Clinical Trial."

- (b) Section 4.3(d)(ii) is hereby deleted in its entirety and replaced with the below language:

"(ii) If Licensor elects to participate in such Global Clinical Trial, then the Parties shall, through the JSC, discuss, and approve a comprehensive written Development plan that sets forth the timeline, budget, allocation of responsibilities and other details of such Global Clinical Trial and other material activities related thereto to be conducted by or on behalf of the Parties (the "Global Clinical Trial Plan"). The Global Clinical Trial Plan shall be consistent with the Global Development Plan and shall comply with the requirements of the Regulatory Authorities in the Retained Territory (including but not limited to the regulatory requirements related to IND filings and the new drug applications). From time to time, but at least once every [], Licensee shall provide an update (including any proposed amendments) to the Global Clinical Trial Plan, which shall be consistent with the Global Development Plan. Licensee shall submit such proposed updated or amended Global Clinical Trial Plan to the JSC for discussion and approval. The updated or amended Global Clinical Trial Plan shall become effective upon approval by the JSC."

- (c) Section 4.3(d)(iii) is hereby deleted in its entirety and replaced with the below language:

"(iii) Licensee shall be the sponsor of each Global Clinical Trial and shall have the sole right and responsibility for development of the protocol, study design and standard operating procedures. Licensor shall be responsible for, [] (A) interacting with Regulatory Authorities in the Retained Territory in connection with such Global Clinical Trial, including with respect to reporting of adverse events and other safety and quality matters in accordance with the Safety Data Exchange Agreement, (B) enrolling patients in such Global Clinical Trial in accordance with the Global Clinical Trial Plan and (C) managing the day-to-day operations of such Global Clinical Trial in the Retained Territory. The Parties will []. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Parties agree that Licensor may select a Clinical Research Organization (CRO) at its sole discretion to conduct such Global Clinical Trial in the Retained Territory, provided that, the CRO selected by the Licensor shall comply with the Licensee's management plan of Global Clinical Trial over its CRO globally."

- (d) The following paragraph shall be inserted into Section 4.3 of the Agreement:

“(e) Trials of GB261 for Autoimmune Disease. Notwithstanding any other provision to the contrary herein, the Licensee shall have the right and shall use the Commercially Reasonable Efforts to conduct investigator-initiated trial(s) (the “IITs”) and Phase I Clinical Trial(s) (the “Retained Territory Phase I Clinical Trial” and, together with the IITs, the “Trials”) (for clarity, the Parties hereby acknowledge that such Trials shall not be deemed as the Global Clinical Trials) of a Licensed Product in the Retained Territory for the indication of autoimmune and inflammatory diseases (“Target Field”), subject to the following conditions and requirements:

- (i) Responsibilities. The Licensee shall be responsible for conducting the Trials according to the Global Development Plan []. The Licensee shall provide the JSC with periodic updates in reasonably sufficient details, in such frequency as approved by the JSC detailing its Development activities related to the Trials in advance of each regularly scheduled JSC meeting. The Licensee shall notify the Licensor promptly upon becoming aware of any information that would reasonably be expected to be material to the Development of, and obtaining the Regulatory Approvals for, the Licensed Product in the Retained Territory, and shall obtain Licensor’s prior written approval if any such activities or the data resulting therefrom will, or would reasonably be anticipated to result in, any submission to or inquiry or inspection from any Regulatory Authority of the Retained Territory, or would otherwise result in any material impact on the Exploitation of the Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product in the Retained Territory.
- (ii) Manufacture of Licensed Product. The Licensee shall appoint [] as the contract development and manufacturing organization (the “CDMO”) to manufacture the clinical samples for the Retained Territory Phase I Clinical Trials. Candid agrees that it will not engage [] or other CDMOs to manufacture and supply any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product for the Retained Territory Phase I Clinical Trials, unless otherwise approved in writing by Licensor. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Parties hereby agree that, the Licensee may engage a CDMO at its sole discretion to manufacture and supply any Licensed Antibody or Licensed Product for use in the IITs, provided that, all data and documents generated from such IITs and the engaged CDMO shall be shared with the Licensor as soon as practicable. For clarity, the clinical samples used for the Retained Territory Phase I Clinical Trial from which data may be submitted to the Regulatory Authority in the Retained Territory shall be manufactured by [].
- (iii) Regulatory Affairs. The Licensee shall be responsible for, [], preparing all the regulatory documentation for the Trials required by the competent Regulatory Authorities in the Retained Territory. The Licensor shall be responsible for filing the applications for the Trials to the competent Regulatory Authorities in the Retained Territory and the Licensee shall, upon the reasonable request of the Licensor, use Commercially Reasonable Efforts to provide necessary assistance to the Licensor relating to filing submissions to Regulatory Authorities. In the Retained Territory, the Licensee and the Licensor shall be registered as the co-sponsor for the Trials and shall duly perform their duties and obligations in accordance with Applicable Laws and this Agreement.

- (iv) Development Records, Data, and Reports. The Licensee shall maintain books and records pertaining to its Development activities related to the Trials in good scientific manner, which should be appropriate for patent and regulatory purposes. After the completion of and during the Trials, the Licensee shall share all related documents and data with the Licensor as soon as practicable. For clarity, either Party shall have the right to use the data generated from any Trials to the extent that: (i) the Licensee shall only use the data generated from the Trials for the Development, manufacturing, and commercialization of the Licensed Product within the Territory; and (ii) the Licensor shall only use the data generated from the Trials for the Development, manufacturing, and commercialization of the Licensed Product within the Retained Territory.
- (v) Protocol Design. The Licensee shall have the sole right and responsibility for development of the protocol, study design and standard operating procedures for the Trial (the “Trial Protocol”). The Licensee shall keep the Licensor reasonably informed of the progress of the Trial Protocol design and shall provide the Licensor with a draft of the Trial Protocol prior to its finalization. The Licensor shall have the opportunity to review and comment on the Trial Protocol, and Licensee shall consider Licensor’s reasonable comments in good faith. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Licensee shall have the right to proceed with the finalization and implementation of the Trial Protocol without awaiting the Licensor’s feedback, provided that the Licensee has made a good-faith effort to incorporate the Licensor’s reasonable advice and comments, to the extent applicable.
- (vi) Trial Site. The Licensee shall have the sole right and responsibility over selection of the site(s) for the Trials (the “Trial Sites”), provided that the Licensee has made a good-faith effort to consider the Licensor’s reasonable advice and comments, to the extent applicable. The site agreement for the Trial (the “Site Agreement”) shall be executed by or on behalf of (e.g. by a contract research organization appointed by Licensee) the Licensee or its Affiliate. The Licensee shall keep the Licensor reasonably informed of the progress of the negotiation and execution of Site Agreements and shall provide the Licensor with a copy of the executed Site Agreements.
- (vii) Pharmacovigilance. The Parties agree that the Safety Data Exchange Agreement shall apply to the pharmacovigilance and safety data exchange procedures in relation to the Trials, and the Parties shall perform their respective rights and obligations in accordance with the provisions set forth under the Agreement.

(viii) Future Clinical Trial. Notwithstanding any other provision to the contrary herein, the Licensor shall have the right to conduct the Phase II Clinical Trial. (the “Future Clinical Trial”) of a Licensed Product in the Retained Territory in the Target Field (for clarity, the Parties hereby acknowledge that such Future Clinical Trial shall not be deemed as the Global Clinical Trials). If the Licensor desires to conduct the Future Clinical Trial, the Licensor shall provide reasonable advance notice to the Licensee and the Licensee shall have the right to elect to participate in such Future Clinical Trial by providing written notice of such election to the Licensor within [] of receipt of such notice from the Licensor. If the Licensee elects not to participate in such Future Clinical Trial, or does not notify the Licensor of its election to participate in such Future Clinical Trial within such [], the Licensee shall reasonably cooperate with the Licensor, [], to assist the Licensor in independently conducting such Future Clinical Trial as a sole sponsor. Such cooperation shall be limited to reasonable and necessary activities in furtherance thereof, including but not limited to signing the necessary documentation (such as authorization letters) as required by the Regulatory Authorities and the Trial Sites and assisting in communications with the Regulatory Authorities and the Trial Sites, to the extent applicable. If the Licensee elects to participate in such Future Clinical Trial, the Licensee shall enter into a good faith discussion with the Licensor and reaches an agreement with the Licensor on the relevant arrangements and details before initiating such Future Clinical Trial.

2.3 Amendment to Article 6 of the Agreement

- (a) The following paragraph shall be added after the table in Section 6.2(a) of the Agreement:

“For the avoidance of doubt, with respect to the [] Development Milestone Event [] shall be deemed to satisfy the requirements for achieving such Development Milestone Event. The Parties acknowledge and agree that [] shall trigger the payment of applicable milestone payment corresponding to the [] Development Milestone Event.”

- (b) The first Regulatory Milestone Event on the table of Section 6.2(b) (as shown immediately below)

2.4 Amendment to Article 9 of the Agreement

- (a) The following paragraph shall be inserted into Section 9.2 of the Agreement:

“(g) The Licensee shall obtain all approvals (including HGRAC Approvals), consents, permits and licenses and complete all necessary security assessments or data protection impact assessments to allow its access to all Know-How pursuant to this Agreement, and the Licensor shall, upon the reasonable request of the Licensee, use Commercially Reasonable Efforts to provide necessary assistance to the Licensee relating to applying for such approvals, permits and licenses. For clarity, the “HGRAC Approval” means any and all necessary record filings with, notification to, and approvals, licenses or permits issued by, the National Health Commission of China or any other Governmental Authority in China required for any activities involving the collection, retention, use and outbound transfer of biological materials from human subjects enrolled in Clinical Trials in China and data sharing (including Clinical Trial data) under this Agreement.”

2.5 Amendment to Article 14 of the Agreement

- (a) The address for notices in Section 14.7 for Licensee shall be amended as follows:

“If to Licensee, notices must be addressed to:

SECTION 3 MISCELLANEOUS

3.1 Effect of Amendment

This Amendment does not supersede, eliminate or change any part of the Agreement except as specifically stated herein. All other rights and obligations of the Agreement shall remain intact. Except as set forth in this Amendment, the Agreement shall continue in full force and effect. Capitalized terms not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed to them under the Agreement.

3.2 Entire Agreement

This Amendment, together with the Agreement, constitutes the entire agreement between the Parties and supersedes any prior oral or written communications. There are no understandings, agreements, representations or warranties, express or implied, with respect to the subject matter hereof except as expressly set forth in this Amendment and the Agreement. No waiver, consent, modification or change of the terms of this Amendment shall bind either Party unless in writing and signed by both Parties by their duly authorized representatives.

3.3 Counterparts

This Amendment may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original, but all of which together will constitute a single agreement. This Agreement may be executed by exchange between the Parties of electronically transmitted signatures (via facsimile, PDF format via e-mail or other electronic means) and such signatures shall be treated as legal, valid, and enforceable, and deemed to bind each Party as if they were original signatures.

3.4 Effectiveness

This Amendment shall, after being duly executed by the Parties, come into effect and be binding upon the Parties since the Amendment Effective Date.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties have caused this Amendment to be executed and delivered as of the Amendment Effective Date.

LICENSE AND COLLABORATION AGREEMENT

This LICENSE AND COLLABORATION AGREEMENT (the “Agreement”) is entered into on August 5, 2024 (the “Effective Date”) between:

SHANGHAI EPIMAB BIOTHERAPEUTICS CO., LTD., a limited liability company duly incorporated under the laws of the People’s Republic of China, registered at Floor 6, Building 3, Zhongke Road 702, Pudong New District, Shanghai, China with a place of business at 6th floor, Building 2, 4560 Jinke Road, Pudong New District, Shanghai, 201210, China (“EpimAb”), and FL2024-005, INC., a corporation organized under the laws of Delaware, having its principal place of business at 601 California St., Suite 600, San Francisco, CA 94108 (“NEWCO”).

EpimAb and NEWCO are sometimes referred to herein individually as a “Party” and collectively as the “Parties.”

Recitals

WHEREAS, NEWCO and additional Persons are entering into the Series A Purchase Agreement (as defined below) concurrent with this Agreement;

WHEREAS, EpimAb, a biotechnology company, has developed a proprietary technology platform known as FIT-Ig® for the development of bi-specific antibodies as well as certain proprietary CD3 Binding Domains, and has used FIT-Ig® together with the CD3 Binding Domains to develop a proprietary bi-specific antibody targeting BCMA and CD3 named “EMB-06”;

WHEREAS, EpimAb Biotherapeutics Inc., an Affiliate of EpimAb, and Foresite Capital Fund VI, L.P., an affiliate of NEWCO, have entered into certain Term Sheet effective as of [] regarding the subject matter hereof (the “Term Sheet”); and

WHEREAS, NEWCO wishes to obtain from EpimAb, and EpimAb is willing to grant to NEWCO, an exclusive license to research, Develop, Manufacture and Commercialize EMB-06 in the NEWCO Territory, all as defined and on the terms and conditions set forth herein.

Agreement

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing premises and the mutual covenants contained herein, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the Parties hereby agree as follows:

ARTICLE 1 DEFINITIONS

Unless the context otherwise requires, the terms in this Agreement with initial letters capitalized shall have the meanings set forth below:

1.1 “Accounting Standards” means U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) or the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS).

1.2 “Active Ingredient” means any clinically active material that provides pharmacological activity in a pharmaceutical (including any biologic) product (excluding formulation components such as coatings, stabilizers, excipients or solvents, adjuvants or controlled release technologies).

1.3 “Affiliate” means, with respect to a Party, any Person that directly or indirectly controls, is controlled by or is under common control with such Party, in each case, only for so long as such control exists. As used in this definition, “control” (and, with correlative meanings, the terms “controlled by” and “under common control with”) means: (a) in the case of a corporation, the direct or indirect ownership of more than fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding voting securities having the right to vote for the election of directors thereof, or (b) in the case of any other type of entity, the direct or indirect possession of an interest that results in the ability to direct or cause the direction of the management or policies of such Person or the power to appoint more than fifty percent (50%) of the members of the governing body of such Person, in each case whether through ownership of voting securities, by contract, or otherwise. For clarity for purposes of this Agreement, EpimAb and NEWCO shall not be considered Affiliates of each other. Notwithstanding the foregoing, [] shall be deemed Affiliates of NEWCO except for Persons directly or indirectly controlled by NEWCO.

1.4 “Applicable Laws” means all laws, statutes, ordinances, regulations, rules or orders of any kind whatsoever of any Governmental Authority that may be in effect from time to time and applicable to the activities contemplated by this Agreement.

1.5 [] means the [].

1.6 “BCMA Binding Domain” means the CDR sequences specified in a Product Specific Claim Directed To any epitope of BCMA.

1.7 “Biosimilar Product” means with respect to a Product in a particular Country in the NEWCO Territory, any product sold by a Third Party not authorized by NEWCO or its Affiliates or its or their sublicensees that is approved by the applicable Regulatory Authority for such Country through any application or submission filed with a Regulatory Authority for Regulatory Approval of a biological product claimed to be biosimilar or interchangeable to such Product or otherwise relying on the approval of such Product in such Country, including, an application filed under 42 U.S.C. § 262(k) or any similar provisions in a Country outside the U.S., based in reliance, at least in part, on data generated for a Regulatory Approval of such Product.

1.8 “Business Day” means a day other than Saturday, Sunday or any day on which banks located in Shanghai, China, or New York, USA are authorized or obligated to close. Whenever this Agreement refers to a number of days, such number shall refer to calendar days unless Business Days are specified.

1.9 “Calendar Quarter” means the respective periods of three consecutive calendar months ending on March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31.

1.10 “Calendar Year” means each twelve (12) month period commencing on January 1 and ending on December 31.

1.11 “CD3 Binding Domains” means the CDR sequences specified in a Product Non-Specific Claim or Product Specific Claim Directed To any epitope of CD3.

1.12 “cGMP” means all applicable current Good Manufacturing Practices, including, as applicable, the principles detailed in the U.S. Current Good Manufacturing Practices, 21 C.F.R. Parts 4, 210, 211, 601, 610 and 820, European Directive 2003/94/EC and Eudralex 4, the principles detailed in the International Conference on Harmonization (“ICH”) Q7 guidelines, and the equivalent Applicable Laws in any relevant Country, each as may be amended and applicable from time to time.

1.13 “Change of Control” means, with respect to a Party, (a) the sale of all or substantially all of its assets or all or substantially all of its assets relating to the Products; (b) a merger, reorganization, consolidation or other transaction (or a series of transactions) involving such Party and any Person that is not an Affiliate of such Party as of the Effective Date, which directly or indirectly results in the holders of voting securities of such Party outstanding immediately prior thereto ceasing to beneficially own at least fifty percent (50%) of the combined voting power of the surviving entity immediately after such merger, reorganization, consolidation or other transaction, or (c) any Person that is not an Affiliate of such Party as of the Effective Date becoming the direct or indirect beneficial owner of fifty percent (50%) or more of the combined voting power of the outstanding securities of such Party or otherwise acquiring the power (whether through ownership interest, contractual right or otherwise) to direct or cause the direction of the management or policies of such Party. “Acquirer” means, with respect to a Change of Control: (i) the Person to whom the assets in clause (a) are sold; or (ii) the Person referenced in clause (b) or clause (c), as applicable.

1.14 “Clinical Trial” means any clinical testing of a Product in human subjects.

1.15 “Commercialization,” “Commercialized,” or “Commercialize” means all activities directed to marketing, distribution, detailing or selling of pharmaceutical products (including importing and exporting activities in connection therewith), including all activities directed to obtaining pricing and reimbursement approvals for Products.

1.16 “Commercially Reasonable Efforts” means (a) where applied to carrying out specific tasks and obligations of a Party under this Agreement, expending (on its own or acting through any of its Affiliates, sublicensees or subcontractors) reasonable, diligent, good faith efforts and resources to accomplish such task or obligation as a similarly situated biotechnology company would normally use to accomplish a similar task or obligation under similar circumstances; and (b) where applied to the Development or Commercialization of Products under this Agreement, the use of reasonable, diligent, good faith efforts and resources, as normally used by a similarly situated biotechnology company for a product at a similar stage of development or life cycle and of similar market potential, taking into account all relevant factors including measures of patent coverage, the Third Party Patent landscape, relative safety and efficacy, product profile, life cycle status, development or manufacturing costs, timelines and budgets, availability of supply, likelihood and timing for obtaining Regulatory Approval, approved or anticipated labeling, existing or projected pricing, duration of exclusivity, existing or projected pricing or sales, the competitiveness of the marketplace, the proprietary position of such product, the regulatory structure involved, and other relevant factors. Prior to a [], “Commercially Reasonable Efforts” shall require that such Party (on its own or acting through any of its Affiliates, sublicensees or subcontractors), [].

1.17 “Competing Product” means any bi-specific antibody that contains ([]) a CDR sequence Directed To any epitope of [] and a CDR sequence Directed To any epitope of [] and any product that contains such a compound.

1.18 “Compound” means any Primary Compound or Modified Compound, as the context requires.

1.19 “Confidential Information” of a Party means all non-public or proprietary information (including Know-How, unpublished patent applications and other information and data of a financial, commercial, business, scientific or technical nature) of such Party that is disclosed by or on behalf of such Party or any of its Affiliates or otherwise made available to the other Party or any of its Affiliates, whether made available orally, in writing or in electronic or other form. The terms and conditions of this Agreement are the Confidential Information of both Parties.

1.20 “Control” or “Controlled” means, with respect to any Know-How, Patents or other intellectual property rights, that a Party has the legal authority or right (whether by ownership, license or otherwise) to grant to the other Party a license, sublicense, access or other right (as applicable) under such Know-How, Patents, or other intellectual property rights, on the terms and conditions set forth herein, in each case without breaching the terms of any agreement with a Third Party existing: (a) as of the Effective Date; or (b) subsequent to the Effective Date, if (in the case of this clause (b)) such Party first acquired rights to such Know-How, Patents, or other intellectual property rights pursuant to such agreement. A Party shall be deemed to Control any Joint Patent to the extent of its individual or joint interest therein, as applicable.

1.21 “Cover”, “Covering” and “Covered” means, with respect to a Patent and a Compound or Product or Invention, or a particular method of making or using of such Compound, Product, or Invention, that, in the absence of ownership of or a license under such Patent, the making, use, and sale, offering for sale, or importation of such Compound, Product, or Invention, or the practice of such method to make or use such Compound or Product, or the practice of such Invention (as applicable) would infringe a claim of such Patent (or in the case of a claim that has not yet issued, would infringe such claim if it were to issue).

1.22 “Country” means a country within the Territory. For the purpose of this Agreement, in the EpimAb Territory each region, namely, Mainland China, Taiwan, Hong Kong and Macau, shall be deemed a Country.

1.23 “Development,” “Developing,” or “Develop” means all activities to obtain and maintain Regulatory Approval for Products, including all pre-clinical studies and Clinical Trials of a Product, manufacture process development, distribution of Products for use in Clinical Trials (including placebos and comparators), statistical analyses, the preparation of Regulatory Materials and all regulatory affairs related to any of the foregoing.

1.24 “Directed To” means, with regard to a compound or product and a target, that such compound or product (a) binds directly to an epitope of such target, and (b) exerts its primary diagnostic, prophylactic or therapeutic activity as a result of such direct binding.

1.25 “Dollars” or “$” means U.S. dollars, the lawful currency of the U.S.

1.26 “EpimAb Territory” means Greater China, including Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan.

1.27 “Elected Upstream License Agreement” means an agreement: (a) pursuant to which EpimAb or any of its Affiliates in-licenses or acquires Patents or Know-How from a Third Party after the Effective Date; and (b) that NEWCO agrees in writing to: (i) comply with the applicable terms and conditions of; and (ii) pay EpimAb’s or its applicable Affiliate’s payment obligations to such Third Party, in each case of (i) and (ii), to the extent associated with the grant, maintenance or exercise of a sublicense to NEWCO under such Know-How or Patents (as applicable) such that such Patents or Know-How (as applicable) become Licensed Technology.

1.28 “Field” means the diagnosis, treatment or prevention of all human and non-human diseases.

1.29 “First Commercial Sale” means, with respect to any Product in any Country, the first sale of such Product to a Third Party for distribution, use or consumption in such Country after the Regulatory Approvals have been obtained for such Product in such Country.

1.30 “FIT-Ig Technology” means EpimAb’s proprietary technology platform for the development of bi-specific antibodies, [], including associated Patents and Know-How.

1.31 “FIT-Ig Technology Improvements” means NEWCO Product Technology that is: (a) Covered by a Product Non-Specific Patent and is not Covered by a Product Specific Patent (or any Product Specific Claim); (b) [] applicable to the FIT-Ig Technology (and is not applicable to other bi-specific binding technology); and (c) invented by [] after the Effective Date.

1.32 “GCP” means all applicable Good Clinical Practice standards for the design, conduct, performance, monitoring, auditing, recording, analyses and reporting of Clinical Trials, including, as applicable (a) as set forth in the ICH Technical Requirements for Registration of Pharmaceuticals for Human Use Harmonized Tripartite Guideline for Good Clinical Practice (CPMP/ICH/135/95) and any other guidelines for good clinical practice for trials on medicinal products in the Territory, (b) the Declaration of Helsinki (2013) as last amended at the 64th World Medical Association in October 2013 and any further amendments or clarifications thereto, (c) 21 C.F.R. Parts 50 (Protection of Human Subjects), 56 (Institutional Review Boards) and 312 (Investigational New Drug Application), as may be amended from time to time, and (d) the equivalent Applicable Laws in any other Country, each as may be amended and applicable from time to time and in each case, that provide for, among other things, assurance that the clinical data and reported results are credible and accurate and protect the rights, integrity, and confidentiality of trial subjects.

1.33 “GLP” means all applicable Good Laboratory Practice standards, including, as applicable, as set forth in the then current good laboratory practice standards promulgated or endorsed by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration as defined in 21 C.F.R. Part 58, or the equivalent Applicable Laws in any other Country, each as may be amended and applicable from time to time.

1.34 “Global Study” means a Clinical Trial designed to obtain Regulatory Approvals for a Product in multiple jurisdictions in both the EpimAb Territory and the NEWCO Territory through the conduct of such Clinical Trial in multiple jurisdictions in both the EpimAb Territory and the NEWCO Territory in accordance with a common protocol.

1.35 “Governmental Authority” means any agency, court, commission, authority, department, ministry, official or other instrumentality of, or being vested with public authority under any law of, any country, region, state or local authority or any political subdivision thereof, or any association of countries.

1.37 “IND” means any investigational new drug application, clinical trial application, clinical trial exemption or similar or equivalent application or submission to the applicable Regulatory Authority for approval to conduct clinical testing of a pharmaceutical product in humans.

1.38 “Indication” means a separate and distinct disease or condition in humans for which a Product obtains Regulatory Approval or for which Regulatory Approval is sought. For clarity: [].

1.39 “Initiate” or “Initiation” means, with respect to a Clinical Trial, the dosing (either with a Product or placebo) of the first human subject or patient enrolled in such Clinical Trial.

1.40 “Invention” means any invention, data, results, discovery, finding, process, improvement, method, composition of matter, article of manufacture, patentable or otherwise, that is invented, first reduced to practice, or otherwise generated by either Party exercising its rights or carrying out its obligations under this Agreement, whether directly or via its Affiliates, agents, contractors or sublicensees, including all rights, title and interest in and to the intellectual property rights therein.

1.41 “Joint Patents” means all Patents jointly owned by the Parties.

1.42 “Joint Product Non-Specific Patents” means all Joint Patents that contain any Product Non-Specific Claim and do not contain any Product Specific Claim.

1.43 “Joint Product Specific Patents” means all Joint Patents that contain any Product Specific Claim and do not contain any Product Non-Specific Claim.

1.44 “Know-How” means any proprietary scientific or technical information, results and data of any type whatsoever, in any tangible or intangible form whatsoever, including databases, safety information, practices, methods, techniques, specifications, formulations, formulae, knowledge, know-how, skill, experience, test data including pharmacological, medicinal chemistry, biological, chemical, biochemical, toxicological and clinical test data, analytical and quality control data, stability data, studies and procedures, and manufacturing process and development information, results and data, but excluding any Patent.

1.45 “Licensed Know-How” means all Know-How that is (a) Controlled by EpimAb or any of its Affiliates as of the Effective Date or at any time during the Term and (b) [] for the Development, Manufacture or Commercialization of a Compound or a Product in the Field; provided however that Licensed Know-How shall exclude: (i) any Know-How that: (A) is Controlled by a Third Party that becomes an Affiliate of EpimAb after the Effective Date as a result of a Change of Control of EpimAb (each an “Acquirer Affiliate”); (B) is not Controlled by EpimAb and its Affiliates that are not Acquirer Affiliates; and (C) is not used in the Development, Manufacture or Commercialization of a Compound or a Product; and (ii) any Know-How that EpimAb or any of its Affiliates in-licenses or acquires from a Third Party after the Effective Date for which: (A) EpimAb promptly notifies NEWCO of such in-license or acquisition and provides the applicable terms and conditions of the corresponding agreement that NEWCO would be subject to (i.e., EpimAb may reasonably redact certain information in such license agreement to the extent not necessary to determine NEWCO’s compliance with its obligations under the agreement) under which EpimAb or its Affiliate obtains such Control; and (B) NEWCO does not agree in writing to both comply with the applicable terms and conditions of the agreement under which EpimAb or its Affiliate obtains Control of such Know-How and pay all amounts that EpimAb or its Affiliate would be obligated to pay in connection with the grant, maintenance or exercise of a sublicense to NEWCO under such Know-How. For clarity, any Know-How that initially meets the qualifications to be excluded from Licensed Know-How pursuant to clause (i) or (ii) shall become Licensed Know-How if it ceases to meet such qualifications. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Licensed Know-How excludes: (1) [] []; and (2) Know-How that solely relates to an Active Ingredient that is not a Compound and is included in a Product.

1.46 “Licensed Patents” means all Patents that (a) are Controlled by EpimAb or any of its Affiliates as of the Effective Date or at any time during the Term and (b) Cover the Primary Compound or any Product or use thereof (including composition of matter, methods of making and using) in the Field; provided however that Licensed Patents shall exclude: (i) any Patent that: (A) is Controlled by an Acquirer Affiliate; (B) is not Controlled by EpimAb and its Affiliates that are not Acquirer Affiliates; and (C) does not Cover an Invention used in or directly resulting from, the Development, Manufacture or Commercialization of a Compound or Product; and (ii) any Patent that EpimAb or any of its Affiliates in-licenses or acquires from a Third Party after the Effective Date for which: (A) EpimAb promptly notifies NEWCO of such in-license or acquisition and provides the applicable terms and conditions of the corresponding agreement that NEWCO would be subject to (i.e., EpimAb may reasonably redact certain information in such license agreement to the extent not necessary to determine NEWCO’s compliance with its obligations under the agreement) under which EpimAb or its Affiliate obtains such Control; and (B) NEWCO does not agree in writing to both comply with the applicable terms and conditions of the agreement under which EpimAb or its Affiliate obtains Control of such Patent and pay all amounts that EpimAb or its Affiliate would be obligated to pay in connection with the grant, maintenance or exercise of a sublicense to NEWCO under such Patent. Certain Licensed Patents existing as of the Effective Date are set forth in Schedule 1.46. For clarity, any Patent that initially meets the qualifications to be excluded from Licensed Patents pursuant to clause (i) or (ii) shall become a Licensed Patent if it ceases to meet such qualifications. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Licensed Patents exclude: (1) Patents that Cover the composition of []; and (2) Patents that both: [].

1.47 “Licensed Technology” means Licensed Know-How and Licensed Patents (including EpimAb’s rights and interests in Joint Inventions and Joint Patents).

1.48 “MAA” or “Marketing Authorization Application” means an application to the appropriate Regulatory Authority for approval to sell a pharmaceutical product in a particular jurisdiction and all amendments and supplements thereto, including New Drug Application (NDA) and Biologic License Application (BLA), but excluding applications for pricing and reimbursement approval.

1.49 “Manufacture,” “Manufactured,” and “Manufacturing” mean activities directed to manufacturing, processing, filling, finishing, packaging, labeling, quality control, quality assurance testing and release, post-marketing validation testing, inventory control and management, storing and transporting Compounds or Products.

1.50 “Manufacturing Cost” means, with respect to a Compound or any component thereof, (a) (i) if NEWCO or its Affiliate or sublicensees Manufactures the Compound or component, [], or (ii) if another Third Party Manufactures the Compound or component, [], plus (b) [].

For the avoidance of doubt, (A) [] shall be deemed Manufacturing Costs, and (B) [] shall be included as Manufacturing Costs.

1.51 “Modified Compound” means any bi-specific antibody that is not the Primary Compound and that contains ([]): (a) the [] in the Primary Compound; and (b) the [] in the Primary Compound.

1.52 “Net Sales” means the gross price billed or invoiced on sales of Products by NEWCO, its Affiliates, or sublicensees for the sale of Products to a Third Party in the NEWCO Territory, less the following deductions, to the extent [] allocable to the sale of such Product:

1.53 “NEWCO Product Technology” means all Inventions that are invented by or on behalf of NEWCO (or its Affiliates or sublicensees) in the Development or Manufacture of any Compound or Product.

1.54 “NEWCO Territory” means worldwide except for the EpimAb Territory.

1.55 “NEWCO Territory JSC Matter” means the approval of the initial NEWCO Development Plan or any material amendment thereto prior to a [].

1.56 “Non-Oncology Development” means the clinical Development of Products in all Indications that are not oncology Indications.

1.57 “Oncology Clinical Trial” means the ongoing multi-center Phase 1/2 Clinical Trial of a Product being conducted by EpimAb as of the Effective Date for (and only for) oncology Indications.

1.58 “Oncology Development” means the clinical Development of the Products performed in the EpimAb Territory solely for oncology Indications, including but not limited to multiple myeloma.

1.59 “Oncology Third Party” means the Third Party that, collectively with its Affiliates, has a market capitalization of at least [] as of [] and [] to obtain rights and licenses from EpimAb to exclusively Develop and Commercialize the Products in (and only in) oncology Indications only in the EpimAb Territory. For the avoidance of doubt, [], the Oncology Third Party shall be deemed to be a licensee of EpimAb for the purposes of this Agreement.

1.60 “Patents” means all national, regional and international patents and patent applications, including divisions, continuations, continuations-in-part, additions, re-issues, renewals, extensions, substitutions, re-examinations or restorations, registrations and revalidations, and supplementary protection certificates and equivalents to any of the foregoing.

1.61 “Person” means any individual, partnership, limited liability company, firm, corporation, association, trust, unincorporated organization or other entity.

1.62 “Phase 1 Clinical Trial” or “Phase 1b Clinical Trial” means a Clinical Trial of a Product in healthy volunteers or patients to estimate the initial safety and tolerability of such Product and to determine the metabolism and the pharmacokinetic and pharmacodynamic actions of such Product, the side effects associated with increasing doses, and, if possible, to gain early evidence on effectiveness and on such Product’s activity, or any human clinical trial of such Product that would otherwise satisfy the requirements of 21 CFR 312.21(a) or corresponding foreign regulations.

1.63 “Phase 1/2 Clinical Trial” means a Clinical Trial that combines both a Phase 1 Clinical Trial and a Phase 2 Clinical Trial into a single protocol, where the Phase 1 Clinical Trial portion is performed first to: (a) establish initial safety, tolerability, pharmacokinetic and pharmacodynamic information for a pharmaceutical or biological product as a monotherapy or in combination with another agent and (b) determine the maximum tolerable dose of such product, and the Phase 2 Clinical Trial portion is performed second to evaluate the safety and efficacy of such product as a monotherapy or in combination with another agent in subjects with a target disease or medical condition treated with a selected dose. For clarity, “Phase 1/2 Clinical Trial” shall include any Clinical Trial that includes any combination of the portions of a Phase 1 Clinical Trial and a Phase 2 Clinical Trial, including a Phase 1b/2a Clinical Trial, a Phase 1b/2 Clinical Trial, or a Phase 1/2a Clinical Trial.

1.64 “Phase 2 Clinical Trial” means a controlled Clinical Trial conducted to evaluate the effectiveness and to explore the therapeutic efficacy of a Product for a particular Indication or Indications in patients with the disease or condition under study and to determine the common short-term side effects and risks associated with such Product and to determine the dose and regimen for Phase 3 Clinical Trials, or any human Clinical Trial of such Product that would otherwise satisfy the requirements of 21 CFR 312.21(b) or corresponding foreign regulations.

1.65 “Phase 3 Clinical Trial” means a controlled Clinical Trial that is performed after preliminary evidence suggesting effectiveness of a Product has been obtained, and is intended to demonstrate or confirm the therapeutic benefit of such Product and to gather the additional information about effectiveness and safety that is needed to evaluate the overall benefit-risk relationship of such Product and to provide an adequate basis for marketing approval and for such Product's labeling and summary of Product characteristics, or any human Clinical Trial of such Product that would otherwise satisfy the requirements of 21 CFR 312.21(c) or corresponding foreign regulations.

1.66 "Pivotal Clinical Trial" means any Clinical Trial that is designed and intended, as of the time the Clinical Trial is initiated, to obtain sufficient results and data to enable the preparation and filing of an MAA. If a Clinical Trial is not initially designed or intended to be a Pivotal Clinical Trial but is later re-designed or converted into, or is re-presented or identified as, a Clinical Trial that could be or that is used as an adequate and well-controlled Clinical Trials to support MAA filing, then such Clinical Trial shall be deemed to be a Pivotal Clinical Trial as of the date of such re-design/conversion/re-presentation/identification, and if the first patient in such Clinical Trial was dosed before the date of such re-design/conversion/re-presentation/identification, then the milestone for the Initiation of the Pivotal Clinical Trial shall be deemed achieved upon such re-design/conversion/re-presentation/identification. For clarity, all Phase 3 Clinical Trials are Pivotal Clinical Trials.

1.67 "[*]" means: (a) NEWCO, or any of its Affiliates or sublicensees, []; or (b) NEWCO (or an Acquirer or Affiliate of NEWCO) [] prior to [].

1.68 "Primary Compound" means EMB-06, as described in [] and having the structure set forth in Schedule 1.68, which antibody is developed using the FIT-Ig Technology and is Directed To both BCMA and CD3.

1.69 "Product" means any pharmaceutical product that contains a Compound as an Active Ingredient, alone or in combination with other Active Ingredients, in any formulation, dosage form or presentation and for any mode of administration.

1.70 "Product Non-Specific Claim" means a claim included in a Licensed Patent (including a Joint Patent) that (a) Covers the Manufacturing, Developing or Commercialization of a Compound or any Product, including claims Covering the FIT-Ig Technology or the CD3 Binding Domains of the Primary Compound, and (b) is not a Product Specific Claim.

1.71 "Product Non-Specific Patent" means any Licensed Patent that: contains at least one Product Non-Specific Claim. Product Non-Specific Patents are listed in Schedule 1.71, as the same may be amended in accordance with Section 9.2.

1.72 "Product Specific Claim" means a claim included in a Licensed Patent (including a Joint Patent) that (a) specifically Covers any BCMA/CD3 bi-specific antibody as a whole molecule or use of such molecule, or (b) Covers any CDR sequence contained in any domain Directed To BCMA.

1.73 "Product Specific Patent" means any Licensed Patent that (a) contains at least one Product Specific Claim and (b) does not contain any Product Non-Specific Claim. Product Specific Patents are listed in Schedule 1.73, as the same may be amended in accordance with Section 9.2.

1.74 “Qualified Series A Financing” means a Series A Preferred Stock financing of NEWCO with a post-money valuation of at least [] and with at least [] in gross proceeds to NEWCO.

1.75 “Regulatory Approval” means, with respect to a Product in a Country or jurisdiction, all approvals from the Regulatory Authorities necessary to market and sell such Product in such Country or jurisdiction (including where applicable, all pricing and reimbursement approvals).

1.76 “Regulatory Authority” means any applicable Government Authority responsible for granting Regulatory Approvals for a Product.

1.77 “Regulatory Exclusivity” means any exclusive marketing rights, data exclusivity rights, or other exclusivity rights or market protections (other than Patents) conferred by any Regulatory Authority with respect to a biologic or pharmaceutical product that prevent: (a) such Regulatory Authority from reviewing or granting approval of a Marketing Authorization Application; or (b) a Third Party from referencing any data in an approved Marketing Authorization Application, including without limitation orphan drug exclusivity, new chemical entity exclusivity, data exclusivity, pediatric exclusivity, or other such exclusivity conferred in the U.S. under the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. § 301 et seq.), as amended, and § 351 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. § 262); in the EU under Directive 2001/83/EC (Article 10), Regulation (EC) No 726/2004 (Articles 14 and 14a), Regulation (EC) No. 1901/2006 (Article 37), Regulation (EC) No 141/2000 (Article 8) and Council Regulation (EC) 469/2009, all as amended; or rights similar thereto in other Countries.

1.78 “Regulatory Material” means any regulatory application, submission, notification, communication, correspondence, registration and other filings made to, received from or otherwise conducted with a Regulatory Authority in order to Develop, Manufacture, market, sell or otherwise Commercialize any Product in a particular Country or jurisdiction. For clarity, Regulatory Materials include IND, MAAs and Regulatory Approvals.

1.79 “Territory” means, with respect to EpimAb, the EpimAb Territory and with respect to NEWCO, the NEWCO Territory.

1.80 “Third Party” means any Person other than EpimAb, NEWCO or Affiliates of either of them.

1.81 “Upstream License Agreements” means, any and all agreements between EpimAb or any of its Affiliates, on the one hand, and any Third Party, on the other hand, pursuant to which EpimAb or its Affiliates has obtained a license under, or other right to make, use, sell, offer to sell, import, or otherwise practice any Patent or Know-How that are included as part of the Licensed Technology. As of the Effective Date, the only Upstream License Agreement(s) are set forth in Schedule 1.81.

1.82 “U.S.” means United States of America, including all possession and territories thereof.

1.83 “Valid Claim” means (a) a claim of an issued and unexpired Patent (as may be extended through supplementary protection certificate or patent term extension or the like) that has not been revoked, held invalid or unenforceable by a patent office, court or other Governmental Authority of competent jurisdiction in a final and non-appealable judgment (or judgment from which no appeal was taken within the allowable time period) and which claim has not been disclaimed, denied or admitted to be invalid or unenforceable through reissue, re-examination or disclaimer or otherwise, or (b) a claim in a pending patent application which was filed and is being prosecuted in good faith, and has not been abandoned or finally disallowed without the possibility of appeal or re-filing of the application. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if a claim of a pending patent application has not issued as a claim of a Patent within [] after the date to which such claim claims priority, such claim shall not be a Valid Claim for the purposes of this Agreement unless and until such claim issues as a claim of an issued Patent (from and after which time the same shall be deemed a Valid Claim subject to clause (a) above).

ARTICLE 2 LICENSES

2.1 License to NEWCO.

(a) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, EpimAb hereby grants, on behalf of itself and its Affiliates, to NEWCO a royalty-bearing license, with the right to grant sublicenses solely in accordance with Section 2.2, under the Licensed Technology, to research, Develop, Manufacture, use, sell, offer for sale, import and otherwise Commercialize any and all Compounds and Products in the Field in the NEWCO Territory. The foregoing license is:

(i) non-exclusive with respect to all Product Non-Specific Claims within the Product Non-Specific Patents, and all Licensed Know-How related thereto;

(ii) non-exclusive with respect to the Patents and Know-How in-licensed from [] under the []; and

(iii) exclusive (even as to EpimAb but subject to EpimAb's retained rights as set forth in Section 2.3) with respect to all Product Specific Patents, all Product Specific Claims within any other Licensed Patents, and all Licensed Know-How related to any of the foregoing.

(b) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, EpimAb hereby grants, on behalf of itself and its Affiliates, to NEWCO a royalty-free, non-exclusive license, with the right to grant sublicenses solely in accordance with Section 2.2, under the Licensed Technology, to (i) research and Develop Products in the Field in the EpimAb Territory for the purposes of obtaining Regulatory Approvals of Products in the NEWCO Territory (including to import and use Products for such activities), or (ii) Manufacture the Compounds or Products in the EpimAb Territory solely to (A) research, Develop, use, sell, offer for sale, import and otherwise Commercialize Compounds and Products in the Field in the NEWCO Territory, or (B) carry out the activities in clause (i) of this Section 2.1(b) ("Ex-NEWCO Territory Manufactured Products").

2.2 Right to Sublicense.

(a) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the remainder of this Section, NEWCO shall have the right to grant sublicenses (through multiple tiers) of the licenses granted to it under Section 2.1: (i) to its Affiliates, provided that such sublicense shall automatically terminate if such sublicensee ceases to be an Affiliate of NEWCO; and (ii) to Third Parties. Notwithstanding the foregoing, NEWCO acknowledges that Section 3.2 of the [] prohibits EpimAb's sublicensees from granting further sublicenses and, therefore, NEWCO acknowledges and agrees that NEWCO currently does not have the right to grant sublicenses under any Licensed Technology that is in-licensed by EpimAb under the []. Further, NEWCO shall not have the right to grant sublicenses under the FIT-Ig Technology to compounds or products that are not a Compound or Product.

(b) Each sublicense under the Licensed Technology shall be subject to a written agreement that is consistent with the terms and conditions of this Agreement. Without limiting the foregoing, each sublicense shall: [].

(c) NEWCO shall provide a true and complete copy of each sublicense agreement to EpimAb within [] after the grant of a sublicense; provided, however, that NEWCO may reasonably redact certain information in such sublicense agreement to the extent not reasonably necessary to determine NEWCO's compliance with its obligations under this Agreement with respect to sublicensees. NEWCO shall remain directly responsible for all of its obligations under this Agreement that have been delegated or sublicensed to any sublicensee. Any sublicensee conduct, act or omission that would have constituted a breach of this Agreement shall be imputed to NEWCO and deemed a breach of this Agreement as if such conduct, act or omission had been directly attributable to NEWCO. NEWCO shall not grant a sublicense to any sublicensee that does not represent to NEWCO in writing that it has not been debarred or disqualified by a Regulatory Authority pursuant Section 306 of the United States Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and has not been excluded or is subject to exclusion from participation in Government Health Care Programs under 42 U.S.C. § 1320a-7 (or similar regulations under Applicable Law).

2.3 EpimAb Retained Rights. Notwithstanding the exclusive license granted to NEWCO under Section 2.1(a), and subject to the terms and conditions of Article 3, EpimAb hereby expressly retains the right to use the Licensed Technology to (a) perform its obligations under this Agreement, and (b) [], in each case of (a) and (b), whether directly or through its Affiliates, licensees, sublicensees or contractors. For clarity, but without limiting any contractual restrictions in this Agreement, EpimAb retains the exclusive right, under the Licensed Technology, to practice, license and otherwise exploit the Licensed Technology outside the scope of the license granted to NEWCO under Section 2.1, including the exclusive right (directly or through its Affiliates, licensees, sublicensees or contractors) to Commercialize the Compounds and Products outside the NEWCO Territory.

2.4 EpimAb's rights in the EpimAb Territory.

(a) EpimAb may grant the [] to (and only to) the Oncology Third Party prior to []. Upon receiving such [], the Oncology Third Party shall have the right to Develop the Product (including conducting Clinical Trials) in the EpimAb Territory, except as restricted by this Agreement (including, without limitation, Section 4.1(c)(iv)). []: (i) []; or (ii) [] except for the granting of the [] to the Oncology Third Party and the provision of assistance to such Oncology Third Party in connection therewith.

(b) []: (i) []; or (ii) [], in each case of (i) and (ii), [].

(c) EpimAb shall not grant the [] or otherwise license the Licensed Technology in the EpimAb Territory except pursuant to a written agreement where the applicable licensee agrees to be bound by the obligations of the following provisions of this Agreement to the extent of such licensee's activities in the same manner in which EpimAb is obligated: []. EpimAb shall provide a true and complete copy of each license agreement granted under any of the Licensed Technology within [] after the grant thereof; provided, however, that EpimAb may reasonably redact certain information in such license agreement to the extent not necessary to determine EpimAb's compliance with its obligations under this Agreement with respect to such licensees. Any EpimAb licensee's conduct, act or omission that would have constituted a breach of this Agreement shall be imputed to EpimAb and deemed a breach of this Agreement as if such conduct, act or omission had been directly attributable to EpimAb.

2.5 [].

(a) NEWCO acknowledges that (a) EpimAb obtained the right to certain Licensed Technology pursuant to the []; (b) the licenses granted to NEWCO under Section 2.1 under such Licensed Technology constitutes sublicenses under the []; and (c) all licenses and other rights granted by EpimAb to NEWCO under this Agreement with respect to Know-How and Patents licensed to EpimAb under the [] are subject to the rights and obligations of EpimAb under the []. NEWCO shall, and shall cause its sublicensees to comply with the following terms and conditions of the [] (each a "Required In-License Provision"). Without limiting the foregoing, NEWCO shall provide EpimAb, in a timely manner, all information with respect to NEWCO's or its sublicensees' activities necessary for EpimAb to comply with the following provisions of the [].

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, NEWCO may, at any time, notify EpimAb that NEWCO desires to terminate its sublicense to the [] and, immediately upon [] Termination Notice, Section 2.5(a) and, to the extent it relates to the [], Section 2.6 shall cease to apply, the [] shall cease to be an [], the definition of Licensed Patents shall exclude the Patents licensed to EpimAb under the [], and the definition of Licensed Know-How shall exclude the Know-How licensed to EpimAb under the [].

2.6 Covenants Regarding Upstream License Agreements. EpimAb agrees that, during the term of the applicable Upstream License Agreement:

(a) Without NEWCO's prior written consent (not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned, or delayed), EpimAb shall not [] any of the Upstream License Agreement(s) in any way that would [];

(b) EpimAb shall not terminate any Upstream License Agreement until expiration of such Upstream License Agreement in accordance with its terms, in whole or in part, [], and except where the Upstream License Agreement is terminated by the counterparty as a result of NEWCO's breach of a Required In-License Provision or NEWCO's failure to provide the information as required under Section 2.5(a), or NEWCO's breach of terms applicable to NEWCO under the applicable Upstream License Agreement or failure to provide EpimAb with the information as required by EpimAb to comply with the applicable Upstream License Agreement, EpimAb shall endeavor reasonably to ensure that each Upstream License Agreement remains in full force and effect with respect to the applicable Licensed Technology licensed to EpimAb thereunder and sublicensed to NEWCO hereunder;

(c) As between NEWCO and EpimAb, all payments owed to the Third Party licensor(s) pursuant to the Upstream License Agreement(s) (other than the []) existing as of the Effective Date shall be the responsibility of and paid by [];

(d) EpimAb shall keep NEWCO reasonably informed of any notices or events under the Upstream License Agreements that could adversely affect NEWCO's obligations or rights under this Agreement (including any notices related to EpimAb's breach of an Upstream License Agreement); and

(e) NEWCO, in its sole discretion, shall be permitted to [] (provided, however, that to the extent that []).

2.7 License to EpimAb. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, NEWCO hereby grants to EpimAb:

(a) a non-exclusive, fully paid up, royalty-free, perpetual license, with the right to grant sublicenses through multiple tiers, under the NEWCO Product Technology (but excluding any Patents in jurisdictions that are inside the NEWCO Territory), to research, Develop, Manufacture, use, sell, offer for sale, import and otherwise Commercialize the Compounds and Products in the EpimAb Territory;

(b) provided the Parties agree to Manufacture Compound and Products for the EpimAb Territory in the NEWCO Territory, a non-exclusive, fully paid, royalty-free, perpetual and irrevocable license, with the right to grant sublicenses through multiple tiers, under the NEWCO Product Technology, to Manufacture the Compounds and Products in the NEWCO Territory to the extent agreed upon between the Parties in writing referencing this Agreement and then solely to research, Develop, use, sell, offer for sale, import and otherwise Commercialize Compounds and Products in the Field in the EpimAb Territory; and

(c) a non-exclusive, fully paid, royalty-free, perpetual and irrevocable license, with the right to grant sublicenses through multiple tiers, under any FIT-Ig Technology Improvements, for any and all uses, other than the Development and Commercialization of the Compounds and Products in the Field in the NEWCO Territory during the Term.

2.8 No Implied Licenses; Negative Covenant. Except as expressly set forth herein, no license or other right or interest under any Know-How or Patents or other intellectual property of either Party is granted (by implication or otherwise) to the other Party under this Agreement. Other than to exercise EpimAb's retained rights expressly set forth in Section 2.3, EpimAb shall not, and shall not permit any of its licensees or Affiliates (including the Oncology Third Party) to, practice under any Licensed Patent inside the scope of any exclusive license granted by EpimAb to NEWCO under Section 2.1 of this Agreement. For clarity, the license granted by EpimAb to NEWCO hereunder does not include any right to use FIT-Ig Technology or the CD3 Binding Domains to discover, design or construct any new multispecific antibody (including a bispecific antibody) that is not a Modified Compound.

2.9 Licensed Know-How Technology Transfer. Promptly after the Effective Date and, in any event, within [] after the Effective Date, EpimAb shall provide NEWCO with access (which may be provided through an electronic data room) to the Licensed Know-How set forth in Schedule 2.9 and all other material Licensed Know-How. EpimAb shall also provide NEWCO with all other Licensed Know-How upon NEWCO's request in a format reasonably requested by NEWCO. If any Licensed Know-How is provided in a language other than English, then, upon NEWCO's request and [], EpimAb shall promptly arrange for a certified translator to translate such Licensed Know-How and provide such translation to NEWCO. Additionally, EpimAb shall notify NEWCO of material updates to Licensed Know-How after the Effective Date and EpimAb shall provide NEWCO with access to any Licensed Know-How generated after the Effective Date as requested by NEWCO. In connection with such technology transfer whether promptly after the Effective Date or otherwise during the term of this Agreement, EpimAb shall also provide NEWCO with reasonable technical assistance to help NEWCO to understand and use such Licensed Know-How in connection with the Development of the Compounds and Products, including reasonable access to EpimAb's technical personnel involved in the research and Development of the Compounds and Products. Within [] after receipt of invoices from EpimAb, [] shall reimburse [] for the out-of-pocket costs and internal costs incurred by [] to provide such technical assistance, except for the internal cost of the first [] of assistance, which shall be provided at [].

2.10 Territory Restriction. Each Party hereby covenants and agrees that it shall not, and shall ensure that its Affiliates and licensees or sublicensees shall not, either directly or indirectly, promote, market, distribute, import, sell or have sold any Product, including via the Internet or mail order, to any Third Party or address or Internet Protocol address or the like outside the Party's Territory, or to any Third Party that such Party, or any of its Affiliate, licensees or sublicensee knows (or is reasonably expected to know) has previously exported or is likely to export such Product outside the Party's Territory. Each Party shall not engage, and shall ensure that its Affiliates, licensees or sublicensees shall not engage, in any advertising or promotional activities relating to any Product directed primarily to customers or other buyers or users located in any Country or jurisdiction outside the Party's Territory, or solicit orders for any Product from any prospective customer or other buyer or user located in any Country or jurisdiction outside the Party's Territory. If a Party or its Affiliates, licensees or sublicensees receive any order for any Product from a prospective customer or other buyer or user located in a Country or jurisdiction outside the Party's Territory, such Party shall immediately refer that order to the other Party and shall not accept any such orders. Each Party shall not, and shall ensure that its Affiliates, licensees and sublicensees shall not, deliver or tender (or cause to be delivered or tendered) any Product outside the Party's Territory. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section 2.10 limits a Party's importation of Product Manufactured outside its Territory into its Territory, if otherwise permitted by this Agreement.

2.11 Non-Compete.

(a) Subject to Section 2.11(b) below, from the Effective Date and until the [] thereof, neither EpimAb nor any of its Affiliates will conduct, directly or indirectly, or collaborate with, license or otherwise grant any rights to any Third Party to [] (a "Competing Program").

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event that a Third Party becomes an Affiliate of EpimAb after the Effective Date through merger, acquisition, consolidation or other similar transaction, and such Third Party, as of the closing date of such transaction, is engaged in the conduct of a Competing Program, then:

(i) if such transaction results in a Change of Control of EpimAb, then such new Affiliate shall have the right to continue such Competing Program and such continuation shall not constitute a breach of EpimAb's exclusivity obligations set forth above; provided that such new Affiliate conducts such Competing Program independently of the activities of this Agreement and does not use any Licensed Technology or NEWCO Product Technology in the conduct of such Competing Program; and

(ii) if such transaction does not result in a Change of Control of EpimAb, then EpimAb and its new Affiliate shall have [] from the closing date of such transaction to wind down or divest such Competing Program, and its new Affiliate's conduct of such Competing Program during such [] period shall not be deemed a breach of EpimAb's exclusivity obligations set forth above; provided that such new Affiliate conducts such Competing Program during such [] period independently of the activities of this Agreement and does not use any Licensed Technology or NEWCO Product Technology in the conduct of such Competing Program.

2.12 Research Collaboration. If requested by NEWCO, the Parties shall endeavor in good faith to agree to (a) a term sheet (including a research plan) for the Research Collaboration Agreement within [] after the Effective Date, and (b) a research collaboration agreement within [] after finalizing the term sheet, pursuant to which EpimAb would perform research activities utilizing its proprietary technologies to discover and develop new drug products, other than any Product, in the area of [] or [] and [] (the "Research Collaboration Agreement"). Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing obligates either Party to enter into the Research Collaboration Agreement (even if NEWCO requests a research collaboration) and each Party may cease negotiation thereof at any time and without any liability to the other Party.

ARTICLE 3 GOVERNANCE

3.1 Alliance Manager. Within [] after the Effective Date, each Party shall appoint (and notify the other Party of the identity of) a representative having the appropriate qualifications (including a general understanding of pharmaceutical development, manufacture and commercialization issues) to act as its alliance manager under this Agreement (the "Alliance Manager"). The Alliance Managers shall serve as the primary contact points between the Parties regarding the activities contemplated by this Agreement. The Alliance Managers shall facilitate the flow of information and otherwise promote communication, coordination and collaboration between the Parties, providing single point communication for seeking consensus both internally within each Party's respective organization, including facilitating review of external corporate communications, and raising cross-Party or cross-functional issues in a timely manner. Each Party may replace its Alliance Manager by written notice to the other Party.

3.2 Joint Steering Committee.

(a) Formation. Within [] after the Effective Date, the Parties shall establish a joint steering committee (the "Joint Steering Committee" or the "JSC") to review the Development, Manufacture and Commercialization of the Compounds and Products of the Parties (and, if applicable, the Oncology Third Party). Each Party shall designate [] representative to the JSC, each of whom shall be an officer or employee of the applicable Party having sufficient seniority within such Party to make decisions arising within the scope of the JSC's responsibilities. Each Party may replace its JSC representative upon written notice to the other Party.

(b) Role. The JSC shall (i) provide a forum for the discussion of the Parties' activities under this Agreement and the Development, Manufacture and Commercialization of the Products; (ii) (A) review, discuss and approve the overall strategy for the Development, Manufacture and Commercialization of Products in the EpimAb Territory and (B) prior to a [], review and discuss the activities undertaken to Develop and Manufacture Products in the NEWCO Territory; (iii) coordinate and oversee technology transfer conducted under Section 2.9 and Section 6.5; (iv) review, discuss, and approve the Development Plans, and any material amendments thereto ([]); (v) review, and discuss: (A) the Commercialization Plan and material amendments thereto for the NEWCO Territory to the extent required by Section 7.3; and (B) the Commercialization Plans in the EpimAb Territory and amendments thereto; (vi) establish joint subcommittees (such as Development subcommittee and Commercialization subcommittee) as necessary or advisable to further the purpose of this Agreement; and (vii) perform such other functions as expressly set forth in this Agreement or allocated to it by the Parties' written agreement. For clarity: (1) except as expressly set forth in Section 3.2(b)(ii)(B) and Section 3.2(b)(v)(A) or the last sentence of Section 5.1, NEWCO has no obligation []; and (2) except as expressly set forth in Section 3.2(b)(ii)(B), [].

(c) Limitation of Authority. The JSC shall only have the powers expressly assigned to it in this Article 3 and elsewhere in this Agreement and shall not have the authority to: (i) modify or amend the terms and conditions of this Agreement; (ii) waive either Party's compliance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement; or (iii) determine any such issue in a manner that would conflict with the express terms and conditions of this Agreement.

(d) Meetings. The JSC shall hold meetings at such times as it elects to do so, but in no event shall such meetings be held less frequently than once every [] until a []. Thereafter, the JSC shall hold meetings no less frequently than []. NEWCO may call additional ad hoc JSC meetings as the needs arise with reasonable advance notice to EpimAb (but NEWCO may not call for more than [] such meeting in any []) and EpimAb may call additional ad hoc JSC meetings with reasonable advance notice to NEWCO (but EpimAb may not call for more than [] such meeting in any []). Meetings of the JSC may be held in person, by audio or video teleconference. In-person JSC meetings shall be held at locations selected alternatively by the Parties. Each Party shall be responsible for all of its own expenses of participating in the JSC meetings. No action taken at any JSC meeting shall be effective unless at least one representative of each Party is participating in such JSC meeting.

(e) Non-Member Attendance. Each Party may from time to time invite a reasonable number of participants, in addition to its representatives, to attend the JSC meetings in a non-voting capacity; provided that if either Party intends to have any Third Party (including any consultant) attend such a meeting, such Party shall provide prior written notice to the other Party. Such Party shall also ensure that such non-member representative is bound by confidentiality and non-use obligations consistent with the terms of this Agreement.

(f) Decision-Making. All decisions of the JSC shall be made by unanimous vote, with each Party's representatives having one vote. If after reasonable discussion and good faith consideration of each Party's view on a particular matter before the JSC, the JSC cannot reach a decision as to such matter within [] after such matter was brought to the JSC for resolution, unless otherwise agreed by the Parties in writing, EpimAb shall have final decision making authority over []; provided, however, that NEWCO, acting reasonably and in good faith, shall have final decision making authority over the following matters []:

[].

With respect to Section 3.2(f)(2), NEWCO shall decide such matters: (A) []; or (B) [].

(g) NEWCO Territory JSC Matter. NEWCO may, from time to time prior to a [], inform the EpimAb JSC representative in writing and specify, with reasonable detail sufficient to support a decision on the requested matter, that [] ("Immediate Decision Request") and, upon informing the EpimAb JSC representative of such, NEWCO's JSC Representative shall make itself reasonably available to EpimAb's JSC representative to discuss such matter. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, after [] following receipt by EpimAb of an Immediate Decision Request (for clarity, receipt of the EpimAb JSC representative of an Immediate Decision Request via email from NEWCO shall be considered "receipt by EpimAb of an Immediate Decision Request"), NEWCO shall have [] corresponding to such []. After the occurrence of a [], NEWCO shall decide NEWCO Territory JSC Matters [].

3.3 Third Party Partners. In the event a Party grants a license or sublicense according to Sections 2.2 or 2.4 (including to the Oncology Third Party), to a Third Party in the Territory (each such Third Party, a “Third Party Partner”), each Third Party Partner may nominate an alliance manager and a representative who may join the JSC from time to time and represent its Development and Commercialization plans and activities. If such Third Party Partner does not join the JSC in such manner, the Party that granted them a license or sublicense, as applicable, shall represent them.

3.4 Change of Control. In the event of a Change of Control where the acquired Party no longer exists, the acquiring Third Party shall assume the role of the acquired Party in the JSC. In a Change of Control of NEWCO where NEWCO still exists and has not assigned this Agreement or if NEWCO exclusively licenses all or substantially all of its rights in the Licensed Technology under this Agreement, NEWCO may delegate to such Acquirer or exclusive licensee the exercise of its JSC rights and performance of all of its JSC obligations. In the event such acquiring Third Party or exclusive licensee of EpimAb Controls a Competing Product, it shall take reasonable steps to ensure separation between its employees involved in the Product and the employees involved in such Competing Product.

3.5 Discontinuation of JSC. The JSC shall continue to exist []. [], the JSC shall have no further obligations under this Agreement and, thereafter, the Alliance Managers shall be the contact persons for the exchange of information under this Agreement and decisions of the JSC shall be decisions as between the Parties, subject to the same respective decision-making rights and limitations set forth in Section 3.2(f) and other terms and conditions of this Agreement.

3.6 []. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, after a []: (a) the JSC shall []; (b) [], which []; and (c) NEWCO shall, as between the Parties and the JSC, have all decision-making authority over [] and []. For clarity, unless the Parties’ rights and obligations are expressly modified under this Section or elsewhere under this Agreement, the rights and obligations of either Party remain unaffected by the occurrence of the [].

ARTICLE 4 DEVELOPMENT

4.1 General.

(a) Oncology Clinical Trial. EpimAb or its designee will be responsible, and will have full control and authority, for carrying out the Oncology Clinical Trial until completion [], and EpimAb will continue to be the IND holder or sponsor Party (as applicable) for the Oncology Clinical Trial. No further patients shall be recruited into the Oncology Clinical Trial. EpimAb shall promptly [] set forth in Schedule 4.1(a) (the “[]”), provided, however, that this sentence does not require EpimAb [] in a manner consistent with the existing protocol for the Oncology Clinical Trial.

(b) NEWCO Territory. Subject to Section 4.1(a), NEWCO shall be responsible for carrying out the Development activities for obtaining Regulatory Approval in the NEWCO Territory [].

(c) EpimAb Territory.

(i) Subject to Section 2.4(b) and Article 3, EpimAb will be responsible for carrying out the Non-Oncology Development and obtaining Regulatory Approval for the Products in the non-oncology Indications in the EpimAb Territory [].

(ii) In the event NEWCO desires to recruit patients in the EpimAb Territory for its own Development purposes in the NEWCO Territory, at NEWCO's request, EpimAb will reasonably assist NEWCO at [].

(iii) If the [] is granted, the Oncology Third Party shall be responsible for pursuing Oncology Development and obtaining Regulatory Approval for the Products in oncology Indications in the EpimAb Territory [].

(iv) [] shall, directly or indirectly, []. Any dispute as to (a) [] or (b) [] shall be resolved through Section 14.2 and Section 14.3.

4.2 Development Diligence. During the period commencing upon the Effective Date and ending on the date of a [], NEWCO (or any of its Affiliates or sublicensees) shall use Commercially Reasonable Efforts to Develop at least one Product in the Field in the NEWCO Territory.

4.3 Development Plan.

(a) All Development of the Compounds and Products by each of EpimAb and the Oncology Third Party, including regulatory affairs in the Territory related thereto, shall be conducted pursuant to a comprehensive written Development plan that sets forth the timeline, budget and other details of all material Development work (including all Clinical Trials) to be conducted by or on behalf of EpimAb and the Oncology Third Party, as applicable, in the EpimAb Territory (the "EpimAb Development Plan"). Neither EpimAb nor the Oncology Third Party shall, directly or indirectly, Develop any Compounds or Products except in accordance with the Development Plan.

(b) Prior to a [], all Development of the Compounds and Products by or on behalf of NEWCO (including through its Affiliate or sublicensees), including regulatory affairs in the Territory related thereto, shall be conducted pursuant to a written Development plan that sets forth the timeline and other material details of all material Development work (including all Clinical Trials) to be conducted by or on behalf of NEWCO (including through its Affiliate or sublicensees) in the NEWCO Territory and the EpimAb Territory (the “NEWCO Development Plan”, together with the EpimAb Development Plan, the “Development Plans”).

(c) From time to time, but, for the EpimAb Development Plan, at least [] every [], each Party shall propose material updates or amendments to their respective Development Plan, and submit such proposed updated or amended plan to the JSC for review, discussion, and, approval. For clarity, in the case of NEWCO, such review, discussion, and approval can be accomplished by Section 3.2(g) and NEWCO has no requirement to submit such updates or amendments after a []. Once approved by the JSC (or, for the NEWCO Development Plan, after the process of Section 3.2(g)), the updated or amended Development Plan shall become effective.

4.4 Global Studies. From time to time during the Term, either Party may propose to the other Party, through the JSC, a Global Study for any Product that includes clinical sites in both the EpimAb Territory and the NEWCO Territory. If the Parties agree in writing (with no obligation to agree) to collaborate on any such Global Study, they shall agree to the operational matters and cost-sharing mechanism in writing prior to undertaking such Global Study.

4.5 Data Exchange and Use. In addition to its adverse event and safety data reporting obligations pursuant to Section 5.7, each Party shall promptly (but, in any event, within [] after such information or documentation becomes available to such Party) provide the other Party with copies of all data and results and all supporting documentation (e.g. protocols, CRFs, analysis plans) generated from its, its Affiliates and licensee (including, in the case of EpimAb, the Oncology Third Party) or sublicensee’s Development of the Compounds and Products, in each case, to the extent available to such first Party, its Affiliates, licensee or sublicensee. NEWCO, its Affiliates and/or sublicensees shall have the right to use the data provided by EpimAb for the purpose of obtaining and maintaining Regulatory Approval for and Commercializing Products in the NEWCO Territory. EpimAb, its Affiliates and/or licensees shall have the right to use the data provided by NEWCO for the purpose of obtaining and maintaining Regulatory Approval for and Commercializing Products in the EpimAb Territory.

4.6 Development Records. Each Party shall, and shall ensure its Affiliates, licensees, and sublicensees to, maintain complete, current and accurate records of Development work conducted by or on behalf of them for the Compounds and Products, and data and other information resulting from such activities. Such records shall properly reflect work done and results achieved in the performance of the Development activities in good scientific manner appropriate for regulatory and patent purposes. Each Party shall, and shall ensure its Affiliates, licensees, and sublicensees to, document non-clinical studies and Clinical Trials in formal written study reports according to Applicable Laws and national and international guidelines (e.g., ICH, GCP, GLP, and cGMP). To the extent necessary to comply with Applicable Laws (including, without limitation, as necessary to obtain Regulatory Approval), each Party shall have the right to review and copy such records maintained by the other Party, its Affiliates, licensees, and sublicensees, at reasonable times and to obtain access to the original.

4.7 Development Reports. Each Party shall keep the other Party reasonably informed (reporting no less frequently than []) as to the progress and results of its and its Affiliates' and (sub)licensees' Development of the Compounds and Products in the NEWCO Territory or in the EpimAb Territory. Without limiting the foregoing, the status, progress and results of the Development of the Compounds and Products shall be discussed at regularly scheduled meetings of the JSC (or a joint Development subcommittee established by the JSC). [] before each such meeting, each Party shall provide the JSC with a written report summarizing the Development activities by or on behalf of such Party, its Affiliates, licensees, and sublicensees and the results thereof, and with respect to NEWCO's report, covering subject matter at a level of detail reasonably required and sufficient to enable EpimAb to determine NEWCO's compliance with its diligence obligations pursuant to Section 4.2 (each a "Diligence Report"). In addition, each Party shall make available to the other Party such additional information about its Development activities as may be reasonably requested by the other Party from time to time (but no more than once in a Calendar Quarter); provided, however, that the obligation of this sentence shall not apply to NEWCO after a [].

ARTICLE 5 REGULATORY

5.1 General. The Development Plans shall set forth the regulatory strategy of the respective Party for seeking Regulatory Approvals for the Products in the Territory. Each Party shall (by itself or through its Affiliates, licensees, and sublicensees) be responsible for all regulatory activities necessary for obtaining and maintaining Regulatory Approvals for the Products in its Territory, which regulatory activities shall be performed at [], and: (a) in the case of EpimAb, in accordance with the regulatory strategy set forth in the EpimAb Development Plan; and (b) in the case of NEWCO prior to a [], in accordance with the regulatory strategy set forth in the NEWCO Development Plan. Through the JSC, the Parties shall keep each other informed of regulatory developments related to the Products in each Party's respective Territory, including any decision by any Regulatory Authority regarding any Product.

5.2 Regulatory Approval Holder. Each Party (or its designee) shall apply for Regulatory Approvals of Products in such Party's Territory in its own name and [], and shall be the named marketing authorization holder of the Regulatory Approvals of Products in its Territory.

5.3 Regulatory Materials. Each Party shall provide the other Party with copies of any Regulatory Materials relating to Products submitted to or received from any Regulatory Authority in such Party's Territory (and with respect to NEWCO, as well as the EpimAb Territory, if any) within [] after submission or receipt, and shall notify the other Party of any other material communication relating to a Product with any Regulatory Authority in the Party's Territory (and with respect to NEWCO, as well as the EpimAb Territory, if any) within [] after such communication.

5.4 Regulatory Assistance. Upon each Party's reasonable request, the other Party shall provide the requesting Party with reasonable assistance in connection with its regulatory activities for Products in the NEWCO Territory or the EpimAb Territory, including the preparation and submission of Regulatory Materials for IND and MAA. Within [] after receipt of invoices from [] shall [] for [] incurred to provide such regulatory assistance.

5.5 Regulatory Meetings. Each Party shall provide the other Party with reasonable advance notice (no less than [] in any event) of any meeting or discussion with any Regulatory Authority related to any Product. Each Party shall lead such meeting or discussion in its Territory. Upon NEWCO's request, EpimAb shall endeavor reasonably to attend and participate in such meeting or discussion in the NEWCO Territory. If the other Party elects not to attend such meeting or discussion, the leading Party shall promptly provide the other Party with a written summary of such meeting or discussion.

5.6 Right of Reference. Each Party hereby grants to the other Party, its Affiliates or licensees or sublicensees the right of reference to all Regulatory Materials pertaining to any Product submitted by or on behalf of such Party, its Affiliates or licensees or sublicensees, for the other Party's or its Affiliates' or licensees' or sublicensees' seeking, obtaining and maintaining Regulatory Approval of such Product in such other Party's Territory. Each Party shall provide the applicable Regulatory Authority(ies) a letter confirming right of reference at any time within [] after the other Party's request and shall take such other actions and execute such other documents as such other Party may reasonably request to further confirm and give effect to this right of reference.

5.7 Adverse Events Reporting. Promptly following the Effective Date, but in any event no later than the initiation of any Clinical Trial of a Product (except for the Oncology Clinical Trial) in the EpimAb Territory or the NEWCO Territory, the Parties shall endeavor to enter into a pharmacovigilance and adverse event reporting agreement setting forth the worldwide pharmacovigilance procedures for the Parties with respect to the Products, such as safety data sharing, adverse events reporting and prescription events monitoring (the "Pharmacovigilance Agreement"). Such procedures shall be in accordance with, and enable the Parties to fulfill, local and national regulatory reporting obligations under Applicable Laws. EpimAb shall transfer and NEWCO shall maintain the global safety database for the Products. Each Party shall hold the primary responsibility for reporting quality complaints, adverse events and safety data related to the Products in its Territory to such database and to the applicable Regulatory Authorities in its Territory, as well as responding to safety issues and to all requests of Regulatory Authorities in its Territory related to the Products, in each case at its own cost and to the extent required by the Applicable Laws. The Parties shall cooperate with each other with respect to their respective pharmacovigilance responsibilities. Each Party agrees to comply with its respective obligations under the Pharmacovigilance Agreement and to cause its Affiliates, licensees and sublicensees to comply with such obligations.

5.8 Regulatory Audits and Inspection. Upon reasonable advance notice, each Party or its representatives shall have the right to audit the regulatory, safety, quality and compliance systems, procedures and practices of the other Party and its Affiliates (and, in the case of NEWCO as the auditing Party, EpimAb's sublicensees or subcontractors) for the Manufacture of Products. Each Party shall promptly notify the other Party of any audit or inspection of such Party, its Affiliates, sublicensees or subcontractors by any Regulatory Authority relating to the Manufacturing of any Product and shall provide the other Party with all information pertinent thereto (including all copies of all notices, filings and correspondences received from or submitted to the Regulatory Authority in connection therewith).

5.9 No Harmful Actions. If a Party believes that the other Party or its licensees or sublicensees is taking or intends to take any action with respect to a Product that could have a material adverse impact upon the regulatory status of any Product in the first Party's Territory, such Party shall have the right to bring the matter to the attention of the JSC and the Parties shall promptly meet to discuss in good faith to resolve such concern. Without limiting the foregoing, unless the Parties otherwise agree: [].

5.10 Remedial Actions. Each Party shall notify the other immediately, and promptly confirm such notice in writing, if it obtains information indicating that any Product may be subject to any recall, corrective action or other regulatory action by any Regulatory Authority or other Governmental Authority (a "Remedial Action"). The Parties shall assist each other in gathering and evaluating such information as is necessary to determine the necessity of conducting a Remedial Action. A Party shall have sole discretion with respect to any matters relating to any Remedial Action in such Party's Territory, including the decision to commence such Remedial Action and the control over such Remedial Action. The [] of any Remedial Action in a Party's Territory shall []. A Party shall, and shall ensure that its Affiliates and licensees or sublicensees will, maintain adequate records to permit such Party to trace the distribution, sale and use of the Product in such Party's Territory.

ARTICLE 6 MANUFACTURE AND SUPPLY

6.1 Responsibilities for Manufacture and Supply of the Oncology Clinical Trial. EpimAb shall be responsible, at its cost and expense, for the Manufacture and supply of all Products for carrying out and completing the Oncology Clinical Trial.

6.2 Manufacture and Supply in the NEWCO Territory. NEWCO shall have the right, either by itself or through its Affiliates, sublicensees or Third Party contractors, to Manufacture all Compounds or Products for the Development (including performance of the Clinical Trials) or Commercialization of Products by or on behalf of NEWCO and its Affiliates and sublicensees in the NEWCO Territory, []. The Parties may agree at the JSC that EpimAb will engage a Third Party contractor to Manufacture the Products in the NEWCO Territory for the Development and Commercialization of Product by or on behalf of EpimAb, its Affiliates or licensees in the EpimAb Territory.

6.3 Manufacture and Supply.

(a) [], NEWCO shall decide the manufacturer(s) of the Compounds and Products for EpimAb, which may or may not be located in the EpimAb Territory. For clarity, EpimAb is responsible for establishing its own supply of Compounds and Products from such manufacturers. If the applicable manufacturer selected by NEWCO (A) [] and (B) [], EpimAb and its Affiliates shall neither: (i) []; nor (ii) []. The Parties shall collaborate to ensure each Party is adequately supplied with EMB-06 and Products from such manufacturer(s). If the Oncology Third Party obtains the [] and does not agree to use such manufacturer(s) [], then the Oncology Third Party shall have the right, either by itself or through its Affiliates or Third Party contractors, [].

(b) [], EpimAb shall be free to decide whether to engage a different manufacturer in the EpimAb Territory or to Manufacture the Products in the EpimAb Territory by itself or through its Affiliates or licensees.

(c) Subject to the licenses granted in Section 2.1, NEWCO may elect to Manufacture the Compounds or Products in the EpimAb Territory for Development and Commercialization for the NEWCO Territory.

6.4 Inventory. Upon NEWCO's request within [] after the Effective Date, EpimAb shall transfer to NEWCO approximately [] of the Primary Compound (or such lesser amount requested by NEWCO) (the "Allocated Inventory"). EpimAb will deliver the Allocated Inventory to NEWCO or NEWCO's designee [] designated facility, promptly following such request.

6.5 Manufacture Technology Transfer; Interim Supply. In order for NEWCO to exercise its rights as set forth in Sections 6.2 and 6.3, the Parties shall coordinate and agree to a Manufacturing technology transfer plan pursuant to which EpimAb shall provide NEWCO with reasonable technical assistance to enable NEWCO or its designee to Manufacture the Primary Compound and Products containing the Primary Compound. Such technical assistance shall, if requested by NEWCO, []. Within [] after receipt of invoices from [], [] to provide such technical assistance, except for the [] of assistance, which shall be provided []. In addition, upon NEWCO's reasonable request, EpimAb shall also []. Upon NEWCO's request (and []) from time to time prior to the [] of the Effective Date, EpimAb shall endeavor reasonably to [].

ARTICLE 7
COMMERCIALIZATION

7.1 General. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, each Party shall, either by itself or through its Affiliates, licensees or sublicensees or Third Party contractor(s), be solely responsible for the Commercialization of Products in such Party's Territory, [], including developing and executing a commercial launch plan, product marketing and promotion, marketing access and pricing strategy, negotiating with applicable Governmental Authorities regarding the price and reimbursement mechanisms, booking sales, product distribution, providing customer support (including handling medical queries), and performing other related functions.

7.2 OMITTED.

7.3 Commercialization Plan. No later than [] before the anticipated date of the submission of the first MAA for a Product in its Territory, each Party shall submit to the JSC (or a joint Commercialization subcommittee established by the JSC) for review and discussion a written Commercialization plan that sets forth the timeline and details of all major Commercialization activities planned for such Product in such Party's Territory for the next [] (each, a "Commercialization Plan"). Each Commercialization Plan shall include, without limitation, pricing and market access strategy ("Pricing and Access Strategy"). EpimAb shall not, directly or indirectly, Commercialize any Compounds or Products except in a manner consistent with the Pricing and Access Strategy portion of its Commercialization Plan. Thereafter, from time to time, but at least [], EpimAb shall prepare updates or amendments to its Commercialization Plan to reflect changes in such plans, including those in response to changes in the marketplace, relative success of the Products, and other relevant factors influencing such plan and activities, and submit such update or amendment to JSC for review and discussion. NEWCO shall submit material updates or amendments to its Commercialization Plan the JSC for review, provided, however, that such updates or amendments may be submitted after NEWCO implements and starts conducting the activities contemplated in such updates or amendments. The Commercialization of the Product in the Territory shall be conducted pursuant to the Commercialization Plan. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything to the contrary, after NEWCO undergoes a Change of Control to an Acquirer (or NEWCO exclusively licenses all or substantially all its rights in the Licensed Technology under this Agreement to a Person) that, collectively with its Affiliates, has a market capitalization of greater than [] at the time of such Change of Control (or exclusive license, as applicable), NEWCO shall have no obligation to: [].

7.4 Coordination of Commercialization Activities. The Parties recognize that they may benefit from the coordination of certain activities in support of the Commercialization of Products across their Territories. As such, the Parties may coordinate such activities where appropriate, including scientific and medical communication and product positioning. This paragraph creates no obligation on the Parties in any way and is merely a statement of possible intent.

7.5 Commercialization Reports. EpimAb shall keep NEWCO reasonably informed of its Commercialization activities with respect to the Products in the EpimAb Territory. Without limiting the foregoing, EpimAb shall update NEWCO at each regularly scheduled JSC meeting regarding the Commercialization activities with respect to the Product in the EpimAb Territory. Each such update shall include a reasonably detailed summary of EpimAb's significant Commercialization activities with respect to the Products in the EpimAb Territory. In addition, EpimAb shall make available to NEWCO such additional information about its Commercialization activities with respect to the Product as may be reasonably requested by NEWCO from time to time. Notwithstanding the foregoing, EpimAb shall have no obligations under this Section 7.5 after EpimAb undergoes a Change of Control to an Acquirer (or EpimAb exclusively licenses all or substantially all its rights in the Licensed Technology under this Agreement to a Person) that, collectively with its Affiliates, has a market capitalization of greater than [] at the time of such Change of Control (or exclusive license, as applicable).

ARTICLE 8 PAYMENTS AND MILESTONES

8.1 Equity Issuance. As partial consideration for the licenses and other rights granted by EpimAb to NEWCO hereunder, on the Effective Date, NEWCO shall issue to [] (“EpimAb Parent”), and shareholders of EpimAb Parent (the “EpimAb Shareholders”) specified on Schedule 8.1 hereto that number of shares of Series A Preferred Stock of NEWCO set forth opposite the names of EpimAb Parent and such shareholders in the column entitled “EpimAb/ EpimAb Shareholder” on Schedule 8.1 hereto, pursuant to the terms and conditions of that certain Series A Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement dated as of the date hereof by and between NEWCO, EpimAb Parent, EpimAb Shareholders and the other purchasers named therein (the “Series A Purchase Agreement”). The aggregate number of shares of Series A Preferred Stock of NEWCO issued pursuant to this Section 8.1 shall be thirty million (30,000,000), representing [] of the fully diluted shares of NEWCO immediately following the Closings (as defined in the Series A Purchase Agreement). In addition to the Series A Purchase Agreement, EpimAb Parent and EpimAb Shareholders will also enter into, and become parties to, the same financing agreements entered into by the other purchasers of NEWCO's Series A Preferred Stock, including an Investors' Rights Agreement, a Voting Agreement, and a Right of First Refusal and Co-Sale Agreement.

8.2 Upfront Payment. In partial consideration of the licenses and other rights granted by EpimAb to NEWCO hereunder, NEWCO shall pay to EpimAb a one-time, non-refundable and non-creditable upfront payment of thirty million Dollars ($30,000,000) within [] after the Effective Date.

8.3 Development and Regulatory Milestones Payments.

(a) Milestone Events. In partial consideration of the licenses and other rights granted by EpimAb to NEWCO hereunder and subject to the remainder of this Section 8.3, NEWCO shall pay to EpimAb the following one-time, non-refundable and non-creditable milestone payments set forth in the table below upon the first achievement of the corresponding milestone event (each, a “Milestone Event”) (whether by NEWCO, its Affiliate or sublicensee):

Milestone Event in the NEWCO Territory	Milestone Payment (in million Dollars)
1) []	[]
2) []	[]
3) []	[]
4) []	[]
5) []	[]
6) []	[]
Total	95

(b) Milestone Conditions. The following conditions apply with respect to the milestones and payments set forth in the table above in Section 8.3(a).

(i) Each milestone payment set forth above shall be due and payable only once, regardless of how many times such Milestone Event is achieved or the number of Products that achieve such Milestone Event. The aggregate milestone payments under this Section 8.3 shall not exceed ninety-five million Dollars ($95,000,000).

(ii) Each milestone payment set forth above shall be due and payable irrespective of whether such Milestone Event is achieved by NEWCO, its Affiliates, or sublicensee(s).

(iii) If Milestone Event #1 has not occurred before Milestone Event #2, #3, #5, or #6 occurs, then Milestone Event #1 will be deemed to have occurred on the same date as the occurrence of Milestone Event #2, #3, #5, or #6 (whichever is first) as applicable.

(iv) If Milestone Event #2 has not occurred before Milestone Event #3, #5, or #6 occurs, then Milestone Event #2 will be deemed to have occurred on the same date as the occurrence of Milestone Event #3, #5, or #6 as applicable.

(c) Pivotal Clinical Trial Advancement. NEWCO or its Acquirer may, but is not obligated to, pay in advance to EpimAb the [] milestone payment for Milestone Event #2 ([]) prior to the achievement of such Milestone Event #2. For clarity, if NEWCO or its Acquirer makes such payment, then NEWCO's obligation to pay such amount after the achievement of Milestone Event #2 shall be deemed fully satisfied and no further payment shall be due with respect to Milestone Event #2 if such Milestone Event #2 is subsequently achieved.

(d) Notice and Payment. NEWCO shall notify EpimAb in writing within [] after the first achievement of each Milestone Event set forth above and shall pay to EpimAb the corresponding milestone payment within [] after the achievement of such Milestone Event.

8.4 Sales Milestone.

(a) Sales Milestone Events. In partial consideration of the licenses and other rights granted by EpimAb to NEWCO hereunder and subject to the remainder of this Section 8.4, NEWCO shall pay to EpimAb the following one-time, non-refundable and non-creditable sales milestone payments set forth in the table below within forty [] after the first Calendar Year in which the aggregated Net Sales of all Products sold in the NEWCO Territory in such Calendar Year reach the corresponding threshold value indicated below. If a sales milestone is achieved prior to the end of a Calendar Year, then the corresponding payment shall be made within [] after the end of the [] in which such milestone is achieved (rather than at the end of the []).

Aggregate Annual Net Sales (in [] Dollars) of all Products in the NEWCO Territory within any Calendar Year		Milestone Payment (in million Dollars)
1. Equal or exceed	[]	[]
2. Equal or exceed	[]	[]
3. Equal or exceed	[]	[]
4. Equal or exceed	[]	[]
5. Equal or exceed	[]	[]
Total		480

(b) Milestone Conditions. Each sales milestone payment set forth above shall be due and payable only once, regardless of how many times such sales milestone event is achieved. The aggregate milestone payments under this Section 8.4 shall not exceed four hundred and eighty million Dollars ($480,000,000). For clarity, the sales milestone payments in this Section 8.4 are additive, such that if more than one sales milestone set forth above is achieved in the same Calendar Year, then the milestone payments for all such sales milestones shall be payable.

(c) Notice and Payment. As part of the royalty report in Section 8.5(g), NEWCO shall provide written notice to EpimAb if any sales milestone event set forth in Section 8.4(a) above occurs during the time period to which such royalty report pertains. NEWCO shall pay to EpimAb the corresponding milestone payments concurrently with the delivery of such royalty report (i.e., within [] after the end of the applicable []).

8.5 Royalty Payments.

(a) Royalty Rates. In partial consideration of the licenses and other rights granted by EpimAb to NEWCO hereunder and subject to the remainder of this Section 8.5, NEWCO shall make quarterly non-refundable running royalty payments to EpimAb on the Net Sales of Products sold in the NEWCO Territory, as calculated by multiplying the applicable royalty rate set forth in the table below by the corresponding amount of incremental, aggregated annual Net Sales of all Products sold in the NEWCO Territory in the applicable Calendar Year.

For that portion of annual Net Sales (in [] Dollars) of all Products in the NEWCO Territory in the applicable Calendar Year		Royalty Rate
1) less than or equal to	[]	[]
2) greater than	[]	[]
but less than or equal to	[]	[]
3) greater than	[]	[]

(b) Royalty Term. NEWCO's obligation to pay royalties pursuant to this Section 8.5 shall continue, on a Product-by-Product and Country-by-Country basis, until the latest of: (i) the expiration of the last Valid Claim in the Licensed Patent in such Country that claims such Product, including the composition of matter of or the formulation, method of making or method of using such Product (including any components thereof); (ii) the expiration of all Regulatory Exclusivity for such Product in such Country; and (iii) the date that is twelve (12) years after the First Commercial Sale of a Product in such Country (i.e., the first Product to have a First Commercial Sale in such Country) (the "Royalty Term").

(c) Royalty Adjustments.

(i) Third Party Licenses. Subject to Section 8.6, in the event NEWCO or any of its Affiliates or sublicensees obtains a license under any Patent or Know-How of a Third Party (including, pursuant to any Elected Upstream License Agreement) that Covers or is necessary to make, use, or sell, offer to sell, or import a Product (including, without limitation, a Compound in a Product) in a Country (a “Third Party License”), then subject to Section 8.5(c)(iv), NEWCO may deduct from the royalty payments that would otherwise have been due under Section 8.5(a) in the corresponding [], an amount equal to [] of the amount of such payments paid (or payable) by NEWCO to such Third Party ([]) to the extent attributable to Products for such license in such Country for such [].

(ii) Patent Expiry. Subject to Section 8.5(c)(iv), on a Product-by-Product and Country-by-Country basis, if such Product is no longer Covered by a Valid Claim in the Licensed Patent, then the royalty payments payable under Section 8.5(a) with respect to such Product in such Country will be reduced by [] during such period.

(iii) Biosimilar Entry. Subject to Section 8.5(c)(iv), on a Product-by-Product and Country-by-Country basis, if any Biosimilar Product for any of the Indications included in the approved labeling of such Product is launched in such Country in a given [], then, thereafter, the royalty payments payable under Section 8.5(a) with respect to such Product in such Country shall be reduced by [].

(iv) Royalty Floor. In no event shall the royalty reductions described in Section 8.5(c)(i) through Section 8.5(c)(iii), alone or together, reduce the royalties payable by NEWCO for a given [] during the Royalty Term for a particular Product in a particular Country in the NEWCO Territory to less than [] of the amounts payable by NEWCO for such [] pursuant to Section 8.5(a).

(d) [].

(e) Royalty Report and Payment. Within [] after the end of each [], commencing with the [] in which there is any sale of any Product anywhere in the NEWCO Territory, NEWCO shall provide EpimAb with a report that contains the following information for the applicable [], on a Product-by-Product and Country-by-Country basis in the NEWCO Territory: []. Concurrent with the delivery of the applicable quarterly royalty report, NEWCO shall pay to EpimAb (or its Affiliate designated by EpimAb in writing at least [] in advance) the royalties owed with respect to Net Sales for such [] and, if any sales milestone is achieved during such [], the corresponding sales milestone payment.

8.6 Payments under Upstream License Agreements.

(a) As between the Parties, [] shall be [] that are payable by [] to [] under the [] arising from the licenses granted to NEWCO hereunder. At NEWCO's election, [] shall either (a) timely [] for [] to meet its payment obligations to [], or (b) directly make [] and promptly provide documentation to [] demonstrating that [].

(b) As between the Parties, [], its Affiliates or its or their sublicensees. Notwithstanding the foregoing: (i) [], its Affiliates or its or their sublicensees; and (ii) [] in accordance with Section 8.6(a).

8.7 Currency; Exchange Rate. All payments to be made by NEWCO to EpimAb under this Agreement (including the upfront payment, milestone payments and royalties) shall be made in Dollars by bank wire transfer in immediately available funds to a bank account designated by written notice from EpimAb. The rate of exchange to be used in computing the amount of currency equivalent in Dollars shall be made at the average of the middle price reported by The Wall Street Journal for the first, middle and last Business Days of the applicable reporting period for the payment due or, if applicable, the period for which the invoice was issued.

8.8 Late Payments. Time is of the essence in respect of all payment obligations under this Agreement. If EpimAb does not receive payment of any sum due to it on or before the due date therefor, simple interest shall thereafter accrue on the sum due to EpimAb from the due date until the date of payment at the interest rate of [] above LIBOR as reported by The Wall Street Journal for the first, middle and last Business Days of the applicable period since payment due date per [].

8.9 Financial Records and Audits. NEWCO shall (and shall ensure that its sublicensees (including Affiliates that are sublicensees) will) maintain complete and accurate records in accordance with Accounting Standards and in sufficient detail to permit EpimAb to confirm the accuracy of Net Sales and gross sales reported by NEWCO and amounts payable under this Agreement. Upon no less than [] prior notice, such records shall be open for examination, during regular business hours, for a period of [] following the end of the [] to which they pertain, and not more often than once in any [] period, by an independent certified public accountant selected by EpimAb and reasonably acceptable to NEWCO, for the sole purpose of verifying for EpimAb the accuracy of the Net Sales, gross sales, royalty reports and any payments provided by NEWCO under this Agreement. [] of such audit unless such audit reveals an underpayment by [] of more than [] of the amount actually due during any [], in which case [] of such audit. NEWCO shall pay to EpimAb any underpayment discovered by such audit within [] after the accountant's report, plus interest (as set forth in Section 8.8) from the original due date. NEWCO shall include in each relevant sublicense granted by it a provision requiring the sublicensee to maintain records of sales of Products made pursuant to such sublicense and to [].

8.10 Tax Withholding. If Applicable Laws require that taxes be deducted and withheld from a payment made by NEWCO to EpimAb under this Agreement, NEWCO shall (a) deduct those taxes from the payment; (b) pay the taxes to the proper taxing authority; and (c) send evidence of the obligation together with proof of payment to EpimAb within [] following that payment. NEWCO's payment of such amount to the relevant taxing authority shall be deemed payment to EpimAb of such amount for all purposes under this Agreement. EpimAb and NEWCO will cooperate with respect to all documentation required by any taxing authority or reasonably requested by either Party to secure a reduction in the rate of applicable value added tax and withholding taxes or reduction or reimbursement of such taxes withheld.

ARTICLE 9 INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

9.1 Inventions.

(a) Each Party shall solely own all Inventions invented or otherwise first created solely by or on behalf of such Party, including its, its Affiliates' and its sublicensees' employees, contractors and/or agents. Except to the extent restricted by the licenses and other rights granted to other Party under this Agreement or any other agreement between the Parties, each Party shall be entitled to practice, license, assign and otherwise exploit any Invention invented and owned solely by or on behalf of such Party. For all purposes of this Agreement, whether an Invention is invented or otherwise first created shall be determined in accordance with U.S. patent laws pertaining to inventorship (regardless of whether the applicable Invention is patentable or not).

(b) The Parties shall jointly own all Inventions invented or otherwise first created jointly by both Parties (“Joint Inventions”). Except to the extent restricted by the licenses and other rights granted to other Party under this Agreement or any other agreement between the Parties, each Party, as joint owners, shall be entitled to practice, license (with the ability to grant sublicenses through multiple tiers), assign and otherwise exploit its interest in the jointly owned Inventions without the duty of accounting or seeking consent from the other Party. When Prosecuting Joint Patents, the Parties shall use reasonable efforts to separate claims into Joint Product Specific Patents and Joint Product Non-Specific Patents so that Joint Product Non-Specific Patents do not contain any Product Specific Claims.

9.2 Separation of Licensed Patents

(a) Promptly following the Effective Date, EpimAb shall, as soon as commercially reasonably possible, separate the Licensed Patents containing both Product Specific Claims and Product Non-Specific Claims (“To-Be-Separated Patents”) into Product Specific Patents that do not contain any Product Non-Specific Claims and Product Non-Specific Patents that do not contain any Product Specific Claims. [] shall initially bear the cost of such separation and [] shall reimburse [] for [] of its out-of-pocket expenses in effecting such separation.

(b) To the extent necessary to effectuate the right and responsibility transfer in Section 9.2(a), the Parties shall select a mutually acceptable patent counsel to make appropriate filings to the applicable patent authority in each relevant Country within [] following Effective Date (the “Cut-off Date”) to effectuate the intention of Section 9.2(a). Thereafter, upon confirmation by the patent authority of each Country, EpimAb shall inform NEWCO thereof, so that NEWCO can exercise the right and take on the responsibility as contemplated in Section 9.2(a). EpimAb shall update Schedule 1.71 (Product Non-Specific Patents) and Schedule 1.73 (Product Specific Patent) at regular intervals to reflect the division of the To-Be-Separated Patents into the above Patent categories. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, EpimAb shall, upon NEWCO’s reasonable request from time to time, amend this Agreement to document the updates to Schedule 1.71 (Product Non-Specific Patents) and Schedule 1.73 (Product Specific Patent).

(c) EpimAb shall, [], Prosecute each To-Be-Separated Patent prior to the earlier of the Cut-off Date and the actual separation of such To-Be-Separated Patent as contemplated by Section 9.2(a). EpimAb shall coordinate with NEWCO with respect thereto in accordance with Section 9.3(c) below except that []. This Section 9.2(c) shall apply notwithstanding Section 9.3 below. For clarity, all To-Be-Separated Patents are Product Non-Specific Patents unless and until separated as contemplated by Section 9.2(a).

(d) []. If the Government Authority responsible for the Prosecution of Patents in a country (e.g., the USPTO in the US) [] and, [], shall [].

9.3 Patent Prosecution.

(a) NEWCO shall have the first right to file, prosecute and maintain (“Prosecute”) all Product Specific Patents and Joint Product Specific Patents in the NEWCO Territory []. If reasonably requested by NEWCO, EpimAb shall assist in such Prosecution and [] shall reimburse [] for all expenses incurred by [] to provide such assistance within [] upon receipt of an invoice by []. For the avoidance of doubt, EpimAb shall have the sole right to Prosecute all Product Specific Patents and Joint Product Specific Patents in the EpimAb Territory [].

(b) Product Non-Specific Patents. EpimAb shall have the sole right to Prosecute all Product Non-Specific Patents and Joint Product Non-Specific Patents worldwide []. If reasonably requested by EpimAb, NEWCO shall assist in such Prosecution and [] shall reimburse [] for all expenses incurred by [] to provide such assistance within [] upon receipt of an invoice by [].

(c) Coordination. The Parties shall consult with each other and keep each other reasonably informed of the status of the Product-Specific Patents (including Joint Product Specific Patents) worldwide (including in the EpimAb Territory) and shall promptly provide the other Party with all material correspondence received from any patent authority in connection therewith. In addition, each Party shall promptly provide the other Party with drafts of all proposed material filings and correspondence to any patent authority in each Country such Party is responsible for with respect to the Product-Specific Patents (including Joint Product Specific Patents) for the other Party’s review and comment prior to submission. The responsible Party for Prosecution shall confer with the other Party and consider in good faith the other Party’s comments, provided that the other Party shall provide such comments within [] (or a shorter period reasonably designated by the responsible Party if [] is not practicable given the filing deadline) of receiving the draft filings and correspondences from the responsible Party.

(d) Step-in Rights.

(i) NEWCO shall promptly notify EpimAb of any decision to cease Prosecution of any Product Specific Patent (including any Joint Product Specific Patent) in any Country in the NEWCO Territory. NEWCO shall provide such notice at least [] prior to any filing or payment due date, or any other due date that requires action in order to avoid loss of rights, in connection with such Patent in such Country. In such event, NEWCO shall permit EpimAb, [], to continue the Prosecution of such Product Specific Patent in such Country in the NEWCO Territory. EpimAb's Prosecution of such Patent in such Country shall not change the Parties' respective rights and obligations under this Agreement with respect to such Patent other than those expressly set forth in this Section 9.3(d).

(e) Assistance. Each Party shall provide the other Party all reasonable assistance and cooperation in the Patent Prosecution efforts under this Section 9.3, including providing any necessary powers of attorney and executing any other required documents or instruments for such Prosecution.

(f) Certain Prosecution Covenants. EpimAb shall not introduce any Product Specific Claims into any Product Non-Specific Patents. NEWCO shall not introduce any Product Non-Specific Claims into any Product Specific Patents.

9.4 Patent Enforcement.

(a) Each Party shall promptly notify the other Party if it becomes aware of any alleged or threatened infringement by a Third Party of any of the Licensed Patents (including Joint Patents) that involves the development, manufacturing, or sale of any product Directed To both [] and [] in the Field anywhere in the world, and any related declaratory judgment, opposition, or similar action alleging the invalidity, unenforceability or non-infringement of any of the Licensed Patents in the Field anywhere in the world (collectively, "Product Infringement").

(b) As between the Parties, NEWCO shall have the first right (but not the obligation) to bring and control any legal action to enforce the Product-Specific Patent or Joint Product-Specific Patent against any Product Infringement in the Field in the NEWCO Territory, [] as it reasonably determines appropriate after consultation with EpimAb. If NEWCO does not bring such legal action within [] after the notice provided pursuant to Section 9.4(a), EpimAb shall have the right (but not the obligation) to bring and control any legal action to enforce such Product Specific Patent against such Product Infringement in the NEWCO Territory [] as it reasonably determines appropriate.

(c) At the request and [] of the Party bringing an action under Section 9.4(b) above, the other Party shall provide reasonable assistance in connection therewith, including by executing reasonably appropriate documents, cooperating in discovery and joining as a party to the action if required by Applicable Laws to pursue such action (e.g., for the Party bringing the action to establish legal standing). In connection with any such enforcement action, the enforcing Party shall keep the other Party reasonably informed on the status of such action and shall not enter into any settlement admitting the invalidity or non-infringement of, or otherwise impairing the other Party's rights in the Product-Specific Patents or Joint Product-Specific Patents without the prior written consent of the other Party. The non-enforcing Party shall be entitled to separate representation in such enforcement action by counsel of its own choice and [].

(d) Any recoveries resulting from enforcement action brought under Section 9.4(b) above to enforce the Product-Specific Patent or Joint Product-Specific Patent against Product Infringement in the NEWCO Territory shall be first applied against payment of each Party's costs and expenses in connection therewith. Any such recoveries in excess of such costs and expenses shall be retained by []; provided that if [].

(e) EpimAb shall have the exclusive right to enforce any Product Non-Specific Patent or Joint Product Non-Specific Patent against any infringement anywhere in the world, in each case [] and as EpimAb reasonably determines appropriate, and [].

9.5 Defense of Licensed Patents. In the event that a Party receives notice of any claim alleging the invalidity or unenforceability of any Licensed Patent (including any Joint Patent) in the Territory, such Party shall bring such claim to the attention of the other Party, including all relevant information related to such claim. The Parties, through the JSC, shall discuss such claim. Where such allegation is made in an opposition, reexamination, interference or other patent office proceeding or a declaratory judgement action, then the provisions of Section 9.3 shall apply. Where such allegation is made in a counterclaim to an enforcement action brought under Section 9.4, then the provisions of Section 9.4 shall apply. Each Party shall provide to the Party defending any such rights under this Section 9.5 all reasonable assistance in such enforcement, at such defending Party's request and expense. The defending Party shall keep the other Party reasonably informed of the status and progress of such efforts, and shall reasonably consider the other Party's comments on any such efforts. Without the prior written consent of the other Party (not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), neither Party shall enter into any settlement of any claim, suit or action that it defended under this Section 9.5 that admits the invalidity or unenforceability of any Licensed Patent, requires abandonment or limits the scope of any Licensed Patent or Joint Patent or would limit or restrict the ability of either Party to Develop, Manufacture or Commercialize any Product.

9.6 Infringement of Third Party Rights.

(a) Each Party shall notify the other Party of any allegations it receives from a Third Party that the Development, Manufacture or Commercialization of any Compound or Product in the Field anywhere in the world under this Agreement infringes the intellectual property rights of such Third Party. Such notice shall be provided promptly, but in no event after more than [] following receipt of such allegations. Such notice shall include a copy of any summons or complaint (or the equivalent thereof) received regarding the foregoing. Thereafter, the Parties shall promptly meet to consider the claim or assertion and the appropriate course of action and may, if appropriate, agree on and enter into a "common interest agreement" wherein the Parties agree to their shared, mutual interest in the outcome of such potential dispute. Each Party shall assert and not waive the joint defense privilege with respect to all communications between the Parties.

(b) NEWCO shall be solely responsible for (and have the sole right to control) the defense of any such infringement claims brought against NEWCO, []; provided, however, that the provisions of Section 9.4 shall govern the right of NEWCO to assert a counterclaim of infringement of any Licensed Patents (including Joint Patents); and provided further that NEWCO shall not enter into any settlement, consent to judgement or other voluntary final disposition in connection with such defense action without EpimAb's consent (not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned, or delayed) if such settlement consent to judgement or other voluntary final disposition requires any payment, admission or other specific performance from EpimAb (for clarity, the granting a sublicense otherwise permitted under this Agreement shall not be deemed specific performance from EpimAb). NEWCO shall keep EpimAb informed on the status of such defense action.

(c) EpimAb shall be solely responsible for (and have the sole right to control) the defense of any such infringement claims brought against EpimAb, []; provided, however, that the provisions of Section 9.4 shall govern the right of EpimAb to assert a counterclaim of infringement of any Licensed Patents. EpimAb shall keep NEWCO informed on the status of such defense action.

9.7 Patents Licensed From Third Parties. Each Party's rights under this Article 9 with respect to any Licensed Patent that is in-licensed by EpimAb from a Third Party under any Upstream License Agreement shall be subject to the rights of such Third Party under the Upstream License Agreement.

9.8 Patent Marking. NEWCO shall mark the Products sold in the NEWCO Territory with appropriate patent numbers in accordance with the applicable patent marking laws, and shall require all of its Affiliates and sublicensees to do the same.

9.9 Trademarks. EpimAb acknowledges that NEWCO may develop a global branding strategy for Products and adopt trademarks specific to the Product throughout the world (collectively the "NEWCO Trademarks"). EpimAb shall not use any NEWCO trademarks used by NEWCO in connection with the Products, whether in the EpimAb Territory or otherwise. For clarity, except as provided by this Section 9.9, nothing in this Agreement restricts EpimAb or the Oncology Third Party from establishing their own branding or trademarks for the Products in the EpimAb Territory.

9.10 IP Assignment upon [*]. Effective upon the occurrence of a [], EpimAb and its Affiliates shall and hereby do assign to NEWCO all Product Specific Patents in the NEWCO Territory (including all Joint Product Specific Patents). EpimAb shall execute (and cause the execution of) and deliver such further instruments, documents and agreements, give such further written assurances, and take such further actions, in each case as NEWCO may reasonably request and at NEWCO's sole cost and expense, to carry into effect the intents and purposes of this assignment. For the purposes hereof, [].

After a [], Sections 9.3(c), 9.3(d), 9.4(a), 9.4(b), 9.5, or 9.8 shall no longer apply with respect to such assigned Product Specific Patents. For clarity, all Product Specific Patents assigned to NEWCO shall still be deemed Licensed Patents for all purposes of determining payments to EpimAb pursuant to Article 8 and for allocating recoveries under Section 9.4(d). Furthermore, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary, (a) a To-Be-Separated Patent that has not been separated in accordance with Section 9.2 shall not be deemed as a Product Specific Patent, and (b) once a To-Be-Separated Patent has been separated, then the resulting Product Specific Patent shall be deemed as a Product Specific Patent and assigned in accordance the preceding provisions of this Section 9.10.

ARTICLE 10 CONFIDENTIALITY

10.1 Confidentiality. Except to the extent expressly authorized by this Agreement or otherwise agreed in writing by the Parties, each Party agrees that, for the Term and for a period of [] thereafter, it shall keep confidential and shall not publish or otherwise disclose and shall not use for any purpose other than as provided for in this Agreement (which includes the exercise of any rights or the performance of any obligations hereunder) any Confidential Information of the other Party pursuant to this Agreement.

10.2 Exceptions. The foregoing confidentiality and non-use obligations shall not apply to any portion of the Confidential Information that the receiving Party can demonstrate by competent written proof:

- (a) was already known to the receiving Party, other than under an obligation of confidentiality, at the time of disclosure by the other Party;
- (b) was generally available to the public or otherwise part of the public domain at the time of its disclosure to the receiving Party;
- (c) became generally available to the public or otherwise part of the public domain after its disclosure and other than through any act or omission of the receiving Party in breach of this Agreement;
- (d) is subsequently disclosed to the receiving Party by a Third Party who has a legal right to make such disclosure and is not under an obligation of confidentiality to the disclosing Party; or
- (e) is subsequently independently discovered or developed by the receiving Party without the aid, application, or use of the disclosing Party's Confidential Information, as evidenced by a contemporaneous writing.

10.3 Authorized Disclosure. Notwithstanding the obligations set forth in Section 10.1, a Party may disclose the other Party's Confidential Information, including the terms and conditions of this Agreement, to the extent:

(a) such disclosure is reasonably necessary: (i) for the filing or prosecution of Patents as contemplated by this Agreement; (ii) in connection with regulatory filings for Products; or (iii) for the prosecuting or defending litigation as contemplated by this Agreement;

(b) such disclosure is reasonably necessary: (i) to such Party's directors, attorneys, independent accountants or financial advisors for the sole purpose of enabling such directors, attorneys, independent accountants or financial advisors to provide advice to the receiving Party, provided that in each such case on the condition that such directors, attorneys, independent accountants and financial advisors are bound by confidentiality and non-use obligations consistent with those contained in this Agreement; or (ii) to actual or potential investors, acquirors, licensors, licensees, collaborators or other business or financial partners (including royalty financing partners) solely for the purpose of evaluating or carrying out an actual or potential investment, acquisition, license, collaboration, financing or other business transaction; provided that in each such case on the condition that such discloses are bound by confidentiality and non-use obligations consistent with those contained in the Agreement;

(c) such disclosure is required by judicial or administrative process, provided that in such event such Party shall promptly inform the other Party such required disclosure and provide the other Party an opportunity to challenge or limit the disclosure obligations. Confidential Information that is disclosed by judicial or administrative process shall remain otherwise subject to the confidentiality and non-use provisions of this Article 10, and the Party disclosing Confidential Information pursuant to law or court order shall take all steps reasonably necessary, including seeking of confidential treatment or a protective order to ensure the continued confidential treatment of such Confidential Information; or

(d) with respect to the terms and conditions of this Agreement and any Confidential Information relating to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, such disclosure is required in the reasonable opinion of such Party's counsel, to comply with the rules and regulations promulgated by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission or the Nasdaq Stock Market or similar security regulatory authorities or stock market in other Countries, including as a result of any actions taken by a Party not in violation of this Agreement. If a Party intends to disclose this Agreement or any of its terms or other such information in accordance with this Section 10.3(d), such Party will, except where impracticable or not legally permitted, give reasonable advance notice to the other Party of such disclosure, provide a draft of the disclosure to the other Party reasonably in advance of such filing or disclosure for the other Party's review and comment. The non-disclosing Party will provide any comments as soon as practicable, and the disclosing Party will consider in good faith any timely comments provided by the non-disclosing Party. The disclosing Party shall seek confidential treatment of portions of this Agreement or such terms or information, as may be reasonably requested by the other Party in a timely manner.

10.4 Scientific Publication.

(a) Except to the extent required by Applicable Laws (or regulations promulgated by securities exchanges on which the applicable Party is listed), which shall be governed by Section 10.3(d) above, EpimAb shall, and shall cause its Affiliates and its or their licensees not to, publish any manuscripts, or give other forms of public disclosure such as abstracts and presentations (“Publications”), relating to the Compounds or Products, including the data and results of the Development of the Compounds or Products, without review and approval by NEWCO. Other than EpimAb’s proposed Publications set forth on Schedule 10.4 (“Existing Publications”) which shall be deemed provided to NEWCO as of the Effective Date, EpimAb shall, and shall cause its Affiliates or its or their licensees to, deliver to NEWCO for review a copy of any proposed scientific Publication relating to the Compounds or Products at least [] before its intended submission for publication. NEWCO shall be afforded the opportunity to review and approve such Publication. NEWCO shall not object to (or require removal of any portion of) such publication except to the extent such publication discloses information concerning the activity of the Compounds or Products itself beyond the publication of clinical data and results or otherwise contains any Confidential Information. NEWCO may also delay the submission of the proposed Publication for an additional [] as may be reasonably necessary to seek Patent protection for the information disclosed in such proposed Publication.

(b) Except to the extent required by Applicable Laws (or regulations promulgated by securities exchanges on which the applicable Party is listed), which shall be governed by Section 10.3(d) above, NEWCO shall, and shall cause its Affiliates and its or their sublicensees, not to (a) publish any Publications that include Confidential Information pertaining to the FIT-Ig Technology as well as the CD3 binding domains contained in a Compound, in each case, which are not specific to any Product or Compound, but are contained in the data and results of the Development of the Compounds or Products, without review and approval by EpimAb. Without limiting the foregoing sentence, NEWCO and its Affiliates and its or their sublicensees may freely publish any Publication related to the Compounds or Products that is limited to clinical, preclinical and/or manufacturing data, results and/or analyses, and does not contain further Compound or Product information (each a “Pre-Approved Publication”). NEWCO shall, and shall cause its Affiliates or its or their sublicensees to, deliver to EpimAb for review a copy of any proposed scientific Publication relating to the Compounds or Products that is not a Pre-Approved Publication at least [] before its intended submission for publication. EpimAb shall be afforded the opportunity to review and approve such Publication during such [] period. EpimAb shall not object to (or require removal of any portion of) such publication except to the extent such publication discloses information concerning the activity of the Compounds or Products itself beyond the publication of clinical, preclinical and/or manufacturing data, results and/or analyses. EpimAb may also delay the submission of any proposed Publication that is not a Pre-Approved Publication for an additional [] as may be reasonably necessary to seek Patent protection for the information disclosed in such proposed Publication. NEWCO shall notify EpimAb promptly after publishing any Publication relating to any Compound or Product.

10.5 Publicity. The Parties have agreed on language of a joint press release announcing this Agreement, which is attached hereto as Schedule 10.5 and shall include an entity name reasonably chosen by Newco, to be issued by the Parties promptly after the Effective Date. No Party shall use the name, trademark, trade name or logo of the other Party, its Affiliates or their respective employee(s) for publicity or promotional purposes, without the prior express written permission of the other Party, except as may be required by Applicable Laws.

10.6 Prior CDA. This Agreement supersedes the Mutual Confidential Disclosure Agreement between EpimAb Biotherapeutics Inc. and Foresite Capital Management, LLC, dated [] (the “Prior CDA”) with respect to information disclosed thereunder. All information exchanged between the Parties under the Prior CDA shall be deemed Confidential Information of the disclosing Party and shall be subject to the terms of this Article 10. This Section 10.6 is without prejudice to any accrued rights under the Prior CDA and shall not be deemed to have released or discharged any accrued liabilities of any Party under the Prior CDA.

10.7 Equitable Relief. Each Party acknowledges that a breach of this Article 10 cannot reasonably or adequately be compensated in damages in an action at law and that such a breach shall cause the other Party irreparable injury and damage. By reason thereof, each Party agrees that the other Party shall be entitled, in addition to any other remedies it may have under this Agreement or otherwise, to preliminary and permanent injunctive and other equitable relief to prevent or curtail any breach of the obligations relating to Confidential Information set forth herein.

10.8 Attorney-Client Privilege. Neither Party is waiving, nor shall be deemed to have waived or diminished, any of its attorney work product protections, attorney-client privileges or similar protections and privileges or the like as a result of disclosing information pursuant to this Agreement, or any of its Confidential Information (including Confidential Information related to pending or threatened litigation) to the other Party, regardless of whether the disclosing Party has asserted, or is or may be entitled to assert, such privileges and protections. The Parties: (a) share a common legal and commercial interest in such disclosure that is subject to such privileges and protections; (b) are or may become joint defendants in proceedings to which the information covered by such protections and privileges relates; (c) intend that such privileges and protections remain intact should either Party become subject to any actual or threatened proceeding to which the disclosing Party’s Confidential Information covered by such protections and privileges relates; and (d) intend that after the Effective Date both the receiving Party and the disclosing Party shall have the right to assert such protections and privileges.

10.9 Restricted Information Sharing. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary: (a) nothing in this Agreement obligates EpimAb, its Affiliates or licensees, to disclose or provide access to any information to NEWCO, the JSC, or otherwise to the extent such disclosure or access would, in the reasonable opinion of EpimAb’s (or such Affiliate’s or licensee’s) outside counsel, violate an Applicable Law in the People’s Republic of China; and (b) nothing in this Agreement obligates NEWCO, its Affiliates or sublicensees to disclose or provide access to any information to EpimAb, the JSC, or otherwise to the extent such disclosure or access would, in the reasonable opinion of NEWCO’s (or such Affiliate’s or sublicensee’s) outside counsel, violate an Applicable Law in the United States of America.

ARTICLE 11
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

11.1 Representations and Warranties of Each Party. Each Party represents, warrants, and covenants (as applicable) to the other Party as of the Effective Date that:

(a) it is a company or corporation duly organized, validly existing, and in good standing under the laws of the jurisdiction in which it is incorporated, and has full corporate power and authority and the legal right to own and operate its property and assets and to carry on its business as it is now being conducted and as contemplated in this Agreement;

(b) it has the corporate power and authority and the legal right to enter into this Agreement and perform its obligations hereunder, it has taken all necessary corporate action on its part required to authorize the execution and delivery of the Agreement and the performance of its obligations hereunder, and this Agreement has been duly executed and delivered on behalf of such Party, and constitutes a legal, valid, and binding obligation of such Party that is enforceable against it in accordance with its terms, subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws affecting creditors' rights and remedies generally;

(c) it is not a party to, and will not enter into during the Term, any agreement that would prevent it from granting the rights granted to the other Party under this Agreement or performing its obligations under the Agreement; and

(d) in the course of performing its obligations or exercising its rights under this Agreement, it shall comply with all Applicable Laws, including as applicable, cGMP, GCP, and GLP standards, and shall not employ or engage any person or entity who has been debarred by any Regulatory Authority, or, to such Party's knowledge, is the subject of debarment proceedings by a Regulatory Authority.

11.2 Representations and Warranties of EpimAb. EpimAb represents, warrants, and covenants (as applicable) to NEWCO that:

(a) as of the Effective Date, it has the right under the Licensed Technology to grant the licenses to NEWCO as purported to be granted under Section 2.1 of this Agreement;

(b) it has not, as of the Effective Date, granted, and will not grant during the Term, any license or other right under the Licensed Technology that is inconsistent with the license granted to NEWCO under Section 2.1;

(c) as of the Effective Date, Schedule 1.46 includes all Patents Controlled by EpimAb as of the Effective Date that Cover the Primary Compound or any Product containing a Primary Compound;

(d) as of the Effective Date, neither EpimAb nor any of its Affiliates: (i) is aware of any written claim made against it asserting the invalidity, misuse, unregistrability, unenforceability or non-infringement of any Patent listed in Schedule 1.46 other than patent office actions or the actions of any Regulatory Authority; and (ii) is aware of any written claim made against it challenging EpimAb's Control of such listed Patents or making any adverse claim of ownership of the rights of EpimAb to such listed Patents;

- (e) as of the Effective Date, the only Upstream License Agreement is the [];
- (f) as of the Effective Date, except for the [] and as set forth on Schedule 11.2(f), no Product Specific Patents are licensed to EpimAb under any Upstream License Agreements;
- (g) as of the Effective Date, except with respect to the Oncology Clinical Trial in [], EpimAb has not prepared, filed or obtained any INDs/CTAs, Marketing Approval Applications or any other regulatory documentation or regulatory licenses for any Products in any jurisdiction;
- (h) as of the Effective Date [];
- (i) as of the Effective Date, neither EpimAb nor any of its Affiliates (or any of their personnel involved in the research, Development or Manufacture of any Compound or Product) is, or has been, debarred or disqualified by any Regulatory Authority;
- (j) as of the Effective Date [];
- (k) as of the Effective Date []; and
- (l) as of the Effective Date [].

11.3 Representations and Warranties of NEWCO. NEWCO represents, warrants, and covenants (as applicable) to EpimAb as of the Effective Date that:

- (a) it does not own or Control any Patent that claim or Cover any Compound or Product;
- (b) there is no pending or, to NEWCO's actual knowledge, threatened (in writing), adverse actions, claims, suits or proceedings against NEWCO or any of its Affiliate that involve any antitrust, anti-competition, anti-bribery or corruption violations or that may reasonably be expected to adversely affect NEWCO's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement; and

(c) neither NEWCO nor any of its Affiliates is, or has been, debarred or disqualified by any Regulatory Authority.

11.4 NO OTHER WARRANTIES. EXCEPT AS EXPRESSLY STATED IN THIS AGREEMENT, NO REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES WHATSOEVER, WHETHER EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, OR NON-MISAPPROPRIATION OF THIRD PARTY INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS, ARE MADE OR GIVEN BY OR ON BEHALF OF A PARTY. ALL REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES, WHETHER ARISING BY OPERATION OF LAW OR OTHERWISE, ARE HEREBY EXPRESSLY EXCLUDED. NEWCO acknowledges and agrees that the Compounds and Products are the subject of ongoing research and development and that EpimAb cannot assure the safety, usefulness or successful Development or Commercialization of any Compound or Product.

ARTICLE 12 INDEMNIFICATION

12.1 Indemnification by NEWCO. NEWCO shall indemnify and hold harmless EpimAb, its Affiliates, and their directors, officers, employees and agents (individually and collectively, the “EpimAb Indemnitee(s)”) from and against all losses, liabilities, damages and expenses (including reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs) payable to Third Parties incurred in connection with any claims, demands, actions or other proceedings by any Third Party (individually and collectively, “Losses”) to the extent arising from:

(a) (i) the Development, Manufacture or Commercialization of any Product in the NEWCO Territory (ii) the Manufacture of any Product in the EpimAb Territory, if applicable, in each case (i) and (ii), by or on behalf of NEWCO or any of its Affiliates or sublicensees, including product liability claims relating to any Product in such territories;

(b) the [], willful misconduct [] of this Agreement by any NEWCO Indemnitee; or

(c) the actual or alleged breach of the [] by NEWCO or its Affiliates or sublicensees, which breach occurs during the period where NEWCO remains a sublicensee under the [];

except in each case, to the extent such Losses result from any activities set forth in Section 12.2 for which EpimAb is obligated to indemnify the NEWCO Indemnitee.

12.2 Indemnification by EpimAb. EpimAb shall indemnify and hold harmless NEWCO, its Affiliates and licensees, and their directors, officers, employees and agents (individually and collectively, the “NEWCO Indemnitee(s)”) from and against all Losses to the extent arising from:

(a) (i) the Development, Manufacture or Commercialization of any Product in the EpimAb Territory, (ii) the Development (including the Oncology Clinical Trial) or Manufacture of any Product in the NEWCO Territory, if applicable, by or on behalf of EpimAb or any of its Affiliates or licensees (other than NEWCO, its Affiliates and sublicensees), including product liability claims relating to any Product in such territories; or

(b) the [], willful misconduct [] of this Agreement by any EpimAb Indemnitee;

except in each case to the extent such Losses result from any activities set forth in Section 12.1 for which NEWCO is obligated to indemnify the EpimAb Indemnitee.

12.3 Indemnification Procedure. If either Party is seeking indemnification under Sections 12.1 or 12.2 (the “Indemnified Party”), it shall inform the other Party (the “Indemnifying Party”) of the claim giving rise to the obligation to indemnify pursuant to such Section within [] after receiving notice of the claim (it being understood and agreed, however, that the failure or delay by an Indemnified Party to give such notice of a claim shall not affect the indemnification provided hereunder except to the extent the Indemnifying Party shall have been prejudiced as a result of such failure or delay to give notice). The Indemnifying Party shall have the right to assume the defense of any such claim for which it is obligated to indemnify the Indemnified Party. The Indemnified Party shall cooperate with the Indemnifying Party and the Indemnifying Party’s insurer as the Indemnifying Party may reasonably request, and at the Indemnifying Party’s cost and expense. The Indemnified Party shall have the right to participate, at its own expense and with counsel of its choice, in the defense of any claim that has been assumed by the Indemnifying Party. Neither Party shall have the obligation to indemnify the other Party in connection with any settlement made without the Indemnifying Party’s written consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed. If the Parties cannot agree as to the application of Sections 12.1 or 12.2 as to any claim, pending resolution of the dispute pursuant to Article 14, the Parties may conduct separate defenses of such claims, with each Party retaining the right to claim indemnification from the other Party in accordance with Sections 12.1 or 12.2 upon resolution of the underlying claim.

12.4 Mitigation of Loss. Each Indemnified Party shall take and shall procure that its Affiliates take all such reasonable steps and action as are reasonably necessary or as the Indemnifying Party may reasonably require in order to mitigate any claims (or potential losses or damages) under this Article 12. Nothing in this Agreement shall or shall be deemed to relieve any Party of any common law or other duty to mitigate any losses incurred by it.

12.5 Limitation of Liability. NEITHER PARTY SHALL BE LIABLE TO THE OTHER FOR ANY SPECIAL, CONSEQUENTIAL, INCIDENTAL, PUNITIVE, OR INDIRECT DAMAGES ARISING FROM OR RELATING TO ANY BREACH OF THIS AGREEMENT, REGARDLESS OF ANY NOTICE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES. NOTWITHSTANDING THE FOREGOING, NOTHING IN THIS SECTION 12.5 IS INTENDED TO OR SHALL LIMIT OR RESTRICT THE INDEMNIFICATION RIGHTS OR OBLIGATIONS UNDER SECTION 12.1 OR SECTION 12.2, OR [].

12.6 Insurance. Each Party, at its own expense, shall maintain product liability and other appropriate insurance in an amount consistent with industry standards during the Term. Each Party shall promptly provide a certificate of insurance evidencing such coverage to the other Party upon such other Party's request.

ARTICLE 13 TERM AND TERMINATION

13.1 Term. The term of this Agreement shall commence upon the Effective Date and continue in full force and effect, on a Product-by-Product and Country-by-Country basis, until the expiration of the Royalty Term for such Product in such Country, unless earlier terminated as set forth in Section 13.2 below (the "Term"). Upon expiration (but not earlier termination) of the Royalty Term with respect to a particular Product in a particular Country, the license granted by EpimAb to NEWCO under Section 2.1 with respect to such Product in such Country shall become non-exclusive, fully paid-up, freely sublicensable (through multiple tiers), royalty-free, perpetual and irrevocable.

13.2 Termination.

(a) Termination by NEWCO for Convenience. At any time, NEWCO may terminate this Agreement in its entirety by providing written notice of termination to EpimAb, which notice includes an effective date of termination at least [] after the date of the notice.

(b) Termination for Material Breach. Prior to a [], if either Party believes that the other is in material breach of its material obligations hereunder or material breach of any material representation or warranty set forth in this Agreement, then the non-breaching Party may deliver notice of such breach to the other Party in a manner that clearly identifies such breach and that such Party is providing such notice in accordance with this Section 13.2(b). The allegedly breaching Party shall have [] from the receipt of the notice to cure such breach or, if such breach cannot be cured within [] and if the breaching Party prepares and uses reasonable efforts to follow a cure plan, up to []. If the breaching Party in good faith either disputes such material breach or, alternatively, does not dispute such material breach but disputes the failure to cure or remedy such material breach and provides written notice of that dispute to the non-breaching Party within the above time period, then (a) the matter will be addressed under the dispute resolution provisions in Article 14, (b) the relevant cure period will be tolled during the pendency of such dispute resolution proceeding and (c) the non-breaching Party cannot terminate this Agreement until (i) it has been determined under Article 14 that the breaching Party is in material breach of a material provision of this Agreement and (ii) such cure period expires without the material breach having been cured by the breaching Party. If the Party receiving notice of breach fails to cure that breach within the cure period set forth above (as may be tolled in accordance with the foregoing), then the Party originally delivering the notice of breach may terminate this Agreement in its entirety upon written notice to the other Party. Notwithstanding the foregoing, after the occurrence of a [], the non-breaching Party may not terminate this Agreement in accordance with this Section 13.2(b), and the non-breaching Party's exclusive remedies for the breaching Party's breach shall be: []

[].

(c) Termination for Insolvency. Each Party shall have the right to terminate this Agreement in its entirety immediately upon written notice to the other Party in the event that (i) such other Party files in any court or agency pursuant to any statute or regulation of any jurisdiction a petition in bankruptcy or insolvency or for reorganization or similar arrangement for the benefit of creditors or for the appointment of a receiver or trustee of such other Party or its assets, (ii) such other Party is declared judicially insolvent, or (iii) such other Party makes an assignment of substantially all of its assets for the benefit of its creditors.

(d) Termination for Patent Challenge. Except to the extent the following is unenforceable under the laws of a particular jurisdiction, EpimAb may terminate this Agreement in its entirety upon [] written notice to NEWCO if NEWCO or its Affiliates or sublicensees, individually or in association with any other Person, commences a legal or administrative action challenging the patentability, validity, enforceability or scope of any Licensed Patents owned or Controlled by EpimAb anywhere in the world, provided that EpimAb will not have the right to terminate this Agreement under this Section 13.2(d) if (i) for any challenge by any sublicensee, NEWCO terminates such sublicense within [] of EpimAb's notice to NEWCO under this Section 13.2(d); (ii) such challenge is dismissed within [] of EpimAb's notice to NEWCO under this Section 13.2(d) and not thereafter continued; or (iii) such challenge is in response to a complaint alleging infringement of such Patent filed against NEWCO or any of its Affiliates or sublicensees.

13.3 Effect of Termination. Upon any termination of this Agreement:

(a) Licenses. All licenses and other rights granted by EpimAb to NEWCO under the Licensed Technology shall terminate. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any sublicenses granted by NEWCO shall survive if within [] after EpimAb notifies such sublicensee of the termination of this Agreement, the relevant sublicensee agrees in writing to be bound by the terms of this Agreement as such terms apply to such sublicensee and become a direct licensee of EpimAb. If such sublicensee agrees to be bound in such manner (a "Surviving Sublicensee"): (a) such sublicensee shall only be responsible for any payments that become due as a result of such sublicensee's activities after the effective date of any such termination; and (b) notwithstanding anything to the contrary, unless and until the sublicense to a Surviving Sublicensee terminates, none of Sections 13.3(b)-(i) shall apply to the extent such provision would adversely affect such Surviving Sublicensee's Development, Manufacture, or Commercialization of any Product (as reasonably determined by such Surviving Sublicensee). The license granted by NEWCO to EpimAb under Section 2.7 shall continue. In addition, and notwithstanding Section 2.7, NEWCO hereby grants (but effective only upon termination of this Agreement and then only to the extent NEWCO has not prior to the effective date of termination granted conflicting rights to Surviving Sublicensees) to EpimAb an exclusive (even as to NEWCO and its Affiliates), fully paid, royalty-free, perpetual and irrevocable license, with the right to grant sublicenses through multiple tiers, under the NEWCO Product Technology to Develop, Manufacture, use, sell, offer for sale, import and otherwise Commercialize the Compounds and Products in the Field anywhere in the world.

(b) Regulatory Materials. NEWCO shall (and shall cause its Affiliates and sublicensees to), as instructed by EpimAb, either (i) if permitted by Applicable Laws, promptly transfer and assign to EpimAb or its designee all Regulatory Materials and Regulatory Approvals for Products that are held by NEWCO or its Affiliate or sublicensees other than Surviving Sublicensees, (ii) continue to hold any such Regulatory Materials and Regulatory Approvals for the sole benefit of EpimAb or its designee (in which case, NEWCO shall appoint EpimAb or its designee as the exclusive distributor (with the right to subcontract and appoint subdistributors) under such Regulatory Materials and Regulatory Approvals for Products in the NEWCO Territory, and also as its agent to interact with the applicable Regulatory Authority in the NEWCO Territory with respect to such Regulatory Materials and Regulatory Approvals), until such time EpimAb or its designee files its own Regulatory Materials and obtains its own Regulatory Approvals for Products in the NEWCO Territory; or (iii) terminate or withdraw any such Regulatory Materials and Regulatory Approvals. Upon EpimAb's request, NEWCO shall provide EpimAb with reasonable assistance and cooperation regarding any inquiries and correspondence with Regulatory Authorities relating to Products.

(c) Data. NEWCO shall (and shall cause its Affiliates and sublicensees to) promptly transfer and assign to EpimAb all data generated from the Development or Manufacturing of Products, including data from all Clinical Trials conducted by or on behalf of NEWCO, and its Affiliates, and all pharmacovigilance data (including all adverse event databases) relating to Products in the Territory.

(d) Trademarks. NEWCO shall (and shall cause its Affiliates and sublicensees to) promptly transfer and assign to EpimAb all NEWCO Trademarks (excluding corporate name or logos of NEWCO or its Affiliates).

(e) Inventory. EpimAb shall have the right (but not the obligation) to purchase from NEWCO any or all of the inventory of the Product held by NEWCO or its Affiliates or sublicensees as of the date of termination at a price equal to the price paid by NEWCO.

(f) Transition Assistance. NEWCO shall (and shall cause its Affiliates and sublicensees to) reasonably cooperate with EpimAb to facilitate orderly transition of the Development, Manufacture and Commercialization of the Products in the NEWCO Territory to EpimAb, including (i) introducing EpimAb to any Third Party vendors (including distributors) involved in activities to Develop, Manufacture, supply, promote, distribute, sell or otherwise Commercialize Products and reasonably cooperating with EpimAb to arrange to continue to provide such services for a reasonable time after termination; (ii) to the extent that NEWCO or its Affiliate or sublicensees (other than Surviving Sublicensees) is performing any activities described above in (i), reasonably cooperating with EpimAb to transfer such activities to EpimAb or its designee, and continuing to perform such activities on EpimAb's behalf for a reasonable time after termination until such transfer is completed, including continuing to Manufacture and supply Products to EpimAb at a reasonable price; and (iii) providing EpimAb with reasonable quantities of materials used or generated by NEWCO, and its Affiliates in the Development and Commercialization of Products in the NEWCO Territory, such as clinical brochures and promotional materials, or any chemical or biological materials (but not any Active Ingredients that are not Compounds), that were not received from EpimAb.

(g) Ongoing Clinical Trials. If at the time of such termination, any Clinical Trials for the Products are being conducted by or on behalf of NEWCO, or its Affiliates, then, at EpimAb's election on a trial-by-trial basis: (i) NEWCO shall (and shall cause its Affiliates and sublicensees to) fully cooperate with EpimAb to transfer the conduct of all such Clinical Trials to EpimAb, and EpimAb shall assume any and all liability and costs for such Clinical Trials after the effective date of such termination, provided that NEWCO shall continue to bear all costs and expenses incurred in connection with the conduct of such Clinical Trials until the earlier of the completion of such Clinical Trial or [] after the effective date of such termination; or (ii) NEWCO shall (and shall cause its Affiliates and sublicensees (other than Surviving Sublicensees) to) at its own cost and expense, orderly wind down in compliance with Applicable Laws the conduct of any such Clinical Trial which is not assumed by EpimAb under clause (i).

(h) Transition Cost. Unless this Agreement is terminated by NEWCO pursuant to Section 13.2(a) or by EpimAb pursuant to Section 13.2(b) or 13.2(d), [].

(i) Return of Confidential Information. NEWCO shall (and shall cause its Affiliates and sublicensees to) promptly return or destroy (at EpimAb's election) all tangible materials comprising, bearing or containing any Confidential Information of EpimAb that are in NEWCO's or its Affiliates' or sublicensees' possession or control.

13.4 Survival. Expiration or termination of this Agreement shall not relieve the Parties of any liability (including, without limitation, any payment obligation or liability for breach of this Agreement) accruing prior to such expiration or termination. Without limiting the foregoing, the following provisions shall survive the termination or expiration of this Agreement for any reason: Section 2.7, Section 8.9, Section 8.10, Section 9.1 (with respect to Inventions created prior to termination or expiration), Section 11.4, Section 12.1, Section 12.2, Section 12.3, Section 12.4, Section 12.5, Section 12.6, Section 13.3, Section 13.4, Section 13.5, Article 1, Article 10 (provided that Section 10.4 shall not apply to EpimAb's Publications), Article 14, and Article 15.

13.5 Termination Not Sole Remedy. Termination is not the sole remedy under this Agreement and, whether or not termination is effected and notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement to the contrary, all other remedies shall remain available except as agreed to otherwise herein.

ARTICLE 14 DISPUTE RESOLUTION

14.1 Disputes. The Parties recognize that disputes as to certain matters may from time to time arise during the Term which relate to either Party's rights or obligations hereunder. It is the objective of the Parties to establish procedures to facilitate the resolution of disputes arising under this Agreement in an expedient manner by mutual cooperation and without resort to litigation. To accomplish this objective, the Parties agree to follow the procedures set forth in this Article 14 to resolve any controversy or claim arising out of, relating to or in connection with any provision of this Agreement, if and when a dispute arises under this Agreement.

14.2 Internal Resolution. With respect to all disputes arising between the Parties under this Agreement, including, without limitation, any alleged breach under this Agreement or any issue relating to the interpretation or application of this Agreement, but excluding any dispute that should be resolved by the JSC pursuant to Section 3.2(f) or Section 3.2(g), if the Parties are unable to resolve such dispute within [] after such dispute is first identified by either Party in writing to the other, the Parties shall refer such dispute to the Executive Officers of the Parties for attempted resolution by good faith negotiations within [] after such notice is received.

14.3 Binding Arbitration.

(a) If the Parties fail to resolve the dispute through escalation to the Executive Officers under Section 14.2, and a Party desires to pursue resolution of the dispute, the dispute shall be submitted by either Party for resolution in arbitration administered by [].

(b) The arbitration shall be conducted by a panel of three arbitrators experienced in the pharmaceutical business: within [] after initiation of arbitration, each Party shall select one person to act as arbitrator and the two Party-selected arbitrators shall select a third arbitrator (who shall be the chairperson of the arbitration panel) within [] of their appointment. If the arbitrators selected by the Parties are unable or fail to agree upon the third arbitrator, the third arbitrator shall be appointed by []. If, however, the aggregate award sought by the Parties is less than [] and equitable relief is not sought, the arbitration shall be conducted by a single arbitrator agreed by the Parties (or appointed by [] if the Parties cannot agree).

(c) The seat and location of the arbitration shall be [] and the language of the proceedings shall be English. The arbitral tribunal shall determine the dispute by applying the provisions of this Agreement and the governing law set forth in Section 15.5. The Parties agree that any award or decision made by the arbitral tribunal shall be final and binding upon them and may be enforced in the same manner as a judgment or order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

(d) By agreeing to arbitration, the Parties shall not deprive any court of its jurisdiction to issue, at the request of a Party, a pre-arbitral injunction, pre-arbitral attachment or other injunctive or equitable relief. Without prejudice to such equitable remedies in aid of arbitration as may be available under the jurisdiction of a competent court, the arbitral tribunal shall have full authority to grant equitable remedies and to award damages for the failure of any Party to the dispute to respect the arbitral tribunal's order to that effect.

(f) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 14.3, in the event of a dispute with respect to the validity, scope, enforceability or ownership of any Patent or other intellectual property rights, and such dispute is not resolved in accordance with Section 14.2, such dispute shall not be submitted to an arbitration proceeding in accordance with this Section 14.3, unless otherwise agreed by the Parties in writing, and instead either Party may initiate litigation in a court of competent jurisdiction in any Country in which such rights apply.

ARTICLE 15 MISCELLANEOUS

15.1 Force Majeure. Neither Party shall be held liable to the other Party nor be deemed to have defaulted under or breached this Agreement for failure or delay in performing any obligation under this Agreement to the extent such failure or delay is caused by or results from causes beyond the reasonable control of the affected Party, including embargoes, war, acts of war (whether war be declared or not), insurrections, riots, pandemic, civil commotions, strikes, lockouts or other labor disturbances, fire, floods, or other acts of God or any other deity, or acts, omissions or delays in acting by any Governmental Authority. The affected Party shall notify the other Party of such force majeure circumstances as soon as reasonably practical, and shall promptly undertake all reasonable efforts necessary to cure such force majeure circumstances.

15.2 Assignment.

(a) Except as express permitted herein, this Agreement may not be assigned or otherwise transferred, nor may any right or obligation hereunder be assigned or transferred, by either Party without the prior written consent of the other Party. Any attempted assignment not in accordance with this Section 15.2 shall be null and void and of no legal effect. Any permitted assignee shall assume all assigned obligations of its assignor under this Agreement. The terms and conditions of this Agreement shall be binding upon, and shall inure to the benefit of, the Parties and their respected successors and permitted assigns.

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing, either Party may, without consent of the other Party, assign this Agreement and its rights hereunder in whole or in part to an Affiliate of such Party, or in whole to its successor-in-interest in connection with a Change of Control transaction.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, EpimAb may, without consent of NEWCO, sell to any Third Party EpimAb's interest in any payment (or portion thereof) from NEWCO under this Agreement and, upon written instruction from EpimAb and documentation evidencing the sale and confirming such sale was made pursuant to this Section 15.2(c), NEWCO will irrevocably remit such payments to such Third Party in lieu of EpimAb and such payments shall be deemed fully performed by NEWCO upon doing so. For clarity, the foregoing of this Section 15.2(c) does not permit an assignment of EpimAb's rights and neither permits a Third Party the right to enforce any obligation of EpimAb under this Agreement nor makes or allows such Third Party to be a third party beneficiary of any terms of this Agreement. For clarity, this Section 15.2(c) does not permit EpimAb to assign any rights to receive any information but this Section 15.2(c) does not restrict EpimAb from disclosing information as otherwise permitted by this Agreement.

15.3 Severability. If any one or more of the provisions contained in this Agreement is held invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions contained herein shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby, unless the absence of the invalidated provision(s) adversely affects the substantive rights of the Parties. The Parties shall in such an instance use their best efforts to replace the invalid, illegal or unenforceable provision(s) with valid, legal and enforceable provision(s) which, insofar as practical, implement the purposes of this Agreement.

15.4 Notices. All notices which are required or permitted hereunder shall be in writing and sufficient if delivered personally, sent by facsimile (and promptly confirmed by personal delivery, registered or certified mail or overnight courier), sent by nationally-recognized overnight courier or sent by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, addressed as follows:

If to EpimAb:

If to NEWCO:

[]

or to such other address as the Party to whom notice is to be given may have furnished to the other Party in writing in accordance herewith. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given: (a) when delivered if personally delivered or sent by facsimile on []; (b) on the [] after dispatch if sent by internationally-recognized overnight courier; or (c) on the [] following the date of mailing if sent by mail.

15.5 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York, without reference to any rules of conflict of laws and excluding the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sales of Goods.

15.6 Foreign Corrupt Practices Act Compliance.

(a) Compliance with FCPA. The U.S. government imposes and enforces prohibitions on the payment or transfer of anything of value to governments, government officials, political parties or political party officials (or relatives or associates of such officials) (“FCPA Covered Person”) for the purpose of illegally influencing them, whether directly or indirectly, to obtain or retain business. This U.S. law is referred to as the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (“FCPA”), and it can have application to conduct of a U.S. corporation’s foreign subsidiaries, employees, agents and distributors. A summary of the law and related information can be found at <http://www.justice.gov/criminal/fraud/fcpa>. By signing this Agreement, NEWCO represents, warrants and covenants (as applicable) to EpimAb that:

- (i) it is familiar with the provisions and restrictions contained in the OECD Convention and FCPA;
- (ii) it shall comply with the FCPA in the Development and Commercialization of Products under this Agreement;
- (iii) it shall not, in the course of its performance under the Agreement, offer, promise, give, demand, seek or accept, directly or indirectly, any gift or payment, consideration or benefit in kind to any FCPA Covered Person that would or could be construed as an illegal or corrupt practice;
- (iv) it is not an FCPA Covered Person or affiliated with any FCPA Covered Person; and
- (v) it shall immediately notify EpimAb of any attempt by any FCPA Covered Person to directly or indirectly solicit, ask for, or attempt to extort anything of value from NEWCO, its Affiliates or sublicensees, and shall refuse any such solicitation, request or extortionate demand except a facilitating payment as expressly permitted under the FCPA.

(b) No Action. In no event shall any Party be obligated under the Agreement to take any action or omit to take any action that such Party believes, in good faith, would cause it to be in violation of any Applicable Laws and regulations, including the anti-bribery laws referenced in this Section 15.6.

(c) Audit. In the event that EpimAb has reason to believe that a violation of any FCPA regulations by NEWCO has occurred or may occur, EpimAb shall have the right to select an independent Third Party to conduct an audit of NEWCO and review relevant books and records of NEWCO, to satisfy itself that no such violation has occurred. Unless otherwise required under Applicable Laws and regulations or by order of a competent court or regulatory authority, EpimAb shall ensure that the selected independent Third Party shall keep confidential all audited matters and the results of the audit. EpimAb does reserve the right to disclose to the U.S. or foreign government, its agencies or any other government or non-government party, information relating to a possible violation by NEWCO of any violation of the FCPA.

15.7 Entire Agreement; Amendments. The Agreement, together with the Exhibits and Schedules attached hereto, contains the entire understanding of the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof. All express or implied agreements and understandings, either oral or written, with regard to the subject matter hereof (including the licenses granted hereunder) are superseded by the terms of this Agreement. Neither Party is relying on any representation, promise, nor warranty not expressly set forth in this Agreement. This Agreement may be amended, or any term hereof modified, only by a written instrument duly executed by authorized representatives of both Parties hereto.

15.8 Headings. The captions to the several Sections hereof are not a part of this Agreement, but are merely for convenience to assist in locating and reading the Sections of this Agreement.

15.9 Independent Contractors. It is expressly agreed that EpimAb and NEWCO shall be independent contractors and that the relationship between the two Parties shall not constitute a partnership, joint venture or agency. Neither EpimAb nor NEWCO shall have the authority to make any statements, representations or commitments of any kind, or to take any action, which shall be binding on the other Party, without the prior written consent of the other Party.

15.10 Waiver. The waiver by either Party of any right hereunder, or the failure of the other Party to perform, or a breach by the other Party, shall not be deemed a waiver of any other right hereunder or of any other breach or failure by such other Party whether of a similar nature or otherwise.

15.11 Cumulative Remedies. No remedy referred to in this Agreement is intended to be exclusive, but each shall be cumulative and in addition to any other remedy referred to in this Agreement or otherwise available under law.

15.12 Waiver of Rule of Construction. Each Party has had the opportunity to consult with counsel in connection with the review, drafting and negotiation of this Agreement. Accordingly, the rule of construction that any ambiguity in this Agreement shall be construed against the drafting Party shall not apply.

15.13 Business Day Requirements. In the event that any notice or other action or omission is required to be taken by a Party under this Agreement on a day that is not a Business Day then such notice or other action or omission shall be deemed to be required to be taken on the next occurring Business Day.

15.14 Further Actions. Each Party agrees to execute, acknowledge and deliver such further instruments, and to do all such other acts, as necessary or appropriate in order to carry out the purposes and intent of this Agreement.

15.15 Construction. Except where the context expressly requires otherwise, (a) the use of any gender herein shall be deemed to encompass references to either or both genders, and the use of the singular shall be deemed to include the plural (and vice versa), (b) the words "include", "includes" and "including" shall be deemed to be followed by the phrase "without limitation", (c) the word "will" shall be construed to have the same meaning and effect as the word "shall", (d) any definition of or reference to any agreement, instrument or other document herein shall be construed as referring to such agreement, instrument or other document as from time to time amended, supplemented or otherwise modified (subject to any restrictions on such amendments, supplements or modifications set forth herein), (e) any reference herein to any person shall be construed to include the person's successors and assigns, (f) the words "herein", "hereof" and "hereunder", and words of similar import, shall be construed to refer to this Agreement in its entirety and not to any particular provision hereof, (g) all references herein to Sections, Schedules, or Exhibits shall be construed to refer to Sections, Schedules or Exhibits of this Agreement, and references to this Agreement include all Schedules and Exhibits hereto, (h) the word "notice" means notice in writing (whether or not specifically stated) and shall include notices, consents, approvals and other written communications contemplated under this Agreement, (i) provisions that require that a Party, the Parties or any committee hereunder "agree", "consent" or "approve" or the like shall require that such agreement, consent or approval be specific and in writing, whether by written agreement, letter, approved minutes or otherwise (but excluding e-mail and instant messaging), (j) references to any specific law, rule or regulation, or Section, section or other division thereof, shall be deemed to include the then-current amendments thereto or any replacement or successor law, rule or regulation thereof, and (k) the term "or" shall be interpreted in the inclusive sense commonly associated with the term "and/or."

15.16 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Each Party shall be entitled to rely on the delivery of executed counterpart signature pages of this Agreement by means of industry standard electronic signature software or by exchanging executed signature pages in .pdf format via e-mail, and such electronic copies shall be legally effective to create a valid and binding agreement between the Parties.

{Signature Page Follows}

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties intending to be bound have caused this License and Collaboration Agreement to be executed by their duly authorized representatives as of the Effective Date.

EpimAb Biotherapeutics and [*] Announce Strategic Collaboration to Develop EMB-06, a BCMA×CD3 Bispecific Antibody

Shanghai/San Diego, [*], 2024 - EpimAb Biotherapeutics, a clinical stage biopharmaceutical company specializing in the discovery and development of multi-specific antibodies for diseases with high unmet need, and [], a clinical stage company incubated by Foresite Labs and backed by Foresite Capital, Qiming Venture Partners, Samsara Biocapital, and Mirae Asset Management, announced today it has entered into a license agreement for EpimAb's BCMA-targeting T-cell engager (TCE) EMB-06.

Under this agreement, EpimAb will grant [] the exclusive rights to develop and commercialize EMB-06 outside of Greater China (mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan), while EpimAb shall retain the rights to EMB-06 in Greater China. EpimAb will receive total upfront considerations of $60m in cash and equity of [], and will be eligible to receive up to $575 million development, regulatory and commercial milestones, plus royalties on net sales.

"EpimAb is excited to enter into this partnership with [] on EMB-06, which is well positioned to realize the potential of EMB-06," said Dr. Chengbin Wu, CEO and founder of EpimAb. "EMB-06 is the first candidate developed with our proprietary T-cell engager platform and has shown promising clinical activity when evaluated in patients with multiple myeloma. We look forward to evaluating the potential of EMB-06 in autoimmune diseases."

"Emerging clinical data using B-cell depletion in autoimmune diseases has shown compelling results," said Michael Rome, managing director at Foresite Capital and lead investor of []. "EMB-06 is a promising clinical asset and we look forward to building a leading company focused on T-cell engagers for autoimmune diseases."

EMB-06 is the first TCE developed within EpimAb's T-cell engager platform, which combines EpimAb's proprietary FIT-Ig bispecific platform and CD3 binder panel, and EpimAb's in-house discovery and antibody engineering expertise. This allows EpimAb to quickly generate and screen a suite of engagers in the discovery stage for diseases of interest, and advance TCE candidates that could provide the optimal efficacy and safety profile into the pre-IND and clinical stages.

About EpimAb Biotherapeutics, Inc.

EpimAb Biotherapeutics is a clinical-stage biopharmaceutical company specializing in the development of multi-specific antibodies. Utilizing a broad range of in-house research and technology capabilities, including the proprietary FIT-Ig® (Fabs-In-Tandem Immunoglobulin) and MAT-Fab (Monovalent Asymmetric Tandem Fab) bispecific platform, EpimAb is generating and globally advancing a unique pipeline of transformative preclinical and clinical assets that aim to benefit cancer patients. OFFICE LEASE AGREEMENT BETWEEN
PACIFIC NORTH COURT HOLDINGS, L.P.
AS LANDLORD
AND
CANDID THERAPEUTICS, INC.
AS TENANT

STANDARD FORM MODIFIED GROSS OFFICE LEASE

This Standard Form Modified Gross Office Lease ("Lease") is entered into effective as of June 27, 2024, between PACIFIC NORTH COURT HOLDINGS, L.P., a California limited partnership ("Landlord"), and CANDID THERAPEUTICS, INC., a Delaware corporation ("Tenant"), who agree as follows:

1. Agreement to Let. Landlord hereby leases to Tenant, and Tenant hereby leases from Landlord, upon all of the terms, provisions, and conditions contained in this Lease, (i) those certain Premises described in the Principal Lease Provisions below, consisting of a portion of that certain Building described in the Principal Lease Provisions below, which is in turn a part of the Project (as described in the Principal Lease Provisions below), along with (ii) the non-exclusive right to use, in common with Landlord, Landlord's invitees and licensees, and the other tenants and users of space within the Project, those portions of the Project intended for use by, or benefiting, tenants of the Project in common including, without limitation, the landscaped areas, passageways, walkways, hallways, elevators, parking areas, and driveways of the Building and the Project, but excluding all interior areas of the other buildings in the Project other than the Building (collectively, the "Common Areas"). Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, this Lease confers no rights to Tenant regarding the roof, exterior walls, or utility raceways of the Building, nor rights to any other building in the Project, nor with regard to either the subsurface of the land below the ground level of the Project or with regard to the air space above the ceiling of the Premises; provided, however, that Tenant shall have the limited right to access systems and equipment exclusively serving the Premises (for which Tenant has maintenance and repair responsibilities pursuant to Paragraph 10.1, below) that may be located on the roof, in exterior or demising walls, in utility raceways, in the airspace above the ceiling of the Premises, or in any other portion of the Building or the Common Areas for the sole purpose of maintaining, repairing, and replacing such systems and equipment, in all cases subject to the terms of this Lease.

2. Principal Lease Provisions. The following are the Principal Lease Provisions of this Lease. Other portions of this Lease explain and describe these Principal Lease Provisions in more detail and should be read in conjunction with this Paragraph. In the event of any conflict between the Principal Lease Provisions and the other portions of this Lease, the Principal Lease Provisions will control. (Terms shown in quotations are defined terms used elsewhere in this Lease)

2.1 "Project": That certain office project, commonly referred to as Torrey Reserve, in San Diego, California, as more particularly depicted on the attached Exhibit "A".

2.2 "Building": That certain building within the Project as designated on the attached Exhibit "A", sometimes referred to as Torrey Reserve North Court II, whose mailing address is 11622 El Camino Real, San Diego, California 92130.

2.3 "Premises": Suite 150; consisting of a portion of the 1st floor of the Building, as more particularly described on the attached Exhibit "B".

2.4 Area of the Premises: Approximately 8,335 Rentable Square Feet of space. The term "Rentable Square Feet", "Usable Square Footage", and similar terms dealing with Rentable or Usable means of describing measurements of square footages, will have the meanings of such term adopted by the Building Owners and Managers Association International (relative to multi-tenant floors). The Premises are agreed for all purposes to contain the Rentable Square Footage stated above, regardless of minor variations.

2.5 "Initial Lease Term": Four (4) years and two (2) months plus any additional days required for the Initial Expiration Date to occur on the last day of a month as set forth in Paragraph 2.5.2, below, beginning as of the Lease Commencement Date and ending as of the Initial Expiration Date.

2.5.1 "Lease Commencement Date": July 15, 2024.

2.5.2 "Initial Expiration Date": That date which is four (4) years and two (2) months (plus, if such date is not the final day of a calendar month, however many days are left in the final calendar month of the Term) after the Lease Commencement Date.

2.5.3 Extension Rights. One (1) Option to Extend for a period of two (2) years subject to the terms and conditions set forth in Paragraph 3.2, below.

2.6 “Basic Monthly Rent”: $5.50 per Rentable Square Foot, net of electricity and other utilities, subject to adjustment pursuant to attached Addendum No. 1. Basic Monthly Rent will always be due and payable on or before the first day of the applicable month, except that the first month’s Basic Monthly Rent will be due and payable upon the date of Landlord’s execution of this Lease.

2.7 “Rent Commencement Date”: The Lease Commencement Date.

2.8 “Security Deposit”: $51,596.14. Tenant’s Security Deposit—which is due and payable on the date of Tenant’s execution of this Lease—does not constitute last month’s rent. Last month’s rent must be separately paid by Tenant on or before the first day of the last month of the Term. If Tenant exercises any Option to Extend (as defined below) contained herein, then as a condition precedent to the effectiveness of Tenant’s exercise of such Option to Extend, Tenant shall pay to Landlord an amount equal to the difference between the Basic Monthly Rent for the last year of such Extension Term (as defined below) and the amount of the Security Deposit then held by Landlord; which additional amount will be added to, and constitute a part of, the Security Deposit from that point forward.

2.9 “Base Year”: Calendar year 2024.

2.10 Address for Landlord:

Pacific North Court Holdings, L.P.
c/o American Assets Trust Management, LLC
3420 Carmel Mountain Road, Suite 100
San Diego, CA 92121
Attn: Property Management (Office)

2.11 Addresses for Tenant:

Legal Notices Addresses
(Prior to Occupancy)
6262 Belmont Trail Ct.
San Diego, CA 92130
(Following Occupancy)

At the Premises

2.12 “Permitted Use”: The Premises shall be used for general office purposes, in accordance with all applicable Laws, statutes, ordinances, and regulations and the provisions of this Lease, and for no other use.

2.13 Building Standard Operating Hours:

Monday through Friday: 7:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m.
Saturday: 9:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.
(excluding Sundays and any local, state, and federal holidays)

2.14 Participating Brokers:

Landlord’s: CBRE, Inc.
Tenant’s: Jones Lang LaSalle, Inc.

2.15 Initial Payment Amounts: $97,438.64 (which represents the Security Deposit of $51,596.14, plus the first month’s Basic Monthly Rent of $45,842.50) is payable on the date Tenant executes this Lease.

3. Term.

3.1 Description of Term. The term of this Lease (“Term”) shall commence on the “Lease Commencement Date”, and shall expire on the “Initial Expiration Date”, subject to (i) any extension rights described in Paragraph 3.2, below, and (ii) earlier termination by Landlord, as provided in this Lease. The term “Expiration Date”, as used in this Lease, shall mean the Initial Expiration Date, any earlier date upon which this Lease is terminated by Landlord, as provided below, or if the Term is extended pursuant to Paragraph 3.2, below, then the expiration date of any exercised Extension Term.

3.2 Extension Rights. Tenant shall, subject to all of the provisions of this Paragraph 3.2 (including all subparagraphs hereof), have one (1) option to extend the Term (the "Option to Extend") for an additional term of two (2) years (the "Extension Term"), provided Tenant or a Permitted Transferee is in occupancy 90% of the Premises at the time of exercise of the Option to Extend and Tenant gives Landlord written notice via overnight nationally-recognized courier (such as FedEx or UPS), with signature acknowledgement by recipient required, of its election to exercise such Option to Extend no less than 10 months and no more than 12 months prior to the then-applicable Expiration Date of the Term. Such notice will constitute Tenant's binding irrevocable election to extend the Term pursuant to this Paragraph 3.2 and may not subsequently be revoked by Tenant except as provided below. Time is of the essence with respect to the timing of such requirement to give notice to Landlord.

3.2.1 Restrictions on Transferability of Option. The Option to Extend is personal to the Tenant originally named in this Lease or any Permitted Transferee (as defined below) and may not be exercised by anyone other than such originally named Tenant or a Permitted Transferee.

3.2.2 Conditions Terminating Tenant's Rights to Exercise Option. Tenant shall not have the right to exercise the Option to Extend, notwithstanding anything set forth above to the contrary: (a) during any period of time commencing from the date Landlord gives to Tenant a written notice that Tenant is in default under any provision of this Lease and continuing until the default alleged in said notice is cured; or (b) during the period of time commencing on the day after a monetary obligation to Landlord is due from Tenant and unpaid (without any necessity for notice thereof to Tenant) and continuing until the obligation is paid. The period of time within which the Option to Extend may be exercised shall not be extended or lengthened by reason of Tenant's inability to exercise the Option to Extend because of the foregoing provisions of this Paragraph 3.2.2, even if the effect thereof is to eliminate Tenant's right to exercise the Option to Extend.

3.2.3 Conditions Terminating Tenant's Option Rights. All rights with respect to the Option to Extend (including rights as to subsequent Extension Terms, if any) shall terminate and be of no further force or effect even after Tenant's due and timely exercise of the Option to Extend, if, after such exercise, but prior to the commencement of the Extension Term, (a) Tenant fails to pay to Landlord a monetary obligation of Tenant for a period of 30 days after such obligation became due (without imposing any obligation on the part of Landlord to give notice thereof to Tenant); (b) Tenant fails to cure a non-monetary default within 30 days after the date the Landlord gives notice to Tenant of such default; (c) Landlord gives to Tenant two or more notices of default or two or more late charges become payable for any monetary defaults, whether or not such defaults are cured or (d) Tenant assigns this Lease or sublets all or any portion of the Premises other than to a Permitted Transferee.

3.2.4 Terms and Conditions of Extension of Term. If Tenant duly and timely exercises the Option to Extend for an Extension Term, then this Lease shall remain in full force and effect for such additional two (2) year period, except that the Basic Monthly Rent will adjust as of the first day of the first Extension Term such that for the first year of the first Extension Term the Basic Monthly Rent shall be equal to the then prevailing base rental rate (ignoring tenant improvement and similar refurbishment or construction allowances, free rent periods and other tenant benefits/concessions typically associated with a renewal lease—it being acknowledged that the Option to Extend reflects Tenant's negotiated right to defer its decision whether to initially lease the Premises for such longer period of time, as opposed to Tenant's right to enter into a new lease) for renewal leases of comparable Class A office space, including, without limitation, comparable size, quality, views, building signage, project amenities (i.e., staffed fitness center, conference center, daycare center and multiple food and beverage offerings) in the Del Mar Heights submarket, as projected for the first day of the applicable Extension Term and determined pursuant to Paragraph 3.2.5, below (the "Then-Prevailing Rate").

3.2.5 Determination of Then-Prevailing Rate. If Tenant properly exercises the Option to Extend for an Extension Term, then Landlord shall, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Paragraph 3.2, within 15 business days after receipt of Tenant's Option Exercise Notice, provide Tenant with written notice of the Then-Prevailing Rate and the calculation of the new Basic Monthly Rent to be effective during the first year of the Extension Term. Tenant shall have 10 business days from the date of Landlord's notice in which to (i) accept the Landlord's determination of the Then-Prevailing Rate, or (ii) withdraw its notice to exercise the Option to Extend, in which case the Lease shall terminate as of the then-current Expiration Date. If Tenant fails to notify Landlord, in writing, of its disagreement with Landlord's determination of the Then-Prevailing Rate within such 10 business day period, then Tenant will be deemed to have accepted Landlord's determination and Landlord's determination shall be binding on both parties.

4. Delivery of Possession.

4.1 Delivery Requirements. On or before the Lease Commencement Date, Landlord, at its cost, shall have Substantially Completed the work, if any, required to be completed by Landlord prior to the tender of possession of the Premises to Tenant, as described in Exhibit "C" to this Lease ("Landlord's Work") and shall tender possession of the Premises to Tenant (subject to Landlord's reserved rights hereunder and Landlord's right to continue the completion of Landlord's Work without material interference by Tenant). Landlord's tender of possession of the Premises shall consist of Landlord's notification (which notification may be telephonic, by written notice, or by electronic transmission—such as by facsimile or email) that possession of the Premises is then available to Tenant, and instructing Tenant that Tenant may obtain the keys to the Premises from Landlord's offices. Tenant's refusal to accept such tender (or avoidance thereof) shall not affect the Lease Commencement Date or delay the Rent Commencement Date and such dates will be calculated as if no such refusal or avoidance had occurred. Pursuant to the provisions of attached Exhibit "C", following the Lease Commencement Date, Landlord shall provide Tenant with a factually accurate "Confirmation of Lease Terms" (herein so called) written memorandum in the form of attached hereto as Exhibit "H"; provided, however, that any failure by Landlord to provide the Confirmation of Lease Terms shall not affect the validity or enforceability of this Lease or any of the provisions hereof. Tenant shall execute and return to Landlord the Confirmation of Lease Terms memorandum within 10 days after its submittal by Landlord to Tenant. Failure by Tenant to execute the Confirmation of Lease Terms memorandum shall not amend or in any way affect the terms thereof, but shall be deemed as Tenant's final and conclusive acceptance of the terms of the Confirmation of Lease Terms.

4.2 Definition of Substantial Completion. For purposes of this Lease, the term "Substantially Complete" (and its grammatical variations, such as Substantial Completion) when used with reference to Landlord's Work, will mean that Landlord's Work has been completed to such an extent that Tenant can commence the work, if any, to be undertaken by Tenant, as described in Exhibit "C" to this Lease (the "Tenant's Work"), without material delay or interference due to the completion of Landlord's Work, or if no such Tenant's Work is to be undertaken, then such term will mean that Landlord's Work has been completed to such an extent that the Landlord's Work can be finally completed within 60 days and without material interference to Tenant's occupancy and use of the Premises.

4.3 Final Completion. Except for any items set forth on a written, detailed "punch-list" of excepted items delivered to Landlord upon the Lease Commencement Date, Tenant shall, as of the Lease Commencement Date, be deemed to have (i) thoroughly inspected the Premises, and determined that, to the best of Tenant's knowledge, the Premises comply with all applicable Laws and ordinances, and that the Premises are in first-class condition and repair, (ii) acknowledged that Landlord's Work has been Substantially Completed, (iii) accepted the Premises in its then as-is condition with no right to require Landlord to perform any additional work therein, except as set forth on the punch list or as specified to be completed after the Lease Commencement Date on Exhibit "C", and (iv) waived any express or implied warranties regarding the condition of the Premises, including any implied warranties of fitness for a particular purpose or habitability, suitability, merchantability, quality or condition.

5. Use of Premises and Common Areas.

5.1 Permitted Use of Premises. Tenant may use the Premises for the Permitted Use specified in the Principal Lease Provisions and for no other use without Landlord's consent. Any change or deviation in the Permitted Use will require Landlord's prior written consent, which consent may be granted or withheld in Landlord's reasonable discretion.

5.2 Compliance with Laws. Landlord covenants that the Premises will comply with the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990, as amended (42 U.S.C. 12181 et seq.) (the "ADA") and all other applicable federal, state and local laws, statutes, ordinances, or other governmental rules, regulations or requirements (collectively, together with the ADA, "Laws") as of the Lease Commencement Date. After the Lease Commencement Date, Tenant shall comply with all Laws concerning the Premises and/or Tenant's use of the Premises. Such obligation to comply with Laws shall include without limitation compliance with the ADA and the California Unruh Civil Rights Act. In addition to the foregoing, if Tenant's particular use of the Premises (including the construction or installation of Tenant's Work, Alterations, as defined below) or any modifications to Tenant's use of the Premises or Project results in the need for modifications or alterations to any other portion of the Project (including but not limited to the Common Areas of the Project) in order to comply with the ADA or other applicable Laws, then Tenant shall additionally be responsible, upon demand, for the cost of such modifications and alterations plus a supervisory fee of 10% of such cost payable to Landlord. Tenant acknowledges and agrees that it has reviewed the CASp Inspection Disclosure and Acknowledgment attached to this Lease as Exhibit "F", and California Civil Code Section 1938, attached thereto and incorporated herein, at least 48 hours prior to the execution of this Lease. Tenant shall indemnify, defend (with counsel reasonably satisfactory to Landlord), and hold Landlord (and its partners, members, shareholders, directors, officers, employees, agents, assigns, and any successors to Landlord's interest in the Project) harmless from and against any and all losses, costs, demands, damages, expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses), claims, causes of action, judgments, penalties, fines, or liabilities, arising from Tenant's failure to satisfy its obligations under this Paragraph including, without limitation, (i) any costs, expenses, and liabilities incurred by Landlord in connection with responding to any demand by any governmental authority that Landlord undertake any modifications or alterations which are Tenant's responsibility pursuant to this Paragraph or for which Tenant is obligated to reimburse Landlord hereunder, as well as (ii) any attorneys' fees, costs, expenses, and liabilities incurred by Landlord in responding to, defending, pursuing, or otherwise being involved with any action, suit, or proceeding arising out of any claim relating to the non-compliance of the Premises or the Project with the ADA or any similar Laws where such action, suit, or proceeding relates to, or arises from, Tenant's use of the Premises, Tenant's Work or any Alterations.

5.3 Condition During Periods of Non-Use: Recapture. During any period of time in which Tenant is not continuously using and occupying the Premises for the operation of its business, Tenant shall take such measures as may be necessary or desirable, in Landlord's sole discretion, to secure the Premises from break-ins and use by unauthorized persons, to minimize the appearance of non-use, and to otherwise maintain the interior and exterior portions of Tenant's Premises, including all windows and doors, in first class condition. Additionally, during any period of time in excess of 90 days in which Tenant is not continuously using and occupying the Premises (or at least 50% thereof) during normal business hours. Landlord may, at its election, by giving written notice (the "Non-Use Recapture Notice") to Tenant, recapture the Premises and terminate this Lease. If Landlord elects to exercise such right and delivers a Non-Use Recapture Notice to Tenant, and Tenant fails to cure such condition to Landlord's reasonable satisfaction within 5 days after delivery of such Non-Use Recapture Notice, this Lease will automatically be deemed terminated as of the effective date stated in the Non-Use Recapture Notice, and Tenant shall surrender possession of the Premises and all improvements therein to Landlord as of such date (and any failure to do so shall constitute an immediate Event of Default hereunder).

5.4 Use of Common Areas. Tenant's use of the Common Areas shall at all times comply with the provisions of all Rules (as defined below) regarding such use as Landlord may from time to time adopt provided such Rules do not materially increase Tenant's obligations or materially decrease Tenant's rights hereunder. In no event shall the rights granted to Tenant to use the Common Areas include the right to store any property in the Common Areas, whether temporarily or permanently. Any property stored in the Common Areas may be removed by Landlord and disposed of, and the cost of such removal and disposal shall be payable by Tenant to Landlord upon demand. Additionally, in no event may Tenant use any portion of the Common Areas for loading, unloading, or parking, except in those areas specifically designated by Landlord for such purposes, nor for any group social event, sidewalk sale, employment fair or similar commercial or unauthorized purpose. Without limiting the generality of the rights of Landlord under this Paragraph 5.4, Landlord also reserves the right to temporarily close any portion of the Common Areas for maintenance purposes so long as reasonable access to the Premises remains available.

5.5 General Covenants and Limitations on Use. In addition to the Rules, Tenant's and Tenant's agents', employees', officers', independent contractors', licensees', guests and invitees' (collectively, "Tenant's Invitees") use of the Premises and the Project, will be subject to the following additional general covenants and limitations on use.

5.5.1 Tenant shall not do, bring, or keep anything in or about the Premises that will cause a cancellation of any insurance covering the Premises. If the rate of any insurance carried by Landlord is increased as a result of Tenant's use of the Premises or Tenant's failure to continuously use and occupy the Premises, Tenant shall pay the amount of such increase to Landlord, within 10 days after Landlord delivers to Tenant a notice of such increase.

5.5.2 No noxious or unreasonably offensive activity shall be carried on, in or upon the Premises by Tenant or Tenant's Invitees, nor shall anything be done or kept in the Premises which may be or become a public nuisance or which may cause unreasonable embarrassment, disturbance, or annoyance to others in the Project, or on adjacent or nearby property. To that end, Tenant additionally covenants and agrees that no light shall be emitted from the Premises which is unreasonably bright or causes unreasonable glare; no sounds shall be emitted from the Premises which are unreasonably loud or annoying; and no odor shall be emitted from the Premises which is or might be noxious or offensive to others in the Building, on the Project, or on adjacent or near-by property.

5.5.3 No unsightliness shall be permitted in the Premises which is visible from the Common Areas. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, all equipment, objects, and materials shall be kept enclosed within the Premises and screened from view or in Common Areas trash enclosures; no refuse, scraps, debris, garbage, trash, bulk materials, or waste shall be kept, stored, or allowed to accumulate except as may be properly enclosed within appropriate containers in the Premises and promptly and properly disposed of.

5.5.4 The Premises shall not be used for sleeping or washing clothes, nor shall the Premises be used for cooking or the preparation, manufacture, or mixing of anything that might emit any offensive odor or objectionable noises or lights onto the Project or nearby properties. Additionally, Tenant shall be responsible for damage to the Project caused by any deliverymen who are at the Project to deliver goods solely to Tenant.

5.5.5 All pipes, wires, conduit, cabling, poles, antennas, and other equipment/facilities for or relating to utilities, telecommunications, computer equipment, or the transmission or reception of audio or visual signals must be kept and maintained enclosed within the Premises (except to the extent included as part of Landlord's Work, Tenant's Work, or otherwise approved by Landlord).

5.5.6 Tenant shall not keep or permit to be kept any bicycle, motorcycle, or other vehicle, nor any animal (excluding service animals), bird, reptile, or other exotic creature in the Premises.

5.5.7 Neither Tenant nor Tenant's Invitees shall do anything that will cause damage or waste to the Project. Neither the floor nor any other portion of the Premises shall be overloaded. Tenant shall be responsible for all structural engineering required to determine structural load for items placed in the Premises by Tenant. Tenant shall fasten all files, bookcases, and like furnishings to walls in a manner to prevent tipping over in the event of earthquake, tremor, or other earth movements. Landlord shall not be responsible for any damage or liability for such events. No machinery, equipment, apparatus, or other appliance shall be used or operated in or on the Premises that will in any manner injure, vibrate, or shake all or any part of the Project or be allowed to interfere with the equipment of any other tenant within the Project (or other property owned by Landlord or its affiliates), including, without limitation, interference with transmission and reception of telephone, telecommunications, television, radio, or similar signals.

5.5.8 The Premises will be used only as a commercial facility and not as a place of public accommodation as defined by ADA. Tenant shall not offer its goods and services to the general public at the Premises.

5.6 Access Rights. Except as set forth herein, Tenant will have 24 hour-a-day, 7 day-a-week access to the Building and the Premises. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no failure of such access rights will constitute an eviction (constructive or otherwise) or a disturbance of Tenant's use and possession of the Premises or relieve Tenant from paying Rent or performing any of its obligations under this Lease; except that Tenant shall be entitled to equitable abatement of its Rent (as defined below) obligations hereunder to the extent such lack of access is due to Landlord's gross negligence or intentional misconduct and continues for a period in excess of 3 business days. Landlord will not be liable, under any circumstances, for a loss of or injury to property or for injury to or interference with Tenant's business, including loss of profits through, in connection with, or incidental to a failure to furnish access under this Paragraph. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Landlord agrees to use reasonable efforts to promptly correct any such interruption of access.

5.7 Remedies for Breach. In the event of any breach of this Paragraph 5 by Tenant or Tenant's Invitees, Landlord, at its election and in addition to its other rights and remedies under this Lease, may pay the cost of correcting such breach and Tenant shall immediately, upon demand, pay Landlord the cost thereof, plus a supervisory fee in the amount of 10% of such cost.

6. Security Deposit.

6.1 Security Deposit. Upon Tenant's execution of this Lease, Tenant shall deposit with Landlord good funds in the amount of the Security Deposit (if any) set forth in the Principal Lease Provisions, to secure the performance by Tenant of its obligations under this Lease, including without limitation Tenant's obligations (i) to pay Basic Monthly Rent and Additional Rent (as defined below), (ii) to repair damages to the Premises and/or the Project caused by Tenant or Tenant's Invitees, (iii) to surrender the Premises in the condition required by Paragraph 23.1, below, and (iv) to remedy any other defaults by Tenant in the performance of any of its obligations under this Lease. If Tenant commits any default under this Lease, Landlord may, at its election, use the Security Deposit to cure such default, and to compensate Landlord for all damages actually suffered by Landlord which are directly attributable to such default, including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by Landlord. Upon demand by Landlord, Tenant shall promptly pay to Landlord a sum equal to any portion of the Security Deposit so used by Landlord, in order to maintain the Security Deposit in the amount set forth in the Principal Lease Provisions above (subject to increase as set forth below). Should Landlord choose to apply the Security Deposit against damages suffered by it, such application shall not establish or signify a waiver of any other rights or remedies of Landlord hereunder, nor shall such application constitute an accord and satisfaction. Within 45 days following the Expiration Date or earlier termination of this Lease, Landlord shall deliver to Tenant, at Tenant's last known address, any portion of the Security Deposit not used by Landlord, as provided in this Paragraph. Landlord may commingle the Security Deposit (and any advance Rent received by Landlord) with Landlord's other funds and Landlord shall not pay interest on such Security Deposit to Tenant. Tenant waives the provisions of California Civil Code Section 1950.7 (or any successor statute), and any similar principle of Laws with respect to Landlord's ability to apply the Security Deposit against future rent damages. Furthermore, upon lawful termination of the Lease as a result of Tenant's default, Landlord shall be entitled to immediately apply the Security Deposit against damages computed under California Civil Code Section 1951.2, without the requirement that Tenant first be given notice and an opportunity to cure, and notwithstanding that the damages have not been finally adjudicated by a court. Tenant may not assign or encumber Tenant's residual rights in the Security Deposit without the consent by Landlord.

7. Rent and Rent Adjustments.

7.1 Initial Monthly Rent. Tenant shall pay to Landlord as minimum monthly rent, without deduction, setoff, prior notice, or demand, the Basic Monthly Rent described in the Principal Lease Provisions (subject to adjustment as provided in the attached Addendum), in advance, on or before the first day of each calendar month, beginning on the Rent Commencement Date and thereafter throughout the Term. If the Rent Commencement Date is other than the first day of a calendar month, then the Basic Monthly Rent payable by Tenant for the second month of the Term following the Rent Commencement Date (acknowledging that the first month's rent is payable upon Lease execution) shall be prorated on the basis of the actual number of days during the Term occurring during the first partial calendar month thereof.

7.2 Rental Adjustments. The Basic Monthly Rent shall be increased periodically in accordance with the provisions of attached Addendum No. 1 to this Lease.

7.3 Additional Rent. In addition to paying the Basic Monthly Rent pursuant to this Paragraph 7, Tenant shall pay to Landlord (in accordance with Paragraph 8 below), commencing on January 1, 2025, Tenant's Share (as defined below) of the annual Operating Expenses (as defined below) that are in excess of the amount of Operating Expenses applicable to the Base Year. The amounts payable pursuant to this Paragraph, together with all other amounts of any kind (other than Basic Monthly Rent) payable by Tenant to Landlord under the terms of this Lease, constitute additional rent for the Premises and are collectively and individually referred to in this Lease as "Additional Rent".

7.4 General Rental Provisions. All "Rent" (which includes Basic Monthly Rent and all "Additional Rent" hereunder) shall be paid to Landlord at the same address as notices are to be delivered to Landlord pursuant to the Principal Lease Provisions, as Landlord may change such address from time to time pursuant to the terms of this Lease.

8. Additional Rent.

8.1 Definitions. The following definitions apply in this Paragraph 8 (and elsewhere in this Lease):

8.1.1 Operating Expenses. Subject to the Excluded Costs (as defined below) relating to the Project, the term "Operating Expenses" means all expenses, costs, and amounts of every kind or nature that Landlord pays or incurs because of or in connection with the ownership, operation, management, maintenance, or repair of the Building, Common Areas and Project. Operating Expenses include, without limitation, the following amounts paid or incurred by Landlord relative to the Building, Common Areas and Project: (a) the cost of supplying utilities to all portions of the Project (other than tenant suites), including without limitation water, waste deposit, power, electricity, heating, ventilation, and air conditioning, (b) Tax Expenses and Insurance Expenses (as such terms are defined below), (c) the cost of providing janitorial services, window washing services and of operating, managing, maintaining, and repairing all building systems, including without limitation utility, mechanical, sanitary, storm drainage, and elevator systems, and the cost of supplies, tools, and equipment, as well as maintenance and service contracts in connection with those systems, (d) the cost of licenses, certificates, permits, and inspections relating to the operation of the Project, (e) the cost of landscaping, (f) the cost of repairing, cleaning, sweeping, painting, striping, replacing and repaving, curbs, parking areas, walkways, guardrails, bumpers, fences, screens, flagpoles, bicycle racks, signs, and other markers, drainage pipes, ducts, conduits, lighting facilities, and all other elements and amenities of the Common Area, (g) the cost of inspection, maintenance, repair, and depreciation costs (excluding acquisition costs) of any and all machinery and equipment used in the operation and maintenance of the Project, including personal property taxes and other charges and taxes incurred in connection with such equipment; (h) the cost of maintenance of and compliance with federal, state, or local governmental ambient air, environmental, health, and safety standards; (i) the cost of consumable materials, (j) the cost of contesting the validity or applicability of any government enactments that may affect the Operating Expenses, (k) the cost of maintenance, repair, and restoration of any parking areas or structures, including, without limitation, resurfacing, repainting, restriping, and cleaning costs, (l) fees, charges, and other costs, including administrative, whether paid to Landlord, an affiliate of Landlord's, or a third party, consulting fees, legal fees, and accounting fees of all persons engaged by Landlord or otherwise reasonably incurred by Landlord in connection with the operation, management, maintenance, and repair of the Project, (m) wages, salaries, and other compensation and benefits of all persons engaged in the operation, maintenance, repair, or security of the Project plus employer's Social Security taxes, unemployment taxes, insurance, and any other taxes imposed on Landlord that may be levied on those wages, salaries, and other compensation and benefits. If any of Landlord's employees provide services for more than one project of Landlord's, only the prorated portion of those employees' wages, salaries, other compensation and benefits, and taxes reflecting the percentage of their working time devoted to the Project will be included in the Operating Expenses, (n) payments under any easement, CC&R's, license, operating agreement, declaration, restrictive covenant, or other instrument relating to the sharing of costs affecting the Project, (o) amortization (including interest on the unamortized cost at a rate equal to the floating commercial loan rate announced from time to time by Bank of America as its "reference rate" (or a comparable rate selected by Landlord if such reference rate ceases to be published) plus 3 percentage points per annum) of the cost of acquiring or renting personal property used in the maintenance, repair, and operation of the Project, (p) fees and expenses for consultants retained by Landlord from time to time for the purposes of energy conservation, waste treatment, and water recycling, (q) the costs of any capital improvements (excluding structural modifications) installed and/or paid for by Landlord, (i) in order to comply with any Laws, change in Laws, or any other rules, regulations or requirements of any governmental or quasi-governmental authority having jurisdiction or of the board of fire underwriters or similar insurance body (except to the extent Tenant is otherwise obligated, pursuant to this Lease, to undertake such improvements or structural modifications at Tenant's cost), or (ii) in order to cause or attempt to cause labor saving, energy saving, or other economies in the maintenance and operation of the Project (including, without limitation, as related to energy generation, water recycling and waste treatment), , and (r) the cost of maintenance of all heating, ventilating and air condition systems, including, without limitation, heating and condenser water to facilitate the production of air conditioning (collectively, "HVAC") relating to individual premises and/or the Common Areas, other than HVAC systems exclusively serving other tenants' premises that are directly paid for, or reimbursed, by such other tenants. All capital expenditures shall be amortized (including interest on the unamortized cost at the rate stated in subparagraph (o) of this Paragraph) over their useful life, as reasonably determined by Landlord's certified public accountant. Operating Expenses will not, however, include any Excluded Costs (as defined below).

8.1.2 Excluded Costs. "Excluded Costs" means the following expenses, as they relate to the Operating Expenses: (i) depreciation, principal, interest, and fees on mortgages or ground lease payments, except as otherwise provided herein, (ii) legal fees incurred in negotiating and enforcing tenant leases, disputes with other tenants, (iii) real estate brokers' leasing commissions and advertising costs in connection with leasing space in the Project, (iv) initial improvements or alterations to tenant spaces in the Project, (v) the cost of providing any service directly to and paid directly by a single individual tenant, or costs incurred for the benefit of a single tenant, (vi) costs of any items to the extent Landlord actually receives reimbursement therefor from insurance proceeds, under warranties, or from a tenant or other third party (such costs shall be excluded or deducted – as appropriate – from Operating Expenses in the year in which the reimbursement is received), or which are paid out of reserves previously included in Operating Expenses, (vii) costs incurred due to Landlord's breach of Laws or ordinance, (viii) repairs necessitated by the negligent acts or negligent omissions of Landlord or Landlord's employees, agents, or contractors, (ix) capital expenses other than those specifically included in the definition of Operating Expenses, (x) charitable or political contributions and membership fees or other payments to trade organizations, (xi) costs of Landlord's Work which are to be borne by Landlord pursuant to attached Exhibit "C", if any (xii) rent and similar charges for Landlord's on-site management office and/or leasing office or any other offices of Landlord or its affiliates, (xiii) Landlord's general overhead expenses not related to the Project, (xiv) electric power and other utility costs for which any tenant directly contracts with and pays the local public service company, (xv) any cost due to Landlord's breach of this Lease, debt service (including without limitation, interest, principal and any impound payments) required to be made on any mortgage or deed of trust recorded with respect to the Project, (xvi) repairs and replacements paid for by insurance proceeds, or would have been so reimbursed if Landlord had in force all insurance required to be carried by Landlord under this Lease, (xvii) any compensation paid to clerks, attendants or other persons in commercial concessions operated by Landlord, if any, provided that any compensation paid to any concierge at the Project shall be includable as an Operating Expense, (xviii) any costs expressly excluded from Operating Expenses elsewhere in this Lease, (xix) bad debt loss, rent loss, or reserves of any kind; (xx) costs associated with the operation of the business of the entity which constitutes Landlord, as the same are distinguished from the costs of operation of the Building, (xxi) overhead and profit increment paid to the Landlord or to subsidiaries or affiliates of the Landlord for services to the extent the same exceeds the costs of such services rendered by qualified, first-class unaffiliated third parties on a competitive basis, (xxii) any gifts provided to any entity whatsoever, including, but not limited to, Tenant, other tenants, employees, vendors, contractors, prospective tenants, (xxiii) costs, including fines or penalties, incurred due to a violation of any law in force and effect as of the Lease Commencement Date; (xxiv) costs incurred to comply with laws relating to the removal of Hazardous Substances which were in existence in the Project prior to the Lease Commencement Date, or after the Lease Commencement Date to the extent not caused by Tenant; (xxv) wages and benefits of any employee above senior property manager or general manager.

8.1.3 Expense Year. "Expense Year" means the Base Year, and each calendar year after the Base Year, in which any portion of the Term falls, through and including the calendar year in which the Term expires.

8.1.4 Tenant's Share. "Tenant's Share" means a fraction, the numerator of which is the total aggregate Rentable Square Feet in the Premises, and the denominator of 61,030 which is the total aggregate Rentable Square Feet in the Building. As of the Lease Commencement Date, the Tenant's Share will be 13.66%. If either the Premises or the Building are expanded or reduced, Tenant's Share shall be appropriately adjusted. Tenant's Share for the Expense Year in which that change occurs shall be determined on the basis of the number of days during the Expense Year in which each such Tenant's Share was in effect.

8.2 Adjustment of Operating Expenses. Operating Expenses shall be adjusted as follows:

8.2.1 Gross Up Adjustment When a Building is Less Than Fully Occupied. If the occupancy of the total Rentable Square Footage of the completed, partially occupied Building is less than 95%, Landlord shall make an appropriate adjustment to the variable components of the Operating Expenses for that Expense Year, as estimated by Landlord in its sole discretion using sound accounting and management principles, to determine the amount of Operating Expenses that would have been incurred had such building been 95% occupied. This amount shall be considered to have been the amount of Operating Expenses for that Expense Year. For purposes of this Paragraph 8.2, "variable components" include only those component expenses that are affected by variations in occupancy levels, such as nightly janitorial service to Tenants' Premises or water usage.

8.2.2 Adjustment When Landlord Adds Additional Buildings to the Project. If Landlord adds additional buildings within the Project following the Base Year, Landlord shall make an appropriate adjustment to the Operating Expenses for the Base Year, as reasonably determined by Landlord using sound accounting and management principles, to determine the amount of Operating Expenses that would have been incurred for the Base Year if such additional building had been complete and 95% occupied during the Base Year.

8.2.3 Adjustment When Landlord Does Not Furnish a Service to All Tenants. If, during any part of any Expense Year (including the Base Year), Landlord is not furnishing a particular service or work (the cost of which, if furnished by Landlord, would be included in Operating Expenses) to a tenant (other than Tenant) that has undertaken to perform such service or work in lieu of receiving it from Landlord, Operating Expenses for that Expense Year shall be considered to be increased by an amount equal to the additional Operating Expenses that Landlord would reasonably have incurred during such period if Landlord had furnished such service or work to that tenant.

8.2.4 Additional Costs. If due to a change in the types of costs being incurred by Landlord as Operating Expenses (such as, for example, the commencement or cessation of security services—but not a mere change in how a particular cost is handled—such as going from an in-house to an outside landscaping service), the Base Year Operating Expenses need to be adjusted to eliminate the effect of such change, Landlord shall reasonably adjust the Base Year Operating Expenses and notify Tenant of such change in writing. Furthermore, Landlord shall have the right to reasonably decrease the amount of the Base Year Operating Expenses for purposes of calculating Increased Operating Expenses to eliminate the effect of abnormally high costs, or unusual costs, of a particular type or types (such as, by way of example, abnormally high energy costs associated with the “energy crisis” of 2001) occurring during the Base Year. There shall be no cap on Operating Expenses.

8.2.5 Common Areas. Landlord may elect to partition/separate portions of the Common Areas of the Project such that the Operating Expenses (including, but not limited to Tax Expenses and Insurance Expenses) associated with such partitioned Common Areas are allocated to particular buildings or parcels within the Project.

8.3 Tax Expenses. “Taxes” means and refers to all federal, state, county, or local government or municipal taxes, fees, charges, or other impositions of every kind or nature, whether general, special, ordinary, or extraordinary. Taxes include, without limitation, taxes, fees, and charges such as real property taxes, general and special assessments (including, without limitation, maintenance assessment district assessments, facilities benefit assessments and similar district fees and assessments), transit taxes and surcharges, leasehold taxes, school taxes, sewer charges and taxes based on the receipt of rent (including gross receipts or sales taxes applicable to the receipt of rent, unless required to be paid by Tenant), and personal property taxes imposed on Landlord’s fixtures, machinery, equipment, apparatus, systems, appurtenances, and other personal property used in connection with the Project or the Building, as the case may be, along with reasonable legal and other professional fees, costs and disbursements incurred in connection with proceedings to contest, determine or reduce real property taxes. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the following shall be excluded from Taxes: (a) all excess profits taxes, franchise taxes, gift taxes, capital stock taxes, inheritance and succession taxes, estate taxes, federal, state, and local income taxes, and other taxes applied or measured by Landlord’s general or net income (as opposed to rents, receipts, or income attributable to operations at the Building), and (b) personal property taxes attributable to property owned or installed by or for other tenants of the Project. For all purposes of this Lease, the term “Tax Expenses” shall mean the sum of all Taxes that are paid or incurred by Landlord because of or in connection with the ownership, leasing, and/or operation of the Project from time to time.

8.4 Calculation and Payment of Operating Expenses. Tenant’s Share of the increased Operating Expenses for any Expense Year shall be calculated and paid as follows:

8.4.1 Calculation of Excess. If Operating Expenses for any Expense Year (other than the Base Year) ending or beginning within the Term exceeds the amount of Operating Expenses applicable to the Base Year, Tenant shall pay as Additional Rent to Landlord an amount equal to Tenant’s Share of that excess, in the manner stated below.

8.4.2 Statement/Payment of Operating Expenses. Tenant shall pay to Landlord, on the first day of each calendar month during the Term, commencing January 1, 2025, as Additional Rent, without notice, demand, offset, or deduction (except as provided below), an amount (“Tenant’s Monthly Payment”) equal to one-twelfth of Tenant’s Share of the amount by which the Operating Expenses for each Expense Year following the Base Year exceed the Base Year Operating Expenses (such excess being referred to herein as the “Increased Operating Expenses”), as estimated (and subsequently reconciled) by Landlord in the most recently delivered Estimated Statement (as defined below). Landlord intends to deliver to Tenant, prior to the commencement of each Expense Year following the Base Year during the Term, a written statement (“Estimated Statement”) setting forth Landlord’s estimate of the Operating Expenses and Increased Operating Expenses allocable to the ensuing Expense Year, and Tenant’s Share of such Increased Operating Expenses. Landlord may, at its option, during any Expense Year, deliver to Tenant a revised Estimated Statement, revising Landlord’s estimate of the Operating Expenses and Increased Operating Expenses, in accordance with Landlord’s most current estimate. Within approximately 90 days after the end of each Expense Year during the Term, Landlord intends to deliver to Tenant a written statement (“Actual Statement”) setting forth the actual Operating Expenses allocable to the preceding Expense Year. Tenant’s failure to object to Landlord regarding the contents of an Actual Statement, in writing, within 90 days after delivery to Tenant of such Actual Statement, shall constitute Tenant’s absolute and final acceptance and approval of the Actual Statement. If the sum of Tenant's Monthly Payments actually paid by Tenant during any Expense Year exceeds Tenant's Share of the actual Increased Operating Expenses allocable to such Expense Year, then such excess will be credited against future Tenant's Monthly Payments, unless such Expense Year was the Expense Year during which the Lease Expiration Date occurs (the "Last Calendar Year"), in which event either (i) such excess shall be credited against any monetary default of Tenant under this Lease, or (ii) if Tenant is not in default under this Lease, then Landlord shall (within the time frame for returning Tenant's Security Deposit) pay to Tenant such excess. If the sum of Tenant's Monthly Payments actually paid by Tenant during any Expense Year is less than Tenant's Share of the actual Increased Operating Expenses allocable to such Expense Year, then Tenant shall, within 10 days after delivery of the Actual Statement, pay to Landlord the amount of such deficiency. Landlord's delay in delivering any Estimated Statement or Actual Statement will not release Tenant from its obligation to pay any Tenant's Monthly Payment or any such excess upon receipt of the Estimated Statement or the Actual Statement, as the case may be. The references in this Paragraph 8.4 to the actual Increased Operating Expenses allocable to an Expense Year, shall include, if such Expense Year is the Last Calendar Year, the actual Increased Operating Expenses allocable to the portion of such year prior to the Lease Expiration Date, calculated on a pro rata basis, without regard to the date of a particular expenditure. The provisions of this Paragraph 8.4 shall survive the termination of this Lease, and even though the Term has expired and Tenant has vacated the Premises, when the final determination is made of Tenant's Share of Operating Expenses for the year in which this Lease terminates, Tenant shall immediately pay any increase due over the estimated expenses paid by Tenant pursuant hereto and conversely any overpayment made in Tenant's estimated payments shall be immediately rebated by Landlord to Tenant.

8.5 Landlord's Books and Records. If Tenant disputes (in a writing delivered to Landlord setting forth with specificity the basis for such dispute and the portions of such Actual Statement which Tenant disputes) the amount of Additional Rent stated in an Actual Statement within 90 days after delivery thereof to Tenant, Tenant may, upon at least 5 business days' notice to Landlord, request an opportunity to inspect and audit Landlord's records and supporting documentation regarding such Actual Statement (but not regarding any other Actual Statement). Such inspection and audit must be conducted by an independent certified public accountant within 180 days after the date Tenant received the Actual Statement, shall be at Tenant's sole cost and expense (except as provided below), and Landlord shall, at its election, either provide copies of such records and supporting documentation to Tenant or make such records and supporting documentation relating to the matter in dispute available to Tenant for its inspection at Landlord's business office during normal business hours. If Tenant fails to dispute (in writing, as provided above) the amount of Additional Rent stated in an Actual Statement within 90 days after Tenant's receipt thereof, or if Tenant's inspection and audit fails to disclose a discrepancy in such Actual Statement within 180 days after Tenant's receipt of the Actual Statement in question, then the Actual Statement will be deemed accurate and binding on Tenant and Tenant will be estopped from raising or pursuing any claim or defense to the contrary. If it is determined as a result of Tenant's timely audit of Landlord's records (and Landlord's certified public accountant's concurrence therewith) that Tenant was overcharged relative to the Operating Expenses, such overcharge shall entitle Tenant to a credit against its next payment of Operating Expenses in the amount of the overcharge plus, in the case of an overcharge exceeding 3% of the Operating Expenses, the reasonable third party costs of such audit (and if such credit occurs following the expiration of the Term, Landlord shall promptly pay the amount of such credit to Tenant). If it is determined as a result of Tenant's timely audit of Landlord's records (and Landlord's certified public accountant's concurrence therewith), or otherwise, that Tenant was undercharged relative to the Operating Expenses, Tenant shall, within 10 days after written demand, pay such undercharge to Landlord. Landlord shall be entitled to a copy of any such audit. For avoidance of doubt, Landlord shall not be required to provide or make available to Tenant any of Landlord's records (i) that would result in the disclosure of confidential information pertaining to any other tenant in the Project or (ii) under any circumstances, except as may be required by Laws, unless Tenant exercises its inspection and audit rights pursuant to this Paragraph 8.5. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Paragraph 8.5, Tenant's right to inspect and audit Landlord's records and to otherwise dispute any Actual Statement are subject to the following conditions:

8.5.1 No audit may be conducted during the months of December or April, and Tenant's auditor must make an advance appointment with Landlord's audit supervisor at a mutually acceptable time (which Landlord will use reasonable efforts to schedule within 60 days of Tenant's request).

8.5.2 Before conducting an audit, Tenant must pay the full amount of Tenant's Share of Operating Expenses billed and must not be in default of any other provisions of this Lease.

8.5.3 Tenant may review only those records of Landlord specifically related to the specific Operating Expenses which Tenant has disputed. Tenant may not review any other records or any other leases or agreements, or Landlord's tax returns or financial statements.

8.5.4 In conducting an audit, Tenant must utilize an independent certified public accountant experienced in auditing commercial office property records, subject to Landlord's reasonable prior approval.

8.5.5 Upon receipt thereof, Tenant will deliver to Landlord a copy of the audit report and all accompanying data.

8.5.6 Tenant will keep confidential all agreements involving the rights provided in this Paragraph 8.5 and the results of any audits conducted hereunder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Tenant will be permitted to furnish the foregoing information to its attorneys, accountants, and auditors to the extent necessary to perform their respective services for Tenant.

8.5.7 An audit may be conducted only once with respect to any Actual Statement, even if the audit conducted does not address every Operating Expense set forth in the Actual Statement.

8.5.8 Tenant may not use an auditor under this Paragraph 8.5 who is paid on a contingency basis, or whose pay is based, in whole or in part, on the amount of recovery or any reduction of Tenant's Share of Additional Rent resulting from such audit.

9. Utilities and Services.

9.1 Tenant's Utility Costs. Except as provided below, Tenant shall pay when due all bills for gas, electricity, and other utilities used at the Premises on and after the Rent Commencement Date and through and including the date of expiration of this Lease, to the extent separately metered and assessed charges for utility services servicing the Premises.

9.2 Standard Tenant Services. Subject to the terms and conditions contained herein, Landlord shall provide the following services during the Term.

9.2.1 Subject to limitations imposed by all governmental rules, regulations and guidelines applicable thereto, Landlord shall provide HVAC when necessary for normal comfort for normal office use in the Premises during Building Standard Operating Hours.

9.2.2 Landlord shall provide adequate electrical wiring and facilities sufficient to provide electrical current to the Premises for Project-standard ordinary and customary office uses and excluding electrical power required for electric data processing equipment, computer rooms, special lighting in excess of Building standard lighting, or any other item of electrical equipment which (individually) consumes more than 1.8 kilowatts at rated capacity in which requires a voltage other than 120 volts single phase. In addition to the foregoing, Landlord shall replace lamps, starters, and ballasts for Project-standard lighting fixtures within the Premises upon Tenant's request; the expense of which will be an Operating Expense. Tenant shall replace lamps, starters, and ballasts for non-Project-standard lighting fixtures within the Premises at Tenant's sole expense. Landlord shall also provide electrical service in connection with Common Area needs, such as lighting.

9.2.3 Landlord shall provide city water from the regular Building outlets for drinking, lavatory and toilet purposes in the Building Common Areas.

9.2.4 Landlord shall provide 5 day per week ordinary and customary, basic janitorial services in and about the Premises in a manner consistent with other comparable buildings in the vicinity of the Building. Landlord shall not be required to provide janitorial services to above-Project-standard improvements installed in the Premises including but not limited to metallic trim, wood floor covering, glass panels, interior windows, kitchen/dining areas, executive washrooms, or shower facilities. Any janitorial services required by Tenant and provided by Landlord in excess of such ordinary and customary, basic janitorial services shall be separately paid for by Tenant, as Additional Rent, within 10 days of written demand.

9.2.5 Landlord shall provide nonexclusive, non-attended automatic passenger elevator service during the Building Standard Operating Hours, shall have one elevator available at all other times, including on the Holidays, and shall provide nonexclusive, non-attended automatic passenger escalator service during Building Standard Operating Hours only.

Tenant shall cooperate fully with Landlord at all times and abide by all regulations and requirements that Landlord may reasonably prescribe for the proper functioning and protection of the HVAC, electrical, mechanical, and plumbing systems.

9.3 Over-Standard Tenant Use. Tenant shall not exceed the rated capacity of the Building's electrical and other utility systems, which systems will be consistent in capacity with other first class office buildings built at or about the same time as the Building. In the event of any damage to any of the Project's systems caused by Tenant's use thereof in excess of ordinary and customary usage for a professional office. Tenant shall be responsible for all costs and expenses incurred by Landlord as a result of such over-use. In addition, if Tenant requires any utilities or services described in this Paragraph 9, which are to be provided by Landlord, in excess of the standard levels being provided by Landlord, or during hours other than Building Standard Operating Hours, Landlord shall have the right to impose reasonable restrictions on such usage and/or commercially reasonable charges therefor. The initial charge to Tenant for heating and air conditioning during hours other than Building Standard Operating Hours will be $50.00 per hour (or portion thereof), subject to increase over the Term based on Landlord's actual cost (including depreciation, repair and maintenance and associated costs, but exclusive of any supervisory fees), including the Extension Term, if any. Such charges are Additional Rent relative to the provision of such services and are not an offset to any Operating Expenses.

9.4 Conduit and Wiring. Installation of all types of conduit and wiring exclusively serving the Premises (other than as part of Landlord's Work), including but not limited to Tenant's Work, is subject to the requirements of Paragraph 22, below, Exhibit "C", and the Landlord's reasonable approval of the location, manner of installation, and qualifications of the installing contractor. All such conduit and wiring will, at Landlord's option, become Landlord's property upon the expiration of the Term. Upon expiration of the Term, Landlord may elect to require Tenant to remove such conduit and wiring at Tenant's expense and return the Premises and the Common Areas to substantially their pre-existing condition. If Landlord constructs new or additional utility facilities, including without limitation wiring, plumbing, conduits, and/or mains, resulting from Tenant's changed or increased utility requirements, Tenant shall on demand promptly pay (or advance) to Landlord the cost of such items as Additional Rent.

9.5 Utilities Generally. Tenant agrees that, except as specifically provided below, Landlord will not be liable for damages, by abatement of Rent or otherwise, for failure to furnish or for delay in furnishing any utility or related service (including, without limitation, telephone and telecommunication services) or for diminution in the quality or quantity of any utility or related service. Such failure, delay, or diminution will not constitute an eviction or a disturbance of Tenant's use and possession of the Premises or relieve Tenant from paying Rent or performing any of its obligations under this Lease, except that Tenant will be entitled to an equitable abatement of Rent for the period of such failure, delay, or diminution to the extent such the following are satisfied; (i) failure, delay, or diminution is directly attributable to Landlord's negligent acts or negligent omissions, (ii) such failure, delay or diminution prevents Tenant from using, and Tenant does not use, the Premises or the affected portion thereof for the conduct of Tenant's business operations therein, (iii) Tenant was using the Premises or such affected portion for the conduct of Tenant's business operations immediately prior to the failure, delay or diminution, (iv) such failure, delay, or diminution continues for more than 2 consecutive business days (or 10 business days in any 12-month period) after delivery of written notice of such failure, delay, or diminution from Tenant to Landlord, (v) the restoration of such utility or related service is reasonably within the control of Landlord, and (vi) Tenant's losses arising from such failure, delay, or diminution are not covered by any insurance required to be maintained by Tenant under this Lease or otherwise maintained by Tenant. Landlord and Tenant acknowledge that such abatement of Basic Monthly Rent and Additional Rent constitutes reasonable liquidated damages for any and all of Tenant's monetary loss caused by the interruption of such utility and/or service, given that Tenant's actual damages are extremely difficult or impossible to calculate. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Lease, in no event shall such failure, delay, or diminution in the quality or quantity of any utility or service relieve Tenant of any of its obligations under the Lease, or constitute constructive eviction or entitle Tenant to consequential damages. Landlord will not be liable, under any circumstances, for a loss of or injury to property or for injury to or interference with Tenant's business, including loss of profits through, in connection with, or incidental to a failure to furnish any of the utilities or services under this Paragraph. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Landlord agrees to use reasonable efforts to promptly correct any such interruption of utilities or services (unless such interruption of service was caused by the negligence of Tenant, or anyone acting by, through or under Tenant). Tenant hereby waives the provisions of California Civil Code Section 1932(1) or any other applicable existing or future Laws permitting the termination of this Lease due to the interruption or failure of or inability to provide any services required to be provided by Landlord hereunder. If any governmental authority having jurisdiction over the Project imposes mandatory controls, or suggests voluntary guidelines applicable to the Project, relating to the use or conservation of water, gas, electricity, power, or the reduction of automobile emissions, Landlord, at its sole discretion, may comply with such mandatory controls or voluntary guidelines and, accordingly, require Tenant to so comply. Landlord shall not be liable for damages to persons or property for any such reduction, nor shall such reduction in any way be construed as a partial eviction of Tenant, cause an abatement of Rent, or operate to release Tenant from any of Tenant's obligations under this Lease, except as specifically provided in this Paragraph 9.5. By executing this Lease, Tenant hereby authorizes Landlord to obtain information regarding Tenant's utility and energy usage at the Premises directly from the applicable utility providers or any governmental agency and Tenant shall execute, within 5 days of Landlord's request, any additional documentation required by any applicable utility provider evidencing such authorization. Further, within 5 days of Landlord's request, Tenant shall provide to Landlord all requested information regarding Tenant's utility and energy usage at the Premises, which information may include copies of Tenant's utilities bills.

10. Maintenance.

10.1 Tenant's Duties. Tenant shall at its sole cost maintain, repair, replace, and repaint, all in first class condition, the interior of the Premises, all building systems exclusively serving the Premises and located within the Premises or the walls of the Premises, and any damage to the Premises or the Project resulting from the acts or omissions of Tenant or any of Tenant's Invitees Tenant shall maintain all communications conduit, equipment, and wiring serving the Premises, whether in the Premises or not (and specifically including all of Tenant's Work and all wiring, equipment, and conduit located on the roof of the Building), regardless of the ownership of said conduit or wiring, subject to Landlord's reasonable approval of Tenant's maintenance/repair contractor and manner of maintenance/repair (but excluding those portions of the Premises which are the express responsibility of Landlord pursuant to Paragraph 10.2 below). Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, Tenant shall pay any and all maintenance and recurring costs for supplemental HVAC units exclusively serving the Premises, or any portion thereof, upon presentation of invoice from Landlord. If Tenant fails to maintain, repair, replace, or repaint any portion of the Premises or the Project as provided above then following 10 days' written notice thereof to Tenant, Landlord may, at its election, maintain, repair, replace, or repaint any such portion of the Premises or the Project and Tenant shall promptly reimburse Landlord, as Additional Rent, for Landlord's actual cost thereof, plus a supervisory fee in the amount of 10% of Landlord's actual cost. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if following Tenant's payment (or performance) of its obligations under this Paragraph, Landlord receives payment from an insurer for such work, Tenant will be entitled to receive such proceeds (after Landlord has first been fully reimbursed for its costs and expenses relative thereto including Landlord's costs and expenses in obtaining such proceeds) to the extent Tenant previously paid or incurred third party costs relative thereto.

10.2 Landlord's Duties. Landlord shall, as part of the Operating Expenses, maintain, repair, replace, and repaint, all in good order and condition, consistent with other first-class office buildings in the vicinity of the Building, the Common Areas and all portions of the interior and exterior of the Building and any other buildings in the Project (including, without limitation, all electrical, mechanical, plumbing, fire/life safety, and other building systems), except to the extent of Tenant's obligations as set forth in Paragraph 10.1, above. Landlord's failure to perform its obligations set forth above will not release Tenant of its obligations under this Lease, including without limitation Tenant's obligation to pay Rent. Tenant waives the provisions of California Civil Code Section 1942 (or any successor statute), and any similar principle of Laws with respect to Landlord's obligations for tenantability of the Premises and Tenant's right to make repairs and deduct the expense of such repairs from rent. If Landlord fails to perform any of its repair and maintenance obligations under this Paragraph 10.2 and such failure materially and adversely impairs Tenant's ability to use and occupy the Premises for the Permitted Use, Tenant will have the right, to perform such repairs and/or maintenance to the extent necessary to enable Tenant to resume its use and occupancy of the Premises. Notwithstanding the foregoing, prior to exercising such right, Tenant must, except as provided below in connection with an emergency, have given Landlord at least 30 days' prior written notice of the nature of the problem and Tenant's intention to exercise its rights under this Paragraph if such matter is not resolved within such 30-day period; provided, however, if the nature of the matter giving rise to such repair or maintenance obligation will reasonably require more than 30 days to remedy and Landlord is proceeding with due diligence to remedy such matter, then such 30 day period will be extended for such additional time as may be necessary for Landlord to complete such repairs or maintenance. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, in the case of an emergency which poses an imminent threat of death, injury, or severe damage to persons or property, the required notice from Tenant may be provided orally rather than in writing and for such shorter period of time (i.e., less than 30 days) as Tenant, in the exercise of its reasonable judgment deems appropriate under the exigent circumstances (however, at a minimum, Tenant shall at least contact Landlord telephonically prior to commencing such work so that Landlord may, at its election, make arrangements to handle such emergency itself). If Landlord fails to fulfill its repair and maintenance obligations under this Paragraph, and as a result thereof Tenant exercises the foregoing right to correct such matter, then Landlord shall reimburse Tenant for the reasonable third-party costs incurred by Tenant to complete such repairs and/or maintenance within 30 days after receipt of Tenant's written demand therefor, together with copies of the paid invoices evidencing the costs so incurred. Any such repairs or maintenance performed by Tenant, as permitted herein, must be performed in a good and workmanlike manner by licensed contractors. Under no circumstances may Tenant offset any amount it is owed by Landlord pursuant to this Paragraph (or otherwise) against any Rent obligation under this Lease.

11. Parking.

11.1 General Parking Rights. Subject to the remaining provisions of this Paragraph 11, Landlord grants to Tenant (for the benefit of Tenant and Tenant's Invitees) the right to the non-exclusive use of the unreserved parking area within the boundaries of and serving the Project (the "Parking Area"). Tenant's use of the Parking Area shall be subject to such rules as Landlord may, in its reasonable and non-discriminatory discretion, adopt from time to time with respect to the Parking Area, including without limitation (i) rules providing for the payment of charges or fees by users of the Parking Area, and in such event the charges or fees shall be deemed Additional Rent, (ii) rules limiting tenants of the Project (including, without limitation, Tenant) to the use of, or excluding the use of, certain parking spaces or certain portions of the Parking Area, in order to maintain the availability of accessible parking spaces for clients, guests, and invitees of tenants of the Project, and (iii) rules limiting tenants of the Project (including without limitation Tenant), and their employees, to the use of a restricted number of parking spaces or a restricted area. If Tenant, or any of Tenant's employees, fails to comply with any such rules or requirement (such as, by way of example, parking in areas designated as visitor parking only), then Landlord will have the right to either have such vehicles towed from the Project at Tenant's expense, or to charge Tenant $100.00 per day per car for any cars which are parked in violation of such requirements. Furthermore, Landlord shall have the right to immobilize such improperly parked vehicles by use of a "boot" or other device. The parking privileges granted to Tenant in this Lease are personal to Tenant, and Tenant shall not assign or sublet such parking privileges separate and apart from the other rights of Tenant under this Lease.

11.2 Parking Ratios. As of the Rent Commencement Date (and subject to temporary interruptions in connection with Landlord's continued development of the Project, as provided below), the parking ratio within the Project applicable to Tenant will be four (4) spaces per 1,000 Usable Square Feet ("USF") of space within the Premises. The foregoing (4:1,000 USF) parking ratio includes all spaces within the Project, including covered, uncovered, reserved, unreserved, handicap, and visitor parking spaces. Of the total spaces described above, a maximum of seven (7) of said total spaces may be reserved in the parking garage by Tenant at the rate of $100.00 per space per month, subject to future escalation by Landlord (but in no event by more than 3% over the then-current charges during any consecutive 12 month period). All unreserved parking shall be provided on a free and unassigned basis (i.e., first come, first served).

12. Signs.

12.1 General Signage Conditions. Landlord may at any time change the name of either or both of the Building and/or the Project and install, affix, and maintain all signs on the exterior and interior of the Building and other buildings within the Project as Landlord may, in Landlord's sole discretion, desire. Tenant shall not have or acquire any property right or interest in the name of the Building or the Project. Subject to Tenant's signage rights under Paragraph 12.2. below, Tenant may not place, construct, or maintain any sign, advertisement, awning, banner, or other exterior decoration (collectively, "Sign") inside or outside the Premises which is visible from the exterior of the Premises, or on the Building or any other portion of the Project, without Landlord's prior written consent. Any sign that Tenant is permitted by Landlord to place, construct, or maintain in the Premises or on the Building or the Project (including pursuant to Paragraph 12.2. below) must comply with Landlord's sign criteria applicable to the Project, including, without limitation, criteria relating to size, color, shape, graphics, and location (collectively, the "Sign Criteria"), and shall comply with all applicable Laws, ordinances, CC&R's (or similar recorded instruments), rules, or regulations, and Tenant shall obtain any approvals required by such Laws, ordinances, CC&R's (or similar recorded instruments), rules, and regulations. Landlord makes no representation or warranty with respect to Tenant's ability to obtain any such approval. Tenant shall, at Tenant's sole cost and expense, make any changes to any sign, whether in the Premises or on the Building, as required by any new or revised applicable Laws, ordinances, rules, or regulations or any changes in the Project Sign Criteria. Tenant shall, additionally, maintain, repair, and replace all of Tenant's signs (including, specifically, those installed pursuant to Paragraph 12.2. below) in first class condition. Nothing contained in this Paragraph 12 limits Landlord's right to grant signage rights to other tenants of the Building, or to affect the signage rights of any tenant of the Building.

12.2 Tenant's Individual Signage Rights. Subject to compliance with the requirements of Paragraph 12.1, above, Tenant is hereby granted the following signage rights in/on the Building and at the Project.

12.2.1 Directory/Suite Signage. The Building will be provided, at Landlord's expense, with both a Project-standard lobby directory sign and suite signage. Tenant shall be entitled to be listed on such signs, subject to prior approval of the Tenant's graphics by Landlord, if applicable.

13. Rules, Regulations, and Covenants. Tenant shall faithfully observe and strictly comply with (and shall cause Tenant's Invitees to observe and comply with) any rules and regulations which Landlord may from time to time adopt for the Project (a copy of such rules and regulations shall be provided to Tenant), as well as any recorded easement agreements, maintenance agreements, CC&R's or like instruments affecting the Building and/or the Project, whether now existing or hereafter adopted or amended from time to time (all of the foregoing, collectively, "Rules"), provided such Rules and regulations do not materially increase Tenant's obligations or materially decrease Tenant's rights hereunder. Landlord has no duty or obligation to enforce any Rule against any other tenant, and Landlord will not be liable to Tenant for violation of any Rule by any other tenant, or any other tenant's agents, employees, officers, independent contractors, customers, invitees, visitors, guests or licensees. Tenant acknowledges that Landlord reserves the right, from time to time, to enter into leases or other agreements by which Landlord agrees to restrict the use of all or any portion of the Project (including the Premises) from certain uses. All such leases and other agreements, whether now existing or entered into in the future, shall be binding upon Tenant and in no event shall Tenant utilize the Premises for any use so prohibited; provided, however, no such restriction may prevent Tenant from using the Premises for the Permitted Use.

14. Early Access/Insurance. If prior to the Rent Commencement Date Tenant desires to make any Alterations (as defined in Paragraph 22 below) to the Premises (as approved by Landlord in the attached Exhibit "C"), perform any of the Tenant's Work, or install any of Tenant's personal property, then in addition to complying with the provisions of attached Exhibit "C", (i) Tenant shall, at Tenant's sole cost and expense, prior to first entering onto the Project, obtain and thereafter at all times maintain (a) "Builder's Risk" or "Course of Construction" insurance with respect to any actual construction work, and (b) all of the insurance required to be maintained by Tenant during the Term, and (ii) the Term, and all obligations of Tenant under the provisions of this Lease other than those relating to the obligation to pay Rent, shall be operative. Without limiting the foregoing, any work pursuant to this Paragraph shall be subject to all of the provisions of Paragraph 22, below. Nothing in this Paragraph shall be construed as granting permission to Tenant to enter the Premises, or to make any Alterations, prior to the Lease Commencement Date and no such right shall exist unless specified in Exhibit "C" or approved in writing by Landlord in its sole discretion.

15. Tenant's Liability Insurance. Tenant shall maintain, at Tenant's sole cost and expense, Commercial General Liability Insurance covering the insured against (i) any and all Claims (as defined below) of bodily injury, personal injury and property damage (including loss of use thereof) arising out of or connection with Tenant's use, occupancy and operations within the Premises and Building, and (ii) all contractual liabilities under this Lease, including, without limitation, indemnity provisions contained herein, for limits of liability of $3,000,000 per occurrence and $4,000,000 annual aggregate with such aggregate limit shall apply separately to each location and may be met with primary and excess liability policy.

16. Tenant's Property Damage Insurance. Tenant shall maintain, at Tenant's sole cost and expense, Physical Damage Insurance covering (i) all office furniture, business and trade fixtures, office equipment, free-standing cabinet work, movable partitions, merchandise and all other items of Tenant's property on the Premises installed by, for, or at the expense of Tenant, (ii) all Tenant improvements (installed and/or constructed per Exhibit "C" attached hereto), and any other improvements which exist in the Premises as of the Commencement Date (excluding the base building structure and building systems), and (iii) all other improvements, Alterations, Personal Property and additions to the Premises. Such insurance shall be written on an "all risks" of physical loss or damage basis, for the full replacement cost value, new without deduction for depreciation of the covered items and shall include coverage for damage or other loss caused by fire or other peril including, but not limited to, earthquake, flood, terrorism, vandalism and malicious mischief, theft, water damage of any type, including sprinkler leakage, bursting or stoppage of pipes, coverage with respect to increased costs due to building ordinances, demolition coverage, boiler and machinery insurance and explosion. Such “full replacement cost value” shall be determined by the insurance company issuing such policy at the time the policy is initially obtained. Not more frequently than once every two years, either Landlord or Tenant may, at its election, notify the other that it elects to have the replacement cost value redetermined by an insurance company. Such redetermination shall be made promptly and in accordance with the rules and practices of the Board of Fire Underwriters, or a like board recognized and generally accepted by the insurance company, and Landlord and Tenant shall be promptly notified of the results by the company. Such policy shall be promptly adjusted according to such redetermination.

17. Tenant's Additional Insurance. In addition to the foregoing coverages, Tenant shall maintain, at Tenant's sole cost and expense:

17.1 Workers' compensation insurance in an amount not less than the statutory limits in the state in which the Project is located;

17.2 Employer's Liability with limits of at least $1,000,000 bodily injury by disease – policy limit, $1,000,000 bodily injury by disease – each employee and $1,000,000 bodily injury by accident – each accident for the protection of its employees or other similar insurance pursuant to all applicable Laws;

17.3 Business Interruption Insurance in amounts sufficient to reimburse Tenant (over a 12 month period) for direct or indirect loss of earnings attributable to all perils commonly insured against by prudent tenants or attributable to prevention of access to the Premises or to the Project as a result of such perils, including, without limitation, reimbursement for payment of rental and all other monetary obligations required herein and having a deductible of no greater than 2 consecutive business days of such amounts in the aggregate;

17.4 Automobile Liability with a combined single limit of $3,000,000 per occurrence covering the operation, ownership, maintenance, and use of owned (if any), non-owned, and hired automobiles, bodily injury and property damage, as aforesaid; and 17.5 In the event Tenant distributes, sells and/or manufactures liquor or alcoholic beverages on the Premises, Tenant shall maintain liquor liability coverage with minimum coverage limits of $3,000,000 per occurrence and $3,000,000 annual aggregate, (which limits may be met by combining primary and excess liability policies limits) and also maintain the coverages and coverage limits set forth in Paragraph 15. Notwithstanding anything in this Lease to the contrary, if Tenant serves, sells or maintains liquor or alcoholic beverages on Premises, Tenant, at a minimum, shall maintain dram shop coverage (or its equivalent) with limits of $2,000,000 in accordance with Paragraph 15. Coverage shall be on a per occurrence form. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in no event shall Tenant be permitted to distribute, sell or manufacture liquor on the Premises without Landlord's prior written consent, which may be withheld by Landlord in its sole and absolute discretion.

18. Form of Tenant's Insurance Policies. The minimum limits of policies of insurance required of Tenant under this Lease shall in no event limit the liability of Tenant under this Lease. Such insurance (i) shall name Landlord, American Assets Trust, Inc. and American Assets Trust, L.P. and any other party with an insurable interest in the Project which the Landlord so specifies by written notice to Tenant, as an additional insured, including Landlord's managing agent, American Assets Trust Management, LLC, as such agent may be changed from time to time; (ii) shall cover the liability assumed by Tenant under the indemnification provisions of this Lease; (iii) shall consist of “occurrence” based coverage, without provision for subsequent conversion to “claims” based coverage; (iv) shall be issued by an insurance company having a rating of not less than A XV in Best's Insurance Guide or which is otherwise acceptable to Landlord and authorized to do business in the state in which the Project is located; (v) shall be primary insurance and non-contributing with respect to all Claims thereunder and any policies carried by Landlord and that any coverage carried by Landlord shall be excess insurance; (vi) be in form and content reasonably acceptable to Landlord; and (vii) shall provide that said insurance shall not be canceled or modified in coverage unless 30 days' prior notice shall have been given to Landlord, and (viii) shall not provide for a deductible or co-insurance provision in excess of $10,000. Tenant shall deliver said policy or policies or certificates and applicable endorsements thereof or reasonable evidence that such insurance is in place to Landlord on or before the Commencement Date. In the event Tenant shall fail to procure such insurance, or to deliver such policies or certificate and applicable endorsements, Landlord may, at its option upon 5 business days' notice to Tenant, procure such policies for the account of Tenant unless Tenant provides same within such 5 day period, and the cost thereof shall be paid to Landlord within 5 days after delivery to Tenant of bills therefor. Tenant shall, at least 30 days prior to the expiration of each such policy, furnish Landlord with a renewal certificate and applicable endorsement of or “binder” extending such policy.

18.1 Tenant shall deliver all certificates, endorsements and policies required to be delivered to Landlord under this Lease by emailing them to aatinsurance@americanassets.com (as such email address may be changed upon written notice from Landlord to Tenant).

19. Waiver of Subrogation. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth in this Lease, Landlord and Tenant release each other, Tenant's Invitees, Landlord's guests, invitees, customers and licensees (collectively, "Landlord's Invitees") and Landlord's agents, affiliates, officers, directors and employees from all claims for damage, loss, or injury to the Project, to Tenant's Personal Property, and to the fixtures and Alterations of either Landlord or Tenant in or on the Project to the extent such damage, loss or injury is covered by any insurance policies carried by Landlord and Tenant and in force at the time of such damage, or which would have been covered by insurance policies required by this Lease to be carried by Tenant, but which Tenant failed to carry. Subject to the remaining provisions of this Paragraph, Landlord and Tenant shall each cause all insurance policies obtained by it pursuant to this Lease to provide that the insurance company waives all right of recovery by way of subrogation against Landlord, American Assets Trust, Inc., American Assets Trust, L.P., American Assets Trust Management, LLC, and Landlord's agents, employees and representatives and Tenant in connection with any damage, loss, or injury covered by such policy. If any such policy cannot be obtained with a waiver of subrogation, or is obtainable only by the payment of an additional premium charge above that charged by insurance companies issuing policies without waiver of subrogation endorsements, the party undertaking to obtain such policy (the "Undertaking Party") shall so notify the other party (the "Notified Party"). The Notified Party shall, within 10 days after delivery of such notice, either obtain such policy from a company that is reasonably satisfactory to the Undertaking Party and that will issue such policy with a waiver of subrogation endorsement, or agree to pay the additional premium if such policy is obtainable at additional cost. If such policy cannot be obtained with a waiver of subrogation endorsement or the Notified Party refuses to pay such additional premium, then the Undertaking Party shall not be required to obtain a waiver of subrogation endorsement with respect to such policy. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any claim to which the foregoing release by Landlord and waiver of subrogation provision would apply is for an amount which is less than Landlord's applicable deductible, and Landlord elects not to submit such claim to its insurer, then the provisions of the foregoing release by Landlord shall not be applicable.

20. Landlord's Insurance. Landlord may, at its election, maintain any of the following insurance, and any other insurance deemed appropriate or necessary, in Landlord's sole discretion, in such amounts and with such limits as Landlord shall determine in its reasonable discretion: (i) public liability and property damage insurance, and products liability insurance; (ii) fire and extended coverage and special form insurance, coverage with respect to increased costs due to building ordinances, demolition coverage, and sprinkler leakage coverage; (iii) boiler and machinery insurance; (iv) fidelity insurance; (v) plate-glass insurance; (vi) earthquake insurance; (vii) terrorism insurance, (viii) flood insurance; (ix) rental interruption and/or business interruption insurance; and (x) pollution legal liability insurance. The premiums, costs, expenses, and deductibles (or similar costs or charges) of and/or with respect to any such insurance (all of the preceding, collectively, "Insurance Expenses") shall be included in Operating Expenses. Any such coverage may be part of an umbrella or blanket policy, whereupon the premiums, costs, and expenses hereof will be reasonably apportioned between the Building and the other properties so included under such policy(ies). Landlord reserves the right to self-insure against any loss, damage, liability or risk related to the Project rather than maintain traditional insurance policies, in which event Landlord shall have right to include within Insurance Expenses an amount equal to what Insurance Expenses reasonably would have been had Landlord maintained traditional insurance policies.

21. Personal Property Taxes. Tenant shall pay before delinquency all taxes, assessments, license fees, and other charges that are levied or assessed against, or based upon the value of, Tenant's personal property installed or located in or on the Premises including without limitation trade fixtures, furnishings, equipment, Alterations, and inventory (collectively, "Tenant's Personal Property"). On written demand by Landlord, Tenant shall furnish Landlord with satisfactory evidence of such payments. If any such taxes, assessments, license fees, and/or other charges are levied against Landlord or Landlord's property, or if the assessed value of the Premises is increased by the inclusion of a value placed on Tenant's Personal Property, and if Landlord pays such taxes, assessments, license fees, and/or other charges or any taxes based on the increased assessments caused by Tenant's Personal Property, then Tenant, on demand, shall immediately reimburse Landlord, as Additional Rent, for the sum of such taxes, assessments, license fees, and/or other charges so levied against Landlord, or the proportion of taxes resulting from such increase in Landlord's assessment. Landlord may, at its election, pay such taxes, assessments, license fees, and/or other charges or such proportion, and receive such reimbursement, regardless of the validity of the levy.

22. Alterations. Tenant shall not make any alterations, improvements, additions, installations, or changes of any nature in or to the Premises (any of the preceding, "Alterations") unless Tenant first obtains Landlord's written consent to such Alteration and otherwise complies with the provisions of this Paragraph 22; provided, however, that no such consent will be required in connection with any Minor Alterations (as defined below).

22.1 Request for Consent. At least 15 days prior to making any Alterations, Tenant shall submit to Landlord, in written form, proposed detailed plans of such Alterations, which plans must (i) in the case of a Minor Alterations, be in sufficient detail to, among other things, provide Landlord with reasonable evidence that such Alterations are of a nature that Landlord's consent is not required, and (ii) in the case of any other Alterations, in sufficient detail to allow Landlord and its consultants to fully evaluate the proposed Alterations and their affect upon the Premises and the Project. Landlord will not unreasonably withhold, condition, or delay its consent to any Alterations for which consent is required; provided, however that in the case of exterior Alterations or Alterations which will be visible from outside the Premises or which will affect any structural components of the Project, Landlord shall have the right to grant or withhold its consent in the exercise of its sole discretion. In addition to the foregoing requirements, if the proposed Alteration requires approval by or notice to the lessor of a ground or underlying lease or the holder of a deed of trust encumbering the Project, no Alteration shall be commenced until such approval has been received, or such notice has been given, as the case may be, and all applicable conditions and provisions of said superior lease or deed of trust with respect to the proposed Alterations have been met or complied with at Tenant's sole cost and expense; and Landlord, if it approves the Alteration, will request such approval or give such notice expeditiously, as the case may be, and thereafter take reasonable diligent measures to obtain such approval.

22.2 Minor Alterations. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, minor, interior cosmetic Alterations such as painting, wall papering, carpeting or hanging pictures or moving furniture and temporary partitions or cubicles (the aggregate cost of which will not exceed $10,000, and which Alterations will not be visible from outside the Premises or affect any structural components of the Project) will not require Landlord's prior consent so long as (i) Tenant notifies Landlord in accordance with Paragraph 22.1(i) and (ii) Tenant complies with all reasonable conditions which may be imposed by Landlord including, but not limited to, the requirements of Paragraph 22.3 below, Landlord's selection of specific contractors or construction techniques and the requirements of the attached Exhibit "C". Any Alterations meeting the foregoing requirements to avoid the necessity of obtaining Landlord's consent are referred to herein as a "Minor Alterations".

22.3 Additional Requirements. Tenant shall, prior to the commencement of any Alterations, and at Tenant's sole cost and expense, (i) acquire (and deliver to Landlord a copy of) any required permit from the appropriate governmental agencies to make such Alterations (any conditions of which permit Tenant shall comply with, at Tenant's sole cost and expense, in a prompt and expeditious manner), (ii) provide Landlord with 10 business days' prior written notice of the date the installation of the such Alterations is to commence, so that Landlord can post and record an appropriate notice of non-responsibility, (iii) pay Landlord the reasonable costs and expenses of Landlord for architectural, engineering, or other consultants which reasonably may be incurred by Landlord in determining whether to approve any such Alterations (excluding Minor Alterations), and (iv) if applicable, obtain (and deliver to Landlord proof of) reasonably adequate additional workers compensation insurance with respect to any of Tenant's employees installing or involved with such Alterations (which insurance Tenant shall maintain on an occurrence basis in force until completion of the Alterations). In addition, Tenant shall comply with all reasonable conditions which may be imposed by Landlord relative to such Alterations including, but not limited to, (v) Landlord's selection of specific contractors or construction techniques and (2) the requirements of the attached Exhibit "C" applicable to Tenant's Work. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Paragraph 22.3, in no event shall Tenant remove any ceiling tiles or ceiling gridwork or lighting without Landlord's prior written consent, and any such consent may be conditioned upon requiring Tenant to post a deposit to cover the cost of restoring the Premises to their prior condition upon termination of the Term and to secure Tenant's obligation to so restore the Premises.

22.4 Ownership of Alterations. All Alterations shall, upon the Expiration Date of this Lease, become the property of Landlord and shall remain on and be surrendered with the Premises on the Expiration Date; provided, however that Landlord may, at its election, require Tenant to remove any or all of the Alterations, provided that Landlord notifies Tenant in writing prior to commencement of the Alterations. If Landlord so elects that the Alterations be removed, Tenant shall, at its sole cost and expense, on or before the Expiration Date, repair and restore the Premises to the condition of the Premises prior to the installation of the Alterations which are to be removed. Tenant shall be solely responsible for and shall pay all costs and expenses for Alterations and other construction done or caused to be done by Tenant and Tenant shall keep the Premises free and clear of all mechanics' and materialmen's liens resulting from or relating to any Alterations or other construction. Tenant may, at its election, contest the correctness or validity of any such lien provided that (a) within 20 days after written demand by Landlord, Tenant procures and records a lien release bond, issued by a corporation satisfactory to Landlord and authorized to issue surety bonds in California, in an amount equal to 125% of the amount of the claim of lien, which bond meets the requirements of California Civil Code Section 8424 or any successor statute, and (b) Landlord may, at its election, require Tenant to pay Landlord's attorneys' fees, costs and expenses incurred in participating in such an action.

22.5 Control over Tenant's Wi-Fi Use.

(a) Wi-Fi. Tenant shall have the right to install, at its sole cost and expense, a wireless intranet, Internet, and communications network (also known as "Wi-Fi") utilizing IEEE 802.XX protocols within the Premises for the use of Tenant and its employees (the "Network") subject to the provisions of this Paragraph 22.5 and the other provisions of Paragraph 22. All telecommunications service providers shall be subject to Landlord's prior written approval which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed.

(b) No solicitation. Tenant shall not solicit, suffer, or permit other tenants or occupants of the Building to use the Network or any other communications service, including, without limitation, any wired or wireless Internet service that passes through, is transmitted through, or emanates from the Premises.

(c) Interference. Tenant agrees that the Network, Tenant's communications equipment and the communications equipment of Tenant's service providers located in or about the Premises or installed in the Building to service the Premises including, without limitation, any antennas, switches, or other equipment (collectively, "Tenant's Communications Equipment") shall be of a type and, if applicable, a frequency that will not cause radio frequency, electromagnetic, or other interference to any other party or any equipment of any other party including, without limitation, Landlord, other tenants, or occupants of the Building. Landlord reserves the right to cause Tenant to operate on a channel or frequency band that Landlord selects, in its sole discretion. In the event that Tenant's Communications Equipment causes or is believed by Landlord to cause any such interference, upon receipt of notice from Landlord of such interference, Tenant will promptly take all steps necessary to correct and eliminate the interference. If the interference is not eliminated within 24 hours (or a shorter period if Landlord believes a shorter period to be appropriate) then, upon notice from Landlord, Tenant shall use other channels or frequencies as determined solely by Landlord, or, at Landlord's election, shut down the Tenant's Communications Equipment pending resolution of the interference (with the exception of intermittent testing upon prior notice to, and with the prior approval of, Landlord). Landlord shall have no obligation or liability with respect to any interruption, curtailment or discontinuance of telecommunications services.

(d) Maintenance. Tenant shall maintain Tenant's Telecommunications Equipment in good order and repair at its sole cost and expense.

(e) Acknowledgment. Tenant acknowledges that Landlord has granted and/or may grant lease rights, licenses, and other rights to other tenants and/or occupants of the Building and to telecommunications service providers.

23. Surrender of Premises and Holding Over.

23.1 Surrender. On the Expiration Date or earlier termination of the Term, Tenant shall surrender to Landlord the Premises and all Alterations (except for Alterations that Tenant is obligated to remove as expressly set forth in Paragraph 22.4 above) in substantially their pre-existing condition as received, less any normal wear and tear, free of trash and debris including cleaning of all flooring; all walls shall be patched and painted; all signage installed by Tenant on any portion of the Buildings or Project shall be removed and the surfaces repaired, including restoration of the signage mounting surfaces to their pre-existing condition; all sign circuits, electrical circuits, and lighting fixtures shall be in good operating condition; all roof penetrations arising from Tenant's occupancy of the Premises shall be in a watertight condition; and all doors, windows, locks, and hardware shall be in operable condition upon the termination of this Lease. Tenant shall additionally, as of the Expiration Date, remove all of Tenant's Personal Property and all electric, data and voice cabling installed in the Premises, or behind or above any ceiling or wall in, on, or about the Premises and perform all repairs and restoration required by the removal of any such cabling, Alterations or Tenant's Personal Property, as applicable, and Tenant shall surrender to Landlord all keys to the Premises (including without limitation any keys to any exterior or interior doors). Landlord may elect to retain or dispose of in any manner any Alterations or Tenant's Personal Property that Tenant does not remove from the Premises on or before the Expiration Date or earlier termination date of the Term of this Lease by giving written notice to Tenant. Any such Alterations or Tenant's Personal Property that Landlord elects to retain or dispose of shall immediately upon notice to Tenant vest in Landlord. Tenant waives all claims against Landlord for any damage to Tenant resulting from Landlord's retention or disposition of any such Alterations or Tenant's Personal Property. Tenant will be liable to Landlord for Landlord's costs for storing, removing (including related restoration work), or disposing of any such Alterations or Tenant's Personal Property. If Tenant fails to surrender the Premises to Landlord on the Expiration Date (or earlier termination of the Term) in the condition required by this Paragraph 23.1, Tenant shall indemnify, defend, and hold harmless the Landlord from and against all liabilities, damages, losses, costs, expenses, attorneys' fees and costs, and claims resulting from such failure, including without limitation any claim for damages made by a succeeding tenant.

23.2 Holding Over. If Tenant, with Landlord's consent, remains in possession of the Premises after the Expiration Date, such possession by Tenant shall be deemed to be a month-to-month tenancy terminable on 30-days' written notice given at any time by Landlord or Tenant. During any such month-to-month tenancy, or any other holdover tenancy which is without Landlord's consent, Tenant shall pay, as Basic Monthly Rent, 150% of the Basic Monthly Rent and 150% of the Additional Rent in effect immediately prior to the Expiration Date; which rental amount Tenant acknowledges is fair and reasonable under all of the facts and circumstances existing as of the date of this Lease. All provisions of this Lease except for those pertaining to Term shall apply to any such tenancy. If Tenant holds over after the Expiration Date without the express written consent of Landlord, Tenant shall become a tenant at sufferance only, at a rental rate equal to 150% of the Basic Monthly Rent and 150% of the Additional Rent in effect immediately prior to expiration of the Term (prorated on a daily basis), and otherwise subject to the terms, provisions, and conditions herein specified, so far as applicable. Acceptance by Landlord of rent after such expiration or earlier termination shall not constitute consent to a holdover tenancy hereunder or result in a renewal. The foregoing provisions this Paragraph 23.2 are in addition to, and do not affect, Landlord's right of re-entry or any rights of Landlord hereunder or as otherwise provided by Laws. Landlord expressly reserves the right to require Tenant to surrender possession of the Premises to Landlord as provided in this Lease upon expiration or other termination of this Lease. The provisions of this Paragraph 23.2 shall not be considered to limit or constitute a waiver of any other rights or remedies of Landlord provided in this Lease or at Laws or equity. In addition to the foregoing, if Tenant fails to surrender the Premises to Landlord on the Expiration Date in the condition required by Paragraph 23.1, above, Tenant shall indemnify, defend, and hold harmless Landlord from and against all actions, demands, liabilities, damages, losses, costs, expenses, attorneys' fees and costs, and claims resulting from such failure, including, without limitation, any claim for damages made by a succeeding tenant.

24. Default. The occurrence of any of the following shall constitute a material default and breach of this Lease by Tenant (each, an "Event of Default"):

24.1 The abandonment (as defined in the California Civil Code 1951.3) of the Premises by Tenant.

24.2 Tenant's failure to make any payment of Rent (including late charges) as and when due, and such failure is not cured within 3 business days after delivery of written notice from Landlord specifying such failure to pay.

24.3 Tenant's failure to timely deliver an estoppel certificate to Landlord in accordance with the provisions of Paragraph 41, below, or to timely deliver a subordination, non-disturbance, and attornment agreement in accordance with the provisions of Paragraph 40, below, in each case after notice of such failure is provided by Landlord and 5 business days are provided in which to cure.

24.4 Intentionally Removed.

24.5 Tenant is in default beyond any notice and cure period under any other lease or agreement with Landlord at the Building or Project.

24.6 Tenant's failure to observe or perform any of the provisions of this Lease to be observed or performed by Tenant, other than described in the preceding six paragraphs, where such failure shall continue for a period of 10 business days after written notice of such failure from Landlord to Tenant (or such lesser or greater cure period as explicitly set forth in the Lease); provided, however, that any such notice shall be in lieu of, and not in addition to, any notice required under applicable unlawful detainer statutes; and provided further, that if the nature of Tenant's default is such that more than 10 business days are reasonably required for its cure, then Tenant shall not be deemed to be in default if Tenant commenced such cure within such 10 business day period and thereafter diligently prosecutes such cure to completion within 60 days after Landlord's written notice. Such written notice will be deemed to satisfy the statutory notice requirements of applicable unlawful detainer statutes and will be in lieu thereof (and not in addition thereto). Tenant acknowledges that Landlord only agreed to the inclusion of such notice requirement on the condition that such notice would constitute the legally required notice following a default and Tenant waives any claim, counterclaim, or defense to any action relating to an unlawful detainer on the basis that such notice, was insufficient to meet such statutory notice requirement or was in any other manner defective, and Tenant agrees that it will be estopped from raising any such argument in any action by Landlord.

24.7 The making by Tenant of any general arrangement or assignment for the benefit of creditors; Tenant's becoming bankrupt, insolvent or a "debtor" as defined in 11 U.S.C. Section 101, or any successor statute (unless, in the case of a petition filed against Tenant, such petition is dismissed within 60 days after its original filing); the institution of proceedings under the bankruptcy or similar Laws in which Tenant is the debtor or bankrupt; the appointing of a trustee or receiver to take possession of substantially all of Tenant's assets located at the Premises or of Tenant's interest in this Lease (unless possession is restored to Tenant within 60 days after such taking); the attachment, execution, or judicial seizure of substantially all of Tenant's assets located at the Premises or Tenant's interest in this Lease (unless such attachment, execution, or judicial seizure is discharged within 60 days after such attachment, execution, or judicial seizure); or, if Tenant is a partnership or consists of more than one person or entity, any partners of the partnership or any such other person or entity becoming bankrupt or insolvent or making a general arrangement or assignment for the benefit of creditors.

25. Landlord's Remedies. Landlord shall have the following remedies if Tenant commits an Event of Default under this Lease. These remedies are not exclusive, but are cumulative and in addition to any remedies provided elsewhere in this Lease or now or later allowed by Laws.

25.1 Continuation of Lease. No act by Landlord shall terminate Tenant's right to possession unless Landlord notifies Tenant in writing that Landlord elects to terminate Tenant's right to possession. As long as Landlord does not terminate Tenant's right to possession, Landlord may (i) continue this Lease in effect, (ii) continue to collect Rent when due and enforce all the other provisions of this Lease, and (iii) enter the Premises and relet them, or any part of them, to third parties for Tenant's account, for a period shorter or longer than the remaining Term of this Lease. Tenant shall immediately pay to Landlord all costs Landlord incurs in such reletting, including, without limitation, brokers' commissions, attorneys' fees, advertising costs, and expenses of remodeling the Premises for such reletting. The parties agree that Landlord is to have the remedy described in California Civil Code Section 1951.4 (which effectively provides that a lessor may continue a lease in effect after the lessee's breach and recover rent as it becomes due), and the Tenant hereby acknowledges that this Lease meets the requirements of such statutory provision and that Tenant's rights to sublet or assign hereunder are subject only to reasonable limitations.

25.2 Rent from Reletting. If Landlord elects to relet all or any portion of the Premises as permitted above, rent that Landlord receives from such reletting shall be applied to the payment of, in the following order and priority, (i) any indebtedness from Tenant to Landlord other than Rent due from Tenant, (ii) all costs incurred by Landlord in such reletting, and (iii) Rent due and unpaid under this Lease. After applying such payments as referred to above, any sum remaining from the rent Landlord receives from such reletting shall be held by Landlord and applied in payment of future Rent as it becomes due under this Lease. In no event shall Tenant be entitled to any excess rent received by Landlord unless and until all obligations of Tenant under this Lease, including all future obligations, are satisfied in full.

25.3 Termination of Tenant's Right to Possession. Landlord may terminate Tenant's right to possession of the Premises at any time, by notifying Tenant in writing that Landlord elects to terminate Tenant's right to possession. Such written notice will result in the immediate termination of this Lease upon the date such right of possession is terminated. Upon termination of this Lease, Landlord has the right to recover from Tenant (i) the worth at the time of the award of the unpaid Rent which had been earned at the time of such termination, (ii) the worth at the time of the award of the amount by which the unpaid Rent which would have been earned after such termination until the time of award exceeds the amount of such loss of Rent that Tenant proves could have been reasonably avoided, (iii) the worth at the time of the award of the amount by which the unpaid Rent for the balance of the Term after the time of award (had there been no such termination) exceeds the amount of such loss of Rent that Tenant proves could be reasonably avoided, and (iv) any other amount necessary to compensate Landlord for all detriment proximately caused by Tenant's failure to perform Tenant's obligations under this Lease or in the ordinary course of things would be likely to result therefrom, and (v) the unamortized cost of broker commissions paid for this Lease, the unamortized cost of any improvements to the Premises installed by or paid for by Landlord, and full reimbursement for any free or abated rent occupancy periods granted to Tenant. The "worth at the time of the award" of the amounts referred to in clauses (i) and (ii) above is to be computed by allowing interest at the Default Rate. The "worth at the time of the award" of the amount referred to in clause (iii) above is to be computed by discounting such amount at the discount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco at the time of award plus 1%. If Landlord takes possession of the Premises pursuant to the authority herein granted, then Landlord shall have the right to keep in place and use all of the furniture, fixtures and equipment at the Premises, including that which is owned by or leased to Tenant at all times prior to any foreclosure thereon by Landlord or repossession thereof by any lessor thereof or third party having a lien thereon. Landlord shall also have the right to remove from the Premises (without the necessity of obtaining a distress warrant, writ of sequestration or other legal process and without being liable for prosecution or any claim for damages therefor) all or any portion of such furniture, fixtures, equipment and other property located thereon and place the same in storage at any place within the county in which the Premises is located or dispose of the same; and in such event, Tenant shall be liable to Landlord for costs incurred by Landlord in connection with such removal, storage, and/or disposal and shall indemnify and hold Landlord harmless from all loss, damage, cost, expense, and liability in connection with such removal, storage and/or disposal. Landlord shall also have the right to relinquish possession of all or any portion of such furniture, fixtures, equipment, and other property to any person ("Claimant") claiming to be entitled to possession thereof who presents to Landlord a copy of any instrument purporting to have been executed by Tenant (or any predecessor of Tenant) granting Claimant the right under various circumstances to take possession of such furniture, fixtures, equipment or other property, without the necessity on the part of Landlord to inquire into the authenticity of said instrument and without the necessity of Landlord's making any investigation or inquiry as to the validity of the factual or legal basis upon which Claimant purports to act; and Tenant agrees to indemnify, defend and hold Landlord Parties harmless from all cost, expense, loss, damage, and liability incident to Landlord's relinquishment of possession of all or any portion of such furniture, fixtures, equipment, or other property to Claimant. Should Tenant abandon the Premises and leave property therein, Landlord may elect whether or not to accept the property, liquidate said property and apply the proceeds against any sums due and owing by Tenant, or to dispose of said property, and Tenant waives any claim to such property after any such abandonment. For purposes of the foregoing, Tenant shall be deemed to have abandoned its interest in such property if the same is not removed from the Premises by Tenant within 10 days after Landlord's proper demand that Tenant remove same, or within 10 days after expiration or earlier termination of this Lease, whichever first occurs. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Landlord shall also be entitled to exercise its rights pursuant to California Civil Code Section 1980 et. seq. with respect to the disposition of Tenant's personal property. The provisions of this Paragraph 25.3 shall additionally apply at the time of Tenant's surrender of the Premises pursuant to Paragraph 20.1. The provisions hereof shall survive the termination of this Lease.

25.4 Landlord's Right to Cure Default. Landlord, at any time after Tenant commits an Event of Default, may cure such Event of Default at Tenant's sole cost. If Landlord at any time, by reason of Tenant's default or breach, pays any sum or does any act that requires the payment of any sum, such sum shall be due immediately from Tenant to Landlord at the time such sum is paid, along with a supervisory fee in the amount of 10% of such amount so expended by Landlord, and shall be deemed Additional Rent under this Lease. If Tenant fails to timely pay any amount due under this Paragraph within 10 business days of receipt of Landlord's invoice for such costs, then (without curing such default) interest at the Default Rate shall accrue (and be immediately payable) on such overdue amount until it is paid.

25.5 Enforcement Costs. All costs and expenses incurred by Landlord in connection with collecting any amounts and damages owing by Tenant pursuant to the provisions of this Lease, or to enforce any provision of this Lease, including reasonable attorneys' fees, whether or not any action is commenced by Landlord, shall be paid by Tenant to Landlord upon demand. If Tenant fails to timely pay any amount due under this Paragraph, then (without curing such default) interest at the Default Rate shall accrue (and be immediately payable) on such overdue amounts until it is paid.

25.6 Independent Covenants. If Landlord shall commence any proceeding for nonpayment of Rent, or any other payment of any other kind to which Landlord may be entitled, or which it may claim hereunder, Tenant will not interpose any counterclaim or setoff of whatever nature or description, (other than compulsory counterclaim) in such proceedings. The parties hereto specifically agree that Tenant's covenants to pay Rent or any other payments required of it hereunder are independent of all other covenants and agreements herein contained and, as such, among other things, Tenant shall have no offset rights against the Rent payable hereunder by Tenant to Landlord. The foregoing shall not be construed as a waiver of Tenant's right to assert any such claim in a separate action brought by Tenant against Landlord nor a waiver of any compulsory counterclaim under applicable Laws.

26. Interest and Late Charges. Late payment by Tenant to Landlord of Rent or other charges will cause Landlord to incur costs not contemplated by this Lease, the exact amount of which would be impracticable or extremely difficult to fix. Such costs include, without limitation, processing, collection and accounting charges, and late charges that may be imposed on Landlord by the terms of any deed of trust covering the Premises. Therefore, if any Rent or other charge (in the form of good funds) is not received by Landlord within 10 days of its due date, then, without any requirement for notice to Tenant, Tenant shall owe and pay to Landlord an additional sum of 3% of such overdue amount as a late charge. Such late charge represents a fair and reasonable estimate of the costs that Landlord will incur by reason of any late payment by Tenant, and therefore this Paragraph is reasonable under the circumstances existing at the time this Lease is made. Acceptance of such late charge by Landlord shall not constitute a waiver or cure of Tenant's default with respect to such overdue amount, nor prevent Landlord from exercising any of the other rights and remedies available to Landlord under this Lease any or all of which may be exercised before, concurrently, or after Landlord's exercise of its rights hereunder. In addition to the late charge payable by Tenant, as provided above, if any such Rent or other charge is not paid within 30 days of the date such Rent or other charge was due, then Tenant shall pay to Landlord interest on such overdue Rent or other charge (from such 30th day until all amounts, including interest, are paid in full) at the rate of 7% per annum above the "reference rate" announced from time to time by Bank of America, NT&SA or the maximum amount permitted by Laws, whichever is less (the "Default Rate"). If such reference rate ceases to be announced, then a comparable "prime rate" shall be utilized, as selected by Landlord.

27. Landlord Default— Tenant's Remedies. Landlord shall not be in default hereunder unless Landlord fails to perform the obligations required of Landlord within a reasonable time, but in no event later than 30 days after notice by Tenant to Landlord, and to the holder of any first mortgage or deed of trust covering the Premises, whose name and address shall have theretofore been furnished to Tenant, specifying the nature of Landlord's failure to perform; provided, however, that if the nature of Landlord's obligation is such that more than 30 days are required for performance, then Landlord shall not be in default if Landlord commences performance within such 30-day period and thereafter diligently prosecutes the same to completion. In no event shall Tenant have the right to terminate this Lease as a result of Landlord's default, and Tenant's remedies shall be limited to monetary damages; provided, however, that in no event shall Landlord be liable under any circumstances for any consequential damages incurred by Tenant, including, without limitation, any injury to, or interference with, Tenant's business (including any loss of profits), arising in connection with this Lease. Nothing herein contained shall be interpreted to mean that Tenant is excused from paying Rent due hereunder as a result of any default by Landlord.

28. Quarterly Payments. If a late charge is payable under this Lease, whether or not collected, for two installments of Basic Monthly Rent or Additional Rent due under this Lease during any one calendar year during the Term, then Basic Monthly Rent and Additional Rent shall automatically become due and payable quarterly in advance, rather than monthly. All monies paid to Landlord under this Paragraph may be commingled with other monies of Landlord and shall not bear interest. If Tenant breaches any provision of this Lease, then any balance remaining from funds paid to Landlord under the provisions of this Paragraph may, at Landlord's election, be applied to the payment of any monetary default of Tenant in lieu of being applied to the payment of personal property taxes, real property taxes and insurance premiums. Further, if three or more installments of Basic Monthly Rent or Additional Rent due under this Lease, or if any three payments made by Tenant in the form of a personal or business check are returned by the bank it was drawn upon for whatever reason, including, but not limited to, insufficient funds, then Landlord, at Landlord's option, may require Tenant to submit all future payments to Landlord in the form of a certified cashier's check, money order, or by wire transfer with all wire transfer fees of both Landlord and Tenant being the responsibility of Tenant. Tenant's obligation to provide payment in the aforementioned manner shall continue in full force and effect until Landlord, in its reasonable discretion, determines otherwise. Tenant further agrees to reimburse Landlord, as Additional Rent, Landlord's actual costs imposed by Landlord's bank or financial institution arising from Tenant's returned check(s). These costs shall be in addition to any late charges payable by Tenant pursuant to this Lease.

29. Destruction. If the Building is totally or partially destroyed during the Term, rendering the Premises totally or partially inaccessible or unusable, then, subject to the remainder of this Paragraph 29, (i) Landlord shall promptly commence work necessary to restore the Building to substantially the same condition as it was in immediately before such destruction and shall diligently prosecute such restoration work until completed, (ii) Landlord shall not be required to restore Tenant's Alterations or Tenant's Personal Property, unless they are fixtures in the Premises and they are specifically covered by insurance proceeds received by Landlord, such excluded items being the sole responsibility of Tenant to restore, (iii) such destruction shall not terminate this Lease (except as provided below), and (iv) all obligations of Tenant under this Lease shall remain in effect, except that the Basic Monthly Rent and Additional Rent shall be abated or reduced, between the date of such destruction and the date of Substantial Completion of restoration, by the ratio of (a) the Rentable Square Footage of the Premises rendered unusable or inaccessible by the destruction, to (b) the Rentable Square Footage of the Premises prior to such destruction. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Paragraph, either party shall have 10 business days from the date of Landlord's determination that this sentence applies to the subject destruction/reconstruction, in which to terminate this Lease if Landlord determines that (1) it will likely take more than either (A) 330 days following the date of such casualty, or (B) 270 days after obtaining all required permits for such reconstruction, in which to complete such work, (2) such destruction (which is not de minimus in nature) occurs during the last year of the Term, or (3) then-existing Laws do not permit such restoration. Additionally, Landlord may, at its election, terminate this Lease by so notifying Tenant in writing on or before the later of 60 days after such destruction or 30 days after Landlord's receipt of the proceeds (or written notice of the amount of proceeds) from insurance maintained by Landlord, if (I) such destruction exceeds 20% of the then-replacement value of the Premises, the Building, or the Project, or (II) Landlord reasonably determines that the cost of such restoration will exceed the amount of insurance proceeds relating to such destruction actually received by Landlord from insurance maintained by Landlord, excluding deductibles, by more than 5% of such cost of restoration. If Landlord or Tenant so terminates this Lease, then (x) Landlord shall have no obligation to restore the Project, (y) Landlord shall retain all insurance proceeds relating to such destruction, and (z) this Lease shall terminate as of 30 days after such notice of termination from Landlord to Tenant. Tenant hereby waives the provisions of California Civil Code Sections 1932(2) and 1933(4) or any successor statute with respect to any destruction of the Premises. If Landlord restores the Premises following any such destruction, Tenant shall immediately refixturate, re-equip, and (if applicable) restock the Premises and shall re-open the Premises for business as soon thereafter as is reasonably practicable, not to exceed 60 days. If Tenant does not intend to so reopen the Premises for business, it must notify Landlord in writing within 20 business days of such damage or destruction, whereupon Landlord may cease its repair work and terminate this Lease. Additionally, if Landlord fails to Substantially Complete such restoration work within one year, Tenant may, by giving 30 days' written notice to Landlord delivered after such year (during which period of time such restoration is not Substantially Completed), terminate this Lease.

30. Condemnation. If during the Term, or during the period of time between the execution of this Lease and the Lease Commencement Date, there is any taking of all or any part of the Premises or any interest in this Lease by the exercise of any governmental power, whether by legal proceedings or otherwise, by any public or quasi-public authority, or private corporation or individual, having the power of condemnation (any of the preceding a "Condemnor"), or a voluntary sale or transfer by Landlord to any Condemnor, either under threat of condemnation or while legal proceedings for condemnation are pending (any of the preceding, a "Condemnation"), the rights and obligations of Landlord and Tenant shall be determined pursuant to this Paragraph 30. If such Condemnation is of the entire Premises, then this Lease shall terminate on the date the Condemnor takes possession of the Premises (the "Date of Condemnation"). If such Condemnation is of any portion, but not all, of the Premises, then this Lease shall remain in effect, except that, if the remaining portion of the Premises is rendered unsuitable for Tenant's continued use of the Premises, then Tenant may elect to terminate this Lease, by so notifying Landlord in writing (the "Termination Notice") within 30 days after the date that the nature and extent of the Condemnation have been determined. Such termination shall be effective on the earlier of (i) the date that is 30 days after the delivery of the Termination Notice, or (ii) the Date of Condemnation. If Tenant does not deliver the Termination Notice to Landlord within such 30-day period, then all obligations of Tenant under this Lease shall remain in full force and effect, except that (unless the Premises are restored as set forth below) Basic Monthly Rent shall be reduced by the ratio of (a) the Rentable Square Footage of the Premises taken by the Condemnation to (b) the Rentable Square Footage of the Premises immediately prior to the Date of Condemnation. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Paragraph, if, within 30 days after Landlord's receipt of the Termination Notice, Landlord notifies Tenant that Landlord at its cost will add to the remaining Premises (or substitute for the Premises other comparable space in the Project) so that the Rentable Square Footage of the Premises will be substantially the same after the Condemnation as they were before the Condemnation, and Landlord commences the restoration promptly and completes it within 150 days after Landlord so notifies Tenant, then all obligations of Tenant under this Lease shall remain in effect, except that Basic Monthly Rent and Additional Rent shall be abated or reduced during the period from the Date of Condemnation until the completion of such restoration by the ratio of (A) the Rentable Square Footage of the Premises taken by the Condemnation to (B) the Rentable Square Footage of the Premises immediately prior to the Date of Condemnation. Unless Landlord restores the Premises pursuant to the preceding sentence, or unless Tenant gives to Landlord the Termination Notice within the relevant 30-day period, Tenant at its sole cost and expense shall accomplish any restoration required by Tenant to use the Premises. A temporary Condemnation of the Premises, or any part of the Premises, for less than 180 days, shall not constitute a Condemnation under this Paragraph; but the Basic Monthly Rent shall abate as to the portion of the Premises affected during such temporary Condemnation. All compensation, sums, or anything of value awarded, paid, or received as a result of a total or partial Condemnation (the "Award") shall belong to and be paid to Landlord. Tenant shall have no right to any part of the Award, and Tenant hereby assigns to Landlord all of Tenant's right, title, and interest in and to any part of the Award, except that Tenant shall receive from the Award any sum paid expressly to Tenant from the Condemnor for Tenant's Personal Property or for severance damages. Landlord and Tenant waive the provisions of any statute (including without limitation California Code of Civil Procedure Section 1265.130 or any successor statute) that allows Landlord or Tenant to petition the superior court (or any other court) to terminate this Lease in the event of a partial Condemnation of the Premises.

31. Assignment and Other Transfers.

31.1 Restriction on Transfer. Without Landlord's prior written consent, which shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed, and except as permitted by Paragraph 31.3, below, none of the following shall occur (nor be permitted by Tenant to occur), voluntarily, involuntarily, by operation of Laws, or otherwise (any of the following, a "Transfer"): (i) any assignment, sublease, disposition, sale, concession, license, license agreement for the use of any portion of the Premises, mortgage, encumbrance, hypothecation, pledge, collateral assignment, or other transfer, by Tenant of this Lease, any interest in this Lease, or all or any portion of the Premises; or (ii) any assignment, disposition, sale, transfer, acquisition, or issuance of equitable interests (whether stock, partnership or otherwise) in Tenant, to or by any person, entity, or group of related persons or affiliated entities, whether in a single transaction or in a series of related or unrelated transactions, which results in such person, entity, or group holding (or assigning, transferring, disposing of, or selling) 50% or more of the aggregate issued and outstanding equitable interests in Tenant.

31.2 Transfer Provisions Generally.

31.2.1 Landlord shall not be liable in damages to Tenant or to any proposed subtenant, assignee or other transferee (any of the preceding, a "Proposed Transferee") if such consent is adjudicated to have been unreasonably withheld, and, in such event, Tenant's sole remedy shall be to have the proposed Transfer declared as valid as if Landlord's consent had been given, although Tenant shall be entitled to reasonable attorney's fees if Tenant is the prevailing party in such litigation. At least 30 days prior to entering into any proposed Transfer, Tenant shall submit to Landlord the non-refundable sum of $2,000 (as payment toward Landlord's and Landlord's attorneys' cost of reviewing, consenting to, rejecting and/or consummating any proposed Transfer), and a written notice ("Tenant's Notice") which includes (i) a draft copy of the proposed instrument of transfer (i.e., the sublease or assignment instrument) relating to the proposed Transfer, along with all related agreements, documents, instruments, exhibits, and escrow instructions, (ii) the name and address of the Proposed Transferee, (iii) an abstract of the terms and conditions of the proposed Transfer, including without limitation the economics of such Proposed Transfer and the commencement or effective date of the proposed Transfer, which shall be at least 30 days after Tenant's Notice is given, and (iv) the nature, character, and current banking, financial, and other credit information and references with respect to the Proposed Transferee and the business of the Proposed Transferee (including without limitation tax returns for the three most-recent years, a business plan with cash-flow projections and financial projections with assumptions and competitive market analysis), in reasonably sufficient detail to enable Landlord to determine the Proposed Transferee's financial responsibility.

31.2.2 Within 30 days after Landlord's receipt from Tenant of such sum and Tenant's Notice, and all documentation requested of Tenant by Landlord, Landlord shall notify Tenant whether Landlord has consented to the proposed Transfer. Any consent by Landlord to any proposed Transfer shall not constitute a consent with respect to any other Transfer. If Landlord consents to any proposed Transfer, and Tenant fails to consummate such Transfer within 30 days of the commencement or effective date of the proposed Transfer (as set forth in Tenant's Notice) or, if Tenant's Notice fails to identify such a date, then within 150 days after the date of Tenant's Notice, such consent shall be deemed withdrawn and Tenant shall be required again to comply with this Paragraph 31.2.2 before making a Transfer. Landlord shall not have unreasonably withheld its consent with respect to any Transfer if (among other things) Landlord shall not have received such sum or Tenant's Notice, if the nature or character of the Proposed Transferee is not in keeping with the dignity and character of the Building and the surrounding area, if the Proposed Transferee's proposed use is materially and adversely different than the Permitted Use or Tenant's prior use, if the proposed Transfer will result in the diminution of the value or marketability of the Building or the Project, if Landlord is not reasonably satisfied that the Proposed Transferee is creditworthy, or if the proposed Transfer will conflict with or result in a breach of any of the provisions of, or constitute a default under, any agreement, instrument, or document to which Landlord is a party or by which the Project may be bound. No Transfer shall release or discharge Tenant from any liability, whether past, present, or future, under this Lease and Tenant shall continue to remain directly and primarily liable under this Lease (and not as a mere surety); provided, however, that as a condition to granting consent to any Transfer, Landlord may require the assigning Tenant to execute a guaranty on Landlord's standard form—which guaranty shall serve to release such assigning Tenant from direct liability hereunder and such assigning Tenant's liability for matters accruing under this Lease thereafter shall be pursuant to such guaranty and not under the Lease, but Tenant shall continue to be liable for any claims and liability accrued prior to such Transfer (it being understood that if such assigning Tenant fails to execute such guaranty, the such assignment shall constitute an Event of Default, such Transfer will be void, and such assigning Tenant shall remain primarily liable hereunder). Tenant irrevocably assigns to Landlord, as security for Tenant's obligations under this Lease, all rent and other amounts generated from any Transfer, and Landlord, as assignee and as special attorney-in-fact for Tenant, or a receiver for Tenant appointed on Landlord's application, may collect such rent and other amounts and apply them toward Tenant's obligations under this Lease; provided, however, that unless an Event of Default occurs under this Lease, Tenant shall have the right to collect such rent and other amounts. Nothing stated in this Paragraph 31 shall be construed as extending to any Proposed Transferee any third party beneficiary rights to this Lease or the Premises.

31.2.3 Unless otherwise agreed to by all parties, the Tenant's Security Deposit (if any) shall be retained by Landlord and returned to the lawful tenant in possession of the Premises at the time of the Lease termination, subject to the terms and conditions of Paragraph 6 of this Lease. Any Transfer documentation shall contain the following provisions, which provisions whether contained in such Transfer documentation or not, shall apply to such Transfer: (a) such Transfer shall be subject and subordinate to, and bound by, all provisions of this Lease; (b) no Proposed Transferee shall be permitted to enter into any Transfer without Landlord's prior written consent; and (c) at Landlord's option, in the event of cancellation or termination of this Lease for any reason or the surrender of this Lease, whether voluntarily, involuntarily, by operation of Laws or otherwise, prior to the expiration of such Transfer, the Proposed Transferee shall make full and complete attornment to Landlord for the balance of the term of such Transfer. Such attornment shall be evidenced by an agreement in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Landlord that the Proposed Transferee shall execute and deliver to Landlord within 5 days after request by Landlord.

31.2.4 Tenant shall promptly reimburse Landlord up to $3,000 for Landlord's reasonable cost (less the $2,000 previously paid) of reviewing, consenting to, rejecting and/or consummating any proposed Transfer, including without limitation reasonable and documented attorneys' fees and costs and fees of Landlord's Lender (if any) in connection therewith. If Tenant fails to pay such amount within 10 business days of written demand, Tenant shall be in default hereunder and Landlord shall have the right, in addition to its other rights and remedies under this Lease, to revoke its prior approval of the proposed Transfer if such Proposed Transferee has not yet taken possession of the Premises.

31.3 Excess Rent and Recapture. Tenant shall promptly pay to Landlord, as and when received, 50% of all rents and other consideration after all of Tenant's reasonable third-party expenses incurred in connection with such Transfer are deducted, of whatever nature, payable by the Proposed Transferee (or receivable by Tenant) pursuant to or as a result of any Transfer, which exceed (i) in the case of a sublease of a portion of the Premises, the portion of the Basic Monthly Rent that is allocable to the portion of the Premises subleased (such allocation based on the Rentable Square Footage of the portion subleased), or (ii) in the case of any other Transfer, the Basic Monthly Rent. Landlord additionally has the right, in the event Tenant indicates in the Tenant's Notice that it desires to assign this Lease or sublet greater than 50% of the Premises, at its election, by giving written notice (the "Recapture Notice") to Tenant within 15 days after receipt of Tenant's Notice, to recapture the Premises and terminate this Lease. If Landlord elects to exercise such right and delivers a Recapture Notice to Tenant, this Lease shall automatically be deemed terminated as of the commencement or effective date stated in Tenant's Notice for the proposed Transfer, and Tenant shall surrender possession of the Premises as of such date (and any failure to do so shall constitute a default hereunder). Landlord's giving of a Recapture Notice shall not constitute Landlord's consent to Tenant's proposed Transfer.

31.4 Permitted Transferee. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in Paragraphs 31.1 or 31.3, above, no consent of Landlord will be required for, and no amounts will be payable to Landlord in connection with, any assignment or subletting to any of the following (any of which will constitute a “Permitted Transferee”):

31.4.1 Any parent, wholly-owned subsidiary, or other company of which Tenant owns all or substantially all of the voting and beneficial interests, or which company owns all or substantially all of the voting and beneficial interests in Tenant, and which parent, subsidiary, or other company has a tangible net worth (excluding good will as an asset) (determined in accordance with GAAP) equal to or greater than Tenant’s tangible net worth (excluding good will as an asset) as of the day before such proposed Transfer or as of the Lease Commencement Date, whichever is more;

31.4.2 Any surviving or successor entity resulting from a merger, consolidation, or sale of substantially all of the assets of Tenant, where the tangible net worth (excluding good will as an asset) of the resulting or acquiring company exceeds (as determined in accordance with GAAP), the tangible net worth (excluding good will as an asset) of the Tenant as of the day before such proposed Transfer or as of the Lease Commencement Date, whichever is more; or 31.4.3 Any sale of stock as part of a “public offering” on one of the nationally recognized securities exchanges (such as, without limitation, NYSE or NASDAQ).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, and as a condition precedent to the effectiveness of any such Transfer to a Permitted Transferee, at least 20 days prior to any proposed Transfer to a Permitted Transferee, Tenant shall notify Landlord in writing of its intention to undertake such a Transfer and provide Landlord with sufficient information to confirm that such entity will in fact be a Permitted Transferee and the assigning Tenant shall execute Landlord’s form guaranty— which guaranty shall serve to release such assigning Tenant from direct liability hereunder and such assigning Tenant will then have liability for matters accruing under this Lease thereafter pursuant to such guaranty and not under the Lease, but Tenant shall continue to be liable for any claims and liability accrued prior to such Transfer (it being understood that if such assigning Tenant fails to execute such a guaranty, then such assignment shall constitute an Event of Default, such Transfer will be void, and such assigning Tenant shall remain primarily liable hereunder). Landlord shall keep all such information pertaining to a proposed Transfer or a Proposed Transferee confidential. Other than the right to engage in such a Transfer to a Permitted Transferee without Landlord’s consent, all other provisions of Paragraph 31.2 shall apply to such a Transfer.

31.5 Assignment by Landlord. Landlord may transfer or assign its interest in this Lease, the Building and/or the Premises to any person or entity assuming Landlord’s obligations under this Lease without Tenant’s consent. Upon any such transfer or assignment, Landlord shall be released from any further obligation hereunder, and Tenant agrees to look solely to such successor in interest of the Landlord for performance of such obligations. Any security given by Tenant to secure performance of Tenant’s obligations hereunder may be assigned and transferred by Landlord to such successor in interest, and Landlord shall thereby be discharged of any further obligation relating thereto.

32. Landlord’s Reserved Rights.

32.1 General Rights Reserved. In addition to specific reserved rights identified elsewhere in this Lease, below, Landlord, as owner of the Project, in addition to Landlord’s other rights, reserves the right from time to time: (i) to temporarily utilize portions of the Common Areas for, among other things, entertainment, outdoor shows, displays, automobile and other product shows, the leasing of kiosks, or such other uses which, in Landlord’s sole discretion, are appropriate; (ii) to utilize the lighting standards and other areas or improvements in the Common Areas for advertising, notice purposes, or other reasonable purposes; (iii) to close any of the Common Areas to the extent required in the opinion of Landlord’s legal counsel to prevent a dedication of any of the Common Areas or the accrual of any rights to any person or to the public in and to any portion of the Common Areas; (iv) to close, temporarily, any of the Common Areas for maintenance purposes; (v) to designate other property outside the boundaries of the Project to become part of the Common Areas; (vi) to close off or otherwise utilize portions of the Common Areas while constructing improvements or making repairs or alterations to any portion of the Project; (vii) to utilize portions of the Common Areas, on a temporary basis, as a staging area for any construction work by Landlord or its affiliates, agents, tenants, or contractors; and (viii) to make any changes to the Common Areas, or any part of the Project, including without limitation changes to buildings or other improvements, the addition of new buildings or other improvements, and/or changes in (among other things) the location of driveways, entrances, exits, vehicular parking spaces, or the direction of the flow of traffic. In exercising such rights, Landlord agrees to use commercially reasonable efforts to minimize any interference with Tenant’s use of the Premises.

32.2 Future Construction. Tenant acknowledges that, as more particularly provided below, the development of the Project is continuing and may, at Landlord's election, include the construction of additional buildings and improvements within the Project, including in areas which currently constitute Common Areas. Tenant is entering into this Lease with a full understanding of the possible ramifications/effects of such future development work on its tenancy and the rental charged hereunder takes such factors into account. Tenant further acknowledges and agrees that Landlord may, from time to time, at its sole election, construct (including, without limitation, additional buildings), reconstruct (including without limitation the replacement of certain improvements with other improvements), improve (including tenant improvements), modify, expand, or otherwise alter the Project or portions thereof, including a remodel, renovation, or refurbishment of the Premises (collectively, "Construction Work") (in no event however will Landlord have any obligation to do so). Landlord agrees to use commercially reasonable efforts to minimize any interruption or interference with the use of the Premises in connection with any Construction Work. Tenant acknowledges that any such Construction Work will necessarily involve, among other things, the generation of noise, dust, and vibrations, barricading portions of the Project and the placement of scaffolding within the Project, demolition, structural alterations, storage of materials and equipment within the Project, and the presence of workmen within the Project, all of which may require the rearrangement of the Common Areas, including, without limitation, landscaping, parking areas (which may include the provision of temporary parking areas during periods of construction), roadways, lighting facilities, and the re-direction of vehicular and pedestrian traffic. Tenant agrees that the performance of any Construction Work shall not constitute an eviction (constructive or otherwise). Further, Landlord hereby reserves such licenses and easements in, on, above or below the Premises as may be reasonably required (i) for the installation, inspection, surveying, maintenance, or construction of mains, conduits, shafts, columns, footings, piers, pipes or other facilities to serve any building within the Project, or (ii) for any Construction Work; provided, however, Landlord will use its commercially reasonable efforts to minimize any unreasonable interference with Tenant's use, occupancy, or enjoyment of the Premises as contemplated by this Lease. Except as provided below, Tenant waives any and all claims, defenses, rights of offset, or deductions based upon any inconvenience suffered by Tenant or any interruption of or interference with Tenant's business including, without limitation, any loss of business, decreased sales, damage to property, loss of electronic information, or inconvenience to Tenant or Tenant's Invitees as a result of or relating to such Construction Work. Landlord hereby reserves for itself and its agents, employees, licensees and contractors, the right to enter the Premises to the extent reasonably necessary to pursue such Construction Work upon twenty-four (24) hours' prior notice to Tenant. The exercise of any of Landlord's rights pursuant to this Paragraph will not entitle Tenant to any abatement of Rent or other claim, right of offset, or defense against Landlord, except that (subject to the provisions of Paragraphs 19, 36, 44, and other provisions of this Lease) (a) Tenant shall have the right to bring an action against Landlord (as Tenant's sole remedy) in the event Tenant suffers any damages as a result of Landlord's negligent acts or negligent omissions in pursuing such Construction Work, and (b) if such Construction Work results in Tenant being unable to access the Premises, or portions thereof, for the Permitted Use for a period of greater than 5 business days, Tenant shall be entitled (as Tenant's sole remedy with respect to such lack of access) to equitable abatement of the Rent for such period of time during which it is unable to access the Premises. The foregoing rights will constitute Tenant's sole and absolute rights against Landlord or otherwise in connection with any such Construction Work and Tenant releases and waives any other claims, defenses, or rights in connection therewith. Tenant further acknowledges that expansion of the Project may affect the amount of the Operating Expenses and the portion thereof payable by Tenant.

33. Easements. Landlord may, at its election, from time to time, grant such easements, rights and dedications, and cause the recordation of parcel maps, easement and operating agreements, and restrictions affecting the Premises and the Project, provided that no such acts materially and adversely affect Tenant's rights of ingress or egress to the Building and the Premises or Tenant's right to use the Premises. Tenant shall promptly sign any documents or instruments to accomplish the foregoing upon request by Landlord. Tenant irrevocably appoints Landlord as Tenant's special attorney-in-fact to execute and deliver such documents or instruments on behalf of Tenant if Tenant refuses or fails to do so within 10 days after Landlord's written request.

34. Access by Landlord. Landlord and any of Landlord's Invitees shall have the right to enter the Premises at all reasonable times, during normal business hours if feasible under the circumstances, and upon 24 hours' notice, if feasible under the circumstances, (i) to determine whether the Premises are in good condition and whether Tenant is complying with its obligations under this Lease, (ii) to do any necessary maintenance or make any restoration to the Premises that Landlord has the right or obligation to perform, (iii) to serve, post, or keep posted any notices required or allowed under this Lease, (v) to post "for sale" or "for rent" or "for lease" signs during the final nine months of the Term, (vi) to show the Premises to brokers, lenders, agents, prospective buyers, prospective tenants, or other persons interested in a listing of, financing, purchasing, or occupying the Project, the Premises or any portion of the Project or the Premises, and (vii) to shore the foundations, footings, and walls of the Project, and to erect scaffolding and protective barricades around and about the Premises, but not so as to prevent entry to the Premises, and to do any other act or thing necessary for the safety or preservation of the Premises if any excavation or other construction is undertaken or is about to be undertaken on any adjacent property or nearby street. In the event of an emergency Landlord shall have the right to enter the Premises at any time, without prior notice to Tenant. Landlord's rights under this Paragraph extend, with Landlord's consent, to the owner of adjacent property on which excavation or construction is to take place and the adjacent property owner's agents, employees, officers, and contractors. Landlord shall not be liable for any inconvenience, disturbance, loss of business, nuisance, or other damage arising out of any entry on the Premises as provided in this Paragraph except damage resulting directly from the grossly negligent acts or willful misconduct of Landlord or Landlord's Invitees. Tenant shall not be entitled to any abatement or reduction of Basic Monthly Rent or other Rent because of the exercise by Landlord of any rights under this Paragraph.

35. Indemnity. Tenant hereby agrees to indemnify, defend, protect, and hold harmless Landlord and its shareholders, officers, directors, agents, property managers, employees, contractors, and the partners comprising Landlord (if any) from and against any and all liabilities, damages, losses, costs, expenses, attorneys' fees, and claims, including, without limitation, any and all costs, expenses, and attorneys' fees incurred in the defense or handling of any such claims and/or any action or proceeding brought on any of such claims (collectively, "Claims") (except to the extent they result from Landlord's grossly negligent acts or willful misconduct) arising from or which seek to impose liability under or because of (i) Tenant's or Tenant's Invitees' use of the Premises, (ii) the conduct of Tenant's business, (iii) any activity, work, or things done, permitted, or suffered by Tenant or any of Tenant's Invitees in or about the Premises or elsewhere, (iv) any breach or default in the performance of any obligation to be performed by Tenant under this Lease, and/or (v) any negligent acts of Tenant or any of Tenant's Invitees. If any action or proceeding is brought against Landlord or its shareholders, officers, directors, agents, property managers, employees, contractors, or the partners comprising Landlord (if any) by reason of any such Claims, Tenant upon notice from Landlord shall defend such action or proceeding at Tenant's sole cost and expense by legal counsel satisfactory to Landlord.

36. Exemption of Landlord from Liability. Except to the extent caused by Landlord's grossly negligent acts or willful misconduct, Tenant assumes all risk of, Tenant waives all claims against Landlord in respect of, and Landlord shall not be liable for, any of the matters set forth in the preceding Paragraph or any of the following: injury to Tenant's business, loss of income from such business, or damage or injury to the goods, wares, merchandise, or other property or the person of Tenant, Tenant's Invitees, or any other persons in, upon, or about the Premises, whether such damage, loss, or injury is caused by or results from criminal acts, fire, steam, electricity, gas, water, rain, the breakage, leakage, obstruction or other defects of pipes, sewer lines, sprinklers, wires, appliances, plumbing, air-conditioning or lighting fixtures, or any other cause, conditions arising upon the Premises, or other sources or places, and regardless of whether the cause of such damage, loss, or injury or the means of repairing such damage, loss, or injury is inaccessible to Tenant. In connection with the foregoing, Tenant hereby waives any defense that would otherwise be provided by Section 1542 of the California Civil Code (which states "A general release does not extend to claims that the creditor or releasing party does not know or suspect to exist in his or her favor at the time of executing the release and that, if known by him or her, would have materially affected his or her settlement with the debtor or released party"), or Laws of a similar nature, which would limit any such release to matters known or suspected to exist by Tenant. This Lease shall not be affected or impaired by any change to any part of the Project or any sidewalks, streets or improvements nearby the Project.

37. Hazardous Substances.

37.1 Landlord's Covenants. Landlord hereby notifies Tenant, and Tenant hereby acknowledges that, prior to the leasing of the Premises pursuant to this Lease, Tenant has been notified, pursuant to California Health and Safety Code Section 25359.7, that Landlord knows, or has reasonable cause to believe, that certain hazardous substances (as such term is used in such Section 25359.7), such as common cleaning supplies, office supplies, spillage of petroleum products from motor vehicles, and other consumer products, may be located (now or in the future) on or beneath the Premises and/or the Project. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Landlord shall not cause any unlawful accumulations of Hazardous Materials to be generated, brought onto, used, stored, or disposed of in or about the Premises, the Building, or the Project by Landlord or its agents, employees, or contractors, except for limited quantities of standard office and janitorial supplies and petroleum and petroleum-related products commonly used on or at similar office projects. Furthermore, Landlord shall: (a) use, store, and dispose of all such permitted Hazardous Material in strict compliance with all applicable statutes, ordinances, and regulations in effect during the Term that govern and/or relate to Hazardous Material, public health and safety and protection of the environment, and (b) comply at all times during the Term with all Environmental Laws (as defined in Paragraph 37.2, below). Except as to those matters which are Tenant's responsibility pursuant to Paragraph 37.2, below, Landlord shall be responsible, at its expense (or the expense of others; but not as an Operating Expense) to cause any unlawful accumulations of Hazardous Materials to be remediated in accordance with the requirements of all applicable Environmental Laws.

37.2 Tenant's Covenants. Tenant covenants, represents, and warrants to Landlord that its use of the Premises, the Building, and the Project will be in full compliance with all Environmental Laws. Tenant hereby agrees to indemnify Landlord against all Claims (except to the extent they arise as a result of Landlord's grossly negligent acts or willful misconduct), arising from or relating to: (i) any discharges, releases, or threatened releases of any Hazardous Materials into ambient air, water, or land by Tenant or Tenant's Invitee's from, on, under, or above the Premises, (ii) the manufacture, processing, distribution, use, treatment, storage, disposal, transport, or handling of pollutants, contaminants, or hazardous or toxic wastes, substances, or materials by Tenant or Tenant's Invitees, or otherwise from, on, or under, the Premises, or (iii) a violation of any Environmental Law on, under, or above the Premises (for purposes of this Lease, "Environmental Laws" shall mean any Federal, State, or local Laws, statute, regulation, ordinance, guideline, or common Laws principle relating to public health or safety or the use or control of the environment, including without limitation the Federal Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act of 1980, the Carpenter-Presley-Tanner Hazardous Substance Account Act, the California Hazardous Waste Control Law, the Federal Clean Air Act, the California Air Resources Act, the Federal Clean Water Act, the California Porter-Cologne Water Quality Control Act, the Federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, the California Nejedly-Z'berg-Dills Solid Waste Management and Recovery Act, and California Health and Safety Code Section 25359.7) and any other Laws governing environmental or Hazardous Materials matters in California. Tenant shall not cause or permit any Hazardous Materials to be generated, brought onto, used, stored, or disposed of in or about the Premises, the Building, or the Project by Tenant or its agents, employees, contractors, subtenants, or invitees, except for limited quantities of standard office and janitorial supplies. Tenant shall: (a) use, store, and dispose of all such permitted Hazardous Materials in strict compliance with all applicable statutes, ordinances, and regulations in effect during the Term that govern and/or relate to Hazardous Materials, public health and safety and protection of the environment, and (b) comply at all times during the Term with all Environmental Laws. If the Premises are contaminated (or, due to the acts or omissions of Tenant or Tenant's Invitees, the Project is contaminated) by any Hazardous Materials during the Term, then (1) Tenant shall promptly notify Landlord in writing of such contamination, and (2) Landlord may elect to either (A) demand that Tenant perform all remediation required by Landlord (to Landlord's satisfaction and at Tenant's sole cost and expense, necessary to return the Premises (and/or the Project) to at least as good a condition as the Premises (or the Project) are in as of the date of this Lease, which Tenant shall immediately do upon receipt of notice from Landlord, or (B) proceed to cause such investigation, clean-up, and remediation work which Landlord deems necessary or desirable to be undertaken, whereupon the entire cost thereof (plus a supervisory fee equal to 10% of such cost) will be payable by Tenant to Landlord upon demand as Additional Rent. If, after demand by Landlord, as provided in this Paragraph, Tenant does not promptly commence and diligently pursue such remediation, then Landlord may, at Landlord's election, perform or cause to be performed such remediation and Tenant shall immediately, upon demand, pay the cost thereof to Landlord, plus a supervisory fee in the amount of 10% of such cost. Tenant's obligations and liability under this Paragraph 37.2 shall survive the termination of Tenant's tenancy and the Term of this Lease, except that nothing contained in this Paragraph 37.2 shall be deemed to impose liability on Tenant for any contamination arising after the Term of this Lease provided that neither Tenant nor Tenant's Invitees contributed to such contamination during the Term. Tenant acknowledges that it has reviewed the Guidelines for Avoiding Moisture and Mold Problems in the Premises attached hereto as Exhibit "G" (the "Moisture Guidelines"), and agrees to comply with the Moisture Guidelines.

37.3 Definition of Hazardous Materials. As used in this Lease the term "Hazardous Materials" shall mean any material or substance that is (i) defined as a "hazardous waste," "extremely hazardous waste," "restricted hazardous waste," hazardous substance," hazardous material," "waste," "pollutant," "contaminant" or "toxic chemical, material or substance" as any of those terms are defined under (a) the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 (CERCLA) (42 United States Code Sections 9601-9675); (b) the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976 (RCRA) (42 United States Code Sections 6901-6992k); or (c) any other Federal, State or local Laws, including any Environmental Laws, statutes, regulations or ordinances (including consent decrees and administrative orders imposing liability or standards of conduct concerning any hazardous, dangerous, or toxic waste, substance, or material, now or hereafter in effect); guideline or common Laws principle having jurisdiction over the Project, Building or Premises, (ii) petroleum, (iii) asbestos in any form or condition, (iv) radioactive material, including any source, special nuclear, or byproduct material and (v) polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) and substances or compounds containing PCBs.

38. Prohibition Against Mold, Lead-Based Paint, and Asbestos-Containing Materials. Tenant shall not allow or permit any lead-based paint to be used in the Premises, nor shall Tenant allow or permit any condition, conduct or omission at the Premises, or anywhere on the Project, that will promote or allow the production or growth of mold spores, fungus, or other similar organism within the Premises. Additionally, Tenant shall not allow or permit any materials which contain asbestos in any form or concentration ("Asbestos-Containing Materials") to be used or stored in the Premises or used in the construction of any improvements or alterations to the Premises, including, without limitation, building or construction materials and supplies. Such prohibition against Asbestos-Containing Materials shall apply regardless of whether the Asbestos-Containing Materials may be considered safe or approved for use by a manufacturer, supplier, or governmental authority, or by common use or practice. Landlord shall have the right, upon 24-hours' notice, to enter upon and conduct inspections of the Premises to determine Tenant's compliance with this Paragraph 38. If Tenant violates the foregoing covenants relating to lead-based paint, mold, and Asbestos-Containing Materials (collectively "Prohibited Substances"), then (a) Tenant shall, upon notice from Landlord, immediately remove and remediate any damage from such Prohibited Substances at Tenant's sole cost and expense, (b) such removal and remediation shall comply with all applicable Laws, (c) Tenant shall reimburse Landlord for all expenses incurred in connection with any inspection and testing of the Premises conducted by Landlord, and (d) unless Tenant completes such removal within 30 days after notice from Landlord, Landlord may, at its election, do either or both of the following: (i) declare an Event of Default under Paragraph 24.4 (for which no notice by Landlord is required) and exercise Landlord's remedies hereunder, including, without limitation, terminate this Lease upon 10 days prior written notice to Tenant, and/or (ii) remove and remediate such Prohibited Substances and obtain reimbursement from Tenant for the cost of such removal and remediation, including a supervisory fee payable to Landlord in the amount of 10% of the removal and disposal cost. Tenant shall indemnify Landlord and Landlord's directors, officers, employees, and agents against all Claims arising from (A) the failure to strictly comply with the obligations under this provision as evidenced by the presence of any Prohibited Substances upon the Premises (B) any lawsuit, settlement, governmental order, or decree relating to the presence, handling, removal, or disposal of Prohibited Substances upon or from the Premises, to the extent that such Prohibited Substances are used, stored, or otherwise permitted in the Premises or used in the construction of any improvements or Alterations to the Premises by Tenant or Tenant's agents, employees, representatives or independent contractors, or (C) Tenant's failure to perform its obligations to remove such Prohibited Substances under this Paragraph 38. The provisions of this Paragraph 38 shall not apply to any Prohibited Substances brought onto the Premises by Landlord or Landlord's Invitees or resulting from the acts of Landlord or Landlord's Invitees.

39. Security Measures. Tenant acknowledges that, although the Building may contain a restricted access entry system (if provided for as part of Landlord's Work), (i) the Basic Monthly Rent does not include the cost of any security measures for any portion of the Project (ii) Landlord shall have no obligation to provide any such security measures, (iii) Landlord has made no representation to Tenant regarding the safety or security of the Project, and (iv) Tenant will be solely responsible for providing any security it deems necessary to protect itself, its property, and Tenant's Invitees in, on, or about the Project. If Landlord provides any security measures at any time, then the cost thereof shall be included as part of the Operating Expenses, but Landlord will not be obligated to continue providing such security measures for any period of time, Landlord may discontinue such security measures without notice and without liability to Tenant, and Landlord will not be obligated to provide such security measures with any particular standard of care. Tenant assumes all responsibility for the security and safety of Tenant, Tenant's property, and Tenant's Invitees. Tenant releases Landlord from all claims whatsoever (other than due to Landlord's gross negligence or intentional misconduct) for damage, loss, or injury to Tenant, Tenant's Invitees, and/or to the personal property of Tenant and/or of Tenant's Invitees, even if such damage, loss, or injury is caused by or results from the criminal, reckless, or negligent acts of third parties. In connection with the foregoing, Tenant hereby waives any defense would otherwise be provided by Section 1542 of the California Civil Code (which states "A general release does not extend to claims that the creditor or releasing party does not know or suspect to exist in his or her favor at the time of executing the release and that, if known by him or her, would have materially affected his or her settlement with the debtor or released party"), or Laws of a similar nature, which would limit any such release to matters known or suspected to exist by Tenant. Tenant is hereby instructed to conduct its own investigation through local police agencies regarding any criminal acts or dangerous conduct that has occurred in or near the Project. Landlord shall have no duty to warn Tenant of any criminal acts or dangerous conduct that has occurred in or near the Project, regardless of Landlord's knowledge of such crimes or conduct, and Tenant hereby undertakes to remain informed regarding such issues.

40. Subordination and Attornment. This Lease and Tenant's rights under this Lease are subject and subordinate to any mortgage, deed of trust, ground lease, or underlying lease (and to all renewals, modifications, consolidations, replacements, or extensions thereof), now or hereafter affecting the Premises. The provisions of this Paragraph shall be self-operative, and no further instrument of subordination shall be required. In confirmation of such subordination, however, Tenant shall promptly execute and deliver any commercially reasonable instruments that Landlord, any Lender, or the lessor under any ground or underlying lease, may request to evidence such subordination, provided such instrument contains customary non-disturbance language in favor of Tenant and is consistent with the provisions of the next sentence including, without limitation, a Subordination, Attornment, and Non-Disturbance Agreement in the form to be commercially reasonable and acceptable to Lender. If any Lender, or the lessor of any ground or underlying lease affecting the Premises, shall hereafter succeed to the rights of Landlord under this Lease, whether by foreclosure, deed in lieu of foreclosure, or otherwise, then (i) such successor landlord shall not be subject to any offsets or defenses which Tenant might have against Landlord, (ii) such successor landlord shall not be bound by any prepayment by Tenant of more than one month's installment of Basic Monthly Rent or any other Rent, (iii) such successor landlord shall not be subject to any liability or obligation of Landlord except those arising after such succession, (iv) Tenant shall attorn to and recognize such successor landlord as Tenant's landlord under this Lease, (v) Tenant shall promptly execute and deliver any commercially reasonable instruments that may be necessary to evidence such attornment, (vi) upon such attornment, this Lease shall continue in effect as a direct lease (whether separately documented or not) between such successor landlord and Tenant upon and subject to all of the provisions of this Lease, and (vii) Tenant shall be entitled to quiet enjoyment of the Premises for so long as Tenant is not in default under the terms of this Lease or any substitute lease referenced above. Notwithstanding the preceding provisions of this Paragraph, if any ground lessor or Lender elects to have this Lease prior to the lien of its ground lease, deed of trust, or mortgage, and gives written notice thereof to Tenant that this Lease shall be deemed prior to such ground lease, deed of trust, or mortgage, whether this Lease is dated prior or subsequent to the date of such ground lease, deed of trust, or mortgage, then this Lease shall be deemed to be prior to the lien of such ground lease or mortgage and such ground lease, deed of trust, or mortgage shall be deemed to be subordinate to this Lease.

41. Estoppel Certificate. Within 10 days after written request from Landlord, Tenant shall execute and deliver to Landlord, in recordable form, a certificate ("Estoppel Certificate") stating (i) that this Lease is unmodified and in full force and effect, or in full force and effect as modified, and stating all modifications, (ii) the then-current Basic Monthly Rent, (iii) the dates to which Basic Monthly Rent has been paid in advance, (iv) the amount of any security deposit or letter of credit, if applicable, prepaid rent or other payment constituting Rent which has been paid, (v) whether or not Tenant, to Tenant's knowledge, or Landlord is in default under this Lease and whether, to the knowledge of Tenant, there currently exist any defenses or rights of offset under the Lease in favor of Tenant, (vi) that any work required to be performed by Landlord under this Lease is complete (or stating any exceptions), (vii) that any tenant improvement allowance has been paid (or stating any exceptions), and (viii) such other matters as Landlord may reasonably request. Landlord will similarly, in connection with any lending or Transfer transaction, upon 10-days written request from Tenant, execute an estoppel certificate in favor of Tenant's proposed lender or Transferee confirming (i) that this Lease is unmodified and in full force and effect, or in full force and effect as modified, and stating all modifications, (ii) the then-current Basic Monthly Rent, (iii) the dates to which Basic Monthly Rent has been paid in advance, (iv) the amount of any security deposit or letter of credit, if applicable, prepaid rent, or other payment constituting Rent which has been paid, and (v) whether or not to the best of Landlord's knowledge Tenant is in default under this Lease. The requirement for Tenant to execute and deliver to Landlord, the Estoppel Certificate, as required above, shall not be delayed, conditioned, or withheld for any reason; this requirement shall be an independent covenant of Tenant under this Lease. If Tenant fails to execute and deliver to Landlord a requested estoppel certificate within 10 days after its receipt of request therefor, then in addition to Landlord's other rights and remedies on account of such default, Tenant shall owe Landlord Additional Rent (which amount shall be payable upon demand) in an amount equal to $100.00 for each day beyond such 10-day period that it delays in the execution and delivery thereof (as such daily sum may be increased from time-to-time pursuant to the Rules).

42. Waiver. No delay or omission in the exercise of any right or remedy of Landlord in the event of any default or Event of Default by Tenant shall impair such right or remedy or be construed as a waiver. The receipt and acceptance by Landlord of delinquent Rent shall not constitute a waiver of any default other than the particular Rent payment accepted. Landlord's receipt and acceptance from Tenant, on any date (the "Receipt Date"), of an amount less than the Rent actually due on such Receipt Date, or to become due at a later date but applicable to a period prior to such Receipt Date, shall not release Tenant of its obligation (i) to pay the full amount of such Rent due on such Receipt Date or (ii) to pay when due the full amount of such Rent to become due at a later date but applicable to a period prior to such Receipt Date. No act or conduct of Landlord, including without limitation, the acceptance of the keys to the Premises, shall constitute an acceptance by Landlord of the surrender of the Premises by Tenant before the Expiration Date. Only a written notice from Landlord to Tenant stating Landlord's election to terminate Tenant's right to possession of the Premises shall constitute acceptance of the surrender of the Premises and accomplish a termination of this Lease. Landlord's consent to or approval of any act by Tenant requiring Landlord's consent or approval shall not be deemed to waive or render unnecessary Landlord's consent to or approval of any other or subsequent act by Tenant. Any waiver by Landlord of any default must be in writing and shall not be a waiver of any other default concerning the same or any other provision of this Lease. Tenant hereby waives any rights granted to Tenant under California Code of Civil Procedure Section 1179, California Civil Code Section 3275, and/or any successor statute(s). Tenant represents and warrants that if Tenant breaches this Lease and, as a result, this Lease is terminated, Tenant will not suffer any undue hardship as a result of such termination and, during the Term, will make such alternative or other contingency plans to provide for its vacation of the Premises and relocation in the event of such termination. Tenant acknowledges that Tenant's waivers set forth in this Paragraph are a material part of the consideration for Landlord's entering into this Lease and that Landlord would not have entered into this Lease in the absence of such waivers.

43. Brokers. Each of Tenant and Landlord, respectively and independently, represents that no real estate broker, agent, finder, or other person is responsible for bringing about or negotiating this Lease other than the Tenant's broker, with respect to Tenant, or Landlord's broker, with respect to Landlord, listed in the Principal Lease Provisions, and neither Tenant nor Landlord has dealt with any other real estate broker, agent, finder, or other person, relative to this Lease in any manner. Tenant shall indemnify, defend, and hold Landlord harmless from and against all liabilities, damages, losses, costs, expenses, attorneys' fees and costs, and claims arising from any claims that may be made against Landlord by any real estate broker, agent, finder, or other person (other than as set forth above), alleging to have acted on behalf of or to have dealt with Tenant. Landlord shall indemnify, defend, and hold Tenant harmless from and against all liabilities, damages, losses, costs, expenses, attorneys' fees and costs, and claims arising from any claims that may be made against Tenant by any real estate broker, agent, finder, or other person (other than as set forth above), alleging to have acted on behalf of or to have dealt with Landlord. Landlord shall be responsible, upon satisfaction of the requirements of a separate written listing agreement between Landlord and Landlord's broker, for the payment of the commission due and owing to Landlord's brokers identified in the Principal Lease Provisions (or any other brokers engaged by Landlord), pursuant to such separate written agreement between Landlord and Landlord's broker. Landlord's broker will in turn split such commission with Tenant's broker as such parties may agree.

44. Limitations on Landlord's Liability; Waiver of Consequential Damages. If Landlord is in default of this Lease, and as a consequence Tenant recovers a money judgment against Landlord, such judgment shall be satisfied only out of the proceeds of sale received upon execution of such judgment and levy against the right, title, and interest of Landlord in the Project, and out of rent or other income from the Project receivable by Landlord or out of the consideration received by Landlord from the sale or other disposition of all or any part of Landlord's right, title, and interest in the Project. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Lease to the contrary, under no circumstances whatsoever shall any Landlord or any of Landlord's present or future shareholders, trustees, beneficiaries, participants, members, officers, directors, agents, advisors, property managers, employees, contractors, or the partners comprising Landlord (if any) or affiliates or any of their heirs, successors or assignees be liable for any incidental, indirect, special, consequential or punitive damages, including, without limitation, lost profits, nor shall any of them be personally liable for any deficiency.

45. Sale or Transfer. If Landlord sells or transfers the Premises or the Project (whether voluntarily or involuntarily), Landlord, on consummation of the sale or transfer and assumption of the Lease by Landlord's successor-in-interest, shall be released from any liability thereafter accruing under this Lease. If any Security Deposit or prepaid Rent has been paid by Tenant or if a Letter of Credit has been issued pursuant to this Lease, Landlord may transfer the Security Deposit and/or 1 month prepaid Rent or Letter of Credit, if applicable to Landlord's successor-in-interest and on such transfer Landlord shall be discharged from any further liability arising from the Security Deposit or such prepaid Rent or Letter of Credit, if applicable.

46. Quitclaim Deed. Tenant shall execute and deliver to Landlord on the Expiration Date, promptly on Landlord's request, a quitclaim deed to the Premises, in recordable form, designating Landlord as transferee, and confirming the termination of the Lease.

47. No Merger. The voluntary or other surrender of this Lease by Tenant, or a mutual cancellation of this Lease, or a termination by Landlord, shall not work a merger, and shall, at the option of Landlord, terminate any existing subleases or may, at the option of Landlord, operate as an assignment to Landlord of any such subleases.

48. Confidentiality. Except as essential to the consummation of the transaction contemplated by this Lease (together with all amendments and addenda hereto):

48.1 Each of Tenant and Landlord shall keep and maintain the terms of this Lease and the transactions contemplated by this Lease or any aspect of this Lease in strict confidence; and 48.2 Each of Tenant and Landlord may not make or allow any notices, statements, disclosures, communication, or news releases concerning this Lease, the terms of this Lease and the transactions contemplated by this Lease or any aspect of this Lease.

48.3 Nothing provided herein, however, shall prevent Tenant from disclosing to its legal counsel and/or certified public accountants, prospective purchasers, investors or prospective investors or any lenders or prospective lenders the existence and terms of this Lease or any transaction under this Lease, or any aspect of this lease, or from complying with any governmental or court order, with SEC, nationally recognized securities exchanges or other securities rules or regulations, or similar legal requirement which requires such party to disclose this Lease, the terms of this Lease, the transaction contemplated by this Lease and/or any aspect of this Lease; provided that such party uses reasonable and diligent good faith efforts to disclose no more than is absolutely required to be disclosed by such legal requirement.

48.4 Disclosure. Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, each Landlord Affiliate shall be entitled in its sole discretion to disclose the terms of this Lease in connection with public filings and/or public presentations or as may be required by any court or authority of competent jurisdiction, and/or deemed by such Landlord or Landlord Affiliate to be required or appropriate under any applicable Law, including without limitation federal and state securities Laws.

49. Anti-Money Laundering/OFAC Requirements. Each of Tenant and Landlord represent and warrant as follows, with the understanding that the other party will rely on the accuracy of these representations and warranties to establish the compliance with the Laws enforced by the United States Department of Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC"), and any other applicable Laws, rules, regulations and other legal requirements relating to the combating of money laundering and/or terrorism, including but not limited to Executive Order 13224 on Terrorist Financing, the U.S. Bank Secrecy Act, the Patriot Act, the Trading with the Enemy Act, the International Emergency Economic Powers Act, and all regulated promulgated thereunder, all as amended from time to time (collectively, "Anti-Terrorism Law").

49.1 No action, proceeding, investigation, charge, claim, report, or notice has been filed, commenced, or threatened against such party or any Affiliated Person, as defined below, alleging any violation of any Anti-Terrorism Law. If such party is an entity (e.g., a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, trust), (i) such party has exercised due diligence to establish the identity of each person who possesses the power, directly or indirectly, to direct or cause the direction of such party's management and policies; (ii) if ownership interests in such party are not publicly traded on an exchange or an organized over-the-counter market that is regulated by any foreign government, or any governmental body or regulatory organization empowered by a foreign government to administer or enforce its Laws as they relate to securities matters, such party has exercised due diligence to establish the identity of each person who holds, directly or indirectly, a beneficial interest in such party; and (iii) if such party is a financial intermediary (e.g., a bank, brokerage firm, depository), such party has exercised due diligence to establish the identity of each of its account holders (each of the foregoing persons listed in this Paragraph being an "Affiliated Person"). Such party (x) maintains records of all documents it uses to verify the identities of its Affiliated Persons; (y) will maintain all such records for a period of at least five (5) years after the expiration of the Lease; and (z) will make such documentation available to the other party at any time upon request.

49.2 Such party is not a "Prohibited Person" (as defined in Paragraph 49.3 below), none of its Affiliated Persons is a Prohibited Person, and such party is not acquiring, and does not intend to enter into this Lease for the direct or indirect benefit of any Prohibited Person. Such party acknowledges and agrees that if, at any time, the other party determines that such party is or may be a Prohibited Person, or that any Prohibited Person holds or may hold a direct or indirect interest in such party, the other party may, in its sole discretion, terminate the Lease.

49.3 For purposes of the foregoing representations and warranties, “Prohibited Person” means any person or entity that acts or has acted (i) in contravention of any statute, rule, regulation or other legal requirement to which that person is subject relating to the combating of terrorism and/or money laundering, or (ii) on behalf of any person or organization (A) residing or having a place of business in a country or territory subject to embargo under Laws enforced by OFAC, or (B) identified as a terrorist, terrorist organization, specially designated national or blocked person by OFAC, any other department, agency, division, board, bureau or other instrumentality of the United States Government, or any recognized international organization, multilateral expert group or governmental or industry publication. OFAC’s lists of specially designated nationals, blocked persons and embargoed countries and territories can be found at www.treas.gov/ofac.

49.4 Tenant acknowledges and agrees that, any provision of this Lease to the contrary notwithstanding, Landlord may release confidential information regarding Tenant to law enforcement authorities and/or regulators if Landlord determines, in its sole discretion, that it is in the best interests of Landlord to do so in light of Landlord’s obligations and/or potential liability under any applicable statute, rule, regulation or other legal requirement relating to the combating of terrorism and/or money laundering.

49.5 Each party acknowledges and agrees that the foregoing representations and warranties are subject to the other party’s indemnification obligations under this Lease.

49.6 If either party becomes aware of any fact or circumstance that may render any of the foregoing representations and warranties inaccurate in any respect, such party will immediately notify the Landlord.

50. Sustainability. Landlord and Tenant share a commitment to operating the Project, Premises and the Building in a sustainable, environmentally-friendly manner, so as to reduce energy consumption, nonrecycled wastes, and their collective carbon footprints. Landlord and Tenant agree to the following terms and conditions in order to pursue these goals:

50.1 Sustainability Practices. For the purposes of this Lease, the term “Sustainability Practices” shall mean Landlord’s sustainability practices, programs, rules, and goals for the Project and/or the Building, as such practices, programs, rules, and goals may be adopted, modified, or amended from time to time.

50.2 Sustainable Building Operations. Tenant shall, at its sole cost and expense, comply with the requirements of the Sustainability Practices. Upon reasonable request from Tenant, Landlord shall promptly provide Tenant with a copy of Landlord’s then current Sustainability Practices, if any.

50.3 Permitted Use. Tenant shall not use or operate the Premises in any manner that will cause the Project, the Building or any part thereof to fail to comply with the Sustainability Practices or with the requirements of any third-party sustainability certification or rating for the Building.

50.4 Recycling and Waste Management. Tenant shall, at its sole cost and expense: (a) comply with Landlord’s recycling policy or program; (b) sort and separate its trash and recycling into such categories as required by Landlord; and (c) place sorted trash and recycling into receptacles as directed by Landlord.

50.5 Maintenance and Repairs. All maintenance and repairs performed by Tenant must comply with the Sustainability Practices.

50.6 Alterations. All Alterations performed by Tenant must comply with the Sustainability Practices. Such Sustainability Practices include, without limitation, the use of low or no-VOC paints, solvents, and adhesives.

50.7 Removal at End of Term. To the extent any equipment, furnishings, improvements, or other items required to be removed from the Premises by Tenant at the end of the term or any earlier termination of the Lease are to be recycled or disposed of, Tenant shall conduct such recycling or disposal in an environmentally sustainable manner and in accordance with applicable Laws and the Sustainability Practices. Tenant shall pay all costs, expenses, fines, penalties, and damages that may be imposed on Landlord, the Project, the Building or Tenant by reason of Tenant’s failure to comply with the provisions of this Paragraph. The obligation of Tenant in the preceding sentence shall survive the expiration or earlier termination of the Lease.

50.8 Energy Providers. Landlord reserves the right to change electricity providers at any time and to purchase green or renewable energy for the Building.

50.9 Energy Consumption.

50.9.1 If Tenant is permitted or required pursuant to this Lease to contract directly with an energy provider, Tenant shall pay all costs for separate energy metering and shall submit to Landlord energy consumption data in a format reasonably required by Landlord.

50.9.2 Landlord is committed to reducing its carbon footprint by reducing energy consumption at the Project. Landlord may track energy consumption data of the Common Areas, the Building and/or the other buildings at the Project and record such energy consumption data via ENERGY STAR Portfolio Manager or other tracking tools. Such data may be used for the purposes of measuring, monitoring and improving the energy performance of the Project.

50.10 Water Consumption. Landlord is committed to reducing water consumption at the Project. Landlord may track water usage of the Common Areas, the Building and/or other buildings at the Project and record such water consumption data via ENERGY STAR Portfolio Manager or other tracking tools. Such data may be used for the purposes of measuring, monitoring and reducing the water consumption of the Project.

50.11 LEED Requirements. Tenant shall comply with such practices as Landlord deems appropriate in order for the Building or the Project to obtain or continue to comply with LEED certification requirements.

50.12 Reporting Requirements. Tenant shall provide information and data as reasonably requested by Landlord regarding Tenant's use and occupancy of the Premises, including, without limitation, energy and water consumption data, as necessary to allow Landlord to comply with reporting requirements imposed by applicable Laws, to apply for or maintain certifications or ratings for the Project, the Building, or to apply for fee waivers related to green or sustainable improvements. Landlord participates in ENERGY STAR Portfolio Manager®, and accordingly, Tenant shall, upon Landlord's request, provide Landlord with access to such monthly consumption data by giving Landlord access to Tenant's ENERGY STAR Portfolio Manager® account and either (a) Tenant entering the data from its monthly utility invoices into the ENERGY STAR Portfolio Manager®, or (b) Tenant causing the utility companies to enter the data into the ENERGY STAR Portfolio Manager®.

50.13 Tenant Improvements. In addition to the costs described in the Work Letter, the costs of Tenant's improvements shall include all reasonable costs associated with the Sustainability Practices, including any related documentation, registration, and certification. Tenant shall cause all contractors engaged by Tenant to comply with Landlord's rules and regulations for the Project or the Building, including without limitation, the Sustainability Practices.

50.14 Energy Management. Tenant agrees to use reasonable efforts to operate the Premises' mechanical, electrical, and plumbing systems efficiently so as to reduce water and energy usage and minimize waste and carbon emissions to the fullest extent possible. All electrical equipment or appliances installed by Tenant in the Premises must conform to the Building's standards for energy management and connect to Building controls and monitoring systems, if any.

50.15 Sustainability Reporting Requirements. If required by Laws or in order for Landlord to maintain its "LEED Building" designation or other sustainability-related designation, Tenant shall provide and deliver sustainability consumption information and data (collectively, "Sustainability Information") as reasonably requested by Landlord which shall include, without limitation, documentation relating to Tenant's specific use and occupancy of the Premises in regard to sustainability objectives. Additionally, Tenant authorizes Landlord to request Tenant's Sustainability Information from third parties including utility companies or vendors, as Landlord deems reasonably appropriate. Requested Sustainability Information may include, but shall not be limited to: (a) energy consumption (including electrical, gas and other) using ENERGY STAR energy performance rating or other agreed upon system, (b) estimate of carbon and other greenhouse gas emissions, (c) water consumption, (d) waste generated, and (e) environmental characteristics (shading, bikes, etc.). Landlord shall be entitled to utilize such Sustainability Information as it deems reasonably necessary, including, without limitation, for the following purposes: (a) monitoring and improving utility usage, (b) benchmarking the Project or the Building against any sustainable targets, (c) confirming the compliance of its sustainability practices, (d) maintaining, submitting or obtaining certifications or rating for the Project or the Building, or (e) applying for fee waivers, credits and/or rebates related to green or sustainable improvements.

50.16 Sustainability Information. Following Tenant's request, Landlord shall provide Tenant with the Building's ENERGY STAR score rated by United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) called ENERGY STAR Portfolio Manager® and as rated at the time of request. For more information regarding Landlord's and/or its affiliates sustainability-related objectives, practices and related information, Tenant may refer to Landlord's and/or its affiliates' website www.americanassettrust.com.

51. Miscellaneous.

51.1 Notices. All notices required or permitted to be given under this Lease shall be in writing and shall be (i) personally delivered, (ii) sent by certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, or (iii) sent by a nationally recognized overnight express courier service that provides written confirmation of delivery to the other party at the address set forth in the Principal Lease Provisions of this Lease. Landlord or Tenant must give a notice of a change of its address to the other, if such address changes. Each notice shall be deemed given, delivered and received upon its actual receipt, provided that if it is sent by nationally recognized overnight express courier service, it shall be deemed given one business day after deposit with the courier. Notwithstanding the foregoing, routine correspondence between Landlord and Tenant shall be deliverable by regular U.S. mail, by fax, email, or by other such means of delivery as the parties agree or as may be customary.

51.2 Time is of the Essence. Time and strict and punctual performance are of the essence with respect to each provision of this Lease. All references to "days" in this Lease will refer to calendar days, unless such reference specifically indicates that "business days" are intended. Business days will mean and refer to all calendar days other than Saturdays, Sundays, and national or California state holidays.

51.3 Currency. All payments to be made by Tenant to Landlord under this Lease shall be in United States currency.

51.4 Financial Statements. Beginning June 30, 2025, within 10 days of written request, Tenant shall promptly furnish to Landlord, not more than once during any consecutive 12 month period, financial statements certified by Tenant to be true and correct, reflecting Tenant's then current financial condition, provided, however, that this Section shall not apply to Tenant (or any Permitted Transferee) that is publicly traded on a nationally recognized securities exchange (such as, without limitation, NYSE or NASDAQ). Such financial statements shall include a current balance sheet and a profit and loss statement covering the most recent 12-month period available. In addition, upon Landlord's written request, Tenant shall allow Landlord, or a certified public accountant of Landlord's choosing, to determine Tenant's current financial condition by reviewing Tenant's current financial books, records, and accounts. Landlord will hold said information confidential, except as may be required by any court or authority of competent jurisdiction or which information is already in the public domain, or except for the disclosure of such information to any Landlord Parties' prospective buyers and lenders or the advisers and professionals of any Landlord Affiliate or such prospective buyers and lenders. The individuals executing this Lease on Tenant's behalf represent and warrant that the financial statements and other information submitted to Landlord by Tenant relating to Tenant or any guarantor of this Lease prior to the execution hereof are true, complete, and accurate, were prepared in accordance with generally accepted cash accounting principles applied on a consistent basis, and accurately reflect Tenant's (and, if applicable, each guarantor's) net worth as of the effective date of this Lease. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the terms of this Section shall not apply to the originally named Tenant under this Lease so long as such originally named Tenant is publicly traded or to any Permitted Transferee that is publicly traded.

51.5 Liquor. Notwithstanding any other provision in this Lease to the contrary, Tenant shall refrain from selling or otherwise distributing any alcoholic beverages and such sales are expressly forbidden under this Lease notwithstanding the fact that Tenant may hold the appropriate license as issued and/or approved by the California Alcoholic Beverage Control Agency.

51.6 Liquor Sold by Other Project Tenants. Tenant covenants and agrees not to protest or in any way oppose any application for a license to serve or sell liquor filed by tenants or other users of space within the Project.

51.7 Governing Law. This Lease shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the Laws of the State of California. If the Premises are located outside of California, then the references in this Lease to California statutes or governing agencies shall be deemed to include any relevant statute or governing agency of the jurisdiction in which the Premises are located that is comparable to such California statutes or governing agencies. For purposes of venue and jurisdiction, this Lease shall be deemed made and to be performed in the City of San Diego, California (whether or not the Premises are located in San Diego, California) and Landlord and Tenant hereby consent to the jurisdiction of the Courts of the County of San Diego.

51.8 Attorney's Fees. In the event any litigation, arbitration, mediation, or other proceeding ("Proceeding") is initiated by any party against any other party to enforce, interpret or otherwise obtain judicial or quasi judicial relief in connection with this Lease the prevailing party in such Proceeding shall be entitled to recover from the unsuccessful party all costs, expenses, reasonable attorney's fees, costs and expenses, and expert witness fees relating to or arising out of such Proceeding (whether or not such Proceeding proceeds to judgment), and any post judgment or post award proceeding including without limitation one to enforce any judgment or award resulting from any such Proceeding. Any such judgment or award shall contain a specific provision for the recovery of all such subsequently incurred costs, expenses, and actual attorneys' fees and expert witness fees.

51.9 Waiver of Jury Trial. TO THE EXTENT ALLOWED BY CALIFORNIA LAW, LANDLORD AND TENANT WAIVE THEIR RESPECTIVE RIGHTS TO TRIAL BY JURY OF ANY CONTRACT OR TORT CLAIM, COUNTERCLAIM, CROSS COMPLAINT, OR CAUSE OF ACTION IN ANY ACTION, PROCEEDING, OR HEARING BROUGHT BY EITHER PARTY AGAINST THE OTHER ON ANY MATTER ARISING OUT OF OR IN ANY WAY CONNECTED WITH THIS LEASE, THE RELATIONSHIP OF LANDLORD AND TENANT, OR TENANT'S USE OR OCCUPANCY OF THE PREMISES, INCLUDING ANY CLAIM OF INJURY OR DAMAGE OR THE ENFORCEMENT OF ANY REMEDY UNDER ANY CURRENT OR FUTURE LAWS. LANDLORD IS HEREBY AUTHORIZED TO FILE A COPY OF THIS PARAGRAPH IN ANY PROCEEDING AS CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE OF THE FOREGOING WAIVER.

LANDLORD'S INITIALS

TENANT'S INITIALS

51.10 Liquidated Damages. In this Lease, wherever an amount has been specified by the parties as liquidated damages or an agreed upon sum to be paid by one party to the other for a breach by one of the parties, the parties hereby agree that all such amounts so specified are not intended as a forfeiture or penalty but are intended to constitute reasonable liquidated damages to the non-breaching party because the loss or harm resulting from the breach is uncertain or difficult to prove with certainty, and the amount specified in each such case is reasonable in light of the anticipated or actual damages caused by the breach.

51.11 Limitation of Period to Raise Claims. Any claim, demand, rights, or defense by Tenant that arises out of this Lease or the negotiations that preceded this Lease shall be barred unless Tenant commences an action thereon, or interposes a defense by reason thereof, within 36 months after the date of the inaction, omission, event, or action that gave rise to such claim, demand, right, or defense. Tenant acknowledges and understands, after having consulted with its legal counsel, that the purpose of this Paragraph is to shorten the period within which Tenant would otherwise have to raise such claims, demands, rights, or defenses under applicable Laws.

51.12 Covenants and Conditions: Survival. All provisions, whether covenants or conditions, to be performed or observed by Tenant shall be deemed to be both covenants and conditions. All indemnity, defense, and hold harmless obligations of Tenant hereunder shall survive the termination of this Lease.

51.13 Joint and Several Liability. If more than one person is Tenant, then the obligations of Tenant under this Lease shall be the joint and several obligations of each of such persons; provided, however, that any act or signature of one or more of any of such persons and any notice or refund given to or served on any one of such persons shall be fully binding on each of such persons.

51.14 Counterparts. This Lease and all documents relating to this Lease, including without limitation, this Lease, any addenda, any exhibits, the Work Letter, the Guaranty (if any), and any amendments to any of the foregoing (collectively, together with the Lease, the "Lease Documents") may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original for all purposes, and all counterparts shall constitute one and the same instrument.

51.15 Singular and Plural; Gender: Person. Whenever the context so requires, all words used in the singular shall be construed to have been used in the plural (and vice versa), each gender shall be construed to include any other genders, and the word "person" shall be construed to include a natural person, a corporation, a firm, a partnership, a joint venture, a limited liability company, a trust, an estate or any other entity.

51.16 Severability. Each provision of this Lease shall be valid and enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by Laws. If any provision of this Lease or the application of such provision to any person or circumstance shall, to any extent, be invalid or unenforceable, the remainder of this Lease, or the application of such provision to persons or circumstances other than those as to which it is held invalid or unenforceable, shall not be affected by such invalidity or unenforceability, unless such provision or such application of such provision is essential to this Lease.

51.17 Effective Upon Execution. This Lease shall become effective and binding upon the parties when it has been executed by each of Landlord and Tenant; notwithstanding the fact that the Term of this Lease (i.e. Tenant's rights of full occupancy hereunder) will not commence until the Lease Commencement Date.

51.18 Successors. Subject to any restriction on transferability contained in this Lease, this Lease shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the successors-in-interest and assigns of each party to this Lease. Nothing in this Paragraph shall create any rights enforceable by any person not a party to this Lease, except for the rights of the successors-in-interest and permitted assigns of each party to this Lease, unless such rights are expressly granted in this Lease to other specifically identified persons.

51.19 Headings. The headings of the Paragraphs of this Lease have been included only for convenience, and shall not be deemed in any manner to modify or limit any of the provisions of this Lease, or be used in any manner in the interpretation of this Lease.

51.20 Construction. Each party to this Lease and its legal counsel have had an opportunity to review and revise this Lease. The rule of construction that any ambiguities are to be resolved against the drafting party shall not be employed in the interpretation of this Lease or any Addendum or Exhibit to this Lease, and such rule of construction is hereby waived by Tenant.

51.21 Entire Agreement. This Lease, the Exhibits and Addenda, if any, attached hereto (which are incorporated herein by this reference), constitute all of the covenants, promises, assurances, representations, warranties, statements, agreements, conditions and understandings between Landlord and Tenant concerning the Premises, the Common Areas and the Project, and there are no other covenants, promises, assurances, representations, warranties, statements, conditions, or understandings, either oral or written, between them concerning the Premises, the Common Areas and the Project. Except as herein otherwise provided, no subsequent amendment, alteration, change, modification, or addition to this Lease shall be binding upon Landlord or Tenant unless reduced to writing and signed by each of them. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Landlord may, from time to time, establish and amend such Rules, regulations, and signage criteria, in a written form, for the benefit of the Project and Building, as it deems appropriate. Violations of such Rules, regulations, and signage criteria by Tenant or Tenant's Invitees shall constitute a material default of this Lease.

51.22 No Other Agreements. This Lease, upon full execution, supersedes and revokes any and all previous leases governing the Premises, lease negotiations, arrangements, letters of intents, offers to lease, lease proposals or drafts, brochures, representations, and information conveyed, whether oral or written, between the parties hereto or their respective agents or representatives or any other person purported to represent Landlord or Tenant. Tenant acknowledges it has not been induced to enter into this Lease by any oral or written representations not set forth in this Lease, nor has it relied on any such representations. No such representations should be used in the interpretation or construction of this Lease and the Landlord shall have no liability for any consequences arising as a result of any such representations.

51.23 Amendments. This Lease shall not be amended, or modified or extended except by written instrument signed by Landlord and Tenant.

51.24 Consent. Whenever Landlord's consent or approval is required under this Lease (or any other agreement between the parties hereto), Landlord may give or withhold its consent in its sole and absolute discretion unless otherwise specifically required elsewhere in this Lease.

51.25 Electronic Signatures. Landlord and Tenant consent to the use of electronic signatures on the Lease and all other Lease Documents (as defined above). Notwithstanding anything contained in this Lease to the contrary, Landlord and Tenant agree that the electronic signature of each party to any of the Lease Documents shall be the same as an original, handwritten signature of such party for purposes of validity, enforceability and admissibility, and shall be effective to bind such party to the Lease Documents that they are executing. The parties agree that any of the Lease Documents that are electronically signed shall be deemed (a) to be "written" or "in writing," (b) to have been signed and executed, and (c) to constitute a record established and maintained in the ordinary course of business and an original written record when printed. Such paper copies or "printouts," if introduced as evidence in any judicial, arbitral, mediation, administrative, or other legal proceeding, will be fully admissible as between the parties to the same extent and under the same conditions as other original business records created and maintained in documentary form. Neither Landlord nor Tenant shall contest the admissibility of true and accurate copies of electronically signed documents on the basis of the best evidence rule or as not satisfying the business records exception to the hearsay rule. For purposes hereof, "electronic signature" means a manually signed original signature that is then transmitted by electronic means; "transmitted by electronic means" means sent in the form of a facsimile or sent via the internet as a "pdf" (portable document format) or other replicating image attached to an email message; and, "electronically signed document" means a document transmitted by electronic means and containing, or to which there is affixed, an electronic signature, or as such terms may otherwise be defined in the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act, as the same may be amended from time to time.

TO STANDARD OFFICE LEASE

This Addendum to Lease (“Addendum”) constitutes part of the Office Lease Agreement (“Lease”) dated as of June 27, 2024, between PACIFIC NORTH CORTHOLDINGS, L.P., a California limited partnership (“Landlord”), and CANDID THERAPEUTICS, INC., a Delaware corporation (“Tenant”). The terms of this Addendum are incorporated in the Lease for all purposes. All capitalized terms not otherwise defined in this Addendum are defined by the terms of the Lease.

1. BASIC MONTHLY RENT

Basic Monthly Rent during the Term shall be as follows:

Lease Period	Approximate Basic Monthly Rent Per Rentable Square Foot	Actual Basic Monthly Rent for the Premises
7/15/2024 – 7/31/2025	$ 5.50	$ 45,842.50
8/1/2025 – 7/31/2026	$ 5.665	$ 47,217.78
8/1/2026 – 7/31/2027	$ 5.835	$ 48,634.31
8/1/2027 – 7/31/2028	$ 6.01	$ 50,093.34
8/1/2028 – 9/30/2028	$ 6.19	$ 51,596.14

 Tenant shall be granted a two (2) month abatement of Basic Monthly Rent which shall be allocated during the months of August 2024 and September 2024. As such and provided Tenant is not in material default of this Lease, Tenant shall not be required to pay Basic Monthly Rent during the months of August 2024 and September 2024. If Tenant is deemed in material default of the Lease (after applicable notice and cure period), Tenant shall become fully liable for all funds abated and Landlord shall be entitled to exercise all of its rights and remedies with respect to collecting the monies so abated.

2. CONDITION OF THE PREMISES

Tenant acknowledges that Tenant shall accept and occupy the Premises in its currently existing “as-is” condition pursuant to the terms of this Lease. Tenant acknowledges and agrees that the Rentable Square Footage of the Premises, as set forth in Paragraph 2.4 of the Principal Lease Provisions above, shall be conclusive for all purposes under this Lease and Tenant hereby expressly waives any right to contest the Rentable Square Footage for any reason. Tenant acknowledges and agrees that Landlord has no obligation to improve the Premises, other than as may be set forth specifically in the Lease. In particular, Tenant acknowledges that any improvements or alterations needed to accommodate Tenant’s intended use shall be made solely at Tenant’s sole cost and expense, and strictly in accordance with the requirements of this Lease (including the requirement to obtain Landlord’s consent thereto), unless such improvements and alterations are specifically required of Landlord and expressly set forth in this Lease and in Exhibit “C”. Should tenant improvements be made to the Premises in the future, the Premises shall be constructed in accordance with the procedures outlined in Exhibit “C” of this Lease. Landlord shall have no responsibility to do any work required under any building codes or other governmental requirements not in effect or applicable on the Lease Commencement Date, including without limitation any requirements related to sprinkler retrofitting, seismic structural requirements, accommodation of disabled persons, or hazardous materials.

3. EARLY ENTRY

Notwithstanding the fact that the term of this Lease does not commence until July 15, 2024, Tenant shall have the right to enter into the Premises 14 days prior to occupancy, subject to all terms and conditions of this Lease, for the installation of equipment and trade fixtures. The foregoing right of early entry shall be subject to each of the following terms and conditions: (a) Tenant's entry prior to the commencement of the Lease shall not materially interfere with the construction or completion of any Landlord's Work or cause labor difficulties; (b) Tenant's entry prior to the Lease Commencement Date shall be deemed to be on, and shall be subject to, all of the terms and conditions of the Lease, other than the obligation to pay Basic Monthly Rent; (c) Tenant must, and hereby does, agree to indemnify, defend, and hold harmless Landlord and Landlord's agents, employees, and contractors against all claims, liability, and damages arising from Tenant's entry prior to the Lease Commencement Date; (d) Tenant's entry prior to the Lease Commencement Date does not constitute the commencement of the Lease; and (e) Landlord will permit entry by Tenant's contractors into the Premises for the purposes of performing Tenant's Work, if any (as defined in Exhibit "C"), prior to the Lease Commencement Date, subject to satisfaction of the conditions set forth in the Lease and in Exhibit "C", and (f) Tenant shall have provided proof of insurance (including early access insurance) to Landlord prior to accessing the Premises.

4. ELECTRONIC SIGNATURES

The parties hereto agree that this Addendum may be electronically signed, and that any electronic signature appearing on this Addendum is the same as a handwritten signature for the purposes of validity, enforceability and admissibility. The provisions of Paragraph 51.25 of the Lease shall apply to any electronic signature on this Addendum.

CERTAIN INFORMATION CONTAINED IN THIS EXHIBIT, MARKED BY [], HAS BEEN EXCLUDED FROM THIS EXHIBIT BECAUSE THE REGISTRANT HAS DETERMINED THAT IT IS BOTH NOT MATERIAL AND IS THE TYPE THAT THE REGISTRANT TREATS AS PRIVATE OR CONFIDENTIAL.

LICENSE AGREEMENT

THIS LICENSE AGREEMENT (the “Agreement”) is entered into as of January 2, 2025 (the “Effective Date”), by and between CANDID THERAPEUTICS INC., a company organized under the laws of Delaware having an address at 11622 El Camino Real, Suite 150, San Diego, CA 92130, (“Candid” or “Licensee”) and WUXI BIOLOGICS (SHANGHAI) CO., LTD., a corporation organized and existing under the laws of China, with its principal business office located at [], Pudong New Area, Shanghai [], together with its Affiliates (“WuXi Biologics” or “Licensor”). Licensee and WuXi Biologics may be referred to herein individually as a “Party” or collectively as the “Parties”.

RECITALS

WHEREAS, WuXi Biologics owns certain antibodies and patents, know-how, and other intellectual property relating thereto;

WHEREAS, Candid is an innovative biotechnology company dedicated to advancing the treatment of a range of immunological conditions.

WHEREAS, Licensee desires to obtain an exclusive license to develop, manufacture, and commercialize the Licensed Antibodies and Products in the Field (each as defined below) and WuXi Biologics desires to grant to Licensee such license.

AGREEMENT

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing premises and the mutual covenants contained herein, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, Licensee, on behalf of itself and its Affiliates, and WuXi Biologics, on behalf of itself and its Affiliates, hereby agree as follows:

1. DEFINITIONS

1.1 “Affiliate” means, with respect to any party, any entity that, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with such party, but for only so long as such control exists. As used in this Section 1.1, “control” means (a) to possess, directly or indirectly, the power to direct the management or policies of an entity, whether through ownership of voting securities, by contract relating to voting rights or corporate governance; or (b) direct or indirect beneficial ownership of more than fifty percent (50%) (or such lesser percentage which is the maximum allowed to be owned by a foreign corporation in a particular jurisdiction) of the voting share capital or other equity interest in such entity.

1.2 “Annual Net Sales” means the total Net Sales during a particular Calendar Year.

1.3 “Applicable Laws” means the applicable provisions of any and all national, supranational, regional, state, and local laws, treaties, statutes, rules, regulations, administrative codes, guidance, ordinances, judgments, decrees, directives, injunctions, orders, permits (including NDAs) of or from any court, Regulatory Authority, or governmental agency or authority having jurisdiction over or related to the subject item.

1.4 “Auditor” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.9.

1.5 “Business Days” means a day other than (a) a Saturday or a Sunday or (b) a day when a bank in Taiwan or Mainland China is closed for business.

1.6 “Calendar Quarter” means each respective period of three (3) consecutive months ending on March 31, June 30, September 30, and December 31, or such other quarterly dates as Licensee may elect to correspond with Licensee’s fiscal year.

1.7 “Calendar Year” means each respective period of twelve (12) consecutive months ending on December 31.

1.8 “CD3 Patents” means any and all Patents Controlled by WuXi Biologics or any of its Affiliates as of the Effective Date or at any time during the Term []. A list of the CD3 Patents as of the Effective Date is attached as Schedule 3 hereto and shall be updated by WuXi Biologics from time to time during the Term, including as requested by Licensee.

1.9 “CD19 Patents” means any and all Patents Controlled by WuXi Biologics or any of its Affiliates as of the Effective Date or at any time during the Term []. A list of the CD19 Patents as of the Effective Date is attached as Schedule 3 hereto and shall be updated by WuXi Biologics from time to time during the Term, including as requested by Licensee.

1.10 “Claim” has the meaning set forth in Section 7.1.

1.11 “Combination Product” means any pharmaceutical product that comprises, contains, or incorporates (a) a Product and (b) at least one other active ingredient that is not the Product, either co-formulated or packaged together and sold as a single unit for a single price. For clarity, a “Combination Product” does not include any combination therapy that includes (x) the Product and (y) at least one other product which is not a Product, either administered or prescribed jointly, but which are not sold together for a single price.

1.12 “Commercialization” means the conduct of all activities undertaken before and after Regulatory Approval relating to the promotion, sales, marketing, medical support, and distribution (including importing, exporting, transporting, customs clearance, warehousing, invoicing, handling, and delivering) of a product, including sales force efforts, detailing, advertising, market research, market access (including price and reimbursement activities), medical education and information services, publication, scientific and medical affairs, advisory and collaborative activities with opinion leaders and professional societies including symposia, marketing, sales force training, and sales (including receiving, accepting, and filling product orders) and distribution. “Commercialize” and “Commercialized” have correlative meanings.

1.13 “Commercially Reasonable Efforts” means, with respect to Licensee’s obligations to Develop, seek NDA Approval, and Commercialize a Product under this Agreement, those reasonable efforts and resources consistent with its usual practices in the development, manufacture, and commercialization of a pharmaceutical product controlled by a company in the biopharmaceutical industry of comparable size, which is at a similar stage of research, development, or commercialization, is in a similar therapeutic and disease area, and is of similar market potential, taking into account such product’s: (a) profile of efficacy and safety; (b) proprietary position, including patent and regulatory exclusivity or the broader third party patent landscape; (c) regulatory status, including anticipated or approved labeling and anticipated or approved post-approval requirements; (d) present and future market and commercial potential, including competitive market conditions and the expected and actual profitability and return on investment; (e) development or manufacturing costs, timelines and budgets, availability of supply; (f) the expected and actual competitiveness of alternative products (including generic or biosimilar products) under development or sold in the marketplace; (g) relative strategic value with respect to other antibodies and products in its portfolio of antibodies and products; and (h) all other relevant factors, including technical, legal, scientific, and medical factors.

1.14 “Confidentiality Agreement” means that certain Confidential Disclosure Agreement made between the Parties with an Effective Date of [].

1.15 “Confidential Information” means all Know-How and other proprietary scientific, marketing, financial, or commercial information or data that is generated by or on behalf of a Party or its Affiliates or which one Party or any of its Affiliates has supplied or otherwise made available to the other Party or its Affiliates, whether made available orally, in writing, or in electronic form, including information comprising or relating to concepts, discoveries, inventions, data, designs, or formulae in relation to this Agreement. Confidential Information shall include: (a) the terms and conditions of this Agreement, and (b) Confidential Information disclosed by either Party pursuant to the Confidentiality Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Licensed Know-How directly related to the Licensed Antibodies and Products being Developed, Manufactured, or Commercialized by or on behalf of Licensee, its Affiliates, or Sublicensees shall be deemed the Confidential Information of both Parties.

1.16 “Control” or “Controlled” means, with respect to any Know-How, Patents, or other intellectual property rights, the legal authority or right (whether by ownership, license, or otherwise, but without taking into account the license granted pursuant to Section 2.1) of a Party to grant access, a license, or a sublicense of or under such Know-How, Patents, or other intellectual property rights to the other Party, or to otherwise disclose proprietary or trade secret information to such other Party, without breaching the terms of any agreement with a Third Party, or misappropriating the proprietary or trade secret information of a Third Party.

1.17 “Cover”, “Covering” or “Covered” means, with respect to a product, composition, technology, process, or method and a Patent, that, in the absence of ownership of or a license granted under such Patent, the manufacture, use, offer for sale, sale, or importation of such product or composition or the practice of such technology, process, or method would infringe on a claim in such Patent (or, in the case of a claim of a pending patent application, would infringe on such claim if it were to issue as a claim of an issued patent) in the country where such activity occurred.

1.18 “Development” means all research and development activities for any product (whether alone or for use together, or in combination, with another active agent or pharmaceutical product as a combination product or combination therapy) that are directed to obtaining Regulatory Approval(s) of such product and lifecycle management of such product in any country in the world, including activities directed to improvement, modifications or enhancement of a product, all non-clinical, preclinical, and clinical testing and studies of such product; toxicology, pharmacokinetic, and pharmacological studies; statistical analyses; assay development; protocol design and development; the preparation, filing, and prosecution of any NDA for such product; development activities directed to label expansion and/or obtaining Regulatory Approval for one or more additional indications following initial Regulatory Approval; development activities conducted after receipt of Regulatory Approval; and all regulatory affairs related to any of the foregoing. “Develop” and “Developed” have correlative meanings.

1.19 “Europe” means United Kingdom, the European Union (as such entity is comprised as of the date of inquiry) and Switzerland.

1.20 “Executive Officers” means (a) with respect to Licensee, the Chief Executive Officer (or his or her designee), and (b) with respect to WuXi Biologics, the Chief Executive Officer (or his or her designee).

1.68 “WuXi Biologics [*] Patents” means any and all CD3 Patents and/or CD19 Patents.

1.69 “WuXi Biologics Platform IP” means, collectively, the WuXi Biologics Platform Know-How and WuXi Biologics Platform Patents.

1.70 “WuXi Biologics Platform Know-How” means all Know-How that WuXi Biologics or any of its Affiliates Controls as of the Effective Date or during the Term that is necessary or reasonably useful for use of the WuXi Biologics Platform Technology to research, Development, Manufacture, sell, offer for sale, import, export, Commercialization or other exploitation of the Licensed Antibody or Product in the Field in the Territory but that is in all cases not Know-How that is specifically directed to any Licensed Antibody and Product. For clarity, WuXi Biologics Platform Know-How shall not include any development and/or manufacturing process and analytical methods generally used in providing CMC Development and manufacturing services of biological products and not solely or specifically for any Licensed Antibody or Product.

1.71 “WuXi Biologics Platform Patents” means any Patents that (a) are Controlled by WuXi Biologics or any of its Affiliates as of the Effective Date or at any time during the Term, and (b) claims or otherwise discloses any WuXi Biologics Platform Know-How. The WuXi Biologics Platform Patents as of the Effective Date are listed in Schedule 2, which may be updated from time to time by WuXi Biologics.

1.72 “WuXi Biologics Platform Technology” means WuXi Biologics’ proprietary technology to generate a bispecific, tri-specific or other multi-specific antibody that may be used to generate a Licensed Antibody or Product, as claimed in patent application [].

2. GRANT OF LICENSES

2.1 Licenses Granted to Licensee WuXi Biologics grants, will grant, and hereby grants to Licensee an exclusive, irrevocable (except as provided in Section 9.3), non-transferrable (except as provided in Section 11.6), royalty-bearing license, with the right to grant sublicenses through multiple tiers as provided in Section 2.2 and to appoint subcontractors, to and under the Licensed IP to research, Develop and have Developed, Manufacture and have Manufactured, sell, offer for sale, have sold, import and have imported, export and have exported, and otherwise Commercialize the Licensed Antibody and Products in the Field in the Territory.

2.2 Sublicenses. Licensee shall have the right to grant sublicenses, through multiple tiers of sublicensees, under the license granted in Section 2.1 to its Affiliates and other Third Parties, provided that (i) WuXi Biologics’ obligations to such sublicensed Affiliate or Third Party Sublicensee will be no broader than WuXi Biologics’ obligations were to Licensee under this Agreement prior to the grant of such a sublicense, (ii) the rights granted to such sublicensed Affiliate or Third Party Sublicensee under the Licensed IP will be consistent with the rights granted to Licensee under Section 2.1 applicable to the scope of the sublicense granted to such Affiliate or Third Party Sublicensee, (iii) Licensee shall provide a copy of such sublicense granted to a Sublicensee to WuXi Biologics within [] after execution of such sublicense, which copy may be redacted in Licensee’s sole discretion as to terms not reasonably applicable to determining Licensee’s compliance with its obligations under this Agreement. (iv) the terms of each sublicense (and any sub-sublicense) agreement shall be substantially consistent with all applicable terms of this Agreement, and (v) any such sublicenses shall be substantially consistent with the terms and conditions of this Agreement and Licensee remains primarily responsible for the actions or omissions of its Sublicensees. For the avoidance of doubt, Licensee may engage any Third Party sub-contractors and grant sublicenses to such Third Party sub-contractors without prior notification to or approval by WuXi Biologics.

2.3 Licensor Retained Rights. Subject to WuXi Biologics' obligations under Section 3.6, WuXi Biologics and its Affiliates retain the right under the WuXi Biologics [], WuXi Biologics [] Know-How, WuXi Biologics Platform Patents and WuXi Biologics Platform Know-How to research, Develop and have Developed, Manufacture and have Manufactured, sell, offer for sale, have sold, import and have imported, export and have exported, and otherwise Commercialize any product that is not a Licensed Antibody or Product.

2.4 No Implied Licenses. Except as set forth in this Agreement, neither Party shall acquire any license or other intellectual property interest, by implication or otherwise, under or to any Patents, Know-How, or other intellectual property owned or controlled by the other Party.

3. DEVELOPMENT, MANUFACTURE AND COMMERCIALIZATION

3.1 Development and Manufacture. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Licensee shall have the sole and exclusive right and responsibility, at its own expense, for the Development, Manufacture and other exploitation of Products in the Field in the Territory. At Candid's request, WuXi Biologics shall [] to provide prioritization for any [] studies for the Product. At Candid's request, WuXi Biologics shall [] to provide prioritization for the Product on the initial chemistry, manufacturing and controls activities for [].

3.2 Development and Manufacture Diligence. Commencing on the date of this Agreement and ending upon completion of the first Phase I Clinical Trial, Licensee, itself or through its Affiliates and Sublicensees, shall use Commercially Reasonable Efforts to Develop [] Product in the Field in the Territory. Licensee shall update WuXi Biologics on an annual basis regarding its significant Development activities with respect to the Products in the Territory. Each such update shall provide a high level summary of Licensee's, its Affiliates', and its Sublicensees' significant Development activities with respect to Products in the Field in the Territory.

3.3 Regulatory Responsibilities. Licensee shall have the sole and exclusive right and responsibility, [], to seek to obtain and maintain Regulatory Approvals for the Products in the Field in the Territory and to handle all related regulatory matters, including, without limitation, the development and implementation of Licensee's regulatory strategy for Products, any communications with any Regulatory Authorities, preparation and maintaining regulatory materials. Whenever Licensee files an IND for a Product in the Field in any country/region in the Territory, upon Licensee's reasonable request, WuXi Biologics shall provide reasonable assistance as necessary or desirable for Licensee in such filing process to obtain and maintain Regulatory Approvals with respect to such Products in the Field, [].

3.4 Commercialization. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Licensee shall have the sole and exclusive right and responsibility, [], for the Commercialization of Products in the Field in the Territory.

3.5 Commercialization Diligence. Licensee shall retain at all times sole and complete decision-making authority regarding whether to launch any particular Product in any particular country and any other Commercialization decisions.

3.6 Non-Competition For a period of [] following the Effective Date, except as expressly permitted under this Agreement, WuXi Biologics shall not [].

4. FINANCIAL PROVISIONS

4.1 Upfront Payment. Licensee shall pay to WuXi Biologics a one-time, non-refundable, non-creditable upfront payment of twenty-five million USD (US$25,000,000) for execution of the Agreement within [] after Licensee's receipt of an invoice issued by WuXi Biologics for such payment.

4.2 Development and Regulatory Milestones Payments.

(a) Development and Regulatory Milestones. Subject to the remainder of this Section 4.2, Licensee shall pay to WuXi Biologics [].

Development Milestone Event		Research Milestone Payment
1.	[]	[]
2	[]	[]
3	[]	[]
4	[]	[]
5	[]	[]
6	[]	[]
7	[]	[]
Total		US$150,000,000

(b) Notice and Payment. Licensee shall notify WuXi Biologics in writing within [] after the achievement of any milestone set forth in this Section 4.2 by Licensee, its Affiliates, or Sublicensees. Licensee shall pay to WuXi Biologics the applicable milestone payments within [] after Licensee's receipt of a correct invoice issued by WuXi Biologics for such payment following its receipt of Licensee's foregoing milestone achievement notice.

4.3 Sales-Based Milestones Payments.

(a) Sales Milestones. Subject to the remainder of this Section 4.3, on a Product-by-Product basis, Licensee shall pay to WuXi Biologics [].

Aggregate Annual Net Sales of a Product in the Field in the Territory	Sales Milestone Payments
[]	[]
[]	[]
[]	[]
[]	[]
Total	US$750,000,000

For clarity, each milestone payment set forth in each table above set forth in Section 4.2(a) and Section 4.3(a) shall be paid only once upon first achievement of the corresponding milestone event by a licensed Product to achieve such event, even if such milestone event is achieved multiple times by a single Licensed Product. In no event shall Licensee be obligated to pay more than an aggregate amount of one hundred and fifty million dollars ($150,000,000) under Section 4.2(a) and an aggregate amount of seven hundred and fifty million dollars ($750,000,000) under Section 4.3(a).

(b) Notice and Payment. Licensee shall provide a written notice to WuXi Biologics within [] after the Annual Net Sales of a Product in the Field in the Territory reaches the values set forth in Section 4.3(a) above. Licensee shall pay to WuXi Biologics the applicable sales milestone payments within [] after Licensee's receipt of a correct invoice issued by WuXi Biologics for such payment following its receipt of Licensee's foregoing milestone achievement notice.

4.4 Royalty Payments.

(a) Royalty Rate. Subject to the other terms of this Section 4.4, []

Aggregate Annual Net Sales of a Product in the Field in the Territory	Royalty Rate
[]	[]
[]	[]

(b) Royalty Term. "Royalty Term" means with respect to a Product and a country, commencing on the First Commercial Sale of such Product in such country, until the later of: (i) twelve (12) years from First Commercial Sale of such Product in such country, (ii) the last to expire Valid Claim of Product Patents Covering the composition of matter of such Product in such country, or (iii) the expiry of regulatory exclusivity period for such Product in such country.

(c) Royalty Reductions.

(i) []

(ii) []

(iii) []

(iv) []

4.5 Payment; Reports. Royalty payments due by Licensee to WuXi Biologics under Section 4.4 shall be calculated and reported for each Calendar Quarter during the Royalty Term. Within [] after the end of each Calendar Quarter, Licensee shall provide to WuXi a report setting forth the Net Sales of the Products by Licensee and its Affiliates and Sublicensees []. After receipt of the royalty report, WuXi Biologics shall issue an invoice to Licensee for the royalties set forth in the royalty report and Licensee shall pay the royalties within [] after receipt of a correct invoice issued by WuXi Biologics for such royalties.

4.6 Sublicense Payments.

(a) Sublicense Payments. If Licensee grants a sublicense to a Third Party under Section 2.2, Licensee shall pay WuXi Biologics a share of Sublicense Income pursuant to this section 4.6(a). []

Development stage at the time of the effective date of the applicable Sublicense	Percentage of Sublicense Income
[]	[]
[]	[]

(b) Payments under Section 4.6(a) will be due within [] of receipt of such Sublicense Income by Licensee or its Affiliates along with a report setting forth in reasonable detail the total amounts received by Licensee or its Affiliates, the calculation of Sublicense Income, and the calculation of amounts due under Section 4.6(a).

4.7 Exchange Rate; Manner and Place of Payment. All references to dollars and “$” herein shall refer to U.S. dollars. All payments hereunder shall be payable in U.S. dollars. With respect to conversion of Net Sales in any currency other than U.S. dollars to U.S. dollars, Licensee or its Affiliates or Sublicensees shall convert the Net Sales for the Products using its then-current standard worldwide currency conversion methodology applied to its external reporting. All payments owed to WuXi Biologics under this Agreement shall be made by wire transfer in immediately available funds to a bank and account designated in writing by WuXi Biologics, unless otherwise specified in writing by WuXi Biologics.

4.8 Taxes.

(a) Transaction Taxes. Any consideration under this Agreement is exclusive of any sales or use tax, value-added tax ("VAT"), goods and services tax ("GST"), and other similar indirect taxes (any such taxes, "Transfer Taxes"). Any Transfer Taxes, if applicable, payable on the consideration paid hereunder shall be paid by Licensee at the same time as the payment or provision of such consideration to which it relates, subject to the production of a Valid Invoice by Licensor.

(b) Withholding Taxes. Licensor shall pay any income, remittance, withholding or other taxes on any payment that is required to be withheld at the Licensee's jurisdiction. Licensee will make all payments to WuXi Biologics under this Agreement without deduction or withholding for taxes, except to the extent that any such deduction or withholding is required by Applicable Law in effect at the time of payment. If Applicable Law requires that taxes be deducted and withheld from a payment made pursuant to this ARTICLE 4, Licensee shall: (i) deduct those taxes from the payment; (ii) pay the taxes to the proper taxing authority; and (iii) send evidence of the obligation together with proof of payment, to the extent available, to WuXi Biologics within [] following that payment. If Licensor is entitled under any applicable tax treaty to a reduction in the rate of, or the elimination of, any applicable withholding tax, Licensor may deliver to Licensee a completed Internal Revenue Service W-8 form to reduce the applicable rate of withholding or to relieve Licensee of its obligation to withhold such tax, and Licensee shall apply the reduced rate of withholding or dispense with withholding, as the case may be.

4.9 Records; Audit. Licensee shall keep, and shall require its Affiliates and Sublicensees to keep, complete and accurate records pertaining to the sale or other disposition of Products in sufficient detail to permit WuXi Biologics to confirm the accuracy of any sales milestone, royalty payment or Sublicense Income due hereunder. Licensee will keep such books and records for [] following the Calendar Year to which they pertain, or such longer period of time as may be required by Applicable Laws. Upon reasonable prior notice and during regular business hours at such place or places where such records are customarily kept, Licensee's records may be inspected on WuXi Biologics' behalf by an independent certified public accountant (the "Auditor") selected by WuXi Biologics and reasonably acceptable to Licensee for the sole purpose of verifying for WuXi Biologics the accuracy of the financial reports furnished by Licensee pursuant to this Agreement or of any payments made, or required to be made, to WuXi Biologics pursuant to this Agreement. Before beginning its audit, the Auditor shall execute an undertaking acceptable to each Party by which the Auditor agrees to keep confidential all information reviewed during the audit. Such audits shall be limited to once each Calendar Year. Such Auditor shall not disclose Licensee's Confidential Information to WuXi Biologics, and shall only report whether the financial reports provided by Licensee and the amount of payments made to WuXi Biologics are correct or not, and the amount of any discrepancies. In the event that the final result of the inspection reveals an undisputed underpayment or overpayment, the underpaid or overpaid amount shall be settled within [] after the Auditor's report. [] unless such audit reveals an underpayment by [].

4.10 Late Payments. In the event that any payment due under this Agreement is not paid when due in accordance with the applicable provisions of this Agreement, the payment shall accrue interest from the date due at the annual interest rate equal to []

5. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

5.1 Ownership. Inventorship of all inventions made under this Agreement shall be determined in accordance with U.S. patent laws. Subject to the license grants and other rights herein, as between the Parties, each Party shall own and retain all right, title and interest in and to any and all Inventions that are conceived, discovered, developed or otherwise made solely by or on behalf of such Party (or its Affiliates or its or their (sub)licensees), whether or not patented or patentable, and any and all Patents and other intellectual property rights with respect thereto. WuXi Biologics shall promptly provide written disclosure to Licensee of all Inventions.

5.2 Patent Prosecution and Maintenance.

(a) [], for the preparation, filing(s), prosecution, and/or post grant maintenance of any Product Patents or Licensed Patents (other than WuXi Biologics Platform Patents and WuXi Biologics [] Patents) claiming the Licensed Antibody, in the Territory. [], for the preparation, filing(s), prosecution, and/or post grant maintenance of any WuXi Biologics Platform Patents and WuXi Biologics [] Patents, in the Territory. WuXi Biologics shall keep Licensee reasonably informed regarding the preparation, filing(s), prosecution, and/or post grant maintenance of any such WuXi Biologics [] Patents, and WuXi Biologics Platform Patents.

(b) IP Assignment. Both Parties shall discuss in good faith if Licensee request WuXi Biologics to assign any Product Patents in the Territory.

5.3 Patent Enforcement.

(a) Notice. Each Party shall notify the other Party within [] after becoming aware of any alleged or threatened infringement by a Third Party of any Product Patents or Licensed Patents in the Territory, which infringement adversely affects or is expected to adversely affect any Product in the Field, including any declaratory judgment, opposition, or similar action alleging the invalidity, unenforceability, or non-infringement of any of the Product Patents or Licensed Patents (collectively, "Field Infringement").

(b) Enforcement Right.

(i) As between the Parties, Licensee shall have the sole right to bring and control any legal action to enforce the Product Patents in connection with a Field Infringement [] as it reasonably determines appropriate, [].

(ii) As between the Parties, WuXi Biologics shall have the first right to bring and control any legal action to enforce the WuXi Biologics [] Patents or WuXi Biologics Platform Patents in connection with a Field Infringement [] as it reasonably determines appropriate, []. If WuXi Biologics elects not to or fails to initiate an infringement action against such Third Party infringement [] after written notice of such infringement is first provided by a Party under this Section 5.3(a), Licensee may, [] initiate legal action in the Territory against any infringer or alleged infringer (or violator) and control and defend such suit [].

(iii) WuXi Biologics shall have the sole right to bring and control any legal action to enforce the WuXi Biologics [] Patents or WuXi Biologics Platform Patents in connection with any infringement other than a Field Infringement [] as it reasonably determines appropriate, and shall be entitled to keep any and all awards obtained as a result of such legal action conducted by WuXi Biologics.

(c) Collaboration. WuXi Biologics shall provide to Licensee reasonable assistance in such enforcement, [], including being named in such action if required by Applicable Laws to pursue such action.

(d) Other Infringement. Except as set forth above, each Party shall have the exclusive right to enforce its own Patent against any infringement anywhere in the world.

5.4 Infringement of Third Party Rights. If any Licensed Antibody, Technical Information, Licensed IP, Product used or sold by Licensee, its Affiliates, or Sublicensees becomes the subject of a Third Party's claim or assertion of infringement of intellectual property rights in a jurisdiction within the Territory ("Third Party Infringement Claim"), Licensee shall promptly notify WuXi Biologics and the Parties shall promptly meet to consider the claim or assertion and the appropriate course of action and may, if appropriate, agree on and enter into a "common interest agreement" wherein the Parties agree to their shared, mutual interest in the outcome of such potential dispute, [].

6. REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

6.1 Mutual Representations and Warranties. Each Party represents and warrants to the other that, as of the Effective Date:

(a) it is duly organized and validly existing under the laws of its jurisdiction of incorporation or formation, and has full corporate or other power and authority to enter into this Agreement and to carry out the provisions hereof;

(b) it is duly authorized to execute and deliver this Agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder, and the person or persons executing this Agreement on its behalf has been duly authorized to do so by all requisite corporate or partnership action; and

(c) this Agreement is legally binding upon it, enforceable in accordance with its terms, and does not conflict with any agreement, instrument, or understanding, oral or written, to which it is a party or by which it may be bound, nor violate any material law or regulation of any court, governmental body, or administrative or other agency having jurisdiction over it.

6.2 Additional WuXi Biologics Representations, Warranties and Covenants. WuXi Biologics represents and warrants as of the Effective Date, and covenants, as applicable, to Licensee that:

(a) Schedule 1, 2, 3 and 4 are complete and accurate lists of all Patents Controlled by WuXi Biologics or any of its Affiliates as of the Effective Date included in the definition of Product Patents, WuXi Biologics Platform Patents, WuXi Biologics [] Patents, or Licensed Patents and all such Patents listed on Schedule 1, 2, 3 and 4 are (i) solely and exclusively owned by WuXi Biologics, free of any encumbrance, lien, or claim of ownership by any Third Party, and (ii) filed and maintained properly and correctly and, except for the filing fees for [], all applicable fees have been paid on or before the due date for payment or during any extension thereof;

(b) (i) The Patents set forth in Schedule 1, 2, 3 and 4 constitute all of the Patents Controlled by WuXi Biologics or any of its Affiliates that were actually practiced by WuXi Biologics or its Affiliates, or are necessary or reasonably useful for the Development, manufacture or Commercialization of the Licensed Antibody and Products in the Field in the Territory and (ii) as of the Effective Date, WuXi Biologics or its Affiliates does not own or hold rights to any Patents that would otherwise qualify as a Product Patent or Licensed Patent but for the fact that WuXi Biologics does not Control such Patent;

(c) Each of the Product Patents and Licensed Patents properly identifies each and every inventor of the claims thereof as determined in accordance with the laws of the jurisdiction in which such Patent is issued, or such application is pending;

(d) WuXi Biologics has the full authority and right to grant all rights and licenses it purports to grant to Licensee with respect to the Licensed IP under this Agreement, free and clear of any rights therein granted to any Third Party, and, to the extent applicable, WuXi Biologics has the full authority and right to assign all rights it may assign to Licensee with respect to the Product Patents under this Agreement, free and clear of any rights therein granted to any Third Party;

(e) All Licensed IP is owned by WuXi Biologics and is not held under license from any other person or entity, and all Product Patents are owned by WuXi Biologics and not held under license from any other person or entity;

(f) WuXi Biologics has not granted any liens or security interests on any of the Licensed IP or Product Patents, and WuXi Biologics shall not, and shall cause its Affiliates not to, assign, transfer, convey or otherwise encumber its right, title or interest in or to the Licensed IP;

(g) WuXi Biologics has not received any notice from a Third Party that the research or Development of any Licensed Antibody or Product conducted by WuXi Biologics prior to the Effective Date has infringed any Patents or misappropriated any Know-How of any Third Party;

(h) To WuXi Biologics' knowledge, the Development, use, manufacture, Commercialization, and other exploitation of any Licensed Antibody or Product in the Territory can be carried out as contemplated under this Agreement without infringing any Patents or misappropriating any Know-How owned or controlled by any Third Party;

(i) WuXi Biologics has not as of the Effective Date, and will not during the Term, grant to any Third Party any license, option, or other right, title or interest in or to the Licensed IP or Product Patents that would diminish, conflict with or be inconsistent with the rights granted to Licensee hereunder;

(j) There is no other agreement between WuXi Biologics or any of its Affiliates and any Third Party pursuant to which WuXi Biologics or its Affiliates has licensed, assigned or otherwise granted ownership in or to any right, title or interest in any Product Patent or Product Know-How that are necessary or useful for the Development, Manufacture, Commercialization or other exploitation of the Licensed Antibody and Products in the Field in the Territory;

(k) (i) No claim or action has been brought or, to WuXi Biologics' knowledge, threatened, by any Third Party alleging that (A) any of the Product Patents or Licensed Patents are invalid or unenforceable, or (B) the use of the Licensed Know-How infringes or misappropriates, or would infringe or misappropriate, any intellectual property right of any Third Party, and (ii) no facts or circumstances exist that would reasonably be expected to give rise to any such claims described in the foregoing subclause (i);

(l) There are no pending or, to WuXi Biologics' knowledge, alleged or threatened, (i) inter partes reviews, post-grant reviews, interferences, re-examinations, or oppositions involving the Product Patents or Licensed Patents that are in or before any patent authority (or other Governmental Authority performing similar functions) or (ii) inventorship challenges involving the Product Patents or Licensed Patents that are in or before any patent or other Governmental Authority;

(m) To WuXi Biologics' knowledge, no Third Party is infringing or misappropriating or has infringed or misappropriated or is threatening to infringe or misappropriate the Licensed IP or Product Patents;

(n) The Product Patents and Licensed Patents have, as of the Effective Date, been diligently prosecuted in the respective patent offices in the Territory in accordance with Applicable Law. The Product Patents and Licensed Patents have been filed and maintained properly and correctly and all applicable fees have been paid on or before the due date for payment;

(o) All current and former officers, employees, agents, and consultants of WuXi Biologics or any of its Affiliates who are inventors of or have otherwise contributed in a material manner to the creation or development of any Licensed IP or Product Patents have executed and delivered to WuXi Biologics or its Affiliate an assignment or other agreement regarding the protection of proprietary information and the assignment to WuXi Biologics or such Affiliate of any Licensed IP or Product Patent. To WuXi Biologics' knowledge, no current officer, employee, agent, or consultant of WuXi Biologics or any of its Affiliates is in violation of any term of any assignment or other agreement regarding the protection of intellectual property or proprietary information of WuXi Biologics or such Affiliate;

(p) The Licensed Know-How has been kept confidential or has been disclosed to Third Parties only under terms of confidentiality. To the knowledge of WuXi Biologics and its Affiliates, no breach of such confidentiality has been committed by any Third Party;

(q) The inventions claimed by the Product Patents and Licensed Patents (i) were not conceived, discovered, developed, or otherwise made in connection with any research activities funded, in whole or in part, by any Governmental Authority, including the federal government of the U.S. or any agency thereof, (ii) are not a "subject invention" as that term is described in 35 U.S.C. Section 201(e) or foreign equivalents;

(r) All information provided by WuXi Biologics to Licensee for due diligence purposes in relation to this Agreement is accurate in all material respects, and WuXi Biologics has not withheld or omitted to provide Licensee with any material information related to the Patents, Know-How or other intellectual property rights associated with the Licensed IP or Product Patents, or information related to the safety or efficacy of the Licensed Antibody or any Product and WuXi Biologics has, prior to the Effective Date, provided Licensee with a true, complete and correct copies of any documents and materials relating to the prosecution, defense, maintenance, validity and enforceability of the Product Patents and Licensed Patents;

(s) The Licensed Antibody has not been (i) obtained by [] the Existing Bispecific Antibody or a variant obtained by modifying the Existing Bispecific Antibody structure or sequence []; or (ii) obtained by modifying the Existing Bispecific Antibody structure or sequence. For purposes of this Section 6.2(t), [];

(t) (i) neither WuXi Biologics nor any of its Affiliates has granted to any Third Party any license, covenant not to sue, option or other rights to any Licensed Antibody, (ii) WuXi Biologics solely owns all right, title and interest in or to the Licensed Antibodies, (iii) no Patent owned or controlled by WuXi Biologics or any of its Affiliates, or Third Party with whom WuXi Biologics collaborated or otherwise engaged under a license, collaboration, or joint venture or similar strategic agreement in the discovery, generation, creation or conception of any Licensed Antibody or any of their Affiliates, covers any Licensed Antibody or its exploitation, (iv) WuXi Biologics owns all right, title and interest in and to each Licensed Patent and all inventors of each such Licensed Patents were employees of WuXi Biologics at the time of such invention, (v) termination of any WuXi Biologics agreement would not adversely effect Licensee's or its Affiliates' or Sublicensees' rights or obligations hereunder, and (vi) WuXi Biologics will not amend any existing WuXi Biologics agreement in a manner that adversely impacts Licensee; and

(u) WuXi Biologics shall promptly notify Licensee in the event any breach of the representations, warranties, or covenants set forth in Section 6.2.

(v) WuXi Biologics shall not pursue any patent claims directed to [] in any Licensed Patent without the prior written consent of Licensee.

6.3 Disclaimer. EXCEPT AS EXPRESSLY STATED IN THIS AGREEMENT, LICENSOR DOES NOT MAKE ANY REPRESENTATIONS OR EXTEND ANY WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND, EITHER EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, WITH RESPECT TO NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE OF ANY LICENSED IP.

7. INDEMNIFICATION

7.1 Indemnification by Licensee. Licensee hereby agrees to defend, indemnify, and hold harmless WuXi Biologics and its respective directors, officers, employees, and agents (each, a “WuXi Biologics Indemnatee”) from and against any and all liabilities, expenses, and losses, including reasonable legal expenses and attorneys’ fees (collectively, “Losses”), to which any WuXi Biologics Indemnatee may become subject as a result of any claim, demand, action, or other proceeding (each, a “Claim”) by any Third Party to the extent such Losses arise out of:

(a) the Development, Manufacture, sell, offer for sale, import, export and other Commercialization of Product in the Field by Licensee or its Affiliates or Sublicensees;

(b) the gross negligence or willful misconduct of any Licensee Indemnatee in performing their obligations under this Agreement; or

(c) the breach by Licensee of any warranty, representation, covenant, or agreement made by Licensee in this Agreement;

except, in each case (a)-(c), to the extent such Losses arise out of any activities set forth in Sections 7.2(a)-(b) for which WuXi Biologics is obligated to indemnify any Licensee Indemnatee under Section 7.2.

7.2 Indemnification by WuXi Biologics. WuXi Biologics hereby agree to defend, indemnify, and hold harmless Licensee, its Affiliates, and Sublicensees and their respective directors, officers, employees, and agents (each, an “Licensee Indemnatee”) from and against any and all Losses to which any Licensee Indemnatee may become subject as a result of any Claim by any Third Party to the extent such Losses arise out of:

(a) the gross negligence or willful misconduct of any WuXi Biologics Indemnatee; or

(b) the breach by WuXi Biologics of any warranty, representation, covenant, or agreement made by WuXi Biologics in this Agreement; except, in each case (a)-(b), to the extent such Losses arise out of any activities set forth in Sections 7.1(a)-(c) for which Licensee is obligated to indemnify the WuXi Biologics Indemnatee under Section 7.1.

7.3 Procedure.

(a) Notice. The Party claiming indemnity under this Article 7 (the “Indemnified Party”) shall give written notice to the Party from whom indemnity is being sought (the “Indemnifying Party”) promptly after learning of such Claim.

(b) Control. At the request of the Indemnified Party, the Indemnifying Party shall assume and conduct the defense of the Claim with counsel of its choice and the Indemnified Party shall provide the Indemnifying Party with reasonable assistance, [], in connection with the defense of the Claim for which indemnity is being sought. The Indemnified Party may participate in and monitor such defense with counsel of its own choice []; provided, however, that in the case of a Third Party Infringement Claim, Licensee shall have the right to assume and conduct the defense of the Claim with counsel of its choice.

(c) Settlement Rights. The Indemnifying Party shall not settle any Claim without the prior written consent of the Indemnified Party, not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned, or delayed, unless the settlement involves only the payment of money, no admission of wrong-doing or fault by the Indemnified Party, and no restriction on the future actions or activities of the Indemnified Party. So long as the Indemnifying Party is actively defending the Claim in good faith, the Indemnified Party shall not settle such Claim without the prior written consent of the Indemnifying Party.

7.4 Insurance. During the Term and for a commercially reasonable period of time thereafter, each Party, [], shall maintain commercial general liability insurance and product liability and other appropriate insurance in an amount consistent with sound business practice and reasonable in light of its obligations under this Agreement. Each Party shall provide a certificate of insurance (or evidence of self-insurance) evidencing such coverage to the other Party upon request.

7.5 Limitation of Liability.

(a) NO CONSEQUENTIAL OR PUNITIVE DAMAGES. NEITHER PARTY NOR ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES WILL BE LIABLE FOR INDIRECT, INCIDENTAL, CONSEQUENTIAL, SPECIAL, EXEMPLARY OR PUNITIVE DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT OR THE EXERCISE OF ITS RIGHTS OR THE PERFORMANCE OF ITS OBLIGATIONS HEREUNDER, INCLUDING ANY LOST PROFITS ARISING OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, IN EACH CASE HOWEVER CAUSED AND ON ANY THEORY OF LIABILITY, WHETHER IN CONTRACT, TORT, NEGLIGENCE, BREACH OF STATUTORY DUTY OR OTHERWISE. THE FOREGOING LIMITATIONS DO NOT APPLY TO (I) A PARTY'S INDEMNIFICATION OBLIGATIONS UNDER SECTION 7.1 OR 7.2; (II) LOSSES ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO A PARTY'S BREACH OF ITS CONFIDENTIALITY OBLIGATIONS UNDER SECTION 8 OR A BREACH OF SECTION 3.6; (III) LOSSES ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THE GROSS NEGLIGENCE, WILLFUL MISCONDUCT OR FRAUD OF A PARTY OR ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES; OR (IV) BREACH OF SECTIONS 6.2(t) OR 6.2(u).

(b) LIABILITY CAP. EXCEPT FOR A BREACH BY WUXI BIOLOGICS OF ITS CONFIDENTIALITY OBLIGATIONS IN SECTION 8, INDEMNIFICATION OBLIGATIONS IN SECTION 7, A BREACH OF SECTION 3.6, OR A BREACH OF THE REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES AND COVENANTS IN SECTIONS 6.2(b), 6.2(i), 6.2(s) and 6.2(t), OR ITS GROSS NEGLIGENCE, WILLFUL MISCONDUCT OR FRAUD, THE AGGREGATE AMOUNT OF LICENSOR'S LIABILITY UNDER THIS AGREEMENT FOR ALL CLAIMS, SHALL BE NO MORE THAN THE AMOUNT OF PAYMENTS PAID OR PAYABLE BY LICENSOR FROM LICENSEE UNDER THIS AGREEMENT AT THE TIME WHEN SUCH LIABILITY ARISES.

8. CONFIDENTIALITY

8.1 Confidential Information. Except to the extent expressly authorized by this Agreement or otherwise agreed in writing by the Parties, the Parties agree that, during the Term and for [] thereafter, the receiving Party shall keep confidential and shall not publish or otherwise disclose, and shall not use for any purpose other than as expressly provided for in this Agreement, any Confidential Information of the other Party, and both Parties shall keep confidential and, subject to the remainder of this Article 8, shall not publish or otherwise disclose the terms of this Agreement. Each Party may use the other Party's Confidential Information only to the extent required to accomplish the purposes of this Agreement, including exercising its rights and performing its obligations under this Agreement. Each Party will use at least the same standard of care as it uses to protect proprietary or confidential information of its own (but in any event no less than reasonable care) to ensure that its employees, agents, consultants, contractors, and other representatives do not disclose or make any unauthorized use of the other Party's Confidential Information. Each Party will promptly notify the other upon discovery of any loss or unauthorized use or disclosure of the other Party's Confidential Information.

8.2 Exceptions. The obligations of confidentiality and restriction on use under Section 8.1 will not apply to any information that the receiving Party can prove by competent written evidence:

(a) is now, or hereafter becomes, through no act or failure to act on the part of the receiving Party, generally known or available to the public;

(b) is known by the receiving Party at the time of its receipt of such information, other than by previous disclosure of the disclosing Party, or its Affiliates, employees, agents, consultants, or contractors; provided, that, for clarity, the foregoing exception shall not apply to Licensed Know-How;

(c) is hereafter furnished to the receiving Party without restriction by a Third Party who has no obligation of confidentiality or limitations on use with respect thereto, as a matter of right; or

(d) is independently discovered or developed by the receiving Party without the use of the disclosing Party's Confidential Information.

8.3 Authorized Disclosure. Each Party may disclose Confidential Information belonging to the other Party as expressly permitted by this Agreement or if and to the extent such disclosure is reasonably necessary in the following instances:

(a) filing, prosecuting, and maintaining Patents as permitted by this Agreement;

(b) filing and maintaining Regulatory Approvals and other Regulatory Filings for Products that such Party has a license or right to Develop, Manufacture, and Commercialize under this Agreement in a given country or jurisdiction;

(c) prosecuting or defending against litigation as permitted by this Agreement;

(d) complying with Applicable Law (including regulations promulgated by securities exchanges) or court or administrative orders;

(e) disclosure to actual and bona fide potential investors, acquirers, licensees, and other financial or commercial partners for the purpose of evaluating or carrying out an actual or potential investment, acquisition, or collaboration, in each case under written obligations of confidentiality and non-use at least as stringent as those herein or otherwise customary for the circumstances of disclosure; and

(f) disclosure to its and its Affiliates' employees, consultants, contractors, agents, licensees, and sublicensees, in each case on a need-to-know basis in connection with the Development, Manufacture, Commercialization or other exploitation of the Licensed Antibody and Product in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, in each case under written obligations of confidentiality and non-use at least as stringent as those herein.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event that a Party is required to make a disclosure of the other Party's Confidential Information pursuant to Section 8.3(c) or 8.3(d), it will, except where impracticable, give reasonable advance notice to the other Party of such disclosure and use efforts to secure confidential treatment of such Confidential Information at least as diligent as such Party would use to protect its own confidential information of a similar nature, but in no event less than reasonable efforts. In any event, the Parties agree to take all reasonable action to avoid disclosure of Confidential Information. Any information disclosed pursuant to any of the foregoing subsections shall remain Confidential Information and subject to the foregoing provisions of this Article 8.

8.4 Publications. Licensee shall have the sole right, at its sole discretion, to publish or otherwise disclose (a) the results of and other information regarding any Development activities performed under this Agreement with respect to any Product, and (b) sequence information with respect to any Product, solely to the extent that such sequence information has not been previously published as permitted under this Agreement.

8.5 Publicity; Public Disclosures Neither Party shall issue any other public announcement, press release or other public disclosure regarding the terms of this Agreement without the other Party's prior written consent, except for any such announcement, release or disclosure that is, in the opinion of counsel of the Party proposing to issue such announcement, release or disclosure, required by Applicable Law or the rules of a stock exchange on which the securities of the Party proposing to issue such announcement, release or disclosure are listed (or to which an application for listing has been submitted). The Parties will consult with each other on the provisions of this Agreement to be redacted in any filings made by a Party with the SEC or as otherwise required by Applicable Laws, provided that each Party shall have the right to make any such filing as it reasonably determines necessary under Applicable Laws. In addition, once the existence of this Agreement, the identity of the other Party, or any terms of this Agreement are publicly disclosed in accordance with this Section 8.5, either Party shall be free to disclose, without the other Party's prior written consent, such information as has already been publicly disclosed in accordance with this Section 8.5.

8.6 Equitable Relief. Given the nature of the Confidential Information and the competitive damage that a Party would suffer upon unauthorized disclosure, use, or transfer of its Confidential Information to any Third Party, the Parties agree that monetary damages may not be a sufficient remedy for any breach of this Article 8. In addition to all other remedies, a Party shall be entitled to seek specific performance and injunctive and other equitable relief as a remedy for any breach or threatened breach of this Article 8.

9. TERM AND TERMINATION

9.1 Term. This Agreement shall commence on the Effective Date and, unless terminated earlier as provided in this Article 9 or by mutual written agreement of the Parties, shall continue, on a Product-by-Product and country-by-country basis, until the expiration of the Royalty Term for such Product in such country (the “Term”). Upon such expiration, the license with respect to the corresponding Product and the corresponding country would become fully paid up, perpetual, and irrevocable.

9.2 Termination by Candid for Convenience. At any time, Candid shall have the right to terminate the Agreement in its entirety, or on a country-by-country basis, at any time, for any or no reason, upon [] prior written notice to WuXi Biologics.

9.3 Termination for Cause.

(a) Material Breach. Each Party shall have the right to terminate this Agreement immediately in its entirety upon written notice to the other Party if such other Party materially breaches this Agreement and has not cured such breach to the reasonable satisfaction of the other Party within [] after notice of such breach from the non-breaching Party, provided that if Licensee’s material breach is specific to a particular country or jurisdiction in the Territory, then WuXi Biologics shall only have the right to terminate this Agreement to such country or jurisdiction. If cure of such breach (other than non-payment) cannot reasonably be effected within such [], the breaching Party shall deliver to the non-breaching Party a plan reasonably calculated to cure such breach within a reasonable timeframe, but in any event within []. If the breaching Party fails to diligently carry out such plan and cure such breach as provided above, then the non-breaching Party may terminate this Agreement upon written notice to the breaching Party.

(b) Disputed Breach. If the alleged breaching Party disputes in good faith the existence or materiality of a breach specified in a notice provided by the other Party, and such alleged breaching Party provides the other Party notice of such dispute within [], then the other Party shall not have the right to terminate this Agreement under Section 9.3(a) unless and until a panel of arbitrators, in accordance with Section 10.2, has determined that the alleged breaching Party has materially breached this Agreement and such Party fails to cure such breach within the applicable cure period set forth above following such decision.

(c) Bankruptcy. Each Party shall have the right to terminate this Agreement immediately in its entirety upon written notice to the other Party if such other Party makes a general assignment for the benefit of creditors, files an insolvency petition in bankruptcy, petitions for or acquiesces in the appointment of any receiver, trustee, or similar officer to liquidate or conserve its business or any substantial part of its assets, commences under the laws of any jurisdiction any proceeding involving its insolvency, bankruptcy, reorganization, adjustment of debt, dissolution, liquidation, or any other similar proceeding for the release of financially distressed debtors or becomes a party to any proceeding or action of the type described above and such proceeding is not dismissed within [] after the commencement thereof.

(d) Patent Challenge. If Licensee or its Affiliates or Sublicensees, directly or indirectly through any Third Party, commences any interference or opposition proceeding with respect to, challenges the validity or enforceability of, or opposes any extension of or the grant of a supplementary protection certificate with respect to, any Licensed Patent (“WuXi Biologics Patent Challenge”), then WuXi Biologics, at its discretion, may give written notice to Licensee that WuXi Biologics will terminate the license granted to Licensee under Section 2.1 to such Licensed Patent unless such WuXi Biologics Patent Challenge is withdrawn, abandoned, or terminated as appropriate within [] after receipt of such written notice. For the avoidance of doubt, any WuXi Biologics Patent Challenge asserted as a defense or counterclaim to an action first brought by WuXi Biologics or any of its Affiliates against the Licensee or any of its Affiliates or Sublicensees will not give rise to a right to terminate this Agreement by WuXi Biologics under this Section 9.3(d).

9.4 Effects of Termination. Upon any termination of this Agreement in its entirety or with respect to a Product or country by either Party, the following terms will apply. (For clarity, during the pendency of any dispute regarding material breach and/or any termination notice period, all of the terms and conditions of this Agreement shall remain in effect and the Parties shall continue to perform all of their respective obligations hereunder.)

(a) Licenses. Unless otherwise provided in this Section 9.4, if the Agreement is terminated in its entirety, the licenses granted by WuXi Biologics under this Agreement either as to the Product or the country in question, as the case may be, will automatically terminate. If termination of this Agreement solely with respect to a Product (the “Terminated Product”) or country (the “Terminated Country”), the license granted by WuXi Biologics to Licensee shall terminate with respect to such Terminated Product or Terminated Country and this Agreement shall continue in full force and effect with respect to all other Products and other countries in the Territory not subject to termination.

(b) Sublicensees. At each Sublicensee’s request, WuXi Biologics shall grant to such Sublicensee a direct license, provided that such Sublicensee is not then in default of its sublicense agreement. Such direct license shall not obligate such Sublicensee to perform contractual obligations greater than those set forth herein, and the scope of such direct license shall be no less than the scope of the license granted in this Agreement and sublicensed to such Sublicensee.

9.5 Confidential Information. Upon expiration or termination of this Agreement in its entirety, each Party shall promptly return to the other Party, or delete or destroy, all relevant records and materials in such Party’s possession or control containing Confidential Information of the other Party, provided that a Party may keep one copy of such materials for legal archival purposes subject to continuing confidentiality obligations and provided that unless otherwise expressly provided, Licensee has no obligation to transfer any Regulatory Approvals, all submissions for the Regulatory Approvals, registration dossier, clinical, technical and other relevant reports, records, data, information and materials of the Development, Manufacture or Commercialization of the terminated Products made by or on behalf of Licensee. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Licensee shall not be required to return or destroy such record and materials following expiration (not termination) of this Agreement in order to exercise the license granted to it in the last section of Section 9.1

9.6 Alternative Remedy in Lieu of Termination. If WuXi Biologics materially breaches Sections 2.1, 3.6, 6.1, 6.2(a), 6.2(b), 6.2(d), 6.2(e), 6.3(f), 6.3(i) or 6.3(j) of this Agreement and due to which the Licensee has a right to terminate pursuant to Section 9.3(a), then, both Parties shall discuss in good faith to explore alternative remedies; provided, however, that any alternative remedy determined in good faith between the Parties shall []

9.7 Survival. Expiration or termination of this Agreement shall not relieve the Parties of any obligation or right accruing prior to such expiration or termination. Except as set forth below or elsewhere in this Agreement, the obligations and rights of the Parties under the following provisions of this Agreement shall survive expiration or termination of this Agreement: Articles 5, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11.

9.8 Termination Not Sole Remedy. Termination is not the sole remedy under this Agreement and, whether or not termination is effected and notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement to the contrary, all other remedies shall remain available except as agreed to otherwise herein

10. GOVERNING LAW AND DISPUTE RESOLUTION

10.1 Governing Law. This Agreement will be governed by and interpreted under the laws of the State of New York, without reference to any rules of conflict of laws and excluding the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sales of Goods.

10.2 Dispute Resolution. The Parties recognize that disputes as to certain matters may from time to time arise during the Term which relate to either Party's rights or obligations hereunder. It is the objective of the Parties to establish procedures to facilitate the resolution of disputes arising under this Agreement in an expedient manner by mutual cooperation and without resort to litigation. To accomplish this objective, the Parties agree to follow the procedures set forth in this Section 10.2 to resolve any controversy or claim arising out of, relating to or in connection with any provision of this Agreement, if and when a dispute arises under this Agreement.

(a) Internal Resolution. With respect to all disputes arising between the Parties under this Agreement, including, without limitation, any alleged breach under this Agreement or any issue relating to the interpretation or application of this Agreement, if the Parties are unable to resolve such dispute within [] after such dispute is first identified by either Party in writing to the other, the Parties shall refer such dispute to the Executive Officers of the Parties for attempted resolution by good faith negotiations within [] after such notice is received.

(b) Binding Arbitration.

(i) If the Parties fail to resolve the dispute through escalation to the Executive Officers under Section 10.2(a), and a Party desires to pursue resolution of the dispute, the dispute shall be submitted by either Party for resolution in arbitration administered [].

(ii) The arbitration shall be conducted by a panel of three arbitrators experienced in the pharmaceutical business: within [] after initiation of arbitration, each Party shall select one person to act as arbitrator and the two Party-selected arbitrators shall select a third arbitrator (who shall be the chairperson of the arbitration panel) within [] of their appointment. If the arbitrators selected by the Parties are unable or fail to agree upon the third arbitrator, the third arbitrator shall be appointed by []. If, however, the aggregate award sought by the Parties is [] and equitable relief is not sought, the arbitration shall be conducted by a single arbitrator agreed by the Parties (or appointed by [] if the Parties cannot agree).

(iii) The seat and location of the arbitration shall be [] and the language of the proceedings shall be English. The arbitral tribunal shall determine the dispute by applying the provisions of this Agreement and the governing law set forth in Section 10.1. The Parties agree that any award or decision made by the arbitral tribunal shall be final and binding upon them and may be enforced in the same manner as a judgment or order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

(iv) By agreeing to arbitration, the Parties shall not deprive any court of its jurisdiction to issue, at the request of a Party, a pre-arbitral injunction, pre-arbitral attachment or other injunctive or equitable relief. Without prejudice to such equitable remedies in aid of arbitration as may be available under the jurisdiction of a competent court, the arbitral tribunal shall have full authority to grant equitable remedies and to award damages for the failure of any Party to the dispute to respect the arbitral tribunal's order to that effect.

(v) [].

(vi) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 10.2(b), in the event of a dispute with respect to the validity, scope, enforceability or ownership of any Patent or other intellectual property rights, and such dispute is not resolved in accordance with Section 10.2(a), such dispute shall not be submitted to an arbitration proceeding in accordance with this Section 10.2(b), unless otherwise agreed by the Parties in writing, and instead either Party may initiate litigation in a court of competent jurisdiction in any Country in which such rights apply.

11. GENERAL PROVISIONS

11.1 Entire Agreement; Modification. This Agreement, including the Schedules, is both a final expression of the Parties' agreement and a complete and exclusive statement with respect to all of its terms. This Agreement supersedes all prior and contemporaneous agreements and communications, whether oral, written, or otherwise, concerning any and all matters contained herein, including the Confidentiality Agreement. This Agreement may only be modified or supplemented in a writing expressly stated for such purpose and signed by the Parties to this Agreement.

11.2 Relationship Between the Parties. The Parties' relationship, as established by this Agreement, is solely that of independent contractors. This Agreement does not create any partnership, joint venture, or similar business relationship between the Parties. Neither Party is a legal representative of the other Party, and neither Party can assume or create any obligation, representation, warranty, or guarantee, express or implied, on behalf of the other Party for any purpose whatsoever.

11.3 Performance by Affiliates. Each Party may discharge any obligations and exercise any right under this Agreement through any of its Affiliates. Either Party shall cause its Affiliates to comply with the provisions of this Agreement in connection with any performance of its obligations under this Agreement.

11.4 No Benefit to Third Parties. Except as provided in Article 6, covenants and agreements set forth in this Agreement are for the sole benefit of the Parties and their successors and permitted assigns, and they shall not be construed as conferring any rights on any other persons or entities.

11.5 Waiver. The waiver by either Party of any right under this Agreement or of the failure to perform or of a breach by the other Party shall not be deemed a waiver of any other right hereunder or of any other breach or failure by such other Party whether of a similar nature or otherwise. Any waiver by a Party of a particular term or condition will be effective only if set forth in a written instrument duly executed by or on behalf of the Party waiving such term or condition.

11.6 Assignment. Except as expressly provided hereunder, neither this Agreement nor any rights or obligations hereunder may be assigned or otherwise transferred by either Party without the prior written consent of the other Party (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned, or delayed). The Parties may assign or otherwise transfer this Agreement and its rights and obligations hereunder without the other Party's consent as follows:

(a) in connection with a sale of all or substantially all of the business or assets of such Party (and for clarity, in the case of Licensee, in connection with a sale of all or substantially all of its rights, title and interest in and to all Licensed Antibody and Products in the Territory), whether by merger, consolidation, divestiture, restructure, sale of stock, sale of assets, or otherwise; or

(b) the Licensee may assign this Agreement and its rights and obligations hereunder to an Affiliate of Licensee without the consent of WuXi Biologics, which consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed, provided that if the entity to which this Agreement is assigned ceases to be an Affiliate of the assigning Party, this Agreement shall be automatically assigned back to the assigning Party or its successor.

The rights and obligations of the Parties under this Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the successors and permitted assigns of the Parties specified above, and the name of a Party appearing herein will be deemed to include the name of such Party's successors and permitted assigns to the extent necessary to carry out the intent of this Section 11.6. Any assignment not in accordance with this Section 11.6 shall be null and void and of no legal force or effect.

11.7 Severability. If, for any reason, any part of this Agreement is adjudicated invalid, unenforceable, or illegal by a court of competent jurisdiction, such adjudication shall not affect or impair, in whole or in part, the validity, enforceability, or legality of any remaining portions of this Agreement. The Parties will in such an instance use their best efforts to replace the invalid, unenforceable, or illegal provision(s) with valid, enforceable, and legal provision(s) that best implement the original intent of the Parties and purposes of this Agreement.

11.8 Notices. Any notice to be given under this Agreement must be in writing and delivered either (a) in person or (b) by (i) air mail (postage prepaid) requiring return receipt or (ii) overnight courier, or (iii) facsimile or email, in each case to the Party to be notified at its address given below, or at any other address such Party may designate by prior written notice to the other in accordance with this Section 11.8. Notice shall be deemed sufficiently given for all purposes upon the earliest of: (w) if personally delivered, the date of actual receipt; (x) if air mailed, [] after the date of postmark; (y) if delivered by overnight courier, the next day the overnight courier regularly makes deliveries; or (z) if sent by facsimile or by email, the date of confirmation of receipt if during the recipient's normal business hours, otherwise the next Business Day.

If sent to WuXi Biologics, notices must be addressed to:

If sent to Licensee, notices must be addressed to:

[]

11.9 Force Majeure. Each Party shall be excused from liability for the failure or delay in performance of any obligation under this Agreement by reason of any event beyond such Party's reasonable control, including fire, flood, explosion, earthquake, pandemic, or other natural forces or acts of God, war, civil unrest, acts of terrorism, accident, destruction, or other casualty, any lack or failure of transportation facilities, any lack or failure of supply of raw materials, or any other event similar to those enumerated above. Such excuse from liability shall be effective only to the extent and duration of the event(s) causing the failure or delay in performance and where the Party has not caused such event(s) to occur. Notice of a Party's failure or delay in performance due to force majeure must be given to the other Party within [] after its occurrence. All delivery dates under this Agreement that have been affected by force majeure shall be tolled for the duration of such force majeure. In no event shall any Party be required to prevent or settle any labor disturbance or dispute.

11.10 Interpretation. The headings of clauses contained in this Agreement preceding the text of the sections, subsections, and paragraphs hereof are inserted solely for convenience and ease of reference only and shall not constitute any part of this Agreement, or have any effect on its interpretation or construction. All references in this Agreement to the singular shall include the plural where applicable. Unless otherwise specified, references in this Agreement to any Article shall include all Sections, subsections, and paragraphs in such Article, references to any Section shall include all subsections and paragraphs in such Section, and references in this Agreement to any subsection shall include all paragraphs in such subsection. The word "including" and similar words means including without limitation. The word "or" means "and/or" unless the context dictates otherwise because the subjects of the conjunction are, or are intended to be, mutually exclusive. The words "herein", "hereof", and "hereunder" and other words of similar import refer to this Agreement as a whole and not to any particular Section or other subdivision. All references to days in this Agreement mean calendar days, unless otherwise specified. Ambiguities and uncertainties in this Agreement, if any, shall not be interpreted against either Party, irrespective of which Party may be deemed to have caused the ambiguity or uncertainty to exist. This Agreement has been prepared in the English language and the English language shall control its interpretation. In addition, all notices required or permitted to be given hereunder, and all written, electronic, oral, or other communications between the Parties regarding this Agreement shall be in the English language.

11.11 Counterparts; Electronic or Facsimile Signatures. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be an original, but all of which together shall constitute one instrument. This Agreement may be executed and delivered electronically or by facsimile and upon such delivery such electronic or facsimile signature will be deemed to have the same effect as if the original signature had been delivered to the other Party.

11.12 Restricted Information Sharing. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, nothing in this Agreement obligates Licensee, its Affiliates or Sublicensees to disclose or provide access to any information to WuXi Biologics, its Affiliates or otherwise to the extent such disclosure or access would, in the reasonable opinion of Licensee's (or such Affiliate's or Sublicensee's) outside counsel, violate an Applicable Law in the United States of America.
